CHAPTER 84.

An Act making appropriations for deficiencies in the appropriations heretofore made for the payment of expenses in support of the government from March 1st 1883 to February 28th 1885, and for outstanding claims not registered, and other deficiencies.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following sums or so much thereof as may necessary, be and the same are hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for deficiencies in the appropriations heretofore made for payment of expenses in support of the government from March 1st 1883, to February 28th 1885, and for outstanding claims not registered and other deficiencies. To pay Anthony Deffenbaugh one hundred dollars; William L. Hunter one hundred dollars; W. P. Lane fifty dollars; members of the veteran board and the heirs of F. W. Johnson fifty dollars; and heirs of H. P. Brewster two hundred and fifty dollars; (claimants to file relinquishments of all claims for said service heretofore rendered prior to receiving the benefit of this act), to be approved by the Governor.

Section 2. The near approach of the end of the session, and the volume of business to be considered, and the fact that the money due these veterans should be paid, create an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and it is so suspended.

CHAPTER 86.

An Act to provide for the correction and revision of the abstracts of located titled and patented lands in Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That it shall be the duty of the tax assessor of each county in this State, within sixty days after this act shall take effect to call to his aid the county surveyor of his county, who shall prepare a report to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, containing a list of surveys of land, or fractional parts of surveys within their respective counties which appear on the abstract of Texas land titles now in use by tax assessors, but which surveys or fractional parts thereof do not exist as valid surveys in such county, stating as fully the error as is practicable, and giving such explanation of each as may facilitate the Commissioner of the General Land Office in arriving at correct conclusions when the data furnished is compared with the proper files in the Land Office.

Section 2. Upon receipt of the report provided for in section 1, by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, he shall at once have an examination made of the proper files in the Land Office, and if he is satisfied of the incorrectness or invalidity of any survey thus reported he shall erase the same or make the necessary correction on the abstract of lands, and shall furnish a list of any such incorrect or invalid surveys to each tax assessor, with instructions to erase the same from the abstract or make any other proper correction thereof.

Section 3. For services herein provided the assessor and surveyor shall each be allowed five dollars per day, to be paid by the county commissioners court, but services shall not be allowed for more than five days.

Section 4. Any failure of the assessor or surveyor to make the report as herein provided, shall render him liable to a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars.

Section 5. Whereas it is important that this act pass at this session of the Legislature, an imperative public necessity and emergency exist for the passage of this act, therefore the rule requiring this act to be read on three several days be and the same is hereby suspended, and it is so ordered.

An Act to amend article 2514 of chapter 5, title 47 of an act entitled "An act to adopt and establish the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas," adopted February 28, 1879.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 2514, chapter 5, title 47 of "An act to adopt and establish the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas," adopted February 28, 1879, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 2514. When from any cause the estate of a minor, person of unsound mind, or of an habitual drunkard is without a guardian, and such estate is likely to injure or waste, the county judge shall upon application, or without application, either in term time, or in vacation, appoint some suitable person to take charge of such estate, as receiver, until a guardian can be regularly appointed, and shall make such other orders as may be necessary for the preservation of such estate. Such appointment and orders shall be recorded in the minutes of the court, and shall specify the duties and powers of such receiver, and the provisions of the law governing in the case of a temporary administration upon the estate of a decedent shall govern in the case of a receiver appointed under this article, so far as the same are applicable. If during the pendency of such receivership the wants of such minor, person of unsound mind, or habitual drunkard should require the use of the means of such estate for their subsistence, clothing or education, the county judge is hereby authorized, and it shall be his duty, upon application, or without application, either in term time or in vacation, to appropriate by an order entered upon the minutes of his court, out of the effects of such estate, an amount sufficient for such purpose, said amount to be paid by such receiver, upon such claims for the subsistence, clothing, or education, as may have been presented to such county judge, and approved, and by him ordered to be paid. If at any time the receiver shall have on hand any money belonging to such estate, beyond what may be necessary for the present necessities of the beneficiary of said estate, and the current expenses thereof, he may, under the direction of the county judge, loan said money, for such length of time as said county judge may direct, for the highest legal rate of interest that can be obtained therefor, in the manner, and upon the security and terms provided in article 2559, chapter 9, title 47 of said Revised Civil Statutes.

Section 2. Whereas there are now in the hands of receivers appointed under the foregoing article in this State, such estates as are therein specified, the means of which are necessary to be used for the support and education of the beneficiaries thereof, and whereas there is no law authorizing the use of said means for said purpose, said facts create an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

CHAPTER 88.

An Act to postpone the sale of real and personal property for taxes assessed for 1884, until the first Monday in July, 1885;

Whereas, In consequence of the almost total failure of the crops for the year 1884, there exists great financial pressure throughout the State which would cause an unnecessary sacrifice of property should the same be offered at forced sale at this time, therefore;

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Comptroller of Public Accounts be, and he is hereby empowered and required to notify the sheriffs and tax collectors of the several counties of the State to postpone the sale of real and personal property for the taxes of 1884, until the first Monday in July, 1885; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to repeal any law now in force in reference to the collection of taxes, but only intended to extend the time for the forced collection of the tax for 1884, as herein provided.

Section 2. The near approach of the close of the session, and the fact that the time for the forced collection of taxes for 1884 is now at hand, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be, and the same is hereby suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

An Act to protect persons in the settlement of the Common School, University, the Lunatic, Blind, Deaf and Dumb and Orphan Asylum lands, and to prescribe penalties for an interference with their legal rights.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person who by force, threats or intimidations shall prevent or attempt to prevent, or shall combine and confederate with others to prevent or attempt to prevent any person who has acquired a right thereto in accordance with the laws of the State from peaceably entering upon and establishing a settlement on any parcel or tract of land belonging to the Common School, University, the Lunatic, Blind, Deaf and Dumb and Orphan Asylum lands, subject to purchase and settlement under and in accordance with the laws of this State, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction therefor shall be fined in any sum not less than two hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and in addition thereto shall be imprisoned in the county jail not less than one nor more than six months.

Section 2. Whereas, the near approach of the close of the session, rendering it unlikely that this bill will pass, except by a suspension of rules, and the inadequate protection afforded purchasers of leased lands under existing laws, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity which require that the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section eleven of an act entitled "An act to re-district the State into judicial districts and fix the times for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," approved April 9, 1883, be and the same is hereby amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 11. The eleventh judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Harris and Montgomery, and the district courts shall be held therein as follows:

In the county of Montgomery on the first Mondays in July and December, and may continue in session four weeks;

In the county of Harris on the first Mondays in March and October, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Section 2. All writs and process, civil and criminal, heretofore issued, or which may be issued up to the time this act takes effect by or from the district courts of said counties, and made returnable to the former terms of said courts as said terms are now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing terms of said district courts in said counties, as they are prescribed by this act, and all such writs and process that may be issued by or from said courts at any time within five days next before the holding of the next ensuing terms of said courts, as prescribed herein, are hereby made returnable to said terms respectively, and all such writs and process hereinbefore mentioned are hereby legalized and validated to all intents and purposes, as if the same had been made returnable to the term of said courts as the terms thereof are herein prescribed.

Section 3. That this law take effect and be in force from and after the first day of August, A. D. 1885, and that all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be, and the same are, hereby repealed.

Section 4. The fact that this Legislature is so near its close that this bill cannot be passed without a suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days creates an emergency and imperative public necessity for the suspension of said rule, and it is so suspended.

CHAPTER 95.

An Act to amend sections 1, 2 and 4 of an act entitled "An Act to provide for the more efficient management of the Texas penitentiaries, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved April 18, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas; That sections 1, 2 and 4 of an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient management of the Texas State penitentiaries and to make an appropriation therefor, approved April 18, 1883, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas; That the penitentiary board shall hereafter consist of three commissioners of State penitentiaries, to be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate. Said commissioners shall hold their office for two years and until the appointment and qualification of their successors; and in case of a vacancy in said office, the same shall be filled by executive appointment for the unexpired term. Said commissioners shall each receive six dollars per day while in attendance on the meetings of the board and their actual traveling expenses. Two members thereof shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business and the proceedings of said board shall be subject to the approval of the Governor.

Section 2. The Governor shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint a financial agent for the penitentiaries, who shall receive for his services the sum of three thousand dollars per annum. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts to draw his warrant on the Treasurer for all sums due by the State on account of the penitentiaries upon the certificate of the financial agent of the penitentiaries, approved by the penitentiary board; provided, that the penitentiary board may make monthly estimates of the expenses of the penitentiaries; in which case the Comptroller shall issue his warrant for such amount in favor of said financial agent, and he shall file with the Comptroller at the end of the month for which such estimate is made, vouchers for all payments made out of such amount. The financial agent shall be the purchasing selling and disbursing agent of the State penitentiaries. Before entering upon the discharge of his duties, he shall give bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, with two or more sufficient sureties, payable to the Governor and his successors in office, to be approved by the penitentiary board, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, and shall exercise such power and perform such duties as may be prescribed by the penitentiary board; provided, the same are not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the penitentiary board to confine all convicts within the walls of the penitentiaries as soon as suitable prisons can be provided for their confinement and employment in such manner that they will be self supporting, and until adequate provision is made for such confinement and employment of the convicts, they may be employed as provided in section 3 of this act; provided, that the penitentiary board may at any time, if they deem it advisable, purchase a penitentiary farm or farms, upon which all convicts not self-supporting, may be worked by the State.

Section 2. Whereas, two of the members of the penitentiary board have resigned, and whereas, public policy requires the immediate appointment of the commissioners of State penitentiaries as provided for in this act; therefore, an emergency exists that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whenever, in any unorganized county of the State of Texas, a necessity may exist for the appointment of more than one justice of the peace and constable for such county, and such fact is made known and set forth in a petition signed by one hundred qualified voters of said county, addressed to the county commissioners' court of the organized county to which such unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes, asking the appointment of such officers, it shall be the duty of such commissioners' court to lay off and designate as many justices' precincts in such unorganized county as may be necessary, not exceeding four, and such commissioners' court shall have and are hereby empowered to appoint one justice of the peace, and one constable, for each justices' precinct in such unorganized county, in accordance with the provisions of the law now in force, authorizing such appointments in organized counties; and such justices' precincts shall be and they are hereby constituted election precincts in such unorganized county.

Section 2. Each unorganized county of the State of Texas which is attached, for judicial purposes, to an organized county shall be attached, for election purposes, to some one of the commissioners' precincts of such organized county, and voters, in such unorganized county, shall be authorized to vote in any election for commissioner of such commissioner's precinct; provided, when more than one election precinct has been established, under section 1 of this act, in such unorganized county of the State, each election precinct therein shall be attached for election purposes severally to one of the commissioners' precincts of such organized county, and voters in such election precincts shall be authorized to vote in any election for commissioner of the commissioners' precinct to which such election precinct has been attached.

Section 3. Whereas, the near approach of the close of the present session creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended. The said rule is therefore suspended.

Article 636. A challenge for cause is an objection made to a particular juror, alleging some fact which renders him incapable or unfit to serve on the jury. It may be made for any one of the following reasons:

1. That he is not a qualified voter in the State and county, under the Constitution and laws of the State.

2. That he is neither a house-holder in the county, nor a free-holder in the State.

3. That he has been convicted of theft or any felony.

4. That he is under indictment or other legal accusation for theft or any felony.

5. That he is insane or has such defect in the organs of seeing, feeling or hearing, or such bodily or mental defect or disease, as render him unfit for jury service.

6. That he is a witness in the case.

7. That he served on the grand jury which found the indictment.

8. That he served on a petit jury in a former trial of the same case.

9. That he is related within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity to the defendant.

10. That he is related within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity to the person injured by the commission of the offense, or to the private prosecutor, if there be one.

11. That the juror has conscientious scruples in regard to the infliction of the punishment of death for crime.

12. That he has a bias or prejudice in favor of or against the defendant.

13. That from hearsay, or otherwise, there is established in the mind of the juror such a conclusion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant, as will influence him in his action in finding a verdict.

For the purpose of ascertaining, whether this cause of challenge exists, the juror shall be first asked, whether in his opinion the conclusion so established will influence his verdict. If he answer in the affirmative, he shall be discharged, if he answer in the negative he shall be further examined by the court, or under its sanction, as to how his conclusion was formed and the extent to which it will effect his action, and if it appears to have been formed from reading newspaper accounts, communications, statements or reports, or from mere rumor or hearsay, and the juror states on oath that he feels able, notwithstanding such opinion, to render an impartial verdict upon the law and the evidence, the court, if satisfied that he is impartial and will render such verdict, may, in its discretion admit him as competent to serve in such case; but if the court, in its discretion, is not satisfied that he is impartial, the juror shall be discharged.

14. That he cannot read and write. This cause of challenge shall not be sustained when it appears to the court that the requisite number of jurors, who are able to read and write, cannot be found in the county.

CHAPTER 103.

An Act supplemental to and amendatory of an act entitled an act to amend chapter 79 of the acts of 1883, entitled an act to amend section 46 of an act to encourage stock raising and to protect stock raisers, approved April 22, 1879, and amended April 4, 1881, and April 12, 1883, and as amended at the present session of the Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 46 of the above recited act shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 46. That the counties of Anderson, Austin, Angelina, Bell, Bowie, Brazos, Burleson, Bastrop, Camp, Cass, Chambers, Cherokee, Collin, Colorado, Cooke, Dallas, Delta, Denton, Ellis, Fannin, Franklin, Falls, Galveston, Goliad, Grayson, Gregg, Grimes, Hardin, Harrison, Henderson, Hill, Hunt, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Johnson, Kaufman, Lamar, Lee, Leon, Liberty, Madison, Marion, Montgomery, Morris, Nacagdoches, Newton, Orange, Panola, Parker, Pecos, Polk, Raines, Red River, Robertson, Rockwall, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shelby, Smith, Tarrant, Titus, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Van Zandt, Walker, Washington, De Witt, Wise, Wood, Jack, Calhoun, Young, Wheeler, Lavaca, Oldham, Nueces, Bee, Refugio, Limestone, San Patricio, Donley, Montague, and the unorganized counties attached to Wheeler, Oldham and Donley counties are hereby exempt from the operations of this act and the provisions of the same shall in nowise relate or apply to the aforesaid counties; provided that in those counties bordering on the lines of the State except those bordering on Red River, whether organized or unorganized the Governor shall appoint an inspector whose duty it shall be to inspect under the provisions of this act all stock about to be driven or shipped out of the State or in any other county exempt from the operations of this act when there is a depot or place for the shipment of cattle; provided that such cattle shall not be subject to inspection on board of any railroad unless the same have been placed on board of such train for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act; and provided further that the counties of Limestone, Gonzales, McLennan, Bell, Calhoun, Navarro, Hood, Houston, Somervell, Bosque, Jackson, Austin, Freestone, Coryell and Hamilton shall be exempt from all laws regulating inspection of hides; and provided further that the Governor is hereby authorized and required to appoint one inspector of animals for Freestone county who shall hold his office until the next general election and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

Section 2. The Governor shall appoint inspectors in counties not exempt from the operations of the act which failed to elect such officers at the late general election.

Section 3. The near approach of the close of the session of the 19th Legislature creates an emergency and imperative public necessity the constitutional rules requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAPTER 104.

An Act to restore the civil jurisdiction of the county court of Orange county and to repeal all laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all the civil jurisdiction which the county court of Orange county had under the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas prior to the 27th day of March 1879, be and the same is hereby fully restored, and that so much of the act approved March 27th, 1879, entitled "An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county courts of certain counties in this State, and conform the jurisdiction of the district courts of said counties to such change as relates to the civil jurisdiction of the county court of Orange county, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Section 2. That all civil causes now pending in the district court of Orange county, over which the county court of said county has exclusive jurisdiction under the provisions of this act and the laws giving jurisdiction to county courts shall be transferred to the county court of said county.

Section 3. That the clerk of the district court of the county of Orange shall within thirty days from the date that this act takes effect, transfer to the clerk of the county court of said county all the original papers in causes transferred under this act, together with a certified transcript of all the entries made on the docket of the district court in such causes, and a certified bill of all costs accrued in such causes, and for making out such transcript of the docket, the clerk of the district court shall be allowed such fees as are now allowed for making out transcripts in cases of appeals, such fees to be taxed as costs in such suits.

Section 4. The fact that the time for the adjournment of this session of the Legislature is so near that this bill cannot be considered by both houses unless the rule requiring it to be read on three several days is suspended creates a necessity, for the suspension of said rules and it is suspended, adopted March 30, 1885.

CHAPTER 105.

An Act to provide annual pensions for the surviving indigent soldiers or indigent volunteers of the Texas Revolution, and the indigent surviving signers of the Declaration of Independence, and the indigent surviving widows of such soldiers, volunteers or signers, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That to every surviving indigent soldier or indigent volunteer who was in the actual military service of Texas at the time of the siege of Bexar in December 1835, or at the time of the battle of San Jacinto in April 1836, or who was in such actual military service for as much as six weeks between the commencement of the Revolution at Gonzales in 1835 and the first day of July 1836, and to every indigent surviving signer of the Declaration of the Independence of Texas, and to every indigent surviving widow of any such soldier, volunteer or signer, who is and who has always been unmarried since the death of such soldier, volunteer or signer, and so long as such widow may remain unmarried, there shall be, and is hereby granted an annual pension of one hundred and fifty dollars, as hereinafter provided.

Section 2. Each applicant for a pension under this act shall make application in writing for the same to the county judge of the county of his or her residence, and shall post a copy of such application on the court house door of the county, for at least thirty days before the application is acted on by the county judge. Such application shall state the name, age and residence of the applicant; whether or not this applicant received any pension or veteran donation land certificate under any previous law; a list of the real and personal property owned by the applicant and the present value of the same, and what property and the value thereof that such applicant has sold or conveyed within twelve months prior to the date of such application, and shall further state that the applicant is in indigent circumstances, and is dependent upon his or her labor, or on the charity of others for a support; provided, that the word "indigent," within the meaning of this act, shall not allow the ownership of property to exceed one thousand dollars; and that the applicant has not transferred to others any property or values of any kind for the purpose of becoming a beneficiary under this act; and still further that such applicant is and was for ten years preceding the date of the passage of this act a bona fide resident citizen of this State, and in addition to the foregoing each male applicant shall further state the time he rendered such service and the command he served in, and each female applicant shall state the name of her deceased husband, the date of his death, that she is unmarried and has so remained since the death of the husband for whose services she claims a pension, and shall further state, as accurately as she can, the time her said deceased husband rendered such service and the command he served in. Should the applicant be a signer of such Declaration of Independence or a widow of such signer, he or she shall state all that is hereinbefore required, except as to the military service, and in lieu of which it shall state that the applicant was a signer of such Declaration of Independence, or is the widow of such signer, which application shall be subscribed and sworn to by the applicant, and the same shall be supported by affidavits of at least two creditable witnesses who reside in the State, and shall show that the facts stated by the applicant are true, and that the applicant is known and regarded in his or her neighborhood as a Texas veteran or signer of the Declaration of Independence, or the widow of a Texas veteran or signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Section 3. Such application so signed and sworn to by the applicant and two credible witnesses, shall be presented to the county judge, who shall, in open court, at a regular term thereof, hear evidence as to the truth of the statements made in such application; and, if he believe from the evidence, that the applicant really performed the service for which the pension is claimed, or is a widow of a soldier or volunteer of the Texas Revolution, or of a signer of the Declaration of Texas Independence; that he or she is now, and was at the time of the passage of this act, and for ten years previous thereto, a bona fide resident of the State of Texas; that the applicant is in indigent circumstances, and is dependent on his or her labor or on the charity of others for a support, and has not at any time transferred any property for the purpose of becoming a beneficiary under this act; then he shall make his certificate under the seal of his office, attested by the county clerk, reciting the facts as shown by the evidence. Upon the hearing of such application the State shall be represented by the county or district attorney, and it shall be the duty of such attorney to summon witnesses to testify in behalf of the State who know the pecuniary condition of the applicant or any other facts affecting the rights of the applicant to obtain a pension, and to examine the assessor's rolls and the records of his county and any other source of information which may seem to him advisable, and he shall prepare a statement of the testimony given by each witness, including the name of such witness and, also, of the facts disclosed by investigating any other source of information, which statements shall be approved by the county judge. For his services in behalf of the State the attorney shall be allowed a fee of ten dollars, to be paid, as follows: He shall present his account for the same to the county judge, who shall approve it if he find it correct, shall date and sign the same officially, and shall cause it to be filed in the office of the county clerk. The said judge shall thereupon give to the attorney a draft upon the county treasurer, and the same when presented to the treasurer shall be paid out of any moneys in his hands not otherwise legally appropriated, in the same manner as jury certificates are paid. Provided, that if the applicant shall be proved not to be an indigent, and shall have his application defeated on that ground, then the attorney representing the State shall be entitled to an additional fee of ten dollars to be taxed against the applicant as costs of suit.

Section 4. Such application so prepared and certified to, together with the statements of the county judge and attorney hereinbefore provided for, shall be filed with the Comptroller of Public Accounts, whose duty it shall be to examine critically such application and statements, and any other accessible evidence that may prove or disprove the right of the applicant to claim a pension, and may require further proof of the statements made in such application, and, if in his opinion, the applicant has not established his or her legal right to a pension then he shall refuse such application and file reasons therefor in his office, provided, no pension shall be granted any one under this act whose claim has been rejected by the Veteran Board of this State as fraudulent.

Section 5. No person shall be entitled to receive a pension under this act, unless it shall be made to appear to the Comptroller, from the evidence, that said person is in indigent circumstances, and is dependent upon his labor or the charity of others for a support.

Section 6. The pension herein provided for shall begin at the date when the Comptroller receives the application, and shall be paid quarterly in advance. The Comptroller shall draw his warrant for the same on the Treasurer, and upon presentation the Treasurer shall pay the same out of any moneys in the treasury which may be appropriated for this purpose.

Section 7. On or after the first of each quarter, the pensioner shall make his affidavit stating the county of his residence, and that he is the identical person to whom a pension has been granted under this act, which affidavit shall be supported by the affidavit of some other credible person to the same fact, and which affidavit may be made before any one authorized to administer oaths, which affidavit shall be filed with the Comptroller, and upon the filing of the same, the Comptroller shall draw his warrant for the quarter found to be due.

Section 8. It shall be the duty of the district judges of this State to specially charge every session of the grand jury to investigate violations of this act.

Section 9. No person shall receive a greater fee than ten dollars to procure a pension for another, and any contract for a larger sum shall not be enforced by the courts.

Section 10. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller, at least once in each year, to forward to the county judge a printed list of the pensioners in their respective counties, which list shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the office of said judge. It shall also be the duty of the Comptroller, on the application of a grand jury to forward to it, through the district clerk of the county in which the grand jury is convened, copies of any or all original papers on file in his office connected with an application for a pension, which said grand jury may desire to investigate, and such copies with their correctness attested by the Comptroller shall have the same force and value in a court of law that the original papers would have had.

Section 11. The act approved on the 28th day of March 1883 entitled "An act to provide annual pensions for the surviving soldiers or volunteers of the Texas Revolution and the surviving signers of the Declaration of Independence of Texas, and the surviving widows of such soldiers or volunteers and signers," under which pensions are now being paid, be, and the same is hereby repealed, and no pensions shall hereafter be paid under said act.

Section 12. The importance of this bill and the near approach of the close of the session, create an imperative public necessity and emergency demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

I hereby certify that S. H. B. No. 170 originated in the House and passed the same March 25th, 1885.

CHAPTER 106.

An Act to amend article 542 of the Revised Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 542 of the Revised Statutes shall hereafter read as follows, to-wit:

Article 542. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby authorized to name, appoint, and commission one or more persons in each or any of the other States of the United States, the District of Columbia, or in each or any of the territories of the United States, or in each or any foreign country, upon the recommendation of the executive authority of said States, District of Columbia, or territories or foreign country, as he may deem expedient, which commissioners shall hold office for two years or until their successors are qualified, and shall have authority to take the acknowledgments and proofs of the execution of any deed, mortgage, or other conveyance of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, and also to take the privy examination, acknowledgment and declaration of married women as to all such instruments when executed by them.

Section 2. Whereas in foreign countries exorbitant fees are now being charged citizens of this State, who are under legal requisites, for the registration of documents; and whereas, foreign officers who are now authorized to take acknowledgments of instruments in writing, are not familiar with the laws of this State, regarding acknowledgments; therefore, an emergency and public necessity arise which require the suspension of the constitutional rule that all bills should be read on three several days, and the said rule is suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

I do hereby certify that the within S. B. No. 253 originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 23 ayes, no nays, March 23, 1885.

CHAPTER 107.

An Act to authorize cities and towns to levy and collect taxes for the erection, construction or purchase of public buildings, streets, sewers and other permanent improvements.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the city or town council or board of aldermen of any incorporated city or town within the limits of this State shall have power, by ordinance, to levy and collect an annual ad valorem tax of not exceeding twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property within such city or town for the erection, construction or purchase of public buildings, streets, sewers and other permanent improvements within the limits of such city or town. Within the meaning of this act shall be included building sites and buildings for public free schools and institutions of learning within those cities and towns which have assumed or which may hereafter assume the exclusive control and management of the public free schools and institutions of learning within their limits.

Section 2. Whereas many cities and towns of this State are without the necessary funds to defray the expense of erecting public buildings and other needed permanent improvements for the reason that no law has been enacted to conform the tax law of such cities and towns to the amended Constitution, therefore, an emergency exists, and an imperative public necessity demands the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring the bill to be read on three several days in each house, and said rule is so suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

I hereby certify that H. B. No. 398 originated in the House and passed the same March 12th, 1885.

CHAPTER 108.

An Act to amend an act entitled an act to amend article 3994 of title 80 of the Revised Civil Statutes, approved April 4, 1881.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 3994 of the Revised Statutes, as amended by the above recited act, be, and the same is hereby, amended so as to read as follows:

Article 3994. The public printing shall be divided into four classes, as follows:

First: The first class shall include the printing and binding of the laws, journals, department reports, Governor's messages, and like documents, which shall be printed on white calendered book paper, of uniform color, 25x38 inches in size, and weighing not less than forty-five pounds to the ream, from long primer type (except tabular work, which may be from such type smaller than long primer as the nature of the work and good taste may require); the pages of the laws, department reports, Governor's messages and like documents, to be twenty-six ems pica wide, and forty-six ems pica long, including head and foot lines, and to contain not less than eighteen hundred and twenty-four ems; and the journals shall be printed in octavo form, the pages to be twenty-six and one-half ems pica wide, and forty-six ems pica long, including head and foot lines, from brevier type, two columns to the page, each column thirteen ems pica wide, and each page to contain not less than twenty-eight hundred ems. When printed the laws and reports shall be neatly folded, stitched, covered, and trimmed, and the journals and messages, folded, stitched and trimmed. Cover paper shall be not less than thirty-five pounds to the ream. The index to the laws shall be printed from brevier type, and the index to the journals from nonpareil type. The maximum prices for the material and work of the first class shall be: For paper, white and cover, per pound, fifteen cents; and no allowance shall be made for waste; composition, seventy-five cents per one thousand ems, printer's measurement; press work, sixteen pages to the form, unless the nature of the work requires a smaller number of pages, fifty cents per token of two hundred and forty impressions or less; binding, forty cents per one hundred for folding, stitching, covering, and trimming first signature of sixteen pages, and twenty cents per one hundred for each additional signature of sixteen pages or less; for folding, stitching, and trimming without covering, thirty cents per one hundred for first signature of sixteen pages, and fifteen cents per one hundred for each additional signature of sixteen pages or less. No matter shall be leaded except by the express direction of the printing board. The printing board shall, at the same time the contract is let for the printing of the journals of the two houses of the Legislature, include in said contract the printing and delivery of each day's proceedings of the two houses while in session, the same to be printed in octavo form as provided in this act for the printing of the regular journals of the two houses, five hundred copies for the use of the House of Representatives, and two hundred copies for the use of the Senate, the same to be delivered by the hour of meeting of the day following that on which such proceedings were had.

Second: Work of the second class shall consist of all blanks and printed stationery required by any department of the State government except the judicial department, and shall be on first-class sized and calendered white wove unruled flat papers of such dimensions and weights as the nature of the work may require. The maximum prices for such work shall be as follows: For composition, fifty cents per one thousand ems, printer's measurement; for presswork on forms the size of flat cap sheet or less, forty cents per token; on forms larger than flat cap, fifty cents per token; and a token shall be two hundred and forty impressions or less when the number of copies of a job ordered shall require a less number of impressions. The maximum price for paper required for work of the second class shall be twenty-five cents per pound. For ruling work of the second class the maximum price shall be twenty cents per one hundred sheets for each actual and necessary passage through the ruling machine. For numbering, with a numbering or paging machine, per one hundred pages, or per one hundred numbers, ten cents. For binding work of the second class the maximum price shall be: For pads of one hundred copies each, of any printed job, quarter sheet cap, demy, post, or medium, per pad five cents; for pads of two hundred copies of any printed job, half sheet cap, demy, post, or medium, per pad ten cents; for quarter binding quarter sheet cap, demy, post, or medium, per quire ten cents; for quarter binding half sheet cap, demy, post, or medium, per quire fifteen cents; for quarter binding whole sheet cap, demy, post, or medium, per quire, twenty cents; for half binding quarter sheet cap, demy, post, or medium, per quire twenty-five cents; for half binding half sheet cap, demy, post, or medium, per quire thirty-five cents; for half binding whole sheet cap, demy, post, or medium, per quire forty-five cents. A quire within the meaning here intended for binding work of the second class is not less than forty leaves.

Third: Work of the third class shall consist of blank books, either ruled and printed, or ruled without printing. The paper shall be made of linen stock, and of the quality known among paper dealers as "P" paper; and the maximum prices shall be as follows: Cap paper, eighteen pounds to the ream, plain ruled, half bound, sixty cents per quire; ditto printed heads, eighty-five cents per quire; ditto, plain ruled, extra full bound, one dollar per quire; ditto, printed heads, one dollar and twenty-five cents per quire: Demy paper, twenty-eight pounds to the ream, plain ruled, half bound, seventy-five cents per quire; ditto, printed heads, one dollar per quire; ditto, plain ruled, extra full bound, one dollar and twenty-five cents per quire; ditto, printed heads, one dollar and fifty cents per quire: Medium paper, forty pounds to the ream, extra full bound, Russia leather ends and bands, canvass cover with Russia leather corners, plain ruled, three dollars per quire; ditto, printed heads, four dollars per quire; Super Royal paper, fifty-four pounds to the ream, extra full bound, Russia leather ends and bands, canvas cover with Russia leather corners, plain ruled, four dollars and fifty cents per quire; ditto, printed heads, five dollars per quire. A quire shall be not less than forty leaves, in work of the third class. No extra charges to be allowed for vowelings, paging, labeling, lettering, or gilding. Where changes in the printed heads occur in any blank book ordered, the maximum price shall be fifty cents for each change in the ruling and printing together.

Fourth: Work of the fourth class shall consist of the printing of bills, resolutions, committee reports and such other like work as may be ordered by the Legislature, or either house thereof, and shall be on first class sized and calendered white wove flat cap paper of fourteen pounds to the ream, printed on pica type, lines numbered in the margin, with space between the lines of the size of pica, the printing to be thirty-six ems pica wide, and sixty-five ems in length. The maximum price for work of the fourth class shall be: for two hundred copies, or any number of copies less than two hundred ordered by either house of the Legislature, including composition, paper, presswork and binding, two dollars per page for as many pages as are contained in one copy thereof, and when more than two hundred copies of work mentioned in this class are ordered by either house of the Legislature, the printer shall be paid only for the paper, presswork and binding of such additional copies, at such rates as are contracted for, for work of the second class.

Provided: That the printing board in having schedules prepared for the use of bidders for the first and second classes of printing, may fix other and lower maximum prices than those designated in this article for work and material of the first and second classes of printing; and that such schedules may call for bids by the ream on all papers required for the first and second classes, giving dimensions and weights, in nowise to exceed the basis of twenty-five cents per pound, or may call for bids by the pound for all papers required for said classes.

And provided: That the printing board may in their discretion receive separate proposals and make separate contract for furnishing in part or all the printing papers required under the provisions of this article for the printing of the first and second classes, under like conditions required by law for contracts to do the printing and furnish the paper; and in event of such separate contract, the printing board shall cause the papers so furnished to the State to be delivered to the contractor to do the printing and binding, on written requisition of such contractor and under proper guards and checks, at such times and in such quantities as the requisites of any job or jobs of printing may require.

Sec. 2. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to interfere with any contract to do the public printing and binding in force at the time of the passage of this act.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Section 4. Whereas, the near approach of the end of the present session, creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, therefore said rule is hereby suspended.

Approved March 31st, 1885.

CHAPTER 109.

An Act to restore the jurisdiction of the county courts of Tyler, Concho and Erath counties, and to repeal all laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That the county courts of Tyler, Concho and Erath counties shall have concurrent original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors of which exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to the justices courts, as the same are now and may be hereafter, prescribed by law, and exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors when the fine to be imposed shall exceed two hundred dollars, or when the punishment is by imprisonment in the county jail, either absolutely or in the alternative; and they shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in all civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars and not exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, and concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts, when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred and not exceed one thousand dollars, exclusive of interest, but shall not have jurisdiction of suits for the recovery of land. They shall have appellate jurisdiction in cases, civil and criminal of which justices courts have original jurisdiction, under such regulations as are now, or may hereafter be, prescribed by law. In all appeals from justice courts there shall be a trial de novo in the county court, and an appeal shall lie to the Court of Appeals under such regulations as may be prescribed by law. The county court shall have the general jurisdiction of a probate court. They shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition and distribution of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as provided by law. And the county court or judge thereof shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, injunction and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said courts; and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the county court, or any other court or tribunal inferior to said court.

Section 2. That all causes now pending in the district courts of Tyler, Concho and Erath counties of which the county courts of said counties have jurisdiction under the provisions of this act, and all laws giving jurisdiction to the county courts, shall be transferred to the county courts of said county.

Section 3. The clerks of the district courts of said counties of Tyler, Concho and Erath shall thirty days from the date this act takes effect, transfer to the clerk of the county court of said counties all the original papers in causes transferred under this act together with a certified transcript of all entries made on the docket of the district courts in such causes, and a certified bill of all costs accrued in such causes; and for making out such transcript of the docket, the clerk of the district court shall be allowed such fees as are now allowed by law for making out transcripts in cases of appeals, such fees to be taxed as costs in such suits.

Section 4. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and they are hereby repealed.

Section 5. The near approach of the close of the session and the best interests of said counties create an imperative public necessity and an emergency that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, be suspended, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 31st, 1885.

CHAPTER 110.

An Act to amend article 3969 title LXXIX, Revised Civil Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 3969, title LXXIX, Revised Civil Statutes, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 3969. All reservations of the public domain for the benefit of any railroad or railroad company heretofore made by law, and the right to which reservation has lapsed since January 1st 1872, or may hereafter lapse are hereby declared then to have been severed from the mass of the public domain; and, in event of forfeiture to the State, are expressly reserved from location except by actual settlers under chapters eight and nine, title LXXIX Revised Civil Statutes.

NOTE.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor for his approval on the 31st day of March, A. D. 1885, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated, with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.

J. W. BAINES,
Secretary of State.

CHAPTER 111.

An Act to amend sections one and two of an act to amend an act entitled "An act to amend article 4662, chapter 1, title 95 of the Revised Statutes as amended and approved May 4, A. D. 1882 and to amend articles 4666 and 4668, chapter 1, title 95 of the Revised Civil Statutes, to reduce taxation for general revenue purposes, to conform the tax laws to the amended Constitution, and to provide for the levy and collection of a tax to maintain a system of free schools under the amended Constitution, and to better regulate the taxation of banking corporations, State or national, and the shares therein, by adding another section to be known as section 2a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 4662, included in section 1 of the above recited act, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 4662. There shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem State tax of twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars for general revenue purposes, and twelve and one-half cents on the one hundred dollars for the maintenance of the public free schools, of the cash value thereof estimated in lawful currency of the United States, on all real property situated, and all movable property owned in the State on the first day of January in each and every year, and all property sent out of the State for the purpose of avoiding the payment of taxes thereon, if owned on the said first day of January except so much thereof as may be exempted by the Constitution and laws of this State, which cash value shall be estimated under oath by the person, firm, company, or association assessed, or by his or their agent or attorney, making assessment for said person, firm, company or association.

Section 2. That articles 4666 and 4668 of section 2 of the above recited act be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Articles 4666 and 4668. The commissioners' courts of the several counties of this State shall have power to levy, for county revenue purposes, a tax of one-fourth of one per centum, and for roads and bridges fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of all property subject to State tax by the provisions of this act, and shall have power to levy a special tax for the further maintenance of public free schools and the erection within each school district, of school buildings therein in counties not exempt from the district school system, provided, two-thirds of the qualified property tax paying voters of the district, voting at an election to be held for the purpose, shall vote such tax, not to exceed in any year, twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, and shall have the right to levy one-half of the occupation tax levied by the State upon all occupations not herein otherwise specially exempted. Provided, any one wishing to pursue any of the vocations named in this chapter, upon which a county occupation tax may be levied, may do so by paying the same quarterly; and provided further, the receipt of the proper officer under seal shall be prima facie evidence of the payment of such taxes as are herein named; and provided further, the provisions of this act shall not be deemed to effect the provisions of any law, specially authorizing any commissioners' court to levy a different rate of tax; and provided further, no person shall be allowed license for selling intoxicating or spirituous liquors, or for keeping any nine or tenpin alley, or billiard, bagatelle, pigeon hole, Jenny Lind, devil among the tailors table, or any thing of the kind used for profit, for a period of less than twelve months. And, provided further, the mayor and board of aldermen of any incorporated town or city shall in no case levy a greater tax on any occupation than that authorized by this chapter to be levied by the county commissioners' court; and be it further provided, that in all cases where any dealer in merchandise, wares or goods of any kind, subject to ad valorem or occupation taxes, or both, under the provisions of this act, who shall after the rendition of said merchandise, wares or goods for taxation, or after becoming liable for any occupation tax, become bankrupt or make assignment of said merchandise, wares or goods, then the collector of taxes shall at once present to the receiver or assignee of said dealer for payment of the amount due for said taxes, by said dealer, and in case of failure of said receiver or assignee, to at once pay the amount of said taxes, the said collector shall levy upon, seize and sell, from the said merchandise, wares or goods, enough to satisfy the amount of said taxes, and said taxes until paid, shall constitute a prior lien on said merchandise, goods and wares in default of said taxes.

Section 2a. Every banking corporation, State or national, doing business in this State shall, in the city or town in which it is located, render its real estate to the assessor of taxes at the time and in the manner required of individuals. At the time of making such rendition the president or some other officer of said bank shall file with said assessor a sworn statement showing the number and amount of the shares of said bank, the name and residence of each shareholder, and the number and amount of shares owned by him. Every shareholder of said bank shall, in the city or town where said bank is located, render at their actual value to the assessor of taxes all shares owned by him in such bank; and in case of his failure so to do, the assessor shall assess such unrendered shares as other unrendered property. Each share in such bank shall be taxed only for the difference between its actual cash value, and the proportionate amount per share at which its real estate is assessed. The taxes due upon the shares of banking corporations shall be a lien thereon, and no banking corporation shall pay any dividend to any shareholder who is in default in the payment of taxes due on his shares; nor shall any banking corporation permit the transfer upon its books of any share, the owner of which is in default in the payment of his taxes upon the same.

Nothing herein shall be so construed as to tax national or State banks, or the shareholders thereof, at a greater rate than is assessed against other moneyed capital in the hands of individuals.

Section 3. Whereas, the various county commissioners courts in the State are about to levy taxes for the present year, therefore an emergency exists that this act shall take effect from and after its passage and an imperative public necessity demands that the rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days in each house shall be suspended and it is so enacted.

Approved March 31st, 1885.

CHAPTER 112.

An Act to authorize the collector of a newly organized county to collect the unpaid taxes found to be due in his county by the assessor's rolls of the county or counties from which such county has been taken or to which it has been attached for judicial purposes, and to provide for making transcripts from such rolls for the use of the collector in the new county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That where any county now, or hereafter created out of a part of any one or more organized counties, or when any unorganized county may be organized by the election and qualification of its officers, it shall be the duty of the person in charge of the assessor's roll in the county or counties from which such new county, or any part of it has been taken, or to which such unorganized county has been attached for judicial purposes, to allow such person as the commissioners' court of the newly organized county may appoint for that purpose, access to the rolls for the purpose of making the transcripts hereinafter provided for.

Section 2. That it shall be the duty of the person, so appointed, to make from such assessor's rolls two transcripts of the unpaid assessments, both on person and property, in that portion of the county included within the limits of the new county, or, as the case may be, in the limits of the former unorganized county.

Section 3. The collector of the county from which such territory has been taken, or to which such unorganized county has been attached, shall examine and verify the transcripts herein provided for, and attest their correctness over his official signature. For such service he shall receive twenty dollars from the county, for which the transcript has been made, to be paid on the order of its commissioners' court. He shall also have the commissioners' court of his county to approve the transcript rolls, and shall deliver one of them to the collector of the new county; the other he shall forward to the Comptroller, and, when received by the Comptroller, it shall authorize him to give the proper credit to the collector of the old county, and to charge the same to the collector of the new county.

Section 4. The collector of such new county shall receive the same compensation, and shall have the same authority to collect and enforce the collection of the taxes found to be due by such transcripts as is enjoyed by the collectors of the other counties in this State.

Section 5. The person selected by the commissioners' court of the new county to make such transcripts shall receive for his services such compensation as he may agree on with such commissioners' court.

Section 6. The near approach of the close of the present session, and the urgent necessity for the collection of taxes in newly organized counties, creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is so suspended; and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

I hereby certify that H. B. No. 373 originated in the House and passed the same March 17th, 1885, by a two-thirds vote, ayes 81.

A. D. SADLER,
Chief Clerk House of Representatives.

I hereby certify that H. B. No. 373 passed the Senate March 27th, 1885, by ayes 22, nays none.

CHAPTER 113.

An Act to re-organize the thirtieth, thirty-first, thirty-second and thirty-third judicial districts, to create the thirty-ninth judicial district and to fix the times for holding courts therein, and to provide for the appointment and election of judges and district attorneys in said thirty-ninth judicial district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the thirtieth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Jack, Young, Archer, Clay, Wichita and Wilbarger, and terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Jack on the second Mondays in January and July and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Young on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Archer on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Clay on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session six weeks.

In the county of Wichita on the sixteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Wilbarger on the twentieth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Section 2. That the thirty-first judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Wheeler, Oldham and Donley, and the unorganized counties of Greer, Collingsworth, Childress, Hall, Floyd, Briscoe, Swisher, Hale, Castro, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Gray, Carson, Potter, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Sherman and Dallam, and terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Donley on the first Mondays in January and July and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Wheeler on the first Mondays in April and November and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Oldham on the first Mondays in May and October and may continue in session four weeks.

The unorganized counties of Carson, Armstrong, Swisher, Hale, Floyd, Briscoe, Hall, and Childress are attached to the county of Donley for judicial purposes, the unorganized counties of Sherman, Moore, Potter, Castro, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Hartley, Dallam and Randall are attached to the county of Oldham for judicial purposes, and the unorganized counties of Greer, Collingsworth, Gray, Hutchinson, Hansford, Ochiltree, Roberts, Hemphill, and Lipscomb are attached to the county of Wheeler for judicial purposes.

Section 3. That the thirty-second judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Tom Green, Runnels, Taylor, Nolan, Martin, Howard, Mitchell and the unorganized counties of Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Dawson, Borden, Gaines, Andrews and Midland. Also the unorganized county of Fisher shall be and remain a part of the thirty-second judicial district until it is organized, and when said county of Fisher is organized it shall be and become a part of the thirty-ninth judicial district, and terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Tom Green on the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Runnels on the fourth Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Taylor on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Nolan on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Martin on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Howard on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Mitchell on the fifteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

The unorganized counties of Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Dawson and Borden, are attached for judicial purposes to the county of Howard.

The unorganized counties of Gaines, Andrews and Midland are attached for judicial purposes to the county of Martin, and the unorganized county of Fisher is attached for judicial purposes to the county of Nolan, but when said county of Fisher is organized it shall be and become a part of the thirty-ninth judicial district.

Section 4. That the thirty-third judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Blanco, Gillespie, Mason, Kimble, Menard, Concho, McCulloch, San Saba and Llano and the district courts shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Blanco on the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county Gillespie on the third Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Mason on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Kimble on the sixth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Menard on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Concho on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of McCulloch on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of San Saba on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Llano on the seventeenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Section 5. That the thirty-ninth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Hardeman, Baylor, Throckmorton, Haskell, Jones, and Scurry and the unorganized counties of Cottle, Motley, Knox, King, Dickens, Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran, Garza, Kent and Stonewall, and the county of Fisher when organized shall be and become a part of the thirty-ninth judicial district, and terms of the district court shall be held each year therein as follows:

In the county of Hardeman on the second Mondays in February and August and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Baylor on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Throckmorton on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Haskell on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Jones on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Scurry on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August and may continue in session until the business is disposed of. The unorganized counties of Cottle and Motley are hereby attached to Hardeman county for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Knox, King, Dickens, Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley, Lamb, Bailey and Cochrane are attached to the county of Baylor for judicial purposes.

The unorganized county of Stonewall is hereby attached to Jones county for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Kent and Garza are hereby attached to Scurry county for judicial purposes.

The county of Fisher when organized shall be and become a part of the thirty-ninth judicial district and the district judge of said district shall thereupon immediately according to law fix a time for holding two terms of the district court in said county for each year and shall hold said courts at the times so fixed.

Section 6. That immediately after this law goes into effect the Governor shall appoint a suitable person for district judge and a suitable person for district attorney for said thirty-ninth judicial district and that a district judge and district attorney for said district be elected at the next general election and at subsequent elections according to existing laws.

Section 7. That the district judges and district attorneys heretofore lawfully elected or appointed and now acting for the thirtieth, thirty-first, thirty-second and thirty-third judicial districts shall continue in the exercise of their said offices respectively.

Section 8. That all process heretofore issued or served returnable in any of the counties of said judicial district shall be considered as returnable at the times herein prescribed and all such process is hereby legalized and all grand and petit jurors drawn and selected under existing laws in any of the counties in said judicial districts shall be considered as lawfully drawn and selected for the next term of the district courts of their respective counties after this act shall go into effect and all of such process is hereby legalized and validated.

Section 9. That this act take effect and be in force from and after the thirtieth day of June A. D. 1885, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 10. The fact that the near approach of the close of this session renders it improbable that this bill can be considered on three several days, and the fact that it is desired and proper that this bill should go into effect within less than ninety days after the adjournment of this Legislature create an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days and that this act take effect and be in force from and after the thirtieth day of June, A. D. 1885, and it is so enacted.

I do hereby certify that the within S. S. Bs. [Nos. 271 and 274

RESOLUTIONS.

H. J. R. No. 20.]

No. 1.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

Requesting our Senators and Representatives in Congress to aid in the establishing of a national trail for the outlet of Texas cattle.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress are respectfully requested to aid in securing the establishment of a national trail for the outlet of Texas cattle.

S. J. R. No. 10.]

No. 2.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Delivering the property known as the Alamo to the city of San Antonio.

Whereas during the regular session of the Eighteenth Legislature, while measures were pending, looking to the purchase of the Alamo by the State, a resolution of the city council of San Antonio was read to the Senate and House, in order to induce the purchase of said property by the State, which resolution is as follows:

“Whereas, the State of Texas is contemplating the purchase of the property known as the Alamo, for the purpose of preserving it as a monument sacred to the memory of the martyrs who so gallantly perished in the defense of the liberties of their country, and the question of the care, preservation and guardianship of said property having arisen; now, therefore, in order that for all future time the State of Texas shall be free from all expense, charge, cost or liability for the care and preservation of said property:

“Be it resolved by the city council of the city of San Antonio: That the city of San Antonio agrees and binds itself to take care of, preserve and keep the said Alamo in good order and repair, without cost, charge or liability to the State of Texas, and to hold the same subject at all times to any future legislation of the State of Texas; and that a copy of these resolutions, duly authenticated, be forwarded at once to his Excellency, Governor John Ireland."

Now therefore,

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the property known as the Alamo be delivered to the city of San Antonio upon the terms, and conditions and subject to the limitations set forth in the resolution of its city council above mentioned.

NOTE.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor for his approval on the 31st day of March, A. D. 1885, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto, within the time specified by the Constitution, and thereupon it became a law without his signature.

J. W. BAINES,
Secretary of State.

H. J. R. No. 1.]

No. 3.

JOINT RESOLUTION

To permit the Governor, Comptroller and Adjutant-General to withdraw from the Comptroller's and Adjutant-General's offices such original vouchers as may be necessary to enable them, under authority of an act of the Legislature, approved March 28, 1883, to properly present the claims of the State of Texas for payment by the United States, under act of Congress, approved June 27, 1882.

Section 1. Whereas, by act of Congress, approved June 27, 1882, the State of Texas, with other States and territories, was authorized to present her claims against the United States government, for moneys expended by said State in protecting her frontier; and whereas, by said act the honorable Secretaries of the Treasury and of War, of the United States government, were authorized and required to examine and report upon said claims; and whereas, said United States officials require the original vouchers and evidence of payment by the said State of Texas to be presented in support of said claim; and, whereas, the Eighteenth Legislature of Texas, by act approved March 28, 1883, organized a board consisting of the Governor, the Comptroller and the Adjutant General with power to make, act and present the said claims of Texas; and whereas, said board are doubtful of their authority under said act of the Legislature to withdraw from the office of the Comptroller and that of the Adjutant General, such original vouchers as are demanded and required to support the said claim of the State, and yet the duty of said board cannot be fully performed without such withdrawal and use of said original papers, therefore, be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas that the said board consisting of the Governor, the Comptroller and the Adjutant General, shall be, and they are hereby authorized to withdraw from the said offices of the Comptroller and the Adjutant General all such original vouchers, papers and accounts, as may be necessary to the support of the said claim of Texas against the United States government, provided that proper receipts for such papers shall be filed by said board in the said offices of the Comptroller and that of the Adjutant General.

Section 2. Whereas, the near approach of the close of the session rendering it unlikely that this resolution can be passed in the regular way, and the fact that the success of the State in her claim for compensation from the Federal government for defense of the frontier may depend upon the presentation of the original vouchers, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity which requires that the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and that this resolution take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

I hereby certify that H. J. R. No. 1 originated in the House and passed the same March 26th, 1885, by a two-thirds vote, ayes 86, nays 1.

A. D. SADLER,
Chief Clerk House of Representatives.

I hereby certify that H. J. R. No. 1 passed the Senate March 28th, 1885, by ayes 22, nays 2.

WM. NEAL RAMEY,
Secretary of the Senate.

Approved March 31st, 1885.

No. 1.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, the laying of the corner stone of the new State Capitol of Texas, on the second of March next, will be a grand day in the history of Texas and her civilization; and

Whereas, the people of Texas desire to cultivate the most friendly relations with our sister Republic of Mexico; therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Texas, That General Porferio Diaz, President of the Republic of Mexico, be invited to visit the capital of this State and take part in the festivities of the occasion; and that a copy of this resolution, signed by the Governor, and attested by the Secretary of State, be forwarded to his Excellency at once.

No. 2.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Requesting Texas Senators and Representatives in Congress to secure a survey and report of the condition of the channel through West Galveston bay and San Luis bay 40 miles westward from Galveston, to the canal connecting said bays with the Brazos river near its mouth.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That the Senators and Representatives of this State in the Congress of the United States be, and they are hereby requested to take the earliest and most efficient action, as in their judgment may seem best, to secure a survey and report by the United States engineering corps, of the channel of said bays, with a view of securing an appropriation, at a future time to remove some obstructions believed to be not over four miles in all, and thereby giving an average channel of six feet of water or thereabouts for whole extent of said bays, and by the way of said canal connecting with the Brazos river, with deep tide water navigation for more than 50 miles.

Section 2. Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to each Senator and Representative in Congress from Texas, by the Secretary of State.

No. 3.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That the Governor of the State be, and is hereby authorized, to request, in the name of the State, the Mexican authorities to permit the removing of the remains of the late Col. Frank Johnson, who was buried in their territory.

Approved March 31st, 1885.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, {
DEPARTMENT OF STATE. }

I, J. W. Baines, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, do certify that I have carefully compared the foregoing laws and resolutions, passed by the Nineteenth Legislature of the State of Texas, at its regular session, with the original enrolled bills now on file in this Department, and that they are true copies thereof; and I further certify that said Nineteenth Legislature convened in Austin, January 13, 1885, and adjourned March 31, 1885.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed my name, and [L. s.] impressed hereon the seal of State, at Austin, this, April 20, A. D. 1885.

J. W. BAINES,
Secretary of State.

SPECIAL LAWS

OF

THE STATE OF TEXAS

PASSED AT THE

REGULAR SESSION OF THE NINETEENTH LEGISLATURE

CONVENED

AT THE CITY OF AUSTIN

JANUARY 13, 1885, AND ADJOURNED MARCH 31, 1885.

BY AUTHORITY OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

NOTE.

Constitution of the State of Texas, Article III.

Sec. 39. No law passed by the Legislature, except the general appropriation act, shall take effect or go into force until ninety days after the adjournment of the session at which it was enacted, unless in case of an emergency, which emergency must be expressed in a preamble or in the body of the act, the Legislature shall, by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, otherwise direct; said vote to be taken by yeas and nays, and entered upon the journals.

SPECIAL LAWS.

H. B. No. 473.]

No. 1.

An Act to amend sections three (3), four (4), five (5), one hundred and six (106), one hundred and seventeen (117), one hundred and fifty-six (156) and one hundred and fifty-eight (158), of an act to incorporate the city of Galveston, and grant a new charter, approved August 2nd, 1876, amended by an act approved April 5th, 1881, amended by an act approved March 7th, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section three (3) of said act be and the same is hereby amended so that hereafter it shall read as follows, to-wit:

Section 3. The municipal government of the city shall consist of a city council composed of the mayor and one alderman from each ward, a majority of the aldermen elected shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except at called meeting or meetings for the imposition of taxes, when three-fourths of the aldermen elected shall be required, unless herein otherwise specified.

The other officers of the incorporation shall be a recorder, a treasurer, an assessor, a collector, a clerk, a chief of police, an engineer (who shall also be superintendent of streets), an attorney, an auditor, a health physician, a harbor master, and such other officers and agents as the city council may direct; all of whom, except the mayor, aldermen, clerk and chief of police, shall be elected by ballot by the Aldermen, at a meeting to be held on the second Monday after each biennial election upon the nomination of the mayor, or in case no person shall then be nominated by him, or if the person so nominated shall not be elected, then as soon thereafter as possible, upon the nomination of the mayor. Provided, that if any nomination of the mayor is not confirmed by a majority of the council, the person so nominated shall hold the office to which he was nominated until the next regular meeting of the city council, when the mayor shall nominate again; and if such person so nominated is not confirmed, it shall be the duty of the mayor to continue to nominate some person for such office at each regular meeting of the city council thereafter until his nomination shall be confirmed by a majority of the city council; and each nominee of the mayor shall hold the office to which he was nominated until after another nomination by the mayor at the next regular meeting of the city council. But the mayor shall not nominate the same person more than twice for the same office. The clerk and chief of police shall be appointed by the mayor on the second Monday after each biennial election or as soon thereafter as possible. All of said officers so nominated and elected shall hold their offices until the second Monday after the next succeeding biennial election and until the nomination, and election and qualification of their successors; and in such election a majority of all the aldermen elected shall be necessary to a choice. The officers appointed by the mayor as aforesaid, shall hold their offices until the second Monday after the next succeeding biennial election, unless earlier removed by the mayor, or by the city council under the authority vested in it by this charter, and until the appointment and qualification of their successors. The duties of the harbor master shall be such as have been, or may be prescribed by the city council, and he shall receive for his services such compensation as the city council may determine, not to exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum, and shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of ten thousand dollars.

Section 2. That section four (4) of said act be, and the same is hereby amended so that hereafter it shall read as follows, to-wit:

Section 4. Elections for mayor and aldermen shall be held biennially on the first Monday in June at such place or places as the city council may direct, and of which thirty days previous notice shall be given by publication in one or more newspapers of said city; provided, that the next biennial election shall be held on the first Monday in April, 1885, of which only twenty days notice shall be necessary, provided, that the present officers shall hold over until their successors are elected and qualified as herein provided. Said elections shall be ordered by the mayor or the city council; for the purpose of holding such elections, and others ordered, the city council shall appoint biennially, in July or earlier, in each ward some competent and suitable person, who shall be the presiding officer at all elections held in his ward.

The presiding officer in each ward shall select two judges and two clerks who, with the presiding officer, shall be managers of the elections. The presiding officer and judges must be qualified voters in the city. The city council shall provide for their compensation, and by ordinance regulate and define their powers and duties, and determine the hours of opening and closing the polls. The mayor, or acting mayor, whenever an election is ordered, shall give the required notice, and issue to the presiding officer a writ of election; and every published notice of election shall state the officer or officers to be elected, the place where the election will be held and the name of the presiding officer thereat. In case the officer so appointed is unable, fails, refuses or neglects to act, or the city council have failed to appoint, and in case no appointed presiding officer appears to open the polls, the attending qualified electors at the place for holding such election, such qualified electors as may be present at the time to open such poll may appoint such officer, who shall perform the same duties and shall have like power and authority to act as the original appointee, but in such case the managers in their returns or otherwise, shall certify that the presiding officer failed to attend or neglected to act, and that the person acting as such, was duly chosen by the electors present; provided, that, if from any cause an election cannot be, or is not held on the day aforesaid, such election shall be held as soon thereafter as the order can be made and the necessary notices given. And the city council shall have full authority to designate the day for such election; and provided further, that the presiding officers for any election under this act may be appointed at any time prior to such election by the mayor in case of vacancy.

Section 3. That section five (5) of said act be, and the same is hereby amended so that hereafter it shall read as follows, to-wit:

Section 5. At the biennial elections provided for in this charter there shall be elected by the qualified electors of said city, voting by ballot, a mayor who shall hold his office for two years from the date of said election and until his successors shall be elected and qualified. And at the same time there shall be elected one alderman from each ward of the city by the qualified electors of the whole city, who shall hold his office for two years from the date of said election, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified; provided, that the person so elected shall be and remain a resident of the ward which he is elected to represent as such alderman, and if he shall, during the term of his office, remove from such ward his office shall be declared vacant. The person receiving the highest number of votes in the whole city for mayor shall be declared elected, and the person in any ward receiving the highest number of votes in the whole city cast for alderman of such ward shall be declared elected. In case the person elected mayor or alderman shall refuse to accept the office, the mayor, acting mayor or the city council shall order another election, and in case a vacancy in the office of mayor or alderman by death, resignation, removal or otherwise, it shall be filled for the remainder of the term by a new election to be ordered by the mayor, acting mayor or the city council, and all new or special elections shall be conducted in the same manner as herein provided for at a biennial election; provided, that in special elections five days notice thereof shall be deemed sufficient.

Section 4. That section one hundred and six (106) of said act be, and the same is hereby amended so that hereafter it shall read as follows, to-wit:

Section 106. To regulate and prevent the carrying on of manufactories and works dangerous in promoting or causing fires; to regulate the building and erection of cotton presses and sheds; to regulate and prevent the piling or storing of wood, lumber and other combustible articles or materials on the levees, wharves, streets and sidewalks.

Section 5. That section one hundred and seventeen (117) of said act be, and the same is hereby amended so that hereafter it shall read as follows, to-wit:

Section 117. There shall be created a board of health composed of the mayor, the health physician, the city engineer, the chairman of the committee on hospital and health and the chairman of the committee on finance and revenue. Three members shall constitute a quorum. The mayor shall be chairman of the board, but in his absence the board may elect a chairman pro tem. The health physician shall be secretary of the board, and shall keep a record of its proceedings in a book kept for that purpose. The board shall have power to adopt rules and regulations for its government and fix the time and place for its regular meetings. Extra meetings may be called at any time by the mayor or any three members of the board upon written notification of its members.

Section 6. That section one hundred and fifty-six (156) of said act be, and the same is hereby amended so that hereafter it shall read as follows, to wit:

Section 156. The city council shall have power to remove any other officer for incompetency, corruption, malconduct, malfeasance or non-feasance in office, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard in his defense under the same rules herein provided for the trial and removal of the mayor and aldermen.

Section 7. That section one hundred and fifty-eight (158) of said act be, and the same is hereby amended so that hereafter it shall read as follows, to wit:

Section 158. No member of the council shall hold any other employment or office under the city government while he is a member of said council, unless herein otherwise provided; and no member of the city council or any officer of the corporation shall be directly or indirectly interested in any work, business or contract, the expense, price or consideration of which is paid from the city treasury or by an assessment levied by an ordinance or resolution of the city council, nor be the surety of any person having a contract, work or business with said city, for the performance of which security may be required; and no member of the city council shall have any authority to employ any labor or purchase any article for the use of the city under any ordinance or resolution whatever, either as a committee or otherwise, but the same shall be done by some officer or agent of the city designated for that purpose by ordinance of the city. Any alderman or officer of the city violating the provisions of this section, shall forfeit his seat in council or office and shall thereafter be ineligible to any office in or under the city government.

Section 8. Whereas, an urgent necessity and emergency exists that the city council of Galveston should be elected by a vote of the whole city in order to secure a more popular representative government; and whereas, the regular biennial election will take place before the adjournment of the Legislature, therefore it is hereby enacted that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage; and whereas, this act requires that a notice of the regular biennial election of twenty days shall be published before the said election shall take place on the first Monday in April, 1885; therefore an imperative public necessity exists, requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is so enacted.

I hereby certify that the within H. B. No. 473 originated in the House and passed the same February 21st, 1885, by a two-thirds vote—ayes 75, noes 1.

A. D. SADLER,
Chief Clerk House of Representatives.

I hereby certify that the within H. B. No. 473 passed the Senate February 24th, 1885, by two-thirds vote, ayes 24.

WM. NEAL RAMEY,
Secretary of the Senate.

Approved February 26th, 1885.

S. H. B. No. 237.]

No. 2.

An Act to alter the corporate limits of the city of Waco.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the corporate limits of the city of Waco be altered so as to dismiss from said corporation a part of that territory east of the Brazos river, known as East Waco, or the Fifth ward of the said city, leaving the eastern boundaries of said city of Waco as follows: Beginning at the original point of beginning as defined by the act of incorporation of the city of Waco, approved April 21, 1871, a cottonwood on west bank of the Brazos river, (about seven or eight hundred yards below the mouth of Waco creek), marked with a blaze on three sides and three hacks on the other; thence up the west margin of the said river to the centre of the mouth of Waco creek; thence across the Brazos river N, 45 E to the east bank thereof; thence, up said east bank with its meanderings to the south line of the right of way of the Missouri Pacific Railway; thence, with the south line of said right of way, N 45 E to a point 170 varas, more or less, N 45 E from the point at which said right of way crosses the east line of the Hood tract, and which point is also S 28 E from the N E corner of Susan Reed's one-half acre lot; thence, N 28 W to the N E corner to the said Susan Reed's one-half acre lot in W. M. Walton's line; thence S 62 W to the east line of the Paul Quin college property; thence, with the east line of said college tract N 52½ W to the N E corner of said Paul Quin college tract; thence S 37½ W with the north line of said college tract, and of Turners' tract to stake on the west line of Dallas street; thence, with the west line of Dallas street, N 52½ W, crossing the Houston and Texas Central R. R. to the N E corner of block No. 4, owned by J. W. Mann; thence, S 37½ W, to the east margin of the Brazos river; thence, up the east margin of said river to the point at which the present north line of the city crosses the river.

Section 2. That whereas, a large indebtedness is being daily contracted by said city, rendering oppressive taxation necessary, for which no benefit is received; and whereas, the issuance of bonds is now contemplated by said city of Waco, creating a liability upon all the property now in said city; and, whereas, delay in the final passage of this act would result in great financial injury to many people, thereby creating an emergency and imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, therefore said rule is hereby suspended and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

I hereby certify that S. H. B. No. 237 originated in the House and passed the same February 21st, 1885, by a two-thirds vote, ayes 77.

A. D. SADLER,

Chief Clerk House of Representatives.

I hereby certify that S. H. B. No. 237 passed the Senate February 25th, 1885, by a two-thirds vote, ayes 22, nays none.

WM. NEAL RAMEY,

Secretary of the Senate.

Approved February 27th, 1885.

S. B. No. 137.]

No. 3.

An Act to repeal sections 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 21, 22, 23, 25, 27, 28, 30, 31, 83, 198, 199 and 200, and to amend sections 2, 4, 5, 6, 29, 33, 43, 45, 70, 74, 78, 103, 120, 197, 201, 202 and 203, of an act entitled "An act to incorporate the city of San Antonio, and grant a new charter to said city," approved August 13th, 1870, and to repeal "An act to incorporate the city of San Antonio," approved July 17th, 1856; and "An act to amend the act to incorporate the city of San Antonio," approved February 11th, 1860; also, "An act to amend an act entitled 'an act to incorporate the city of San Antonio and grant a new charter to said city,' approved April 18th, 1879.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Texas: That sections 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 21, 22, 23, 25, 27, 28, 30, 31, 83, 198, 199 and 200, of "An act to incorporate the city of San Antonio, and to grant a new charter to said city," approved August 13th, 1879, and "An act to amend an act entitled 'an act to amend an act entitled an act to incorporate the city of San Antonio and grant a new charter to said city,' approved April 18th, 1879, be and the same are hereby repealed; and that sections 2, 4, 5, 6, 29, 33, 43, 45, 70, 74, 78, 103, 120, 197, 201, 202 and 203 of said act be so amended as hereafter to read as follows, to wit:

Section 2.

The bounds and limits of said city within which said corporation shall have jurisdiction, shall include a square of which the sides shall be equidistant from what is known as the cupola of the Cathedral of San Fernando, and three miles therefrom, east, west, north and south, or six miles square.

Section 4.

The city council shall, prior to the first day of December 1886, divide the city into eight wards; the boundaries thereof shall be fixed by the city council and may be changed from time to time, as they may deem expedient, so that each ward shall contain, as near as possible, the same number of inhabitants or electors.

Section 5.

That on the second Monday in February, beginning with the year 1887, a mayor, recorder, collector, street commissioner and twelve aldermen, shall be voted for and the returns for such election shall be made as hereinafter provided.

Section 6.

That the first election under this act shall be held as provided in section 5, and every two years thereafter, shall be the regular charter election for elective officers. The terms of all aldermen elected prior to February 1887, shall expire on the election of their successors, on the first Monday in February, 1887.

Section 29.

That all elections in the city shall be held in accordance with the State law governing elections and returns shall be made to the mayor in the same manner that returns are made under the State law. The qualifications of voters shall be as prescribed in article 6 of the Constitution of the State. Provided, that at all elections wherein property tax payers only are allowed to vote, those only whose names appear on the last assessment roll of the city shall be deemed property tax payers.

Section 33.

The city council shall be composed of the mayor and aldermen. One alderman to be elected from each ward by the voters thereof, and four aldermen to be elected by the voters of the city at large. The aldermen shall hold office for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The aldermen elected as representatives of the different wards shall be residents thereof at least six months prior to their election, and shall vacate their office if at any time they should remove therefrom.

Section 43.

To borrow money on the credit of the city, and issue bonds therefor, to an amount not to exceed $50,000 during one year. To make a loan exceeding $50,000 the question must be submitted to the property tax payers, voters of the city, and if sustained by a majority of the votes polled, such loan shall be lawful. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they were issued, and shall not be sold for less than their par value; provided, that no debt shall be contracted for the payment whereof such bonds are issued until such bonds have been disposed of and the proceeds thereof paid into the city treasury; and when any bonds are issued by the city, a fund shall be provided to pay the interest and two per cent per annum on the capital, as a sinking fund, to redeem the bonds, which fund shall not be diverted or drawn for any other purpose; and the city treasurer shall honor no draft drawn on said fund except to pay interest or to redeem the bonds for which it was provided, and for the payment of such loan to levy a special tax over and above the general tax allowed by this act; provided, the rate of tax shall not exceed one-half of one per cent, and the rate of interest paid shall not exceed seven per cent; provided, also, no loan shall be made for any other purpose or purposes than those connected with the corporation of said city; and no loan shall be made to aid any private enterprise, railroad or undertaking not under the management and control of the city council. The sinking fund for the redemption of any loan or debt to be invested, as fast as the same accumulates, in United States interest bearing bonds, bonds of the State of Texas, or in the city bonds, and such bonds, and the interest of said bonds, to be re-invested and to be sold when necessary to pay debts or loans.

Section 45.

To appropriate money and provide for the payment of the debts and expenses of the city; provided, that the bonded debt of the city shall not be increased nor other evidences of debt be issued, exceeding fifty thousand dollars in any one fiscal year, unless authorized by a vote of the property tax payers as hereinbefore provided. The fiscal year shall commence on the first day of March and terminate on the last day of February following.

Section 70.

To restrain, regulate and prohibit the selling or giving away of any intoxicating or malt liquors by any person or firm, although duly licensed by the State, when the place of business of such person or firm is connected with a house wherein gaming is permitted to be carried on; or where the same is connected with a vaudeville or other place where theatrical performances are held by whatever name called, when such places or vaudeville, has been declared by the city council to be a place where the idle, vicious and evil-disposed persons habitually congregate, or where indecent performances are allowed.

Section 74.

To prohibit and punish the owners, lessees or agents of theatres or other places wherein indecent, lewd or immodest dramatic or theatrical representations are given, and adopt summary measures for removal or suppression of all such entertainments or establishments.

Section 78.

The city council shall have the right to enact all necessary ordinances to restrain and punish vagrants, mendicants, street beggars and prostitutes; to restrain and control all gambling and punish the keepers of all games and gambling devices with as great a penalty as the same is punished by the statutes of the State. The recorder's court of the city of San Antonio shall have concurrent jurisdiction of all such misdemeanors, when committed in the corporate limits of the city of San Antonio.

Section 103.

The city council shall have the power to pass, publish, amend or repeal all ordinances, rules and police regulations not contrary to the Constitution of the State, and necessary for the order or good government of the city, or the trade, commerce and health thereof, or that may be necessary and proper to carry into effect the powers herein vested in the corporation or any of its officers; to enforce the observance of all such ordinances, rules and police regulations and to punish violations thereof by fines and imprisonment, or either or both, or by work on the streets or other public works, as may be provided by ordinance and required by the judgment of the court; provided that no fine shall exceed $200 dollars, and no period of imprisonment shall exceed ninety days in the county or city jail, except as herein otherwise provided, and for any fine, penalty and costs imposed by the recorder in the trial of any cause or complaint before him, executions may issue to collect such fines and costs to be levied and executed in the same manner that executions are from courts of justice of the peace. The same shall be issued by the recorder to the marshal, who in levying on property and selling, shall have like power and authority as the sheriff of the county in executions issued from the district or county courts, and the laws of the State so far as applicable shall apply to and be in full force and effect as to the execution issued from the recorder's court, and any person upon whom any fine or penalty is imposed, may be committed until payment of same, with costs, and in default thereof may be imprisoned in the city prison, or may be required to work on the streets or other public works of the city for such time and in such manner as may be provided by ordinance; provided such imprisonment shall not exceed ninety days.

The recorder shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city, and shall hold his office for the term of two years, and until his successor is qualified, and for malfeasance or a failure to perform his duties, may be removed by the city council; he shall be the chief judicial magistrate of the city, and as such shall hold a court within said city, by the name of recorder's court of the city of San Antonio, which court shall have concurrent jurisdiction and cognizance of all misdemeanors, breaches of the peace, infraction of ordinances, and all other causes arising under the laws of said city; and said court shall also have concurrent jurisdiction of all misdemeanors arising under the criminal laws of the State within said city limits in which the punishment is by fine only, or by fine or imprisonment, or by both; provided, that no fine shall exceed two hundred dollars, or period of imprisonment exceed ninety days in the city or county jail, except as herein otherwise provided; and provided further, that said court shall have concurrent jurisdiction of all cases for keeping disorderly houses or houses of prostitution within the limits of said city. And said court shall be deemed always open for trial of said cases. Said court shall have full power, authority and concurrent jurisdiction in all cases arising under the ordinances of said city, or the State law as hereinbefore limited; and over any breaches and violations thereof and of any and all persons thus offending, including vagrants, gamblers, prostitutes and keepers of disorderly houses, and to try and determine all suits, actions and complaints charging a violation of any ordinance or aforesaid laws, and may grant new trials on motion in writing, showing sufficient cause and duly sworn to, and all prosecutions, trials and proceedings had in said court under this act, shall be governed by the laws and rules regulating trials, prosecutions and proceedings in a justice's court in force at the time, and shall be a bar to prosecutions for the same offense in other courts. The recorder may require of any person arrested under the provisions of this act a bond for his or her good behavior and to keep the peace, or for his or her appearance before said court, with good and sufficient sureties, which bond, as well as all other bonds taken in any proceedings in said court, shall be payable to the city of San Antonio. He shall have full power and authority to issue subpoenas for witnesses, and to compel their attendance by process of an attachment. He may punish all contempts by fine and imprisonment, or either; may issue subpoenas, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions and all process known to law, which a justice of the peace of this State may lawfully issue, and all of said writs and process shall run in the name of the city of San Antonio, be issued, served and executed in the same manner as the like process would be when issued by a justice of the peace, unless herein otherwise provided. He shall also have full power and authority to administer official oaths and all oaths and affirmations, and give certificate therefor. The recorder shall be ex-officio justice of the peace, and he shall possess and execute in the city, in criminal cases, all the powers and duties of such officer, and shall have the same authority and like power with justices of the peace in the prevention and suppression of crime. Provided, that in no case shall he entertain jurisdiction in civil suits. The city council may determine what costs, if any, shall be charged for proceedings in, and for all process issued in said court; and the recorder shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by any ordinance of said corporation that may properly and lawfully be required of said officer as the judge of said court, and as are not inconsistent with the laws and Constitution of this State; provided, that all money collected from fines, of whatever character, imposed by the recorder shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city. The recorder shall receive the sum of $1200.00 per annum, and be allowed no fees in cases arising from the violation of the city ordinances, but only in State cases, when thereto authorized by the city council.

Section 197.

The city council shall be invested with full power and authority to grade and macadamize, curb, pave, repair or otherwise improve any avenue, plaza, street or alley, whenever they shall declare, by a vote of three-fourths of all the aldermen, that such improvement is for the public interest.

Section 201.

In the widening or straightening of any street, avenue or alley, the city council shall determine, by ordinance, the manner and extent of such widening and straightening. Upon the filing of such ordinance, and the plan of the proposed widening or straightening, with the county clerk, it shall be the duty of the county judge to appoint three disinterested freeholders of the city as commissioners, who after being duly sworn to act with fidelity and impartiality, shall carefully estimate the value of the property necessary to be taken for such widening or straightening, making a separate estimate in the case of each owner. It shall be thereafter the duty of the commissioners to estimate the benefit accruing to any property on the street and in the vicinity that they may consider benefitted by such improvement, filing with their report a list of the owners of such property, and the amount of the supposed benefit, stating separately in each case. On the filing of such report with the city clerk, the city council shall at their first meeting thereafter, give five days public notice, through the official journal, at what time said reports shall be acted upon, (which shall not be less than ten days after the expiration of said notice) and all parties feeling aggrieved by the action of said commissioners may be heard by the council on appeal.

The action of the city council shall be limited to the increase of value of the award for property taken, or decrease of the assessment for supposed benefit to property by the improvement contemplated. The city council by tendering to the owner of the land taken the amount of the award may at once enter upon and appropriate said land to the purposes of opening, widening or altering said street, alley, etc. The benefits reported and as may be revised by the city council, shall be assessed as a special tax against the property, and shall be payable at such time as the council may direct; and said tax shall be a lien upon the property until payment thereof, and the city collector shall proceed to collect the said tax in the same manner as other taxes are collected, provided that, if deemed necessary, the city council may proceed in accordance with the provisions of the preceding section 200 as an additional remedy for the collection of the tax herein assessed.

Section 202.

That in addition to the power and authority granted to the city council to collect said assessments as taxes, as aforesaid, they shall have the further and additional remedy of instituting suit, in the corporate name, in any court having jurisdiction, for the recovery against any owner of said property, for the amount due for any such work so made as aforesaid, and the city council shall provide, by resolution or ordinance, under the provisions of this act, for carrying out and executing the powers in this title conferred; and may adopt such resolutions, and enact such ordinances, and make such rules and regulations as they may deem necessary therefor.

Section 203.

Whenever the city council shall deem it necessary to take private property for the use of the city such property may be taken for such purpose by making just compensation to the owner thereof. If the amount of such compensation cannot be agreed upon, it shall be the duty of the city council to cause to be stated in writing the particular property required, the name of the owner and his residence, if known, and file the same with the city clerk. Thereafter the city clerk shall notify the owner or agent, if known, of the filing of such statement. The damage to accrue to the owner by reason of such condemnation, shall be assessed by three disinterested freeholders of the city, one to be selected by the owner of the property, one to be selected by the mayor, the third to be selected by the two thus appointed, who after being duly sworn to perform the duties of their appointment with fidelity and impartiality, shall assess the damages to accrue by reason of such condemnation. In the event that the owner of the property shall fail to appoint the commissioner hereinbefore provided for, within ten days from the service of the notice of the city clerk, the mayor shall appoint such commissioner. In the event that the two commissioners cannot agree upon the selection of the third, then the county judge, on application, shall appoint the said commissioner. The city council shall provide, by ordinance, for the service of the notice hereinbefore provided for, and shall also provide the method of assessing the damages to accrue to the owner of the property.

Section 2. The fact that it is important to the interest of the general public of said city that the changes in the charter of said city made by this act go into effect immediately creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity which requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

No. 4.

An Act for the relief of W. J. Salyer, and to validate donation warrant No. 509, and the survey made by virtue thereof, issued to G. W. Hockley, Secretary of War, on August 14th, 1838, for 640 acres of land to John Sharp, the said Salyer being now the owner of said certificate.

Whereas, the land certificate issued to John Sharp for 640 acres of land, on the 14th day of August, 1838, by the Secretary of War, was by omission not presented for approval to the Commissioner of Claims as required by law, said certificate being now in good faith located in Williamson county, Texas.

Section 1. Therefore be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That said land certificate issued to the said Sharp as aforesaid, be and the same is hereby validated and declared a legal certificate, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby required to issue a patent by virtue of any location made by said certificate.

An Act for the Relief of William S. Boothe, S. F. Grimes and the heirs of Henry Leftridge deceased.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Comptroller of the State of Texas is hereby authorized and required to issue his warrant in favor of William S. Boothe, S. F. Grimes, both of DeWitt county, and the heirs of Henry Leftridge, deceased, on the Treasurer of the State of Texas, for the sum of five hundred and forty-one dollars, which sum of money was deposited in the Treasury of the State by M. G. Jacobs, as administrator of the estate of James Swindells (supposed to be deceased) on the 22nd day of December, 1875, and which money is now held in the treasury to the credit of "settlement of estates" accounts.

No. 6.

An Act for the relief of Z. C. Collier, Thomas Collier and Wm. Ramer.

Whereas, The Commissioner of the General Land Office, by mistake, issued patents on valid land certificates as follows:

Patent No. 575, vol. 24, for 640 acres of land.

Patent No. 574, vol. 24, for 640 acres of land.

Patent No. 573, vol. 24, for 640 acres of land. (Said patents dated September 11th, 1876.)

Patent No. 611, vol 24, for 640 acres of land, dated September 14th, 1876.

Patent No. 55, vol. 25, for 640 acres of land, dated September 12th, 1876.

Patent No. 83, vol. 25, for 640 acres of land, dated September 14th, 1876.

Patent No. 85, vol. 25, for 640 acres of land, dated September 15th, 1876.

Patent No. 59, vol. 25, for 640 acres of land, dated September 12th, 1876.

And whereas, said patents are in conflict with older titles; and whereas Z. C. Collier is the lawful owner of all rights acquired by two of said patents, and Thomas Collier is the lawful owner of all rights acquired by five of said patents, and Wm. Ramer is the lawful owner of all rights acquired by two of said patents; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the said Z. C. Collier, Thomas Collier and Wm. Ramer may present to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, the patents aforesaid for cancellation, and the said Commissioner of the General Land Office shall cancel said patents, and upon the cancellation of said patents, the Commissioner of the General Land Office is required and directed to issue to the owner or owners of said patents, a land certificate for 640 acres of land for each patent so cancelled; provided that if a sufficient quantity of the public domain for the location of said certificates cannot be found, the said parties shall have no further claim against the State by reason of anything contained in this act.

Section 2. The land certificates issued under the provisions of section 1, of this act may be filed and located upon any of the unlocated public domain of the State of Texas, and no charge shall be made for the issuance of patents to land located by virtue of said certificates.

Section 3. When any survey or location shall be made by virtue of the certificates aforesaid, and there can not be obtained at that place sufficient vacant land to satisfy said certificates or the unlocated balance of said certificates, then the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall issue, on demand, to the owner or holder of said certificates or unlocated balance, a certificate for the unlocated balance thereof, which may be located, surveyed and patented as provided for the certificates aforesaid.

Section 4. The holder or owner of any certificate or unlocated balance, issued by virtue of this act, shall locate a corresponding quantity of land as called for in said certificate or unlocated balance, for the benefit of the permanent school fund before said land located by virtue of said certificate shall be patented.

Section 5. The rapid diminution of the public domain of the State of Texas creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

NOTE.—The foregoing bill was presented to the Governor on the _____ day of March for his approval, but was not approved by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the Constitution and thereupon became a law without his signature.

No. 10.

An Act amendatory of and supplementary to the several acts incorporating the city of Dallas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That sections 2, 3, 7, 11, 20, 58, 59, 78, 79, 82, 96, 109, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 169, 170, 171, 174, 188, 190, 199, 204, 209 and 211, of the act to incorporate the city of Dallas approved August 9 1876, and any and all amendments to said sections by the amendatory acts of July 9th, 1879, April 5th, 1881, and March 31st, 1883, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 2. That the boundaries of the corporation of Dallas shall be as follows: Beginning at the present initial point on the Trinity river midway between Main and Commerce streets; thence down said river, with its meanders, to the present southwest corner, which is three-fourths of a mile south of a line drawn east and west from said initial point; thence east with the present south boundary line to the present southeast corner of the corporation, which corner is one and a half miles east of a line drawn south from said initial point; thence north with the present east boundary, one and a half miles, to the present northeast corner of the corporation; thence northwest to the northwest line of San Jacinto street; thence southwest with said line to the northeast line of Pavilion street; thence northwest with said line to the northwest line of Ross street; thence southwest with said line to the northeast line of Allen street; thence northwest with said line to the northwest line of Flora street; thence southwest with said line to the northeast line of Ball street; thence northwest with said line to the northwest line of Cochran street, as shown on the city map; thence southwest with said line to the northeast line of Pearl street; thence northwest with said line to the west line of McKinney avenue; thence southerly with said line to the north line of Harwood or Clark street; thence west with said line, being the present boundary, 679 feet, more or less, to the northeast line of west Masten street; thence northwest with said line, being the present boundary, 808 feet more or less, to the northwest line of Payne street; thence southwest with said line, and in that course, being the present boundary, and including the land conveyed by John W. Payne and wife as a part of said street, 1730 feet more or less, to the original north line of the corporation; thence west with said line to the original northwest corner of the corporation, on the Trinity river; thence down said river, with it meanders, to the beginning.

Section 3. That any territory adjoining the present or future boundaries of said corporation may, from time to time, in any size or shape desired, be admitted thereto, and become a part thereof, on application made or written consent given, to the council by the owner or owners of the land, or, as the case may be, by a majority of the legal voters resident on the land sought to be added. In all such cases the territory so added shall be described by metes and bounds in an ordinance accepting, assenting to and adding the same to the municipal corporation; and thereafter, the inhabitants such added territory shall, in all respects, be on an equal footing with the inhabitants of the original municipal territory. Provided, that this section shall not apply to any part of the territory of the town of East Dallas, which shall only be added by a majority vote of the inhabitants thereof in the manner prescribed by law.

Section 4. The municipal government of the city of Dallas shall consist of a city council composed of the mayor and two aldermen from each ward. A majority of the aldermen shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as they may prescribe. At called meetings, or meetings for the imposition of taxes two-thirds of a full board shall be required. The other officers of the corporation shall be a city secretary, treasurer, assessor and collector, a city attorney, a city engineer, a city marshal, a city superintendent of water works, a health officer, and street superintendent, and such other officers and agents as the city council may hereafter create, all of whom shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city of Dallas, as now provided by the city charter, except the city secretary and city treasurer, who shall be elected by the city council at the first regular meeting in May, 1886, and every two years thereafter.

Section 5. That every ordinance passed by council shall be enrolled by the secretary within the next succeeding two days. It shall then be carefully compared with the original bill and all amendments, if any, by at least one member of such committee as may be charged with that duty by the council. If errors exist, they shall be corrected. If no errors exist, or, if found, then, after their correction, the member making the comparison, shall endorse on the margin the words, "correctly enrolled, this day of 18....," and subscribe his name thereto; whereupon he shall immediately deliver the same to the mayor for his consideration. If the mayor approve the same, it shall become a law. If he fail to approve, or object to same, within three days, exclusive of the day of presentation, and Sunday, should that day intervene, the same shall become a law without his signature. But if, within said time, he shall veto the same, presenting his objections to the council, if in session, otherwise filing the same with the secretary, then, on the next meeting of the council, in regular or adjourned session, after reading the objections of the mayor, the bill or measure vetoed shall stand as reconsidered; whereupon, if passed by a majority of the aldermen present, voting by ayes and nays, and entered on the journal, it shall become a law; or, in the discretion of the council, it may be altered or amended and passed and again submitted to the mayor as an original bill for his approval.

Section 6. That all ordinances, when passed, shall be published one time under the general caption of "City Laws," and printed in clear and legible style in such newspaper of the city as may annually, at the last regular meeting of the council in May, after at least five days public notice for bids, be awarded the contract therefor. Each ordinance shall take effect at such time as in it may be stated; but, if no such time be named, it shall take effect from and after the day of its publication.

Section 7. That the council shall have the power to acquire, with or without the municipal limits, within a radius of five miles from the intersection of Main and Harwood streets, either by purchase, donation, bequest, condemnation or otherwise, suitable grounds for waterworks, public parks, hospitals, cemeteries, house of correction or reform, or both, quarantine, asylums, dumping grounds, or other municipal necessity to the health and well being of the city; and also, the right of way to any and all such places, whether heretofore or hereafter acquired. When it may become necessary to condemn land, or the right of way for any such purpose, if beyond or outside the municipal limits, it shall be done under the State law in force at the time governing the condemnation of land for depot purposes and right of way for railroads, the mayor of the city, under direction of the council, acting in behalf of the corporation. If such land and rights of way be within the municipal limits, the same shall be condemned, when necessary, in the same manner as is by this act provided for the condemnation of land for opening, widening, or extending streets, avenues or other highways. The municipal authorities of the city shall have the power to adopt all necessary means for the police, protection, peace, good order, improvement and use of the same; provided, that no such dumping ground shall be purchased or used on or nearer any public highway than four hundred feet; and, provided further, that all filth and offal removed from the city to such dumping ground shall be either burned or buried.

Section 8. That the council shall have the power to remove any officer of the corporation, after due notice and fair hearing, for incompetency, gross neglect of duty, bribery, corruption, malconduct, malfeasance, or habitual drunkenness. An alderman after like notice and hearing, for either or any of said causes, may be expelled by a vote of two-thirds of the whole number of aldermen, taken by ayes and nays, and entered on the journals. When sitting on the trial of an officer, each alderman shall be under oath or affirmation, to be administered by the mayor, to hear and determine the case without prejudice, partiality, favor or affection. The vote on removal shall be taken by ayes and nays, and entered on the journals; and if two-thirds of the whole number of aldermen vote for such removal, the officer shall thereby stand removed, and no longer exercise the functions of the office.

Section 9. That, in accordance with section ten, article eleven, of the State Constitution, the council may levy a special tax for one or more years for the purchase of ground, erection of buildings, and the support and maintenance of a seminary, academy, or high school, in connection with the public free schools of the city. The council may, also, when deemed necessary, from time to time, levy a special tax in accordance with the State law, for the purpose of erecting additional public school houses, or for enlarging or repairing those already existing, as may be deemed best. The funds so raised shall be appropriated exclusively for the purposes named, including the purchase of ground when necessary, and shall be diverted to no other purpose. But the aggregate tax levied for either or all of said purposes in any one year shall never exceed one-fourth of one per cent. ad valorem, on the taxable property, real and personal, within the municipality. Nor shall such tax be levied until the question shall have been submitted to vote at a special or general election for that purpose, and approved by those entitled to vote thereon in the manner provided by the Constitution of the State. Such election shall be ordered by resolution of the council as in other cases of special elections.

Section 10. That the city council shall have the power to appropriate private property for the purpose of opening, extending or widening streets, avenues, alleys, or other highways, within the limits of the corporation; but no such property shall be so appropriated or used without the consent of the owner or owners, until the same shall have been paid for. The council, for any such purpose, may acquire land by agreement to be affected through any person designated by the council, and reported by such person to the council for its approval or disapproval, or for any modification deemed necessary by the council, which, when made, shall be subject to the approval of the owner or owners of the land sought to be appropriated. When such an agreement cannot be made, the land desired may be condemned for such public use by a board of six disinterested appraisers, each of whom shall be a freeholder and legal voter in the city, and shall take an oath, to be administered by the mayor, or any alderman of the city "to determine the value of the land in question without prejudice or partiality." The measure of damages shall be the actual value of the ground appropriated. To organize such board of appraisers, the mayor shall cause to be summoned twelve persons, qualified as aforesaid, and fix the time and place of their meeting, giving notice to the owner or owners of the lot or parcels of land sought to be condemned, or his, her or their agent or attorney, if resident of the city or county of Dallas, or, if non-resident, and the resident of the party be known, then such notice shall be sent by mail, taking the postmaster's receipt therefor. The engineer shall immediately make, for the appraisers, and deliver to them at the time of their meeting, a map of the ground sought to be appropriated, showing, also, the ground to be affected thereby, and shall attend them in person, if desired by them, to furnish any other information. When the persons summoned shall meet, the mayor, in behalf of the city, shall select three of the number, and the other party or parties, or his, her or their agent or attorney, three others; and the six, thus chosen, shall constitute the board of appraisers. But if the owner or owners, his, her or their agent or attorney, fails or refuses to make such selection, or cannot be found, then the mayor shall select by lot six of the twelve to serve as such appraisers. A majority of the appraisers agreeing shall be competent to make the award; but should they be equally divided, the six shall select as an umpire a seventh man, possessing the same qualifications, and to be sworn in the same manner, as themselves, when a majority of the seven shall be competent to make the award. Their report, signed by those concurring, shall be sealed, indorsed, "Award of Appraisers," addressed to the council, and delivered to the mayor, and shall be opened at the next meeting of the council, whether in regular, adjourned or called session, for its approval or rejection. The council shall tax the cost of opening, widening or extending streets, avenues or other highways against the lot or lots, parcel or parcels of ground in the immediate vicinity specially benefited, or enhanced in value thereby, and the amount of such benefits as to such lot or parcel of ground taxed shall be determined at the same time, in the same manner and by the same appraisers making the assessment of damages in the corresponding case of condemnation; or the council may, when deemed just, tax a part of such cost to the respective lots or parcels of ground so benefited, and pay the remainder out of the city treasury. By ordinance, in each such case, before the action of the appraisers, the council shall determine and set forth, whether the whole or a part, and if part, what portion of the cost shall be taxed against the grounds to be benefited by the opening, widening or extending or either, of the streets, avenues or other highway involved, and a copy of such ordinance, setting forth such facts, and describing by metes and bounds the ground proposed to be appropriated for such purpose, shall be delivered to the appraisers for their information and government. Their report and assessment of such benefits shall be made conjointly with that on the condemnation of the ground. Such assessment of benefits, against each lot or parcel of ground, when approved by ordinance of the council, shall by virtue of such ordinance, be and constitute a special tax against each lot or parcel respectively constituting a lien thereon, and shall be collected as other taxes, excepting that the ground may be sold therefor at such time, not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after becoming delinquent, as may be provided in said ordinance; and all such taxes shall become due and payable thirty days after the levy so made by such ordinance. The assessor and collector, in case of the sale of such ground, shall execute and deliver to the purchaser such deed as is required by the State law in like cases; and, in all subsequent proceedings on the subject matter the law of the State in force at the time, so far as applicable, shall govern. Alleys through blocks shall be opened alone at the cost of the owners of ground in each respective block in such mode as the council may provide; and, for that purpose, the right of way may be condemned in the same manner as for opening, widening or extending streets, avenues and other highways.

Section 11. That the fiscal year of the municipality shall begin and end annually at twelve o'clock (noon) on the third Monday in April, and each year shall be designated by the year in which it begins. The council, not later than the twentieth of May, in the beginning of each fiscal year, shall examine the assessment rolls, and levy the annual tax for such year; but special taxes allowed by law may be levied, assessed and collected at such time as the council may in each case, provide.

Section 12. That the city council shall have the power to fix the compensation of all city officers, and to regulate the fees of all jurors, witnesses and others who render services under the charter and ordinance of said city. Whenever the council shall fix the compensation to be paid any officer, whether elected by the people or by the council, they shall make the same payable monthly out of the city treasury. No officers' salary shall be fixed at a sum to exceed fifteen hundred dollars per annum, except the salary of assessor and collector, which shall not exceed three thousand dollars per annum; provided, that the compensation of no officer of the corporation shall be diminished during his term of office.

Section 13. That the council shall have the power to direct and control the laying and construction of street railways, or horse railroads in the streets, avenues, highways and alleys of the city, and to require compensation for their right of way over said highways, and to require such railroads, or railways, and all parts thereof, to be so constructed, laid, graded and kept in repair as to interfere as little as possible with ordinary travel and use of the streets, avenues and alleys, and require the space between the rails to be macadamized or paved and kept in repair by the persons or corporations operating or owning the same, as the railways beyond such limits may be macadamized or paved. The city council shall have power to levy and collect the ordinary municipal taxes upon the roadbed, and all property of street railroads in said city, and in addition thereto the council shall power to levy and collect occupation or license taxes on each car used on such roads. Provided, that such corporation tax shall not exceed the one-half of the amount levied upon such cars by the State for the same year; and, if no such occupation tax is levied by the State, then none shall be levied by the city of Dallas. The city council shall have the right to restrain the rate of speed of all railways and street railroads in the city limits so as not to exceed seven miles per hour, and to compel said street railroads to supply ample accommodations for the safety and convenience of the public, and may enforce the regulations by proper ordinances with suitable penalties for their violation.

Section 14. That the city council shall have the power to pass all ordinances and adopt all resolutions, rules and police regulations not contrary to the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas and necessary for the order and good government of the city or the trade, commerce and health thereof, or that may be necessary and proper to carry into effect all powers vested by the charter and amendments thereto, and to enforce all such ordinances, resolutions, rules and regulations, and punish violations thereof by fines, imprisonment, or either, or both, or by work on the streets, or other public works as may be required by ordinance and the judgment of the court; and for any fine, penalty and costs imposed by the mayor or recorder, executions may issue to collect such fines and costs, to be levied and executed in the same manner that executions are from justice of the peace courts. The same shall be issued by the mayor or recorder to the marshal, who, in levying on property and selling, shall have like power and authority as the sheriff of the county in executions issued from the district, or the county, or the justice of the peace courts; and the laws of the State, so far as applicable, shall apply to and be in full force and effect as to the executions issued from the mayor's or recorder's court. Provided, that whenever the courts of the State and the city courts have concurrent jurisdiction of an offense, the court which first acquires jurisdiction shall have the exclusive jurisdiction of such cause.

Section 15. That the city council shall have power by ordinance to cause to be graded, paved, macadamized, graveled, or otherwise constructed, improved, or repaired, all streets, sidewalks, alleys and public highways, including cross streets in the city limits, at such times, to such an extent and out of such material and under such regulations as the city council may provide by ordinance. The owners of property, fronting or abutting on any street so improved shall pay pro rata the costs of two-thirds of such improvements, according to the number of front or abutting feet; and the city shall pay the other third. Provided, that when any person or corporation owns or runs a street or horse railway on such street, avenue or alley, such person or corporation shall pay for paving of that part of the street between the rails of such street railway, and the owners of fronting or abutting property on such street shall each be relieved of this pro rata of such sum so paid by the owner or owners of such railway. The city council shall have improved in the same manner as the rest of the streets all the intersections of streets when they cross the streets so improved, and to the middle of the street where another street enters, but does not cross the street being so improved. The improvement of intersections and abutments of other streets, to be paid for out of the general fund, except that portion of said improvement which may be occupied or used by said railways or street railroads which must be paid for as herein above provided for other portions of said roads, by the persons or corporations owning or operating the same. Whenever the city council determine, by ordinance, that such work shall be done, and the manner and extent of the same, they shall advertise for bids, giving the plans, specifications and extent of the improvement. The work shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder in the discretion of the city council, and with such bond as the council may determine. Said council shall levy a special tax on the property fronting or abutting on said street so improved pro rata according to the number of feet of front or abutment; and when railways or street railroads are operated on a street so improved the council shall levy a special tax upon the roadbed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights and franchises of such roads according to the pro rata share of expense of such improvement that may be due from said roads for paving the space between their rails. Said tax shall be levied after contract is let, and the time of payment of the same, and when it shall become delinquent shall be specified by ordinance. Said tax shall be used for the payment of such improvement, shall be a lien from the time of levy, and shall be enforced as the collection of other taxes by advertisement and sale of the property, rights and franchises levied upon; provided, it shall not be necessary to sell at the same time as for other delinquent ad valorem taxes. If said special taxes be not paid in full in ten days from the completion of said work and levy of the special tax, then the assessor and collector shall proceed at once to advertise and sell said property for the special tax due thereon, giving the same notice, and executing similar deed as is given when property is sold by city for ad valorem taxes. Provided, the city council may, in its discretion, make the special paving tax delinquent, as follows: One-fourth of the total amount of levy to be due in thirty days, and delinquent in sixty days after levy, one-fourth to be due and delinquent in one year from the date of levy, one-fourth in two years and one-fourth of the entire levy due and delinquent in three years from the date of the levy of said tax; said tax to be levied and collected in the same manner as to heretofore provided, and to be a lien on all property against which it is levied.

Section 16. That owing to the near approach of the annual election in the municipal corporation an imperative necessity exists for suspending the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that the same should take effect from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

I hereby certify that H. B. No. 391 originated in the House and passed the same March 14th, 1885, by a two-thirds vote, ayes 78.

A. D. SADLER,
Chief Clerk House of Representatives.

I hereby certify that H. B. No. 391 passed the Senate March 23d, 1885, by ayes 23, nays none.

WM. NEAL RAMEY,
Secretary of the Senate.

NOTE.—The foregoing bill was presented to the Governor for his approval March 28, A. D. 1885, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto, within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and therefore it became a law without his signature.

J. W. BAINES,
Secretary of State.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, {
Department of State. }

I, J. W. Baines, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, do certify that I have carefully compared the foregoing laws, passed by the Nineteenth Legislature of the State of Texas, at its regular session, with the original enrolled bills now on file in this Department, and that they are true copies thereof; and I further certify that said Nineteenth Legislature convened in Austin, January 13, 1885, and adjourned March 31, 1885.

[L. S.] In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto signed my name, and impressed hereon the seal of State, at Austin, this, April 20, A. D. 1885.

J. W. BAINES,
Secretary of State.

GENERAL LAWS

OF

THE STATE OF TEXAS

PASSED AT THE

REGULAR SESSION OF THE TWENTIETH LEGISLATURE

CONVENED

VOLUME 21

GENERAL LAWS OF TEXAS.

TWENTIETH LEGISLATURE, 1887.

APPROPRIATION FOR MILEAGE AND PER DIEM PAY OF OFFICERS, MEMBERS AND EMPLOYEES.

Sec.

1. $30,000.00, per diem pay of members, etc., of the Twentieth Legislature.

Sec.

2. Manner of auditing claims against this appropriation.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 1.—[S. H. B. No. 4.] An Act making an appropriation for the mileage and per diem pay of members and the per diem pay of the officers and employes of the Twentieth Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of eighty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of mileage and per diem pay of members and per diem pay of officers and employes of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. That the certificate of the Secretary of the Senate, approved by the President thereof, or of the Chief Clerk of the House, approved by the Speaker thereof, shall be sufficient evidence to the Comptroller upon which he shall audit the claims and issue his warrants upon the Treasurer for the respective amounts.

Sec. 3. And whereas, the Twentieth Legislature, for the payment of the officers, members, and employes of which this law is enacted, is now in session, and public policy requires their payment; therefore, an imperative public necessity exists that the rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 98 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 24 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, January 18, 1887.

APPROPRIATION TO DEFRAY CONTINGENT EXPENSES.

Sec.

1. $30,000 appropriated to defray expenses of Twentieth Legislature.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 2.—[S. H. B. No. 5.] An Act making an appropriation to defray the contingent expenses of the Twentieth Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of thirty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the contingent expenses of the Twentieth Legislature; that (except in cases of accounts for printing done and stationery furnished) the certificate of the chairman of the Committee on Contingent Expenses that an account has been examined and approved by said committee, and countersigned by the President of the Senate, or the Speaker of the House, as the case may be, shall be sufficient authority to authorize and require the Comptroller of Public Accounts to draw his warrant on the State Treasurer for the payment of any claim against said fund. The accounts for printing and stationery shall take the course prescribed by the Revised Statutes.

Sec. 2. Whereas, it is of sufficient public importance that the contingent expenses of the Legislature be promptly paid, in order that the material furnished and the labor performed may be procured at cash prices, and the want of such appropriation to pay the contingent expenses of the Twentieth Legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house should be suspended and this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 100 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 20 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, January 22, 1887.

RELIEF OF CITIZENS SUFFERING BY REASON OF DROUTH.

Art.

1. Appropriates $100,000 for relief of sufferers in the drouth-stricken district.
2. Provides for the appointment, and prescribes the duties of relief committee.
3. Provides for payment of committees' drafts by warrant of Comptroller—Duties of county treasurer.
4. Provides for purchase and distribution of corn by commissioners court.

Art.

5. Prescribes duties of said court with respect to distribution of supplies—Limits relief to those not able to buy bread.
6. Defines a quorum of committee, and prescribes manner of immediate relief.
7. Relief Committee to procure information, and make report.
8. Mileage and per diem pay of members of said Committee.
9. Prescribes oath of members of the Committee.
10. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 3.—[S. S. B. No. 74.] An Act to be entitled An Act to provide for the relief of citizens of Texas suffering by reason of the drouth, to make an appropriation therefor, and to prescribe the manner in which it shall be distributed.

Article 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whereas a long and protracted drouth, beginning in June, A. D. 1885, and continuing with but little intermission up to the present time, has devas[ta]ted a large portion of the State of Texas, whereby many thousands of her citizens are destitute of food, and a great public calamity now exists by reason of said drouth, that the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, out of any funds now in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, be and the same is hereby set aside and appropriated for the immediate relief of those suffering from destitution by reason of said drouth.

Art. 2. That the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall immediately appoint a committee of three disinterested citizens of the State of Texas, to be known as the Drouth Relief Committee, whose duty it shall be to immediately visit the portions of this State where such destitution prevails, and ascertain the extent of such destitution caused by said drouth; and should said committee upon investigation be satisfied that the people of any county are in destitute circumstances by reason of said drouth, said committee shall draw a draft on the State of Texas, in favor of the treasurer of such county, for such sum of money as in the judgment of said committee shall be adequate and proper for the immediate relief of the destitute of such county: Provided, That drafts drawn by the committee shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum herein appropriated.

Art. 3. That said drafts so drawn by said committee shall be endorsed by the Governor, and a warrant issued thereon by the Comptroller to the State Treasurer, and he shall pay the same to the county treasurer in whose favor they are severally drawn, out of the funds hereinbefore mentioned as set aside for the relief of those suffering from destitution by reason of said drouth, and the county treasurers of such counties shall designate the money so received by them as the relief fund of the county, and shall pay out the same under the order of the commissioners courts of their several counties, as hereinafter provided: Provided, however, That county treasurer shall receive no commissions for receiving or paying out said money: And provided further, That the county treasurer shall execute a bond, payable to the county judge, to be approved by said county judge, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, in double the amount to be paid into his hands, conditioned that he will faithfully account for and disburse said money.

Art. 4. The commissioners court of any county receiving said moneys shall immediately purchase corn, flour, or meal, at such places and in such manner as to said court may seem proper, and shall distribute the same as a donation to the destitute citizens of their several counties as their immediate necessities may demand.

Art. 5. The commissioners court purchasing provisions under the preceding article shall give orders on the county treasurer of said county for money to pay for the same, and in distributing said provisions shall give no aid to any persons who have or are able to buy bread for themselves and shall require affidavits to be made by two credible persons, one of whom may be the party for whom the aid is sought, showing such inability to purchase said food, and that such inability was occasioned by the drouth, and further showing such persons for whom aid is solicited to have been bona fide citizens of the county in which they then reside for more than three months next preceding the time of making such application.

Art. 6. Two members of said drouth relief committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business in this behalf. Said committee shall not be required to visit all of the counties that are suffering from destitution caused by said drouth before furnishing relief, but may in their discretion draw drafts for the relief of the people of the counties in succession as visited by them, so as to give them immediate relief, having due regard for the probable number of people to be relieved and the amount herein appropriated to be drawn from.

Art. 7. Said drouth relief committee shall procure information concerning the extent of said drouth and the destitution caused thereby, and make a full report of the same with such suggestions as to them may seem proper, together with a full report of their action, to this Legislature, by or before the 15th of March, 1887.

Art. 8. The members of said drouth relief committee shall each receive the sum of five dollars per day for each day actually engaged in the discharge of their duties as required by this act, and all actual necessary expenses incurred by them: Provided, That no members of said committee shall receive pay for more than forty days services, an accurate itemized account of which said actual necessary expenses and per diem services of each member shall be made under oath by said members, approved by the Governor, and presented to the Comptroller of the State of Texas, who shall thereupon issue a warrant for the same, and the State Treasurer shall pay the same out of the said sum set aside for the immediate relief of those suffering by reason of said drouth.

Art. 9. Each member of the drouth relief committee, before entering upon the discharge of his duties as such, shall take and subscribe an oath to faithfully and impartially discharge his duties as a member of the drouth relief committee, which said oath shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

Art. 10. Whereas great distress, owing to said destitution by said drouth, now prevails in a large portion of this State, therefore there is an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and an emergency exists requiring this act to be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate and passed the same by a vote of 21 yeas, 8 nays; and passed the House by a vote of 75 yeas, 14 nays.]

Approved, January 31, 1867.

BREWSTER COUNTY—CREATION AND ORGANIZATION.

Sec.

1. Creates and prescribes boundaries of Brewster County.
2. Prescribes how this county shall be organized.
3. Provides for the levy of a tax by this county to pay its pro rata share of Presidio County debts.

Sec.

4. Attaches this county to the Thirty-fourth Judicial, Eleventh Congressional, Twenty-eighth Senatorial and Eightieth Representative Districts.
5. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 4.—[S. H. B. No. 23.] An Act to create the County Brewster, and to provide for its organization.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a new county, to be called Brewster County, is hereby created out of the following portions of Presidio County, to-wit: Beginning at the southwest corner of section 10, in block WJG 5, in Presidio County; thence south 58 miles, more or less, to a point $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles N. and $\frac{1}{2}$ mile east of N. W. corner of survey 459 located by virtue of certificate number 1118 issued to the G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co.; thence east 30 miles; thence north to Pecos County line; thence N. W. along said line to a point due north of Leoncito Springs; thence in a S. westerly course to a point six miles due east of the beginning; thence west to the place of beginning.

Sec 2. That J. M. Gaddes, T. S. Brockenbrow and C. E. Way are hereby appointed a committee for the purpose of organizing said county of Brewster; and they shall within ten days after the passage of this act lay off said county into four commissioners precincts, and convenient justices precincts, not to exceed eight in number; also convenient voting precincts for the election of county officers, and designate places in each of said precincts where elections shall be held. Said committee shall within ten days thereafter order an election to be held for county officers and for the selections of a county seat for said county; and they shall appoint presiding officers of election for each voting precinct as prescribed by law in other cases. The election returns shall be made to said committee, who shall count the vote and issue certificates of election to the persons elected, and shall approve the bonds of such officers, and administer to them the oath of office. Said committee shall keep a record of all its proceedings, and file the same in the office of the county clerk, when elected, who shall record the same. That any two of said committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and any one of said committees shall have power to administer the oath of office to the officers elected.

Sec. 3. That the new county shall pay a pro rata share of the existing legal debts of the county from which it is taken, and there shall be set apart so much of the county taxes levied and collected on the property within said new county as shall be sufficient to speedily liquidate said existing debts, if any, and the said pro rata to be based upon the value of the property for each year of the existence of said debts, to be determined from the tax rolls of said county as made by the board of equalization.

Sec. 4. That the county of Brewster is hereby attached to the Thirty-fourth Judicial District for judicial purposes, to the Eleventh Congressional, Twenty-eighth Senatorial, and Eightieth Representative Districts for purposes of representation.

Sec. 5. Whereas, the County Commissioners Court of Presidio County is about to levy taxes for the present year, therefore an emergency exists, and an imperative public necessity requiring that the rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 93 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 27 yeas, no nays.]
Approved, February 2, 1887.

AFFIDAVITS, OATHS, AND AFFIRMATIONS.

Sec. 1. By what officers oaths, etc., may be administered.

CHAP. 5.—[S. B. No. 21.] An Act to amend An Act to amend Article 4, Title 2, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, approved March 31, 1885, concerning the administration of affidavits, oaths, and affirmations.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act to amend An Act to amend Article 4, Title 2, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, approved March 31, 1885, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows, to-wit: Article 4. All oaths, affidavits, or affirmations necessary or required by law, may be administered, and a certificate of the fact given, by any judge or clerk of a court of record, justice of the peace, or by any notary public, within this State.

SPECIAL VENIRE.

Sec. 1. Manner of serving list of jurors on defendants.

CHAP. 6.—[S. B. No. 12.] An Act to amend Article 617, Chapter Two, Code Criminal Procedure of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 617, of Chapter 2, Code of Criminal Procedure, be amended so that the same shall hereafter read as follows:

Article 617. No defendant in a capital case shall be brought to trial until he has had one day's service of a copy of the names of persons summoned under a special venire facias, except where he waives the right, or is on bail; and when such defendant is on bail he shall not be brought to trial until after one day from the time the list of persons so summoned shall have been returned to the clerk of the court in which said prosecution is pending; but the clerk shall furnish the defendant, or his counsel, a list of the persons so summoned, upon their application therefor.

Approved, February 15, 1887.

VETERAN LAND CERTIFICATES.

Sec. 1. Repeals Chapter XLV, General Laws Seventeenth Legislature, approved March 15, 1881, granting certificates of 1280 acres to veterans, etc.

CHAP. 7.—[S. B. No. 36.] An Act to repeal Chapter Forty-five of the General Laws of the State of Texas passed by the Seventeenth Legislature of the State of Texas, and approved March 15th, A. D. 1881.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 45 of the General Laws of the State passed by the Seventeenth Legislature of the State of Texas, and approved March 15, 1881, and known as the veteran 1280 acre land certificate act, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Approved, February 15, 1887.

RAILROADS.

Sec.

1. Railway companies may abandon portions of track.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 8.—[S. B. No. 103.] An Act to authorize railway companies to abandon certain portions of their roads near the coast, when their termini are at points where towns being county sites have been destroyed by storms and cyclones.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any railway company in the State of Texas having a terminus on the coast, the said terminus being a county site, and the same having been destroyed by storms and cyclones, and when said county site has been removed back from the coast near the line of said railway, it shall be lawful for said railway company to remove and take up its track from its original terminus on the coast to a point opposite, or near, said new county site: Provided, Said railway company make its terminus at, and build its road to, said new county site.

Sec. 2. This being a matter of great general interest and importance, and there being no law regulating the same, an imperative public necessity exists for its immediate passage; it is therefore enacted that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days before passage be suspended, and this act take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 27 yeas, 1 nay; and passed the House by a vote of 80 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, February 16, 1887.

UNLAWFULLY CARRYING ARMS.

Sec. 1. Enumerates prohibited weapons, and increases punishment for this offense.

CHAP. 9.—[H. B. No. 51.] An Act to amend Article 318, Chapter 4, Title 9, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 318 of the Penal Code shall be amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 318. If any person in this State shall carry on or about his person, saddle, or in his saddlebags, any pistol, dirk, dagger, slung shot, sword cane, spear, or knuckles made of any metal or any hard substance, bowie knife, or any other kind of knife manufactured or sold for purposes of offense or defense, he shall be punished by fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred dollars, and shall be confined in the county jail not less than twenty nor more than sixty days.

Approved, February 24, 1887.

RAPE.

Sec. 1. More fully defines rape.

CHAP. 10.—[H. B. No. 47.]—An Act to amend Article 528, Chapter Seven, Title 15, of the Penal Code.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Title 16, Chapter 7, Article 528, of the Penal Code, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 528. Rape is the carnal knowledge of a woman without her consent, obtained by force, threats, or fraud; or the carnal knowledge of a female under the age of ten years, with or without consent, and with or without the use of force, threats, or fraud; or the carnal knowledge of a woman other than the wife of the person having such carnal knowledge, with or without consent, and with or without force, threats, or fraud, such woman being so mentally diseased at the time as to have no will to oppose the act of carnal knowledge, the person having carnal knowledge of her knowing her to be so mentally diseased.

Approved, February 25, 1887.

SCHOOL LANDS.

Sec.

1. Extends time for payment of principal.

Sec.

2. Saving clause as to interest.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 11.—[H. B. No. 304.] An Act extending for ten years the payment of the principal of the purchase money for lands purchased under the two acts of the Legislature herein named.

Whereas, under an act of the Legislature of this State providing for the sale of State school lands, approved April 24, 1874, and an act of the Legislature of this State providing for the sale of the asylum lands of the State, approved April 25, 1874, many of said lands were sold on a credit of ten years, the principal bearing ten per cent interest per annum; and

Whereas, many of the obligations given for said lands are now about to become due, and said purchase money is bringing to the State a higher rate of interest than can be otherwise obtained for the same sum; and

Whereas, it is to the interest of the State school fund, and other funds to which such lands belong, that the time for the payment of said principal purchase money be extended: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all purchasers of said lands under either of the above recited acts, or their assignees, shall have ten years from the date when their original obligations given for said lands shall have fallen due within which to pay the principal of said obligations and no forfeiture of said lands shall be declared on account of the non-payment of the principal of said obligation until the expiration of ten years from the date of the maturity of the same as originally made.

Sec. 2. Nothing in this act shall be construed to, in any respect, relieve said purchasers from the payment of interest on said lands in the manner or on the terms presented in said original acts, nor to prevent a forfeiture of said lands for a failure to comply with the terms of said original obligations in the payment of interest.

Sec. 3. Whereas, many of said obligations will fall due on the first day of March, 1887, and whereas it is to the interest of the State that said principal sums yet unpaid should be left unpaid so long as the same will bring ten per cent interest, and whereas many of the said purchasers will be compelled to make great sacrifices to secure the money to pay said obligations if compelled to pay the same when due, therefore an imperative public necessity exists for the immediate passage of this bill, and that it take effect from passage; therefore the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days is hereby suspended, and it is enacted that this bill take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 71 yeas, 21 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 23 yeas, 1 nay.]

Approved, February 25, 1887.

NEW COUNTIES CREATED OUT OF TOM GREEN COUNTY.

Sec.

1. Creates six counties out of Tom Green County and declares boundaries, viz.: [a] Ector County, [b] Winkler County, [c] Loving County, [d] Upton County, [e] Crane County, [f] Ward County.
2. Declares in whose honor said counties are named.
3. Attaches Winkler, Loving, and Ward to Reeves County for judicial and other purposes.

Sec.

4. Attaches Ector, Crane, and Upton to Midland County for judicial and other purposes.
5. Expense of surveying lines of new counties, how paid.
6. New counties to pay pro rata share of Tom Green County debts contracted for public buildings.
7. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 12.—[H. B. No. 113.] An Act to divide the western portion of Tom Green County into six new counties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following new counties shall be and are hereby created out of the western portion of Tom Green County, and the boundaries thereof shall be as follows:

[a] The County of Ector: Beginning at the northwest corner of Midland County; running thence south with the line of Midland County 30 miles; thence west 30 miles; thence north 30 miles to the south boundary line of Andrews County; thence east 30 miles with the southern boundary line of Andrews County to the place of beginning.

[b] The County of Winkler: Beginning at the northwest corner of Ector County; thence running south with the west boundary line of Ector County 30 miles; thence west 31 miles; thence north $27\frac{1}{2}$ miles to the south boundary line of New Mexico; thence east with the south boundary line of New Mexico 13 miles to the southeast corner of New Mexico; thence north with the east boundary of New Mexico $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles to the southwest corner of Andrews County; thence east with the south boundary line of Andrews County 18 miles to the place of beginning.

[c] The County of Loving: Commencing at the northwest corner of Winkler County; running thence south with the west boundary line of Winkler County twenty-seven and one-half ($27\frac{1}{2}$) miles; thence due west to the Pecos River; thence northwesterly with the meanderings of the Pecos River to the point at which the south boundary line of New Mexico crosses the Pecos River; thence east with the south boundary line of New Mexico to the place of beginning.

[d] The County of Upton: Commencing at the southeast corner of Midland County, thence west with the south boundary line of Midland County thirty-one $\frac{1}{8}$ miles to the northeast corner of Crane County; thence south thirty-six miles to the north boundary line of Crockett County; thence east with the north boundary line of Crockett County thirty-one $\frac{1}{8}$ miles; thence north thirty-six miles to the place of beginning.

[e] The County of Crane: Commencing at the northwest corner of Upton County; thence running west with the south boundary line of Ector County twenty-six and one-half miles; thence due south to the Pecos river; thence in a southeasterly direction with the meanderings of the river Pecos to a point where the north boundary line of Crockett County touches the Pecos River; thence east with the north boundary line of Crockett County to the southwest corner of Upton County; thence north with the west boundary line of Upton County thirty-six miles to the place of beginning.

[f] The County of Ward: Commencing at the northwest corner of Crane County; thence due west with the south boundary line of Winkler and Loving Counties to the Pecos River; thence in a southeasterly direction with the meanderings of the Pecos River to the southwest corner of Crane County; thence north with the west boundary line of Crane County to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2. [a] The county of Ector is named in honor of General Mat. Ector, commander of Ector's Brigade, and judge of the Court of Appeals of Texas.

[b] The county of Winkler is named in honor of C. M. Winkler, a distinguished statesman, soldier and jurist of Texas.

[c] The county of Loving is named in honor of Oliver Loving, a brave pioneer of West Texas, who fell at the hands of the Indians, in the territory designated by his name.

[d] The county of Upton is named in honor of Colonel John Upton, who was killed at the head of his regiment, gloriously leading the same in the charge at the second battle of Manassas, and his distinguished brother, the Hon. William F. Upton (lately deceased).

[e] The county of Crane is named in honor of William Carey Crane, the author of the Life of General Sam Houston, and twenty-five years president of Baylor University, this State.

[f] The county of Ward is named in honor of Thomas William Ward, a commissioner of the General Land Office, and United States Consul to Panama, under the administration of Buchanan.

Sec. 3. That the counties of Winkler, Loving, and Ward be and the same are hereby attached to the county of Reeves for judicial, surveying, and all other purposes.

Sec. 4. That the counties of Ector, Crane, and Upton be and the same are hereby attached to the County of Midland for judicial, surveying, and all other purposes.

Sec. 5. The expenses of running and marking the lines of the new counties thus to be created by this act shall be paid by the new counties, and each person appointed to run and mark any line or lines of any of the said new counties shall be allowed three dollars per mile for each mile run and designated.

Sec. 6. That the new counties to be created by this act shall pay a pro rata share of the existing debt of the county of Tom Green contracted for public buildings; and there shall be set apart so much of the county tax levied and collected upon the property situated in the portions so taken from the county of Tom Green, annually, as shall be sufficient to speedily liquidate said debt, if any.

Sec. 7. The isolated condition of the people now residing in the new counties created by this act creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 78 yeas, 1 nay; and passed the Senate by a vote of 24 yeas, no nays.]

Approved February 26, 1887.

DEALING IN FUTURES.

Sec.

1. Prescribes the punishment for dealing in futures, etc.
2. Punishment for permitting such business conducted on one's premises.

Sec.

3. Repeals Act to amend Chapter Two, Title II, Penal Code, adding §54a, approved March 31, 1885.

CHAP. 13.—[S. B. No. 7.] An Act to prohibit and punish dealing in futures, and to punish persons for permitting their premises to be used to carry on such business, and to repeal an act entitled "An Act to amend Chapter Two, Title II, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, adding thereto Article 354a," approved March 31st, 1885.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That if any person shall, directly or through an agent or agents, manage or superintend for himself, or shall as agent or representative of any other person, firm or corporation, conduct, carry on or transact any business which is commonly known as dealing in futures, in cotton, grain, lard, any kinds of meats, or agricultural products, or corporation stocks, or shall keep any house, or manage, conduct, carry on or transact any business commonly known as a produce or stock exchange, or bucket shop, where future contracts are bought or sold, with no intention of an actual bona fide delivery of the article or thing so bought or sold, such person, whether acting for himself or for another, as aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, and in addition thereto shall be imprisoned in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than six months: Provided, That each day that such business or house is carried on or kept shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 2. Whoever knowingly permits any such business to be carried on in his building, house, booth, arbor, or erection, of which he is the owner, or has the possession, care, management, or renting, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction fined in any sum not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars. Each day he so permits shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 3. That an act entitled "An act to amend Chapter 2, Title 2, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, adding thereto Article 354a," approved March 31, 1885, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Approved, March '1, 1887.

STAY OF EXECUTION.

Sec. 1. Prescribes oath and bond to stay.

CHAP. 14.—[S. B. No. 31.] An Act to amend Article 1636 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, adopted by the regular session of the Sixteenth Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1636 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas be and the same is hereby amended so that it shall hereafter read as follows, to-wit:

Article 1636. At any time within ten days after the rendition of any judgment in a court of a justice of the peace, such justice may grant a stay of execution thereon for three months from the date of such judgment, if the person against whom such judgment was rendered shall, with one or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the justice, appear before him and acknowledge themselves and each of them bound to the successful party in such judgment for the full amount thereof, with interest and costs, which acknowledgment shall be entered in writing on the docket, and signed by the persons binding themselves as sureties: Provided, No such stay of execution shall be granted unless the party applying therefor shall first file with the justice an affidavit in writing that he has not the money with which to pay such judgment, and that the enforcement of same by execution prior to three months would be a hardship upon him, and would cause a sacrifice of his property which would not likely be caused should said execution be stayed.

Approved, March 1, 1887.

HIRING COUNTY CONVICTS.

Sec. 1. Convicts (misdemeanor) may be hired out or put to work on public roads, etc.

CHAP. 15.—[S. B. No. 45.] An Act to amend an act entitled An Act to amend Article 3602, Chapter 10, Title 71, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, relating to the hiring of county convicts, approved May 4th, 1882.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act entitled An Act to amend Article 3602, Chapter 10, Title 71, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, relating to the hiring of county convicts, approved May 4, 1882, be so amended as to read hereafter as follows:

Article 3602. Any person who may be convicted of a misdemeanor or petty offense, and who shall be committed to jail in default of the payment of the fine and costs adjudged against him, may be worked upon the public roads or upon the county farms of the county in which such conviction is had, or be hired out to any individual, company or corporation within the county of conviction, to remain in said county, and the proceeds of said hiring, when collected, shall be applied, first, to the payment of the costs, and second, to the payment of the fine; and every convict shall be entitled to a credit of twenty-five cents on his fine and costs for each day he may serve under such hiring, including Sunday, and he shall be discharged at any time upon payment of the balance due on his fine and costs or upon the expiration of his term of service, his term of service in no event to be greater than one day for each twenty-five cents of fine and costs: Provided, That in no case shall the counties be responsible to the officers for their costs, and in no case shall such convicts be hired out for a longer period than two years for failure to pay a fine and costs, and on the expiration of said time, unless by his hire such fine and costs have been sooner paid off, said convicts shall be finally discharged.

Approved, March 1, 1887.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY FOR SIXTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Sec.

1. Creates office of District Attorney in Sixth Judicial District.

Sec.

2. Prescribes respective duties of district and county attorneys in said district.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 16.—[S. B. No. 275.] An Act to create the office of District Attorney for the Sixth Judicial District of the State of Texas, and to regulate the respective duties of such District Attorney and of the County Attorneys in said district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the office of District Attorney for the Sixth Judicial District of the State of Texas be and the same is hereby created; and a District Attorney shall be elected for said district at each general election hereafter to be held: Provided, That the Governor shall, immediately after the passage of this act, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint a District Attorney for said district, who shall hold his office until the next general election, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Sec. 2. The District Attorney for said district shall perform all the duties required of that officer by law: Provided, that it shall be the duty of the County Attorneys of the counties composing said district to attend the terms of county and other inferior courts of their respective counties, and to represent the State in all criminal cases under prosecution or examination in such courts, and also to attend the terms of the District Court in their respective counties, and to represent the State therein during the absence of the District Attorney, and to aid the District Attorney when so requested by him. When representing the State alone the County Attorney shall be entitled to receive the fees allowed by law to the District Attorney, and when, at the request of the District Attorney, he shall aid him in the prosecution of any case, he shall receive one-half of the fee allowed by law, and the District Attorney the remainder.

Sec. 3. The fact that the courts of the Sixth Judicial District are now in session for the trial of persons accused of felony, and that public policy demands that the State shall have additional aid in their prosecution, creates an imperative public necessity justifying the suspension of the rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days, and the same is suspended; and said fact also creates an emergency which requires that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 27 yeas, no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 75 yeas, 3 nays.]

Approved, March 4, 1887.

1. Declares the western boundary of Edwards County.
2. Surveyors of Edwards and Val Verde to survey the same.

Sec.

3. Commissioner of the General Land Office to notify the surveyors, etc.
4. Compensation for surveyors.
5. Repealing clause.

CHAP. 17.—[H. B. No. 88.] An Act to establish the western boundary of Edwards County.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the western boundary of Edwards County is hereby established as follows: Commencing at the southwest corner of Edwards County; running thence west to a point intersecting the east line with Val Verde County; thence north on a line with Val Verde County to a point directly west of the north line of Edwards County; thence east to the intersection of the northwest corner of Edwards and Crockett Counties, embracing all that strip of Crockett County left between the county of Edwards and the county of Val Verde, which hereafter shall be included in and comprise the county of Edwards.

Sec. 2. That it shall be the duty of the county surveyors of the counties of Edwards and Val Verde jointly in their official capacity to establish the western boundary of Edwards as designated, and to plot and map out and so permanently establish such boundaries as will be satisfactory to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, under whose authority this work shall be performed, and who upon completion shall notify the judge of the county court of Edwards County.

Sec. 3. That it shall be the duty of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, within thirty days after the passage of this act, and when it shall have become a law, to notify the surveyors of the counties designated to proceed with the work of surveying, locating, and permanently establishing the boundary herein described, by permanent corners, and mapping the same and filing a copy of the maps and other evidences in the General Land Office.

Sec. 4. That the compensation of the surveyors engaged in this work shall be three dollars per mile each, which expense shall be paid by Edwards County.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws conflicting with the provisions herein contained shall be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved, March 4, 1887.

INTIMIDATION.

Sec. 1. Punishment for preventing another from engaging in a lawful employment.

CHAP. 18.—[S. B. No. 51.] An Act to make it penal to prevent or attempt to prevent any person from engaging or remaining in or performing the duties of any lawful employment, and to fix a penalty therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person who shall, by threatening words, or by acts of violence or intimidation, prevent or attempt to prevent another from engaging or remaining in or from performing the duties of any lawful employment, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than five hundred dollars, or by confinement not less than one nor more than six months in the county jail.

Approved, March 8, 1887.

ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.

Sec. 1. Prescribes punishment for cursing or abusing another or a female relative.

CHAP. 19.—[S. B. No. 15.] An Act to make it penal to use language or be guilty of conduct reasonably calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, and to prescribe the punishment therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That if any person shall, in the presence or hearing of another, curse or abuse such person, or use any violently abusive language to such person concerning him or any of his female relatives, under circumstances reasonably calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars.

Approved, March 8, 1887.

HOMICIDE.

Sec. 1. Body of deceased or portions thereof must be identified as the person charged to have been killed.

CHAP. 20.—[S. B. No. 16.] An Act to amend Article 549, Chapter 10, Title 15, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 549, Chapter 10, Title 15, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 549. No person shall be convicted of any grade of homicide unless the body of the deceased, or portions of it, are found and sufficiently identified to establish the fact of the death of the person charged to have been killed.

Approved, March 8, 1887.

CONVERSION OF PROPERTY.

Sec. 1. Constitutes conversion of property by bailee theft.

CHAP. 21.—[S. B. No. 14.] An Act to define and punish the conversion of personal property by hirers, borrowers, and other bailees.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person having possession of personal property of another by virtue of a contract of hiring or borrowing, or other bailment, who shall, without the consent of the owner, fraudulently convert such property to his own use with intent to deprive the owner of the value of the same, shall be guilty of theft, and shall be punished as prescribed in the Penal Code for theft of like property.

Approved, March 8, 1887.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

Sec. 1. Obstructing railway track, displacing switch, etc.

CHAP. 22.—[S. B. No. 73.] An Act to amend Article 678, Chapter 3, Title 17, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 678, Chapter 3, Title 17, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 678. If any person shall wilfully place any obstruction upon the track o. any railroad, or remove any rail therefrom, or displace or interfere with any switch thereof, or in any way injure such road, or shall do any damage to any railroad, locomotive, tender, or car, whereby the life of any person might be endangered, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than two nor more than seven years. If the life of any person be lost by such unlawful act, the offender is guilty of murder.

CHAP. 23.—[H. B. No. 383.] An Act to release certain inhabitants of Sabine Pass City, county of Jefferson, from the payment of taxes assessed and now due for the year A. D. 1886, in consequence of a great public calamity.

Whereas, on the night of 12th day of October, A. D. 1886, there occurred in the town of Sabine Pass City, situated in Jefferson County, State of Texas, a great public calamity, same being a most terrific, terrible and destructive cyclone and flood from the Gulf, such as has never occurred before within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. Within the compass of a few moments the houses and the house furniture of all those mentioned in this act were crushed and swept away. Eighty-six persons were drowned immediately, and a great many seriously wounded or maimed, and the balance barely escaped with their lives. Stock and poultry were destroyed, and, in fact, the town was left a crushed ruin, and the inhabitants since the time of the cyclone and flood, have chiefly lived upon the bounty of the more fortunate and the charity of the country. Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following named inhabitants of said portion of said county, to-wit, of the town of Sabine Pass City, the same being great sufferers from the cyclone and flood, be and they are hereby released from the payment of the several sums named, the same being the amount of State and county taxes assessed against them and now due for the year A. D. 1886, to-wit:

And that the several sums of taxes against the persons respectively be and the same are hereby remitted.

Sec. 2. That the Comptroller of Public Accounts of this State, and the county treasurer and the county commissioners court of Jefferson County, be and they are hereby authorized and required to credit the tax collector of Jefferson County with the several sums herein and hereby released, the said Comptroller to credit him with the several amounts of State tax, and said treasurer and county commissioners court to credit him with the several amounts of county tax in his settlement with him for taxes collected by him for the year 1886, by deducting the same from the aggregate of the tax lists now in his hands for collection for the said year; and said tax collector be and he is hereby relieved from collecting said several sums, or any part thereof, from the said several persons hereby relieved; and if the said tax or any part of the same shall have been collected by the said collector of taxes of Jefferson County, then and in that case the said collector is hereby required to refund such amounts of the said tax to persons having paid the same.

Sec. 3. An imperative necessity and emergency exists which requires the immediate passage and taking effect of this act, as the tax collector is required by law to collect said several sums of taxes by seizure and levy from said persons if the same be not paid by the first of March, 1887, and the several inhabitants may not in consequence thereof be benefited by this act, as intended, and which creates an imperative public necessity of the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires that all bills be read on three several days; said rule is therefore suspended; and an emergency exists that this act should take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 81 yeas, 1 nay; and passed the Senate by a vote of 27 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, March 8, 1887.

STATEMENT OF FACTS.

Sec. 1. How filed after time prescribed in Arts. 1377, 1378, and 1379, of Revised Statutes.

CHAP. 24.—[S. B. No. 40.] An Act to amend Chapter 18 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, providing for statement of facts in certain events, by adding thereto Article 1379a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 18 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be and the same is hereby amended by adding thereto an article to be known as Article 1379a, to read as follows:

Article 1379a. Whenever a statement of facts shall have been filed after the times respectively prescribed in the preceding Articles 1377, 1378, and 1379 of this chapter, and the party tendering or filing the same shall show to the satisfaction of the Supreme Court or Court of Appeals that he has used due diligence to obtain the approval and signature of the judge thereto, and to file the same within the time in this chapter prescribed for filing the same, and that his failure to file the same within said time is not due to the fault or laches of said party or his attorney, and that such failure was the result of causes beyond his control, the Supreme Court or Court of Appeals shall permit said statement of facts to remain as part of the record, and consider the same in the hearing and adjudication of said cause the same as if said statement of facts had been filed in time.

Approved, March 8, 1887.

RAILROADS—LABORER'S LIEN.

Sec. 1. Provides for prior liens to secure wages of laborers, etc., on railroads.

CHAP. 25.—[H. B. No. 16.] An Act to amend Section 1 of an act entitled An Act to protect mechanics, laborers, and operatives on railroads, against the failure of owners, contractors and sub-contractors or agents to pay their wages when due, and provide a lien for such wages, approved February 18th, 1879.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 1 of an act entitled "An Act to protect mechanics, laborers, and operatives on railroads, against the failure of owners, contractors and sub-contractors or agents to pay their wages when due, and provide a lien for such wages," approved February 18, 1879, be so amended to read hereafter as follows:

Section 1. That all mechanics, laborers, and operatives, who may have performed labor, or worker with tools, teams, or otherwise, in the construction, operation, or repair of any railroad, locomotive, car, or other equipment of a railroad, and to whom wages are due or owing for such work, or for the work of tools or teams thus employed, or for work otherwise performed, shall hereafter have a lien prior to all others upon such railroad and its equipment for the amount due him for personal services, or for the use of tools or teams.

Approved, March 10, 1887.

ESTATES OF DECEDENTS.

Sec. 1. Estates of decedents chargeable on joint as upon joint and several obligations.

CHAP. 26.—[S. H. B. No. 32.] An Act to provide for the charging of the estate of a deceased person by virtue of the joint obligation of such deceased person with another.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That when two or more persons are jointly bound for the payment of a debt or for any other purpose, upon the death of either of said persons so bound his estate may be charged by virtue of such obligation in the same manner as if the obligors had been bound severally as well as jointly.

Approved, March 10, 1887.

TAX SALES.

Sec. 1. Extends time for twelve months in which owners may redeem lands bought by State for taxes.

CHAP. 27.—[S. H. B. No. 24.] An Act to extend the time within which lands that have been sold for taxes and bought in by the State may be redeemed.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all lands which have been sold for taxes and bought in by the State, the time for redeeming which has expired, and which have not been redeemed, and which have not since been alienated by the State, may be redeemed by the owner thereof, or their agents, if within twelve months from the date on which this act takes effect said owners or their agents shall pay to the State the original State and county taxes for which said lands were sold, and the taxes due for each year since said sale, with eight per cent interest thereon per annum from the date of such sale, or from the date of the accrual of such subsequent taxes, as the case may be, and all taxes and costs which have accrued thereon, under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the Comptroller of the State.

Sec. 2. Whereas, there are persons whose lands have been sold, and who are anxious to redeem the same, an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity demands that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES.

Sec.

1. Railway employes entitled to thirty days notice of reduction in wages.

Sec.

2. Form and manner of such notice.
3. Affixes a penalty for violating this act.

CHAP. 30.—[S. S. B. No. 50.] An Act to require railway companies to give their employes thirty days notice before reducing their wages, and to provide a remedy for the violation thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all persons in the employment of any railway company shall be entitled to receive thirty days notice from said company before their wages can be reduced by such company, and in all cases of reduction the employe shall be entitled to receive from such company wages at his contract price for the full term of thirty days after such notice is given, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 2. The notice referred to in this act is declared to mean thirty full days immediately prior to the day upon which such reduction is to take effect, and may be given by posting written or printed handbills, specifying the parties whose wages are to be reduced and the amount of such reduction, in at least three conspicuous places in or about each shop, section house, station, depot, train, or other places where said employes are at work: Provided, Such employe shall within fifteen days from the date of such notice inform such railway company, by posting like notices as given by such railway company, whether he will or will not accept such reduction, and if no such information is given such company by such employe, then such employe shall forfeit his right to such notice, and such reduction shall take effect from the date of such notice instead of at the expiration of the thirty days.

Sec. 3. Any railway company violating or evading any of the provisions of this act shall pay to each employe affected thereby one month's extra wages, to be recovered by such employe in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Approved, March 14, 1887.

ELECTIONS.

Sec.

1. Prescribes duties of presiding officer, judges, etc., in election precincts having more than 100 voters.
2. Provides for two ballot-boxes—Manner of conducting election and counting votes—Election returns.

Sec.

3. Compensation for election officers.
4. Repealing section.

CHAP. 31.—[H. B. No. 125.] An Act to provide for a more speedy counting of the vote at special and general elections, and to pay the judges and clerks for the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the presiding officer of each election precinct which shall have cast more than one hundred votes at the last preceding election shall, on or before the day of election, select from among the qualified voters of the precinct three judges and four clerks, to be made from the different political parties if demanded, as far as practicable, and there be present a sufficient number of the party making such demand who are willing and competent to serve in such position. That said presiding judge, before balloting begins, shall designate two of said judges to be counting judges, and such presiding judge and said remaining judge shall be the receiving judges of election, and said presiding judge shall designate two of said clerks to be receiving clerks and two of said clerks to be canvassing clerks of said election. The said receiving clerks shall keep the poll lists and the said canvassing clerks shall keep the tally lists now provided for by law.

Sec. 2. That there shall be provided by the presiding judge two ballot boxes, one of which shall be numbered No. 1 and the other No. 2. Before the balloting begins said judge shall open and examine said boxes, and remove everything therefrom. One of said receiving judges shall receive the ballots of each voter, and after pronouncing the name of such voter in an audible voice shall pass the ballot to the other receiving judge, who shall number the same and deposit it in said ballot box No. 1, which shall be kept securely closed while the balloting continues for one hour from the time of opening the polls. At the expiration of said hour the receiving judges shall deliver said ballot box No. 1 to the counting judges, who shall immediately deliver over to said receiving judges ballot box No. 2, which ballot box No. 2 shall be opened and examined in the presence of all the judges, and when everything is removed therefrom shall be securely closed, and until the ballots in box No. 1 have been counted said receiving judges shall receive and deposit ballots therein in the same manner as during the first hour ballots were received and deposited in ballot box No. 1. After the delivery of ballot box No. 1 to the counting judges the same shall be immediately opened by them and the tickets shall be taken out one at a time by one of the counting judges, who shall read distinctly while the ticket remains in his hand the name or names written or printed thereon, also the office that is intended to be filled by such person voted for, and deliver the same to the other counting judge, who shall place the same in another box and keep securely until the counting is finished, and then said box with all the ballots cast at said election shall be returned to the county clerk as provided for by law. The same method shall be observed with each ticket, and the counting shall continue thus until all the ballots in the box are counted. And then the counting judges shall securely close ballot box No. 1, and deliver the same to the receiving judges, and receive from the receiving judges ballot box No. 2, and so on in the same manner until the polls are closed and all the ballots are counted. No person or persons shall be admitted in the room or place where such ballots are being counted except the judges and clerks of election: Provided, That any political party may select a representative man, who may be admitted as a witness of such counting. It shall be the duty of one of the judges to announce to the voters present the total number of votes polled at each change of the boxes; but the judges, clerks and witnesses shall make oath that they will make no statement nor give any information of any kind as to the number of votes polled for any office or person, nor the name of any person voted for, nor any other fact touching in any way to show the state of the polls at any time previous to the closing of the polls of said election on the day of the same. When any person offering to vote shall be objected to, the manager of the election, with the two first named judges on the list of judges, shall examine the person offering to vote upon oath touching the points of such objection, and if such person fail to establish his qualification to vote to the satisfaction of a majority of the managers of the election, his vote shall be rejected; if his vote be received the word sworn shall be written by the clerks upon the list opposite the name of such voter.

Sec. 3. The presiding officer, judges, and clerks shall be entitled to receive as compensation for their services the sum of two dollars per day, the same to be paid by the county treasurer of the county where such services are rendered, upon the order of the commissioners court of such county: Provided, Twelve working hours shall be considered a day within the meaning of this section. One of the judges shall deliver the returns to the county clerks immediately, and receive two dollars for delivery of the returns, if delivered within two days: Provided, Said judge shall not receive the two dollars for delivering the returns if he shall have to travel less than five miles in so doing.

Sec. 4. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and they are hereby repealed.

Approved, March 14, 1887.

|---|--|

CHAP. 32.—[H. B. No. 115.] An Act to restore the civil jurisdiction to the County Court of Bosque County, and to repeal all laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the County Court of Bosque County shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in all civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars and not exceed five hundred dollars exclusive of interest, and concurrent jurisdiction with the District Court when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred and not exceed one thousand dollars exclusive of interest, but shall not have jurisdiction of suits for the recovery of land. It shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases of which justices courts have original jurisdiction, under such regulations as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by law. In all appeals from justices courts there shall be a trial de novo in the County Court, and an appeal shall lie to the Court of Appeals under such regulations as are now or may be prescribed by law. The County Court shall have the general jurisdiction of a probate court. It shall probate wills; appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary and of administration; settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians; transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as provided by law. And the County Court or judge thereof shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, injunction, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said court; and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the county court or any other court or tribunal inferior to said court.

Sec. 2. That all causes now pending in the District Court of Bosque County of which the County Court of said county has jurisdiction under the provisions of this act, and all laws giving jurisdiction to the county court, shall be transferred to the County Court of said county.

Sec. 3. The clerk of the District Court of Bosque County, thirty days from the date this act takes effect, shall transfer to the clerk of the County Court of said county all the original papers in causes transferred under this act, together with a certified transcript of all entries made on the docket of the district court in such causes, and a certified bill of all cost accrued in such causes; and for making out such transcript of the docket the clerk of the district court shall be allowed such fees as are now allowed by law for making out transcripts in cases of appeal, such fees to be taxed as cost in such suits.

Sec. 4. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved, March 15, 1887.

SECOND AND FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICTS.

Sec.

1. Amends Secs. 2 and 4, Act April 9, 1883, as amended by Act March 31, 1885, concerning the Second and Fourth Judicial Districts—When term of district court shall commence in said districts.

Sec.

2. Return of process heretofore issued in counties affected by this act.
3. Repealing section.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 33.—[S. H. B. No. 375.] An Act to amend Section 2 of An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and to fix the time for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved on the ninth day of April, 1883; and also to amend Section 4 of an act to amend Section 4 of an act entitled An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and to fix the time for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved March 31st, 1885.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 2, of An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and to fix the time for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved on the 9th of April, 1883; and also that Section 4 of an act to amend Section 4 of an act entitled An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the time for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said district at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved March 31, 1885, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 2. That the Second Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Sabine, San Augustine, Nacogdoches, Shelby, and Cherokee, and the District Courts shall be held therein as follows: In the county of Sabine on the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks. In the county of San Augustine on the second Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks. In the county of Nacogdoches on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session four weeks. In the county of Shelby on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks. In the county of Cherokee on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session till the business is disposed of.

Section 4. The Fourth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Rusk, Harrison, and Panola, and the District Courts shall be held therein as follows: In the county of Rusk on the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session six weeks. In the county of Harrison on the sixth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session eight weeks. In the county of Panola on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session till the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That all writs and process returnable to the district courts as heretofore fixed in the counties affected by this act, and all such writs and process that may hereafter be issued before this act shall take effect, and made returnable to the terms of said district courts as now fixed by law, shall be as valid and binding as if no change had been made.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act-are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. That the near approach of the close of the session and the great press of business rendering it improbable that this bill will be reached in its regular order, and the importance of this bill, create an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended.

Approved, March 15, 1887.

PROTECTION OF FISH.

Sec. 1. Taking fish by poison or explosives.

CHAP. 34.—[H. B. No. 74.] An Act to amend Article 425 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 425 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 425. Whoever shall catch or take, or attempt to catch or take, any fish in this State, by the use of lime, China berries, India berries, or other poisonous substances placed in the water, or by the exploding of dynamite, giant powder, nitro-glycerine or other compounds of an explosive nature in the form of a cartridge or other forms, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than one hundred and fifty dollars. And any court, officer, or tribunal having jurisdiction of the offense set forth in this article, or any district or county attorney, may subpoena persons and compel their attendance as witnesses to testify as to violations of any of the provisions of this article; and any person so summoned and examined shall not be liable to prosecution for any of the violations of this article about which he may testify, and a conviction for said offense may be had upon the unsupported evidence of an accomplice or participant.

Approved, March 15, 1887.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY IN THE EIGHTEENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Sec. 1. Provides for election of, in Eighteenth Judicial District.

CHAP. 35.—[H. B. No. 34.] An Act to provide for the election of a District Attorney in the Eighteenth Judicial District of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a District Attorney be elected in the Eighteenth Judicial District in this State at the next general election, and at each general election thereafter, who shall receive for his services such compensation as is provided by law for other District Attorneys.

Approved, March 15, 1887.

CHAPLAINS OF PENITENTIARIES.

Sec. 1. Prescribes salary of chaplains.

CHAP. 36.—[H. B. No. 82.] An Act to amend Article 4480 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 4480 of the Revised Civil Statutes be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 4480. The chaplains of the penitentiaries shall each receive an annual salary of six hundred dollars, and no more.

CHAP. 37.—[H. S. S. B. No. 85.] An Act to establish and organize the county of Mills.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a new county, to be called the county of Mills, in honor of John T. Mills, judge of the third and seventh judicial districts in the days of the Republic of Texas, be and the same is hereby established, with boundary lines as follows: Containing a superficial area of seven hundred square miles, taken from the territory of the existing counties of Lampasas, Hamilton, Brown, and Comanche, as follows: Beginning at the S. E. corner of Richard Blevins survey on Colorado River; thence in a direct line to the S. E. corner of Survey No. 1, Sulphur Fork Iron Works; thence northeasterly to the south line of E. Yarbo survey, 1550 vrs. west of the S. E. corner; thence N. 82° E. to a point 9½ miles N. 60° E. from the west line of Comanche County; thence S. 30° E. to a point ½ mile S. 30° E. from the south line of Hamilton County; thence S. 56° W. to Colorado River; thence up said river with its meanders to the beginning, containing seven hundred square miles.

Sec. 2. The said new county shall defray all expenses incurred in perfecting its organization, and shall also pay its pro rata of the liabilities of the four several counties from which territory is taken to constitute it, in proportion to the territory taken and the territory remaining to the old county.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners court of the county from which the greater proportion is taken to form the new county, within sixty days after this act takes effect, to lay off and divide the new county into convenient precincts, for the election of justices of the peace, county commissioners, and constables, particularly defining the boundaries of such precincts, and also to designate convenient places in such new county where elections shall be held, of all which they shall cause record to be made by the clerk, and a copy thereof shall be transmitted to the county judge of such new county when elected.

Sec. 4. The county judge of Brown County, as soon as the new county has been divided into precincts and voting places, designated as hereinbefore provided, shall order an election in such new county for all county and precinct officers allowed or permitted by law to be elected, and for the location of the county seat of said new county, giving at least twenty days notice of the places and time of election, by printed handbills posted in one or more public places in each precinct in such new county. He shall appoint a presiding officer for each place designated in such new county for holding elections, and such order of election shall specify the number of precincts therein, boundaries, the officers to be elected, and that the county seat will also be voted for.

Sec. 5. The said election, when and as ordered, shall be conducted in accordance with and governed by the general laws on the subject of general elections, and the return of the election when closed shall be made to the county judge of Brown County, who shall cause to be filed and proceed therewith in all respects the same as in general elections, and issue evidences of the result of such election, as in other cases.

Sec. 6. The new county of Mills is hereby attached to the Twenty-seventh Judicial District, and court shall be held therein on the last Monday in March and September, and may continue in session one week; and the county of Mills is hereby attached to the Twenty-third Senatorial District, and to the Seventy-seventh Representative District, and to the Eleventh Congressional District.

Approved, March 15, 1887.

NEW COUNTIES CREATED OUT OF PRESIDIO COUNTY.

Sec.

1. Counties of Buchel, Foley and Jeff Davis created out of Presidio County—Prescribes boundaries of [a] Buchel, [b] Foley and [c] Jeff Davis.
2. Each of these counties to pay their pro rata share of legal debts of parent county.

Sec.

3. Counties of Buchel, Foley and Jeff Davis attached to Brewster County for judicial purposes, to the 28th Senatorial, 80th Representative, and 15th Congressional Districts.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 38.—[H. B. No. 228.] An Act to create the counties of Buchel, Foley and Jeff Davis out of the county of Presidio.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That three new counties, one to be called Buchel County, one to be called Foley County, and one to be called Jeff Davis County, are hereby created out of the county of Presidio.

[a] Buchel County is bounded as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the northeast corner of Brewster County on the Presidio and Pecos County line: thence south with the east line of Brewster County sixty miles; thence east to the Rio Grande River; thence down said river with its meanders to the Pecos County line; thence in a northwesterly direction along said Pecos County line to the place of beginning.

[b] Foley County is bounded as follows: Beginning at the southwest corner of Brewster County; thence east along the south line of said county thirty miles to the southeast corner of said Brewster County; thence north along the east boundary line of Brewster County about thirteen miles to the southwest corner of Buchel County; thence east along the south line of said Buchel County to the Rio Grande River; thence up the Rio Grande River with its meanders to a point due south of the beginning; thence north to the place of beginning.

[c] Jeff Davis County is bounded as follows: Beginning at the northwest corner of Brewster County; thence in a westwardly direction to the southeast corner of El Paso County on the Rio Grande River; thence along the line of El Paso County northwardly to the corner of El Paso and Reeves Counties; thence south-eastwardly along the north boundary line of Presidio County to the northeast corner of Brewster County; thence southwestwardly along the north boundary line of Brewster County to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2. That each of said new counties shall pay a pro rata share of the legal debts of the county from which they are created, and there shall be set apart so much of the county taxes levied and collected upon the property situated in the portion taken from the county of Presidio, annually, as will be sufficient to speedily liquidate said existing debts, if any, and the said pro rata to be based upon the value of the property taken from the parent county for each year of the existence of the said debt, to be determined from the tax rolls of the said county as made by the board of equalization.

Sec. 3. That the said counties of Buchel, Foley, and Jeff Davis be attached to Brewster County for judicial purposes, and to the Twenty-eighth Senatorial and the Eightieth Representative Districts, and to the Eleventh Congressional District, for the purpose of representation.

Sec. 4. And whereas the isolated condition of the people of the proposed new counties amounts to a practical denial of justice, creating an emergency and imperative public necessity which requires that the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved, March 15, 1887.

DEPOSITIONS OF WITNESSES.

Sec. 1. Depositions, service of notice of intention to take.

CHAP. 39.—[S. B. No. 155.] An Act to amend Article 2219, of Chapter 2, Title 38, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, on the subject of taking depositions of witnesses in civil cases.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 2219, of Chapter 2, Title 38, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 2219. The party wishing to take the deposition of a witness in a suit pending in court shall file with the clerk or justice of the peace, as the case may be, a notice of this intention to apply for a commission to take the answers of the witness to interrogatories attached to such notice. The notice shall state the name and residence of the witness, or the place where he is to be found, and the suit in which the deposition is to be used, and a copy thereof, and of the attached interrogatories, shall be served upon the adverse party, or his attorney of record, five days before the issuance of a commission; and whenever the adverse party is a corporation, or joint stock association, service may be made upon the president, secretary, or treasurer of such corporation or association, or upon the local agent representing such corporation or association in the county in which the suit is pending, or by leaving a copy of the notice and attached interrogatories at the principal office of such corporation or association during office hours.

Approved, March 15, 1887.

ARANSAS COUNTY.

Sec.

1. Defining county boundary.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 40.—[H. B. 451.] An Act to amend Article 711 of the Revised Statutes, defining the boundaries of Aransas County.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 711 of the Revised Statutes be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 711. Beginning at the boundary of the State on the Gulf of Mexico opposite the center of the channel of Aransas Pass, between the islands of St. Joseph and Mustang; thence in a direct line to the John Robinson survey at the head of Red Fish Bay; thence with the meanders of Corpus Christi and Nueces Bays to the southeast corner of the John N. Seguin Survey No. 4, which fronts on Nueces Bay; thence with the east line of said Survey No. 4 to the southeast corner of Survey No. 5 in the name of John N. Seguin; and thence in the same direction with the east line of said Survey No. 5 to the northeast corner thereof; thence in a direct line to the southeast corner of the Larkin Martin survey; thence with the meanders of Puerto and Copano Bays to the center of Aransas River; thence down the center of said stream to Copano Bay; thence with the channel of said bay parallel with the shore to the east end of the same at the mouth of Copano Creek; thence up said creek to the mouth of Alamito Creek; thence in a direct line to the southeast corner of J. C. Salberg's survey on Espiritu Santo Bay; thence in a direct line to Cedar Bayou; thence through said bayou to the boundary of the State on the Gulf of Mexico; thence with said boundary of the State to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2. The fact that as the lines bounding said Aransas County now run, a considerable portion of territory contiguous to said county is left without any county lines whatever, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Sec. 3. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 78 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, March 17, 1887.

LIMITATIONS.

Sec. 1. Limitation not to run against State, nor favor adverse holder of street, road, etc.

CHAP. 41.—[S. B. No. 4.] An Act to amend Article 3200 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 3200 of the above recited act shall hereafter read as follows.

Article 3200. The right of the State shall not be barred by any of the provisions of this chapter, nor shall any person ever acquire, by occupancy or adverse possession, any right or title to any part or portion of any road, street, sidewalk or grounds which belong to any town, city or county, or which have been donated or dedicated for public use to any such town, city or county by the owner thereof, or which have been laid out or dedicated in any manner to public use in any town, city or county in this State; Provided, This act shall not apply to any alley laid out across any block or square in any city or town.

Approved, March 17, 1887.

PAYMENT OF BONDS.

Sec.

1. County commissioners court or mayor and board of aldermen of any city or town authorized to regulate the rate of taxation.

Sec.

2. Levy of tax—Duty of officer making assessment—Fees of collector.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 42.—[S. B. No. 129.] An Act to authorize counties, cities, and towns in this State which have issued bonds to aid in the construction of railroads and other internal improvements, to adjust their rate of taxation so as to provide for the payment of the interest and sinking fund upon the same.

Whereas, in some of the counties, cities, and towns of this State there is an existing bonded indebtedness against the same, necessitating the collection of taxes to pay interest and sinking fund both due and to become due, and necessitating the collection from the people thereof taxes that are past due; and,

Whereas, in some of those counties, cities, and towns, by reason of the increased value of the property and the reduction of the debt by the payment of the sinking fund, the rate of taxation has become disproportionate to the amount to be paid, requiring a larger amount to be collected from the people annually than is necessary for the payment of the interest and sinking fund aforesaid: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county commissioners court of any county, or the mayor and board of aldermen or city council of any city or town, that have heretofore issued bonds to aid in the construction of railroads or other works of internal improvement, are hereby authorized and empowered to reduce the rate of taxation heretofore levied for the purpose of paying interest and sinking fund on such bonds, so as to raise the amount necessary to pay the said interest and sinking fund which may become due annually according to the terms of the said bonds; and any county, city, or town, by its said commissioners, or city council, or mayor and aldermen, may from time to time hereafter increase or diminish its rate of taxation according to the valuation of its taxable property, so as to raise the amount necessary for the payment of the said interest and sinking fund annually: Provided, That the taxes shall never be reduced below the rate that will raise the amount that is annually due upon such bonds.

Sec. 2. The levy of tax provided for in the preceding section shall be made upon the assessed value of the property of such county, city or town for the previous year, and shall remain in force from year to year until there has been a new levy, according to the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the officer who shall make the assessments annually for such county, city or town to make the levy of the taxes aforesaid upon the assessment of property made for general purposes, and to so return his rolls as to show the said tax due from each person the same as the other taxes are shown. No additional fees shall be allowed for said work. For collecting the said taxes the tax collector of such county, city or town shall receive one and one-half per cent upon the amount collected.

Sec. 3. The fact that the time for the collection of taxes is approaching, creates a public necessity that this act should be put in force at once, and that the rule requiring that this bill should be read three several days should be suspended, and the said rules are so suspended, and that this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 27 yeas, no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 73 yeas, 2 nays.]

Approved, March 17, 1887.

PARTITION FENCES.

Sec.

1. Rights of joint owners of dividing fences.
2. Withdrawal or removal without notice, and penalty therefor.

Sec.

3. Failure to remove after expiration of notice, penalty therefor.

CHAP. 43.—[S. S. B. No. 52.] An Act to provide for the separation or partition of adjoining fences, and to prescribe a penalty for a violation of the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person who is a joint owner of any separating or dividing fence, or who is in any manner interested in any fence attached to or connected with any fence owned or controlled by any other persons, to remove the same except by mutual consent, or as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Any person who is the owner or part owner of any fence connected with or adjoined to any fence owned in part or in whole by any other person, shall have the right to withdraw or separate his fence or part of fence from the fence of any other person or persons in this State: Provided, That such person who desires to withdraw or separate such fence from the fence of any other person shall give notice in writing to such person, his agent, attorney or lessee, of his intention to separate or withdraw his fence, or part thereof, for at least six months prior to the time of such intended withdrawal or separation. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and every ten days shall constitute a separate offense for the violation of this act.

Sec. 3. That any person who shall wilfully continue to join his fence to that of another whose fence has been withdrawn under the provisions of this act, shall be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars: Provided, That each ten days after such notice is complete shall constitute a separate offense for the violation of this act.

Approved, March 17, 1887.

SEQUESTRATION.

Sec. 1. Re-enacts Art. 4489, Revised Statutes, and adds seventh clause, authorizing sequestration in suits of trespass to try title, etc., against non-residents of State.

CHAP. 44.—[S. B. No. 70.] An Act to amend Article 4489, Title 90, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 4489, Title 90, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be and the same hereby is so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 4498. Judges and clerks of the district and county courts, and justices of the peace, shall, at the commencement or during the progress of any civil suit, before final judgment, have power to issue writs of sequestration, returnable to their respective courts, in the following cases:

First. When a married woman sues for divorce, and makes oath that she fears her husband will waste her separate property, or their common property, or the fruits or revenue produced by either, or that he will sell or otherwise dispose of the same so as to defraud her of her just rights, or remove the same out of the limits of the county during the pendency of the suit.

Second. When a person sues for the title or possession of any personal property of any description, and makes oath that he fears the defendant or person in possession thereof will injure, ill-treat, waste, or destroy such property, or remove the same out of the limits of the county during the pendency of the suit.

Third. When a person sues for the foreclosure of a mortgage or the enforcement of a lien upon personal property of any description, and makes oath that he fears the defendant or person in possession thereof will injure, ill-treat, waste, or destroy such property, or remove the same out of the county during the pendency of the suit.

Fourth. When any person sues for the title or possession of real property, and makes oath that he fears the defendant or person in possession thereof will make use of his possession to injure such property, or waste or convert to his own use the fruits or revenue produced by the same.

Fifth. When any person sues for the title or possession of any property from which he has been ejected by force or violence, and makes oath of such fact.

Sixth. When any person sues for the foreclosure of a mortgage or the enforcement of a lien on real estate, and makes oath that he fears the defendant or person in possession thereof will make use of such possession to injure such property, or waste or convert to his own use the timber, rents, fruits, or revenue thereof.

Seventh. When any person sues to try the title to any real property, or to remove cloud upon the title to any such real property, or to foreclose a lien upon any such real property, or for partition of real property, and makes oath that the defendant, or either of them in the event there be more than one defendant, is a non-resident of this State.

Approved, March 17, 1887.

INQUEST UPON DEAD BODIES.

Sec. 1. Repeals Articles 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, and 1001, Chap. 1, Title 13, Code of Criminal Procedure—Amends Articles 988, 1002, 1006, 1008, and 1012, Chap. 1, Title 13, Code of Criminal Procedure, and Article 1000, Chap. 12, Title 13, C. P., as amended by 18th Legislature.

CHAP. 45.—[S. H. B. No. 116.] An Act to repeal Articles 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, and 1001, and to amend Articles 988, 1002, 1006, 1008, and 1012, of Chapter 1, Title 13, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and Article 1000 of the Code of Criminal Procedure as amended by Chapter 12 of the General Laws of the Eighteenth Legislature of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Articles 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, and 1001, of Chapter 1, Title 13, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, be repealed; and that Articles 988, 1002, 1006, 1008, and 1012, of Chapter 1, Title 13, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and Article 1000, of Chapter 1, Title 13, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, as amended by Chapter 12 of the General Laws of the Eighteenth Legislature of the State of Texas, approved February 16, 1883, be so amended as to hereafter read:

Article 988. Any justice of the peace shall be authorized, and it shall be his duty, to hold inquests within his county in the following cases: Provided, That all inquests shall be held by the justice of the peace without a jury:

1. When a person dies in prison.
2. When any person is killed, or from any cause dies an unnatural death, except under sentence of the law or in the absence of one or more good witnesses.
3. When the body of any human being is found and the circumstances of his death are unknown.
4. When the circumstances of the death of any person are such as to lead to suspicion that he has come to his death by unlawful means.

Article 1000. If any other persons than the justice, and the accused and his counsel, and counsel for the State, are present at the inquest, they shall not interfere with the proceedings, and no question shall be asked a witness except by the justice, the accused or his counsel, and the counsel for the State, and the justice of the peace may fine any person violating this article for contempt of court, not exceeding twenty dollars, and may cause such person to be placed in custody of a peace officer and removed from the presence of the inquest.

Article 1002. The justice of the peace shall keep a book in which he shall make a minute of all the proceedings relating to every inquest held by him. Such minute shall set forth:

1. The nature of the information given the justice of the peace and by whom given, unless he acts upon facts within his own knowledge.
2. The time and place, when and where, the inquest is held.
3. The name of the deceased if known, or if not known as accurate a description of him as can be given.
4. The finding by the justice at the inquest.
5. If any arrest is made of a suspected person before inquest held, the name of the person and the fact of his arrest, as well as everything material which relates thereto, shall be noted.

Article 1006. If it be found by the justice of the peace, upon evidence adduced at the inquest, that a person already arrested did in fact kill the deceased, or was an accomplice or accessory to the death, the justice may, according to the facts in the case, commit him to jail or require him to execute a bail bond with security for his appearance before the proper court to answer for the offense.

Article 1008. When by the evidence adduced before a justice of the peace holding an inquest, it is found that any person not in custody killed the deceased, or was an accomplice or accessory to the death, the justice shall forthwith issue his warrant of arrest to the sheriff or other peace officer commanding him to arrest the person accused, and bring him before such justice, or before some other magistrate named in the writ.

Article 1012. When an inquest has been held the justice before whom the same was held shall certify to the proceedings, and shall enclose in an envelope the testimony taken, the finding of the justice, the bail bonds if any, and all other papers connected with the inquest, and shall seal up such envelope and deliver it, properly indorsed, to the clerk of the district court without delay, who shall safely keep the same in his office subject to the order of the court.

Approved, March 17, 1887.

DISTRICT COURTS IN THE TWENTY-FIFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Sec.

1. Provides when the term of the district court shall commence, and what shall be length of said term, in the several counties of the 25th Judicial District.

Sec.

2. Repealing clause.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 46.—[S. H. B. No. 55.] An Act to fix the times for holding the district courts in the several counties comprising the Twenty-fifth Judicial District of Texas, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Whereas, a necessity has arisen out of the insufficiency of the two weeks term of the district court now allowed Wilson County for the transaction of the business of said court: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the district courts of the Twenty-fifth Judicial District shall hereafter begin their terms as follows, to-wit:

In the county of Lavaca on the first Mondays in February and August of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In Colorado County on the first Mondays in March and September each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In Guadalupe County on the first Mondays in May and November of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In Wilson County on the first Mondays in June and December of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In Gonzales County on the first Mondays in January and July of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

Sec. 2. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. Whereas, it is important to the people to be affected thereby that this bill should become a law at an early day; and whereas, the delay incident to reading bills on three several days renders doubtful the passage of the bill at an early day; therefore, a public emergency exists demanding the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days and said rule is so suspended; and it is enacted that this law take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 71 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 22 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, March 21, 1887.

TRIAL BEFORE JURY.

Sec. 1. Adds Art. 669a to Title 8, Chap. 5, Code Criminal Procedure, regulating order of trial where two or more persons are charged by separate indictments of offenses arising from same transaction.

CHAP. 47.—[H. B. No. 103.] An Act to create Article 669a, of Title 8, Chapter 5, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, so as to provide the order in which defendants charged with the same offense shall be tried.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Title 8, Chapter 5, of an act entitled "An Act to adopt and establish a Code of Criminal Procedure for the State of Texas," passed February 21, 1879, be so amended as to add an additional article, as follows, to-wit:

Article 669a. Where two or more defendants are prosecuted for an offense growing out of the same transaction, by separate indictments, either defendant may file his affidavit in writing that one or more parties are indicted for an offense growing out of the same transaction for which he is indicted, and that the evidence of such party or parties is material for the defense of the affiant, and that the affiant verily believes that there is not sufficient evidence against the party or parties whose evidence is desired to secure his or their conviction; such party or parties for whose evidence said affidavit is made shall be first tried; and in the event that two or more defendants make such affidavit and cannot agree as to their order of trial, then the presiding judge shall direct the order in which the defendants shall be tried: Provided, That the making of such affidavit does not without other sufficient cause operate as a continuance to either party.

Approved, March 21, 1887.

LIVE STOCK.

Sec. 1. Amends Sec. 46, Acts 1885, exempting certain counties from the operation of the inspection laws, and for the appointment of inspectors by the Governor.

CHAP. 48.—[H. B. No. 39.] An Act to amend Section 46, Chapter 25, of the Acts of 1885, entitled "An Act to amend Chapter 79, of the Acts of 1883, entitled 'An Act to amend Section 46 of An Act to encourage stockraising and to protect stockraisers,' approved April 22nd, 1879, and amended April 4, 1881, and April 12, 1883."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 46 of the above recited act shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 46. That the counties of Anderson, Austin, Angelina, Bell, Bowie, Brazos, Bastrop, Burleson, Brazoria, Camp, Cass, Chambers, Cherokee, Colorado, Dallas, Delta, Denton, Ellis, Fannin, Franklin, Falls, Freestone, Gonzales, Eastland, Stephens, Fayette, Galveston, Goliad, Grayson, Gregg, Grimes, Hardin, Harrison, Henderson, Hill, Hunt, Hopkins, Houston, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Johnson, Kaufman, Lamar, Lee, Leon, Lampasas, McLennan, Madison, Marion, Montgomery, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Orange, Panola, Parker, Polk, Palo Pinto, Rains, Red River, Robertson, Rockwall, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shelby, Smith, Tarrant, Titus, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Van Zandt, Walker, Washington, Wharton, De Witt, Wise, Wood, Jack, Calhoun, Harris, Young, Wheeler, Lavaca, Oldham, Nueces, Bee, Refugio, Limestone, San Patricio, Donley, Matagorda, Victoria, and the unorganized counties attached to Wheeler, Oldham, and Donley Counties, are hereby exempted from the operations of this act, and that the provisions of the same shall in no wise relate or apply to the aforesaid counties: Provided, That in those counties bordering on the lines of the State, except those bordering on Red River, whether organized or unorganized, the Governor shall appoint an inspector, whose duty it shall be to inspect, under the provisions of this act, all stock about to be driven or shipped out of this State, where there is a depot or place for the shipment of cattle: Provided, That such cattle shall not be subject to inspection on board of any railroad unless the same have been placed on board of such train for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act: And provided further, That the counties of Limestone, Fayette, Lavaca, Gonzales, Bell, Calhoun, Navarro, Hood, Houston, Somervell, Erath, Bosque, Austin, Jackson, Victoria, Freestone, Coryell, Hamilton, Williamson, and Harris, shall be exempted from all laws regulating inspection of hides.

Approved, March 21, 1887.

PHYSICIANS.

Sec. 1. Amends Art. 3635, Title 73, Revised Statutes—Requires physicians to record their certificates in the office of clerk of district court before practicing.

CHAP. 49.—[H. B. No. 124.] An Act to amend Article 3635, Title 73, of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 3635, Title 73, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 3635. The certificate provided for in the two preceding articles shall, before the person to whom it was granted is entitled to practice by virtue thereof, be recorded in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county in which such practitioner may reside or sojourn, in a well bound book to be kept by the clerk for that purpose, and when so recorded said clerk shall certify thereon, under his official seal, the fact and the date of such record, and shall return such certificate to the person to whom the same is granted, and shall be entitled to demand and receive for such service from the holder of such certificate the sum of one dollar.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 50.—[H. B. No. 122.] An Act to amend Section 13 of an act entitled An Act to amend Section 13 of An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved March 31, 1885.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 13, of Section 1, of an act entitled An Act to amend Section 13 of An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the times for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved March 31, 1885, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 13. The Thirteenth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Limestone, Freestone and Navarro, and the District Courts shall be held therein as follows:

In the county of Freestone on the first Monday in September and the second Monday in February, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Limestone on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in September, and on the fourth Monday after the second Monday in February, and may continue in session seven weeks.

In the county of Navarro on the third Monday in June and the first Monday in December of each year, and may continue in session nine weeks.

Section 2. The fact that these courts will meet in less than ninety days after the adjournment of the Legislature, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 81 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, March 23, 1887.

INTOXICATING LIQUORS ON ELECTION DAYS.

Sec. 1. Amends Article 178, Chapter 4, Title 6, of the Penal Code.

CHAP. 51.—[S. H. B. No. 95.] An Act to amend Article 178, Chapter 4, Title 6, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 178, Chapter 4, Title 6, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 178. If any person shall open or keep open any bar-room, saloon, or other place, house or establishment where vinous, malt, spirituous, or intoxicating liquors are sold during any portion of the day on which an election is held for any purpose or office whatsoever, in the voting precinct, village, town, or city where such election is held, or within three miles of any such voting precinct, village, town, or city where such election is held; or shall, in such voting precinct, village, town, or city, or within three miles thereof, sell, barter, or give away any vinous, malt, spirituous or intoxicating liquor, during the day on which any such election is held; or if any person shall carry to the polling place on the day of an election, or in the neighborhood of the same, any intoxicating liquors for the purpose of sale or gift; or if any person shall find and take possession of any intoxicating liquors at or near the polling place, or inform another of the whereabouts of the said intoxicating liquors, he shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars.

Approved, March 23, 1887.

COUNTY OFFICERS AND COUNTY MONEYS.

Sec. 1. Amends Art. 951, Title 24, of the Revised Statutes—Requires a report to the county commissioners court from the clerk of district court and other county officers of any of the money that belongs to the county, or for its use, that may have come into the hands of said officers.

CHAP. 52.—[H. B. No. 96.] An Act to amend an act entitled An Act to amend Article 951, Title 24, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, approved March 27, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act entitled An Act to amend Article 951, Title 24, of the Revised Statutes, approved March 27, 1883, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 951. Clerks of the district and county courts, county judges, county treasurers, sheriffs, district and county attorneys, constables and justices of the peace, who shall collect or handle any money for the use of the county, shall make a full and complete report, under oath, in writing, to the commissioners court, at each regular term thereof, of all fines imposed and collected and all judgments rendered and collected for the use of the county, and all jury fees collected in their respective courts in favor of or for the use of the county; and at the same time to present their receipts and vouchers showing what disposition has been made of the money collected, fines imposed, and judgments rendered; which reports, receipts, and vouchers shall be carefully examined by the said commissioners court, and if found to be correct, shall cause the clerk to enter the same on the financial ledger, and if found to be incorrect, shall summon said officer before them, and have the same corrected; and said reports, receipts, and vouchers shall be filed in the county clerk's office.

Approved, March 23, 1887.

UNLAWFUL MARRIAGES.

Sec. 1. Penalty for bigamy increased.

CHAP. 53.—[H. B. No. 53.] An Act to amend Article 324, Title 10, Chapter 1, Penal Code.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 324, Penal Code, Title 10, Chapter 1, hereafter read as follows:

Article 324. If any person who has a former wife or husband living shall marry another in this State, such person shall be punished by imprisonment in the State penitentiary for a term not less than two nor more than five years.

Approved, March 23, 1887.

ILLEGAL VOTING.

Sec. 1. Amends Article 165, Chapter 4, Title 6, Penal Code, and prescribes punishment for voting for any person or proposition by one knowing himself not qualified to vote.

CHAP. 54.—[H. B. No. 73.] An Act to amend Article 165, Chapter 4, Title 6, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 165, Chapter 4, Title 6, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 165. If any person, knowing himself not to be a qualified voter, shall at any election held vote for any officer to be then chosen, or for or against any measure or proposition to be determined by said election, he shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary not less than two nor more than five years.

Approved, March 23, 1887.

TAXES BY CITIES AND TOWNS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS, ETC.

Sec.
1. City council may levy tax to meet interest and sinking fund on certain debts, and may issue coupon bonds, etc.

Sec.
2. Repealing clause.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 55.—[H. B. No. 377.] An Act to authorize cities and towns to levy and collect taxes for the construction or purchase of public buildings, water-works, sewers, improvements of streets, and other permanent improvements, and to issue bonds therefor, and to repeal all laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the city or town council of any city or town within this State, incorporated under the General Laws, shall have power by ordinance to levy and collect an annual ad valorem tax sufficient to meet the interest and sinking fund on all indebtedness legally incurred prior to the adoption of the constitutional amendment in 1883 regarding the power of cities and towns to levy and collect taxes, etc., and may levy and collect twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of all the property in such city or town for current expenses, and may levy and collect an additional tax of twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for the purpose of constructing or the purchase of public buildings, water-works, sewers, street improvements and other permanent improvements within the limits of such city or town; and all cities and towns providing for such improvements shall have the power to issue coupon bonds of the city therefor, in such sum or sums as they may deem expedient, to bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum: Provided, That the aggregate amount of bonds issued for the above named purposes shall never reach an amount where the tax of one-fourth of one per cent will not pay current interest and provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal at maturity, and the amount of bonds legally issued under acts passed prior to the adoption of the present Constitution shall not be computed in estimating the amount of bonds which may be issued for the above named city improvements. Within the meaning of this act shall be included building sites and buildings for the public free schools and institutions of learning within those which have assumed, or may assume hereafter, the exclusive control and management of the public free schools and institutions of learning within their limits.

Sec. 2. That all laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. Whereas there is some doubt as to the existing power of cities and towns within this State to levy and collect taxes for the purpose of improving such cities and towns; and whereas there are many cities and towns without the necessary means to make needed permanent improvements, and for the reason that it is important that definite power should be given to conform the tax law of such cities and towns to the amended Constitution: therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity demands the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring the bill to be read on three several days in each house, and said rule is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 65 yeas, 20 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 21 yeas, 3 nays.]

Approved, March 23, 1887.

WILLS.

Sec.

1. Authenticated testamentary instruments which have been probated in any State or Territory of the U. S. may be recorded here as muniments of title—Provided four years in which to contest such authenticated testamentary instrument.
2. Such authenticated testamentary instrument shall be prima facie evidence that the probate law of the State where such instrument was probated has been complied with.

Sec.

3. Such testamentary instrument when recorded shall have the effect of a deed.
4. That the record of such instrument shall be notice of such will.
5. Suspends the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days.

CHAP. 56.—[S. B. No. 114.] An Act authorizing wills and testaments, and testamentary instruments of any character, which have been probated in any other State or Territory of the United States, to be recorded as muniments of title to real property in this State conveyed thereby.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That when any will or testament, or testamentary instrument of any character, conveying or in any manner disposing of land in this State, has been duly probated according to the laws of any of the United States or Territories, a copy thereof and its probate, attested by the clerk of the court in which such will and testament or testamentary instrument was admitted to probate, and the seal of the court annexed if there be a seal, together with a certificate from the judge or presiding magistrate of such court that the said attestation is in due form, may be filed and recorded in the register of deeds in any county in which said real estate is situated, in the same manner as deeds and conveyances are required to be recorded, and without further proof or authentication: Provided, that at any time within four years from the date of the record of such will in this State, the validity of such will may be contested in a proceeding instituted for that purpose, as the original might have been.

Sec. 2. A copy of such will and testament, or testamentary instrument, and its probate so attested, together with the certificate that said attestation is in due form as required by the preceding section of this act, shall be prima facie evidence that said will has been duly admitted to probate according to the laws of the State wherein it has been admitted to probate, and shall be sufficient to authorize the same to be recorded in the proper county or counties in this State.

Sec. 3. Every such will and testament, or testamentary instrument, and its probate, which shall be attested and proven as provided in section one of this act, and delivered to the clerk of the proper court to be recorded, shall take effect and be valid and effectual as a deed of conveyance of said property, and the record thereof shall have the same force and effect as the record of deeds or other conveyances to land from the time when such instrument was delivered to such clerk to be recorded, and from that time only.

Sec. 4. The record of such will and testament, or testamentary instrument, and its probate, duly attested and proven as provided in the preceding sections of this act, and duly made in the proper county, shall be taken and held as notice to all persons of the existence of such will and testament, and of the title or titles conferred thereby.

Sec. 5. The near approach of the close of the session creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

Approved, March 23, 1887.

RAILROAD CROSSINGS.

Sec.

1. Requires openings and crossings every mile and a half where railways fence their right of way—Provides for at least one opening and crossing in every enclosure where the railways have fenced their right of way.
2. Such crossings shall be thirty feet wide, and provides the condition in which they shall be kept.
3. Such openings and crossings shall be made on demand of two citizens who live in five miles of the railway.
4. Such demand shall be made in writing to the nearest local agent of such railway.

Sec.

5. Railways shall have thirty days to make such crossing, and are not required to make such crossing under certain circumstances.
6. What shall be deemed a compliance to demand for an opening and crossing.
7. Persons making such demand can recover from such railway five hundred dollars for each month they fail to comply therewith.
8. This law does not affect the law which requires crossings at intersections of roads and streets.

CHAP. 57.—[S. S. B. No. 44.] An Act to require railway corporations when they fence their right of way, or where they have already fenced it, to leave or make certain crossings or openings therein, and to provide a penalty for the violation hereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all railway corporations in this State which have, or which may hereafter fence their right of way, may be required to make openings or crossings through their fence and over their road-bed along their right of way every one and one-half miles thereof: Provided, That if such fence shall divide any enclosure that at least one opening shall be made in said fence within such enclosure.

Sec. 2. Such crossings shall be not less than thirty feet in width, and shall be made and kept in such condition as to admit of the free and easy passage of horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, all other domesticated animals, wagons, and other vehicles.

Sec. 3. Such crossings shall be made at such times and places as may be demanded by any two or more citizens of the State who either live or own land within five miles of the place where such crossings may be demanded.

Sec. 4. Such demand shall be made in writing, of the nearest local agent of such railway company to the place where such crossing or crossings are demanded, and shall state when and where such crossing is desired.

Sec. 5. No railway company shall be required to complete such crossings as may be demanded under this act in a shorter time than thirty days from the day on which such demand is first made, nor shall they be required to make any crossings where they have already left such crossings in each one and one-half miles of their road, except inside of inclosures, as is provided in section one.

Sec. 6. Any railway company, upon such demand, shall be deemed to have complied therewith upon making such crossings within four hundred yards of the place where they are demanded, within the time herein allowed.

Sec. 7. Whenever any railway company shall fail or refuse to comply with the requirements of this act after demand is made in accordance herewith, such railway company shall pay to the persons who made such demand each the sum of five hundred dollars for each and every month they shall so fail or refuse to comply with such demand, the same to be recovered by suit in any court of this State having jurisdiction of the amount.

Sec. 8. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to affect the law requiring railroad companies to provide proper crossings at intersection of all roads and streets.

Approved, March 23, 1887.

CITIES AND TOWNS.

Sec.

1. Provides for special election to fill vacancies in the offices of mayor or alderman in cities or towns.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 59.—[H. B. No. 595.] An Act to amend Article 352, Title 17, Chapter 2, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by an act approved April 6, 1881.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 352, Title 17, Chapter 2, of the Revised Civil Statutes, as amended by the act approved April 6, 1881, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 352. In case of a vacancy in the office of mayor or alderman, by refusal to accept or failure to qualify, or by death, resignation or otherwise, the city council shall order a new election to fill such vacancy, and all special elections shall be conducted as is herein provided for in the annual election: Provided, that in all special elections to fill vacancies ten days notice shall be deemed sufficient. In case of a vacancy in any other office in the city than mayor or alderman, by refusal to accept, or failure to qualify, or by death, resignation or otherwise, the mayor or acting mayor shall fill such vacancy by appointment to be confirmed by the city council.

Sec. 2. Whereas this session is drawing to a close, and there will not be sufficient time to consider this bill on three several days, and there is no sufficient provision properly providing for the election of mayor and alderman in case of a vacancy in such office, therefore an imperative public necessity is created for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, such rule is suspended, and an emergency exists that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 72 yeas, and passed the Senate by a vote of 26 yeas.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—THIRTY-EIGHTH DISTRICT.

Sec.

1. Fixes times of holding court in several counties of said district.

Sec.

2. Repealing clause.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 61.—[H. B. No. 185.] An Act to amend Section 38 of an act entitled "An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," approved April 9, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section thirty-eight of an act entitled "An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and to fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and districts attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," approved April 9, 1883, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 38. The Thirty-eighth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Uvalde, Comal, Kendall, Kerr, Bandera, and Medina, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows:

In the county of Uvalde on the second Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Bandera on the fifth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Kendall on the seventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Kerr on the ninth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Comal on the eleventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Medina on the thirteenth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature creates an imperative public necessity which justifies the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is therefore suspended; and as an emergency exists that this bill become a law from and after its passage, in order to clear the dockets of the district courts of the counties composing this district, and to give to the parties litigant a speedy trial, it is further enacted that this bill become a law from and after its passage.

Appeals and writs of error from the counties of Anderson, Bowie, Camp, Cass, Cherokee, Delta, Ellis, Hopkins, Franklin, Gregg, Harrison, Henderson, Hunt, Kaufman, Marion, Morris, Nacogdoches, Navarro, Panola, Rains, Red River, Rockwall, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, Shelby, Smith, Titus, Upshur, Van Zandt, and Wood, shall be returnable to the term of said court held at Tyler; and all cases from the county of Ellis pending in the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals at Austin, and undetermined at the adjournment of the term of said courts commencing on the first Monday of April, 1887, shall be transferred to Tyler, and entered upon the dockets of said courts of Tyler, and shall be tried and determined in the same manner as if said cases had originally been made returnable to the term of said courts held at Tyler.

Article 1008. Appeals and writs of error from the counties of Andrews, Archer, Armstrong, Atascosa, Bailey, Bandera, Bastrop, Baylor, Bell, Bexar, Blanco, Borden, Bosque, Briscoe, Brown, Burnet, Caldwell, Callahan, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Comal, Comanche, Concho, Cooke, Coryell, Cottle, Crockett, Cochran, Clay, Coleman, Collin, Crosby, Dallam, Dallas, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Denton, Dickens, Dimmit, Donley, Eastland, Edwards, El Paso, Erath, Falls, Fannin, Fisher, Floyd, Frio, Gaines, Garza, Gillespie, Gray, Grayson, Greer, Guadalupe, Hale, Hall, Hamilton, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Haskell, Hays, Hemphill, Hill, Hockley, Hood, Howard, Hutchinson, Jack, Johnson, Jones, Karnes, Kendall, Kent, Kerr, Kimble, King, Kinney, Knox, Lamar, Lamb, Lampasas, La Salle, Lee, Limestone, Lipscomb, Live Oak, Llano, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Mason, Maverick, McCulloch, McLennan, McMullen, Medina, Menard, Midland, Milam, Mitchell, Montague, Moore, Motley, Nolan, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Palo Pinto, Parker, Pecos, Potter, Preaidio, Randall, Reeves, Roberts, Robertson, Runnels, San Saba, Scurry, Shackelford, Sherman, Somervell, Stephens, Stonewall, Swisher, Tarrant, Taylor, Terry, Throckmorton, Tom Green, Travis, Uvalde, Wheeler, Wichita, Wilbarger, Williamson, Wilson, Wise, Yoakum, Young, and Zavala, shall be returnable to the term of said court held at Austin.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session and the great press of business rendering it improbable that this bill will be reached in both houses in its regular order, and the importance of a more equal distribution of the work of the Supreme Court and of the Court of Appeals at the several places where their terms are held, create an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended.

Approved, March 25, 1887.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—FORTY-FIRST.

Sec.

1. Creates Forty-first Judicial District.
2. Fixes time of holding court in counties composing said district.
3. Governor to appoint district judge and district attorney for this district.

Sec.

4. Writs and process, how returnable.
5. Repealing clause.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 65.—[H. B. No. 507.] An Act to create the Forty-first Judicial District, and to provide for the appointment of a district judge and district attorney therein, and to provide the times of holding the terms of the district courts in said district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the counties of Brewster, Buehel, Foley, Pecos, Val Verde, Crockett, Kinney, Edwards, Jeff Davis, and Maverick, be and the same are hereby constituted the Forty-first Judicial District of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. The district courts shall be held in the several counties composing the Forty-first Judicial District as follows:

In the county of Brewster on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Pecos on the third Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Val Verde on the fifth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Kinney on the seventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Edwards on the tenth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Maverick on the twelfth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and continue in session until the business is disposed of.

The unorganized county of Crockett is hereby attached to the county of Val Verde for judicial purposes.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall appoint some suitable citizen of said district, possessing the qualifications required by the Constitution in case of an election, judge of said district, who shall hold his office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and qualified; and the Governor shall also appoint some suitable citizen of said district, possessing the qualification required in case of an election, district attorney of said district until the next general election and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Sec. 4. All writs and process returnable to the district courts as heretofore fixed in the several counties affected by this act shall be as valid and binding as if no change had been made by this act.

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. Whereas the dockets of the district courts in the several counties composing the district hereby created are now in such crowded condition as to prevent a speedy trial of the same unless this bill is enacted into a law, creates such an emergency and public necessity as requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days; said rule is therefore suspended, and it is enacted that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 77 yeas, and passed the Senate by a vote of 23 yeas.]

Approved March 25, 1887.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

Sec. 1. Certain files, etc., declared to be archives of said department.

CHAP. 66.—[S. B. No. 147.] An Act to amend Article 62, Chapter 2, Title 7, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 62, Chapter 2, Title 7, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 62. The entire archives of the Congress of the late Republic of Texas, and of the several Legislatures of the State of Texas, arranged and filed according to law, together with the records, books, and journals of said Congress and Legislatures of the State, prepared in accordance with law, and heretofore or that may be hereafter deposited in the office of the Secretary of State, are declared to be archives of said office.

Approved, March 25, 1887.

HABEAS CORPUS.

Sec. 1. Repeals the restriction on obtaining the writ a second time.

CHAP. 67.—[S. B. No. 190.] An Act to repeal Article 190, Title 3, Chapter 8, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 190 of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas be and the same is hereby repealed.

Approved March 25, 1887.

COUNTY COURTS—JURISDICTION RESTORED.

Sec.

1. Restores the original jurisdiction to county courts of Live Oak, Karnes, La Salle, Kendall, Coryell, Panola, and Throckmorton Counties.
2. Appellate jurisdiction of said courts.
3. County judges of said counties may issue writs of injunction, etc.
4. For enforcement of forfeitures, etc.

Sec.

5. Jurisdiction of misdemeanors.
6. Transcripts of cases in district courts certified to said county courts.
7. Terms of county court in said counties, and return of process.
8. Jurisdiction in probate matters.

CHAP. 68.—[S. B. No. 2.] An Act to restore to and confer upon the county courts of Live Oak, Karnes, La Salle, Kendall, Coryell, Panola, and Throckmorton Counties the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore belonging to said courts under the Constitution and general statutes of the State, to conform the jurisdiction of the district courts of said counties to such change, and to repeal all laws in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county courts of Live Oak, Karnes, La Salle, Kendall, Coryell, Panola, and Throckmorton Counties, shall hereafter have exclusive original jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars and shall not exceed five hundred dollars exclusive of interest, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts of said counties when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred dollars and not exceed one thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. Said county courts shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases over which justices courts have original jurisdiction when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, and said county courts shall have power to hear and determine cases brought up from the justices courts by certiorari under the provisions of the title of the Revised Civil Statutes relating thereto.

Sec. 3. The county judges of said counties shall have authority, either in term time or vacation, to grant writs of mandamus, injunction, sequestration, garnishment, attachment, certiorari, supersedeas, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said court, and shall also have power to issue writs of habeas corpus in all cases in which the Constitution has not exclusively conferred the power on the district court or judge thereof.

Sec. 4. Said county court shall have jurisdiction in the forfeiture and judgment of all bonds and recognizances taken in criminal cases of which criminal cases said court has jurisdiction.

Sec. 5. Said county courts shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors, except misdemeanors involving official misconduct, and except cases in which the highest penalty of fine that may be imposed under the law may not exceed two hundred dollars, and said courts shall have also appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases of which justices of the peace and other inferior tribunals of said counties have original jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. The district courts of Live Oak, Karnes, La Salle, Kendall, Coryell, Panola, and Throckmorton Counties, shall no longer have jurisdiction of cases of which the county courts of said counties by the provisions of this act have exclusive original or appellate jurisdiction, and it shall be the duty of the clerks of the district courts of said counties within thirty days from the passage of this act to make a full and complete transcript of all orders on their dockets in cases now pending before said district courts of which cases by the terms of this act exclusive jurisdiction is given to the county courts, and to deliver said transcripts, together with the original papers and a certified bill of costs, to the clerk of said county courts, and said county clerks shall enter said case or cases on their dockets for trial by said county courts.

Sec. 7. The county courts of said counties shall hereafter hold their regular terms for civil and criminal business as provided in the Constitution and General Laws of the State, and process heretofore issued from the district courts of said counties in cases to be transferred under this act to the county courts shall be returnable to the first term of the county courts, and all civil cases transferred shall be entered as appearance cases upon the dockets of said county courts.

Sec. 8. The county courts of said Live Oak, Karnes, La Salle, Kendall, Coryell, Panola, and Throckmorton Counties shall have, as now, the general jurisdiction of probate courts for the probate of wills, appointment of guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, and for the issuance of letters testamentary and administration, settlement of accounts of administrators and guardians, and the settlement of distribution of decedent's estates, and the apprenticeship of minors, and all other necessary powers conferred by law on courts of probate.

Sec. 9. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved March 25, 1887.

ATTACHMENT AND SEQUESTRATION.

Sec. 1. Venue of suits for wrongfully suing out writs of.

CHAP. 69.—[S. B. No. 249.] An Act to provide for the venue of suits for damages growing out of attachment and sequestration suits.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any suit for damages growing out of the wrongful levy of a writ of attachment or sequestration, may be brought in any county from which such writ issued or in any county in which any such levy is made within this State.

Approved March 25, 1887.

ESTATES OF DECEDENTS.

Sec. 1. Partition per capita and per stirpes.

CHAP. 70.—[S. B. No. 289.] An Act to amend Article 1652 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, relating to the descent and distribution of estates.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1652 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be so amended as to read hereafter as follows:

Article 1652. When the intestate's children, or brothers and sisters, uncles and aunts, or any other relations of the deceased standing in the first and same degree alone come into the partition, they shall take per capita—that is to say, by persons; and when a part of them being dead and a part living, the descendants of those dead have right to partition, such descendants shall inherit only such portion of said property as the parent through whom they inherit would be entitled to if alive.

RELIEF OF CITIZENS OF CALHOUN COUNTY FROM TAXES.

Sec.

1. Relieves citizens of Calhoun from payment of State taxes for 1886.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 71.—[S. B. No. 166.] An Act to relieve the citizens of Calhoun County from the payment of taxes due to the State of Texas for the year A. D. 1886.

Whereas, on the 20th day of August, A. D. 1886, a great storm and flood swept over the county of Calhoun, which destroyed the city of Indianola and caused great loss of life; the floods caused by a great tidal wave passed over the greater portion of the country and destroyed every vestige of the growing crops in its wake, and killed large numbers of cattle, horses, and other stock; in portions of the county not reached by the flood the wind was so violent that many dwellings, fences, etc., were utterly demolished; scarcely a building of any character in the town that escaped wreck and damage;

And whereas the great loss of life and destruction of property in said county have produced a great public calamity by rendering homeless many hundreds of its inhabitants; Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the citizens of Calhoun County be and they are hereby released from the payment of taxes due by them in said county to the State for the year A. D. 1886, and that the collector of taxes for the said county is hereby forbidden to collect the taxes due the State in said county for the year A. D. 1886 by the inhabitants of said Calhoun County.

Sec. 2. Whereas the time being near at hand for the enforced collection of taxes due the State, an emergency exists which justifies that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 28 yeas, no nays; and passed the House by vote of 73 yeas.]

Approved March 25, 1887.

CITIES AND TOWNS—CONCERNING DEBTS OF.

Sec.

1. Cities and towns may compromise existing debts, and to pay such debts may issue new bonds.
2. In making compromises debts barred by the statutes of limitation shall not be funded.
3. New bonds exempt from municipal taxes, and receivable for taxes levied to pay the same.
4. Bonds to be signed by the mayor, attested by the secretary, and registered in the office of the State Comptroller.
5. New bonds may be exchanged for old, or sold and proceeds applied under certain restrictions.
6. Continues laws now in force for collection of taxes—When sinking fund may be applied to purchase of new bonds.

Sec.

7. Continues laws for the levy and collection of taxes when the compromise is accepted—Limiting defenses to actions on new bonds, etc.
8. Collector liable on his official bond at the suit of holders of new bonds for failing to collect taxes, etc.—Governor to appoint collector, when.
9. Board of Liquidation; how appointed, duties of, etc.
10. Provides for appointment of a receiver, etc.
11. Repeals act of March 25, 1879, in so far as said act applies to bonds issued under act of April 12, 1871—Does not repeal the act of April 12, 1879.
12. Emergency clause.
13. Suspends rule requiring bills to be read on three several days.

CHAP. 72 —[S. B. No. 291.] An Act to authorize any city or town in this State to compromise existing indebtedness, and to issue new bonds to be sold or exchanged for this purpose, and to provide for the efficient collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest of such new bonds, and to provide for the appointment of receivers for said municipal corporations during the pendency of negotiations for such compromise.

Whereas in some of the cities and towns of this State there is an existing indebtedness against the same necessitating the collection of an excessive tax upon the people to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund as required by law for the ultimate extinguishment of said indebtedness,

And whereas it is believed a satisfactory adjustment, settlement and compromise of much of said indebtedness could be effected between said cities and towns and the holders of such indebtedness if duly authorized by law, by which such indebtedness would be greatly reduced and taxation necessary to meet the same greatly lessened in amount;

And whereas the accomplishment of this adjustment, settlement and compromise is a great public necessity which requires the rules to be suspended that this act may become a law at the present session of the Legislature, and that it take effect and be in force from and after its passage: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the mayor and board of aldermen of any city or town in this State are hereby authorized and empowered, by resolution or ordinance of said board of aldermen reciting the caption of this act and adopting the same, to compromise and fund any existing valid indebtedness by such city or town issued, whether bonded or floating, and the coupons due upon the bonded debt; and for this purpose they are hereby authorized and empowered to issue new bonds, in denomination of not less than fifty nor more than one thousand dollars, in their discretion, with interest coupons payable semi-annually at the office of the State Treasurer or at such other place as said boards of aldermen shall provide; said new bonds to become due and payable in not exceeding thirty years, and to bear such rate of interest, not exceeding six per cent per annum, as in their discretion may best subserve the purpose intended by this act.

Sec. 2. No compromise shall be made under the provisions of this act by which any debt shall be funded which is now barred by the statute of limitations, or which may be barred at the time of such compromise.

Sec. 3. The new bonds thus issued by any city or town shall be exempt from the payment of all taxes levied by such city or town, and the taxes levied to pay said new bonds may be paid in said bonds or coupons thereof if matured: Provided, That said coupons and bonds shall only be received in payment of taxes levied for the purpose of paying such bonds and coupons.

Sec. 4. That the mayor and board of aldermen shall cause to be prepared the necessary blank bonds to give effect to the provisions of this act, the cost of which shall be paid out of the treasurer [treasury] of such city or town; said bonds when issued by any city or town shall be signed by the mayor and attested by the secretary (or recorder if there be no secretary), with the seal of such city or town affixed; and such new bonds, whether issued by any city or town, shall be registered in the office of the State Comptroller.

Sec. 5. Such new bonds may be exchanged for the old bonds, or they may be sold and the proceeds applied to the purchase of such old bonds: Provided, That no delivery of such new shall take place unless a contract has already been entered into for the purchase of a corresponding amount of such old bonds: And provided further, No bonds issued under this act shall be sold at less than par, and each bond shall be made to bear the lowest rate of interest that will give a par value.

Sec. 6. That all laws now in force providing for the collection of taxes for the payment of the principal and interest of such existing bonds shall apply and be in force for the collection of taxes for the payment of the principal and interest of such new bonds: Provided, That the sinking fund may be used in the purchase and cancellation of such new bonds whenever the same can be bought at not more than their par value.

Sec. 7. The object and intention of this act being to enable the cities or towns in this State which have granted subsidy bonds to railroads or other works of internal improvement, or created any other indebtedness whatever, whether bonded or floating, to compromise the same, and thereby reduce the burden of taxation, it is hereby declared, as an inducement to the holders of said bonds to accept the compromise, that whenever such compromise shall be entered into and accepted in good faith either by the holders of the present bonds or by any persons purchasing such new bonds as provided in this act, that all laws now in force or which may hereafter be in force for the assessment and collection of the State taxes shall also be in force and apply to the assessment and collection of the taxes levied to meet the interest and sinking fund of said new bonds; and in any suits which may hereafter be instituted to enforce the payment of said new bonds or coupons against any such city or town, no defense either in law or equity shall be admitted in any of the courts of this State except such as originated upon or subsequent to the issuance of such new bonds.

Sec. 8. Whenever a collector of taxes shall neglect or refuse to collect the taxes levied for the payment of the interest and sinking fund of such new bonds, he shall be liable on his official bond, at the suit of any persons holding any of said bonds or coupons, for all such damages as said person or persons shall have sustained by reason of his neglect or refusal; nor shall such collector or his sureties be relieved of such liability by his resignation of the office; and whenever any person who may be elected collector of taxes of any city or town shall fail, neglect, or refuse to give the bond required by law for the collection of such tax, or whenever the mayor and board of aldermen shall appoint any person who shall fail, neglect, or refuse to give said bond, or whenever they shall fail, neglect, or refuse to appoint some person who will give said bond and collect said tax, then it is hereby made the duty of the Governor to appoint some suitable person to collect said taxes, who shall perform all the duties required by this act or any other laws of this State relating to the collection of said taxes, from the term of his said appointment until the next general election.

Sec. 9. That whenever a compromise of the debt of any city or town shall be effected as hereinbefore provided, and the bonds are delivered to the creditors, a board of liquidation, consisting of five reputable citizens of such city or town, shall be appointed forthwith in the manner following: The mayor of the city or town shall appoint one, the Governor of the State shall appoint one, and the district judge of the district in which such city or town shall be situated shall appoint one, the city council of the city or town shall appoint one, and the holders of said indebtedness, or a majority of them, shall appoint one, and each shall fill vacancies in the office of their respective appointees in said board; and in case of failure, neglect, or refusal of any one or all of said officers to appoint a member of said board, or to fill vacancies therein, then the holders of said bonds, or any one or more of them, shall have the right to apply to the district court of the district in which such city or town shall be situated, or to the judge thereof in vacation, for the appointment of a member or members of said board necessary to complete the same, and it shall be the duty of said court or judge to make said appointment. The members of said board shall serve without compensation, and shall hold their offices for the term of four years and until their successors are appointed and qualified. Each member of said board shall take an oath to faithfully perform the duties of his office. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Said board, or a majority thereof, shall select some solvent depository for all moneys coming under their control, as hereinafter provided, and for whose acts they shall be responsible, and shall, in writing signed by them, notify the collector of taxes of said city or town of said selection. It shall thereupon become the duty of such collector to deposit at the close of business each day one-half of all moneys collected by him for the twenty-four hours next preceding on account of all the taxes of whatever nature levied by said city or town with the said depository, whose receipt therefor shall be an acquittance to said collector; and said collectors shall be liable on their official bonds for any failure to promptly make such deposits, and for ten per cent per month of such amounts and in addition thereto as penalty, which sums may be recovered by said board of liquidation in a suit therefor, and it shall be their duty to promptly institute such suits. But whenever the total of such deposits shall equal the annual interest on the said bonds it shall be lawful for such collector to discontinue said deposits until he shall be notified in writing by said board that said deposits are reduced below that sum. Said funds of cities or towns shall be subject to the order of said boards of liquidation, and shall be applied by them to the payment, first, of the interest on said bonds as the same matures, and, secondly, to the payment of the principal thereof. The members of said board shall be liable for the prompt payment of said interest out of said funds, and in case of failure or refusal they shall in addition be liable to ten per cent of the amount of such interest as damages, to be recovered by any person aggrieved thereby, in any court of competent jurisdiction. Whenever there shall be in the hands of such depositaries a sufficient sum to pay two per cent of the principal of said bonds in addition to one and one-half years interest, it shall be the duty of said board of liquidation to use the same in the purchase of outstanding bonds as provided in section six of this act, which bonds when so purchased shall be cancelled, and shall, together with all coupons which have been paid, be returned to the council of the city or town. Expenses incurred by said board in advertising for purchase of bonds shall be paid out of said funds. Said boards shall make semi-annual report to the said councils of their acts and of all receipts and disbursements of moneys coming under their control.

Sec. 10. That any city or town so situated as is herein set forth, which fails to accomplish a compromise of its debts, or pending the negotiation of a compromise, shall be permitted, on its application setting forth its financial condition and insolvency, to have the district court of the county in which said city or town is situated take charge of the collection and appropriation of all taxes levied and assessed by said city or town, except so much thereof as is necessary to pay the current expenses of the city or town; and to that end said court, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall appoint a receiver, or may make the assessor and collector of said city or town its receiver, to collect and pay into a named depository all taxes levied by said city or town for the payment of its debts; and said courts shall decide all questions of priority between conflicting claimants of said funds, and shall provide for the ratable and equitable distribution of said funds among all creditors entitled thereto. But it shall not be lawful for any court to appoint a receiver of or concerning any city or town except upon the voluntary application of such city or town.

Sec. 11. That this act shall not be construed to repeal an act entitled "An Act to authorize counties, cities, and towns to scale and fund their indebtedness, and for raising means to pay the same," approved March 25, A. D. 1879, except in so far as said act may apply to bonds issued under an act entitled "An Act to authorize counties, cities, and towns to aid in the construction of railroads and other works of internal improvement," approved April 12, 1871, and to that extent it is hereby repealed; nor shall this act be construed to repeal an act entitled "An Act to authorize any county, city, or town in this State to compromise existing bonded indebtedness, and to issue new bonds to be sold or exchanged for this purpose, and to provide for the efficient collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest of such new bonds," approved April 18, 1879.

Sec. 12. The fact that compromises may be made under this bill at an early date, and that agreements to that effect are practically pending at this time, and of great importance, causes an emergency to exist which requires this act to take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Sec. 13. The near approach of the close of the session creates an imperative public necessity and emergency demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring a bill to be read on three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, 4 nays; and passed the House by a vote of 68 yeas, 3 nays.]

Approved, March 26, 1887.

DIMINISHES THE JURISDICTION OF THE COUNTY COURTS OF ORANGE, CONCHO, TYLER, GREER, AND MASON COUNTIES.

Sec.

1. Diminishes the jurisdiction of said county courts except in matters of probate, guardianship, etc.
2. The duties of county and district court clerks in cases transferred from county court—Cases transferred to district courts shall be appearance cases.

Sec.

3. Repealing clause.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 73.—[S B. No. 149.] An Act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county courts of Orange, Concho, Tyler, Greer, and Mason Counties, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district courts of said counties to such change.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county courts of Orange, Concho, Tyler, Greer, and Mason Counties shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of probate courts; shall probate wills; appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary; settle accounts of executors, administrators and guardians; transact all business pertaining to estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics and persons non compos mentis and common drunkards, including the partition, settlement and distribution of estates of deceased persons; persons; and to apprentice minors as provided by law; and to issue all writs necessary to the enforcement of their jurisdiction; and to punish contempts under such provisions as are or may be provided by the general law governing county courts throughout the State; and to have and exercise general jurisdiction over questions of eminent domain as prescribed by law; but said county courts shall have no other jurisdiction, civil or criminal.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the county clerks of Orange, Concho, Tyler, Greer, and Mason Counties, within twenty days after the passage of this act, to make a full and complete transcript of all orders on the dockets of the county courts of said counties, now pending in said courts, of those cases over which by the terms of this act exclusive jurisdiction is given to the district court, and to deliver said transcript, together with the original papers and a certified bill of the costs in each case, to the clerks of the district courts of Orange, Concho, Tyler, Greer, and Mason Counties, and said district clerk shall enter said cases on their dockets for trial by said district courts; and all process now issued and returnable to the county courts of Orange, Concho, Tyler, Greer, and Mason Counties, of which by this act the district courts have been given jurisdiction, shall be returnable to the district courts of said counties by the officers executing the same, and all cases transferred by this act shall stand as appearance cases in said district courts, and shall be tried by said district courts as other cases; and the district courts shall have and exercise all the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore vested in said county courts by the Constitution and laws and not divested by this act.

Sec. 3. That all laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. That in order to save much unnecessary trouble, inconvenience, and expense to the citizens of Orange, Concho, Tyler, Greer, and Mason Counties, an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days should be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 71 yeas, 2 nays.]

Approved, March 26, 1887.

DIMINISHES THE JURISDICTION OF THE COUNTY COURT OF BRAZOS COUNTY.

Sec.

1. Defines the criminal and probate jurisdiction of the county court of Brazos County.
2. Provides that the county court shall have appellate jurisdiction of criminal and certain civil cases from magistrates courts.

Sec.

3. Confers jurisdiction on the district court of all causes which under the general laws the county court would have jurisdiction except as provided for in sections one and two of this act.
4. Duties of the county and district court clerks in all cases transferred by this act to the district court.
5. Repealing clause.

CHAP. 74.—[S. B. No. 141.] An Act to diminish the civil jurisdiction of the county court of Brazos County, and to conform the jurisdiction of the district court of said county to such change.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Brazos County shall have and exercise original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors of which exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to justices of the peace as the same are now or may hereafter be prescribed by law, and when the fine to be imposed shall exceed two hundred dollars; and it shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of courts of probate; it shall have power and exercise jurisdiction to probate wills; appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; grant letters testamentary and of administration; settle the accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians; transact all business appertaining to estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of deceased persons; and to apprentice minors as provided by law; and to issue all writs necessary for the enforcement of their jurisdiction; and to punish contempts under such provisions as are or may be provided by law; and said county court shall have no other original civil jurisdiction.

Sec. 2. Said county court shall have appellate jurisdiction in cases civil and criminal of which justices courts have original jurisdiction but of such civil cases only when the judgment of the court appealed from or the amount in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars exclusive of costs.

Sec. 3. That the district court of said Brazos County shall have and exercise general jurisdiction as heretofore provided by law, and in addition thereto said court shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil matters and causes over which by the general laws of the State the county court of said county would have jurisdiction, except as provided in sections one and two of this act; and that all cases other than such as are provided in sections one and two of this act be and the same are hereby transferred to the district court of said county; and all writs and process pertaining to civil cases heretofore issued by or out of said county court other than those relating to matters over which by sections one and two of this act jurisdiction is given to the county court of said county, be and the same are hereby made returnable to the term of the district court next ensuing after this act goes into effect.

Sec. 4. That the clerk of the county court of said county be and he is hereby required, within twenty days after this act goes into effect, to make a fair and complete transcript of all the entries on the civil docket of said county court theretofore made in cases which by section three of this act are transferred to the district court of said county, and file the same, together with the original papers of all said cases and proceedings, with the clerk of the district court of said county; and all such cases shall be docketed by the clerk of the district court of said county, and said cases shall stand on the docket of said district court for trial and disposition in the order in which they are docketed; and for each of said transcripts the county clerk shall receive twenty cents per hundred words, and fifty cents for a certificate thereto, to be taxed as costs against the party cast in the suit.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved, March 26, 1887.

STOCK LAWS.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Art. 4604, as to impounding trespassing stock; 4605, such stock shall not be sold where owners pay damages, etc.

CHAP. 75.—[H. B. No. 211.] An Act to amend Articles 4604 and 4605, Title 93, Chapter 4, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, to provide for preventing certain animals from running at large in counties and subdivisions.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Articles 4604 and 4605 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas be so amended as to read as follows:

Article 4604. If any stock forbidden to run at large shall enter the enclosed lands, or shall, without being herded, roam about the residence, lots, or cultivated land of any person other than the owner of such stock, without his consent, in any county or subdivision in which the provisions of this chapter have become operative in the manner provided in the preceding articles, the owner, lessee, or person in lawful possession of such lands may impound said stock and detain the same until his fees and all damages occasioned by said stock are paid to him.

Article 4605. No animals shall be impounded unless they have entered upon the enclosed lands or shall be found roaming about the residence, lots, or cultivated land of another, and whenever any stock is impounded notice thereof shall at once be given to the owner, if known, and such owner shall be entitled to their possession upon payment of fees and damages.

Approved, March 26, 1887.

GAMING.

Sec. 1. Prescribes punishment for keeping or exhibiting gaming table, etc.

CHAP. 76.—[S. B. No. 232.] An Act to amend Article 358, of Chapter 3, Title 11, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 358, of Chapter 3, Title 11, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, be so amended as to read as follows:

Article 358. If any person shall keep or exhibit for the purpose of gaming any gaming table or bank of any name or description whatever, or any table or bank used for gaming which has no name, any pigeon-hole table or jenny-lind table, or nine or ten pin alley, table or alley of any kind whatever regardless of the number of pins, balls, or rings used, used for gaming,—and such pigeon-hole table or jenny-lind table, or nine or ten pin alley, table or alley of any kind whatever regardless of the number of pins, balls, or rings used, shall be considered as used for gaming if the table fees, or alley fees, or money, or anything of value is bet thereon,—or shall be in any manner interested in keeping or exhibiting any such table or bank, or nine or ten pin alley, table or alley of any kind whatever regardless of the number of pins, balls, or rings used, at any place, he shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars and imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten nor more than ninety days.

Approved, March 26, 1887.

RAILROADS.

Sec.

1. Cars for shipping sheep, goats, hogs, and calves, shall be double-decked.

Sec.

2. Prescribes rates for double-decked cars and penalties for evading this act—Railroads can charge only half rate where a single-decked car is furnished.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 77.—[H. B. No. 256.] An Act to compel railroad companies to provide double-decked cars for shipment of goats, sheep, hogs, and calves, and to prevent discrimination against shippers thereof, and to provide penalties therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all railroad companies operating any railroad, or any part thereof, within the limits of this State, be and the same are hereby required to provide cars with double decks for the shipment of sheep, goats, hogs, and calves; that the said cars must be in every way as large as those now in use upon the respective railroads in this State; that the distance between the floor and the second deck shall be the same as the distance between said second deck and the roof; that the floor of said second deck shall be so constructed as to protect the animals beneath; and that said cars must be furnished by the railroad company to any person who shall offer to ship at one time hogs, sheep, goats, or calves, in carload lots.

Sec. 2. It shall not be lawful for any railroad company to charge more for shipping a double-decked carload of sheep, goats, hogs, or calves, than is charged for shipping a carload of other cattle or horses the same distance and in the same direction; and any railroad company that shall fail or refuse to furnish double-decked cars of the dimension prescribed in the preceding section, to any person who may wish to ship as much as a double-decked carload of sheep, hogs, goats, or calves, or shall charge more for shipping a double-decked carload of sheep, hogs, goats, or calves, than for shipping a carload of other cattle or horses for the same distance and in the same direction, shall be liable to pay to the owner or shipper of said sheep, hogs, goats, or calves, the sum of five hundred dollars as liquidated damages, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction: Provided, That if railroad companies shall transport sheep, hogs, goats, and calves, on single-decked cars at one-half the price per carload charged for shipping horses or other cattle, then the penalties prescribed in this act for failure to provide double-decked cars shall be inoperative.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the session and the great number of bills yet to be disposed of by this Legislature creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is so suspended and this act placed upon its third reading and final passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved, March 26, 1887.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Sec. 1. Prescribes oath of county judge and commissioners and bond of commissioners.

CHAP. 78.—[H. B. No. 330.] An Act to amend Article 1512, Chap. 1, Title 31, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1512, Chapter 1, Title 31, of the Revised Civil Statutes, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 1512. Before entering upon the duties of his office the county judge and each commissioner shall take the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution, and shall also take an oath that he will not be directly or indirectly interested in any contract with or claim against the county in which he resides, except such warrants as may issue to him as fees of office, which oath shall be in writing, and taken before such officer authorized to administer oaths, and, together with the certificate of the officer who administered the same, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county court in a book to be provided for that purpose, and each commissioner shall execute a bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the judge of the county court of his county, in the sum of three thousand dollars, payable to the treasurer of his county, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office.

Approved, March 26, 1887.

REGULATING THE SALE OF SPIRITUOUS AND OTHER INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

Sec. 1. Amends an act approved April 4, 1881, amendatory of Secs. 1 and 4 of an act approved March 11, 1881; also amends Secs. 5 and 8 of the act of March 11, 1881, concerning sale, etc., of intoxicating liquors.

CHAP. 79.—[H. B. No. 101.] An Act to amend "An Act to amend sections one (1) and four (4) of An Act to regulate the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters; to fix the rate of occupation taxes upon all persons, firms, or associations of persons engaged in the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters; to define the manner and time of collecting such tax, and to affix penalties for the failure to pay the same; and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act, approved March 11, 1881," approved April 4, 1881; and to amend "An Act to regulate the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters; to fix the rate of occupation tax upon all persons, firms, or associations of persons engaged in the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters; to define the manner and time of collecting such tax, and to affix penalties for failure to pay the same; and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act," approved March 11, 1881.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section four (4) of an act to amend sections one (1) and four (4) of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters; to fix the rate of occupation taxes upon all persons, firms, or associations of persons engaged in the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters; to define the manner and time of collecting such tax, and affix penalties for the failure to pay the same; and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act, approved March 11, 1881," approved April 4, 1881; and that sections five (5) and eight (8) of An Act to regulate the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters; to fix the rate of occupation tax upon all persons, firms, or associations of persons engaged in the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters; to define the manner and time of collecting such tax, and to affix penalties for the failure to pay the same; and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act, approved March 11, 1881, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 4. Any person, firm, or association of persons desiring to engage in the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, shall, before engaging in such occupation, be required to enter into bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, with at least two good, lawful, and sufficient sureties, payable to the State of Texas, to be approved by the county judge, conditioned that said person, firm or association of persons so selling spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, in quantities less than a quart, shall keep an open, quiet, and orderly house or place for the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication; and that he or they will not sell or permit to be sold in his or their house or place of business, nor give, nor permit to be given, any spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, to any person under the age twenty-one years, or to a student of any institution of learning, or to any habitual drunkard, or to any person after having been notified in writing through the sheriff or other peace officer, by the wife, mother, daughter, or sister of the person, not to sell to such person; and that he or they will not permit any person under the age of twenty-one years to enter and remain in such house or place of business; and that he or they will not permit any games prohibited by the laws to be played, dealt, or exhibited in or about such house or place of business; and that he or they will not keep or permit to be kept, for profit, amusement, or other purposes, in or about his or their place of business, any nine or ten pin alley, pool table, bagatelle, pigeon-hole, or jenny-lind table, nor any other kind of table or device used for games of chance; and that he or they will not rent or let any part of the house or place in which he or they have undertaken to sell spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, in quantities less than a quart, to any person or persons, for the purpose of running or conducting any game or games prohibited by the laws of this State; and that he or they will not adulterate in any manner by mixing any drug with any intoxicating liquor of any kind; and that he or they will not knowingly sell or give away any impure or adulterated liquor of any kind; which said bond may be sued on at the instance of any person or persons aggrieved by the violation of its provisions, and such person shall be entitled to recover the sum of five hundred dollars as liquidated damages for each infraction of the conditions of such bond, and the said bond shall not be void on the first recovery, but may be sued on until the full penal sum named therein shall have been recovered. In addition to civil proceedings for individual injuries brought on said bond as above indicated, if any person, firm, or association of persons, shall violate any of the conditions of the bond herein required, it shall be the duty of the county and district attorneys, or either of them, to institute suit thereupon in the name of the State of Texas for the use and benefit of the county, and the amount of five hundred dollars as a penalty shall be recovered from the principals and sureties upon a breach of any of the conditions thereof; and whenever the first or subsequent bond, as required, is exhausted by suit at the instance of individuals or for the use of the county, a new similar bond shall be given and approved before the dealer shall have the right to further pursue his occupation as a retail liquor dealer; or in case suit is pending on any such bond, and the county or district attorney shall make and file an affidavit with the clerk of the county court that he believes the bond of the defendant will be exhausted by said suit, the clerk shall at once notify the liquor dealer thereof, and it shall be the duty of the retail liquor dealer within twenty days from the time the bond is exhausted, or in other event within twenty days from the time the notice is given, to give a new bond similar to the bond first given, to be approved in the same way, and until such new bond is given and approved when it is required by this act, the retail liquor dealer shall not have the right to further pursue his occupation; and any person, firm, or association of persons who shall pursue his or their said occupation without giving the first bond or the new bond, as required by this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined the same amount provided for in cases where no license has been obtained. The provisions of this section shall not be so construed as to repeal or in any manner affect any penal laws now in force in this State concerning the unlawful sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication; nor shall they be construed as depriving any person, firm, or association of persons, who are now pursuing the occupation of selling spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, in any quantity, who have complied with the law regulating the same, from continuing the said pursuit or occupation for the full length of time for which license was obtained, and the law otherwise complied with. An open house in the meaning of this act is one in which no screen or other device is used or placed, either inside or outside of such house or place of business, for the purpose of or that will obstruct the view through the open door or place of entrance into any such house or place where intoxicating liquors are sold in quantities less than a quart. A quiet house or place of business in the meaning of this act is one in which no music, loud and boisterous talking, yelling, or indecent or vulgar language is allowed, used, or practiced, or any other noise calculated to disturb or annoy persons residing or doing business in the vicinity of such house or place of business, or those passing along the streets or public highways. By an orderly house is meant one in which no prostitute or lewd woman or women are allowed to enter or remain; and it is further provided that said house must not contain any vulgar or obscene pictures.

Section 5. The county clerks in the several counties in this State shall issue license to any person, firm, or association of persons engaged or desiring to engage in the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, upon payment by such person, firm, or association of persons of all occupation taxes herein levied for State purposes, and such additional occupation taxes as shall be levied by commissioners courts and by incorporated towns or cities, and also filing the bond required in section four of this act; the evidence of payment of all tax upon such occupation shall be the receipt of the county collector of taxes for such amount of tax as shall have been or may be assessed and collected for State and county purposes upon such occupation, and the receipt of the city collector of taxes for the amount of such tax paid any city or town wherein such business or occupation may be carried on. If any county clerk shall issue a license to any dealer in intoxicating liquors without first requiring the bond provided for in this act, he shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars. For issuing the license herein provided for, the county clerks shall be entitled to charge and receive a fee of twenty-five cents for each license so issued.

Section 8. The license required by this act shall be posted in some conspicuous place in the house where the business or occupation for which such license is necessary is carried on; and for a failure to so conspicuously post such license at or in such place of business, any person or any member of any firm or association of persons so failing shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not to exceed twenty-five dollars; and each day of such failure to so conspicuously post such license shall constitute a separate offense.

Approved, March 20, 1887.

PUBLIC LANDS.

Sec.

1. Provides for sale of tracts containing not more than six hundred and forty acres situated in organized counties.
2. Application for, how made.
3. Surveyor, duties of, etc.
4. Surveyor, fees of.

Sec.

5. Purchaser shall pay for same at rate of two dollars per acre—Commissioner General Land Office to issue patent on receipt of certificate of payment.
6. Forfeiture by applicant for failing to pay therefor.
7. Saving clause.

CHAP. 80.—[S. B. No. 77.] An Act to provide for the sale of such appropriated public lands situated in the organized counties of the State of Texas as contain not more than six hundred and forty acres.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person desiring to purchase any of such appropriated public lands situated in the organized counties of the State of Texas as contain not more than six hundred and forty acres, appropriated by "An Act to provide for the sale of a portion of the unappropriated public lands of the State of Texas, and the investment of the proceeds of such sale," approved July 14, A. D. 1879, may do so by causing the tract or tracts which such person may desire to purchase to be surveyed by the authorized public surveyor of the county in which such land is situated. The provisions of this act shall not be so construed as to prohibit the right of pre-empting within the bounds of the reservation here made; but any person shall have the same right of acquiring a homestead within this reservation, under the pre-emption laws of this State; as he may have had prior to the passage of this act.

Sec. 2. The person desiring to purchase any of said lands shall make application therefor in writing, describing the lands by reference to the surrounding surveys.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the surveyor to survey the lands designated in said application within three months from the date thereof, and within sixty days after said survey to certify to, record, and map the field notes of said survey; and he shall also, within the said sixty days, return to and file the same in the General Land Office, together with the applications for the purchase thereof, as required by law in other cases.

Sec. 4. Surveyors shall be entitled to receive from applicants for the purchase of lands under the authority of this act, all legal surveyors' fees for work done by them.

Sec. 5. Within ninety days after the return to and filing in the General Land Office of the surveyor's certificate, map, and field notes of the land desired to be purchased, it shall be the right of the person who has had the same surveyed to pay, or cause to be paid, into the treasury of the State of Texas the purchase money therefor at two dollars per acre; and upon the presentation to the Commissioner of the General Land Office of the receipt of the State Treasurer for such purchase money, said Commissioner shall issue to said person a patent for the tract or tracts of land so surveyed and paid for.

Sec. 6. Should any applicant for the purchase of public land fail, refuse, or neglect to pay for the same within the time prescribed in section five of this act, he shall forfeit all rights thereto, and shall not thereafter be allowed to purchase the same, but such land so surveyed may be sold as if no survey had been made.

Sec. 7. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to operate as a repeal of the reservations and donations of the lands referred to in this act to the free school and public debt funds made by former laws, but such reservations and donations shall be preserved intact, and the proceeds arising from the sale of the same under the provisions of this act shall go one-half to the permanent free schools and the other to the public debt fund.

TWELFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Sec.

1. Prescribes terms of court in the several counties comprised in said district.

Sec.

[2.] Return of writs and process.
[3.] Emergency clause.

CHAP. 81.—[S. B. No. 306.] An Act to amend an act entitled An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys of said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 12, Chapter 67, of the Acts of the regular session of the Eighteenth Legislature (1883), be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 2 [12]. The Twelfth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Trinity, Walker, Grimes, Madison and Leon, and the district courts shall be held in said counties as follows:

In the county of Trinity on the first Monday in February, and may continue in session until the first Monday in March; and on the first Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Walker on the first Monday in March and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Grimes on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in March and September, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Madison on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Leon on the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in March and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 3 [2]. That this act may take effect and be in force from and after the first day of August, 1887; and that all writs and process, civil and criminal, heretofore issued, or which may be issued up to the time this act takes effect, by or from the district court of Trinity County, which is the only court affected by this act, and which are made returnable to the terms of said court as the same are now fixed by law, be and are made returnable to the terms of said court as fixed by this act in same manner as if this act took immediate effect.

Sec. 4. [3]. The near approach of the close of this session and the importance of the passage of this bill creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days, and the same is therefore suspended.

Approved, March 29, 1887.

NINTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Sec.

1. Prescribes terms of court in the several counties composing said district.

8. Until the completion of said house, convicts shall be confined in the penitentiaries.
9. Provision for discharged convict.
10. Makes an appropriation for the purpose of establishing said house of correction.

CHAP. 84.—[H. B. No. 21.] An Act to establish a house of correction and reformatory, and to provide for its government and maintenance, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: There [That] there shall be established in this State a house of correction and reformatory for the confinement of youthful convicts.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the Governor of the State, immediately after this act shall go into effect, to appoint three commissioners to select a site for said house of correction and reformatory, who shall make such selection with a view to its healthfulness, accessibility, wood and water supply, fertility of soil, and other advantages, and the same shall contain not less than six hundred and forty nor more than two thousand acres of land, and the same shall not be located in the vicinity of either of the penitentiaries now established, nor within two miles of any incorporated town or city. When a site has been selected for said house of correction and reformatory, as herein provided, and the price has been agreed upon, and such selection and the price have been approved by the Governor, it shall be the duty of the commissioners to purchase the same: Provided, The price does not exceed ten thousand dollars, to be paid for out of the appropriation provided for in this act. The title of the said property shall vest in the Governor of this State and his successors in office, for the use and benefit of said house of correction and reformatory. It shall be the duty of the trustees hereinafter provided for, to contract for and superintend the construction of such buildings and other improvements as may be necessary for the safe keeping, comfort, and profitable employment of the inmates confined therein; and in the construction of said buildings and improvements convict labor may be employed if deemed advisable in the interest of economy. Said commissioners shall each receive five dollars per day for the time they are actually employed in the selection and purchase of such site, and in addition thereto necessary traveling expenses in visiting different sections of the State to select an advantageous site for said house of correction and reformatory: Provided, Said commissioners shall not receive more than one hundred and fifty dollars and actual expenses: Provided further, That all the expenses mentioned in this act shall be paid out of the appropriation hereinafter made. The trustees hereinafter provided for shall employ a competent architect, at a salary not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars per month, to prepare plans and specifications for the construction of said building, and to personally supervise and direct the erection of the same; and the trustees are authorized and empowered to audit the accounts of said supervising architect and contractors, and to pay the same by installments as the work progresses, by draft drawn on the Treasurer and approved by the Governor of this State.

Sec. 3. The house of correction and reformatory, when completed or ready for occupancy, shall be placed under the supervision, direction, and control of three trustees, to be appointed by the Governor, who shall hold their office for two years unless sooner removed by the Governor for cause; and in case of vacancy the Governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment. They shall make such special rules and regulations as may be deemed proper for the same, having in view the reformation, education, and discipline as well as the profitable employment of the inmates confined in said house of correction and reformatory. They shall prescribe rules for the liberal commutation of time for good conduct. They shall see that said inmates are taught habits of industry and sobriety, some useful trade, and to read and write, and are also supplied with suitable books. In connection with said house of correction and reformatory there shall be established such mechanical industries as the board of trustees may deem proper and advisable, so that the inmates may be placed at such work in the discretion of the superintendent; and the trustees shall especially provide that the white and colored inmates shall be kept, worked, and educated separately. Said trustees shall employ all subordinate officers, prescribe their duties, and fix their compensation. Said trustees shall reside in the vicinity of said house of correction and reformatory, and shall each receive the sum of five hundred dollars per annum, to be paid quarterly upon sworn accounts approved by the Governor, upon which warrant shall be drawn by the Comptroller on the Treasurer for the same. Said trustees at their first meeting shall elect a treasurer and secretary from among their number. They shall keep full and accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements as well as their official proceedings, and make quarterly reports thereof to the Governor.

Sec. 4. The Governor as soon as necessary shall appoint a superintendent of said house of correction and reformatory, whose duty shall be to enforce the rules and regulations made by said trustees, and to manage and control the inmates thereof under the supervision of said trustees, and subject to removal by the Governor. The superintendent shall be a competent business man and a practical farmer of good moral character and of humane disposition, who shall receive a salary of eighteen hundred dollars per annum, to be paid quarterly by warrant drawn by the president of the board of trustees on the Treasurer and approved by the Governor. He shall also be financial agent, and shall purchase all material and supplies and disburse all moneys that may be appropriated therefor; and shall sell all products raised and all articles manufactured by said inmates, and shall deposit the amounts realized on sale of same in the treasury of the State, and shall take a certificate of deposit therefor from the Treasurer. Before entering upon his office he shall give bond, with good and sufficient sureties, payable to the Governor and his successors in office, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as superintendent and financial agent, which bond shall be approved by the Governor and deposited with the Secretary of State before said superintendent shall enter upon the duties of his office. He shall be under the control of said trustees, and shall hold his office for a term of two years unless sooner removed for failure, neglect, or refusal to perform his duties.

Sec. 5. The said superintendent shall, at the end of each month, pay all employes, and shall also pay off and discharge all expenses incurred in the purchase of supplies and other necessary expenses in the support and maintenance as well as the conducting of said house of correction and reformatory. He shall also purchase such necessary work stock, milk cows, and stock hogs, farm implements, and also necessary tools for shops and books for educational purposes, all of which amounts shall be duly itemized, verified by affidavit, presented to the board of trustees, and when approved by said board the president of the board shall draw his warrant in favor of said superintendent for the amount, which, when approved by the Governor, shall be paid by the Treasurer of the State.

Sec. 6. In said house of correction and reformatory shall be confined all convicts under the age of sixteen years who may be in the penitentiaries of this State and whose unexpired term of prison sentence may be five years or less, and all the persons under sixteen years of age who shall hereafter be convicted of a felony in any court in this State whose term of confinement shall not exceed five years: Provided, Said convicts confined in the house of correction and reformatory shall be required to wear such uniform as may be adopted by the board of trustees: Provided, No uniform shall be prescribed similar to that now worn by the convicts in the penitentiaries. It shall be the duty of the Governor, upon the recommendation of the board of trustees and superintendent of said house of correction and reformatory, for good behavior and exemplary moral conduct during confinement, to restore to such convicts all their legal rights at the expiration of their respective terms of servitude. When said house of correction and reformatory is ready to receive inmates, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of the penitentiaries of this State to report to the Governor the number of convicts in said penitentiaries under the age of sixteen years, and the Governor shall, by his proclamation, order all such convicts transferred from the penitentiaries to said house of correction and reformatory, where such convicts shall serve out the remainder of their sentence under the rules and regulations of said house of correction and reformatory.

Sec. 7. When, upon the trial and conviction of any person in this State of a felony, it is found by the verdict of the jury that the defendant is not more than sixteen years of age, and the verdict of conviction is by confinement for five years or less, the judgment and sentence of the court shall be that the defendant be confined in the house of correction and reformatory (instead of the penitentiary) for the term of his or her sentence, and that such defendant be conveyed to the house of correction and reformatory by the proper authority, and there confined for the period of his or her sentence; and for such service such officer shall be paid the same fees he would be allowed for carrying such convicts to the penitentiary.

Sec. 8. Until the completion of the house of correction and reformatory, all convicts now in the penitentiaries of the State, or who may be convicted before that time and by the terms of this act are subject to imprisonment in said house of correction and reformatory, shall be confined in the penitentiary, and shall be subject to the rules and regulations of said penitentiary.

Sec. 9. Upon the discharge of any person so committed to said house of correction and reformatory, the superintendent shall provide them with a suit of suitable clothing and five dollars in money, and procure transportation for them to their homes, if resident of this State, or to the county in which they may have been convicted, at his option.

Sec. 10. That the sum of fifty thousand dollars, and all receipts from farm products and manufactured articles raised or manufactured in said house of correction and reformatory, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated for the purpose of establishing the house of correction and reformatory herein provided for, to be paid on vouchers or warrants drawn by the commissioners or board of trustees on the Comptroller of Public Accounts, which shall be sufficient authority to the State Treasurer for the payment of the same: Provided, That not more than forty thousand dollars of this appropriation shall be expended in the building and equipment of said house of correction and reformatory.

Approved, March 29, 1887.

TAXATION.

Sec.

1. Amends Article 4761, as to payment of taxes into State Treasury.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 85.—[S. B. No. 188.] An Act to amend An Act to amend Article 4761 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, approved April 24, 1879.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 4761 of the Revised Civil Statutes shall hereafter read as follows:

Article 4761. The collectors of taxes shall, at the close of each month, pay over to the State Treasurer all moneys collected by them during the month, for the State, excepting such amounts as they are allowed by law to pay in the counties, reserving only their commissions on the same; and to enable them to do so, they may, at their own risk, secure and send the same to the Treasurer by express, or in postoffice orders, at not more than the usual rate of exchange, to be paid by the State; that the collectors of taxes shall pay over to the State Treasurer all balances in their hands belonging to the State, and finally adjust and settle their accounts with the Comptroller on or before the first day of May of each year; that the Treasurer, whenever he may receive from the collectors of taxes postoffice orders, shall collect the same and pay the money so collected into the treasury on the deposit warrant of the Comptroller, and the money when so deposited shall be a credit to the tax collector. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller to enforce a strict observance of the provisions of this article, but no public moneys shall be paid to the Comptroller except such as are made payable directly to him as collector of the same under existing statutes, and expressly provided by law to be paid to him as receiver of taxes; and in addition to the reports required by law to be made by tax collectors, they shall make a monthly statement under oath, on forms to be provided by the Comptroller, showing the amounts collected each month and the funds to which they belong. Any collector of taxes failing to comply with the provisions of this article shall be fined in a sum not less than five hundred and not more than one thousand dollars, and each failure to make the required report shall constitute a separate offense; and it shall be the duty of the Comptroller to notify the county attorney, or district attorney, of the county in which the collector resides, and the sureties on the bond of said collector, of any failure to comply with the provisions of this law.

Sec. 2. The necessity for the passage of this bill, and the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted, and that this act take effect and be in force from the passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 75 yeas, 1 nay.]

Approved, March 30, 1887.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—SEVENTEENTH AND FORTY-THIRD.

Sec.

1. Constitutes Tarrant County a judicial district, and fixes terms of court.
2. Defines Forty-third Judicial District, and fixes terms of court therein.

Sec.

3. Governor shall appoint judge in the Forty-third Judicial District.
4. For return of process.
5. Repealing clause.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 86.—[S. B. No. 329.] An Act to amend an act to amend an act entitled An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts and fix the times for holding courts therein and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9th, 1883, approved March 24th, 1885; to create the Forty-third Judicial District of the State of Texas, fix the times for holding court therein, and provide for the appointment of a district judge for said district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 17 of the above recited act be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 17. The county of Tarrant shall constitute the Seventeenth Judicial District, and court shall be begun and held therein as follows:

On the second Mondays in January, May, and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of: Provided, The terms beginning on the second Monday in May shall run to the first Monday in July.

Sec. 2. The counties of Parker, Wise, and Jack shall constitute the Forty-third Judicial District, and court shall be begun and holden therein as follows:

In the county of Parker on the second Mondays in May and November of each year, and may continue in session eight weeks;

In the county of Jack on the eighth Monday after the second Mondays in May and November of each year, and may continue in session four weeks;

In the county of Wise on the twelfth Monday after the second Mondays in May and November of each year, and may continue in session six weeks.

Sec. 3. That immediately after the passage of this act the Governor shall appoint a suitable person as judge of the Forty-third Judicial District, who shall hold his office until the next general election held for State and county officers, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

Sec. 4. All process heretofore issued, or served, returnable in any of the counties of said judicial districts as heretofore prescribed by law, shall be considered returnable at the times herein prescribed; and all such process is hereby legalized and validated as if the same had been made returnable at the times herein prescribed.

Sec. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, and the great need for the changes in the judicial districts mentioned in this act, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended; and that this act take effect from its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 22 yeas, no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 83 yeas, 2 nays.]

Approved, March 30, 1887.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—SIXTEENTH DISTRICT.

Sec.

1. Prescribes the terms of court in several counties of said district.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 87.—[S. B. No. 328.] An Act to amend an act to amend an act entitled An Act to amend Section 16 of an act entitled "An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," approved April 9th, 1883, approved March 30th, 1885.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 16 of the above recited act be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 16. The Sixteenth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Denton, Montague, and Cooke, and the district court shall be held therein as follows:

In the county of Denton on the first Mondays in January and the second Mondays in July, and may continue in session six weeks.

In the county of Montague on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and second Mondays in July and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Cooke on the sixteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and the second Mondays in July, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. The necessity for the passage of this bill and the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted, and that this act take effect and be in force from its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote 23 yeas, no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 79 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, March 30, 1887.

VENUE OF SUITS.

Sec. 1. Prescribes the venue in suits for breach of warranty of title.

CHAP. 88.—[S. B. No. 250.] An Act to amend Chapter 4, Title 29, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Article 1199a, so as to define the venue of suits upon breach of warranty of title to lands.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 4, Title 29, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Article 1199a.

Article 1199a. In breach of warranty of title to lands, where the vendors liable thereon live in different counties, the plaintiff may bring his action in any county where either of such vendors reside, and join all other vendors in one and the same suit.

Approved, March 30, 1887.

RAILROADS.

Sec.

1. Repeals act of April 18, 1879, requiring railroad companies to stop their trains at State boundary lines.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 89.—[H. B. No. 559.] An Act to repeal Chapter 95 of the General Laws of the State of Texas, passed at the regular session of the Sixteenth Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 95 of the General Laws of the State of Texas passed at the regular session of the Sixteenth Legislature, being an act approved April 18, 1879, and entitled "An Act requiring railroad companies to stop their trains at the boundary lines of the State of Texas for a certain length of time," be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The evils designed to be remedied by this act are of a character so serious as to create an emergency and an imperative public necessity for this act to take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and the near approach of the close of the session makes it an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is therefore so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a two-thirds vote; and passed the Senate by a vote of 27 yeas, 2 nays.]

Approved, March 30, 1887.

UNLAWFULLY SELLING INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

Sec.

1. Amends reading of Art. 378, Chap. 6, Title 11, of Penal Code, and adds thereto Articles 378a, 378b, 378c, 378d, 378e.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 90.—[S. H. B. No. 257.] An Act to amend Article 378, Chapter 6, Title 11, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, and to add Articles 378a, 378b, 378c, 378d, and 378e, to said chapter and title, prohibiting the unlawful selling of intoxicating liquors, and defining and prohibiting blind tigers, and providing rules of evidence and penalties therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 378 of the Penal Code be amended so as to hereafter read as follows; and that Title 11, Chapter 6, be amended by adding thereto Articles 378a, 378b, 378c, 378d, and 378e, which shall read as follows:

Article 378. If any person shall sell any intoxicating liquor in any county, justices precinct, city, or town in which the sale of intoxicating liquor has been prohibited under the laws of this State, or if any person shall give away any intoxicating liquor in any such county, justices precinct, city, or town with the purpose of evading the provisions of said laws, he shall be punished by fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars, and by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than twenty nor more than sixty days.

Article 378a. The preceding article shall not apply to the sale of wines for sacramental purposes, nor to alcoholic stimulants as medicines in cases of actual sickness, but such stimulants shall only be sold upon the prescription of a regular practicing physician, dated and signed by him, and certified on his honor that he (the physician) has personally examined the applicant (naming him) and that he finds him actually sick and in need of the stimulant prescribed as a medicine: Provided, That a physician who does not follow the profession of medicine as his principal and usual calling, or who is in any way directly or indirectly engaged in the sale of such stimulants, on his own account, or as the agent, employe, or partner of others, shall not be authorized to give the prescription provided for in this article: And provided further, That no person shall be permitted to sell more than once on the same prescription, or upon a prescription which has been cancelled, nor on a prescription which is not dated, signed, and certified as above required: Provided, That every person selling such stimulants upon the prescription herein provided for, shall cancel such prescription by endorsing thereon the word "cancelled," and file the same away.

Article 378b. It shall be the duty of any person who sells any intoxicating liquor upon the prescription provided for in Article 378a, to write across the face of the prescription, with ink, the word "cancelled," and for any failure to do so he shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars; and if any person shall sell any intoxicating liquor upon the prescription provided for in Article 378a, and shall permit the same to be drank at the place or establishment where sold, or at any other place provided for that purpose by such person, he shall be punished by fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars.

Article 378c. If any person who is not a regular practicing physician shall give a prescription to be used in obtaining any intoxicating liquor in any county, justices precinct, city or town, in which the sale of intoxicating liquor has been prohibited under the laws of this State; or if any practicing physician who is directly or indirectly, either for himself or as the agent or employe of another interested in the sale of intoxicating liquor, shall give a prescription to be used in obtaining any intoxicating liquor in any such county, justice precinct, city or town; or if any physician shall give a prescription to be used in obtaining any intoxicating liquor in any such county, justices precinct, city or town, to any one who is not actually sick, and without a personal examination of such person, he shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars, and by imprisonment in the county jail not less than twenty nor more than sixty days.

Article 378d. If any person shall keep or run, or shall be in any manner interested in keeping or running, a blind tiger in any county, justice precinct, city, or town in which the sale of intoxicating liquor has been prohibited under the laws of this State, he shall be punished by confinement in the county jail not less than two nor more than twelve months, and by fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars. Each and every day such blind tiger is run or kept shall be a separate offense. A "blind tiger," within the meaning of this article, is any place in which intoxicating liquors are sold by any device whereby the party selling or delivering the same is concealed from the person buying or to whom the same is delivered. Upon complaint being filed with any justice of the peace, describing the place where any "blind tiger" is kept or run, such justice shall issue his warrant directed, and commanding the sheriff or any constable of his county to search such place, and if the law is being violated to arrest the persons so violating it; and it shall be the duty of the officer to whom such warrant is delivered to search the place described in the warrant, and to arrest and bring before the justice who issued the writ all persons found by him therein; and if admission into said place is refused, the officer executing said warrant is hereby authorized to force open the same. In prosecutions under this article, where it is proven that there is posted up at the place where such blind tiger is kept or run, United States internal revenue liquor or malt license, to any one it shall be prima facie proof that the person to whom such license is issued is keeping and running such blind tiger.

Article 378e. When the sale of intoxicating liquor has been prohibited in any county, justice precinct, city, or town, the repeal of such prohibition shall not exempt from punishment any person who may have offended against any of the provisions of the law while it was in force, and the fact that a person purchases intoxicating liquor from any one who sells it in violation of the provisions of this chapter shall not constitute such person an accomplice.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the end of the session and the great number of bills pending creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists for the suspension of the rule requiring that bills be read on three several days, and it is so enacted.

Approved March 30, 1887.

RAILROADS—PAYMENT OF EMPLOYEES.

Sec. 1. Railroad companies shall promptly pay employees—Measure of damages for failure to comply with this act.

CHAP. 91.—[H. B. No. 31.] An Act to require railroads to pay their employees promptly, and prescribing a penalty for failure to pay them.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whenever any railroad company shall discharge any employee, or whenever the time of service of any employee of a railroad company shall expire, or whenever any railroad company shall be due and owing any employee, such railroad company, upon such discharge, or upon the termination of the term of such service, or upon the maturity of such indebtedness, shall, within fifteen days after demand therefor upon the nearest station agent of said railroad company, pay to such employee the full amount due and owing him; and in case said railroad company fails or refuses to pay such employee, then it shall be liable and pay to such employee twenty per cent on the amount due him, as damages, in addition to the amount so due, in no case the damages to be less than five nor more than one hundred dollars.

Approved, March 30, 1887.

RAILROADS—TO PREVENT THE DETENTION OF TRAINS.

Sec.

1. Prescribes penalty for interfering with the running of trains.

Sec.

2. Constitutes each day train is prevented a separate offense.

3. Prescribes penalty for injuring locomotives, etc.

CHAP. 92.—[H. B. No. 112.] An Act to prevent the detention of any railroad passenger train, freight train, or construction train running upon any railroad in this State, or any injury thereto, or to the track or other property of any railroad in this State, and to prescribe the punishment therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person or persons who shall, by force, threats, or intimidation of any kind whatever, against any railroad engineer or engineers, or any conductor, brakeman, or other officer or employee, employed or engaged in running any passenger train, freight train, or construction train running upon any railroad in this State, prevent the moving or running of said passenger, freight or construction train, shall be deemed guilty of an offense, and upon conviction thereof each and every person so offending shall be fined in a sum: not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and also imprisoned in the county jail for any period of time not less than three months nor more than twelve months.

Sec. 2. Each day said train or trains mentioned in section one of this act are prevented from moving on their road as specified in section one of this act, shall be deemed a separate offense, and shall be punished as prescribed in section one of this act.

Sec. 3. Any person who shall wilfully injure any railroad, locomotive-engine, or tender, or baggage, passenger, or freight car, of any railroad in this State, so as to prevent the use of the same, shall be punished by fine in any sum not less than one hundred dollars, and imprisoned in the county jail not less than three nor more than twelve months.

Approved, March 30, 1887.

ESTATES OF DECEDENTS.

Sec.

1. Amount of allowance to widow and minor children.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 93.—[S. B. No. 122.] An Act to amend Article 1985, Chapter 17, Title 37, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1985 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1985. Such allowance shall be of an amount sufficient for the maintenance of such widow and minor children for the term of one year from the time of the death of the testator or intestate, and such allowance to be fixed with regard to the facts existing during the first year after the death of such testator or intestate: Provided, That in no case shall such allowance exceed one thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

Approved, March 30, 1887.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—TWENTY-NINTH.

Sec.

1. What counties compose said district.

2. Return of writs and process.

Sec.

3. Repealing clause.

4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 94.—[S. B. No. 342.] An Act to designate what counties shall compose the Twenty-ninth Judicial District of the State of Texas, and to fix the times of holding court therein.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Twenty-ninth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Palo Pinto, Hood, Somervell, Erath, Hamilton, and Coryell, and terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Palo Pinto on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Hood on the third Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Somervell on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Erath on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Hamilton on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Coryell on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. All writs, process, and bonds, civil and criminal, which may be issued or executed up to the time this act takes effect, by or from the district courts of the several counties above named, or under order of said courts, and made returnable to the terms of said courts as they are now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing terms of said courts in each county as they are prescribed by this act; and all such writs, process, and bonds above mentioned, are hereby legalized and validated to all intents and purposes as if the same had been made returnable to the term of said courts as the terms thereof are herein prescribed.

Sec. 3. That this act take effect and be in force from and after the thirty-first day of July, A. D. 1887, and that all laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature makes it improbable that this bill could be regularly reached and passed, and an emergency is created, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

Approved, March 30, 1887.

COMMISSION OF ARBITRATION AND AWARD.

Sec.

1. Appointment, qualification, term, salary, etc., of commissioners.
2. Shall have power to hear and determine cases pending in Supreme Court referred thereto by written consent of parties.
3. The commissioners' award, in cases referred by consent, to become judgment in the Supreme Court—Supreme Court shall make orders necessary to render said award effective.
4. Opinions in cases transferred by consent shall not be reported—Shall have the force of res adjudicata, but not of stare decisis, unless otherwise determined by the Supreme Court.
5. The Supreme Court may refer cases to said commission—Notice to parties in such cases, etc.
6. Opinion, etc., by the commission in such cases shall be submitted to the Supreme Court with record, etc.

Sec.

7. Opinions of commission in referred cases, when adopted, shall be published as opinions of the Supreme Court.
8. Costs, etc., in cases referred to the commission.
9. The commission may appoint clerk—Clerk fees—Prescribing the sessions thereof, etc.
10. Prescribes the form of seal to be used by said commission.
11. Commission shall have power to issue writs of certiorari, etc., and to punish for contempt.
12. Rules of procedure and practice in the Supreme Court shall apply in the commission.
13. Appropriates $20,500 to pay the salaries of commissioners.
14. Commission to be discontinued when.
15. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 95.—[S. B. No. 281.] An Act to create a commission of arbitration and award, and define the powers and duties thereof, and to make an appropriation to pay the salaries of the judges thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a commission of arbitration and award, to consist of three persons, learned in the law, to be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, if in session, who shall hold their offices for two years from the first day of April, A. D. 1887, and receive for their services the same salaries as judges of the Supreme Court of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby created, to be styled the "Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas." In case of a vacancy on said commission by the death or resignation of any member thereof during the vacation of the Legislature, it shall be the duty of the Governor to fill the same by appointment, and the person so appointed shall continue in office until the next regular session of the Legislature after the appointment.

Sec. 2. Said commission shall have the power to hear and pronounce award upon all civil cases now or hereafter pending in the Supreme Court, wherein the parties or their attorneys may file consent in writing to the reference thereof to said commission.

Sec. 3. Said commission shall report its conclusions or award to the Supreme Court in the cases so referred, and may accompany the same with a brief synopsis of the case and their opinion thereon; and the conclusion or award aforesaid shall be and become the judgment of the said Supreme Court, and said court shall make and render such further order, judgment, or decree thereon as may be necessary or proper to make said award effective.

Sec. 4. The opinion of said commission in the cases so referred to it by consent, in writing, shall not be published in the reports of the decisions of the Supreme Court, nor shall the same have any further or other effect than to determine the particular cause wherein rendered; and shall have no force or effect or authority as precedent in other causes, unless otherwise decided by the Supreme Court.

Sec. 5. The Supreme Court is hereby authorized and empowered to refer to said Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas any case or cases now or hereafter pending before said court, for examination and report thereon; and it shall be the duty of said Supreme Court, in order to relieve the docket of said court of the great number of cases now encumbering it, from time to time to refer to said Commission of Appeals so many of said cases now or hereafter pending in said court as may be reasonably considered and acted upon by the same at the several sessions thereof, having respect in such reference to the length of time such cases have been pending as well as to promote an early disposition of the cases on the docket: Provided, That when any case is referred by the Supreme Court to said Commission of Appeals, the counsel for both parties shall have notice thereof, and shall have the right to be heard upon same as if said cause were tried by the Supreme Court, and said Commission of Appeals shall make rules regulating the hearing of causes submitted to them.

Sec. 6. When said Commission of Appeals have considered and determined upon the proper disposition of any case referred to the same, according to Section 5 of this act, their opinion shall be submitted, together with a brief synopsis of the case, to the Supreme Court, and the record shall be returned therewith; the reports so made may be used by said Supreme Court to facilitate it in reaching a conclusion upon the law and facts of the case.

Sec. 7. The opinion of said Commission of Appeals in cases referred to it by the Supreme Court, when adopted by said court, shall be published as the opinion thereof, as in other cases.

Sec. 8. In cases referred to the Commission of Appeals under this act the papers shall not be refiled in said commission, and only such additional costs as may be essential to carry into effect the provisions hereof shall be incurred by the parties to such cases by reason of the reference thereof.

Sec. 9. Said commission shall hold its sessions at the same times and places as the Supreme Court, and may appoint one clerk, if necessary, and if no such clerk be appointed the duties of that office shall be performed by the clerks of the Supreme Court at the different branches thereof, who shall receive in either case the same fees as are allowed by law to the clerks of the Supreme Court for like services.

Sec. 10. Said commission shall have a seal, being a star with five points and the words "Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas" around the same. Regular dockets and minutes of all proceedings by or before said commission shall be kept, and the records and proceedings thereof shall be entitled to the same verity as are records and proceedings of courts of record, and all cases shall be docketed in the order in which they are transferred or referred by the Supreme Court.

Sec. 11. Said commission shall have the right to issue writs of certiorari to perfect the record, and such process as the Supreme Court might issue to make parties, and shall have the power to punish for contempt.

Sec. 12. All laws and rules regulating practice and procedure in the Supreme Court shall be of force in the practice and proceedings of said commission so far as the same are applicable, and all applications for rehearing in cases referred to said commission by consent in writing shall be made before and determined by the commission.

Sec. 13. The sum of twenty thousand five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of the salaries of the judges of said commission for the period ending March, A. D. 1889.

Sec. 14. This act shall become inoperative and the terms of all officers appointed hereunder shall cease whenever by the adoption of an amendment to the judiciary article of the Constitution, or by legislation under such newly adopted amendment, the number of judges of the Supreme Court may be increased.

Sec. 15. Whereas the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, and the limited time allowed to legislation, and an imperative public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is hereby enacted that said rule is suspended; and the fact that the accumulation of business in the Supreme Court is so great as to prevent, in ordinary course, that speedy determination to litigation which is essential to justice, creates an emergency that requires this act to take effect at once, and it is therefore enacted that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAP. 96.—[S. B. No. 5.] An Act to amend Article 1653, of Title 33, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1653, of Title 33, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to read hereafter as follows:

Article 1653. Upon the dissolution of the marriage relation by death, all property belonging to the community estate of the husband and wife shall go to the survivor, if there be no child or children of the deceased or their descendants; but if there be a child or children of the deceased, or descendants of such child or children, then the survivor shall be entitled to one-half of said property, and the other half shall pass to such child or children or their descendants. But such descendants shall inherit only such portion of said property as the parent through whom they inherit would be entitled to if alive.

Sec. 2. That an imperative public necessity and emergency exists that this act take effect at once; it is therefore enacted that this act take effect and be in force on and after its passage.

5. Collector liable on official bond for failure to discharge his duties—Special collector may be appointed.
6. New bonds to be registered by the Comptroller, etc.
7. Assessment of taxes—Fees of assessor and collector.
8. Surplus revenue, how applied.
9. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 97.—[S. B. No. 128.] An Act to authorize counties, cities, and towns to compromise and adjust certain bonded indebtedness, and to provide for the levy and collection of taxes to pay the interest and sinking fund.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any county, city, or town that has heretofore issued bonds to aid in the construction of railroads and other works of internal improvements, are hereby authorized to compromise or adjust such indebtedness so created, in such manner as may be deemed to the best interest of such county, city or town: Provided, That the amount of the debt and the rate of interest thereon shall not be thereby increased: And provided further, That no debt which has become barred by the statute of limitation shall be thereby revived. For the purpose of carrying out the compromise or adjustment hereby authorized, the said counties, cities, and towns are authorized to issue bonds, in denominations of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars each, for an amount sufficient to consummate such compromise or adjustment, not to exceed the amount unpaid on the outstanding bonds.

Sec. 2. The bonds authorized by the preceding section may be exchanged for the bonds heretofore issued, or they may be sold and the proceeds used to buy up the old bonds as it may be necessary: Provided, that the said bonds shall not be exchanged for the old bonds at a greater rate than par, except that the old bonds may be taken at a discount, and the new at the face value, according to agreement: And provided, That the new bonds issued under this act shall not be sold for less than the amount for which the old bonds can be purchased. No bonds shall be sold under this act until there has been a contract by which the proceeds can be invested in the purchase of the old bonds.

Sec. 3. If any county, city, or town shall desire to avail itself of this act, and when arrangements shall have been made for the compromise or adjustment of any of the bonds as hereinbefore mentioned, the commissioners court of such county, or the city council of such town or city, shall enter an order, or adopt an ordinance, as the case may be, authorizing the issuance of bonds, which shall prescribe the amount to be issued, and shall cause blank bonds to be prepared for the purpose afore-said. The bonds shall be made payable to bearer, and shall be payable such time after date as may be fixed and agreed upon, not to exceed fifty years, and shall bear such rate of interest as may be agreed upon, which shall not exceed the rate of interest that the old bonds now bear. The interest may be made payable annually or semi-annually, and at such place as may be specified. Coupons shall be attached, representing each installment of interest as specified, which shall also include two per cent of the face of the bond as a sinking fund. The bonds issued by the county shall be signed by the county judge and attested by the county clerk, with the seal of the county, and the coupons shall be signed by the county judge. The bonds may be issued by the mayor and attested by the city secretary or recorder, with the seal of such city or town attached, and the coupons shall be signed by the mayor.

Sec. 4. The bonds as herein authorized to be issued may be exchanged or sold from time to time, and in such amounts as can be procured of the old bonds by purchase or exchange. Whenever any bonds shall be issued, the county commissioners court, or council of such city or town, shall levy upon the last assessment of the property for such city or town, as the case may be, a tax sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund of not less than two per cent upon such bonds. The tax so levied shall remain as the levy for that purpose until a new levy may be made for that purpose: Provided, That such commissioners court or council may from time to time increase or diminish such tax so as to adjust the same to the taxable values of the property of the county or city or town and the amount to be collected: Provided further, That the amount shall not any time be reduced so that it will not raise an amount sufficient to pay the annual interest and sinking fund on all the bonds sold or exchanged under this act.

Sec. 5. If the tax collector, or any officer charged with the duty of collecting the tax levied to pay the interest and sinking fund upon said bonds, shall refuse to collect the said tax at any time, he shall be liable upon his official bond to any person who may be injured thereby. If any collector shall refuse to collect said taxes, then upon the complaint of any citizen or person interested, or upon their own motion, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court of such county, or the city council of such city or town, to appoint some suitable person, who shall qualify as required of the collector aforesaid, and shall proceed to collect said tax until the next general election and until a collector shall be elected and qualified who will collect the same. If a commissioners court or council aforesaid shall fail or refuse to appoint some person as aforesaid, then the Governor of the State shall make such appointment of some suitable person who shall collect said taxes until the next general election and until some collector shall be elected who will collect the same; and such person so appointed by the Governor shall qualify as the regular collector is or may be required by law.

Sec. 6. Before the bonds that may be issued under this act shall be delivered they shall be registered in the office of the Comptroller of the State, who shall endorse upon each bond the date of such registration; and when so registered and delivered the said bonds shall not be subject to any defense that existed prior to the delivery of them, and this shall be stated in the face of the bonds.

Sec. 7. The taxes levied under this act shall be assessed by the officer whose duty it is by law to make the assessment for such county, city or town, who shall receive for such assessment one per cent for making such assessment. The officer whose duty it is by law to collect the taxes for such county, city, or town, shall collect the taxes levied under this act, and shall receive as compensation therefor one per cent of the amount collected.

Sec. 8. If after all the matured coupons upon any series of bonds that may be issued under this act have been paid off there shall remain a surplus of the taxes collected under this act for the payment thereof, then the commissioners court of such county, or the council of such city or town, may use the surplus so remaining to purchase any of the outstanding bonds, at not more than par. If said bonds cannot be purchased at par, then the said surplus may be applied to the payment of the next maturing coupons upon their maturity, and the taxes for that year remitted to that extent.

Sec. 9. The near approach of the close of the present session rendering it impracticable to read this bill on three several days creates an imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is accordingly so enacted.

Approved, March 30, 1887.

CHAP. 98.—[S. B. No. 336.] An Act to reorganize the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-ninth Judicial Districts; and to create the Forty-second Judicial District of the State of Texas, and to fix the times of holding courts therein; and to provide for the appointment and election of judges and district attorneys in the Thirty-second and Forty-second Judicial Districts; and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Thirty-first Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Wheeler, Oldham, Greer and Donley, and the unorganized counties of Collingsworth, Childers, Hall, Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, Farmer, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Gray, Carson, Potter, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Sherman, and Dallam, and terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Donley on the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Greer on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Wheeler on the first Mondays in April and November, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Oldham on the first Mondays in May and October, and may continue in session four weeks.

Sec. 2. The unorganized counties of Carson, Armstrong, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, and Childress, are attached to the county of Donley for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Sherman, Moore, Potter, Castro, Farmer, Deaf Smity, Hartley, Dallam, and Randall, are attached to the county of Oldham for judicial purposes.

And the unorganized counties of Collingsworth, Gray, Hutchinson, Hansford, Ochiltree, Roberts, Hemphill, and Lipscomb, are attached to the county of Wheeler for judicial purposes.

Sec. 3. The Thirty-second Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Nolan, Mitchell, Howard, Martin, Midland, Scurry, and Crosby, and the unorganized counties of Andrews, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Dickens, Motley, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, and Bailey, and terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Midland on the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Martin on the third Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Howard on the fourth Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Crosby on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Scurry on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Nolan on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Mitchell on the twelfth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 4. The unorganized counties of Andrews and Gaines are hereby attached to the county of Martin for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Borden, Dawson, Lynn, Terry, and Yoakum, are hereby attached to the county of Howard for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Kent and Garza are hereby attached to the county of Scurry for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Dickens, Motley, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, and Lubbock, are hereby attached to the county of Crosby for judicial purposes.

Sec. 5. The Thirty-third Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Blanco, Gillespie, Mason, Kimble, Menard, San Saba, and Llano, and terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Blanco on the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Gillespie on the third Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Mason on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Kimble on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Menard on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of San Saba on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Llano on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 6. The Thirty-fifth Judicial District of the State of Texas shall be composed of the counties of Brown, Coleman, Runnels, Tom Green, Concho, and McCulloch, and the district courts shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Brown on the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Coleman on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Runnels on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Tom Green on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Concho on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of McCulloch on the fourteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 7. The Thirty-ninth Judicial district of the State of Texas shall be composed of the counties of Knox, Hardeman, Baylor, Throckmorton, Haskell, Jones, and Fisher, and the unorganized counties of Stonewall, King, and Cottle, and terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Jones on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Fisher on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Haskell on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Throckmorton on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Baylor on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Knox on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Hardeman on the fifteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 8. The unorganized county of Cottle is hereby attached to the county of Hardeman for judicial purposes.

The unorganized county of King is hereby attached to the county of Knox for judicial purposes.

The unorganized county of Stonewall is hereby attached to the county of Jones for judicial purposes.

Sec. 9. The Forty-second Judicial District of the State of Texas shall be composed of the counties of Comanche, Eastland, Stephens, Shackelford, Callahan, and Taylor, and terms of the district court shall be held annually therein as follows:

In the county of Comanche on the first Mondays in February, and on the third Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Taylor on the Fourth Monday after the first Monday in February, and on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Callahan on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in February, and on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Shackelford on the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in February, and on the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Stephens on the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in February, and on the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Eastland on the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in February, and on the eighteenth Monday after the first Monday in August, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 10. That the district judges heretofore elected and now acting for the 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 35th, and 39th Judicial Districts herein mentioned, shall continue the exercise of their said offices respectively.

That the district attorneys of the 31st, 33rd, 35th, and 39th Judicial Districts shall each continue the exercise of their offices for said districts, and the district attorney of the 32nd Judicial District shall be and is hereby made the district attorney of the 42nd Judicial District.

Sec. 11. That immediately after this act goes into effect the Governor shall appoint a suitable person district attorney of the 32nd Judicial District, and a suitable person district judge of the 42nd Judicial District, and a district judge and district attorney for each of said districts shall be elected at the next general election and at subsequent elections according to existing laws.

Sec. 12. That all process issued or served before this act goes into effect, returnable to the district court of any of the counties of said judicial districts, shall be considered as returnable to said court in accordance with the times as prescribed by this bill, and all such process is hereby legalized; and all grand and petit jurors drawn and selected under existing laws in any of the counties of said judicial districts shall be considered as lawfully drawn and selected for the next term of the district courts of their respective counties held after this act shall go into effect, and all such process is hereby legalized and validated.

Sec. 13. That this act take effect and be in force from and after the 30th day of June, A. D. 1887.

Sec. 14. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the terms of this bill be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 15. The fact that the near approach of the close of this session renders it improbable that this bill can be considered on three several days, and the fact that it is necessary for the proper administration of justice that this bill should go into effect on the 30th of June, A. D. 1887, which will probably be less than ninety days after the adjournment of this Legislature, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after the thirtieth day of June, A. D. 1887, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 22 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 71 yeas, 2 nays.]

CHAP. 99.—[S. S. B. No. 219.] An Act to provide for the sale of all lands heretofore or hereinafter surveyed and set apart for the benefit of the Public Free Schools, the University, and the several Asylums, and the lease of such lands and of the public lands of the State, and to prevent the free use, occupancy, unlawful enclosure, or unlawful appropriation of such lands, and to prescribe and provide adequate penalties therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all lands heretofore or hereafter surveyed and set apart for the benefit of the Public Free Schools, the University, the Lunatic Asylum, the Blind Asylum, the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, and the Orphan Asylum, shall be sold and leased under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 2. The Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby vested with all the power and authority necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act, and shall have full charge and direction of all matters pertaining to the sale and lease of said lands, and their protection from free use and occupancy, and from unlawful enclosure, with such exceptions and under such restrictions as may be imposed by the provisions of this act or by the Constitution of the State. He shall, as soon as practicable, adopt such regulations not inconsistent with the Constitution or this act as may be deemed necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of this act, and may, from time to time, alter or amend such regulations so as to protect the public interest; but all regulations shall be submitted to the Governor for his approval before adoption or promulgation. He shall adopt all necessary forms of applications for sales or leases, and all other forms necessary or proper for the transaction of the business imposed upon him by this act, including the forms of leases, receipts, and acquittances, and may from time to time call upon the Attorney-General to prepare such forms, and it shall be the duty of that officer to furnish the Commissioner of the General Land Office with such advice and legal assistance as may be requisite for the due execution of the provisions of this act; and it shall be the duty of such Commissioner to call upon the Attorney-General for advice whenever there is any doubt as to the meaning of this act or any provisions thereof.

Sec. 3. As soon as may be practicable after the passage and approval of this act, the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall cause all the lands belonging to the several funds named in this act, which may be in demand for immediate settlement, to be carefully and skillfully classified and valued; and for this purpose he may appoint, with the approval of the Governor, such number of competent State agents as may be necessary to effect such classification and valuation; and he shall cause such classification and valuation to be made of the remainder of such lands from time to time as the same may come into demand for actual settlement; and with the approval of the Governor he may allow such compensation to said State agents as may be just and proper, not to exceed the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars per month and necessary expenses for subsistence. He may also appoint such other assistance as may be found necessary to accomplish such classification and appraisement and the sale or lease of the lands; but no State agents or other appointments shall be made in the absence of an appropriation by law to cover such expenditure, and the State shall not be liable for any expenditure of this character incurred in the excess of current appropriations.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of such State agents as may be appointed under the provisions of this act, under such regulations and instructions as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, to classify all the lands belonging to the several funds mentioned in this act, as prescribed in Section 3, lying in the particular territory to which such agent may be assigned, into agricultural, pasture, and timber lands; and for this purpose they shall carefully examine the same, and after such examination they shall prepare an accurate plat of each section, showing the relative proportions of timber and open land on such section, and their situation, also the quality of the soil, the topography of the land, and the quality and kind of timber, and the streams and other sources of water supply, and their location, noting such streams as may be permanent water, and such other facts as may be important: and from time to time, as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, such agent shall prepare and forward to the Commissioner with such plats, a tabulated statement of all the lands in any particular locality, with the value of each section; and such plats and reports shall be filed in the General Land Office as a part of the records of said office; but nothing in this section contained shall be construed to require a classification of lands already classified under former laws, if such classification is satisfactory to the Commissioner.

Sec. 5. When any portion of said land has been classified to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, under the provisions of this act or former laws, such lands shall be subject to sale, but to actual settlers only, and in quantities of not less than one hundred and sixty acres and in multiples thereof, nor more than six hundred and forty acres: Provided, That when there is a fraction of less than one hundred and sixty acres of any section left, such fraction may be sold; but lands classified as purely pasture lands, and without permanent water thereon, may be sold in quantities not to exceed four sections to the same settler, and in no event shall sale be made to a corporation either foreign or domestic; and all sales to a settler shall be upon the express condition that any sale, transfer, or conveyance of such land to a corporation, either immediate or remote, shall ipso facto terminate the title of the purchaser, and such land shall be forfeited to the State without re-entry, and become again a part of the particular fund to which it formerly belonged.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of the Commissioner of the General Land Office to notify in writing the county clerk of each county of the valuation fixed upon each section of land in his county, and in each county attached to it for judicial purposes, which he offers for sale, which notification shall be kept by the clerk in his office and recorded in a well bound book, which shall be open to public inspection.

Sec. 7. All lands belonging to the public free schools, university, and the several asylum funds, shall be sold at not less than two dollars per acre. All sections of lands having permanent water on, or bordering thereon, shall be sold at not less than three dollars per acre, and no less than one hundred and sixty acres shall be sold, except in cases where a fractional part of a section less than one hundred and sixty acres is unsold, in which case the entire fractional part of such survey shall be sold: Provided, That no watered portion of any section shall be sold unless there is permanent water on, or bordering on, the part of said section remaining unsold; and all timber land shall be sold at not less than five dollars per acre. By timber lands, as here used, is meant lands valuable chiefly for the timber thereon.

Sec. 8. Any bona fide actual settler who may reside on any part of the lands the sale of which is authorized by this act, at the time this act may go into effect, shall have the right, for a period of six months after the same shall have been appraised, to purchase such quantity of land as may be limited by this act, to include his improvements, upon complying with the provisions of this act regulating sales as in other cases, and such lands shall be appraised without reference to the improvements thereon: Provided, That any bona fide settler who owns one section, and no more, prior to this enactment, shall have the right to purchase three dry and strictly pastoral sections, upon his making oath that he is not acting in collusion with others for the purpose of buying the land for any other person or corporation, and that no other person or corporation is directly or indirectly interested in the purchase of the same: Provided further, That any purchaser and actual settler upon any of the public free school, university, and asylum lands, under any former law, who, for any cause, has failed to pay the principal and interest, or either, due the State upon such land, on the first day of August, A. D. 1886, and by reason of such failure or default such purchaser's land has or may be forfeited to the State, such purchaser shall have the prior right for six months from the date this act takes effect to purchase his said land, at such price as the unpaid principal at the time of default and the interest due thereon under such former purchase up to the time he purchases under this act shall aggregate. And such purchaser shall in all other respects be governed by the same penalties, restrictions, and requirements enjoined by this act upon other purchasers and actual settlers.

Sec. 9. All sales shall be made by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, or under his direction, and he shall prescribe suitable regulations whereby all purchasers shall be required to reside upon, as a home, the land purchased by them, for three consecutive years next succeeding the date of their purchase. Such regulations shall require the purchaser to reside upon the land for the three consecutive years herein mentioned, and to make proper proof of such residence and occupancy to the Commissioner of the General Land Office within one year next after the expiration of said three years, by his affidavit, corroborated by the affidavits of three disinterested and credible citizens of the county, to be certified to by some officer of the county wherein the land is situated, authorized to administer oaths. Any person desiring to purchase land in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall forward his application to the Commissioner, particularly describing the land sought to be purchased, which application shall, in all cases, be accompanied with the affidavit of the applicant, in effect that he desires to purchase the land for a home, and has in good faith settled thereon; and he shall also swear that he is not acting in collusion with others for the purpose of buying the land for any other person or corporation, and that no other person or corporation is interested in the purchase save himself. The purchaser shall transmit to the Treasurer of the State one-fortieth of the aggregate purchase money for the particular tract of land and send to the Commissioner his obligation to the State, duly executed, and binding the purchaser to pay to the State, on the first day of August of each year thereafter, until the whole purchase money is paid, one-fortieth of the aggregate price, with interest thereon from date at the rate of 5 per cent per annum on the whole unpaid purchase money, which interest shall also be payable on the first day of August of each year; and upon receipt of one-fortieth of the purchase money by the Treasurer, and the affidavit and obligation aforesaid by the Commissioner, the sale shall be deemed and held effective from the date the affidavit and obligation are filed in the General Land Office: Provided, That if the land applied for be timbered land, then the purchaser shall be required to pay the full amount of the purchase money at the time of his purchase.

Sec. 10. All purchasers shall have the option of paying the purchase money for their lands in full at any time after they have occupied the same for three consecutive years; and when they have made such payment in full, together with the proof that they have occupied the land and homestead for three consecutive years, they shall be entitled to receive patents for the same upon payment of the patent fees prescribed by law. Purchasers may also sell their lands at any time after sale is effected under this act, and in such cases the vendee, or any subsequent vendee, may file his own obligation with the Commissioner of the General Land Office, together with the duly authenticated conveyance, or transfer, from the original purchaser, and the intermediate vendee's conveyance or transfer, if any there be, duly recorded in the county where the land lies, or to which it may be attached for judicial purposes, together with his affidavit stating that he desires to purchase the land for a home, and that he has in good faith settled thereon, and that he is not acting in collusion with others for the purpose of buying the land for any other person or corporation, and that no other person or corporation is interested in the purchase save himself; and thereupon the original obligation may be surrendered or cancelled, and the vendee shall become the purchaser direct from the State, and be subject to all the obligations and penalties prescribed by this act, and the original purchaser shall be absolved from further liability thereon: Provided, That whenever a town shall be located and established upon any land sold under this or any former act, the purchaser or his vendee shall be permitted to pay the entire balance of principal and interest due the State upon such land, and obtain a patent therefor at any time; but no such payment shall be permitted or patent issue until such purchaser or owner of such land shall file in the General Land Office a certified plat of such town, made by the proper surveyor of the county, which shall be accompanied by the affidavit of the owner of such land, corroborated by the affidavit of five disinterested and credible citizens of the county, to the effect that a town, giving its name, has been located and established upon the land, and that there has been erected therein, and being occupied by bona fide citizens, twenty business and residence houses, or either or both.

Sec. 11. If upon the first day of August of any year the interest due on any obligation remains unpaid, the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall endorse on such obligation "land forfeited," and shall cause an entry to that effect to be made on the account kept with the purchaser, and thereupon said land shall be forfeited to the State, without the necessity of re-entry, or judicial ascertainment, and shall revert to the particular fund to which it originally belonged, and be resold under the provisions of this act or any future law: Provided, If any purchaser shall die, his heirs or legal representatives shall have one year in which to make payment after the first of August next after such death; and if any purchaser shall fail to reside upon and improve in good faith the land purchased by him, he shall forfeit said land and all payments made thereon to the State, and such land shall be again for sale, as if no such sale and forfeiture had occurred; or if he shall fail to make the proof of occupancy within the time and in the manner prescribed by the regulations of the Commissioner of the General Land Office as provided for in section (9) nine of this act, he shall in like manner forfeit the land and all payments thereon to the State: And provided further, That nothing in this section contained shall be construed to inhibit the State from instituting such legal proceedings as may be necessary to enforce such forfeiture, or to protect any other right to such land, which suits may be instituted by the Attorney-General, under the direction of the Governor, in the proper court of the county in which the land lies, or in the District Court of Travis County, and jurisdiction of such causes is hereby expressly conferred on said courts.

Sec. 12. The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall retain in his custody as records of his office all applications, affidavits, obligations, and all other papers relating to sales of said lands, and shall cause to be kept accurate accounts with each purchaser. All purchase money due upon lands, as well as accrued interest, and all other moneys arising from the sales or leases of said lands, shall be paid by the purchaser or lessee direct to the Treasurer of the State, who shall also cause an accurate account to be kept with each purchaser, and who shall execute duplicate receipts for all sums of money paid to him under the provisions of this act, one of which receipts shall be delivered to the purchaser, or his agent, and the other transmitted to the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Sec. 13. The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall adopt such regulations for the sale of timber on timber lands as may be deemed necessary and judicious, such regulations to be subject to the approval of the Governor. Such timber shall not be sold for less than five dollars per acre cash, except in such cases as the Commissioner may ascertain by definite examination of a State agent that any particular section is sparsely timbered or contains timber of but little value, in which case he shall be authorized to sell the timber on said section at the best price on the best terms practicable: Provided, Such timber is sold at not less than two dollars per acre; and in no case shall less than one section of timbered land be sold to any purchaser except in cases of fractional sections which may be sold under the provisions of this act: Provided, That the purchaser shall have three years from the date of his purchase within which to remove the timber therefrom; and in case of failure so to do, such timber shall be forfeited to the State without judicial ascertainment.

Sec. 14. The public lands, and all lands belonging to the public free school, asylum, or university funds, shall be leased by the Commissioner of the General Land Office in accordance with the provisions of this act. Such leases shall be for a term of not more than five years, and the lessee shall pay an annual rental of four cents an acre for all pasture lands leased, which rental shall be paid each year in advance, the first payment to be made at the time the lease is executed; and if at the termination of the lease such land is still subject to lease, the lessee or lessees thereof, whose term of lease is expired, shall have the refusal of such land as he has been leasing, on the terms and at the price that may be fixed therefor by the Commissioner of the General Land Office. All leases shall be executed under the hand and seal of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and shall be delivered to the lessee or his duly authorized agent, and such lease shall not take effect until the first annual rent is paid and the lease is duly filed for record in the county where the land lies, or to which it may be attached for judicial purposes, and it shall not be necessary for the the Commissioner to acknowledge such lease before the same is placed on record.

Sec. 15. Any person desiring to lease any portion of the public lands, or the lands belonging to the several funds mentioned in this act, shall make application in writing to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, specifying and describing the particular lands he desires to lease; and thereupon the Commissioner, if satisfied that the lands applied for are not in immediate demand for purposes of actual settlement, and that such lands can be leased without detriment to the public interest, shall notify the applicant in writing that his proposition to lease is accepted; and thereupon he shall execute and deliver to the lessee, and in the name and by the authority of the State, a lease of said land for such term as may be agreed upon, and deliver the same to such lessee, when satisfied that the lessee has paid to the Treasurer of the State the rent for one year in advance. No lands classified as grazing lands under this act shall be subject to sale during the existence of such lease, and the possession thereof by the lessee shall not be disturbed during the term of such lease so long as the rents are paid promptly in advance each year as required by this act. The lands classified as agricultural lands which may be leased under this act, shall be leased subject to sale as provided by this act, and whenever such leased lands may be purchased the lessee shall give immediate possession to such purchaser: Provided, That the lessee shall have a pro rata credit upon his next year's rent, or the money refunded to him by the Treasurer, as he may elect: Provided, That no such sale shall be permitted where such lessee shall have previously placed improvements of the value of one hundred dollars upon such section of land so sought to be purchased. And provided further, That no actual settler who shall purchase land within any leasehold shall be permitted to turn loose more than one head of cattle or horses for every ten acres of land purchased by him and unenclosed, or, in lieu thereof, four head of sheep or goats to every ten acres of land so purchased and unenclosed. Each violation of the provisions of this act which restricts the number of stock that may be turned loose on lands leased from the State shall be an offense, and the offender on conviction shall be punished by fine of not less than one dollar for each head of stock he may so turn loose, and each thirty days violation of the provisions of this section shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 16. All lessees shall pay the annual rents due for leased lands directly to the Treasurer of the State, who shall execute receipts in duplicate for each payment made by any lessee, one of which receipts shall be delivered to the lessee, and the other transmitted to the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The Treasurer shall cause to be kept an accurate account with each lessee, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall file in his office all applications and other papers relating to leases, and keep a record of all leases made, which papers shall constitute a part of the records of his office.

Sec. 17. If any lessee shall fail to pay the annual rent due in advance for any year, within sixty days after such rent shall become due, the Commissioner of the General Land Office may declare such lease cancelled, by a writing under his hand and seal of office, which writing shall be filed with the papers relating to such lease, and thereupon said lease shall immediately terminate, and the lands so leased shall become subject to purchase or lease, as the Commissioner may determine for the best interest of the State. And during the continuance of all leases, and after forfeiture, the State shall have a lien upon all the property upon the leased premises to secure the payment of all rents due, which lien shall be prior and superior to all other liens whatsoever, and it shall not be essential to the preservation or validity of such lien that it shall be reserved in the instrument of lease.

Sec. 18. It shall be unlawful for any person to fence, use, occupy or appropriate, by herding or line-riding, any portion of the public lands of the State, or of the lands belonging to any particular fund specified in this act, without having first obtained a lease of such lands in accordance with the provisions of this act. Any person, whether owner of stock, manager, agent, employe, or servant, who shall fence, use, occupy, or appropriate, by herding or line-riding, any portion of such lands without a lease thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and in addition thereto shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than three months nor more than two years. Each day of such fencing, using, occupying, or appropriating, by herding or line-riding, shall be deemed a separate offense, and any person so offending may be prosecuted, by indictment or information, in the proper court of the county where any portion of the land lies or to which it may be attached for judicial purposes, or in the county of Travis, and jurisdiction of such offenses is hereby vested in said courts; and in case any indictment or information is preferred or filed against a non-resident of this State for a violation of this section, it shall be the duty of the Governor to demand the extradition of the defendant from the proper officer of any State or Territory where he may be found, in order that he may be brought to trial. "Fencing," within the meaning of this act, is the erection of any structure of wood, wire, or both, or any other material intended to prevent the passage of cattle, horses, mules, asses, sheep, goats, or hogs, whether the same shall enclose lands on all sides or be erected on one or more sides. Any appropriation of land belonging to any particular fund specified in this act, or of the public lands of this State, without first having obtained a lease thereof, by fencing of any kind, or by enclosures consisting partly of fencing and partly of natural obstacles, or impediments to the passage of live stock, shall be deemed an unlawful appropriation, punishable as provided in this section for appropriating such lands, and each day said land is so appropriated shall be deemed a separate offense.

Sec. 19. The provisions of this act as set forth in the preceding section, shall not apply to persons who are moving, or gathering, or holding for shipment any stock mentioned in said article: Provided, The said persons have not erected any fence on such lands, or continue on said lands longer than one week.

Sec. 20. All enclosures of or fences upon any portion of the public lands, or lands belonging to the public free school, asylum, or university funds, without lawful authority, shall be removed within sixty days from the time this act shall take effect. If the Governor is informed at any time, upon the affidavit of some credible person, that any portion of the public lands, or lands belonging to the public free school, asylum, or university funds, have been enclosed, or that fences have been erected thereon, without authority of law, he is authorized, in his discretion, to direct the Attorney-General to institute suit in the name of the State for the recovery of such land, and damages for the use and occupation of such land, and the removal of such enclosures and fences. Such suit may be instituted in the district court of any county where the land, or a portion thereof, is situated, or in the District Court of Travis County; and upon application of the Attorney-General, and without affidavit or bond, the clerk of the court in which suit is instituted shall issue a writ of sequestration, directed to any sheriff of the State of Texas, commanding and requiring such officer to take such land and all property thereon into his actual custody, and the same hold subject to the further orders of the court. Such writ of sequestration may be executed by any sheriff of the State into whose hands it may be delivered, and it shall be the duty of any sheriff into whose hands it may come, to proceed and execute such writ, and the Governor is required, in his discretion, to furnish such sheriff with the necessary force of volunteer militia or other military force of the State to accomplish the purposes of the writ and to execute the process of the court. The defendant in such writ may replevy, as in ordinary cases, by giving bond as prescribed by law, and such cases shall have precedence on the docket, and stand for trial before all other causes; and in case judgment is recovered by the State in such suit the court shall order such enclosures or fences to be removed, and shall tax the costs of suit, including the cost of the military force, if any, against the defendant; and all the property found upon the land belonging to the defendant shall be liable for such costs and damages in addition to the personal liability of the defendant. Appeals may be prosecuted from all judgments in such cases, as in ordinary cases, except that the State shall not be required to give bond to perfect its appeal, and such cases on appeal shall have precedence over all other causes.

Sec. 21. It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation who may have used any of the lands by joining fences or otherwise, to build or maintain more than three miles lineal measure of fence, running in the same general direction, without a gateway in same, which gateway must be at least ten feet wide, and shall not be locked or kept closed so as to obstruct free ingress and egress: Provided, That all persons who have fences already constructed in violation of the provisions of this act shall have two months from the time this act takes effect within which to conform with the provisions hereof: Provided further, If any person or persons shall build or maintain more than three miles lineal measure running in the same direction, without providing such gateway, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than two hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and each day that such fence remains without such gateway shall constitute and be punished as a separate offense: Provided further, That the construction of gates as provided for in this section shall apply only to pasture lands: Provided further, When herds of cattle, horses, sheep, or goats are driven through this State from one place to another place in this State, and it becomes necessary for such stock to pass through any enclosed pasture of any person who has leased any of the aforesaid lands, such lessee of such enclosure shall permit such stock to pass through such pasture: Provided, The owner of such stock so driven through any such enclosure shall move the same as expeditiously and with as little delay as practicable through such enclosure.

Sec. 22. The Commissioner of the General Land Office, under the direction of the Governor, may withhold from lease any agricultural lands necessary for purposes of settlement, or, in his discretion, he may lease such agricultural lands in small quantities for a less period than five years, as the public interest and development of the country may seem to require; and no agricultural lands shall be leased if in the judgment of the Commissioner they may be in immediate demand for settlement, but such lands shall be held for settlement and sold to actual settlers only, under the provisions of this act; and all sections or fractions of sections in all counties organized prior to the first day of January, 1875, except El Paso, Pecos, and Presidio Counties, which sections are detached and isolated from other public lands, may be sold to any purchaser except to a corporation, at not less than two dollars per acre, upon such terms as the Commissioner of the General Land Office may prescribe.

Sec. 23. The sum of eighty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of the several funds belonging to the public free schools, asylums, and university, to pay the expenses of executing this act, which sum shall be apportioned between said funds according to their respective interests and the work necessary to be done, and shall be expended by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, with the approval and under the direction of the Governor.

Sec. 24. Leaseholds created under the provisions of this act shall be exempt from all taxation.

Sec. 25. Nothing in this act shall be construed to impair, interfere with, or in any manner affect any lease or sale, or the rights growing out of the same, made under former laws, of the lands herein referred to: Provided, That any person or persons who have heretofore leased lands from this State at prices fixed by the Land Board, and whose leases are not yet expired, shall have their rental for the remainder of their unexpired term reduced to the prices charged under this bill for the lease of similar lands.

Sec. 26. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed; and the Secretary of the Land Board is hereby authorized and directed immediately upon the passage and approval of this act to deposit with the Commissioner of the General Land Office all the books, papers, and records belonging to or pertaining to said Land Board, and such books, papers, and records shall hereafter constitute a part of the records of the General Land Office.

CORPORATIONS FOR DEEP WATER CHANNELS.

Sec.

1. Amends Title 20, Revised Civil Statutes, by adding Chapter 14.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 100.—[S. B. No. 116.] An Act to amend Title 20 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, entitled Private Corporations, by adding another chapter thereto, to be styled Chapter Fourteen, authorizing the construction, owning, and operating deep water channels and docks.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Title 20, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby amended by adding thereto the following chapter:

Chapter Fourteen.

Article 644a. This title shall embrace and include the creation of private corporations for the purpose of constructing, owning, and operating deep water channels from the waters of the Gulf of Mexico along and across any of the bays on the coast of this State to the mainland, for the purposes of navigation and transportation, and for the construction, owning, and operating docks on the coast of this State for the protection and accommodation of ships, boats, and all kinds of vessels for navigation, and their cargoes.

Article 644b. Every such channel corporation shall, in addition to the powers herein conferred, have power:

1. To cause such examination and survey for its proposed channel to be made as may be necessary to the selection of the most advantageous route for such purpose, by its officers, agents, or servants, to enter upon any of the waters of such bays, and upon any of the lands of this State or of any person.

2. To take and hold such voluntary grant of real estate and other property as shall be made to it to aid in the construction and maintenance of its deep water channel, and works pertinent thereto.

3. To construct its channel across, along, through, or upon any of the waters of the bays within the jurisdiction of this State, and so far into the mainland as may be necessary to reach a place for its docks that will afford security from cyclones, storms, swells, and tidal waves, with such depth as may suit its convenience and the wants of navigation, not less than ten feet, and a width of not less than forty feet.

4. To furnish to vessels and boats, adapted to the purpose, facilities for navigating in and along the entire length of its channel, and to charge and collect a toll therefor, to be prescribed and established by its by-laws, not to exceed one cent per barrel bulk of the capacity of each vessel, for each mile of the length of its channel used by the vessel going either way.

5. To borrow such sums of money as may be necessary for constructing, finishing, or operating its channel, and to issue and dispose of its bonds for any amount so borrowed, and to mortgage its corporate property and franchises to secure the payment of any debt contracted for the purposes aforesaid: Provided, That damages for any property appropriated by such corporation shall be assessed and paid for as is provided for in case of railroads.

6. To enter upon and condemn and appropriate any lands of any person or corporation that may be necessary for the uses and purposes of such channel corporation: the damages for any property thus appropriated to be assessed and paid for in the same manner as provided by law in the case of railroads: Provided, That no damages shall be assessed against or paid by it for any portion of the route of its channel embraced within and covered by the waters of any bay on the coast of this State, nor for any portion of any island belonging to the State, that may be requisite and necessary to the construction and successful operation of its channel: And provided further, That its right of way shall be the actual width of its channel, and not more than three hundred feet in width on each side of it: Provided, That when the land sought to be condemned under this act is arable land, such right of way shall not extend further than one hundred and fifty feet on each side from the edge or boundary of said channel.

7. To construct, own, and operate its channel so far into the waters of the Gulf of Mexico as may be necessary to obtain an adequate depth of water at its gulf entrance to facilitate the ingress and egress of such vessels as may navigate the same, in so far as this State may have the power to grant such right, which shall be in subordination to that of the Government of the United States in as far as that government has the constitutional power to control the same.

Article 644c. Every such dock corporation shall, in addition to the powers heretofore conferred, have power:

1. To purchase, take, and hold such land or real estate as shall be necessary for the construction and operation of its docks, approaches, entrances, moorings, and ways; and the construction, use, and enjoyment of such warehouses, stores, and sheds as may be necessary to the receiving and discharging of freights, goods, wares, and merchandise, and the proper protection and preservation thereof: Provided, That no such dock corporation shall ever have the right or power to take or condemn to its use any private property without the free consent of the owner thereof, expressed by sufficient deed in writing.

2. To construct its dock, or docks, in such manner and of such size and depth as it may deem meet and proper to suit the convenience of such vessels as may see fit to use and occupy the same, and to collect from the vessels using the same, or from their masters, owners, or consignees, such sum or sums for the use thereof as may be authorized by its by-laws and agreed to by such masters, owners, or consignees.

3. To borrow such sums of money as may be necessary for constructing, completing, or operating its dock or docks, and to issue and dispose of its bonds for such amount so borrowed, and to mortgage its corporate property and franchises to secure the payment of any debt contracted for the purposes aforesaid.

Article 644d. Every such corporation shall, in addition to the powers heretofore conferred, have power:

1. To purchase, take, and hold such land or real estate as shall be necessary for the construction, maintenance, and operation of its harbor approaches, entrances, and ways thereto, and the construction of wharves piers, and warehouses.

2. To construct, own, and maintain its harbor by building piers and breakwaters so far into the gulf as may be necessary to obtain sufficient depth of water to facilitate the ingress and egress, and the safety while in port of such vessels as may enter the same, in so far only as the State may have the power to grant such right, which, however, shall be exercised subject and in subordination to the Government of the United States in as far as it may have constitutional power to control the same.

3. To provide facilities to vessels and boats entering its harbor for anchorage, receiving and discharging cargoes and passengers, and to charge and collect fair and reasonable tolls and wharfage therefor, to be prescribed by its by-laws.

4. To borrow money in such amounts and on such terms as may be necessary for constructing and finishing or operating its harbor or piers, and to issue and dispose of its bonds for any amount so borrowed, and to mortgage its corporate franchises to secure the payment of any debt contracted for the purposes aforesaid.

Article 644e. For each and every charter, amendment or supplement thereto, taken out under this chapter, a fee of one hundred dollars shall be paid to the Secretary of State, for the use and benefit of the State, which shall be paid when the charter, amendment or supplement thereto, is filed for record.

Article 644f. All rates, tolls, or charges made by any corporation formed under the provisions of this act shall be subject to the right of the Legislature from time to time to alter, revise, change, or amend.

Sec. 2. Whereas the near approach of the close of this session makes it improbable that this bill can receive its necessary reading on three several days, therefore an imperative public necessity and emergency exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and it is so suspended.

Approved, April 1, 1887.

APPEALS.

Sec.

1. Substituting lost records in court below after appeals.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 101.—[S. B. No. 91.] An Act to amend Article 849, Chapter One, Title 10, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 849, Chapter One, of Title 10, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows.

Article 849. The effect of an appeal is to suspend and arrest all further proceedings in the case in the court in which the conviction was had until the judgment of the appellate court is received by the court from which the appeal was taken: Provided, That in cases where, after notice of appeal has been given, the record or any portion thereof is lost or destroyed, it may be substituted in the lower court, if said court be then in session, and when so substituted the transcript may be prepared and set up as in other cases. In case the court from which the appeal is taken be not then in session, the Court of Appeals shall postpone the consideration of such appeal until the next term of said court from which said appeal was taken, and the said record shall be substituted at said term, as in other cases.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the end of this session of the Legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

Approved, April 1, 1887.

REGISTRATION.

Sec.

1. Deed recorded in county where land lies—Regulates registration in unorganized counties.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 102.—[H. B. No. 548.] An Act to amend Article 4333 of the Revised Civil Statutes as amended by an act approved March 30, 1881.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 4333 of the Revised Statutes, as amended by an act approved March 30, 1881, be so amended as to read hereafter as follows:

Article 4333. All deeds, conveyances, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other written contracts relating to real estate, which are authorized to be recorded, shall be recorded in the county where such real estate or a part thereof is situated; Provided, That all such instruments, when relating to real estate situated in an unorganized county, shall be recorded in the county to which such unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes, in a well bound book, or books, to be kept for that purpose, separately from the records of the county to which it is attached and from other unorganized counties; and it shall be the duty of the clerk or other officer having the custody of such books, when such unorganized county shall be organized, or has been detached therefrom and attached to another county for judicial purposes, to deliver such book, or books, without charge, to the proper officer of such newly organized county, or of the county to which it is attached for judicial purposes, when demanded by him; and where such records have been heretofore kept in separate books, they shall also be delivered in like manner as above, and in each case the same shall become archives of the county to which it is so delivered. Where such records have not heretofore been kept separately, upon the organization or attachment of such unorganized county to another organized county, a certified transcript from the records of such instruments so recorded shall be obtained by such new clerk or officer, and when so made the same shall in like manner become archives of such newly organized county, or county to which such unorganized county may be attached, as the case may be.

Sec. 2. Whereas the near approach of the close of the session and the great necessity for the passage of this act creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and said rule is so suspended and this act placed upon its final passage.

SUTTON AND SCHLEICHER COUNTIES CREATED.

Sec. 1. Creates Sutton and Schleicher Counties out of Crockett County, and declares boundaries thereof.

2. [a] Attaches Sutton to Kimble County for judicial and surveying purposes, and to the Twenty-eighth Senatorial, Eighty-fourth Representative, and Tenth Congressional Districts.

[b] Attaches Schleicher to Menard County for judicial and surveying purposes, and to the Twenty-eighth Senatorial, Eightieth Representative, and Tenth Congressional Districts.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 103.—[H. B. No. 387.] An Act to create the counties of Sutton and Schleicher from the county of Crockett.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas. That two new counties, one to be called Sutton County, and one to be called Schleicher County, are hereby created out of the county of Crockett, with boundaries as follows:

Sutton County. Beginning at the northwest corner of the county of Kimble; thence west fifty miles; thence south to the north boundary line of the county of Val Verde; thence east following the said north boundary line of Val Verde County to the northeast corner of same; thence east to the southwest corner of Kimble County; thence north with the west boundary line of said Kimble County to the place of beginning.

Schleicher County: Beginning at the northwest corner of the county of Menard; thence west with the south boundary line of Tom Green County fifty miles; thence south to the northwest corner of Sutton County; thence east with the north boundary line of Sutton County to the southwest corner of Menard County; thence north with the west boundary line of Menard County to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2. [a] That the said county of Sutton shall be attached to the county of Kimble for judicial and surveying purposes, and to the Twenty-eighth Senatorial, Eighty-fourth Representative, and Tenth Congressional Districts for the purposes of representation.

[b] And the county of Schleicher shall be attached to the county of Menard for judicial and surveying purposes, and to the Tenth Congressional, Twenty-eighth Senatorial, and the Eightieth Representative Districts for purposes of Representation.

Sec. 3. Whereas the great distance of the citizens of the proposed new counties from Brackett, the county seat of Kinney County, to which the county of Crockett is now attached for judicial purposes, amounts to a practical denial of justice creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity which requires that the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 73 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays.]

LOCAL OPTION.

Sec. 1. Amends Articles 3227, 3228, 3229, 3230, 3233, 3234, 3236, and 3238, of Title 63, Revised Statutes, and adds Article 3239a thereto.

Article 3239a. Thirty days after a n election on local option in a county, etc., any qualified voter therein may contest said election—New election, etc.

CHAP. 104.—[S. B. No. 117.] An Act to amend Articles 3227, 3228, 3229, 3230, 3233, 3234, 3236, and 3238, of Title 63, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas; and to add Article 3239a to said title, providing for contesting an election under the local option law.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Articles 3227, 3228, 3229, 3230, 3233, 3234, 3236, and 3238, of Title 63, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to read as follows; and that Title 63 of said Revised Statutes be amended by adding thereto Article 3239a, which shall read as follows:

Article 3227. The commissioners court of each county in the State whenever they deem it expedient, may order an election to be held by the qualified voters of said county, or of any justices precinct, town, or city therein, to determine whether or not the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be prohibited in such county, justices precinct, town, or city: Provided, It shall be the duty of said commissioners court to order the election aforesaid whenever petitioned to do so by as many as two hundred voters in any county, or fifty voters in any justices precinct, town, or city, as the case may be.

Article 3228. The preceding article shall not be construed to prohibit the sale of wines for sacramental purposes, nor alcoholic stimulants as medicines in cases of actual sickness, but such stimulants shall only be sold upon the prescription of a regular practicing physician, written in ink, dated and signed by him, and certified on his honor that he (the physician) has personally examined the applicant (naming him), and that he finds him actually sick, and in need of the stimulant prescribed as a medicine: Provided, That a physician who does not follow the profession of medicine as his principal and usual calling, or who is in any way, directly or indirectly, engaged or interested in the sale of such stimulants on his own account, or as the agent, employe, or partner of others, shall not be authorized to give the prescription provided for in this article: And provided further, That no person shall be permitted to sell more than once on the same prescription, nor shall any person be permitted to sell at all on the prescription of a physician not herein authorized to give it, nor on a prescription which is not dated, signed, and certified, as above required: Provided, That every person selling such stimulants upon the prescription herein provided for, shall cancel such prescription by indorsing thereon the word "cancelled," and file the same away.

Article 3229. When the commissioners court, of their own motion, or upon the petition provided for in Article 3227, shall order the election as herein provided for, it shall be the duty of said court to order such election to be held at the regular voting place, or places, within the proposed limits, upon a day not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of said order, and the order thus made shall express the object of such election, and shall be held to be prima facie evidence that all the provisions of law necessary to give its validity, or to clothe the court with jurisdiction to make it, have been fully complied with.

Article 3230. The clerk of said court shall post, or cause to be posted, at least five copies of said order at different places within the proposed limits, for at least twelve days prior to the day of election, which election shall be held and the returns thereof made in conformity with the provisions of the general election laws of the State, and by the officers of election appointed and qualified under such laws.

Article 3233. Said court shall hold a special session on the eleventh day after the holding of said election, or as soon thereafter as practicable, for the purpose of opening the polls and counting the votes; and if a majority of the votes cast are "For Prohibition," said court shall immediately make an order declaring the result of said vote, and absolutely prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within the prescribed limits, except for the purposes and under the regulations specified in this title, until such time as the qualified voters therein may at a legal election held for that purpose by a majority vote decide otherwise. And the order thus made shall be held to be prima facie evidence that all the provisions of law have been complied with in giving notice of and holding said election, and in counting and returning the votes and declaring the result thereof.

Article 3234. The order of court declaring the result, and prohibiting the sale of such liquors, shall be published for four successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county wherein such election has been held, which newspaper shall be selected by the county judge for that purpose. If there be no newspaper published in the county, then the county judge shall cause such publication to be made by posting copies of said order at three public places within the prescribed limits of the aforesaid length of time. The fact of publication in either mode shall be entered by the county judge on the minutes of the commissioners court; and entry thus made, or a copy thereof certified under the hand and seal of the clerk of the county court, shall be held sufficient prima facie evidence of such fact of publication.

Article 3236. No election under the preceding articles shall be held within the same prescribed limits in less than two years after an election under this title has been held therein; but at the expiration of that time the commissioners court of each county in the State, whenever they deem it expedient, may order another election to be held by the qualified voters of said county, or of any justices precinct, town, or city therein, for the same purpose: Provided, It shall be the duty of such court to order the election aforesaid whenever petitioned to do so by as many as two hundred voters in any county, or fifty voters in any justices precinct, town, or city, as the case may be, to order an election for the same purpose, which election shall be ordered held, notice thereof given, the votes returned and counted, and the result declared and published, in all respects as provided by this title for a first election; and the order granting such other election, as well as that declaring the result, shall, if prohibition be carried, have the same force and effect, and the same conclusiveness, as are given to them in the case of a first election by the provisions of this title.

Article 3238. The failure to carry prohibition in a county shall not prevent an election for the same from being immediately thereafter held in a justices precinct, town, or city of said county; nor shall the failure to carry prohibition in a town or city prevent an election from being immediately thereafter held for the entire justices precinct or county in which said town or city is situated; nor shall the holding of an election in a justices precinct in any way prevent the holding of an election immediately thereafter for the entire county in which such justices precinct is situated; but when prohibition has been carried at an election ordered for the entire county, no election on the question of prohibition shall be thereafter ordered in any justices precinct, town, or city of said county until after prohibition has been defeated at a subsequent election for the same purpose, ordered and held for the entire county, in accordance with the provisions of this title; nor in any case where prohibition has been carried in any justices precinct shall an election on the question of prohibition be ordered thereafter in any town or city in such precinct until after prohibition has been defeated at a subsequent election ordered and held for such entire precinct.

Article 3239a. At any time within thirty days after the result of the election has been declared, any qualified voter of the county, justices precinct, town, or city in which such election has been held, may contest the said election in any court of competent jurisdiction, in such manner as has been or may hereafter be provided; and should it appear from the evidence that the election was illegally or fraudulently conducted; or that by the action or want of action on the part of the officers to whom was intrusted the control of such election, such a number of legal voters were denied the privilege of voting, as had they been allowed to vote might have materially changed the result; or if it appears from the evidence that such irregularities existed as to render the true result of the election impossible to be arrived at, or very doubtful of ascertaining, the court shall adjudge such election to be void, and shall order the proper officer to order another election to be held, and shall cause a certified copy of such judgment and order of the court to be delivered to such officer upon whom is devolved by law the duty of ordering such election.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, INSURANCE, STATISTICS, AND HISTORY.

Sec.

1. Creates Department of Agriculture, Insurance, Statistics and History.
2. Designating title of the commissioner—Providing the seal of office—Clerks, etc.
3. Constitutes the commissioner a member of the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical college.
4. Provides for relations of this department with agricultural departments of other governments, etc.

Sec.

5. Commissioner shall arrange for collection and publication of agricultural statistics.
6. Duties of assessors when listing for taxes—To collect agricultural data Compensation of assessors—Duties of Comptroller.
7. Prescribing manner and form of publishing and distributing reports and information—Emergency clause.

CHAP. 105.—[H. B. No. 355.] An Act to create a Bureau of Agriculture for the State of Texas, and to add it to the Department of Insurance, Statistics, and History; to properly designate said department and its head, and to prescribe the duties belonging to it relating to agriculture.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there is hereby created a Bureau of Agriculture for the State of Texas, and attached to the Department of Insurance, Statistics, and History, which department shall hereafter be known as the Department of Agriculture, Insurance, Statistics, and History, the head or chief officer of which department shall be styled the Commissioner of Agriculture, Insurance, Statistics, and History.

Sec. 2. The present Commissioner of Insurance, Statistics, and History shall assume the title named in the foregoing section as his official designation; he shall change the seal of his department so as to conform thereto, by inserting in it the words "Department of Agriculture, Insurance, Statistics, and History of the State of Texas," or an intelligible abbreviation thereof; and shall at once assume, in addition to his present duties, those imposed by this act relating to agriculture; and shall have the power to appoint a clerk, or clerks,, as the additional labor of his department may require: Provided, No clerk so appointed shall receive more than twelve hundred dollars per annum.

Sec. 3. The Commissioner shall be ex officio a member of the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of the State, and shall be allowed pay for all necessary expenses in attending on its meetings. His connection with said Board of Directors shall date from the time the first vacancy occurs after this act becomes a law.

Sec. 4. The Commissioner shall, at as early day as practicable, place his department in correspondence with the Department of Agriculture at Washington City, and with the Departments of Agriculture of the several States and Territories of the United States, and, at his option, with those of foreign countries and the representatives of the United States in foreign countries, with the view to gathering facts and information that will aid and advance the interest of agriculture in Texas; he may also, for the same purpose, open correspondence with such organizations, societies, and associations in the State, having for their object the promotion of agriculture in any of its branches, as he may choose, as well as such individuals as he may select in various parts of the State.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the Commissioner to arrange and adopt some plan for collecting and publishing agricultural and farm statistics, in connection with his annual report, in such form and numbers as he may deem best or the condition of the department will permit; and to that end he shall, before the first day of January in each year, furnish the tax assessors of the several counties in the State with the necessary blanks, together with such instructions as will properly direct them in that work.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of tax assessors when listing property for taxes to also call on all taxpayers in their respective counties for necessary facts and information for filling out the blanks; they shall receive such compensation for this service as may be allowed by the commissioners court, one-half to be paid by the State and one-half by the county, to be paid in the same manner that the fees for assessing State and county taxes are now paid; and when any assessor fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of this act and the instructions of the Commissioner, the Comptroller shall, on notice from the Commissioner, withhold the pay due such assessor for assessing the State taxes of his county until notified by the Commissioner that such assessor has complied with the law.

Sec. 7. The annual reports of the Commissioner shall be distributed through the State, and in such manner as the Commissioner may deem best, and he may, whenever the means of the department will allow and the interest of agriculture requires, take the necessary steps for publishing semi-annual or quarterly reports of the condition of the crops, stock, and other matters relating to this department, and distribute the same in such manner as he may think will best promote the public good.

The near approach of the close of the session creates a public necessity and emergency demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is so suspended.

LAND DISTRICTS.

Sec.

1. Martin, Andrews, and Gaines Counties to constitute Martin Land District—Surveyor of, etc.
2. Scurry, Kent, and Garza to constitute Scurry Land District—Surveyor of, etc.
3. Crosby, Dickens, Motley, Floyd, Hale, Llano, Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, and Lubbock to constitute Crosby Land District—Surveyor of, etc.

Sec.

4. Knox and King to constitute the Knox Land District—Surveyor of, etc.
5. Duty of Commissioner of Land Office to supply district surveyors with maps, field notes, etc.
6. Repealing clause.
7. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 106.—[H. B. No. 602.] An Act to create the Martin, Scurry, Crosby, and Knox Land Districts.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the counties of Martin, Andrews, and Gaines, be and the same are hereby constituted the Martin Land District; and the county surveyor of Martin County shall be the surveyor for said district, and he shall keep his office in the county site of Martin County, and the records of all files and surveys in said district shall be kept in his office.

Sec. 2. The counties of Scurry, Kent, and Garza, be and the same are hereby constituted the Scurry Land District; and the county surveyor of Scurry County shall be the surveyor for said district, and he shall keep his office in the county site of Scurry County, and the records of all files and surveys in said district shall be kept in his office.

Sec. 3. The counties of Crosby, Dickens, Motley, Floyd, Hale, Llano, Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, and Lubbock, be and the same are hereby constituted the Crosby Land District; and the county surveyor of Crosby County shall be the surveyor for said district, and he shall keep his office in the county site of Crosby County, and the records of all files and surveys in said district shall be kept in his office.

Sec. 4. The counties of Knox and King be and the same are hereby constituted the Knox Land District; and the county surveyor of Knox County shall be the surveyor of said district, and he shall keep his office in the county site of Knox County, and the records of all files and surveys in said district shall be kept in his office.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, immediately after this act takes effect, to furnish the district surveyors of the said several districts with certified copies of all maps, field notes, and sketches of all surveys in said districts not heretofore recorded therein, which shall be filed in the said surveyor's office, and shall be public archives thereof.

Sec. 6. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 7. The great distance from most of the said counties to an authorized surveyor's office, and the inconvenience to which parties desiring surveys to be made are put, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and it is so suspended; and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

GREER COUNTY—FOR CANCELLATION OF PATENTS IN, ETC.

Sec.

1. Commissioner of General Land Office required to issue certificates to patentees of lands in Greer County.
2. Certificates to issue to owner of patents—Saving clause as to suits for cancellation of patents in.

Sec.

3. New certificates to be for same amount of land as old—They may be located as other donations—Conditions to be incorporated therein, etc.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 107.—[S. S. B. No. 200.] An Act to authorize the holders and owners of patents issued to lands in Greer County and other reservations to surrender their patents for cancellation, and to authorize the Commissioner to issue new certificates in such cases.

Whereas many patents have been issued, by virtue of veteran certificates, to lands in Greer County; and whereas said lands were located under the construction by the Commissioner of the General Land Office of the act reserving from location the lands embraced within the territorial limits of the county of Greer; Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Commissioner of the General Land Office be and is hereby authorized and required to issue a certificate to the patentee or assignee of each patent issued to lands in Greer County and other reservations by virtue of veteran certificates; and said certificates shall be issued upon the conditions hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. The said certificate shall in all cases issue to the owner of the patent, whether the owner be the original grantee, the patentee, or the assignee; but said owner shall first file with the Commissioner of the General Land Office a complete chain of title from the original grantee, and said owner shall also surrender his patent to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, whose duty it shall be to cancel said patent and the certificate by virtue of which it issued: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be construed as requiring or authorizing the Attorney-General to dismiss any suit now pending for the cancellation of said patents, nor to prevent him from bringing other suits for such purposes.

Sec. 3. The certificates hereinafter provided to be issued shall be for the same quantity of land as called for in the patent cancelled, and shall be located in the same manner and way as veteran donation certificates issued under the veteran act of 1881 could be located, and patented as in other cases; and the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall charge no fees for the issuance of the certificates and patents: Provided, if no unappropriated public domain can be found on which to locate said certificates, the parties to whom said certificates are issued shall have no further claim upon the State by reason of anything contained in this act: And provided further, That this provision shall be incorporated on the face of such certificate: Provided, That said certificates shall not be located on any lands heretofore forfeited, or that may hereafter be forfeited, to the State by any railroad company, nor any of the lands that are or may be reserved from location: And provided, That said patents be returned to the Land Commissioner and be by him cancelled, and new certificates be issued therefor as hereinbefore provided, on or by the first day of January, 1888, and no new certificates shall be issued after that time.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, and the doubtful validity of patents issued to lands in Greer County, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency that the constitutional rule requiring that all bills be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

COSTS AND SECURITY THEREFOR.

Sec. 1. Amends Article 1420, Chapter 20, Title 29, Revised Statutes, concerning demanding costs up to adjournment of terms of court.

CHAP. 108.—[S. B. No 325.] An Act to amend Article 1420, Chapter 20, Title 29, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1420, Chapter 20, Title 29, of the Revised Civil Statutes, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1420. Each party to any suit shall be responsible to the officers of the court for the costs incurred by himself; and no sheriff or constable shall be compelled to execute any process in civil cases coming from any county other than the one in which he is an officer; unless the fees allowed him by law for the service of such process shall be paid in advance: Provided, That when affidavit is filed, as provided for in Article 1438 of this chapter, the clerk issuing the process shall endorse thereon the words "pauper oath filed," and sign his name officially below them, and the sheriff or constable in whose hands such process is placed for service shall serve the same as in other cases.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the end of this session of the Legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

Approved April 2, 1887.

FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF PRO TEM. DISTRICT AND COUNTY CLERKS.

Sec.

1. For the appointment of clerks pro tem. in cases where clerks are interested.
2. Prescribing bond and oath for such appointees.

Sec.

3. Duties of person so appointed.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 109.—[S. B. No. 191.] An Act to provide for the appointment of district and county clerks pro tem. in certain cases.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That in all cases wherein any district or county clerk in this State is, or shall hereafter be, a party to any pending or proposed suit, motion, or proceeding in their respective courts, the district or county judge in whose court the same may be pending or proposed shall, either in term time or in vacation, on application of any person interested, or of his own motion, appoint a clerk pro tem. for the purposes of such suit, motion, or proceeding.

Sec. 2. Any person so appointed clerk shall take the oath to faithfully and impartially perform the duties of such appointment, and shall also enter into bond, payable to the State of Texas, with one or more good and sufficient sureties, in such amount as may be required by the judge, to be approved by him, and conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties under such appointment.

Sec. 3. The person so appointed shall perform all the duties required by law of the clerk in the particular suit, motion, or proceeding in which he may be appointed.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the close of the present session rendering it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, creates an imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is accordingly so enacted.

PRIVATE CORPORATIONS.

Sec.

1. Amends Article 568, Revised Statutes, concerning creation of corporations.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 110.—[S. B. No. 134.] An Act to amend Article 568, Title 20, Chapter 2, of An Act to adopt and establish the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 568, of Title 20, Chapter 2, of An Act to adopt and establish the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 568. The charter of an intended corporation must be subscribed by three or more persons, two of whom at least must be citizens of this State, and must be acknowledged by them before an officer duly authorized to take acknowledgment of deeds: Provided, That all charters for the purposes named in clauses 2 and 3 of Article 566 of this chapter and title may be subscribed by married women, who may also be stockholders, officers, and directors thereof; and their acts, contracts, and deeds shall be as binding and effective for all purposes of said corporation as if they were males, and the joinder and consent of their husbands and privy examinations separate and apart from them shall not be required.

Sec. 2. Whereas there is now in the city of Dallas a "Home for Sick Women," which cannot be properly organized because of the inability of married women to become incorporators and officers thereof, and because in many other places similar charities, much needed, cannot be organized for the same cause, a public emergency exists; therefore be it further enacted that this bill shall take effect from and after its passage.

REGULATING TIDE WATER FISHING.

Sec.

1. Regulating the emptying of fish nets, etc.
2. Provides for tide-water pre-emptions for oyster beds, and protection of pre-emptor from trespass.
3. Prohibits taking oysters from May 1 until August 5.

Sec.

4. To prohibit the taking and sale of ungrown crabs and shrimp.
5. Prescribes penalties for violating the provisions of this act.

CHAP. 111.—[S. S. B. No. 195.] An Act to regulate the time and manner of taking and catching fish, oysters, crabs, and shrimp within the limits of the bays and tributaries within the limits of Texas, up to tide water, and also from the waters of the Gulf of Mexico along the coast of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, who take, capture, or catch fish in the waters of any of the bays or any of the tributaries of tide water within the limits of Texas, or from the waters of the Gulf of Mexico along the coast of Texas, by seines, drag-nets, set-nets, fish-baskets, fish-pots, weirs, pound-nets, fykes, or any other means or contrivance whatsoever, which is now known or used in the capturing or destroying of fish, or which may hereafter be invented for that purpose, to empty their seines, drag-nets, set-nets, fish-baskets, fish-pots, weirs, pound-nets, fykes, or any other means or contrivance used, or which may hereafter be used, for capturing and catching fish, on the beach or shores, at any time whilst so fishing, as to leave the smaller fish to perish, but to empty the same in water of sufficient depth that the smaller fish may live and grow: Provided, That all fish not over eight inches in length shall be emptied back into water of sufficient depth to live and grow, croakers excepted.

Sec. 2. That any person who is an actual bona fide citizen of the State may pre-empt, within any of the bays, bayous, and tide water tributaries situated in this State, five hundred and thirty-eight yards square, and fence off or stake off the same for the purpose of planting oyster beds; and such person so staking off or fencing as aforesaid shall be protected in his possession thereof against trespass thereon in like manner as freeholders are protected in their rights, and shall have ownership for twelve years after so staking or fencing off, and filing with the county clerk his pre-emption: Provided, That no person, firm, or corporation shall pre-empt within the waters of this State under this act nearer than the extreme low water mark in front of the shore or water front of another without the consent of the owner of such shore or water front: And provided further, That this act shall not in any manner whatever affect or interfere with the riparian proper right of land owners.

Sec. 3. That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to take, capture, or catch oysters within any of the waters that are free within the limits of this State, by any means whatever, from the first day of May to the twenty-fifth day of August: And Provided, That no oyster less than one and one-half inches in length "net" shall be caught or offered for sale.

Sec. 4. That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to take, capture, or catch, by any means whatever, within any of the waters of this State, and offer them for sale, either crab or shrimp, except those that are grown; and whenever, in capturing or catching crabs and shrimps, any caught not grown shall be emptied back into water of sufficient depth that they may live and grow.

Sec. 5. That any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars: Provided, That all fines so collected shall be paid into the common school fund in each county where such conviction is had.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

TRIAL OF RIGHT OF PROPERTY.

Sec.

1. Amends Articles 4823 and 4843, Revised Civil Statutes, concerning trial of right of property.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 112.—[S. B. No. 268.] An Act to amend Articles 4823 and 4843 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, in relation to trials of the right of property.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Articles 4823 and 4843 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 4823. He shall also execute and deliver to the officer who made such levy, his bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by such officer, payable to the plaintiff in such writ, for an amount equal to double the value of the property so claimed to be assessed by such officer: Provided however, That when more than one writ has been levied said bond may be made payable to all the plaintiffs in the several writs levied. Said bond shall inure to the benefit of all the plaintiffs in the several writs according to their respective priorities in time of levy. Upon the approval of such bond and delivery of the property to the claimant, the same shall be deemed in custodia legis, and shall not be taken out of his possession by any other like writ or writs, but said writs may be levied on the same by giving notice to the claimant, and in such cases the claimant's bond shall also inure to the benefit of the several plaintiffs in such writs according to their respective priorities.

Article 4843. In all cases where any claimant of property under the provisions of this title shall fail to establish his right thereto, judgment shall be rendered against him and his sureties for the value of the property, with legal interest thereon from the date of such bond. Such judgment shall be rendered in favor of the plaintiff in the writ, or of the several plaintiffs if more than one, and shall fix the amount of each plaintiff's claim; and in case such judgment should not be satisfied by a return of the property as provided in Article 4845, then execution shall issue thereon in the name of the plaintiff for the amount of his claim, or of all the plaintiffs for the sum of their several claims, provided the amount of such judgment exceed such claim or sum; and in such cases the excess of such judgment shall inure to the benefit of any person who shall show superior right or title to the property claimed as against the claimant; but if such judgment be for a less amount than the sum of the several plaintiff's claims, then the respective rights and priorities of the several plaintiffs shall be fixed and adjusted in the judgment.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session rendering it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, creates an imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is accordingly so enacted.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

SKINNING CATTLE, ETC.

Sec. 1. Amends Article 765, Chapter 13, Title 17, Penal Code, prescribing penalties for skinning cattle, etc.

CHAP. 113.—[S. B. No. 222.] An Act to amend Articles 765, Title 17, Chapter 13, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, and to add thereto Articles 765a and 765b.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 765, of Title 17, Chapter 13, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, be amended so as to read hereafter as follows:

Article 765. If any person shall remove the hide, or any part thereof, from any cattle not his own, and without the consent of the owner, he shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars; and the removal of each separate hide from each animal shall constitute a separate offense.

Article 765a. If any person shall be found in possession of any hide of any cattle not his own, and possession of said hide is obtained without the consent of the owner or his legal representative, he shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars.

Article 765b. If any person be found in possession of any hide of any cattle with brand cut out or disfigured, and shall offer the same for sale, he shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars, and the possession and offer of sale of each hide with the brand cut out or disfigured shall constitute a separate offense: Provided, That nothing in this act shall prevent any person who shall be guilty of the offense of theft of such hide from being prosecuted and convicted for such offense.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the end of the session of the Legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

FIFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Sec.

1. Prescribing counties comprised in said district, and terms of court therein.

Sec.

2. Repealing clause.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 114.—[S. B. No. 284.] An Act to amend Section 5 of an act approved February 6, 1884, entitled "An Act to amend Sections 5, 7, 26, and 39, of an act entitled 'An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the times for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884,'" approved April 9, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 5 of an act approved February 6, 1884, entitled "An Act to amend Sections 5, 7, 26, and 39, of an act entitled An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the times for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," approved April 9, 1883, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows, to-wit:

Section 5. The Fifth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Bowie, Cass, Marion, Morris, Titus, Franklin, and Camp, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows:

In the county of Cass on the first Monday in February and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Bowie on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in February, and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Morris on the eighth Monday after the first Monday in February, and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Titus on the tenth Monday after the first Monday in February, and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Franklin on the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in February, and fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Camp on the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in February, and the fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Marion on the seventeenth Monday after the first Monday in February, and fourth Monday in August, and may continue in session five weeks.

Sec. 2. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the session of the present Legislature creates an imperative public necessity and emergency for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force on and after the first day of August, A. D. 1887, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a two-thirds vote; and passed the Senate by a two-thirds vote.]

Approved, April 2, 1887.

PUBLIC LANDS—CORRECTION OF SURVEYS.

Sec.

1. The Commissioner of the General Land Office authorized to have surveys corrected—To that end may appoint surveyor.
2. State surveyor's bond—Duties of, etc.

Sec.

3. Further prescribing powers of the Commissioner of Land Office.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 115.—[H. B. No. 569.] An Act to provide for ascertaining and correcting conflicts and errors in surveys of lands made for the Common School, University, or Asylum Funds, or other lands in which the State may be interested; to provide for the resurvey of same, and for patenting and repatenting surveys in certain cases.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That for the purpose of ascertaining the conflicts and errors in and making proper corrections of surveys of lands made for the common school, university, or asylum funds, or other surveys in which the State may be interested, directly or indirectly, in cases where from discrepancies or imperfections in field notes it may become necessary for the proper compilation of maps, or for the proper location and identification of said lands upon the ground, the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby invested with full power and authority to have such surveys made as he may deem necessary, and to appoint competent surveyors for this purpose.

Sec. 2. Any surveyor appointed under the provisions of this act shall make and execute a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned and payable the same as bonds of county and district surveyors; he shall also take the oath prescribed by the Constitution for other officers; said bond to be approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and shall be conditioned as other surveyors' bonds. He shall be under the control and direction of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and under such direction may survey the common school, university, and asylum lands, or other lands in which the State may be interested, and prepare and return field notes of same, and certify to any and all facts, and generally do and perform such official acts as might lawfully be done by a county or district surveyor, and shall sign his name officially as "State Surveyor."

Sec. 3. The Commissioner of the General Land Office may have any lands belonging to the common school, university, or asylum funds, or other lands in which the State may be interested, or lands alternating therewith, surveyed or resurveyed, and field notes or corrected field notes of same returned to his office, by any surveyor appointed under this act, which field notes shall have the same force and effect as if made by the county or district surveyor of the county or district in which said land lies; and upon the adoption and approval of said field notes by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, he shall forward to the surveyor of the county or district in which said land lies, certified copies of said field notes, which thereafter shall be a part of the records of said surveyor's office. In carrying out the provisions of this act the Commissioner of the General Land Office may, when requested by the owner of lands alternating with the lands resurveyed under the provisions of this act, cancel patents, and in lieu thereof issue patents in accordance with said resurvey: Provided, That all such owners shall pay the expenses incurred in making such corrected surveys of their lands and in issuing said patents: Provided, That no claim shall be created against the State for services performed under this act in the absence of a previous appropriation therefor.

Sec. 4. Whereas the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, and the fact that no law is now in existence on this subject, an imperative public necessity requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is suspending, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 58 yeas, 28 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 23 yeas, 3 nays.]

Approved, April 2, 1887.

SUNDAY LAW.

Sec. 1. Amending the Sunday law—Additional Exemptions.

CHAP. 116.—[H. B. No. 128.] An Act to amend Article 183 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, and to amend an act entitled "An Act to amend Article 186 of the Penal Code," approved April 10, A. D. 1883, Chapter 2, Title 7, and to amend said chapter and title by adding thereto Article 186a, providing additional exemptions from the operation of the Sunday law.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 183 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, and that An Act to amend Article 186 of the Penal Code, approved April 10, A. D. 1883, be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 183. Any person who shall hereafter labor, or compel, force, or oblige his employes, workmen, or apprentices to labor, on Sunday, or any person who shall hereafter hunt game of any kind whatsoever on Sunday within one-half mile of any church, school house, or private residence, shall be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars.

Article 186. Any merchant, grocer, or dealer in wares or merchandise, or trader in any business whatsoever, or the proprietor of any place of public amusement, or the agent or employe of any such person, who shall sell or barter, or permit his place of business or place of public amusement to be open for purpose of traffic or public amusement, on Sunday, shall be fined not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars. The term place of public amusement, shall be construed to mean circuses, theatres, variety theatres, and such other amusements as are exhibited and for which an admission fee is charged; and shall also include dances at disorderly houses, low dives, and places of like character, with or without fees for admission.

Article 186a. The preceding article shall not apply to markets or dealers in provisions as to sales of provisions made by them before 9 o'clock a. m., nor to the sale of burial or shrouding material, newspapers, ice, ice-cream, milk, nor to the sending of telegraph or telephone messages at any hour of the day, nor to keepers of drug stores, hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, livery stables, barber shops, bath houses, or ice dealers, nor to telegraph or telephone offices.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—THIRTY-FOURTH.

Sec.

1. Counties comprised in Thirty-fourth Judicial District, and terms of court thereof.

Sec.

2. Writs and process, returns of.

CHAP. 117.—[S. S. H. B. No. 357.] An act to amend an act approved February 27th, 1885, entitled An Act to amend Section 34 of an act entitled An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the times for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9th, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 34 of an act entitled An Act to redistrict the State of Texas into judicial districts, and fix the times for holding the courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9th, 1883, and an act amendatory thereof, approved February the 27th, 1885, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 34. The Thirty-fourth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of El Paso, Reeves, and Presidio, and the district courts shall be held therein at the times as follows:

In the county of Reeves on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Presidio on the second Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of El Paso on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That all writs and process returnable to the said courts shall be returnable to the terms of the said courts as herein fixed; and all such writs and process as have been issued, executed, and returned, shall be as valid as if no change had been made in the time of holding said courts by the passage of this act.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the session creates an emergency which demands the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is so suspended.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

TAXATION.

Sec.

1. Adds Article 4676a, concerning assessment of live stock.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 118.—[S. B. 303.] An Act to amend Chapter 2, Title 96, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Article 4676a, providing for the assessment of live stock in pastures in the several counties in which such pastures are situated.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter Two, Title Ninety-six of the Revised Civil Statutes, be amended by adding thereto Article 4676a, which shall read as follows:

Article 4676a. All persons, companies, and corporations owning pastures in the State which lie on county boundaries, shall be required to list for assessment all live stock of every kind owned by them in said pastures in the several counties in which such pastures are situated, listing in each county such portion of said stock as the land in such county is of the whole pasture. All persons, companies, and corporations owning any kind of live stock not their own, shall list such live stock in the several counties in which such pastures are situated in the same manner, and in both cases the tax assessed upon such live stock shall be paid to the tax collectors of the several counties in which such live stock is listed and assessed.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days should be suspended, and an emergency exists that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 119.—[S. B. No. 71.] An Act to protect stockraisers, providing for the destruction of wolves and other wild animals.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter when any person shall kill in this State any wolf, either coyote or lobo, panther, Mexican lion, tiger, leopard, or wildcat, he may be paid in the county in which he kills such animal the sum of fifty cents for each coyote wolf, or wildcat, and one dollar for each lobo wolf, and the sum of two dollars for each panther, Mexican lion, tiger, or leopard so killed.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of any county may order to be paid to the person or persons having killed any of said animals in their respective counties, as fixed in section (1) one of this act, upon their exhibiting the scalps of the animals killed to the county judge of said county, accompanied by the written affidavit of such person, stating when and where he killed said animals, and the kind of each.

Sec. 3. Such scalp shall consist of a sufficient portion of the said animal's hide, including the ears thereof, to determine whether the same has been taken from one of the above named animals; and the commissioners court may in all cases, when it is not satisfied as to the sufficiency of the evidence before it under this act, reject any and all claims. The commissioners court shall destroy all such scalps as soon as practicable.

Sec. 4. Whereas a great number of cattle, sheep, and swine are being destroyed daily throughout the stockraising portion of the State, public policy requires immediate relief; therefore an emergency exists that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

RAILROADS—DUTIES AND LIABILITIES OF.

Sec. 1. Amends Article 4251, Revised Statutes—Railroads shall draw cars, freight and passengers of other roads without delay or discrimination.

Amends Art. 4252. Defining connecting lines, and prohibiting discrimination.

Amends Art. 4253. Penalty for failure to draw cars, etc.

Amends Art. 4254. Terms to be advertised, and penalty for failure to observe same.

Amends Art. 4255. Recovery of damages to Railroads for refusing to interchange freight, passengers, receive tickets and checks of other companies.

CHAP. 120.—[S. B. No. 256.] An Act to amend Articles 4251, 4252, 4253, 4254, and 4255, of Chapter 10, Title 84, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Articles 4251, 4252, 4253, 4254, and 4255, of Chapter 10, Title 84, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 4251. That all railway companies doing business in this State shall be and they are hereby required to receive from all other railway companies with which they may connect at the State line of this State, or at any place within this State, or at any or all places where they may cross the line of any other railway doing business or operating a line of railway in this State, all freights and passengers coming to it from such connecting line and destined to points on its line, or to points beyond its line or any other line of railway with which said line may connect or cross, and shall transport the same over its said line to destination if on its line, or to the next connecting or cross line in the direction of destination if beyond its line, without delay or discrimination in favor of or against the line from which such freight or passengers are received, and upon the same terms and conditions with those made by such line for like or similar service against any other railway in or out of this State with which it does business: Provided, however, That the words "without delay or discrimination," as used herein, are hereby declared to mean that the freight received for transportation as required herein shall be shipped in the order in which it is received, giving preference in all cases to live stock and other perishable freight in the order received, and the charges for the business required by this act to be interchanged shall be no greater pro rata per cent per mile for freight, and no greater rate per mile for passengers and baggage, than is charged to any other line for transporting like freight and passengers and baggage, or that it accept for itself when transported wholly on its own line, no matter on what part of the line or in what direction the transporting is done.

Article 4252. Whenever any two or more railroads doing business in this State shall connect with each other, by crossing each other's track, or otherwise, so as to form a continuous or connected line from one point in the State to another point in this State, such lines so crossing are hereby declared to be connecting lines; and when such connecting lines receive from any other railway or transportation line passengers or freight for transportation over the combined line at a rate or division agreed upon between themselves and such other railway or transportation line from which the business is received as aforesaid, then in every such case it shall be the duty of such connecting railways forming such through line, and of either or both of them, to receive from every other railway or transportation line with which they or either of them may connect by crossing of track or otherwise, all passengers or freight that may be destined to points on either of the lines making up such combined line, and transport the same to the point of destination if on such combined lines or either of them, or to the next connection or crossing in the direction of the destination of such freight or passengers, without delay or discrimination, and at no greater rate than is paid, and on the same conditions as is or shall be required, by such combined line for like or similar services from any other railway or transportation line with which they or either of them shall interchange business.

Article 4253. Every railroad or person or corporation operating a railway for the carriage of freight and passengers in this State, shall receive freight, passengers, and baggage for transportation to or into this State, or through any part thereof, from every other connecting railway, upon the same terms and conditions as to the division of charges for carrying or transporting the same upon a mileage or any other basis, and upon terms and conditions as to bills of lading, way bills, tickets, coupon tickets, and baggage checks, that any such person or corporation or transportation line may receive or contract to receive from any other person or corporation engaged in like business in this State.

Article 4254. Every railway which may interchange business with any other connecting railway under the provisions of this act or otherwise, is hereby declared to be a trustee for such connecting railway, to the extent of all sums of money received by it for the joint business interchanged between them, and which may properly belong to such other railway. Such sums of money shall be due and payable from one connecting line to the other once every ninety days; and each connecting railway shall have a lien upon the property and franchises of connecting railways to the extent of balances due each quarter, which lien shall be superior to all other liens upon said property and franchises, save and except laborers' liens, as already provided by law, and may be enforced in any of the courts of this State having jurisdiction by law of the subject matter and of the parties.

Article 4255. If any railway company doing business in this State shall fail or refuse to interchange business with any other railway company; or shall fail or refuse to interchange business on the same terms or for the same pro rata that it interchanges business with any other railway company in this State; or shall fail or refuse to honor or receive the tickets, coupon tickets, way bills, or baggage checks of any connecting railway upon the same terms and conditions that it receives or honors the tickets, coupon tickets, way bills, or baggage checks of any other railway company; or shall violate in any manner any other provisions of this and the four preceding articles, such railway company so offending shall be deemed guilty of discrimination within the meaning of this act, and shall forfeit and pay to the person or corporation aggrieved thereby the sum of one thousand dollars as penal damages for each and every act of discrimination or violation of this act, which may be recovered in a civil action in any of the courts of this State having jurisdiction by law of such an amount, in the name of the person or corporation so suing: Provided, Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent the recovery of any other damages, by any aggrieved person, firm, or corporation, occurring by reason of the violation of this or the four preceding articles, nor to relieve any railway company, or its officers, managers, or agents, from prosecution for the violation of any penal law of the State.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATIONS.

Sec.

1. Assenting to purposes of grant by Congress.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 121.—[S. B. No. 349.] An Act to give the assent of the State of Texas to the purposes of a grant of money authorized and appropriated by an act of the Congress of the United States, approved March 2nd, A. D. 1887, and entitled "An Act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with the colleges established in the several States under the provisions of an act approved July 2nd, A. D. eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and of the acts supplementary thereto."

Whereas the Congress of the United States, by an act approved March 2, A. D. 1887, and entitled "An Act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with colleges established in the several States under the provisions of an act approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and of the acts supplementary thereto," has granted to each of the States and Territories of the United States an appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars for the purposes indicated in the title of said act, and fully set forth in the body thereof; and whereas said act in Section 9 thereof provides that the grants of money therein authorized are made subject to the legislative assent of the several States and Territories to the purposes of said grants: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the State of Texas does hereby assent to the purposes of said grant.

Sec. 2. That the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, rendering it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, and the importance of the subject matter hereof, creates an imperative public necessity demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is accordingly so suspended.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

APPEALS FROM JUSTICES COURT.

Sec. 1. Allows ten days to make proof of inability to pay costs, etc.

CHAP. 122.—[S. B. No. 240.] An Act to amend Article 1639a of An Act to amend Title 32, Chapter 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, approved April 14th, A. D. 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1639a be and is hereby amended so as to read hereafter as follows:

Article 1639a. Where the appellant is unable to pay the costs of appeal, or to give security therefor, he shall nevertheless be entitled to prosecute his appeal; but in order to do so he shall be required to make strict proof of his inability to pay the costs, or any part thereof. Such proof shall be made before the county judge of the county where such party resides, or before the court trying the same, at any time within ten days from and after the date of the judgment rendered therein, and shall consist of the affidavit of said party, stating his inability to pay the costs, which affidavit may be contested by any officer of the court or party to the suit; whereupon it shall be the duty of the court trying the case, or the justice of the peace of the precinct in which said case was tried, or the county judge of the county in which the suit is pending, to hear evidence and to determine the right of the party to his appeal.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

RAILROADS—RELATIONS WITH EXPRESS COMPANIES.

Sec.

1. Railroad Companies shall furnish equal facilities and rates to express companies, etc.

Sec.

2. Liable in damages for failure to comply with this act, and are subject to mandamus.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 123.—[S. B. No. 115.] An Act to compel all railroads operating in the State to furnish reasonable and equal facilities and accommodations to all corporations and persons engaged in express business, for transportation of themselves, agents, servants, merchandise, and other property.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That every railroad company operating a railroad within this State shall furnish reasonable and equal facilities and accommodations, and upon reasonable and equal rates, to all corporations, and persons engaged in the express business, for the transportation of themselves, agents, servants, merchandise, and other property, and for the use of their cars, depots, buildings, and grounds, and for exchanges at points of junction with other roads.

Sec. 2. Any railroad company which shall fail to comply with the provisions hereof, shall be liable to the aggrieved party, in an action on the case, for damages, and such railway company, in addition to liability to said action for damages, shall be subject to a writ of mandamus, to be issued by any court of competent jurisdiction, to compel compliance with the provisions of section (1) of this act, and the said writ of mandamus shall issue at the instance of any party or corporation aggrieved by a violation hereof, and any violation of said writ shall be punishable as a contempt.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the present session rendering other once every ninety days; and each connecting railway shall have a lien upon the property and franchises of connecting railways to the extent of balances due each quarter, which lien shall be superior to all other liens upon said property and franchises, save and except laborers' liens, as already provided by law, and may be enforced in any of the courts of this State having jurisdiction by law of the subject matter and of the parties.

Article 4255. If any railway company doing business in this State shall fail or refuse to interchange business with any other railway company; or shall fail or refuse to interchange business on the same terms or for the same pro rata that it interchanges business with any other railway company in this State; or shall fail or refuse to honor or receive the tickets, coupon tickets, way bills, or baggage checks of any connecting railway upon the same terms and conditions that it receives or honors the tickets, coupon tickets, way bills, or baggage checks of any other railway company; or shall violate in any manner any other provisions of this and the four preceding articles, such railway company so offending shall be deemed guilty of discrimination within the meaning of this act, and shall forfeit and pay to the person or corporation aggrieved thereby the sum of one thousand dollars as penal damages for each and every act of discrimination or violation of this act, which may be recovered in a civil action in any of the courts of this State having jurisdiction by law of such an amount, in the name of the person or corporation so suing: Provided, Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent the recovery of any other damages, by any aggrieved person, firm, or corporation, occurring by reason of the violation of this or the four preceding articles, nor to relieve any railway company, or its officers, managers, or agents, from prosecution for the violation of any penal law of the State.

CHAP. 121.—[S. B. No. 349.] An Act to give the assent of the State of Texas to the purposes of a grant of money authorized and appropriated by an act of the Congress of the United States, approved March 2nd, A. D. 1887, and entitled "An Act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with the colleges established in the several States under the provisions of an act approved July 2nd, A. D. eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and of the acts supplementary thereto."

Whereas the Congress of the United States, by an act approved March 2, A. D. 1887, and entitled "An Act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with colleges established in the several States under the provisions of an act approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and of the acts supplementary thereto," has granted to each of the States and Territories of the United States an appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars for the purposes indicated in the title of said act, and fully set forth in the body thereof; and whereas said act in Section 9 thereof provides that the grants of money therein authorized are made subject to the legislative assent of the several States and Territories to the purposes of said grants: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the State of Texas does hereby assent to the purposes of said grant.

Sec. 2. That the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature, rendering it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, and the importance of the subject matter hereof, creates an imperative public necessity demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is accordingly so suspended.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

APPEALS FROM JUSTICES COURT.

Sec. 1. Allows ten days to make proof of inability to pay costs, etc.

CHAP. 122.—[S. B. No. 240.] An Act to amend Article 1639a of An Act to amend Title 32, Chapter 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, approved April 14th, A. D. 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1639a be and is hereby amended so as to read hereafter as follows:

Article 1639a. Where the appellant is unable to pay the costs of appeal, or to give security therefor, he shall nevertheless be entitled to prosecute his appeal; but in order to do so he shall be required to make strict proof of his inability to pay the costs, or any part thereof. Such proof shall be made before the county judge of the county where such party resides, or before the court trying the same, at any time within ten days from and after the date of the judgment rendered therein, and shall consist of the affidavit of said party, stating his inability to pay the costs, which affidavit may be contested by any officer of the court or party to the suit; whereupon it shall be the duty of the court trying the case, or the justice of the peace of the precinct in which said case was tried, or the county judge of the county in which the suit is pending, to hear evidence and to determine the right of the party to his appeal.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

RAILROADS—RELATIONS WITH EXPRESS COMPANIES.

Sec.

1. Railroad Companies shall furnish equal facilities and rates to express companies, etc.

Sec.

2. Liable in damages for failure to comply with this act, and are subject to mandamus.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 123.—[S. B. No. 115.] An Act to compel all railroads operating in the State to furnish reasonable and equal facilities and accommodations to all corporations and persons engaged in express business, for transportation of themselves, agents, servants, merchandise, and other property.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That every railroad company operating a railroad within this State shall furnish reasonable and equal facilities and accommodations, and upon reasonable and equal rates, to all corporations, and persons engaged in the express business, for the transportation of themselves, agents, servants, merchandise, and other property, and for the use of their cars, depots, buildings, and grounds, and for exchanges at points of junction with other roads.

Sec. 2. Any railroad company which shall fail to comply with the provisions hereof, shall be liable to the aggrieved party, in an action on the case, for damages, and such railway company, in addition to liability to said action for damages, shall be subject to a writ of mandamus, to be issued by any court of competent jurisdiction, to compel compliance with the provisions of section (1) of this act, and the said writ of mandamus shall issue at the instance of any party or corporation aggrieved by a violation hereof, and any violation of said writ shall be punishable as a contempt.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the present session rendering it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, creates an imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

Sec. 1. Amends Article 2725, Revised Statutes—Distribution of Supreme Court and Court of Appeals Reports.

CHAP. 124.—[S. B. No. 274.] An Act to amend Article 2725, of Title 48, of Chapter One, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 2725, of Title 48, of Chapter One, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 2725. The Secretary of State shall deliver, by mail or otherwise, to each justice of the Supreme Court, each judge of the Court of Appeals, the Attorney-General, the Assistant Attorney-General, the Governor, each district judge of the State, each professor of law of the University of Texas, the librarian of said University, and to the county judge of each county for the use of the counties, one copy of the reports of the Supreme Court, and Court of Appeals, hereafter issued; also one copy of each of said reports to the circuit judge of the United States for Texas, and shall furnish to each district judge of the United States for Texas one copy of each of said reports for each branch of his court; and when it appears that any of the reports of either of said courts have been heretofore furnished and not returned to the Department of State, or when they are hereafter delivered by the State to either of the said officers or authorities, the Secretary shall have no authority to send another copy, except on proof that the same have been destroyed by fire, or have been rendered valueless by long use, to be evidenced by the certificate of the officer demanding to be resupplied with such report.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

Approved, April 2 1887.

NOTARY PUBLIC—STEPHENS COUNTY.

Sec.

1. Validating acts of Hon. Wm. Veal as notary public.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 125.—[S. B. No. 68.] An Act to validate the official acts of Wm. Veal, Notary Public of Stephens County, Texas, and to permit him to file the bond and oath required by law of notaries public.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whereas the official bond and oath of Wm. Veal, who was duly appointed and commissioned on the first day of June, 1895, as a notary public for Stephens County, Texas, by the Governor of said State, has been lost or mislaid, before being recorded by the county clerk of said Stephens County as required by law; that the said Wm. Veal may and he is hereby authorized to file with the county clerk of said Stephens County the bond and oath required of him by law under said appointment, which to all intents and purposes shall and is hereby declared to be as valid and binding as the original oath and bond of said Veal had the same been duly recorded; and it is further provided that upon the filing by said Veal of the official oath and bond as herein provided for, his official acts as notary public shall be and are hereby validated and made legal from the date of his appointment.

Sec. 2. Whereas the legality and validity of many titles to property and other matters of public and private interest are involved in the official acts of the said Wm. Veal as a notary public for said county of Stephens; and whereas the present session is near its close; therefore an emergency exists, and an imperative public necessity is created that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 23 yeas, no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 79 yeas, 6 nays.]

Approved, April 2, 1887.

LEGALIZING ORDINANCES OF CITIES AND TOWNS.

Sec.

1. Validating ordinances not published according to Article 486, Revised Statutes—Evidence of.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 126.—[S. B. No. 140.] An Act to legalize and validate the ordinances of cities and towns incorporated under the provisions of Title 17 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, wherein any ordinance imposing a penalty, fine, imprisonment, or forfeiture, for violation of its provisions, has not been published in the official paper for ten days as required by law.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That in any city or town in this State incorporated under the provisions of the general charter for cities containing one thousand inhabitants or over, contained in Title Seventeen of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, the city council shall have, prior to the passage of this act, adopted any ordinance or ordinances imposing a penalty, fine, imprisonment, or forfeiture, and which by Article 486 of said act of incorporation are required to be published in every issue of the official paper for ten days before taking effect, and shall have failed or neglected to make publication of said ordinances, by reason of the fact of there not being a daily paper published in such city or town, but shall have had the same published in pamphlet form and distributed among the inhabitants thereof, such ordinance or ordinances are hereby legalized and validated, and shall have force and effect from and after the passage of this act in all respects the same as if they had been duly published in the official paper for ten days, and proof of such publication and distribution shall be conclusive evidence of the legal publication and promulgation of such ordinance or ordinances in all courts of this State.

Sec. 2. The necessity for the preservation of law and order in the several towns and cities of this State creates an emergency that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

RAILROADS.

Sec. 1. Amends article 4227, Revised Statutes, concerning refusal or delay in transportation.

CHAP. 127.—[H. B. No. 94.] An Act to amend Article 4227, Chapter 10, Title 84, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 4227, Chapter 10, Title 84, of the Revised Civil Statutes, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 4227. In case of the refusal by such corporation or their agents so to take and transport any passenger or property, or to deliver the same, or either of them, at the regular or appointed time, such corporation shall pay to the party aggrieved all damages which shall be sustained thereby, with costs of suit, and in case of the transportation of property, shall, in addition, pay to such party special damages at the rate of five per cent per month upon the value of the same at the time of shipment, for the negligent detention thereof beyond the time reasonably necessary for its transportation: Provided, That in all suits against such corporation under this section the burden of proof shall be on such corporations to show that the delay was not negligent.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS.

Sec.

1. Foreign corporations required to file charters and procure a permit.
2. Shall not exercise rights until complying with this act.
3. Forfeiture of permits for removal of causes from State to Federal Courts.

Sec.

4. Forfeiture recoverable by the State against corporations not securing permits from January 1, 1888.—Foreign corporations defined.
5. Penalty against agents of corporations doing business without a permit.

CHAP. 128.—[H. B. No. 316.] An Act to require foreign corporations to file their articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State, and imposing certain conditions upon such corporations transacting business in the State, and providing penalties for a violation of the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter any corporation for pecuniary profit, organized under the laws of any other State, or of any Territory of the United State, or of any foreign country, desiring to transact business in this State, shall be and is hereby required, on and after January 1, 1888, to file with the Secretary of State a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, duly attested, accompanied by a resolution of its board of directors or stockholders, authorizing the filing thereof, and also authorizing service of process to be made upon any of its officers or agents in this State engaged in transacting its business, and requesting the issuance to such corporation of a permit to transact business in this State, said application to contain a stipulation that said permit shall be subject to each of the provisions of this act. And thereupon the Secretary of State shall issue to such corporation a permit for the general transaction of the business of such corporation; and upon the receipt of such permit such corporation shall be permitted and authorized to carry on its business in this State.

Sec. 2. No foreign corporation which has not in good faith complied with the provisions of this act, and taken out a permit, shall hereafter be authorized to exercise the power of eminent domain, or exercise any of the right and privileges conferred upon corporations until it has complied herewith and taken out such permit.

Sec. 3. Any foreign corporation sued or impleaded in any of the courts of this State, upon any contract made or executed in this State, or to be performed in this State, or for any act or omission, public or private, arising, originating, or happening in the State, which shall remove any such cause from such State court into any of the Federal courts held or sitting in this State, for the cause that such corporation is a non-resident of this State, or a resident of another State than that of the adverse party, or of local prejudice against such corporation, shall thereupon forfeit and render null and void any permit issued or granted to such corporation to transact business in this State; such forfeiture to be determined from the record of removal, and shall date from the date of the filing of the application on which such removal is effected or sought to be effected. And whenever any corporation shall thus forfeit its said permit, no new permit shall be issued to said corporation for the space of six months thereafter.

Sec. 4. Any foreign corporation that shall carry on its business and transact the same on and after January 1, 1888, in the State of Texas, by its officers, agents, or otherwise, without having complied with this statute, and taken out and having a valid permit, shall forfeit and pay to the State for each and every day in which such business is transacted and carried on the sum of one hundred dollars, to be recovered by suit in any court having jurisdiction. A foreign corporation, within the meaning of this act, is meant any corporation not organized under and by virtue of the laws of this State.

Sec. 5. Any agent, officer or employe who shall knowingly act or transact such business for such corporation when it has no valid permit as provided herein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for each offense shall be fined not to exceed one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty days.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

PROTECTION OF FISH AND GAME.

Sec.

1. Amends Act of March 15, 1881, to amend Articles 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430a, to create Article 426½ and to repeal Article 430, of Penal Code.

Sec.

2. Repealing clause.

CHAP. 129.—[H. B. No. 89.] An Act to amend an act passed at the regular session of the Eighteenth Legislature, and approved April 18, 1883, entitled "An Act to amend Article 430 of Section 1 and to repeal Section 2 of an act entitled An Act to amend Articles 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, and 430a, and to create Article 426½, and to repeal Article 430, of Chapter 5, Title 13, of the Penal Code of the Revised Statutes, for the protection of fish and game," approved March 15, 1881.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 430 of Section 1 of an act entitled "An Act to amend Articles 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, and 430a, and to create Article 426½, and to repeal Article 430, of Chapter 5, Title 13, of the Penal Code of the Revised Statutes, for the protection of fish and game," approved March 15, 1881, be amended so as to read as follows:

Article 430. That the following counties are hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426, 426½, 427, 428, and 429 of this chapter, to-wit: Nacogdoches, Hood, Bosque, Somervell, Sabine, San Augustine, Shelby, Titus, Franklin, Hunt, Rockwall, Hopkins, Montgomery, Brazos, Rains, Wood, Coryell, Hamilton, Brown, Runnels, Cooke, Wise, Montague, Clay, Parker, Jack, and the unorganized counties attached to the same for judicial purposes, Ellis, Anderson, Freestone, Cherokee, Stephens, Eastland, Erath, Comanche, Palo Pinto, Polk, Guadalupe, Throckmorton, Shackelford, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Nolan, Mitchell, Haskell, Stonewall, Kent, Garm, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Howard, Martin, Andrews, Archer, Wichita, Baylor, Wheeler, Oldham, Knox, King, Dickson, Crosby, Wilbarger, Childress, Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Hall, Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, Parmer, Greer, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Gray, Carson, Potter, Hutchinson, Hartley, Moore, Roberts, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Sherman, Hardeman, Dallam, Smith, Upshur, Cass, San Jacinto, Camp, Frio, Dimmit, Maverick, Kinney, Cameron, Jackson, and the unorganized county of Zavala: Provided, That the exemption from the operation of this law shall not apply to Article 425: And provided, That the counties of Grimes, Angelina, Van Zandt, Walker, Trinity, Parker, Jack, Young, and Bell are hereby exempted from Articles 425, 426, 426½, 427, 428 and 429: And provided, That the county of Houston is hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426, 426½, 427, and 429 of this act: And provided, That the counties of Fannin and Hopkins are hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426 and 426½: And provided, That the counties of Lee and Fayette are hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426 and 429: And provided, That the counties of Bastrop and Brazoria are hereby exempted from the provisions of Article 429: And provided, That the county of Kaufman is hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 428 and 429: And provided, That the counties of Collin and Robertson are hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426, 426½, 427, 428, and 429: And provided, That the counties of Gonzales, Karnes, Wilson, Atascosa, and Morris are hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426, 426½, 427, and 429. And provided, That the county of Bowie is hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 427, 428, and 429: Provided further, That the counties of Franklin, Titus, and Wood shall be exempt from the provisions of Article 423.

Sec. 2., That Section 2 of said act be and the same is hereby repealed.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

HARDIN COUNTY—ELECTION FOR REMOVAL OF COUNTY SEAT OF.

Sec.

1. Providing for an election to remove county seat of said county upon application of 50 taxpayers, etc.

Sec.

2. Election returns, how made, etc.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 130.—[S. B. No. 285.] An Act to authorize an election for the removal of the county seat of Hardin County.

Whereas, on the first day of July, A. D. 1884, an election was held in Hardin county for the removal of its county seat from the town of Hardin to the town of Kountze; and whereas at such election the town of Kountze failed by eleven votes to receive two-thirds of the votes of all the electors who voted at such election; and whereas, since said election, the court house of said county has been destroyed by fire, and no other constructed, and many of the people and electors of said county are averse to and protest against any action by the county commissioners court of said county having for its object the construction of a new court house at the town of Hardin, and are averse to and protest against any appropriation of money therefor, and are desirous that another election be permitted and held before any such action or appropriation by said court: and whereas, under the general law, as it now exists, no other election for the removal of the county seat from the town of Hardin can be held or ordered for the period of five years from the date of said election held on the first day of July, A. D. 1884: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That when fifty or more taxpayers of Hardin county, who pay taxes upon real estate situated in said county, shall petition the county commissioners court thereof for the removal of the county seat from the town of Hardin to the town of Kountze, it shall be the duty of said court to order an election for that purpose, giving due notice thereof, by posting or causing to be posted at or near each voting place in said county, written notices, for at least twenty days prior to the day of such election; and such election shall be held at the same places and conducted in the same manner as elections for State and county officers, and the result of such election, unless set aside in accordance with law, shall establish the county seat of said county.

Sec. 2. The returns of such election shall be made to the county judge of said Hardin county, as in the case of elections for county officers, and he shall count the votes, declare the result, and enter or cause the same to be entered of record.

Sec. 3. The fact that it is important to the interests of the people and taxpayers of Hardin county that all controversy and differences connected with and arising from the desire upon the part of one portion of the people thereof to remove the county seat from, and upon the part of another portion to retain it at, the town of Hardin, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity which requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

CHAP. 131.—[H. B. No. 157.] An Act to provide for the appointment of receivers, and to define their powers and duties, and to regulate proceedings under such appointment of receivers.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a receiver may be appointed by any judge of a court of competent jurisdiction in this State, in the following cases:

1. In an action by a vendor to vacate a fraudulent purchase of property, or by a creditor to subject any property or fund to his claim, or between partners or others jointly owning or interested in any property or fund, on the application of the plaintiff or any party whose right to or interest in the property or fund or the proceeds thereof is probable, and where it is shown that the property or fund is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured.

2. In an action by a mortgagee for the foreclosure of his mortgage and sale of the mortgaged property when it appears that the mortgaged property is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured, or that the condition of the mortgage has not been performed, and the property is probably insufficient to discharge the mortgage debt.

3. In cases where a corporation has been dissolved, or is insolvent, or in imminent danger of insolvency, or has forfeited its corporate rights.

4. In all other cases where receivers have heretofore been appointed by the usages of the court of equity.

Sec. 2. No party, attorney, or person interested in an action shall be appointed receiver therein, nor shall any person be appointed receiver in any case where the property lies within this State unless he is a bona fide citizen of the State of Texas and qualified to vote.

Sec. 3. When a receiver is appointed he shall, before he enters upon his duties, be sworn to perform them faithfully, and shall execute a bond, with three or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the court appointing him, in such sum as the court shall see proper to fix, conditioned that he will faithfully discharge all of the duties of receiver in the action (naming it) and obey the orders of the court therein.

Sec. 4. The receiver shall have power, under the control of the court, to bring and defend actions in his own name as receiver, to take charge and keep possession of the property, to receive rents, collect, compound for, compromise demands, make transfers, and generally to do such acts respecting the property as the court may authorize.

Sec. 5. The funds in the hands of a receiver may be invested upon interest by order of the court, but no such order shall be made except upon consent of all of the parties to the action.

Sec. 6. All moneys that come into the hands of a receiver as such receiver, shall be applied first to the payment of all costs and expenses of the suit in which he was appointed, and the expenses of operating and managing the property, including all materials and supplies procured by him therefor, and all liabilities incurred by him in such operation and management; and all judgments recovered against a receiver during his receivership, or for wages of employes, or work done, or materials furnished, while he is operating or managing the road, and all judgments recovered against the person, or persons, or corporations, in suits brought before the appointment of a receiver in the action, shall be a lien on the funds in his hands as receiver, but shall affect him only in his trust capacity, and not individually.

Sec. 7. When a line of a railroad operated by a receiver lies wholly within this State, all money which comes into the hands of the receiver, whether from operating the road or otherwise, shall be kept and deposited in such place within this State as the court may direct, until properly disbursed; but if any portion of the road lies in another State the receiver shall be required to deposit in this State at least such share of the funds in his hands as is proportioned to the value of the property of the company within this State.

Sec. 8. When any property of any kind within the limits of this State has been placed, by order of court, in the hands of a receiver, who has taken charge of such property, such receiver may, in his official capacity, sue or be sued in any court of this State having jurisdiction of the cause of action, without first having obtained leave of the court appointing such receiver to bring said suit, and if a judgment is recovered against said receiver it shall be the duty of the court to order said judgment paid out of any funds in the hands of said receiver as such receiver.

Sec. 9. Actions may be brought against the receiver of the property of any person where said person resides. Actions may be brought against receivers of a corporation in the county where the principal office of said corporation may be located, and against receivers of railroad companies in any county through or into which the road is constructed, and service of summons may be had upon the receiver, or upon the general or division superintendent of the road, or upon any agent of said receiver who resides in the county in which the suit is brought.

Sec. 10. The court shall, in every case of the appointment of receiver, also after his qualifying, appoint a master in chancery, who shall be a citizen of this State, and not an attorney for either party to the action, nor related to either party, who shall perform all of the duties required of him by the court, and shall be under orders of the court, and have such power as a master of chancery has in a court of equity.

Sec. 11. The receiver, as soon after his appointment as possible, shall return to the court appointing him a true and correct inventory of all property received by him as such receiver.

Sec. 12. When a person resides within this State and a receiver is applied for, or if the property sought to be placed in the hands of a receiver is situated within the limits of this State, no court other than one within the limits of this State shall have power to appoint any receiver of said property.

Sec. 13. If the property sought to be placed in the hands of a receiver is a corporation whose property lies within this State, or partly within this State, then the action to have a receiver appointed shall be brought in this State in the county where the principal office of said corporation is located.

Sec. 14. When a receiver of a corporation has, under the order of the court, made improvements upon the property of said corporation, and has also, under the order of the court appointing him, purchased rolling stock, machinery, and made other improvements whereby the value of the property of said corporation has been increased, or has extended such road, or acquired any property in connection with said road, and has paid for same out of the current receipts of the corporation that came into his hands as receiver, then, if there be any floating debts against said corporation, said corporation shall be made to contribute to the floating indebtedness to the full value of the money so spent by said receiver as aforesaid; and if there are any liens of any kind upon the property of said corporation in the hands of such receiver, and said property is sold under the order of the court, and said liens foreclosed, then it shall be and is hereby made the duty of the court appointing such receiver, if there be any unpaid debts or judgments, or claims against the corporation itself, to detain in the hands of the clerk of the court money to the full value of the improvements made by said receiver of said property out of the proceeds of the sale of the property sold, and pay the same over to any person or persons who has or may have a claim, debt, or judgment against said corporation; and the court in ordering the sale of the property shall require sufficient cash money to be paid in at date of sale to cover the full value of the improvements so made by said receiver out of the current funds received by him from the property while receiver.

Sec. 15. All judgments, claims, or causes of action when determined, existing against any corporation at the time of the appointment of a receiver, shall be paid out of the earnings of such corporation while in the hands of the receiver, to the exclusion of mortgage action; and the same shall be a lien on such earnings.

Sec. 16. No corporation shall be administered in any court for a longer period than three years from the date of such appointment; and within three years such court shall wind up the affairs of such corporation, unless prevented by appeal of litigation.

Sec. 17. No receiver shall ever be appointed of any joint stock, incorporated company, or of any copartnership or private person, on the petition of such joint stock, incorporated company, partnership or person: Provided, That any stockholder or stockholders of such joint stock or incorporated company may have his or their action against such company, and may have a receiver appointed as in ordinary cases. And provided further, That nothing herein shall prevent a member of any copartnership from having a receiver appointed whenever a cause of action arises between the copartners.

Sec. 18. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with any of the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 19. In all matters relating to the appointment of receivers, and to their powers, duties, and liabilities, and to the powers of the court in relation thereto, the rules of equity shall govern whenever the same are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act and the general laws of the State.

Sec. 20. The near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature, and the importance of passing some law regarding receiverships, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

CHAP. 132.—[S. H. B. No. 1.] An Act to amend Sections 36, 42, 45, 48, 50, 56, 61, 62, 63, 66, and 71, of an Act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the State of Texas, and to repeal so much of Chapter 3, of Title 78, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as refer to public free schools outside of incorporated cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public free schools, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act, passed by the Eighteenth Legislature at its special session in 1884, and to further amend said act by adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 43a, providing for county superintendents of public instruction in certain cases, and defining their duties and fixing their compensation.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Sections 36, 42, 45, 48, 50, 56, 61, 62, 63, 66, and 71, of the above mentioned act, be and they are hereby so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 36. On the first Saturday in June of each year the qualified voters of each school district, at school district meeting for that purpose, shall elect three trustees for said district, who shall enter upon the discharge of their duties upon the first day of July following, and shall hold their offices for one year, and thereafter until their successors have been elected or appointed and shall have qualified. The commissioners court shall appoint three persons, qualified voters of the district, to hold such election, who shall make returns thereof to the county judge within five days after such election shall have been held, and if no election be held, or if a vacancy occur in the board of trustees by death or otherwise, the county judge shall at once appoint a trustee, or trustees, as may be necessary, for the full or unexpired term. No person shall be eligible to serve as a school trustee who cannot read and write, and has not been a resident of the school district for six months prior to the election held for trustees.

Section 42. The county judge may, at any time before he apportions the school fund among the several districts or communities, transfer a child from one district or community to another in the same county, and in every such case he shall transfer the pro rata share of such child in the school fund to the district or community in which said child shall be taught. After the completion of said apportionment no transfer shall be made, but all children within the scholastic age who have not attended any public school in the State during the current scholastic year shall be allowed to attend free of charge any public school in any district or community in which such children have acquired a residence. The county judge shall also have authority, on the recommendation of the school trustees, to consolidate one school with another in the same district or adjoining district, and to transfer money from one school to another school in the same district or adjoining district.

Section 45. County judges shall be entitled to the following compensation: For five hundred dollars or less of the school fund actually disbursed by the county treasurer, twenty-five dollars shall be allowed such judge; for five hundred dollars and not exceeding one thousand dollars so disbursed, fifty dollars shall be allowed; and for each additional thousand or fractional part thereof so disbursed, ten dollars shall be allowed such judge, and ten per cent on the salary thus allowed shall be added thereto for postage, stationery and printing expenses connected with the administration of the school law. Such compensation shall be paid to the county judge by the county treasurer out of the public school fund, upon the approval of his voucher by the commissioners court, as follows: On or after the third Mondays of February and May of each year the allowances upon disbursements to those dates respectively shall be paid, and on or after the third Monday of August the allowance upon disbursements to that date and subsequent to the one last above mentioned, together with said ten per cent additional, shall be paid: Provided, such judge shall have made to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction all reports required of him by law, in respect to matters appertaining to the public free schools of his county; and the commissioners court shall not approve, nor shall the county treasurer pay, the voucher of any county judge for that portion of his compensation herein thirdly above mentioned until said judge shall exhibit to such court and treasurer an acknowledgment of the receipt by such State Superintendent of such reports.

Section 48. Any one desiring to teach a public free school shall, unless known to the county judge, present a certificate from the majority of the trustees of the school last taught by him or her, or of the one which he or she desires to teach; or in case the applicant has not acquired a residence of six months in the county wherein he or she desires to teach, then some other evidence satisfactory to the county judge, that the applicant is of good moral character and of correct exemplary habits; the county judge shall thereupon, unless satisfied that some good cause exists for refusing the certificate hereinafter mentioned, recommend him to the board of examiners for examination, which said board of examiners shall be convened by the county judge at stated times, not less than once a month, provided that there are applicants, for the purpose of examining applicants for certificates to teach. Applicants for third grade certificates shall be examined in orthography, reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, and English grammar. Applicants for second grade certificates shall be examined in the branches prescribed for the third grade, and also in composition, History of the United States, History of Texas, and the theory and practice of teaching. Applicants for the first grade certificates shall be examined in the branches prescribed for the third and second grades, and also in the elementary branches of algebra, geometry, natural philosophy, and physiology. Such examination shall be conducted in the English language, and in writing, and no applicant shall receive a certificate unless the board of examiners be satisfied that he or she is competent to teach the branches prescribed for the grade of certificate applied for, in the English language. The board of examiners shall examine such applicant as to his or her competency to teach the branches named in the preceding clauses, and shall make a report under oath to the county judge, which report shall state who of said board were present at such examination, that the applicant was examined upon all the branches of study embraced in the grade of certificate recommended, and that such applicant is competent to teach and qualified to teach all of such branches. And the county judge shall, if such report be favorable, issue a certificate of competency to the applicant, according to the grade recommended by the board of examiners, authorizing his or her employment by the trustees of the school district or community in the county in which the same is issued. Such certificate shall be valid in the county where issued for the current scholastic year, and may be renewed by the county judge for any subsequent year, without examination and without charge to the teacher, if he be satisfied of the propriety of such renewal. A teacher's certificate may be cancelled by the county judge on account of such incompetency, misconduct, or immorality as may be reported by the trustees to the county judge, or as may otherwise come to his knowledge, disqualifying such teacher for the instruction of children; but before such cancellation the teacher shall have reasonable notice of the charges against him or her, and an opportunity to be heard. It shall be the duty of the teacher to keep a full and correct record of the daily attendance of each pupil, and all other statistical data required by the State Superintendent, and he shall make a complete report thereof to the county judge at the close of the school.

Section 50. Teachers shall receive salaries not exceeding the following sums: Teachers with first grade certificates, $75 per month; teachers with second grade certificates, $50 per month; teachers with third grade certificates, $30 per month: Provided, That teachers teaching under certificates of one year's attendance at a State normal school shall be regarded as teachers with second class certificates: Provided further, That this rule shall not apply to teachers employed in districts voting a local tax on themselves. Teachers shall admit all children over and under scholastic age into the public schools.

Section 56. Three teachers holding first grade certificates, to be appointed by the county judge, provided in the absence of teachers holding such certificates he may appoint any other competent persons, who shall constitute the county board of examiners, and shall receive from each teacher examined for a certificate the sum of three dollars, and the county judge shall keep a record of all certificates issued by said board, and all other certificates and diplomas of teachers, giving the name, age, sex, color, and nativity of the person, the date, grade, and length of time of each certificate. No certificate shall be valid unless the examination provided for in this section be attended and taken part in by a majority of the members of said board of examiners.

Section 61. When a school district or community has no school house or not a sufficient number, or when the school houses are in need of repairs or furniture, so much of the available public free school fund to the credit of such district or community for any one year as the county judge may deem expedient or necessary, may be used for erecting, repairing, or furnishing a house or houses, as the case may be: Provided, That where a house is to be erected, the citizens of the district or community must contribute of their labor or means, or both, an amount equal to one-third of the school fund so used, and a suitable piece of land shall be donated as a site, and a deed therefor shall be executed and delivered, conveying a good and sufficient title in fee simple in and to such land, to the county judge and his successors in office in trust for public free school purposes, which deed must be recorded as other deeds: And provided further, That districts which have taxed or may hereafter tax themselves, may be allowed to use the money raised by such taxation for the purpose of purchasing, repairing, enlarging erecting, or furnishing school buildings, or to purchase building sites, but the title to all real estate so purchased shall be taken and recorded as herein above provided.

Section 62. The trustees of the district or community must make an application to the county judge for any appropriation for the purposes named in the preceding section before making any contract with any teacher for the year in which such appropriation is desired, which application shall be accompanied with plans and specifications of the house or houses sought to be erected, with a statement of the estimated cost, or, in case of desired repairs or furniture, a detailed statement of the repairs or furniture desired, together with an estimate of the cost of the same.

Section 63. After receipt of such application, the county judge, if it appears to his satisfaction that the house to be erected is necessary and adapted to the needs of the pupils of the district or community, or that the repairs or furniture desired is necessary, and that the requirements of the law have been complied with, shall make an order appropriating such an amount of the school fund to the credit of such district or community for that year as he may deem expedient, necessary, and proper for the purposes specified in such application; but in making any such appropriation for a district the scholastic interests of the districts as a whole shall be considered, and no part of such an appropriation shall be drawn from the treasury or paid until the completion of the building or repairs according to contract, plans, and specifications, or, in case of furniture, until the delivery thereof according to such contract as the trustees may have made, and then only upon the warrant of the county judge.

Section 66. So much of the available school fund of any school district or community for any one year as the county judge may deem expedient, necessary, and proper, may be used in the purchase of suitable school property upon the terms and conditions hereinbefore specified.

Section 71. The following counties shall be and the same are exempted from the district system provided for in this act, to-wit: Anderson, Angelina, Aransas, Atascosa, Bastrop, Bosque, Bowie, Brazoria, Burleson, Calhoun, Callahan, Cameron, Camp, Cass, Chambers, Concho, Delta, DeWitt, Duval, Eastland, El Paso, Erath, Falls, Fannin, Fayette, Fort Bend, Franklin, Freestone, Gillespie, Goliad, Gonzales, Gregg, Grimes, Guadalupe, Hardin, Hays, Henderson, Hidalgo, Hopkins, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Karnes, LaSalle, Lampasas, Liberty, Limestone, Medina, Marion, Mason, Matagorda, McMullen, Menard, Milam, Montgomery, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Orange, Palo Pinto, Panola, Pecos, Polk, Presidio, Rains, Reeves, Red River, Refugio, Robertson, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shelby, Smith, Somervell, Stephens, Starr, Titus, Tom Green, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Van Zandt, Victoria, Waller, Washington, Webb, Wilson, Wharton and Zapata.

Sec. 2. The act above mentioned shall be further amended by adding thereto another section, to be known as section 43a, which shall read as follows:

Section 43a. The office of county superintendent of public instruction is hereby created, and the county commissioners court of any county in this State may, when in their judgment it may be advisable, provide for the election at each general election of some person of educational attainments, good moral character, and executive ability, a qualified voter of said county, and the holder of a first grade teacher's certificate, who shall hold his office for the term of two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified; and said commissioners court, when they so provide for the election of a county superintendent, shall appoint a county superintendent of public instruction, with the qualifications above provided, who shall perform the duties of such office until a county superintendent shall have been elected, as hereinbefore provided, and shall have qualified. Such county superintendent of public instruction shall perform all the duties in regard to the public free schools of his county imposed by law upon the county judges of such counties as have no county superintendents of public instruction, and shall have and may exercise all powers and authority vested by law in such county judges in respect to matters appertaining to the public free schools; and in addition thereto he shall take the scholastic census of his county, which census shall be taken by districts in those counties wherein the district system prevails, and under the rules and regulations of Section 40 of this act. Such county superintendent, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall take the oath of office prescribed by law for school officers, and shall enter into bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, with good and sufficient security, to be approved by the county commissioners court, and to be filed with the county clerk of his county; and said bond shall be made payable to the county commissioners court and their successors in office in trust for the permanent school fund of the county, and be conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. Said county superintendent shall receive the same compensation for his services, to be paid in the same way, as is allowed by law to the county judges for similar services, and also the compensation allowed by law for taking the scholastic census, and such other compensation as may be allowed by the commissioners court of his county, to be paid from the school fund: Provided, The said compensation shall never exceed in the aggregate one thousand dollars per annum. He shall have authority to administer all oaths necessary for the proper discharge of all the duties required of him. Said county superintendent shall keep his office in the county seat, and to him shall be made all applications and reports authorized and required by law to be made to county judges in respect to public free school matters in those counties having no county superintendents of public instruction.

Sec. 3. Whereas the near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature renders it doubtful whether this act can be passed if allowed to take the regular course in both houses; and whereas it is a matter of great importance that many grave defects in the present school law sought to be remedied hereby should be corrected; and whereas, in order that certain provisions of this act should be complied with according to its terms, it is necessary that it should take effect and be in force from and after its passage; therefore an imperative public necessity and emergency exist requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

TAXATION.

Sec.

1. Adds Articles 4712a, 4763a, to Chapter 3, Title 95, Revised Statutes, and amends Articles 4740, 4744, 4746, 4747, and 4748 thereof, concerning assessment and collection of taxes.

Sec.

2. Repealing clause.

CHAP. 133.—[H. B. No. 52.] An Act to amend Title 95 of the Revised Statutes, by adding thereto Articles 4712a and 4763a, and by amending Articles 4740, 4744, 4746, 4747, and 4748, so as to provide for a more thorough and efficient assessment of property and the collection of taxes thereon.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Title 95 of the Revised Civil Statutes be amended by adding thereto the following articles, to be known as Articles 4712a and 4763a, and by amending Articles 4740, 4744, 4746, 4747, and 4748 of said title so that they shall hereafter read as follows:

Article 4712a. If the assessor of taxes shall discover in his county, or outside of his county but belonging to a resident of the county, any personal property which has not been assessed or rendered for taxation every year for two years past, he shall list and assess the same for each and every year thus omitted which it has belonged to said resident, in the manner prescribed for assessing other property, and such assessment shall be as valid and binding as though it had been rendered by the owner thereof.

Article 4740. The collector of taxes shall keep his office at the county seat of his county, and it shall be the duty of every person who has failed to attend and to pay his taxes at the times and places in his precinct named by the collector, as provided in the preceding article, to call at the office of the collector and pay the same before the last day of December of the same year for which the assessment is made.

Article 4744. The collector of taxes shall make out on forms to be furnished for that purpose by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, on and after the first day of April of each year, triplicate lists of delinquent or insolvent taxpayers, the caption of which shall be the "List of delinquent or insolvent taxpayers." In this list he shall give the name of the person, firm, company, or corporation from whom the taxes are due in separate columns, and he shall post one copy of these delinquent or insolvent lists in the court house door, and one copy at two other public places in his county. And the collector of taxes, upon the certificate of the commissioners court that the persons appearing on the insolvent or delinquent lists have no property out of which to make the taxes assessed against them, or that they have moved out of the county and that no property can be found in the county belonging to such persons out of which to make the taxes due, shall be entitled to a credit on final settlement of his accounts for the amounts due by the persons, firms, companies, or corporations, certified to by the commissioners court as above provided for.

Article 4746. If any person shall fail or refuse to pay the taxes imposed upon him or his property by law, until the first day of January next succeeding the return of the assessment roll of the county to the Comptroller, the collector of taxes shall, by virtue of his tax roll, seize and levy upon and sell so much personal property belonging to such person as may be sufficient to pay his taxes, together with all costs accruing thereon: Provided, There shall be no levy on property when the owner thereof has the right to pay at the Comptroller's office, until a list of the persons who have paid their taxes at said office has been furnished the collector of taxes by the Comptroller. The Comptroller shall forward said list of paid taxes on or before the first day of February of each year, and the tax collector shall immediately on receipt of said list from the Comptroller, levy on and sell the property of such non-residents as have not paid their taxes, in accordance with the law regulating the sale of property for taxes.

Article 4747. If any person shall point out to the collector of taxes sufficient personal property belonging to him to pay all taxes assessed against him before the first day of January of any year, the collector shall immediately levy upon and sell such property so pointed out, in accordance with the laws regulating tax sales of a similar class of property.

Article 4748. If it comes to the knowledge of the collector that any personal property assessed for taxes on the rolls is about to be removed from the county, and the owner of such property has not other property in the county sufficient to satisfy all assessments against him, the collector shall immediately levy upon a sufficiency of such property to satisfy such taxes and all costs, and the same sell in accordance with the law regulating sales of personal property for taxes, unless the owner of such property shall give bond, with sufficient security, payable to and to be approved by the collector, and conditioned for the payment of the taxes due on such property, on or before the first day of January next succeeding.

Article 4763a. It shall be the duty of the tax collector to make an affidavit before any justice of the peace against any person, firm, or association of persons engaging in or pursuing any occupation on which, under the laws of this State, a tax is imposed, who fails or refuses to pay the same. And any collector of taxes who shall knowingly permit any person, firm, or association of persons to engage in or pursue any occupation on which, by the laws of this State, a tax is imposed, without first paying all legal taxes assessed against such person, firm, or association of persons, for such occupation, for State and county purposes, shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars for every such offense: Provided, That evidence that such collector of taxes has made the affidavit herein required immediately against such person, firm, association of persons so pursuing an occupation in violation of law, shall be a defense against all prosecutions under this section.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

CHAP. 134.—[H. B. No. 556.] An Act to amend Chapter 18, Section 18, of an act entitled "An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 18 of an act entitled "An Act to redistrict the State into judicial districts, and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 18. The Eighteenth Judicial District shall be composed of the counties of Johnson, Hill, and Bosque, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows:

In the county of Bosque on the third Mondays in January and August, and may continue in session six weeks.

In the county of Hill on the sixth Monday after the third Mondays in January and August, and may continue in session seven weeks.

In the county of Johnson on the thirteenth Monday after the third Mondays in January and August, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of: Provided, That said continuation shall not interfere with the terms of the court in the remaining counties of the district as herein above provided for.

Sec. 2. All process heretofore issued or served, returnable in any of the counties of said judicial district as heretofore prescribed by law, shall be considered as returnable at the times herein prescribed, and all such process is hereby legalized and validated as if the same had been made returnable at the time herein prescribed.

Sec. 3. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the close of the session creates a public necessity and emergency demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring a bill to be read on three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended.

CHAP. 135.—[S. B. No. 261.] An Act to provide for the purchase of a site and the establishment, location, construction, and maintenance of a State Orphan Asylum, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there shall be established and maintained an Orphan Asylum for the maintenance of indigent orphan children within this State.

Sec. 2. The Governor shall appoint three commissioners, who shall select the site for said asylum with reference to accessibility by railroad, health, and fertility of soil: competition shall be invited by the different towns in this State for the location of this asylum, and the commissioners hereinafter provided shall invite such competition through such means as they may deem best, reserving the right to reject any or all bids for the location of the same, who shall receive five dollars per day for their services, and their actual and necessary expenses incurred during their service, to be paid by the State Treasurer, upon the warrant of the Comptroller, to be issued upon the certificate of the chairman of said board of commissioners that the duties have been performed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 3. Deeds and other instruments conveying property for the purposes herein mentioned shall be in the name of the State of Texas for the use of the State Orphan Asylum.

Sec. 4. The Governor shall appoint a board of managers of said asylum, who shall be governed in their regulation of the affairs of said asylum in accordance with the laws now in existence relative to the deaf and dumb and blind institutions, so far as the same may be applicable, and shall perform the same duties and receive the same compensation as the board of managers of the aforesaid State institutions.

Sec. 5. The said board of trustees shall appoint a superintendent of said asylum, upon the nomination of the Governor, whose duties of office shall be the supervision of the affairs of said asylum, keeping the accounts of the same, and its general management, under the direction of the board of managers.

Sec. 6. Said board of managers shall admit all children under the age of fourteen years subject only to such restrictions as they may deem requisite to the welfare and good government of said asylum.

Sec. 7. In addition to the other duties of said Superintendent, he shall keep a carefully prepared list containing the names and ages of each and every child, as well as such other data concerning the history of said children as the board of managers may prescribe, said lists to be recorded in a well bound book for said purpose, and subject to the inspection of all persons who may desire to examine its contents. He shall annually deliver over to the proper authorities a list of all children within the scholastic age, and see that their pro rata of the public free school fund is set aside to their credit, and that they are provided with proper educational facilities. He shall promptly answer all inquiries, by correspondence or otherwise, concerning the orphans under his charge, and promptly inform the board of managers when an opportunity is presented to secure a good and permanent home for any child under his charge.

Sec. 8. No person shall be permitted to remove a child from said asylum except under such lawful rules and regulations as the board of managers may adopt, and in no case shall a child be removed therefrom by any person other than the natural guardian of said child, or the duly qualified guardian of the person of such child, or the parent of said child by adoption.

Sec. 9. The superintendent of said asylum shall receive such salary each year as may be provided by the board of managers. In no case shall such salary be fixed at an amount exceeding one thousand dollars per annum.

Sec. 10. There shall be a matron of said asylum, to be chosen by the superintendent, with the consent of the board of managers, whose salary shall not exceed forty-five dollars per month.

Sec. 11. That the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be appropriated, out of any moneys to the credit of the available fund of said asylum not otherwise appropriated, in addition to the annual income arising from the lease of orphan asylum lands and interest on notes and bonds belonging to the funds of said asylum, for the purpose of purchasing a suitable site for said asylum, and paying the necessary expenses incident to carrying on said asylum, and for the erection of a public building to be known as the Orphan Asylum.

GRAND JURIES.

Sec. 1. Amends Chapter 2, Title 8, of the Penal Code, by adding Article 198a, prescribing penalty for divulging secrets of grand jury.

CHAP. 136.—[H. B. No. 370.] An Act to create Article 198a, of Chapter 2, Title 8, of the Penal Code of Texas, for the punishment of persons who divulge the secrets of grand juries.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 198a, of Chapter 2, Title 8, of the Penal Code of Texas, is hereby created, to read as follows:

Article 198a. Any grand juror, or any person who shall appear before any grand jury, in this State, and who after being sworn according to law as a witness before said grand jury shall afterwards divulge, either by word or sign, any matter about which said witness may have been interrogated, or any proceeding or fact said witness may have learned by reason of being said witness, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and may be in addition thereto imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding six months: Provided, This act shall not apply to persons required to testify to any of the aforesaid matters before a judicial tribunal.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the end of the present session of the Legislature, and the fact that there is no law punishing persons who divulge the secrets of grand juries, creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and it is so enacted, and the bill put upon its third reading and final passage.

CORPORATIONS—VENUE OF SUITS AGAINST.

Sec.

1. Amends Section 1, Chapter 83, Acts of 1885—Prescribes the venue in suits against foreign corporations, etc.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 137.—[S. B. No. 174.] An Act to amend section one of an act entitled "An Act prescribing and fixing the venue of suits against foreign corporations, joint stock companies or associations, or acting corporations or associations, doing business within this State, and to provide the mode of serving process on such corporations or associations," approved March 31, A. D. 1885.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section one of an act entitled "An Act prescribing and fixing the venue of suits against foreign corporations, joint stock companies or associations, or acting corporations or associations doing business within this State, and to provide the mode of serving process on such corporations or associations," approved March 31, A. D. 1885, be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

That foreign, private, or public corporations, joint stock companies or associations, not incorporated by the laws of this State, and doing business within this State, may be sued in any court within this State having jurisdiction over the subject matter, in any county where the cause of action or a part thereof accrued, or in any county where such company may have an agency or representative, or in the county in which the principal office of such company may be situated; or when the defendant corporation has no agent or representative in the State, then in the county where the plaintiffs or either of them reside.

Sec. 2. Whereas the near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, therefore said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAF. 138.—[S. B. No. 251.] An Act to require occupation license to be posted, by persons, firms, and corporations upon whom an occupation tax as a retail liquor dealer is levied, in their places of business, and to punish violations of the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person, firm, or corporation required by the statutes of this State to pay an occupation tax as a retail liquor dealer, shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place in his or their place or places of business, his or their occupation license for the tax due the State, county, and city on the occupation in which they are engaged. Said occupation license shall be posted as above specified before any person, firm, or corporation subject to the occupation tax shall engage in business.

Sec. 2. Any person, firm, or corporation failing, neglecting, or refusing to post and keep posted their occupation licenses, as required in section one of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in double the amount of their occupation tax for each offense, and each day any person, firm, or corporation shall violate the provisions of this act shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 3. If from any cause any certificate of occupation license shall be lost or destroyed, it shall be the duty of the clerk, upon application of the person, firm, or corporation who formerly had such license, to furnish a new certificate for the remainder of the term covered by the license lost or destroyed.

Sec. 4. Any person violating the provisions of this act may be arrested without warrant by any peace officer, and carried before the nearest justice of the peace for trial; and any peace officer who shall fail or refuse to arrest such person, on his own knowledge, or upon information from some credible person, shall be punished by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

Sec. 5. Whereas there is no law for the enforcement of the collection of occupation tax, and whereas the near approach of the close of this session renders it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this bill be placed on its third reading and final passage.

|---|---|

CHAP. 139.—[S. B. No. 272.] An Act to regulate the shipment of freights, and to require railway companies to furnish sufficient cars to transport the same, and to provide penalties for failure so to do.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That when the owner, owners, or managers of any freight of any kind shall make application in writing to the superintendent or person in charge of transportation, to any railway company operating a line at the point the cars are desired, upon which to ship any freight, it shall be the duty of such railway company to supply the number of cars required at the point indicated in the application within a reasonable time, not to exceed six days from the receipt thereof, and shall furnish such cars to the persons applying therefor in the order applied for, without giving preference to any person.

Sec. 2. Said application for cars shall state the number of cars desired, the place at which they are desired, and the time they are desired: Provided, That the place designated shall be at some station or switch on the railroad.

Sec. 3. When cars are applied for under the provisions of this act, if they are not furnished, the railway company so failing to furnish them shall forfeit to the party or parties so applying for them the sum of twenty-five dollars per day for each car failed to be furnished, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction, and all actual damages that such applicant may sustain.

Sec. 4. Such applicant shall at the time of applying for such car or cars deposit with the agent of such company one-fourth the amount of the freight charged for the use of such cars unless the said board shall agree to deliver said cars without such deposit, and said applicant shall within forty-eight hours after such car or cars have been delivered and placed as hereinbefore provided, it shall be the duty of the applicant to fully load the same, and upon failure to do so he shall forfeit and pay to the company the sum of twenty-five dollars for each car not used. And if the said applicant shall not use such cars so ordered by him and shall so notify the said company or its agent, he shall forfeit and pay to the said railroad company in addition to the penalty herein prescribed the actual damages that such company may sustain by the said failure of the applicant to use said cars.

Sec. 5. When cars have been supplied and loaded it shall be the duty of the railway company to deliver the same to the party or parties to whom they are consigned within a reasonable time, and the party or parties to whom the cars are consigned shall unload the same within forty-eight hours after delivery and notice, or forfeit to the railway company the sum of twenty-five dollars per day for each car so left unloaded, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 6. It shall be necessary for the party or parties bringing suit against any railroad company under the provisions of this act, to show by evidence that he or they had on hand at the time any demand for cars was made the amount of lumber, cotton, wool, hides, or other freight necessary to load the cars so ordered: Provided, That the provisions of this law shall not apply in cases of strikes or other public calamity.

Sec. 7. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

COUNTY INDEBTEDNESS—SALE OF BONDS.

Sec.

1. Commissioners authorized to sell certain bonds and reinvest proceeds.
2. Conditions respecting such sales.

Sec.

3. Order for such sale, how made, etc.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 140.—[H. B. No. 271.] An Act to provide for the sale of a certain class of bonds and the reinvestment of their proceeds.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any county at any time having its school funds derived from the sale of its county school lands invested in the bonds of the United States, of this State, or of any county, shall have the authority to sell these bonds, when in the opinion of the county commissioners court it shall be deemed for the best interest of the fund, and invest the proceeds in its own or any other county bonds duly and lawfully issued.

Sec. 2. Such sale and reinvestment shall be made only when the proceeds of the sale can be reinvested in such county bonds bearing the same or a greater rate of interest, and having the same or a longer time to run before their maturity, and no commission shall be paid the county judge or any other officer for making such sale or reinvestment. And the said court shall never pay a higher price for the bonds in which it is proposed to reinvest such proceeds, than the price at which such other bonds were sold.

Sec. 3. The order for the sale and reinvestment shall be made by the county commissioners court at some regular term thereof, when there is a full court present, and not less than four in number shall concur in the said order, the names of those concurring being spread on the minutes of the said court. Whenever county bonds are purchased for the permanent public school fund of any county in this State, the commissioners court of the county purchasing or owning such bonds shall cause to be written upon the face of each of said bonds in substance as follows, "This bond belongs to the public school fund of (naming the county), and shall not be assigned or transferred except by an order of the commissioners court of this county," and upon each coupon on any such bond shall be written as follows, "Owned by (naming the county) county." These endorsements shall be signed by the county judge of the county owning such bonds and coupons. Any such bond or coupon thus endorsed shall be non-negotiable.

Sec. 4. Whereas in one or more counties bonds have been issued by said county or counties bearing a higher rate of interest than those held by said county or counties against the State; therefore, an emergency exists, and an imperative public necessity requires that the rule requiring that bills be read on three several day be suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAP. 141.—[H. S. S. B. No. 54.] An Act to authorize counties to buy, construct, or contract for the use of bridges, and to issue bonds and levy taxes to pay for the same, and to repeal all laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county commissioners courts of the several counties of this State are hereby authorized and empowered to issue bonds of said county, with interest coupons attached, for such amounts as may be necessary, for the purpose of buying or constructing bridges for public uses within such county, said bonds to run not exceeding twenty years and bear interest at any rate not to exceed eight per cent per annum.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court shall levy an annual ad valorem tax, not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, sufficient to pay the interest on and create a sinking fund for the redemption of said bonds. The sinking fund herein provided for shall not be less than four per cent on the full sum for which the bonds are issued.

Sec. 3. Said bonds shall never be sold at less than their face value, and the interest of the same shall be paid annually on the the tenth day of April of each year; and they shall be registered, and an account kept by the county treasurer of the amount of said bonds, and the principal and interest paid on each, in a well bound book for that purpose: Provided, That no county already indebted shall issue a larger amount of bonds than a tax of ten cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property in the county will liquidate in ten years; and the counties having no debts may issue such amount of bonds as a tax of ten cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property in the county will liquidate in twenty years.

Sec. 4. Said bonds shall be signed by the county judge, and countersigned by the county clerk, and registered by the treasurer, before they are delivered.

Sec. 5. Money in the hands of the county treasurer belonging to the sinking fund of any county shall be first applied to the payment of said bonds, or be invested in other bonds of that county or other counties in the State, or in bonds of this State or the United States: Provided, In no case shall more than the face value be paid for the bonds above mentioned.

Sec. 6. The commissioners court of any county in this State may, when the cost of constructing a bridge over any bay or river in said county is two hundred and fifty thousand dollars or more, contract with any person, company, or corporation for the right of the public to use such bridge, in such manner, upon such terms, and for such annual compensation as may be agreed upon by and between the owner or owners of such bridge and the commissioners court of the county where said bridge may be located: Provided, no contract for the use of any such bridge shall be made for a longer time than twenty-five years. The commissioners court shall levy a tax sufficient to pay the annual amount contracted for.

Sec. 7. All laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 8. The near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature, and the importance of a law authorizing the issuance of bridge bonds, creates an emergency, and a public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 142.—[S. B. No. 269.] An Act to amend Chapter Four, Title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Article 410a, so as to provide for the hiring of convicts in incorporated cities and towns.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter Four, Title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Article 410a, which shall read as follows:

Article 410a. To compel any person who may be convicted of a violation of any of the ordinances of the city, and who may be committed to jail in default of the payment of the fine and costs adjudged against such person, to be hired out to any individual, company, or corporation within the county in which said conviction is had (and to remain in said county), for the purpose of paying off and discharging said fine and costs, under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance; and to pass such ordinances as may be necessary to the regulation and enforcement of said contract of hiring.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

GLASSCOCK COUNTY—CREATED OUT OF TOM GREEN COUNTY.

Sec.

1. Creates and declares the boundaries of Glasscock County.
2. This county is named in honor of George W. Glasscock.

Sec.

3. Glasscock attached to Martin for judicial and all other purposes.
4. This county to pay its pro rata share of Tom Green County debts for public buildings.
5. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 143.—[H. B. No. 576.] An Act to create out of Tom Green County a new county to be known as Glasscock County, and to provide for its organization.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following new county shall be and is hereby created out of the eastern portion of Tom Green County, and the name and boundary thereof shall be as follows:

The County of Glasscock: Beginning at the northeast corner of Midland County; thence east with the line of Tom Green County thirty (30) miles; thence south thirty (30) miles; thence west thirty (30) miles; thence north along the east boundary line of Midland County to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2. The county of Glasscock is named in honor of George W. Glasscock, who participated in the struggle for Texas independence, and was at the storming and capture of the Alamo on the tenth of December, 1835, and was in the Grass fights and other engagements which resulted in the independence of Texas.

Sec. 3. The county of Glasscock be and is hereby attached to the county of Martin for judicial, surveying, and all other purposes.

Sec. 4. The new county to be created by this act shall pay a pro rata share of the existing debt of the county of Tom Green contracted for public buildings, and there shall be set apart so much of the county tax levied and collected upon the property situated in the portion so taken from the county of Tom Green annually as shall be sufficient to speedily liquidate said debt, if any.

Sec. 5. Whereas the fact that another regular session of the Legislature will not be held for two years, and the further fact that the present session is drawing to a close, and the isolated condition of the people of the proposed new county amounts to a practical denial of justice, creating an emergency and an imperative public necessity for suspending the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act go into effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

2. Prescribes penalty against officers, etc., for violating terms of this act.

Sec.

3. Defines term corporation as used in this act.
4. Venue of prosecutions under this act.
5. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 144.—[S. B. No. 220.] An Act to carry into effect Section Five, of Article Ten, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, prohibiting the consolidation of parallel or competing railroads, and to prescribe a penalty for the violation thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That it shall be unlawful for any railroad corporation or other corporation, or the lessees, purchasers, or managers of any railroad corporation, to consolidate the stocks, property, works, or franchises of such corporation with, or lease or purchase the stocks, property, works, or franchises of any other railroad corporation owing or having under its control or management a competing or parallel line; nor shall any officer, agent, manager, lessee, or purchaser of such railroad corporation act as or become an officer, agent, manager, lessee, or purchaser of any other railroad corporation in leasing or purchasing any parallel or competing line.

Sec. 2. Any officer, director, manager, superintendent, agent, purchaser, or lessee of any such railroad corporation or other corporation, who shall violate or aid in violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than four thousand dollars: Provided, That no person shall be liable to punishment under this act who has not, by virtue of his office, agency, or position, a voice in the management of the railway company, or who has not, by virtue of his office, agency, or position, some power to prevent a violation of this act.

Sec. 3. Railroad corporation or other corporation, as used in this act, is declared to mean any corporation, company, person, or association of persons who own or control, manage, or operate any line of railroad in this State.

Sec. 4. Indictments and prosecutions under the provisions of this act may be found and made in any county through or into which the line of railroad may run, and it shall be the duty of district judges to charge the grand juries upon this law the same as in other cases.

Sec. 5. Whereas there is no law enforcing the above provision of the Constitution, and whereas the near approach of the close of this session of the Legislature rendering it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, be suspended, and it is so suspended.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 145.—[H. B. No. 529.] An Act to authorize the Governor to order through the proper officials the institution, prosecution, or defense of any civil action or suit whenever he deems such course proper for the assertion or defense of any right of the State, and to render to said officials such assistance as to him may seem necessary or expedient.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Governor is hereby authorized to order through the proper officials the institution, prosecution, or defense of any civil action or suit whenever he deems such course proper for the assertion or defense of any right of the State, and to render to said officials such assistance as to him may seem necessary or expedient.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session, and the fact that litigation affecting important interests of the State is pending, impending, and necessary, and that there is no law now in force sufficiently regulating this subject, create an imperative public necessity and an emergency that the constitutional rule requiring a bill to be read on three several days be suspended, that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 147.—[S. H. B. No. 445.] An Act to establish an asylum for the deaf and dumb and the blind of the youth of the people of color of the State of Texas, and to provide for its government and maintenance, and making an appropriation therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there shall be established an asylum for the deaf and dumb and the blind of the youth of the people of color in this State. It shall be the duty of the Governor of this State immediately after the passage of this act to appoint three commissioners to select a suitable site for said asylum; said site to be at or near the city of Austin, and shall not be less in extent than four acres of ground.

Sec. 2. Said board, after the selection of said site, shall be authorized to purchase the same, and to draw their draft on the Treasurer of the State, to be approved by the Governor, for the payment of the same; and shall have plans and specifications for said buildings prepared and said board shall advertise for bids for the building and completion of the same. Necessary additions, improvements, and repairs may be subsequently made under the authority herein contained for original construction. The selection of said site, the acceptance of all bids for construction, all plans, alterations, and payments or expenditures, shall be subject to the approval of the Governor.

Sec. 3. The board of trustees of this asylum shall appoint, as soon as required, a superintendent of said asylum, whose salary shall be fifteen hundred dollars per year. Said superintendent shall be a man of mature years and experience and familiar with the duties of the position to which he may be elected. He shall be under the control of and subject to removal by said board, and unless sooner removed by said board for cause shall hold his office for a term of two years.

Sec. 4. The board of trustees shall make all necessary rules and regulations for the government of said asylum, said rules and regulations to comport as nearly as may be practicable with the rules and regulations of the asylums for like purposes in this State. Said board of trustees shall prescribe the duties of all subordinate officers or assistants in said asylum; shall appoint and may remove all such officers or assistants, determine their duties and their compensation; but said rules, appointments, and compensation shall not be in force until approved by the Governor. The admission of all applicants to said asylum, their treatment, instruction, and continuance therein, all questions relating to their dismissal or removal, or voluntary departure, from said asylum, or employment therein or thereabout, shall be governed by the rules and regulations of the State asylums for white youths for the deaf and dumb and blind.

Sec. 5. The sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of the general revenue not otherwise appropriated, for the establishment of said asylum for the colored youth of Texas who are deaf and dumb or blind, in the State.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the end of the present session rendering it improbable that this bill can pass in the regular order of business, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 76 yeas, 9 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 23 yeas, 5 nays.]

Approved, April 5, 1887.

COSTS PAID BY THE STATE.

Sec.

1. Amends Article 1054, Chapter 2, Title 15, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, concerning fees allowed sheriff in felony cases.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 148.—[H. B. No. 441.] An Act to amend Article 1054, Chapter 2, Title 15, of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1054, Chapter 2, Title 15, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1054. To the sheriff or constable shall be allowed the following fees, in all cases where the charge is a felony, whether the defendant be convicted or acquitted, or the case be disposed of by nolle prosequi, or upon judgment of dismissal.

1. For executing each warrant of arrest or capias, or for making arrest without warrant, the sum of one dollar.
2. For summoning or attaching each witness, fifty cents.
3. For summoning jury, two dollars.
4. For executing death warrant, fifty dollars.
5. For removing a prisoner, for each mile going and coming, including guards and all other expenses, when traveling by railroad, fifteen cents; when traveling otherwise than by railroad, twenty-five cents: Provided, That when an officer goes beyond the limits of the State after a fugitive, on requisition from the Governor, he shall be allowed the same fees and mileage as for like services in this State. For each mile he may be compelled to travel in executing criminal process, summoning or attaching witnesses, five cents; for traveling in the service of process not otherwise provided for, the sum of five cents for each mile going and returning; if two or more persons are mentioned in the writ, he shall charge for the distance actually and necessarily traveled in the service of the same.

6. For conveying a witness attached by him to any court or grand jury out of his county, his actual necessary expenses by the nearest practicable public conveyances, the amount to be stated by him under oath, and approved by the judge of the court from which the attachment issued, such account to become due when so approved, and the sheriff's or constable's return shall, in every instance, show the time and place of service.

7. For attending a prisoner on habeas corpus, where such prisoner is charged with a felony, for each day, two dollars, together with mileage as above, when removing such prisoner out of the county under proper authority, and all fees accruing under the provisions of this article to the sheriff or constable in cases where the charge is a felony shall become due at the close of each term of the district court.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature, and the impossibility to have this act read on three several days in each house, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this bill be placed upon its immediate passage, and said rule is so suspended.

Approved, April 7, 1887.

9. Action of board shall be final, when.
10. Compensation of board and secretary.
11. Oath of members of the board.
12. Repealing clause.
13. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 149.—[H. B. No. 119.] An Act creating boards of equalization for cities and towns, and defining their duties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the city councils of the several cities and towns of this State incorporated under the general laws shall annually, at their first meeting, or as soon thereafter as practicable, appoint three commissioners, each being a qualified voter, a resident, and property owner of the city or town for which he is appointed, who shall be styled the board of equalization, and at the same meeting said council shall by ordinance fix the time for the meeting of such board of equalization.

Sec. 2. The board of equalization shall convene annually, at the time fixed by the city council, to receive all the assessment lists or books of the assessor of their city, for examination, correction, equalization, appraisalment, and approval, and at all meetings of said board the city secretary shall act as secretary thereof.

Sec. 3. The board of equalization shall cause the assessor to bring before them at the time fixed for the convening of said board, all the assessment lists or books of the assessor of their city, for their examination, that they may see if each and every person has rendered his property at a fair market value; and said board shall have power to send for persons and papers, to swear and qualify persons who testify, to ascertain the value of such property; and if they are satisfied it is too high, they shall lower it to its proper value; and if too low, they shall raise the value of such property to a proper figure. Said board shall also have power to correct any errors that may appear on the assessor's lists or books.

Sec. 4. The board of equalization shall equalize as near as possible the value of all the improved lots within the corporate limits of their city, having reference to the size and location of said lots and the improvements thereon, and shall equalize the value of unimproved lots as near as possible, having reference to the size and location thereof, and all other property of the same kind shall be made as nearly equal as possible. Any person may file with said board at any time before the final action of said board a complaint as to the assessment of his or any other person's property, and said board shall hear said complaint, and said complainant shall have the right to have witnesses summoned in sustaining said complaint as to the insurance on said property, or the rents and profits it may bring the holder thereof.

Sec. 5. The city assessor at the same time that he delivers to said board his lists and books, as provided in section three of this act, shall also furnish to said board a certified list of the names of all persons who either refuse to swear or qualify or to sign the oath or affirmation as required by law, together with a list of the property of such persons situated within the corporate limits of their city, as made by him through other information, and said board shall examine said lists and appraise the property so listed by the assessor.

Sec. 6. In all cases where the board of equalization shall find their duty to raise the value of any property appearing on the lists or books of the assessor, they shall, after having fully examined such lists or books and corrected all errors appearing therein, adjourn to a day not less than ten nor more than fifteen days from the date of adjournment, such day to be fixed in the order of adjournment, and shall cause the secretary of said board to give written notice to the owner of such property or to the person rendering the same of the time to which said board may have adjourned, and that such owner or person rendering the said property may at that time appear and show cause why the value of said property should not be raised, which notice may be served by depositing the same, properly addressed and postage paid, in the city postoffice.

Sec. 7. The board of equalization shall meet at the time specified in said order of adjournment, and shall hear all persons the value of whose property has been raised, and if said board is satisfied they have raised the value of such property too high they shall lower the same to its proper value.

Sec. 8. The board of equalization, after they have finally examined and equalized the value of all property on the assessor's lists or books, shall approve said lists or books and return them together with the lists mentioned in section five of this act, that he may make up therefrom his general rolls as required by law; and when said general rolls are so made up the board shall meet again to examine said rolls and approve the same if found correct.

Sec. 9. The action of said board at the meeting provided for in section seven of this act shall be final, and shall not be subject to revision by said board or by any other tribunal thereafter.

Sec. 10. The members of the board of equalization and the city secretary while acting as secretary of said board shall receive such compensation for their services, to be allowed by the city council, as said council may deem just and reasonable.

Sec. 11. Before said board shall enter upon their duties they shall be sworn, by any officer authorized by law to administer oaths, to faithfully and impartially discharge all duties incumbent upon them by law as such board.

Sec. 12. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 13. An imperative public necessity and emergency exist that this act pass and take effect at once; it is therefore enacted that the rule requiring this act to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor for his approval on the 4th day of April, A. D. 1887, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. M. Moore, Secretary of State.]

RESOLUTIONS.

No. 1.—[H. J. R. No. 2.] Joint Resolution to amend Section 20 of Article 16 of the State Constitution.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 20 of Article 16 of the Constitution be so amended as to read as follows, to-wit:

Section 20. The manufacture, sale, and exchange of intoxicating liquors, except for medical, mechanical, sacramental, and scientific purposes, is hereby prohibited in the State of Texas. The Legislature shall, at the first session held after the adoption of the amendment, enact necessary laws to put this provision into effect.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas at an election to be held for that purpose on the first Thursday in August, 1887, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots, "For State Prohibition," and those voting against said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots, "Against State Prohibition." The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary publication for said election under the existing election laws of the State.

Approved, March 4, 1887.

No. 2.—[S. H. J. R. No. 1.] Joint Resolution to amend Section 24, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 24, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 24. The members of the Legislature shall receive from the public treasury such compensation for their services as may be provided by law, not exceeding five dollars per day for the first ninety days of each session, and after that not exceeding two dollars per day for the remainder of the session. In addition to the per diem the members of each house shall be entitled to a mileage in going to and returning from the seat of the government, which mileage shall not exceed five dollars for every twenty-five miles, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel by land, regardless of railways or water routes, and the Comptroller of the State shall prepare and preserve a table of distance to each county seat now or hereafter to be established, and by such table the mileage of each member shall be paid; but no member shall be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after the adjournment of a regular or called session.

Sec. 2. That the Governor of this State shall issue his proclamation ordering an election to be held on the first Thursday in August, A. D. 1887, on this amendment, in accordance with Article 17, Section 1, of the Constitution, and those voting for the adoption of this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots, "For the amendment to Section 24, Article 3, of the Constitution," and those voting against the adoption of said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words, "Against the amendment to Section 24, Article 3, of the Constitution."

Approved, March 8, 1887.

No. 3.—[S. J. R. No. 4.] Joint Resolution requesting the Attorney-General to at once institute suit in the District Court of Travis County, Texas, against all railroad companies or any chartered company or association of individuals, for the forfeiture and recovery of all lands and grants made and patented to them by the State, and who have obtained aid from this State in the donation of lands under their respective charters, or under a general or special law of this State, who have failed to comply with the law or the requirements in their respective charters to alienate such lands, or have made such alienation in fraud of the rights of the State.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Attorney-General of this State is hereby requested to at once institute suit in the District Court of Travis County, Texas, against all railroad companies or any other chartered company or association of individuals, for the forfeiture and recovery for the State of all lands and grants made and patented to them by the State, and who have obtained aid from the State in the donation of lands under their respective charters, or under a general or special law of this State, who have failed to comply with the law or the requirements in their respective charters to alienate such lands, or have made such alienation in fraud of the rights of the State.

Approved, March 17, 1887.

No. 4.—[H. J. R. No. 18.] Joint Resolution to amend Section 11, of Article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 11, of Article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended as to read as follows, to-wit:

Section 11. It is hereby declared that all lands and other property heretofore set apart and appropriated for the establishment and maintenance of the University of Texas, together with all the principal of the proceeds of sales of the same heretofore made or hereafter to be made, and all grants, donations, and appropriations that may hereafter be made by the State of Texas, or from any other source, shall constitute and become a permanent University fund. And the same as realized and received into the treasury of the State (together with such sum belonging to the fund as may now be in the treasury), shall be invested in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, the counties in said State, or in such other securities and under such restrictions as may be prescribed by law, and the State shall be responsible for all investments. And all the interest accruing thereon shall be subject to appropriation by the Legislature to accomplish the purpose declared in the foregoing section: Provided, That the one-tenth of the alternate sections of the lands granted to railroads reserved by the State, which were set apart and appropriated to the establishment of the University of Texas by an act of the Legislature of February 11, 1858, entitled "An Act to establish the University of Texas," shall not be included in or constitute a part of the permanent University fund.

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas at an election to be held for that purpose on the first Thursday in August, 1887; at which election the voters favoring this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "For the amendment to Article 7," and those opposed the words "Against the amendment to Article 7." The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election under the laws of the State.

Approved, March 29, 1887.

No. 5.—[S. S. J. R. No. 3.] Joint Resolution proposing the submission of an amendment to Section 12, Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That Section 12, Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article Eight.

Section 12. The Legislature shall provide for the assessment and collection of State and county taxes upon all property subject to taxation situated in unorganized counties: Provided, That such unorganized counties shall not be taxed to pay for public improvements in the organized county to which they are attached for judicial purposes.

Sec. 2. Be it further resolved, That the above and foregoing amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas be submitted for adoption at an election ordered for that purpose to be held on the first Thursday in August, A. D. 1887, and the Governor of Texas is hereby authorized to issue his proclamation therefor according to law.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

No. 6.—[S. J. R. No. 17.] Joint Resolution to amend Section Four, Article Six, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section Four, of Article Six, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows.

Section 4. In all elections by the people the vote shall be by ballot, and the Legislature shall provide for the numbering of tickets, and make such other regulations as may be necessary to detect and punish fraud and preserve the purity of the ballot-box; and the Legislature may provide by law for the registration of all voters in all cities containing a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more, and in such counties as the Legislature may deem advisable.

Sec. 2. That the Governor of this State shall issue his proclamation ordering an election to be held on the first Thursday in August, A. D. 1887, on this amendment, in accordance with Article Seventeen, Section One, of the Constitution; and those voting for the adoption of this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words, "For the amendment to Section Four, Article Six, of the Constitution," and those voting against the adoption of said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words, "Against the amendment to Section Four, Article Six, of the Constitution."

Approved, April 4, 1887.

No. 7.—[S. J. R. No. 26.] Joint Resolution to amend Article Five of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That Article Five of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article Five.

Section 1. The judicial power of this State shall be vested in one Supreme Court, one Court of Appeals, in district courts, and in such inferior courts as may from time to time be created by general or special law.

Section 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of such number of justices, not less than five nor more than seven, as may from time to time be determined by the Legislature. Such justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election, and shall hold their offices for the term of six years.

Section 3. The chief justice and the associate justices of the Supreme Court who may be in office when this amendment goes into effect, together with a sufficient number to make the number of five, shall constitute the Supreme Court until such number shall be increased by law. Upon the adoption of this amendment, the Governor shall appoint a sufficient number of justices of the Supreme Court, in addition to those who may be in office at the time, to make the number of five, who shall hold their offices until the next general election. The justices of the Supreme Court who may be in office when this amendment is adopted, shall continue to serve until their terms of office expire by the Constitution and laws under which they were elected.

Section 4. The justices of the Supreme Court shall select from their own number a presiding officer, who shall be called the chief justice, and who shall hold for such term and perform such duties as may be prescribed by the court: Provided, the chief justice who may be in office at the time when this amendment shall take effect shall be the chief justice of the Supreme Court hereby established until the expiration of his term of office under his former election or appointment.

Section 5. Each justice of the Supreme Court shall be a qualified voter, shall have arrived at the age of thirty years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer in this State, or a judge of a district court therein, or such judge and lawyer together, at least seven years at the time of his election or appointment.

Section 6. Each justice of the Supreme Court shall receive an annual salary of not more than three thousand six hundred dollars.

Section 7. The Supreme Court shall have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, as by the court may be thought proper, to ascertain such matters of fact, as may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction.

Section 8. The Supreme Court shall have power to make rules of procedure for its own government, and the government of the other courts of the State over which it may have appellate jurisdiction: Provided, Such rules shall not be inconsistent with the laws of the State.

Section 9. The Supreme Court shall appoint a clerk for each place at which it may sit, who shall hold his office for four years, subject to removal by the court, and who shall give such bond as is or may be prescribed by law.

Section 10. The Supreme Court shall sit for the transaction of business from the first Monday in September to the last Saturday in June of every year, provided the business before it is not sooner disposed of, at the seat of government and at not more than two other places in the State.

Section 11. The Supreme Court may organize, for the more speedy dispatch of business, into such divisions as may be deemed expedient, and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the court.

Section 12. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction of civil cases, proceedings, and controversies, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be provided by law.

Section 13. The Supreme Court and the justices thereof shall have power to issue all writs known to the law which may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction, or to enforce the same; said court shall also have power by mandamus or otherwise compel the district and inferior courts to proceed with the trial of cases pending in said courts of which it would have cognizance on appeal.

Section 14. The Legislature may confer upon the Supreme Court exclusive original jurisdiction to issue writs of mandamus and injunction against the heads of State departments, except as against the Governor.

Court of Appeals.

Section 15. The Court of Appeals shall consist of three judges, who shall each be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election, and who shall hold their offices for the term of six years. The judges of the Court of Appeals, or so many of them as there may be, who shall be in office at the time this amendment shall take effect, shall be judges of said court as hereby established, and shall hold their said offices until the expiration of their respective terms under their former election or appointments. And should there be, at the adoption of this amendment, less than three judges of said Court of Appeals, the Governor shall appoint the requisite number of additional judges to constitute a court of three members, and the judges so appointed shall hold their office until the next general election.

Section 16. The several judges of the Court of Appeals shall possess the same qualifications and receive the same salary as justices of the Supreme Court. The judges shall select from their own number a presiding judge, who shall perform such duties and hold for such term as the court may prescribe. A majority of the court shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of two of the judges shall be necessary to a decision. The court shall sit at the same times and places as are prescribed for the Supreme Court. The court and the judges thereof shall have power to issue the writ of habeas corpus and all writs known to the law which may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction or to enforce the same. They shall also have power by mandamus or otherwise to compel the district and inferior courts to proceed with the trial of cases pending in said courts of which the Court of Appeals would have cognizance on appeal. The court shall also have power to ascertain such facts as may be necessary in the exercise of its jurisdiction.

Section 17. The Court of Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction of criminal cases, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

Section 18. The Court of Appeals shall appoint a clerk for each place at which it may sit, who shall hold his office for four years, subject to removal by the court, and who shall give such bond as is or may be prescribed by law.

District Court.

Section 19. The State shall be divided into a convenient number of judicial districts, consisting of one or more counties. Regular terms of the court shall be held by the district judges at the county seat of each county in the district at least twice in each year, in such manner as may be prescribed by general or local law.

Section 20. There shall be a district judge for each judicial district, who shall be elected by the qualified voters of the district at a general election. He shall hold his office for the term of four years from the date of his election. The district judges who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until the expiration of their several terms under the present Constitution and laws.

Section 21. Each district judge shall be a qualified voter and resident of the district, shall have arrived at the age of twenty-eight years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer in this State at least six years, and shall reside in his district during his term of office.

Section 22. The judges of the district courts shall receive an annual salary of twenty-five hundred dollars, which shall be paid as prescribed by law.

Section 23. The district courts shall be courts of general jurisdiction. They shall have original jurisdiction, both civil and criminal, of all cases and special proceedings of which exclusive jurisdiction is not conferred on some other court, and in civil cases such jurisdiction shall be exercised without regard to any distinction between law and equity. Contested elections and other special cases, where the right to resort to the courts arises only out of legislative action, may be referred by the Legislature to the district court, or other tribunal, with or without the right of appeal to the Supreme Court, as may be prescribed by law.

Section 24. The district court shall have such appellate jurisdiction and such control over the inferior courts and tribunals in the county as may be prescribed by law.

Section 25. The district courts, and the judges thereof, shall have power to issue the writ of habeas corpus, and to render judgment therein, either in vacation or term time. They shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus, injunction, certiorari, and all writs known to the law which may be necessary to the exercise of their jurisdiction, or to enforce the same.

Section 26. Any district judge shall have power to hold a special term of the district court in any county of his district, under such circumstances and in such manner as may be directed by general or special law.

Section 27. There shall be a clerk of the district court of each county, who shall be elected by the qualified voters of the county, and who shall hold his office for two years, whose duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law.

Section 28. There shall be elected by the qualified voters of each county a sheriff, who shall hold his office for two years, whose duties, perquisites, and fees of office shall be prescribed by law.

Section 29. The Legislature shall provide for the election of district and county attorneys, and such other officers as may be deemed necessary to the due administration of justice, define their duties, and fix their compensation. The district attorneys and county attorneys who shall be in office at the time this amendment shall take effect, shall hold their offices until the expiration of their several terms under the present Constitution and laws.

Section 30. The judicial districts in this State and the time of holding courts therein shall remain as at present until otherwise provided by law.

Section 31. The criminal district court of Galveston and Harris counties shall continue with the jurisdiction, organization, and district now existing until otherwise provided by law, and the Legislature may establish such other courts, embracing one or more counties, with such criminal jurisdiction as may be provided by law. The qualifications, salaries, and tenure of office of the judges of said courts shall be the same as for judges of the district court.

Section 32. Grand and petit juries in the district court shall be composed of twelve men; but nine members of a grand jury shall be a quorum to transact business and present bills; and the Legislature may pass laws authorizing less than the whole number of a petit jury to render a verdict in civil and misdemeanor cases.

Section 33. All vacancies in the office of justice of the Supreme Court or Court of Appeals, or of judges of the district courts, shall be filled by the Governor by appointment for the unexpired term.

Section 34. The Legislature shall from time to time, by general or local law, establish county courts and such other inferior courts and provide for their officers, with such jurisdiction and qualification and powers as may be deemed expedient: Provided, The judges and presiding officers of such courts shall be elected, and until such courts are provided the district and other inferior courts now in existence, together with their officers, shall continue, and shall exercise the powers and jurisdiction now conferred on them; and appeals shall lie as at present, except that civil cases heretofore appealable to the Court of Appeals shall, until otherwise provided by law, be appealable to the Supreme Court under the rules and regulations now prescribed for appeals to that court: Provided, the Court of Appeals shall determine all civil cases pending before it at the time this amendment shall be declared a part of the Constitution.

Section 35. No justice or judge shall sit in any case wherein he may be interested in the question to be decided, or where either of the parties may be connected with him by affinity or consanguinity within such degree as may be prescribed by law, or where he shall have been counsel in the case. When a justice of the Supreme Court, or of the Court of Appeals, shall be disqualified to hear and determine any case or cases in said court, the same shall be certified by such court to the Governor of the State, who shall immediately commission the requisite number of persons, learned in the law, for the trial and determination of such case or cases. When the judge of a district court is disqualified, the parties may, by consent, appoint a proper person to try the case, or, upon their failure to do so, a competent person may be appointed by the Governor to try the case, in the county where it is pending, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The district judges may exchange districts, or hold courts for each other, when they may deem it expedient, and shall do so when directed by law.

Section 36. District clerk's, sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys, and other officers, provision for whose removal from office is not otherwise specially provided for, may be removed from office by the judges of the district courts, for incompetency, official misconduct, habitual drunkenness, or drunkenness which does not amount to habitual drunkenness, or other causes defined by law, upon the cause therefor being set forth in writing, and the finding of its truth by a jury. Vacancies in all offices shall be filled as may be prescribed in this Constitution, or, in the absence of constitutional provisions, then, in such manner as may be prescribed by law; and, until otherwise provided, vacancies in office shall be filled in the manner now prescribed.

Section 37. The Legislature shall not create any court inferior to the district court with jurisdiction of suits in behalf of the State to recover penalties, forfeitures, and escheats; of suits to recover damages for slander or defamation of character; of suits for divorce; or of suits for trial of title to land, or for the enforcement of liens thereon, except liens acquired by levy of process issued out of such court, or of civil cases wherein the amount in controversy exceeds one thousand dollars.

[Sec. 2.] Section 38. And be it further resolved, That the Governor be requested to submit to the vote of the State the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution at an election to be ordered on the first Thursday in August, A. D. 1887, in accordance with the provisions of Article 17 of the State Constitution; and at said election those desiring to vote for said amendment shall have written or printed upon their tickets the words, "For amendment of Article 5, relating to the judiciary," and those desiring to vote against said amendment shall have written or printed upon their tickets the words, "Against amendment of Article 5, relating to the judiciary."

Approved, April 4, 1887.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
Department of State.

I, J. M. Moore, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, certify that the foregoing laws and joint resolutions, passed at the regular session of the Twentieth Legislature, have been carefully examined and compared with the original enrolled bills now on file in this department, and with the exception pointed out in the erratum, are true copies of said originals.

I further certify that the Twentieth Legislature convened in the City of Austin January 11, A. D. 1887, and adjourned April 4, A. D. 1887.

In testimony whereof I have subscribed my name, and hereto affixed [Seal.] the seal of the State of Texas, in the City of Austin, April 14, 1887.

J. M. MOORE,

SPECIAL LAWS OF TEXAS.

TWENTIETH LEGISLATURE, 1887.

DALLAS CITY—AMENDMENTS OF CHARTER.

CHAP. 1.—[H. B. No. 280.] An Act to amend Sections 4 and 12 of an act entitled An Act amendatory of and supplementary to the several acts incorporating the city of Dallas, taking effect April 3, 1885, and to add thereto another section to be known as Section 15a, and also to amend Sections 25, 63, 84, 91, 94, 113, 126, 127, 133, and 179 of an act to incorporate the city of Dallas, approved August 9, 1876, and all amendments to said sections by the amendatory acts of July 9, 1879, April 3, 1881, and March 31, 1883, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 4 of an act amendatory of and supplementary to the several acts incorporating the city of Dallas, and taking effect April 3, 1885, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 4. The municipal government of the city of Dallas shall consist of a city council, composed of the mayor and two aldermen from each ward. A majority of the aldermen shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as they may prescribe. At called meetings, or meetings for the imposition of taxes, two-thirds of a full board shall be required. The other officers of the corporation shall be a city secretary, treasurer, an assessor, a collector, a city attorney, a city engineer, a city marshal, a city superintendent of water works, a health officer, a street superintendent, and such other officers and agents as the city council may hereafter create, all of whom shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city of Dallas, as provided for by the city charter, except the city secretary, city treasurer, and city attorney, who shall be elected by the city council at the first regular meeting in May, 1888, and every two years thereafter: Provided, That the assessor and collector mentioned in this section shall not be elected until the regular election of officers in 1888, when they shall be elected in such manner as may be provided for by the city charter.

Sec. 2. That Section 12 of said last named act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 12. The city council shall have power to fix the compensation of all city officers, and to regulate the fees of all jurors, witnesses, and others who render services under the charter and ordinances of said city. Whenever the city council shall fix the compensation to be paid any officer, whether elected by the people or by the council, they shall make the same payable monthly, out of the city treasury.

Sec. 3. That there be added to said last named act another section, to be known as Section 15a, which shall read as follows:

Section 15a. In all cases of special assessments for local improvements of any kind whatever, against any property, persons, or corporations whatsoever, and said assessment has failed to be valid, in whole or in part, because the charter provisions authorizing such assessment did not sufficiently point out the mode and manner of making or enforcing the collection of such assessment, or because said assessment is void, insufficient, or inoperative for want of form or any non-compliance with the charter provisions governing such assessment, the city council shall be and are hereby authorized to reassess said special taxes or assessments against the property of persons or corporations that may have been benefited by the improvement made, and to enforce the collection of the same, said reassessment and collection to be made and enforced in accordance with the charter provisions existing at the time the reassessment is made.

Sec. 4. That Section 25 of an act to incorporate the city of Dallas, approved August 9, 1870, and all amendments thereto by the amendatory acts of July 9, 1879, April 3, 1881, and March 31, 1883, be and the same are hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 25. The assessor shall make up all the assessments of all property to be taxed by the city, including license and occupation taxes, and make duplicate rolls thereof; and on completion of said rolls and their approval by the city council, he shall deliver one of them to the city secretary and the other one to the collector, all to be done in such manner and by such time as the city council may prescribe by ordinance. The assessor shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by the city council. He shall receive for his services such salary as the city council may establish by ordinance. He shall give bond in such amount and in such form as the city council may prescribe, with good and sufficient sureties. He shall be and hereby is authorized to require the owners of all property subject to taxation by the city to render a correct account of the same under oath or affirmation, to be by him administered. The collector shall collect all taxes due the city, whether the same be general or special taxes, or special assessments for any purpose whatever. And in the event of the non-payment of any of said taxes or assessments, he shall proceed to sell property to satisfy the amount of said taxes and assessments, together with all costs and penalties, in accordance with the provisions of the charter in such cases made and provided. In the performance of his duties the collector shall observe the charter provisions concerning the collection of taxes heretofore applying to the office of assessor and collector, and shall be governed by the same so far as they may be applicable. He shall give bond in such amount and form as the city council may prescribe, with good and sufficient sureties. The city council may require a new bond whenever in their opinion the existing bond is insufficient; and whenever such bond is required, the collector shall perform no official act until said bond shall be given and approved. He shall at the expiration of every week pay to the city treasurer all money by him collected and report to the city council, at the first regular meeting in every month, all moneys so collected and paid. The collector shall perform all such other duties, and in such manner, and according to such rules and regulations, as the city council may prescribe. This section is not to be construed to authorize the collector and assessor herein mentioned to enter upon their respective duties herein provided for until after they shall be regularly elected in the year 1888, in such manner as may be provided in the city charter. All provisions now in the charter regulating the duties of the present assessor and collector, are hereby made to govern the collector provided for in this section, as far as the same may be applicable to the office of collector.

Sec. 5. That Section 63 of said last named act be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 63. To establish and regulate public pounds, and to regulate, restrain, and prohibit the running at large of horses and mules, cattle, sheep, swine, and goats, and to authorize the detaining, impounding, and sale of the same for the costs of the proceedings and the penalty incurred, whether the owners thereof reside in or out of the city limits, and to order their destruction when they cannot be sold, and to impose penalties on the owners or keepers thereof for violation of such ordinance.

Sec. 6. That Section 84 of said last named act be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 84. To appropriate so much of the resources of the city, emanating from whatever source, for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city; and for the purpose of improving the public markets and streets, erecting and conducting city hospitals, city halls, water works, etc., as they may from time to time deem expedient; and in furtherance of these objects they shall have power to borrow money upon the credit of the city, and issue coupon bonds of the city thereof, in such sum or sums as they may deem expedient, to bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at such place as may be fixed by the city ordinance: Provided, That the aggregate amount of bonds issued by the city council shall at no time exceed one million dollars.

Sec. 7. That Section 91 of said last named act be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 91. That the city council shall have power to levy and collect taxes annually, known as license or occupation taxes, upon trades, professions, callings, and other business carried on, and upon carriages, hacks, coaches, buggies, drays, carts, wagons, and other vehicles used in said city, when the same are for public use; that each and every person or firm engaging in the following trades, professions, callings, and business, among others, shall be liable to pay such license tax; but this enumeration shall not be considered to deprive the city council of the right and power to levy and collect other license taxes, and from other persons and firms, under the general authority herein granted, whether the same be taxed by the State or not.

Sec. 8. That Section 94 of said last named act be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 94. That the city council may provide by ordinance for the exemption from taxation of such property as they may deem just and proper: Provided, Nothing contained herein shall be construed to allow the city council to exempt any persons, corporations, or property whatever from the payment of any special taxes or assessments whatever for local improvements of any kind or purpose whatever.

Sec. 9. That Section 113 of said last named act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 113. The city council are herein empowered to pass all ordinances necessary for the levying and proper assessment of all taxes and assessments provided for anywhere in any and all of the various acts incorporating the city of Dallas and in any and all acts amendatory thereof.

Sec. 10. That Section 126 of said last named act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 126. On the first Tuesday in November of each year, the collector shall offer at public sale, at the court house door in the city of Dallas, all real estate on which taxes or special assessments shall remain due and unpaid, and such sale shall be made to realize all taxes due on such lands and all interest and costs of sale: Provided, That this section shall not be construed to prevent the sale of real estate for special assessments at such other times as may be provided for elsewhere in the city charter and ordinances in pursuance thereof.

Sec. 11. That Section 127 of said last named act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 127. Before such sale, notice of the time and place of sale, together with as near as may be a description of the property, shall be given by posting two notices, one at the court house and the other at the city hall in the city of Dallas, also by publication in some newspaper of the city once a week for at least four weeks before said sale, which notice shall contain a statement of the amount due on each particular piece of ground.

Sec. 12. That Section 133 of said last named act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 133. If from neglect of the officers, or from any other cause, real property is not duly advertised and sold on the first Tuesday in November of each year, then the city collector shall sell the same on the first Tuesday in December, or on the first Tuesday in any month thereafter, giving notice as provided for in Section 127 of this act.

Sec. 13. That Section 179 of said last named act be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 179. The city council are hereby empowered to enact all ordinances necessary for the enforcement of all the provisions contained in any and all acts incorporating the city of Dallas, or in any and all amendments thereto, and to levy, assess, and collect any and all taxes and assessments anywhere provided for in any of said acts of incorporation or in amendments thereto.

Sec. 14. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed; that the completion of the improvements now in course of construction creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

HEIRS OF WILHELM KUHLMAN—RELIEF OF.

CHAP. 2.—[H. B. No. 172.] An Act to authorize and require the Commissioner of the General Land Office to issue a patent to the heirs of Wilhelm Kuhlman for 320 acres of land located in Gillespie County on December 1, 1879, by virtue of Scrip No. 5.

Whereas the heirs of Wilhelm Kuhlman have heretofore received from the State of Texas land scrip No. 5 for 320 acres of land, issued by J. Portis, commissioner of Fisher and Miller's Colony, this certificate having been located in Gillespie County, on application of F. Winkel, by Julius Schuchard, the lawful county surveyor of said county, on the first day of December, 1879; and whereas said certificate, together with the field notes, properly authenticated, have been lost by mail while on the road to be returned to the General Land Office; and whereas, in consequence of the destruction of said certificate, a patent cannot be issued; and whereas said F. Winkel has given notice, as required by law in such cases, that he will apply to this Legislature for a special law granting the land located in Gillespie County, State of Texas, by virtue of said certificate No. 5, prior to the loss of the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby authorized and required to issue a patent for the 320 acres of land located in Gillespie County by virtue of said certificate No. 5, to the heirs of Wilhelm Kuhlman: Provided, the issuance of said patent as provided above shall not prejudice the claim or claims of any other claimant to said land.

Approved, March 15, 1887.

VALIDATING PURCHASE OF SCHOOL LANDS BY PIERCE JOHNSTON.

CHAP. 3.—[H. B. No. 219.] An Act to validate the purchase by Pierce Johnston from the State of Texas of certain school sections of lands lying in La Salle County.

Whereas, on the — day of March, 1882, Pierce Johnston, county surveyor of La Salle County, purchased from the State of Texas, under the act of the Legislature approved April 6, 1881, six and one-half sections of land lying in La Salle County, belonging to the common school fund, viz.:

Survey.	Certificate No.	Original Grantee.
163.....	1113.....	H. & G. N. R. R. Co.
162.....	1113.....	H. & G. N. R. R. Co.
156.....	1111.....	H. & G. N. R. R. Co.
320 acres out of 22.....	89.....	Seale & Morris.
150.....	1113.....	H. & G. N. R. R. Co.
74.....	1599.....	B. S. & F.
76.....	1600.....	B. S. & F.

And whereas the said Pierce Johnston in all things complied with the law in making said purchase and paid into the State Treasury one-twentieth of the purchase money for said land; and whereas, in the winter of said year, 1882, the said Pierce Johnston sold and conveyed four and one-half sections of said land to Charles Sullivan, for the sum of three thousand one hundred and fifty dollars, the said Sullivan in addition thereto assuming to pay the State of Texas the balance of the purchase money due on the same; and whereas the said Pierce Johnston sold and conveyed the remaining two sections to Charles F. Shea, for a valuable consideration; and whereas both the said Sullivan and Shea purchased the same in good faith, under the impression that they were receiving a perfect title thereto, and in that belief have annually, as the law requires, paid into the State treasury the accrued interest on the unpaid purchase money assumed to be paid by them severally; and whereas they have improved said lands by a large outlay of money in constructing tanks and inclosing the same: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the purchase of said six and one-half sections of land by Pierce Johnston, county surveyor of La Salle County, on the — day of March, 1882, be and the same is in all things affirmed and validated, and to have the same force and effect as if the said Pierce Johnston had not been county surveyor at the time of said purchase.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor of Texas for his approval on the fifteenth day of March, 1887, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. M. Moore, Secretary of State.]

RELIEF OF J. B. EARLY.

CHAP. 4.—[H. B. No. 499.] An Act for the relief of J. B. Early, and to validate Bounty Land Certificate No. 831 and the survey made by virtue thereof, issued by Ben F. Hill, Adjutant-General of Texas, on the 29th day of May, 1851, for 240 acres of land, to Henry W. Ward, the said J. B. Early being now the owner of said certificates.

Whereas the land certificate issued to Henry W. Ward for 240 acres of land, on the 28th day of May, A. D. 1851, by the Adjutant-General of Texas, was by omission not presented for approval to the Commissioner of Claims, as required by law, said certificate being now in good faith located in Somervell County, for merly Hood County, Texas: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That said land certificate issued to the said Henry W. Ward as aforesaid be and the same is hereby validated and declared a legal certificate, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby required to issue a patent by virtue of any location made by said certificate: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect any rights of B. J. Chambers to the land covered by the location hereby validated.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature rendering it doubtful as to whether this act can pass in the regular course of legislation, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 75 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 24 yeas, 3 nays.]

Approved, March 29, 1887.

GALVESTON CITY—AMENDMENTS OF CHARTER.

CHAP. 5.—[S. H. B. No. 75.] An Act to amend the charter of the city of Galveston, by amending Sections 2, 3, 14, 19, 23, 54, 116, 122, and 127 thereof, and by adding thereto Sections 73a, 96a, 131a, and 132a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Sections 2, 3, 14, 19, 23, 54, 116, 122, and 127, of the Charter of the City of Galveston, be and the same are hereby amended so that they shall hereafter read as follows, to-wit:

Section 2. That the limits of said city shall embrace so much of the island of Galveston from the point thereof on the east to Fifty-sixth [street], or to include the league and labor of land known as the Menard grant: Provided, That said league and labor shall extend beyond Fifty-sixth street; thence to include Galveston Bay and Pelican Island, and one mile north thereof; and the waters of the Gulf of Mexico extending south one marine league from the shore, from the channel and anchorage on the eastern end of Galveston Island to the western boundary of the city, so as to extend the police authority and jurisdiction, inclusive of Pelican Island, over all the area and territory aforesaid: Provided, nevertheless, That jurisdiction shall extend from the eastern boundary of said city over all real estate beyond said limits purchased by said city for the use of the corporation: And provided furthermore, That all the municipal regulations of said city shall apply to, extend, and be in full force over the harbor and anchorage of Galveston, and to the bar at the entrance of said harbor, and the corporate authority and jurisdiction shall extend from the eastern boundary of said city over the east end of Galveston Island, and over all real estate beyond said limits purchased by said city for the use of the corporation: And provided further, That the said limits may be hereafter extended, including and adding more territory to the same, whenever a majority of the inhabitants of said territory shall indicate a desire to be included within the limits of said city: And provided further, That neither the corporate limits nor the jurisdiction of said city shall extend to any point of the mainland so as to interfere or conflict in any wise with the riparian rights and privileges of the owners of the mainland or any part thereof bordering upon the waters of said bay: And provided further, That the jurisdiction of said city shall not extend over Bolivar Channel except for police and sanitary purposes.

Section 3. The municipal government of said city shall consist of a city council, composed of a mayor, and one alderman from each ward. A majority of the aldermen elected shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except at a called meeting or meetings for the imposition of taxes, when three-fourths of the aldermen elected shall be required, unless herein otherwise specified. The officers of the corporation shall be a treasurer and assessor, a collector, a clerk, a chief of police, an engineer (who shall also be superintendent of streets), an attorney, an auditor, a health physician, a harbor master, and such other officers and agents as the council may direct; all of whom shall be appointed by the mayor on the second Monday after each biennial election, or as soon thereafter as possible, and each of whom shall be confirmed by a majority of the board of aldermen. All of said officers so appointed by the mayor shall hold their offices until the second Monday after the next succeeding biennial election, and until the appointment and qualification of their successors, unless removed by the mayor or by the city council under authority vested in it by this charter. The duties of the harbor master shall be such as have been or may be prescribed by the city council, and he shall receive for his services such compensation as the city council may determine, not to exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum, and shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of ten thousand dollars.

Section 14. The mayor shall preside over the meetings of the city council, but shall have no vote unless there is a tie, in which case he shall give the casting vote. He shall also be recorder, and have like power with a justice of the peace to administer oaths of office and also all oaths and affirmations, and to give certificates thereof. He shall possess and execute in the city, in criminal cases, all the powers and duties of a justice of the peace. He shall be compensated for his services by a salary of three thousand dollars per annum, payable at stated periods, and shall receive such fees as may be allowed by law, which fees shall be paid into the city treasury. He shall, by and with the consent of the board of aldermen, have power to remove any officer holding office under the appointment of the mayor, and shall, by and with the consent of the board of aldermen, fill by appointment any vacancy occasioned by such removal. He shall have authority, in case of a riot or any unlawful assemblage, or with a view to preserve peace and good order in said city, to order and enforce the closing of any theater, ball room, grog shop, tippling house, bar room, or other place of resort, or public room or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence the laws of the State or any ordinances of the city: and he shall perform such other duties and possess and exercise such other power and authority as may be prescribed and conferred by the city council.

Section 19. It shall be the duty of the city attorney to represent the city in all cases brought for or against it in the courts of the State or United States in the county of Galveston, and in the recorder's court when requested by the mayor in writing, or by order of the city council. He shall give legal advice to the mayor, any officer, or the city council, when applied for in writing or referred to him by the city council. He shall prepare all ordinances, and examine, supervise and prepare all contracts made by the city. He shall receive an annual salary of not to exceed twenty-five hundred dollars, and such fees and commissions as may be provided by the city council. He shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of five thousand dollars. The powers, duties, and qualifications of the city engineer, and the salary for his services, shall be prescribed by the city council, not to exceed two thousand dollars, and such fees as may be prescribed by ordinance. As to officers' fees, this section shall not be subject to the provisions of Section 171 of this charter.

Section 23. It shall be the duty of the auditor to examine in detail all bills, accounts, and claims against the city, and if found correct sign his name in approval, but if found incorrect he shall return them to the appropriate committee or the city council with his objections thereto. It shall also be his duty to examine the books of all officers of the city, and if they should be found incorrect to make a report of the same to the city council. It shall also be his duty to examine all warrants and countersign the same when an appropriation has been duly made to pay the same by the city council; and he shall render such other services from time to time as the city council may direct, and shall receive for his services such compensation as the city council may determine, not to exceed eighteen hundred dollars per annum, and shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of ten thousand dollars.

Section 54. To pass ordinances for the condemnation of property for the purposes of opening streets in the city, conforming the mode and manner of the same to the rules prescribed for cities and towns by the General Laws of the State; and to regulate, prohibit, or remove all buildings or structures on the shores or in the waters within the limits of the city where the same are not authorized by law.

Section 116. There shall be and is hereby created a board, called the commissioners of water works, to consist of five members, to be appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the city council, who shall hold their offices for the term of four years, and until their successors are duly elected and qualified, except as hereinafter prescribed. Said commissioners shall be entitled to receive such salary as the city council may determine, not to exceed three hundred dollars each per annum, payable quarterly. The mayor, with the approval of the city council, shall have the power to remove any commissioner for cause, and to fill any vacancy occurring in said office either from death, resignation, removal from office, removal from the city, or other cause. All appointments to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired term. No person shall be eligible to the office of commissioner unless he is thirty years of age, a freeholder and qualified voter in said city. The mayor shall, on the first Monday in July, 1887, or as soon thereafter as practicable, appoint the five commissioners provided for in this act, and said commissioners shall hold their offices two of them for two years and three of them for four years from the date of appointment. The mayor shall issue commissions to the persons so appointed, designating the terms for which they are severally appointed, and whenever the term of office of any commissioner expires the appointment of his successor shall be for four years. Said commissioners shall take the oath of office required of other officers of said city, and give bond for the faithful performance of their duties, payable to the city of Galveston, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be approved by the mayor of the city. Upon the appointment and qualification of the commissioners they shall organize by the election of a president from among their own number, and appoint a secretary, with such salary as they may prescribe, and a majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. They shall advertise and let contracts for the construction of a system of water works, according to plans and specifications to be adopted by them, but all contracts shall be subject to the approval of the city council, and shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the city clerk before the same shall take effect. Any contract made under the provisions of this section shall state the source of water supply, the location, capacity, and plan of the main reservoir; the location, capacity, and plan of all stand-pipes and reservoirs in the city, and the location, size, number, and material of all hydrants. Any contract made under this act for the construction of water works shall be paid for by the city, in five per cent forty-year bonds, issued for the purpose of constructing water works. For the purpose of obtaining information, and paying their necessary expenses and the expense of a competent engineer for consulting and advisory purposes, said board is hereby authorized to expend the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be paid by the city council out of the proceeds of sales of bonds to be issued for the construction of water works. The water works, except the assessment of water rates and the collection of revenue therefrom after their construction, shall be under the control and management of the board of commissioners of water works, and the board shall appoint all officers, agents, and other subordinates and employes as may be necessary for the management and efficient operation of said water works, as may be provided by ordinance. The board shall have authority to remove or suspend any officer, agent, or employe of said department. The doing of all work and repairs, and the furnishing of all material and supplies, shall be let out by the board by contract, except in cases where it is not practical to do such work or furnish such material by contract, and all contracts involving the expenditure of over one thousand dollars shall be submitted to the city council for their approval. Whenever the city council shall by ordinance provide for the extension of the system of water works along streets and alleys not supplied in the original construction of the water works, the board shall contract for the construction of the same in the manner hereinbefore provided, subject to the approval of the city council. The city council shall fix, assess, and collect all water rates and tolls, and pass all ordinances necessary for the protection, preservation, and regulation of the water works, and enforce the same by suitable penalties. The board shall keep a record of their proceedings in a well bound book kept for that purpose; they shall keep an account of all contracts, purchases, and expenditures made by them, and shall report to the city council on the first day of every month a pay roll and list of expenditures made in their department during the preceding month.

Section 122. In order to effect the abatement of nuisances or removal of accumulated filth, the board of health shall have power, whenever in their opinion such nuisance or filth exist, and is, or is likely to become, detrimental to the public health, after officially so declared by them, to notify in writing, through its officers, the owner, agent, lessee, or tenant thereof, to abate or remove the same, either by filling up, draining, cleansing, purifying, or removing the same, as the case may be. If the owner who shall have been served with such notice shall fail within the time indicated in the notice to comply with such order of the board, or fail to show good cause why he cannot or ought not to comply with such order, for which purpose he shall be entitled to be heard before said board if he so requests it, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not less than ten dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, with an additional fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars imposed for each and every day that the person or persons thus convicted shall, after conviction and due notice thereof, fail or refuse to abate or use due diligence in the work of abating such nuisance; and if such service cannot be made, for the reason that the owner, agent, lessee, or tenant of the property upon which the nuisance may exist cannot be found in the city, of which fact the return upon such notice of the officer serving the same shall be conclusive evidence, then the board shall cause such notice to be published in the newspaper doing the city printing for five consecutive days (Sundays excepted), and if within five days after such service of notice, or after its publication as aforesaid, such nuisance shall not be abated or the order observed by the owner, then the board shall report the same with the proceedings had by them thereon to the city council, and thereupon the city council shall, if two-thirds of all the aldermen elect vote therefor, order said nuisance to be abated, either by filling up, draining, cleansing, purifying, or removing the same, as the case may be, under the supervision of the city engineer. The city council before ordering said nuisance to be abated shall, for the purpose of acquiring the most reliable information practicable of the probable cost of said work, cause an estimate to be made of said probable cost by the city engineer, and said engineer shall also report a full list of all lots or fraction of a lot with the number of blocks upon which such nuisance is situated, and the names of the owners thereof, and such other information as may be required by the city council, and if there be any lot or fractional lot the owner whereof is not known, the same shall be entered on said list as "unknown," and said engineer shall enter in said list opposite each lot or fractional lot the estimated cost of the work to be done on the same; and when said work is ordered by the city council, and shall have been completed, the council shall cause an accurate report of the cost thereof to be made by said engineer, stating the cost of the work done on each lot or fractional lot, and upon the acceptance and approval of said report and list by the council, said amounts shall be imposed, levied, and assessed by the city council on said lots or fractional lots respectively, and collected by the collector, and shall be a first privileged lien upon the property until paid. Said assessment shall bear interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum from the date of assessment until paid. The enforcement of the payment of said assessment shall be regulated, governed, and controlled in the mode and manner provided for the collection of assessments for street improvements contained in section one hundred and twenty-nine: Provided, That for any such assessment and interest as aforesaid, the city council may cause suit to be instituted and recovery had in the name of the city in any court having jurisdiction, and the report of the engineer of the cost of said work, together with the proceedings of the city council making said levy and assessment, or a copy thereof duly certified by the city clerk, shall be full proof and satisfactory evidence for the recovery of judgment for said assessment and interest.

Section 127. The city council shall be invested with full power and authority to grade, fill, raise, repair, pave, or otherwise improve any avenue, street, or alley, or any portion thereof, within the limits of said city, whenever by a vote of two-thirds of the aldermen elected they may deem such improvement for the public interest: Provided, The city pay one-third and the owners of the property two-thirds of the paving thereof, except the intersection of the streets from lot to lot across the streets either way shall be paid by the city alone. Said two-thirds of said costs of the paving to be paid by the owners of the property fronting on said thoroughfares shall be assessed on or against said property and collected by the city whenever such improvement is completed and accepted by the city council: Provided further, That not more than thirty thousand superficial yards of such thoroughfares shall be filled, graded, and paved in any one year: Provided further, That the filling, raising, and grading of streets or alleys upon which the limitation as to paving does not apply the city council shall fix the maximum grade on Broadway at not less than ten feet above mean low tides, so as to drain the city north and south from Broadway.

Sec. 2. That the charter of the city of Galveston be amended by adding thereto Sections 73a, 96a, 131a, and 132a, as follows, to-wit:

Section 73a. To regulate, control, and direct the mode and manner of the laying and construction of street railway tracks, switches, turnouts, turn-tables, and other necessary structures in the streets and alleys, and to compel railway companies to keep the streets between their rails ballasted and graded on a level with their rails; and to keep the space between their rails in all paved streets in perfect repair, or to pay actual cost of the same when done by the city; to compel the street railway companies to build all necessary culverts, and to make all necessary improvements, so as to insure a safe and easy passage for vehicles over said streets, or to pay the actual cost of the same when done by the city; to compel street railways to raise or lower their rails and the road-beds between the same to conform to the grades of the streets, or to pay the actual cost of the same if done by the city; to compel street railway companies to pay the actual cost of filling and grading, or filling, grading and paving the streets between their rails in all cases where the same may be filled and graded, or filled, graded, and paved by the city: Provided, That this section shall not alter or change the mode of improving streets and assessing the cost of the same, as prescribed in Sections 127, 128, 129, and 130 of the city charter. To regulate the speed of street cars; to forfeit rights of way and franchises heretofore or hereafter granted to street railway companies, for non-user or abandonment; and to enforce the provisions of this section by proper ordinances and penalties.

Section 96a. That in all cases where any dealer in merchandise, wares, or goods of any kind subject to ad valorem or occupation taxes, or both, under the provisions of this act, who shall, after the rendition of said goods, wares, or merchandise for taxation, or, after becoming liable for any occupation tax, become bankrupt, or make an assignment of said merchandise, wares, or goods, or sell out the same in bulk, then the collector of taxes shall at once present to the receiver, assignee, or vendee of said dealer, for payment, the amount due for said taxes by said dealer, and in case of failure of said receiver, assignee, or vendee to at once pay the amount of said taxes, the said collector shall levy upon, seize, and sell, from the said merchandise, wares, or goods, enough to satisfy the amount of said taxes; and said taxes until paid shall constitute a prior lien on said merchandise, goods, and wares in default of the payment of said taxes. And whenever any merchandise, wares, or goods shall be levied upon or seized under any writ of attachment or execution upon which the city has a claim for taxes unpaid, the collector shall present for payment, to the officer levying said writ of attachment or execution, the amount due for said taxes on said merchandise, wares, or goods, and in case of failure of said officer or the plaintiff in said writ to at once pay the amount of said taxes, the collector shall proceed to levy upon, seize, and sell enough of said merchandise, wares, or goods to satisfy the amount of said taxes.

Section 131a. The said city shall have the power to appropriate the net proceeds of the bonds authorized under Section 131 of the city charter, for the purpose of paying and redeeming the legal and valid floating debts of the city existing on the first day of January, 1887, not to exceed in amount the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Section 132a. The said city shall have the power to issue bonds to the extent of seven hundred thousand dollars, of the denomination of one hundred dollars or any multiple thereof, payable at forty years after the date of their issue, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. The net proceeds of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars of said bonds shall be used exclusively for the establishment and construction of water works for the supply of fresh water for the city of Galveston and its citizens, and for the establishment of a system of sewerage for said city. The net proceeds of two hundred thousand dollars of said bonds shall be used exclusively for permanent street improvements, not more than forty thousand dollars of which shall be expended in any one year. And the net proceeds of fifty thousand dollars of said bonds shall be used for the construction of a city hall. The indebtedness provided for in this section shall not be governed and limited by the provisions and limitations contained in section one hundred and fifty-two of this charter: Provided, That said bonds shall not be sold for less than par: Provided, That no contract for water works or work done in the construction of water works shall be paid for with the bonds hereby authorized to be issued, but said work shall be paid for with cash arising from the proceeds of the sale of said bonds.

Sec. 3. That whereas the near approach of the end of the present session creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days; therefore said rule is hereby suspended; and it is further enacted that this bill take effect and be in force from and after the first day of July, A. D. 1887.

GALVESTON CITY—AMENDMENTS OF CHARTER.

CHAP. 6.—[S. B. No. 290.] An Act amendatory of and supplementary to an act entitled An Act to incorporate the city of Galveston and to grant a new charter, approved August 2, 1876, and amended April 5, 1881, March 7, 1883, and February 26, 1885, by adding thereto Title No. 13, authorizing the construction of sea-walls and breakwaters, and for that purpose authorizing the exercise of the right of eminent domain, the issuance of bonds, and the levy of a tax, and granting in aid of said works certain rights and privileges in and to the land upon the gulf shore opposite said city from the southwest corner of the city league to the east end of Galveston Island.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That said act be and the same is hereby amended by the addition of a title to be known as Title 13, to read as follows:

Title 13. Article I. Section 177. The city council shall have power to establish, locate, erect, construct, and keep in repair, sea-walls, breakwaters, and other works which said council may deem necessary for the protection of the city from encroachment or overflow by the waters of the gulf or bay; and said council shall have full and continuing power over and about said works to renew, alter, remove, or relocate the same; to license and regulate such additional uses of said works as will not impair their efficiency, or to prohibit the said additional uses; to pass ordinances for protection and preservation of said works from obstructions or injuries of any description; and to impose fines and imprisonment, within the limits prescribed by this charter, for the violation of either or any of the provisions of said ordinances.

Section 178. The city council shall have power to impose additional uses and burdens upon the streets, avenues, alleys, and public grounds of said city for the location and maintenance of sea-walls and breakwaters; also power to take such lands as said council may deem necessary for the establishment, location, and construction and protection of sea-walls, breakwaters, and other like works for the protection of the city from encroachment or overflow by the waters of the gulf or bay, and for said purposes to define the area of land needed, and to take the use of and easement over said lands, but in no case shall the fee to the land be taken except by consent of the owner or owners thereof.

Section 179. In exercising the right of eminent domain under the preceding section the city shall make a just compensation for the property taken, damaged, or destroyed; and whenever the city, its officers or agents, cannot agree with the owners of the property which is to be taken, damaged, or destroyed, as to the amount of compensation, or whenever the owners thereof are under any legal disability or unknown, the amount of compensation shall be ascertained and deposited with the city treasurer in trust for the owner thereof before said city shall have the right to enter upon said land for any purpose other than the making of preliminary surveys.

Section 180. If the parties cannot agree as to the amount of compensation provided for in the preceding section, or if the owners of the land required are under any legal disability or unknown, the city council shall by resolution define the land sought to be condemned for said uses, giving the names and residences of the owners thereof if known, and indicating who if any among said owners are minors or under other disability, and said council shall file a copy of said resolution with the county judge of Galveston County, who shall appoint commissioners as provided by Article 4183 of the Revised Statutes, and notice shall be given to the owners, the compensation shall be assessed, and the condemnation of the land or the use thereof as defined by the city council shall be enforced under and in compliance with the laws of this State regulating the appropriation of lands for railroad purposes in so far as the same are applicable, and the proceedings under said laws and the judgment of the county court thereunder shall vest in the city of Galveston the estate in fee simple or such less estate in the lands as may be taken hereunder.

Article II. Section 181. Before incurring any indebtedness, and before issuing the bonds of the city for the purpose of constructing sea-walls and breakwaters, and securing the right of way therefor, the city council shall by ordinance prescribe the amount of the bonds to be issued and the rate of interest thereon, and provide for an election at which all taxpayers who are qualified voters entitled to vote in said city shall be allowed to vote for or against the proposed taxation for the payment of said bonds and interest thereon.

Section 182. For the purpose of ascertaining whether two-thirds of the taxpayers of said city have voted in favor of the proposed taxation, the mayor, the city assessor, and the city collector are hereby constituted and appointed a board of inquiry. Whenever an election is ordered hereunder said board shall make out from the latest completed assessment roll of said city a list of all taxpayers of said city who are qualified voters therein, and from the date of the notice of said election until five days before the day thereof said board shall sit daily for the purpose of making additions to and corrections of said list, and all taxpayers shall, during said period, have the right to apply to said board and to have their names entered on said list. During the period of five days before said election said board shall make out under certificate and file with the city clerk a complete alphabetical list of all the taxpayers who are qualified voters at said election, and shall furnish printed copies of said list to the officers at each poll at said election: Provided, nevertheless, That the judges of said election shall have the right to examine any person offering to vote whose name is not on said list, and shall receive the vote of such person if satisfied that he is a taxpayer and qualified voter in said city, and a list of the names of all persons thus permitted to vote shall be kept by the officers of the election, and said lists, together with the printed lists furnished by said board, and the returns and poll lists of said election, shall be returned to the city clerk. The ballots at said election shall be printed or written on white paper, without any outward mark or device to distinguish the same, and shall contain the words, in substance, "in favor of the proposed tax," or "against the proposed tax." Said election shall be, except as herein otherwise provided, ordered and conducted in the same manner in all respects as elections for mayor and aldermen of said city, and the returns thereof shall be made in like manner: Provided, nevertheless, That said election may be held upon thirty days notice thereof at any time fixed by the city council: And provided further, That the council may renew the proposition to tax for sea-walls and breakwaters until the limit of the indebtedness herein authorized has been reached.

Section 183. The city council shall, as soon as practicable after said election, meet and canvass the returns thereof, and with the aid of the returns and lists herein provided for, together with such other evidence as may be required, ascertain and record in the minutes of said council the total number of taxpayers of said city who are qualified voters in said city on the day of said election, the number of said taxpayers voting in favor of the proposed taxation, and the number of said taxpayers voting against the same. In the event that two-thirds of the taxpayers of said city who are qualified voters therein shall have voted in favor of the proposed tax, the said city shall thereupon have power to issue its bonds for the construction and maintenance of sea-walls and breakwaters, and for securing the right of way for said works: Provided, however, That the total amount of the bonds issued hereunder shall not exceed eight hundred thousand dollars, and that the interest on said bonds, which shall be payable semi-annually, shall not exceed six per cent per annum. Said bonds shall be issued in denominations of one hundred dollars or multiples thereof, and made payable thirty years after the date of their issuance, and the city council shall by ordinance prescribe the style, form, and requisites of said bonds, the amount of bonds to be issued, the annual rate of interest, and the time and place or places of paying the same; and said council shall make all further provision required for the issuance and disposal of said bonds: Provided, however, That said bonds shall not be issued without the assent of the Galveston Sea-Wall Commission herein created, which assent shall be endorsed on said bonds before issuance, together with the signatures of the president and secretary of said commission: And further provided, That said bonds shall not be sold below their par or face value.

Section 184. Whenever bonds are issued under the preceding section the city council shall, without regard to the general limitation of taxes prescribed by this charter, annually levy, assess, and collect, in the mode prescribed by law for other municipal taxes, a tax on all the real estate and personal property in the city not exempt from taxation by the Constitution, sufficient to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund of not less than two per cent of the principal of all of said bonds which are outstanding or which are to be issued during the year, and all taxes collected by virtue hereof shall be held in trust by the city as a special and inviolable fund for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds: Provided, however, That with the advice and consent of the Galveston Sea Wall Commission herein created, any surplus over and above the amount required to meet the annual interest on said bonds may be invested for the benefit of the sinking fund; first, in the bonds issued hereunder, which may be offered for sale by a written proposal filed with the city clerk; secondly, if there be no unaccepted offer or offers to sell said bonds on file with said clerk, in approved securities of this State, or the counties thereof, or of the United States. But no bonds or securities shall ever be bought or paid for at a greater rate than their face or par value, with accrued interest.

Article III. Section 185. There shall be and is hereby created a commission composed of three members, to be styled the Galveston Sea-Wall Commission. If the votes of two-thirds of the taxpayers of said city shall be in favor of the levy of said tax, the Governor of the State shall thereupon appoint the members of said commission, one of whom shall be selected from the aldermen of the city, and all of the members shall be citizens of the city and taxpayers therein. The Governor shall also fill all vacancies in said commission, observing the requirements last above imposed as to original appointments, and he shall have full power to remove from office any of said commissioners. The members of said commission shall not directly or indirectly, as individuals or as members of any company or corporation, become interested in any contract growing out of the construction of the works, or the sale or the purchase of bonds herein authorized, and each member shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, make oath, in the presence of the city council, in form as follows: I, _____, to solemnly swear that I am not interested in any contract growing out of the construction of sea-walls, breakwaters, or other like works, or in the sale or purchase of bonds connected with said works, and that I will well and truly discharge my duty as a member of the Galveston Sea-Wall Commission. Said commissioners shall, unless sooner removed, hold their office for a term of two years, corresponding to the term of the mayor and aldermen, and until their successors are appointed and qualified, and shall each receive a salary of not less than one thousand dollars per annum. Said commission shall elect a presiding officer, and may employ a secretary and a consulting engineer, at salaries to be fixed by the city council. Said commission shall be and is hereby charged with the duty of ascertaining and adopting the plans and specifications for the works best adapted to secure the city from overflow, and with the awarding of contracts for the construction of the whole or any part of said works, and the inspection and acceptance and rejection of said works and the material therein if the same are constructed under contract, and with the purchase of material and employment of labor if said commission shall deem it expedient to construct said works or any part thereof under its immediate supervision. It shall audit and approve all bills and claims of every description payable from the funds raised under this act, and payments out of said fund shall be made by the city treasurer on drafts by the president of said commission, countersigned by the secretary thereof, accompanying the bills and claims so approved. Said commission shall also be charged with the duty of negotiating the right of way for said works, if necessary, and making contracts therefor, and with the sale of the bonds issued hereunder, which shall be turned over to said commission for delivery, upon a requisition stating fully the proposed disposition of said bonds.

Article IV. Section 186. To better enable the city to secure the protection herein provided for, and to aid in the construction of said works, the right to the use and control of that certain strip or tract of land or sea bottom fifteen hundred yards in width lying along the gulf shore south of and contiguous to the line of mean low tide, and extending from the south jetty at the east end of Galveston Island to the prolongation of the western line of the Menard or city league, shall be and is hereby granted to said city, together with the right to reclaim land along the gulf shore within said limits: Provided, nevertheless, That the rights, uses, and powers herein granted shall be enjoyed, used, and exercised without interfering permanently with the rights of the public to the sea shore or with the maintenance of a beach from ordinary high tide to low water.

Section 187. All funds, revenues, and moneys derived from the sale of the bonds herein authorized, the sale or rent of reclaimed or other lands acquired under this act, and from the additional uses of said works as herein authorized, shall be deposited with the city treasurer, and said funds, revenues, and moneys, together with all lands acquired under this act, shall be held in trust by the city exclusively for the construction and maintenance of sea-walls and breakwaters and for the purchase of the right of way therefor: Provided however, That said funds, revenues, and moneys, or part thereof, may be applied if necessary to the payment of the interest or to the sinking fund of the bonds issued for constructing said works.

Sec. 2. Whereas the necessity for the speedy construction of the protection works herein authorized creates an emergency calling for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and for the immediate operation of this act, said rule shall be and is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

AUTHORIZING WILLIAM M. WILSON TO SUE THE STATE.

CHAP. 7.—[S. S. B. No. 206.] An Act to authorize William M. Wilson to sue the State of Texas in the District Court of Travis County, Texas, to determine whether or not the State of Texas is indebted to him in any sum on account of the building and construction of the State Penitentiary at Ruak.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That William M. Wilson be and is hereby authorized to sue the State of Texas in the District Court of Travis County, Texas, to determine whether or not the State of Texas is indebted to said Wilson on account of the building and construction of the State penitentiary at Rusk, Texas, and to fix the amount of such indebtedness, if any.

Sec. 2. That the sum of nine thousand dollars, or so much thereof as is necessary be and the same is hereby appropriated to pay off and satisfy any judgment that may be rendered against the State by virtue of this suit: Provided, That the State shall in no event be required to pay any court cost or costs of said suit, but the same shall be paid by said Wilson; and he shall be required to give the necessary cost bond as is required in other civil actions: And provided further, Either party shall have the right of appeal to the Supreme Court of the State.

Sec. 3. Nothing herein shall be construed as an admission on the part of the State that said Wilson has any cause of action whatever against it, nor that the State is indebted to said Wilson in any sum whatsoever.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

FOR RELIEF OF HEIRS OF ALEXANDER FARMER.

CHAP. 8.—[H. B. No. 463.] An Act for the relief of the heirs of Alexander Farmer, deceased.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Commissioner of the General Land Office be and he is hereby authorized, empowered, and required to issue to the heirs of Alexander Farmer, deceased, the following certificates, to-wit: One special headright certificate for two-thirds of a league and a full labor of land; one donation certificate for six hundred and forty acres; one bounty certificate for six hundred and eighty acres.

Sec. 2. Said certificates may be located upon any of the vacant lands belonging to the State of Texas not heretofore appropriated or reserved from location: Provided, That if said certificates cannot be located on any public land, the owners thereof shall have no claim against the State.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the end of the present session of the Legislature rendering it improbable that this bill will pass in the regular course of legislation, creates an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is so enacted.

Approved, April 2, 1887.

FOR RELIEF OF W. T. PEERY, ETC.

CHAP. 9.—[H. B. No. 607.] An Act for the relief of W. T. Peery, and to relinquish the title of the State of Texas to certain lands to the said Peery under a judgment obtained in the District Court of Cooke County on the 9th day of December, 1867, against J. M. and E. C. Peery.

Whereas certain lands of Wm. Peery, deceased, were supposed to be escheated to the State of Texas about the year 1861, in Cooke County, Texas; and whereas said lands were sold to J. M. and E. C. Peery and judgment obtained against said vendees, and an order enforcing the vendors lien of the State on said lands; and whereas the heir of the said Wm. Peery appeared and received the purchase money for said land, after proving up his heirship to the satisfaction of the county court, on the 27th day of April, 1869; and whereas the said judgment of foreclosure in favor of the State of Texas still remains unsatisfied and is a cloud upon the title to said land, to-wit, the Wm. R. Middleton survey of three hundred and twenty acres, and the James Rutledge survey of three hundred and twenty acres, situated in Cooke County, Texas; and whereas the State of Texas has by reason of the premises aforesaid no right to or interest in said judgment or said land: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the State of Texas hereby relinquishes all claim to or interest in said judgment or the land aforesaid to the said W. T. Peery, his heirs and assigns.

Sec. 2. Whereas the near approach of the close of the session of the Legislature and the injury likely to result to the true owner of said land creates an imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and that the bill be passed, and it is so enacted.

Approved, April 4, 1887.

FOR RELIEF OF S. S. RANDALL, ET AL.

CHAP. 10.—[H. B. No. 608.] An Act for the relief of S. S. Randall, William Walker, J. W. Gaines, W. W. Parr, John W. Stevens, L. O. Starkie, S. W. Bettjohn, O. B. Robinson, E. J. Hughes, J. S. Storkigd, and the relief of such parties by whom and through whom they hold.

Whereas the State of Texas has instituted [suit] to escheat a certain tract of land containing fourteen hundred and seventy-nine acres, situated on the Leon, in Comanche County, Texas, granted to Henry Hubble as assignee of E. H. Windfield; and whereas the said parties hold the said land by purchase, and have occupied the same for a great number of years, paying taxes thereon, and have given notice of intention to apply for legislative relief, as provided by Section 57, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all rights of the State by reason of the escheat of said land, or proceedings to escheat, be and the same are hereby relinquished to the said parties and the parties under and from whom the said parties hold, and that the Attorney-General of the State be instructed to cause the district attorney to dismiss the suit by the State in the District Court of Comanche County brought to escheat said lands.

Sec. 2. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prejudice the rights of Thomas Frazier, his heirs or assigns, or any other person from or under whom the said parties hold, and the said parties are hereby quieted in their title and possession in and to said lands, in so far as any adverse right, title, or claim of the State is concerned.

Sec. 3. Whereas the said District Court of Comanche County is soon to convene, therefore an imperative public necessity and emergency exist for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the said rule is therefore suspended, and this act takes effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 68 yeas, 9 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 24 yeas.]

Approved, April 4, 1887.

CHAP. 11.—[S. B. No. 329.] An Act for the relief of J. C. Patton.

Whereas J. C. Patton is the legal owner of nineteen alternate certificates for land, of three hundred and twenty acres each, viz., Certificates Nos. 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 49, 50, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 59, 61, 83, 85, 87, and 88, issued March 20, A. D. 1873, by the Commissioner of the General Land Office of the State of Texas to the Sulphur Fork Iron Works Company a company duly chartered by the laws of Texas;

And whereas said nineteen certificates became in due course of trade, and for a valuable consideration, the lawful property of the said J. C. Patton, and were by him placed in the hands of the surveyor of Jack Land District for location upon the unappropriated public domain of Texas;

And whereas by and through the carelessness and neglect of said district surveyor, the said certificates were, without the knowledge and consent of said Patton, located, or attempted to be located, and surveyed upon lands already appropriated, and which locations and surveys were not ratified and confirmed by patents;

And whereas information of the failure of said surveyor to properly locate said certificates, and of the loss consequent thereon, was not brought to the knowledge of said Patton until application was made to the Commissioner of the General Land Office for patents on said locations and surveys, and which knowledge was obtained after said certificates had become invalid by operation of law;

And whereas by reason of the acts and facts above recited and without any fault of his own, the said J. C. Patton has suffered the loss of the entire value of the said nineteen certificates for land, of three hundred and twenty acres each: Now, therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Commissioner of the General Land Office be authorized and required to issue to the said J. C. Patton, or his legal heirs and representatives, nineteen alternate certificates for land, of three hundred and twenty acres each, to be located and surveyed upon any of the public domain of Texas not otherwise appropriated or reserved from location. Said location to be made in accordance with the laws now in force regulating the location of alternate certificates: Provided That if no unappropriated public domain is found upon which to locate said certificates, then and in that event the State is released from any further liability or obligation by reason of the issuance of the same, and this proviso shall be embodied in the face of each certificate issued hereunder: Provided further, No certificate shall be issued under the provisions of this act until all of the old certificates mentioned in the preamble of this act are returned to the General Land Office and have been marked across their face, "Cancelled," by the Commissioner.

Section 2. This law shall be in force and take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the Governor for his approval on the second day of April, A. D. 1887, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. M. Moore, Secretary of State.]

FOR RELIEF OF HEIRS OF JAMES L. HOLMES.

CHAP. 12.—[H. B. No. 283.] An Act to require the Commissioner of the General Land Office to issue to the heirs of James L. Holmes duplicate bounty warrant for 1920 acres of land.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Commissioner of the General Land Office be and he is hereby required to issue to the heirs of James L. Holmes a duplicate bounty warrant for 1920 acres of land, in lieu of one issued to said Holmes in accordance with law, and which warrant was lost: Provided, The State shall not be any further responsible either in land or money on said claims.

Sec. 2. Whereas the near approach of the close of the present session renders it improbable that this bill will pass in the regular order of business, therefore an imperative public necessity and emergency exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

[Note.—the foregoing act was presented to the Governor for his approval on the first day of April, A. D. 1887, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the Constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. M. Moore, Secretary of State.]

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
Department of State.

I, J. M. Moore, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, certify that the foregoing special laws, passed at the regular session of the Twentieth Legislature, have been carefully examined and compared with the original enrolled bills now on file in this department, and are true copies of said originals.

I further certify that the Twentieth Legislature convened in the City of Austin January 11, A. D. 1887, and adjourned April 4, A. D. 1887.

In testimony whereof I have subscribed my name, and hereto affixed
[Seal.] the seal of the State of Texas, in the City of Austin, April 14, 1887.

GENERAL LAWS OF TEXAS.

TWENTIETH LEGISLATURE, 1888.

PRIVATE CORPORATIONS.

Sec.

1. Amends Art. 566, Chap. 2, Title XX, Revised Statutes, as amended by the act of March 23, 1887, declaring for what purposes charters may be granted.

Sec.

2. Emergency Clause.

CHAP. 1.—[H. B. No. 16.] An Act to amend Article 566, Chapter 2, Title XX, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by the Twentieth Legislature, approved March 23, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 566, of Chapter 2, Title XX, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as amended by the Twentieth Legislature, approved March 23, 1887, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 566. The purposes for which private corporations may be formed are—

1. The support of public worship.
2. The support of any benevolent, charitable, educational, or missionary undertaking.
3. The support of any literary undertaking, the maintenance of a library, or the promotion of painting, music, or other fine arts.
4. The encouragement of agriculture and horticulture by associations for the maintenance of public fairs and exhibitions of stock and farm products.
5. The maintenance of a public or private cemetery.
6. The construction and maintenance of any species of road except a railroad and a bridge in connection therewith.
7. The construction and maintenance of a bridge.
8. The construction and maintenance of a telegraph or telephone line.
9. The establishment and maintenance of a ferry.
10. The establishment and maintenance of a line of stages.
11. The building and navigation of steamboats, and the carriage of persons and property thereon.
12. The supply of water to the public.
13. The manufacture and supply of gas, or of the supply of light or heat to the public by any means.
14. The transaction of any manufacturing or mining business.
15. The transaction of a printing or publishing business, and in connection therewith the sale of goods, wares, and merchandise of a stationery and blank book manufacturing business.
16. The establishment and maintenance of a hotel.
17. The erection of buildings and the accumulation and loan of funds for the purchase of real property in cities, towns, and villages.
18. The transportation of goods, wares, and merchandise, or any valuable thing.
19. The promotion of immigration.

20. The construction and maintenance of sewers.
21. The construction and maintenance of a street railway.
22. The erection and maintenance of market houses and market places.
23. The construction and maintenance of canals for the purposes of irrigation, navigation, or manufacture.
24. The purchase and sale of goods, wares, and merchandise, and agricultural and farm products. The number of persons incorporating for such purposes shall in no instance be less than ten, nor shall any person hold or own more than five hundred dollars of such stock; and any person owning or holding more than five hundred dollars of such stock shall be liable for all the debts of such corporation.
25. The construction of harbors and canals on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico.
26. The growing, purchasing, and selling seeds, plants, trees, etc., for agricultural, horticultural, and ornamental purposes.
27. The construction and maintenance of mills and gins.
28. The accumulation and loan of money; but this subdivision shall not permit incorporations with banking or discounting privileges.
29. The construction and maintenance of stock yards and pens.
30. The construction and maintenance of establishments for slaughtering, refrigerating, canning, curing, and packing meat.
31. The construction and maintenance of establishments for the preserving and canning of fruits, vegetables, and fish.

Sec. 2. Whereas the present incorporation act restricts the amount of capital stock in the formation of corporation and co-operative associations to be organized under clause 24 of the first section of the act hereby amended to an extent injurious to public interest; and whereas it is of great public importance and necessity that corporations and co-operative associations, which tend to the rapid development of the State with greater capital stock than is now permitted by law, may be immediately organized; wherefore an emergency and an imperative public necessity exist, demanding that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three separate days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

APPEALS AND WRITS OF ERROR.

Sec.

1. Amends Article 1034, Revised Statutes, prescribing when transcript must be filed, etc.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 2.—[S. B. No. 50.] An Act to amend Article 1034 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, relating to appeals and writs of error from the District and County Courts to the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals of the State.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1034 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, relating to appeals and writs of error from the District and County Court to the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals of the State, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1034. When an appeal from any final judgment of a district or county court has been taken and an appeal bond has been filed, or when an appeal has been taken in cases where no appeal bond is required, or when a citation has been served on a petition for a writ of error, it shall be the duty of the appellant or plaintiff in error to file a transcript of record with the clerk of the Supreme Court or Court of Appeals, at the place where such appeal or writ of error is returnable, on or before the first day of the term to which the same is so returnable that is held next succeeding the term when the appeal was perfected or the citation for writ of error was served, or on or before the first day in such term designated for the trial of causes from the county in which such appeal or writ of error was taken: Provided, however, That if such appeal was perfected or such citation in error was served less than twenty days before the said first day of the term next succeeding the taking thereof, or less than twenty days before the first day of the term in said term designated for the trial of causes brought from the county in which such appeal or writ of error was taken, then such transcript shall be filed at the next succeeding term thereafter in the same manner: And provided also, That where a party is unable to file such transcript in the time limited by this article, from any unavoidable cause, the court shall, upon satisfactory proof thereof, permit such transcript to be filed at a later period: And provided further, That whenever any civil cause in which the State of Texas is a party has been or may be tried during a term of the District Court while the Supreme Court is in session, the power of the District Court to revise or set aside its judgment shall terminate within ten days after the rendition of any judgment therein which assumes to finally dispose of said cause, unless there has been or shall be a new trial awarded within that period, and the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court then sitting shall immediately attach, to affirm, or reverse, or reverse and render said judgment, on the filing by either party of the transcript of the proceedings in said cause in the Supreme Court, five days' notice of the intention to file such transcript being first given to the adverse party or to his counsel, and bond being given when the same is required.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session, and the fact that there are certain suits of great interest to the people of Texas which ought to be at once determined by the Supreme Court of the State and which can not now be heard by the said court, creates an emergency and a public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect on and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the Senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays; and passed the House by a vote of 80 yeas.]

CHAP. 3.—[H. B. No. 37.] An Act to amend Title 95, Chapter 2, of the Revised Civil Statutes, by adding thereto Article 4674a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Title 95, Chapter 2, of the Revised Civil Statutes, be amended by adding thereto Article 4674a, as follows:

Article 4674a. It shall be the duty of the assessor of taxes to list on his rolls for taxation all property temporarily removed from the State on or before the first day of January of each year, and all property removed from the State for the purpose of evading taxation prior to January first of each year shall be liable to taxation at any time after the same shall have been returned to the State before the assessor has completed his rolls, and all notes or bonds executed for money loaned in the State and sent out of the State before the first of January shall be subject to assessment for each of the years during which the notes and bonds remain unpaid: Provided, That said property so returned and brought into the State after the first day of January shall not be the proceeds of any moneys or property already assessed for said year.

Sec. 2. Whereas the early adjournment of this session renders it impossible to read this bill on three several days, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity requires that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 4.—[S. B No. 36.] An Act to amend Title 95, Chapter 4, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Article 4748a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Title 95, Chapter 4, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Article 4748a, as follows:

Article 4748a. In all cases where a tax payer makes an assignment of his property for the payment of his debts, or where his property is levied upon by creditors, by writs of attachment or otherwise, or where the estate of a decedent is or becomes insolvent and the taxes assessed against such person or party or against any of his estate remain unpaid in part or in whole, the amount of such unpaid taxes shall be a first lien upon all such property; Provided, That when taxes are due by an estate of a deceased person the lien herein provided for shall be subject to the allowances to widows and minors, funeral expenses, and expenses of last sickness; and such unpaid taxes shall be paid by the assignee, when said property has been assigned, by the sheriff out of the proceeds of sales, in case such property has been seized under attachment, or other writ, and by the administrator or other legal representative of decedents, and if said taxes shall not be paid all said property may be levied on by the tax collector and sold for such taxes, in whomever's hands it may be found.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of this session rendering it improbable that this bill can be considered on three several days creates an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

Approved, May 14, 1888.

CHAP. 5.—[S. B. No. 41.] An Act to amend Article 417, Chapter 4, Title 13, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

Whereas, for purposes of preserving the new State Capitol, it becomes necessary to better define the offenses set out in the aforesaid act: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 417, Chapter 4, Title 13, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, which took effect July 24, A. D. 1879, be amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 2. Article 417. If any person shall willfully injure or deface any public building or the furniture therein in this State, he shall be fined not less than five nor more than five hundred dollars. The word deface in this act shall be held to apply to writing, carving, or scratching on the walls or plastering or furniture of said building, or staining the same with paint or any other article which will produce a discoloration of the same.

Sec. 3. Whereas, the preservation of the State Capitol Building, together with other public buildings, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists requiring the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 6.—[S. B. No. 27.] An Act to amend Section 71, of Chapter 132, of an act passed at the regular session of the Twentieth Legislature, approved April 2, A. D. 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 71, Chapter 132, [of] the laws passed at Regular Session of the Twentieth Legislature, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 71. The following counties shall be and the same are exempted from the district system provided for in this act, to wit: Anderson, Angelina, Aransas, Bastrop, Bosque, Bowie, Brazoria, Burleson, Calhoun, Callahan, Cameron, Camp, Cass, Chambers, Concho, Delta, De Witt, Duval, El Paso, Erath, Falls, Fannin, Fayette, Fort Bend, Franklin, Freestone, Gillespie, Goliad, Gonzales, Gregg, Grimes, Guadalupe, Hardin, Hays, Henderson, Hidalgo, Hopkins, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Karnes, La Salle, Lee, Lampasas, Liberty, Limestone, Medina, Marion, Mason, Matagorda, McMullen, Milam, Montgomery, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Orange, Panola, Pecos, Polk, Presidio, Rains, Reeves, Red River, Refugio, Robertson, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shelby, Smith, Somervell, Starr, Titus, Tom Green, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Van Zandt, Victoria, Waller, Washington, Webb, Wheeler, Wharton, and Zapata.

Sec. 2. The fact that it is necessary that this act should go into effect within less than ninety days after the adjournment of this session of the Legislature, in order that the benefits hereof may be immediately enjoyed by the counties affected thereby, and the fact that the near approach of the close of this session of the Legislature renders it improbable that this bill could be read and considered on three several days, create an emergency, and imperative public necessity exists demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

PUBLIC FREE SCHOOLS.

Sec.

1. Requires treasurers of counties and cities to report disbursements, etc., to county commissioners.
2. County treasurer to transmit certified copy of report to Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Sec.

3. Prescribes penalty for failing to transmit report.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 7.—[H. B. No. 51.] An Act to require county treasurers and treasurers of the school board of each city or town having exclusive control of its schools to make reports of the disbursements of the State and county school fund and to prescribe a penalty for failure to do so.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That it shall be the duty of the county treasurer of each county and the city treasurer or treasurer of the school board of each city or town having exclusive control of its schools to report the disbursement of the school fund, State and county, to the commissioners court of his county. Said report shall be made at the first regular term of the commissioners court after the thirty-first of August of each year or the end of the school year, and shall consist of a complete exhibit of all moneys received and paid out by him, to whom paid, upon what voucher, and what moneys if any remain in his hands.

Sec. 2. When such report shall have been examined and approved by the commissioners court it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to immediately transmit a copy of such report, including a statement of the status of the permanent county school fund, certified to by the county clerk, to the Superintendent of Public Instruction at Austin.

Sec. 3. Any county or city treasurer failing to make and transmit said report and certified copy or either shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the close of this session of the Legislature and the importance of passing some law requiring treasurers of the school fund to make an exhibit of its proper disbursements creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

PUBLIC FREE SCHOOLS.

Sec.

1. Appropriates $254,000 for payment of outstanding school warrants.

Sec.

2. Said appropriation declared to be a loan. Comptroller's duties in reference thereto.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 8.—[H. B. No. 48.] An Act to provide for the speedy payment of the outstanding warrants held by the several counties against the available public free school fund.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Comptroller is hereby authorized to transfer the sum of two hundred and fifty-four thousand dollars from the general revenue fund to the available public free school fund, to be used in liquidation of the outstanding warrants held by the several counties against said available public free school fund for the scholastic year ending August 31, 1888.

Sec. 2. Should the amount herein set apart exceed the sum necessary to liquidate the said outstanding warrants, the Comptroller shall, after paying such warrants, transfer such excess back to the general revenue fund. The sum used by the Comptroller in paying said warrants shall be considered a loan to the available public free school fund, and shall be returned to the general revenue fund without interest when the available free school fund shall justify it, not later than January 1, 1895.

Sec. 3. Whereas there is a large deficiency in the available public school fund, which creates an emergency and imperative public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is therefore suspended, and this act shall be in force and effect from and after its passage.

Approved, May 11, 1888.

SINKING FUND.

Sec.

1. $250,000 appropriated for payment of debts maturing in 1890 and 1891 and loaned to the school fund.

Sec.

2. Comptroller's duties, etc., in reference thereto.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 9.—[H. B. No. 61.] An Act to create a sinking fund for the payment of bonds of the State of Texas held by individuals maturing in 1890 and 1891, and to provide for its use as a loan to the available school fund until said bonds mature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby set aside, out of the surplus revenue now in the State treasury, as a sinking fund for the purpose of paying off such portion of the bonded indebtedness of the State of Texas maturing in 1890 and 1891 as is held by individuals, and that said sinking fund so created be loaned to the available school fund for the purpose of supplying any deficiency that may exist in said fund without interest until the maturity of said bonds in 1890 and 1891.

Sec. 2. The Comptroller of Public Accounts is hereby authorized to place to the credit of the available school fund the amount hereby set aside as a sinking fund, and it shall be his duty to see that provision is made for its return through the proper channels prior to the maturity of the State bonds for the payment of which said sinking fund is created. It shall be the duty of the Board of Education to set apart, out of the available school fund for the years 1890 and 1891, before the apportionment for said years shall be made, an amount sufficient to pay off said bonds as they fall due. And the Comptroller is directed to use said money in payment of said bonds as herein provided.

Sec. 3. The fact that a deficiency now exists in the available school fund, causing serious embarrassment to school teachers throughout the State, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, therefore said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

INJUNCTIONS.

Sec.

1. Providing for remedy by injunction for violation of penal and revenue laws.

Sec.

2. This remedy shall be cumulative.

(On this subject also Chaps. 3, 4, 11, and 12.)

CHAP. 10.—[S. B. No. 29.] An Act to confer the right of injunction upon the State to prevent breach of the revenue and penal laws.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the full right, power, and remedy of injunction may be resorted to and invoked by the State at the instance of the county or district attorney or Attorney-General, to prevent, prohibit, or restrain the violation of any revenue or penal law of this State.

Sec. 2. That the right and remedy hereby provided shall be cumulative of other laws now in force in the State.

Approved, May 12, 1888.

TAXATION.

Sec.

1. Authorizes suit against delinquent tax payers.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

(On this subject also Chaps. 3, 4, 10, and 12.)

CHAP. 11.—[H. B. No. 17.] An Act to authorize district and county attorneys to bring suit for the collection of taxes on unrendered personal property.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter it shall be the duty of the district or county attorney of the respective counties of this State, by order of the commissioners court, to institute suit in the name of the State for the recovery of all money due the State and county as taxes due and unpaid on unrendered personal property; and in all suits where judgments are obtained under this act the person owning the property on which there are taxes due the State and county shall be liable for all costs: Provided, Such suits may be brought for all taxes so due and unpaid for which such delinquent tax payer may be in arrears for and since the year 1886: And provided further. The State and county shall be exempt from liability for any costs growing out of such action: Provided, All suits brought under this act for the recovery of taxes due on personal property shall be brought against the person or persons who owned the property at the time such property should have been listed or assessed for taxation: Provided, That no suit shall be brought until after demand is made by the collector in person for taxes due: And provided further, That no suit shall be brought for an amount less than twenty-five dollars.

Sec. 2. Whereas the early adjournment of this session renders it impossible that this bill can be read on three several days, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity demands that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

TAXATION.

Sec.

1. Reduces rate of ad valorem tax for 1888 to ten cents and thereafter at twenty cents on the hundred dollars.

Sec.

2. Saving clause.
3. Emergency clause.

(On this subject also Chaps. 3, 4, 10, and 11.)

CHAP. 12.—[H. B. No. 1.] An Act to provide for the levy and collection of an ad valorem State tax for general revenue purposes for the year 1888 of ten cents on the hundred dollars, and of an annual ad valorem State tax for general revenue purposes for every year thereafter of twenty cents on the hundred dollars.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there shall be levied and collected for the year 1888 an ad valorem tax of ten cents on the hundred dollars for general revenue purposes, and for every year thereafter an annual ad valorem tax of twenty cents on the hundred dollars, of the cash value thereof estimated in lawful currency of the United States, on all real property situated and on all movable property owned in the State on the first day of January in each and every year, and on all property sent out of the State prior to the first day of January for the purpose of avoiding the payment of taxes thereon and afterwards returned to the State, except so much thereof as may be exempted by the Constitution and laws of the State or of the United States, which cash value shall be estimated in the manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. Nothing in this act shall be construed as in any manner repealing or affecting the provisions of an act known as Chapter 111 of the Acts passed at the regular session of the Nineteenth Legislature of the State of Texas, approved March 31, 1885, except so much of section one thereof as relates to the levy and collection of an annual State ad valorem tax for general revenue purposes.

Sec. 3. Whereas there is now a large surplus in the State treasury to the credit of the general revenue account, which will authorize a reduction of the State general revenue tax for the year 1888 and subsequent years, and thereby relieve the tax payers from the payment of an unnecessary tax to support the State government for the year 1888; and whereas the early adjournment of the session of the Legislature renders it impossible that this bill can be read on three several days; therefore, for the reasons and purposes aforesaid, an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists requiring that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and such rule is suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

GEOLOGICAL AND MINERALOGICAL SURVEY.

Sec.

1. Provides that the Commissioner of Agriculture, etc., shall cause geological and mineralogical survey to be made of State.
2. Defines conditions upon which assays and analyses are to be made, etc.
3. Provides for preservation of records, etc., by the Commissioner, and reports to the Governor.

Sec.

4. The Commissioner to prescribe reasonable fees for assays, etc.
5. Prohibits under penalty the Commissioner or his employees from becoming interested in mines.
6. $15,000 appropriated for the purposes of this act.
7. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 13.—[S. H. Bs. Nos. 5, 6, and 11.] An Act to authorize the Commissioner of Agriculture, Insurance, Statistics, and History to have a geological and mineralogical survey made of the State of Texas, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That it shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Agriculture, Insurance, Statistics, and History to have a geological and mineralogical survey made of the State of Texas, and for that purpose he shall employ such a number of competent persons skilled in the science of geology and mineralogy as shall be necessary to properly and expeditiously execute said work. The persons so employed shall be under the supervision and control of the said Commissioner, and shall receive such compensation as the Commissioner may direct, not to exceed two thousand dollars per year. The Commissioner shall provide all necessary chemical apparatus, books, maps, and stationery to carry out the provisions of this act, and may employ such additional clerks as shall be requisite to a proper execution of this act, which clerks shall receive such compensation as he may deem proper, not to exceed nine hundred dollars each per year.

Sec. 2. The Commissioner shall cause to be made assays, analyses, or other scientific examination of all beds or deposits of ores, coals, clays, marls, and other mineral substances situated in this State as shall be requisite to a correct knowledge of the extent and value thereof. He shall also in all proper cases upon application require like examinations, assays, or analyses to be made of deposits, mines, and lands situated in this State, and shall furnish proper certificates of the result of such examination, assay, or analysis. He shall also upon request of any person require assays or analyses to be made of any specimen of soil or mineral deposit in this State, and shall also furnish to the party requesting it a certificate thereof: Provided, That in all cases when assays or analyses are made upon request of any person the party making the request shall be required by the Commissioner to make affidavit that the specimen offered was found upon the land of the party making the request, or that said request is made at the instance or with the full knowledge and consent of the owner of the land upon which said specimen was found.

Sec. 3. The Commissioner shall preserve a record of this department of his office, and the information therein collected and preserved shall be reported to the Governor as in case of other matters relating to his office. He shall also report to the Governor before each session of succeeding Legislatures, for information of the Governor and such Legislatures, all money expended under this act, and how and for what purpose such money was expended. He shall also report the amounts of money received from persons, corporations, syndicates for services rendered specifying the amount so received. He shall also preserve specimens of minerals, coals, stones, and other natural substances useful in agricultural, manufacturing, or the mechanical arts, and shall from time to time as far as practicable add specimens of organic remains and other objects of natural history peculiar to this State.

Sec. 4. The Commissioner shall prescribe a schedule of reasonable fees to be charged and collected from all persons having scientific examinations, assays, or chemical analyses made, and for certificates furnished under this act, which fees shall when collected be paid into the State treasury to the credit of the general revenue fund.

Sec. 5. It shall be unlawful for the Commissioner of Agriculture, Insurance, Statistics, and History, or any person employed by him or connected with his office, to purchase all or any part of any mine or mineral lands, or be in any manner interested in such purchase, during the term of his office or employment. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be punished by fine not less than one thousand dollars, and shall be removed from his office, or employment, as the case may be.

Sec. 6. That the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act: Provided, That no expense in excess of the amount hereby appropriated shall be incurred under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 7. The great necessity for gathering and collecting useful and valuable information concerning the mineral and other natural resources of the State, and the present lack of means to ascertain the same, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists requiring that the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and said rule is so suspended, and it is enacted that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

NORTH TEXAS INSANE ASYLUM.

Sec.

1. Provides for construction of wings to said asylum.
2. Character and capacity of said wings.
3. To be contracted for by Governor, Comptroller, and Treasurer.

Sec.

4. Duties of Superintendent.
5. $150,000 appropriated for the purposes of this bill.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 14.—[S. B. No. 7.] An Act to erect and furnish additions to the North Texas Insane Asylum, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there shall be erected upon the grounds belonging to the North Texas Insane Asylum at Terrell, Texas, an addition to said asylum, said addition to consist of two wings to be added to the east and west ends of said asylum respectively, which said wings shall be substantial duplicates of the east and west sections of said asylum building.

Sec. 2. Said wings shall be of sufficient capacity to accommodate at least four hundred patients, and shall be provided with modern improvements for furnishing water, heat, light, ventilation, and sewerage.

Sec. 3. The Governor, Comptroller, and Treasurer shall immediately after the passage of this act contract for the construction of said wings, according to such specifications as they may adopt, with the lowest responsible bidder, who shall give a good and sufficient bond for the completion of the buildings according to contract.

Sec. 4. That the Superintendent of said asylum and a building supervisor, who shall be employed by the Governor, shall supervise the construction of the said additions to said asylum provided for in this act.

Sec. 5. That there shall be appropriated, out of any funds now in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the construction of said wings and purchasing the necessary furnishings therefor: Provided, That such wings shall be of such a character that same may be completed and amply furnished and equipped for the comfort of the inmates out of the appropriation herein made.

Sec. 6. Whereas there are now a large number of insane persons throughout the State who are in need of immediate treatment, and whose condition is rapidly growing worse from a lack of such treatment, therefore an emergency exists that this law shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

FURNISHING NEW CAPITOL.

Sec.

1. Creates and authorizes Governor to appoint Capitol Furnishing Board.
2. Prescribes oath of said board and expert.
3. Board to appoint expert.
4. Provides for advertising for sealed bids, etc.
5. Deposit by bidders as guarantee of good faith.
6. Opening of bids by board, award, etc.
7. Bond of contractor.

Sec.

8. Compensation of board and expert.
9. A majority of the board may act.
10. Report by the board to the Legislature.
11. $140,000 appropriated for purposes of this bill.
12. Provides manner of payment of vouchers of board.
13. Empowers the Governor to dismiss any or all of board.
14. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 15.—[H. B. No. 91.] An Act to provide for a board to contract for, direct, and supervise the furnishing of the new Capitol building, the grading, improving, and fencing the Capitol grounds, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Governor is hereby authorized to appoint three competent resident citizens of the State of Texas to be known as the Capitol Furnishing Board, whose duty it shall be to contract for, direct, and supervise the furnishing of the new capitol building, and to contract for the fencing, grading, and improving of the new capitol grounds.

Sec. 2. Before said board and the expert hereinafter mentioned can enter upon the discharge of their duties each one shall subscribe to the following oath: "I (A. B.) do solemnly swear that I will not directly or indirectly be interested or concerned with any contractor or contractors for the furnishing of said capitol building or any portion thereof, or in the proceeds or profits growing out of the same, or in any work or labor done thereon, or material furnished or any portion thereof, so help me God."

And any one of said board offending against the true intent and meaning of this oath shall upon indictment and conviction suffer all the pains and penalties of perjury as defined and imposed in this State.

Sec. 3. Said board shall have power to appoint an expert, who shall assist them in examining the drawings, plans, and specifications for furnishing said capitol building. Said specifications shall conform to the specifications adopted by the United States government in regard to construction, material and finish. Said board shall have power to appoint a civil engineer to make an estimate of the number of cubic yards of earth to be removed.

Sec. 4. Said board shall advertise for sealed bids from furniture dealers, manufacturers, or other persons. Each bid must be accompanied by drawings, plans, and specifications of the articles to be furnished. The cost of the advertisements to be paid out of the appropriation hereinafter provided. The bids aforesaid for furnishing the capitol may be for doing all the furnishing or any part or parts thereof as in the judgment of the board may be deemed best and most economical. And said board shall also advertise for sealed bids for fencing and improving the new capitol grounds and said board shall be governed in said bids as hereinbefore and hereinafter provided. And they shall require of the person, firm, or association of persons, where a bid has been accepted for the fencing and grading and improving the new capitol grounds, a bond in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by them and payable to the Governor of the State of Texas, for the faithful compliance on their part with the terms of the contract in every particular.

Sec. 5. Before any bids can be opened and considered by said board, the person, firm, or association of persons submitting drawings, plans, specifications, and bids, shall deposit with the State Treasurer a sum of money, or certified check approved by and payable to the State Treasurer, equal in amount to at least one-tenth of the amount so bid by such person or persons, in lawful money of the United States, for the faithful compliance on their part with the terms of the contract hereinafter provided for in this act; said sum of money or check to be returned to said person or persons who deposited the same when the Treasurer has been notified by the board that the bids of such person or persons have been rejected by the board, or the terms of the contract complied with; but should the bid of any person, firm, or association of persons, with the accompanying drawings, plans, and specifications, be accepted by said board, and such person fail to give the bond required by this act within thirty days after such person, firm, or association of persons have been notified that their bid has been accepted by said board, then the sum of money or certified check deposited shall be considered as liquidated damages, and be forfeited to the State and credited to the appropriation herein provided.

Sec. 6. Said board shall open said bids, with the accompanying drawings, plans, and specifications, on the day fixed by the board for opening the bids, before such persons as may desire to be present, and shall award the contract to the lowest and best bidder. Said board shall have power to reject any and all bids.

Sec. 7. Said board shall require of the person, firm, or association of persons whose bid for furniture has been accepted, a bond in the sum of fifty thousand dollars, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by them and made payable to the Governor of the State of Texas, for the faithful compliance on their part with the terms of the contract in every particular.

Sec. 8. The members of said board and the expert herein provided for shall each receive the sum of five dollars per day for each and every day actually engaged in said work, not to exceed ninety days, and all necessary expenses, the amounts of each to be itemized and verified by their own affidavits.

Sec. 9. A majority of said board shall be sufficient to transact all business that may come before them.

Sec. 10. Said board shall submit to the next Legislature a full and detailed account of all their acts and doings in the premises.

Sec. 11. For the purpose of supplying furniture for the new capitol building and fencing and improving the capitol grounds, the sum of one hundred and forty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any of the funds of this State not otherwise appropriated. Out of the amount herein appropriated for the purposes of this act one hundred thousand dollars shall constitute the sum for furnishing the capitol, and the sum of forty thousand dollars shall constitute the sum for fencing, grading, and improving the capitol grounds.

Sec. 12. All moneys to be paid out under this act shall be by warrants drawn upon the Treasurer by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, who is authorized to draw the same upon the vouchers of the board approved by the Governor.

Sec. 13. The Governor is hereby authorized and empowered to dismiss, at his own discretion, any one or all of said board, and appoint their successors.

Sec. 14. Whereas the near approach of the close of this session renders it impossible that this bill can be read on three several days, and there being no law requiring the furnishing of the new capitol building and the fencing and improving of the capitol grounds, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity demands that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 60 yeas, 24 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 21 yeas, 4 nays.]

Approved, May 17, 1888.

FOR REMOVING DEBRIS FROM GROUNDS OF NEW CAPITOL.

Sec.

1. $500 appropriated for removing debris, etc., from grounds of new Capitol; defines how same is to be expended, etc.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 16.—[H. S. for S. C. R. No. 3.] An Act for clearing Capitol grounds and making an appropriation therefor.

Whereas from the condition of the capitol grounds approach to the new capitol is rendered tedious and difficult; and

Whereas it is of the utmost importance that said approaches be cleared and the debris and rubbish now upon the capitol grounds be removed before the dedication of said capitol: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds be and is hereby authorized and required to contract for the removal of said rubbish and debris and the clearing of said approaches in such manner as to him may be deemed best, and the sum of five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys now in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, to carry out the objects of this act, which may be drawn from the treasury upon the warrant of said Superintendent: Provided, That under authority granted the Superintendent under this act he shall not have the power to bind the State for the payment of a greater amount of money than is hereby appropriated.

Sec. 2. Whereas the near approach of the time set for the dedication of the new capitol, and the importance of having the approaches cleared to the capitol, create an imperative public necessity which requires that the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 71 yeas, 14 nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 23 yeas, 2 nays.]
Approved, May 1, 1888.

RECEPTION OF NEW STATE CAPITOL.

Sec.

1. Creates Capitol Board and defines duties of in respect to receiving new Capitol.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 17.—[S. for S. H. B. No. 38.] An Act to provide for the reception of the new State Capitol Building.

Whereas there is no provision in the law which clearly defines how or in what manner the new State Capitol Building shall be received: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the Governor, Treasurer, Comptroller and Commissioner of the General Land Office, are hereby constituted a board for the purpose of receiving or ejecting the new State Capitol Building, in whole or in part, with full power to act in the premises, saving and reserving to the State all rights under the contract and the securities given for the performance thereof: Provided, That the contractor shall in no wise be held responsible for any injury done to said building by the public after the reception of the said building or any part thereof.

Sec. 2. That the near completion of this important work requires immediate action not heretofore provided for by law, and creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency demanding that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 83 yeas, 1 nay; and passed the Senate by a vote of 22 yeas, 5 nays.]
Approved, May 2, 1888.

APPROPRIATION FOR MILEAGE AND PER DIEM PAY OF OFFICERS, MEMBERS, AND EMPLOYES.

Sec.

1. $40,000 appropriated for per diem pay of members, etc., of the Special Session Twentieth Legislature.
2. Manner of auditing claims against this appropriation.

Sec.

3. Unexpended balances heretofore appropriated for per diem pay of Legislatures hereby appropriated for purposes of this act.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 18.—[H. B. No. 2.] An Act making an appropriation for mileage and per diem pay of members and per diem pay of officers and employes of the First Called Session of the Twentieth Legislature of Texas, convened April 16, A. D. 1888, by proclamation of the Governor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of forty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of mileage and per diem pay of the members and the payment of the per diem pay of the officers and employes of the First Called Session of the Twentieth Legislature of Texas, convened April 16, A. D. 1888, by proclamation of the Governor.

Sec. 2. That the certificate of the Secretary of the Senate, approved by the President thereof, or the certificate of the Chief Clerk of the House, approved by the Speaker thereof, shall be sufficient evidence to the Comptroller upon which he shall audit the claims and issue his warrants upon the Treasurer for the respective amounts.

Sec. 3. That the balance of the moneys remaining in the treasury heretofore appropriated for the per diem pay and mileage of the members and the per diem pay of the officers and employes of any preceding session of the Legislature of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby reappropriated for the purposes specified in this act.

Sec. 4. And whereas the Called Session of the Twentieth Legislature, for the payment of the members and officers of which this law is enacted, is now in session, and public policy requires this payment, therefore an imperative public necessity exists that the rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted, and that this [act] take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 89 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 28 yeas, no nays.]
Approved, April 20, 1888.

APPROPRIATION TO DEFRAY CONTINGENT EXPENSES.

Sec.

1. $10,000 to defray contingent expenses of Special Session Twentieth Legislature.

Sec.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 19.—[H. B. No. 15.] An Act making an appropriation to defray the contingent expenses on the First Called Session of the Twentieth Legislature, convened April 16, A. D. 1888, by proclamation of the Governor.

Whereas it is of sufficient importance that the contingent expenses of the extra session of the Twentieth Legislature be promptly paid, in order that the material furnished and labor performed may be procured at cash prices: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the contingent expenses of the First Called Session of the Twentieth Legislature, convened April 16, 1888, by proclamation of the Governor, and that the approval by the Chairman of the Committee on Contingent Expenses of either house, countersigned by the President of the Senate, or Speaker of the House of Representatives, as the case may be, shall be sufficient authority to authorize the Comptroller to issue his warrant on the State Treasurer for the payment of any account against said fund.

Sec. 2. That the public importance of the objects herein contemplated creates an imperative public necessity and emergency fully authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the House, and passed the same by a vote of 90 yeas, no nays; and passed the Senate by a vote of 28 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 26, 1888.

RESOLUTION.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ADDRESSED TO SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS FOR RETENTION OF TROOPS IN TEXAS.

[S. C. R. No. 5.] Senate Concurrent Resolution requesting our Senators and Representatives in Congress to use their utmost efforts with the administration to secure the retention of the present number of regiments and especially the present cavalry force now on duty in the Department of Texas.

Whereas under the late orders of the War Department the stations of a number of regiments in the United States Army have been changed, and in the new movements contemplated the Eighth Regiment of Cavalry, which has been on duty in this department for a number of years guarding our long frontier, is to be sent to Dakota, and no new regiment has been ordered to take its place, the force in this State being thus reduced to this extent; and whereas the troops now serving in the department, including said regiment, are absolutely essential to the protection of life and property along the exposed frontier of the State, and two regiments of cavalry especially are absolutely required to maintain the long line of defense from the mouth of the Rio Grande to El Paso and to guard effectually the western borders of the State; and whereas the reduction of the present force would be most unfortunate for the interest of our people and would impair its efficiency for the defense of our border and endanger the security of the life and property of our citizens: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be requested to exhaust every means in their power to induce the administration to abandon the idea of any such diminution of the military strength in this department as is said to be contemplated, and to secure the retention of the present establishment.

Approved, May 14, 1888.

STATE OF TEXAS,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

I, J. M. Moore, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, certify that the foregoing laws and concurrent resolution, passed at the Special Session of the Twentieth Legislature, have been carefully examined and compared with the original enrolled bills now on file in this department, and that the same are true copies of said originals.

I further certify that the Twentieth Legislature convened in Special Session, in pursuance to the proclamation of the Governor of Texas, in the City of Austin April 16, A. D. 1888, and adjourned May 15, A. D. 1888.

In testimony whereof I have subscribed my name and affixed the seal [SEAL.] of the State of Texas. Done in the city of Austin, May 26, A. D. 1888.

J. M. MOORE,
Secretary of State.

APPENDIX.

PROCLAMATION

By the Governor of the State of Texas.

To all to whom these presents shall come:

Whereas there is now in the State Treasury a larger amount of money than is required for the economical administration of the government; and the near completion of the State Capitol building requires that it should be inspected by representatives of the people with a view to its acceptance, or rejection, and if accepted, the proper provisions made for its occupancy; and there is an imperative public necessity for the amendment of the tax laws, so that if found practicable the burden of taxation may be lightened from the people; and as the State is indebted for services of school teachers of the public schools, to an extent which greatly impairs their usefulness, and which requires such amendment of the school law as may most conduce to the effectiveness of our system of public education; and Congress has now before it an act looking to the permanent settlement of the disputed claim of our State to Greer County, which, if it becomes a law, will necessitate prompt legislative action; and these several matters are of such grave importance and general interest as to create an emergency necessitating the convening of the Twentieth Legislature in special session:

Now, therefore, I, L. S. Ross, Governor of Texas, do hereby issue this my proclamation convening the Twentieth Legislature to meet in their respective halls, in the City of Austin, on Monday the sixteenth day of April, A. D. 1888, in special session, and do hereby designate the following as subjects of legislation, to wit:

1. To provide for the proper distribution of the surplus moneys now in the treasury, by necessary appropriations.

2. To inspect and make such provision for furnishing and preserving the new capitol as may be deemed proper; for putting the capitol grounds in condition, and to determine what disposition shall be made of other State property at the seat of government.

3. To make such changes in the laws relating to taxation and revenue as may seem most consonant with the interests of the people, with the view of a more uniform and just assessment and certain collection; and a consideration of the advisability of reducing the present tax rate.

4. To make such alteration in the present law regarding the public education of the youth of our State as may be found necessary, and appropriations to pay any indebtedness that may have accrued by reason thereof; to make appropriations for our various charitable institutions requisite to their more extended usefulness and betterment; and for a geological survey of the State, if demanded by general public interest.

5. To make such changes in subdivision 24, of Article 566, Revised Statutes, as amended by Act of March 23, A. D. 1887, as may be deemed wise and expedient to meet the increased demands of the agricultural interest of the State.

6. To make such provision as may be necessary for co-operation with the United States government in the settlement of the boundary of that portion of the State embracing Greer County.

Done at the Executive Office in the City of Austin, this the 31st day of March, A. D. 1888, and in the year of our independence the fifty-third.

L. S. ROSS,
Governor of Texas.

By the Governor:

J. M. MOORE,
Secretary of State.

EXECUTIVE MESSAGE.

Executive Office, Austin, May 8, 1888.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to inform you that Attorney-General Hogg has called my attention to the fact that the State has now pending several important suits, involving interests of great magnitude to the general public, which are likely to suffer serious loss by reason of the great delay incident to the regular procedure of the courts now provided; and as it is further stated that those representing the interests adverse to the State have signified their desire for a speedy determination of these litigated questions, I respectfully suggest for your consideration the propriety of amending Article 1034, Revised Civil Statutes, relating to practice in the courts, if, in your judgment, the same may be done at this stage of your proceedings without jeopardizing the successful completion of other legislation now being considered by your honorable bodies.

L. S. ROSS,
Governor of Texas.

GENERAL LAWS
OF
THE STATE OF TEXAS

PASSED AT THE
REGULAR SESSION OF THE TWENTY-FIRST LEGISLATURE

CONVENED
AT THE CITY OF AUSTIN

JANUARY 8, 1889, AND ADJOURNED APRIL 6, 1889.

1889

GENERAL LAWS OF TEXAS.

TWENTY-FIRST LEGISLATURE, 1889.

PART I.

Amendments to Revised Civil Statutes.

GARNISHMENT.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 191, relating to writs of garnishment.

CHAP. 1.—[S. S. B. No. 6.] An Act to amend Article 191, Chapter 2, Title 9, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 191, of Chapter 2, Title 9, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 191. From and after the service of such writ of garnishment it shall not be lawful for the garnishee to pay to the defendant any debt or to deliver to him any effects; nor shall the garnishee, if an incorporated or joint stock company in which the defendant is alleged to be the owner of shares or to have an interest, permit or recognize any sale or transfer of such shares or interest; and any such payment or delivery, sale or transfer, shall be void and of no effect as to so much of said debt, effects, shares, or interest as may be necessary to satisfy the plaintiff's demand: Provided, however, That the defendant may at any time before judgment replevy any effects, debts, shares, or claims of any kind seized or garnished, by giving bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the officer who issued the writ of garnishment, payable to the plaintiff, in double the amount of the plaintiff's debt, and conditioned for the payment of any judgment that may be rendered against the said garnishee in such suit, which bond when properly approved shall be filed among the papers in the cause in the court in which the suit is pending; and in all proceedings in garnishment where the defendant gives bond as herein provided for, such defendant may make any defense which the defendant in garnishment could make in such suit.

Approved, February 9, 1889.

CITIES AND TOWNS.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 375, Power over streets, etc.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 2.—[S. B. No. 140.] An Act to amend Article 375, Title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by an act approved on the twenty-seventh day of March, 1885.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 375, Title 17, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 375. To have the exclusive control and power over the streets, alleys, and public grounds and highways of the city, and to abate and remove encroachments or obstructions thereon; to open, alter, widen, extend, establish, regulate, grade, clean, and otherwise improve said streets; to put drains or sewers therein, and to prevent the encumbering thereof in any manner, and to protect the same from encroachment or injury; and to cause all able-bodied male inhabitants above 18 years of age, except ministers of the gospel, to work thereon not exceeding five days in any one year, or furnish a substitute or a sum of money (not to exceed one dollar for each day's work demanded) to employ said substitute, and to enforce the same by appropriate ordinances; and to regulate and alter the grade of premises, and to require the filling up and raising of the same; and such city council shall also have power to alter or vacate the alley in any block of ground within the city, upon the written application of the owner of the block, or if there be more than one owner of such block, then upon the written application of all the owners thereof uniting in such application, and such alley so vacated shall thereupon revert to and become the property of the owner of the block of which it was a part, or if more than one, then to the owners of the adjoining lots therein, each extending to the center of the alley so vacated.

Sec. 2. The condition and exigencies of many cities in this state create an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring the bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act shall take effect from and after the day of its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 25 yeas, 2 nays; and passed the house March 28, 1889.

Approved, March 30, 1889.

CITIES AND TOWNS.

- Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 421, as to city bonds.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 3.—[H. B. No. 377.] An Act to amend Article 421, of Title 17, of Chapter 4, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 421, of Title 17, of Chapter 4, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 421. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they were issued, and when any bonds are issued by the city a fund shall be provided to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to redeem the bonds, which fund shall not be diverted nor drawn upon for any other purpose: Providing, however, That said sinking fund may, as it accumulates, be invested in bonds of the United States, the state of Texas, or counties in said state: and the city treasurer shall honor no draft upon said fund except to pay interest upon or to redeem the bonds for which it was provided, or for investment in other securities as above provided.

Sec. 2. Whereas in some cities and towns the sinking fund for the payment of bonds has accumulated, and said cities and towns are paying interest on outstanding bonds, and there being at present no adequate provisions for investing said fund, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity is created that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 77 yeas, 1 nay; and passed the senate March 30, 1889.]

Approved, April 3, 1889.

CITIES AND TOWNS.

- Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 426, as to taxation in cities having more than 10,000 inhabitants, etc.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 4.—[H. B. No. 669.] An Act to amend Article 426, Title 17, Chapter 5, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and to validate levies and assessments of taxes made by cities for 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 426 of the Revised Civil Statutes be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 426. Cities having more than ten thousand inhabitants may levy, assess, and collect taxes not exceeding one and one-half per cent on the assessed value of real and personal estate and property in the city, not exempt from taxation by the constitution and laws of the state, and assessments, levy, and collection of taxes made by such cities for the year 1889 are hereby made valid to the amount aforesaid, and such cities are hereby authorized to levy, assess, and collect a further tax of twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars worth of property for the purpose of paying the debts of such city lawfully contracted prior to the first day of January, 1889, not to include any bonded debt. Any funding warrants that may be issued for such debt by any such city shall not be included in the limit of six per cent prescribed by Article 420: Provided, That this act shall not apply to or in any manner affect any city organized under a special charter, and shall not be construed to validate any debt contracted by any city without authority of law existing at the time the same was contracted.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session and the fact that there is doubt of the validity of taxes assessed, levied, and collected by cities for the year 1889, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency which authorizes the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act will take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 75 yeas, 4 nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 18 yeas, 6 nays.]

Approved, April 8, 1889.

Chap. 5.—[H. B. No. 407.] An Act to amend an act to regulate the condemnation of property in cities and towns for the purpose of opening, widening, or changing public streets, avenues, or alleys, or for water mains or sewers, approved March 28, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the above entitled act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 1. That whenever the city council of any incorporated city or town shall deem it necessary to take any private property, in order to open, change, or widen any public street, avenue, or alley, or for the construction of water mains, or supply reservoirs or stand-pipes for water works, or sewers, within or without the limits of such city or town, such property may be taken for such purpose by making just compensation to the owner thereof. If the amount of such compensation cannot be agreed upon, it shall be the duty of such city council to cause to be stated in writing the real estate or property sought to be taken, the name of the owner thereof, and his residence, if known, and file such statement with the county judge of the county in which said property is situated. Any company or corporation chartered under the laws of this state for the purpose of constructing water works or furnishing water supply for any town or city shall have the same right to condemn property necessary for the construction of supply reservoirs or stand-pipes for water works, when deemed necessary to preserve the public health, that is given towns and cities under this act.

Sec. 2. Upon the filing of such statement, it shall be the duty of said judge, in term time or vacation, to appoint three disinterested freeholders and qualified voters of the county as special commissioners to assess the damage to accrue to the owner by reason of such condemnation.

Sec. 3. The commissioners so appointed shall, in their proceedings, be governed and controlled by the law in force in reference to the condemnation of the right of way for railroad companies and the assessment of damages therefor—the city, town, company, or corporation occupying the position of the railroad company. And all laws in reference to applications for the condemnation for right of way of railroad companies, including the measure of damages, the right of appeal, and the like, shall apply to an application by a city or town, company or corporation, under this act, for the condemnation of property for the purpose of opening, changing or widening streets, avenues, or alleys, or for the construction of water mains, sewers, supply reservoirs, or stand-pipes—the city, town, company, or corporation to occupy the position of the railroad company.]

Sec. 4. Article 478 of the Revised Statutes be and the same is hereby repealed. Approved, April 8, 1889.

CITIES AND TOWNS.

- Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 486, as to publication of ordinances.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 6.—[S. H. B. No. 15.] An Act to amend Article 486 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 486 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 486. Every ordinance imposing any penalty, fine, imprisonment, or forfeiture shall, after the passage thereof, be published in every issue of the official paper for ten days; if the official paper be published weekly, the publication shall be made in one issue thereof; and proof of such publication shall be made by the printer or publisher of such paper making affidavit before some officer authorized by law to administer oaths, and filed with the secretary of the city or town, and shall be prima facie evidence of such publication and promulgation of such ordinances in all courts of the state, and such ordinances so published shall take effect and be in force from and after the publication thereof, unless otherwise expressly provided. Ordinances not required to be published shall take effect and be in force from and after the passage, unless otherwise provided. If any town or city shall desire to publish its ordinances in pamphlet or book form, it shall not be necessary to republish such ordinances as have been previously published.

Sec. 2. The fact that many cities and towns wish to publish their ordinances in convenient book or pamphlet form, and the further fact that existing laws cause great and unnecessary expense in doing so, create an imperative public necessity and an emergency authorizing the suspension of constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act will take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 94 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 23 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, February 23, 1889.

TOWNS AND VILLAGES.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 507, as to incorporating towns and villages—Regulates examining trials and appeals from the courts thereof.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 7.—[S. B. No. 69.] An Act to amend Article 507, Chapter 11, of the Revised Civil Statutes, so as to provide for the incorporation of towns and villages situated on both sides of a line dividing two counties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 507, Chapter 11, of the Revised Civil Statutes, be so amended to read as follows:

Article 507. If the inhabitants of such town or village desire to be so incorporated, at least twenty residents thereof, who would be qualified voters under the provisions of this chapter, shall file an application for that purpose in the office of the judge of the county court of the county in which the town or village is situated, stating the boundaries of the proposed town or village and the name by which it is to be known if it be incorporated: Provided, That if any town or village be situated on both sides of a line dividing two counties, application may be made to the judge of the county court of either county in which a portion of said town or village is located, in manner and form as is hereinbefore provided: Provided further, That in towns and villages that may be incorporated on territory in two counties, in the trial of offenses before the mayor or recorder for a violation of the laws of the state or the ordinances of the corporation, an appeal shall be to the county court of the county in which the offense may have been committed; and in cases in which said mayor or recorder have not final jurisdiction, but when sitting as an examining court, parties brought before them on such examining court, charged with an offense against the laws of the state, shall be bound over by them to the county court of the county in which said offense is alleged to have been committed, or to the district court, as the case may be.

Sec. 2. Whereas the necessity for the preservation of law and order in the towns and villages of this state, provided for in the first and second provisions of the foregoing section, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 24 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 77 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, February 13, 1889.

COUNTY FINANCES.

- Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 975, relating to accounts to be kept by treasurer, etc.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 8.—[H. B. No. 633.] An Act to amend Article 975, Title 24, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 975 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 975. The county treasurer shall keep accurate accounts showing all the transactions of his office in detail, and all warrants by him paid off shall be punched at the time he pays them, and the vouchers relating to and accompanying each report shall be presented to the commissioners court with the corresponding report, when it shall be the duty of said court to compare the vouchers with the report, and all proper vouchers shall be allowed and the treasurer credited with the amount thereof.

Sec [2.] The near approach of the close of the session creates an emergency and a public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 83 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 24 yeas, no nays.]
 Approved, April 5, 1889.

SUPREME COURT AND COURT OF APPEALS.

- Sec. 1. Revised Statutes, Article 1006—Counties returnable on appeal and error to Tyler, and cases to be transferred thereto.
 Revised Statutes, Article 1008—Counties so returnable to Austin.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 9.—[S. B. No. 68.] An Act to amend Articles 1006 and 1008 of an act passed by the Twentieth Legislature, approved March 25, 1887, entitled "An Act to amend Articles 1006 and 1008 of an act passed by the Nineteenth Legislature, approved March 26, 1885, entitled 'An Act to amend Articles 1006, 1007, and 1008 of an act entitled "An Act to amend Articles 1006, 1007, and 1008, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas," approved February 21, 1879, passed by the Eighteenth Legislature, and approved April 9, 1883.'"

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That articles 1006 and 1008 of the above recited act, sought hereby to be amended, be and the same are hereby amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 1006. Appeals and writs of error from the counties of Anderson, Bowie, Camp, Cass, Cherokee, Delta, Ellis, Hopkins, Franklin, Gregg, Harrison, Henderson, Hunt, Kaufman, Marion, Morris, Nacogdoches, Navarro, Panola, Rains, Red River, Rockwall, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, Shelby, Smith, Tarrant, Titus, Upshur, Van Zandt, and Wood shall be returnable to the term of said courts held at Tyler; and all cases from the county of Tarrant pending in the supreme court and court of appeals at Austin, and undetermined at the adjournment of the term of said courts commencing on the first Monday of April, 1889, shall be transferred to Tyler, and entered upon the dockets of said courts at Tyler, and shall be tried and determined in the same manner as if said cases had originally been made returnable to the term of said courts at Tyler.

Cottle, Crockett, Cochran, Clay, Coleman, Collin, Crosby, Dallam, Dallas, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Denton, Dickens, Dimmit, Donley, Eastland, Edwards, El Paso, Erath, Falls, Fannin, Fisher, Floyd, Frio, Gaines, Garza, Gillespie, Gray, Grayson, Greer, Guadalupe, Hale, Hall, Hamilton, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Haskell, Hays, Hemphill, Hill, Hockley, Hood, Howard, Hutchinson, Jack, Johnson, Jones, Karnes, Kendall, Kent, Kerr, Kimble, King, Kinney, Knox, Lamar, Lamb, Lampasas, La Salle, Lee, Limestone, Lipscomb, Live Oak, Llano, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Mason, Maverick, McCulloch, McLennan, McMullen, Medina, Menard, Midland, Milam, Mitchell, Montague, Moore, Motley, Nolan, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Palo Pinto, Parker, Pecos, Potter, Presidio, Randall, Reeves, Roberts, Robertson, Runnels, San Saba, Scurry, Shackelford, Sherman, Somervell, Stephens, Stonewall, Swisher, Taylor, Terry, Throckmorton, Tom Green, Travis, Uvalde, Wheeler, Wichita, Wilbarger, Williamson, Wilson, Wise, Yoakum, Young, and Zavala shall be returnable to the term of said courts held at Austin.

Sec. 2. The importance of the amendment sought to be engrafted on the law by this bill creates an emergency and a public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 28 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 74 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, February 21, 1899.

CHAP. 10.—[S. H. B. for S. B. No. 1.] An Act to provide for the printing and publishing the decisions of the supreme court and of the court of appeals for the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the judges of the supreme court, after their election to each term of office, shall appoint some person or persons learned in the law, being a licensed attorney, to report the decisions of the supreme court, who shall be removable at the pleasure of the court, and who shall be paid for the services required by this act three thousand dollars per annum, payable monthly on the certificate of the chief justice. A reporter shall also be appointed by the judges of the court of appeals after their election to each term of office, who shall receive the same compensation allowed the reporter for the supreme court, payable monthly on the certificate of the presiding judge of said court of appeals, discharge the same duties for said court of appeals, and who shall in like manner be removed at the pleasure of the said court, and all the provisions of this act regarding the reporter of the supreme court, and publishing the opinions thereof, shall apply to the court of appeals and the opinions of that court.

Sec. 2. The reporter shall be furnished by the state printing board with the necessary stationery for the performance of the duties imposed by this act.

Sec. 3. Each reporter shall obtain from the clerks of their respective courts the records of cases to be reported, with the briefs and opinions in such cases, as soon as such cases are finally disposed of and the opinions are recorded, which shall be returned after the report thereof is completed. They shall without delay, under the direction of their respective courts, prepare such decisions, with appropriate syllabus, and statements when necessary, for publication in book form, and shall from time to time deliver the same to the secretary of state for the board of public printing as hereinafter provided. The secretary of state shall receipt for the same, and deliver to the expert printer appointed by the board of public printing for publication.

Sec. 4. The supreme court and court of appeals shall each designate by orders or otherwise the cases to be reported, and only such cases as are designated shall be reported and published, and only the main propositions made in the briefs and considered by the court in the opinion with the authorities cited in support of such propositions shall be incorporated in the report.

Sec. 5. As fast as the board of public printing shall receive through the secretary of state the manuscript copy of reported cases for the reporter, said board shall cause the same to be printed, with proper index, tables of cases cited, and of cases reported, at the printing office at the Deaf and Dumb Asylum of Texas, and have one thousand copies bound of each volume of reports. The index, tables of cases cited, and of cases reported shall be prepared by the reporter. The expert printer appointed by the printing board shall after revising the printing deliver a revise as the work progresses to the reporter, who shall correct and return to said expert.

Sec. 6. The decisions of each of said courts shall be printed and bound separate. Each volume shall not contain less than seven hundred pages nor more than eight hundred pages. Each page shall be twenty-six ems pica wide and forty-six ems pica long. The type used shall be long primer and minion of the same size used in volume 23 Wallace's United States Supreme Court Reports. The lines shall be leaded with not thicker than eight to pica leads. The paper, presswork, and binding shall be of the same style and at least equal quality in every respect with the volumes of Moore & Walker's Reports heretofore published. The volumes containing the supreme court decisions shall be styled "The Texas Reports," and those containing the decisions of the court of appeals shall be styled "The Court of Appeals Reports," and they shall be so respectively styled on the title page and back, and the volumes shall be numbered in continuation of present number. The name of the reporter may be printed on the back of each volume. Each volume shall be copyrighted in the name of the reporter, who shall immediately on delivery of the edition transfer and assign the same to the state. It shall be electrotyped and the plates shall be owned by the state and preserved by the secretary of state.

Sec. 7. When printed and bound the reports shall be delivered to the secretary of state, who shall sell single copies for $2, exclusive of postage or express charges, and he shall also for the same price sell single copies of any former volume of reports for either of said courts heretofore published under the state's copyright and now owned by the state. The secretary of state shall deliver to the state treasurer the proceeds of all sales so made by him, of which and of his operations under this act and of the transactions of the said board hereunder he shall make a full statement and showing in his biennial report.

Sec. 8. Nothing contained in this act shall be held to apply to volumes of reports the manuscript of which is now in the hands of the present reporters or their publishers, or which may now be in course of publication under a contract made in pursuance of existing laws, but the same shall be received by the secretary of state and paid for under the law in force (out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated) prior to the passage of this act: Provided, This section shall not be construed as to the supreme court reporter to extend their publication under this section beyond the 71st volume, nor as to the court of appeals reporter so as to extend their publication under this section beyond the 27th volume.

Sec. 9. That an act to amend Articles 1026, 1027, 1028, 1029, 1030, 1031, and 1032, of Chapter 5, Title 26, and Articles 1077, 1078, 1079, 1080, 1081, and 1082, of Chapter 15, Title 26, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, approved February 21, 1879, approved May 1, 1882, together with all other laws in conflict herewith, be and they are hereby repealed.

Sec. 10. Should the expert printer, whose duty it is to supervise and have promptly executed the printing, binding, and delivering of the reports to the secretary of state, fail to have the work executed with promptness and in accordance with the provisions of this act, he shall be removed from his trust and another appointed; and whenever the board of public printing shall ascertain that the work of printing and binding the reports can be done more speedily, better, and more economically by contract, or that ample material and means to carry out the provisions of this act are not at their control, they shall at once let the printing and binding of the reports out by contract, requiring security for the performance of the work and the delivery to the state of the electrotype plates.

Sec. 11. No copies of reports shall be furnished to any county except upon payment made by such county to the secretary of state as in sale to private parties.

Sec. 12. The secretary of state may transmit advance sheets of the reports as the publishing progresses on receiving two dollars for the volume, the purchaser to have the right on returning all the forms of the volume to the secretary of state to have the same bound without further expense on his paying the expense of transmitting the same to and from the state department.

Sec. 13. The loss resulting to the state from the present system of reporting and publishing said reports creates an imperative public necessity and emergency authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 82 yeas, 18 nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 30 yeas, no nays.]
Approved, March 6, 1889.

PLEADING AND PRACTICE.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 1192, authorizing amendments to pleadings in vacation, etc.

CHAP. 11.—[S. B. No. 11.] An Act to amend Article 1192 of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1192 be amended so as to read as follows:

Article 1192. All parties to a suit may in vacation amend their pleadings, may file suggestions of death and make representative parties, and make new parties, and file such other pleas with the clerk of the court in which such suit is pending as they may desire. And any party may in vacation intervene in any suit pending such amendments and pleas, subject to be stricken out at the next term of the court on motion of the opposite party to the suit for sufficient cause shown or existing, to be determined by the court: Provided, That it shall be the duty of the party filing such pleadings to notify the opposite party or their attorneys of the filing of such papers within five days from the filing of the same. All amendments to pleadings, pleas, and pleas of intervention, must, when court is in session, be filed under leave of the court, upon such terms as the court may prescribe, before the parties announce ready for trial, and not thereafter.

Approved, March 6, 1889.

ELECTIONS.

- Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 1664—Prescribing election precincts in cities, towns, and villages.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 12.—[S. B. No. 74.] An Act to amend Title 34, Chapter 1, of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 1664 of the above recited title and chapter be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1664. In each incorporated city, town, or village each ward shall constitute an election precinct: Provided, That the commissioners court of the several counties may and it shall be their duty to divide any ward of any city or town into as many election precincts as they may deem proper: And provided further, That towns and villages incorporated in accordance with chapter 11 of title 17 shall not necessarily constitute a separate election precinct, except in elections pertaining solely to the affairs of said towns and villages.

Sec. 2. The fact that the commissioners courts of the several counties of the state will at the February term, 1889, rearrange the voting precincts of the different counties for the ensuing year, creates an emergency which requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 27 yeas, 1 nay; and passed the house by a vote of 76 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, February 12, 1889.

CELEBRATION OF MARRIAGE.

- Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 2838, as to who are authorized to celebrate rites.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 13.—[S. B. No. 158.] An Act to amend Title 50, Article 2838, of the Revised Statutes, so as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 2838. All regularly licensed or ordained ministers of the gospel, Jewish rabbis, judges of the district and county courts, and all justices of the peace of the several counties are authorized to celebrate the rites of matrimony between all persons legally authorized to marry.

Sec. 2. Whereas there is no law in this State authorizing Jewish rabbis to perform the marriage ceremony, creates an emergency that this law take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same; and passed the house by a vote of 78 yeas, 3 nays.]

Approved, March 29, 1889.

INSURANCE.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 2916, as to capital stock of insurance companies.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 14.—[S. B. No. 99.] An Act to amend Article 2916, Title 53, Chapter 1, of the Revised Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 2916, Title 53, Chapter 1, of the Revised Statutes, be amended as follows:

Art. 2916. The capital stock of a company shall consist:

1. In the lawful money of the United States; or

2. In the bonds of this state or any county or incorporated town or city thereof, or the stock of any national bank; or

3. In first mortgages upon unincumbered real estate in this state the title to which is valid and the market value of which is double the amount loaned thereon, exclusive of buildings, unless such buildings are insured in some responsible company and the policy, or policies, transferred to the company taking such mortgage.

Sec. 2. Whereas the near approach of the end of the present session creates an emergency and imperative public necessity authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule, and it is so suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same on February 26, 1889; and passed the house on April 6, 1889.]

Approved, April 8, 1889.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 3122a, as amended by Act April 22, 1879, relating to landlord's liens.

CHAP. 15.—[S. S. B. No. 42.] An Act to amend Article 3122a, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, in relation to landlords and tenants, as amended by the Sixteenth Legislature, page 128, approved April 22, 1879.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 3122a of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas be so amended as hereafter read as follows:

Article 3122a. All persons leasing or renting any residence, store house, or other building, shall have a preference lien upon all the property of the tenant in such residence, store house, or other building, for the payment of the rents due and that may become due: Provided, The lien for rents to become due shall not continue or be enforced for a longer period than the current contract year, it being intended by the term "current contract year" to embrace a period of twelve months, reckoning from the beginning of the lease or rental contract, whether the same be in the first or any other year of such lease or rental contract. Such lien shall continue and be in force so long as the tenant shall occupy the rented premises, and for one month thereafter; but this article shall not be construed as in any manner repealing or affecting any act exempting property from forced sale: Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to nor in any manner affect any existing contracts for rent, nor to any action or suit now pending upon any such contract.

Approved, March 28, 1880.

MILITIA.

Sec.

1. Amends Revised Statutes, Articles 3293, 3294, 3295, 3304, 3306, 3307, 3308, 3318, 3327, 3329.

Sec.

2. Repeals Revised Statutes, Articles 3319, 3320, 3321, 3322, 3323, 3324, 3325, 3326.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 16.—[H. B. No. 515.] An Act to amend Article 3249, of Chapter 2, and Articles 3293, 3294, 3295, 3304, 3306, 3307, 3308, 3318, 3327, and 3329, of Chapter 4 (Militia Law), Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, and to repeal Articles 3319, 3320, 3321, 3322, 3323, 3324, 3325, and 3326, Chapter 4, of said Militia Law.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 3249, of Chapter 2, and Articles 3293, 3294, 3295, 3304, 3306, 3307, 3308, 3318, 3327, and 3329, of Chapter 4, Revised Statutes of Texas, shall be amended to read as follows:

Article 3249. Section 1. The adjutant-general shall have the rank of brigadier-general; and in the corps of adjutant-general there shall be to each division one assistant adjutant-general with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and to each brigade one assistant adjutant-general with rank of major.

Section 2. In the inspector-general's department there shall be one assistant inspector-general with the rank of colonel, and to each division one assistant inspector-general with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and to each brigade one assistant inspector general with rank of major.

Section 3. In the quartermaster's corps there shall be an assistant quartermaster-general with the rank of colonel, and to each division a quartermaster with rank of major, and to each brigade a quartermaster with rank of captain.

Section 4. The bureau of military justice shall consist of one judge-advocate-general with rank of colonel, and one assistant judge-advocate-general with rank of major to each division.

Section 5. The state health officer shall be ex officio surgeon-general, and shall have the rank of colonel. In the medical corps there shall be to each division a medical director with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and to each brigade a surgeon with the rank of major.

Section 6. The adjutant-general shall be appointed by the commander-in-chief, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, if in session, and all other staff officers of the general staff shall be appointed by the commander-in-chief, and shall constitute a permanent staff department as in the United States Army: Provided, That all staff officers now holding commissions shall hold their present rank until the commander-in-chief shall otherwise direct.

Section 7. The staff of the commander-in-chief shall consist of the adjutant-general, the judge-advocate-general, the senior assistant inspector-general, and senior assistant quartermaster-general, and six aides-de-camp each, with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, to be appointed by him.

Article 3293. Volunteer guards shall be constituted by voluntary enlistment for a period not less than three years on the part of persons held to military duty under the laws of the state, or of persons that may be exempt under such laws.

Article 3294. Any number of persons not less than forty nor more than one hundred, of good moral character, desiring to form a company of volunteer guards, may meet and declare such purpose, and after obtaining consent from the governor may perfect their organization by electing their company officers in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. And it shall not be lawful for any body of men whatsoever, other than the regularly organized volunteer guard, to associate themselves together as a military company or organization, or to parade in public with arms in any part of the state, without the license of the governor therefor.

Article 3295. Each company of volunteer guards shall elect one captain, one first lieutenant, and one second lieutenant, and each troop or battery such officers as the regulations shall specify or the commander-in-chief shall direct; and the commanding officer shall appoint five sergeants and four corporals, and the commanding officer of each troop or battery shall appoint such numbers of sergeants and corporals as may be specified in the regulations or the commander-in-chief may direct.

Article 3304. The Texas volunteer guard in time of peace shall consist of one major-general, two brigadier-generals, an adjutant-general's department, an inspector-general's department, a quartermaster's department, a subsistence department, an ordnance department, a medical department, a pay department, a bureau of military justice, and such organizations of artillery, cavalry, and infantry as the commander-in-chief may direct, not to exceed three thousand men rank and file including all departments of the volunteer guard, and which shall be organized into battalions, regiments, brigades, and divisions of suitable size, and changed from time to time as the commander-in-chief may deem for the best interests of the service.

Article 3306. Each regiment shall consist of not more than ten companies and a regimental band, and shall have a colonel, a lieutenant-colonel, and a major, all of whom shall be appointed and commissioned by the governor upon the recommendation of the line officers of the regiment. Each colonel shall appoint for his regiment an adjutant and a quartermaster with the rank of first lieutenant, and an assistant surgeon and a chaplain with the rank of captain of infantry. He shall appoint a sergeant-major, quartermaster and commissary sergeant, a hospital steward, and a drum-major.

Article 3307. Each brigade shall consist of not more than five regiments, and shall be under the command of a brigadier-general, to be appointed by the commander-in-chief, and each division shall consist of not more than three brigades, and shall be under the command of a major-general, to be appointed by the commander-in-chief.

Article 3308. Each major-general shall have four aides-de-camp with the rank of captain, to be appointed by him; and each brigadier-general shall have two aides-de-camp with the rank of captain, to be appointed by him. In addition thereto each major-general and each brigadier-general may appoint a quartermaster and commissary sergeant, a hospital steward, and a clerk.

Article 3318. It shall be the duty of the adjutant-general and the judge-advocate-general to prepare and submit to the commander-in-chief for his approval a code of regulations, not inconsistent with law, for the government and regulation of the volunteer guard as will increase its discipline and efficiency, which shall provide for the examination of certain military officers; shall define and regulate the punishment for military offenses; and shall provide for the regulation of courts-martial and courts of inquiry; which code upon its approval shall form part of this law and be distributed to the various organizations, and shall take the place of and annul all company, troop, and battery constitutions and by-laws, except as may be allowed by the code.

Articles 3327. For breaches of discipline, misconduct, or any other military offenses not herein provided for, non-commissioned officers, musicians, and privates may be tried by courts-martial convened by the battalion or regimental commander, and may be punished by suspension, dismissal, or dishonorable discharge from the service; such courts to consist of not less than three nor more than five commissioned officers, their findings to be subject to the approval of the officer ordering the court, and their proceedings governed by the United States Army Regulations relating to courts-martial.

Article 3329. The sentences of such courts shall not extend beyond suspension for a definite period, not to exceed twelve months, or dismissal from the service, and shall not be carried into effect without the approval of the commander-in-chief.

Sec. 2. Articles 3319, 3320, 3321, 3322, 3323, 3324, 3325, and 3326, Chapter 4 (Militia Law), Revised Statutes, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. Whereas there is in existence no law which sufficiently provides the manner by which the militia of the state shall be governed, and the lateness of the session creates an emergency and imperative public necessity authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the rule is suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 73 yeas, 11 nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 5, 1889.

COUNTY CONVICTS.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 3597, as to credit of county convicts for labor.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 17.—[S. B. No. 200.] An Act to amend Article 3597 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 3597 of the Revised Civil Statutes be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 3597. When a convict who has been committed to jail in default of payment of fine and costs is required to do manual labor he shall be credited upon such fine and costs at the rate of fifty cents for each day he may labor, and upon satisfaction of such fine and costs in full at said rate he shall be discharged: Provided, Such work shall be performed on public streets or roads, or on county poor farms. No convict under this act shall ever be required to work or be hired for more than one year.

Sec. 2. Whereas the interests of the state and of different counties create an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires that all bills be read on three several days, said rule is therefore suspended, and an emergency exists that this act should take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 23 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 84 yeas, 2 nays.]

Approved, March 7, 1889.

PUBLIC EDUCATION.

- Sec. 1. Amends Section 17 of Act of February 6, 1884, relating to free schools.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 18.—[H. B. No. 605.] An Act to amend section 17 of an act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the state of Texas, and to repeal so much of Chapter 3, of Title 78, of the Revised Civil Statutes, as refer to public free schools outside of cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public schools, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act passed by the special session of the Eighteenth Legislature, which was presented to the governor for his signature on the sixth day of February, 1884, and became a law without his approval.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 17 of an act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the state of Texas, and to repeal so much of Chapter 3, of Title 78, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as refer to cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public free schools, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act passed at the special session of the Eighteenth Legislature, which was presented to the governor for his signature on the sixth day of February, 1884, and became a law without his approval, be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 17. The state superintendent shall require of county judges, county, city, and town superintendents, county and city treasurers and treasurers of school boards, and other school officers and teachers, such school reports relating to the school fund and other school affairs as he may deem proper for collecting information and advancing the interests of the public schools, and shall furnish to county, city, and town superintendents and other school officers and teachers, for the use of such officers and teachers, the necessary blanks and forms for making such reports and carrying out such instructions as may be required of them; and any county judge, or county, city, or town superintendent, assessor, treasurer, or teacher who shall fail to make such report within twenty days after the same shall have been required by the state superintendent to be filed, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction, be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, the same to be paid, when collected, to the available school fund.

Sec. 2. The failure and negligence of school officers in submitting their reports to the department of education, and the near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature leaving only a few days for the consideration of this bill, and rendering it doubtful if it can be reached regularly on the calendar, create an emergency and a public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 50 yeas, 31 nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 21 yeas, 6 nays.]

Approved. April 8, 1889.

PUBLIC EDUCATION.

Sec. 1. Amends Section 26, Act of Feb. 6, 1884, and repeals so much of Revised Statutes, Chapter 3, Title LXXVIII, as relates to public schools outside of cities, etc.

CHAP. 19.—[S. B. No. 20.] An Act to amend section 26 of an act entitled "An Act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the state of Texas, and to repeal so much of Chapter 3, Title 78, of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as refer to public free schools outside of incorporated cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public free schools, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with said act.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 26 of an act presented to the governor of the state of Texas for approval on the sixth day of February, A. D. 1884, and which became a law without his signature, be amended so as to read hereafter as follows:

Section 26. The state treasurer shall receive and hold as a special deposit all moneys belonging to the available school fund and keep an account of the several sources from which they accrue. He shall open and keep an account with every county, city, or town in the state to which the board of education issues a certificate (showing them to be entitled to receive any portion of the available free school fund), wherein he shall credit each such county, city, or town with the amount apportioned to them by such certificate, and duplicates of all such certificates shall be furnished the state treasurer at the time the issuance thereof by the board of education. On the first day of each month after this bill becomes a law and goes into effect the state treasurer shall set apart to each county, city, or town such a portion of the available free school fund as has come into his hands during the preceding month, as is shown by the certificates held by them to be due to each upon a pro rata distribution thereof. Said money so set apart shall not be used by the state treasurer for any purpose other than to pay the warrant drawn by the state comptroller upon presentation of such certificates. Whenever the treasurer of any such county, city or town shall present such warrant to the state treasurer for payment, he shall pay to him such an amount as has been set apart under the provisions of this act to such county, city, or town, and no more, and shall pay from time to time when demanded such sums of money as have been so set apart to the treasurer of such county, city, or town, taking his receipt therefor. The state treasurer shall also charge the various counties, cities, and towns in their respective accounts with the amount or amounts so paid, and shall also at the time of payment endorse upon the back of such warrant the amount paid, the date when paid, and sign the same officially. When the whole amount of such warrant has been paid, it shall be by such county, city, or town treasurer presenting it received in full and delivered to the state treasurer.

Approved, April 4, 1889.

PRE-EMPTIONS.

Sec. 1. Repeals Revised Statutes, from Articles 3924 to 3936 inclusive.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 20.—[S. B. No. 25.] An act to repeal Chapter 8 and Articles Nos. 3924, 3925, 3926, 3927, 3928, 3929, 3930, 3931, 3932, 3933, 3934, 3935, and 3936, of title 79, of the Revised Statutes of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all of Chapter 8, in Title 79, consisting of Articles Nos. 3924, 3925, 3926, 3927, 3928, 3929, 3930, 3931, 3932, 3933, 3934, 3935, and 3936, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. Whereas the remaining vacant public domain is being daily sold to the great detriment of the State, an imperative public necessity exists which requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days should be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 23 yeas, 5 nays; and passed the house by a vote of 72 yeas, 15 nays.]

CHAP. 21.—[S. B. No. 336.] An Act to amend Article 4101, Title 84, Chapter 1, and Article 4278, Title 84, Chapter 13, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, providing for and regulating the incorporation of railroad companies.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 4101, Title 84, Chapter 1, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, providing for and regulating the incorporation of railroad companies, be and the same is hereby amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 4101. The persons proposing to form a railroad corporation shall adopt and sign articles of incorporation, which shall contain:

1. The name of the proposed corporation.
2. The places from and to which it is intended to construct the proposed railroad, and the intermediate counties through which it is proposed to construct the same; Provided, however, That local suburban railways may be constructed for any distance less than ten miles from the corporate limits of any city or town, in addition to such mileage as they may have within the same, and in such case the general direction shall be given from the beginning point.
3. The place at which shall be established and maintained the principal business office of the proposed corporation.
4. The time of the commencement and the period of the continuation of the proposed corporation.
5. The amount of the capital stock of the corporation.
6. The name and places of residence of the several persons forming the association for incorporation.
7. The name of the members of the first board of directors, and in what officers or persons the government of the proposed corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested.
8. The number and amount of shares in the capital stock of the proposed corporation.

Sec. 2. That Article 4278, Title 84, Chapter 13, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 4278. If any railroad corporation organized under this act shall not, within two years after its articles of association shall be filed and recorded as provided in the second section of this act, begin the construction of its road, and construct, equip, and put in good running order at least ten miles of its proposed road; and if any such railroad corporation, after the first two years, shall fail to construct, equip, and put in good running order at least twenty additional miles of its road each and every succeeding year until the entire completion of its line, such corporation shall, in either of such cases, forfeit its corporate existence, and its powers shall cease as far as relates to that portion of said road then unfinished, and shall be incapable of resumption by any subsequent act of incorporation. The provisions of this article shall not apply to or in any manner affect railway companies incorporated for the construction and operation of urban, suburban, and belt railroads for a distance of less than ten miles, as provided in clause two of section one of this act: Provided, That all such companies shall, within twelve months from the date of their charter, complete a portion of their road and commence and continue the running of cars thereon.

Sec. 3. Whereas the speedy construction of suburban local railroads is demanded by the needs of the growing cities of this state; and whereas the general interests of the people will be promoted by such speedy construction; therefore an emergency exists for the passage of this act, to take effect immediately: therefore be it further enacted that this act shall take effect from and after the date of its passage.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the end of this session rendering it improbable that this bill can be read on three several days creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring such reading, and said rule is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 23 yeas, 2 nays; and passed the house by a four-fifths vote.]

Approved, April 8, 1889.

RAILROADS.

Sec. 1. Adds Article 4205a to Chapter 8, Title 84, Revised Statutes, as to suits against.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 22.—[H. B. No. 364.] An Act to amend Chapter 8, Title 84, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Article 4205a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 8, Title 84, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Article 4205a, which shall read as follows:

Article 4205a. When any railroad company is sued for any property occupied by it for railroad purposes or for damages thereto, the court in which such suit is pending may determine all matters in dispute between the parties, including the condemnation of the property, upon petition or cross bill asking such remedy by defendant, but the plea for condemnation shall be an admission of the plaintiff's title to such property.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the end of this session of the legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 89 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate the sixteenth day of March, 1889.]

Approved, March 19, 1889.

RAILROADS.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 4338, as to connecting depots.

CHAP. 23.—[S. H. B. No. 59 and 302.] An Act to amend Article 4238 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That article 4238 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas be and the same is hereby so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Article 4238. The point at which two railroads cross or intersect each other is declared to be a depot for the receipt of freight and passengers: Provided, That this act shall not apply to crossings or intersections in or adjacent to cities and towns where a union depot is established: and it shall be the duty of each and every railroad company at each of such crossings of its road with another railroad in this state not in or within five miles of any city or town where a union depot is established, or where it is impracticable to establish a union depot, where the character of the land and grade of the roads at such crossing will admit of the same, to erect, build, and maintain, either jointly with the railroad company whose road is so crossed, or separately by each railroad company, a depot or passenger house, with room or rooms sufficient to comfortably accommodate all passengers awaiting the arrival and departure of trains from such junction or railroad crossing; and each and every railroad company shall keep its depots or passenger houses in this state lighted and warmed and open to the ingress and egress of all passengers a reasonable time before the arrival and after the departure of all trains carrying passengers on such railroad, or both of such railroads, if at a crossing. Each and every railroad company which shall fail, neglect, or refuse to comply with any provision of this section shall, for each day of any such failure, neglect, or refusal after this act takes effect, forfeit and pay the sum of twenty-five dollars, which may be recovered by and in the name of the state of Texas, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general, or the district or county attorney of the district or county in which said crossing or depot is situated, to sue, prosecute for, and recover the same.

Approved, April 8, 1889.

RAILROADS.

Sec.

1. As to rights of purchasers of roadbeds, etc., sold for debt.

Sec.

2. Jurisdiction over companies availing of the provisions of this law.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 24.—[S. H. B. No. 574.] An Act to amend Chapter 11, Title LXXXIV, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, so as to add thereto another article to be known as Article 4260a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 11, Title LXXXIV, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto the following article:

Article 4260a. That in case of any such sale heretofore or hereafter made of the roadbed, track, franchise, or chartered right of a railway company or any part thereof as mentioned in article 4260 above, the purchaser or purchasers thereof and their associates shall be entitled to form a corporation under chapter one of this title, for the purpose of acquiring, owning, maintaining, and operating the portion of the road so purchased as if such road or portion of the road were the road intended to be constructed by the corporation, and when such charter has been filed the said new corporation shall have all the powers and privileges conferred by the laws of this state upon chartered railroads, including the power to construct and extend: Provided, That notwithstanding such incorporation the portion of the road so purchased shall be subject to the same liabilities, claims, and demands in the hands of the new corporation as in the hands of the purchaser or purchasers of the sold out corporation: Provided, That by such purchase and organization no rights shall be acquired under any former charter or law in conflict with the provisions of the present constitution in any respect, nor shall the main track of any railroad once constructed and operated be abandoned or removed.

Sec. 2. No railway company availing itself of any of the privileges herein provided shall claim to be under the jurisdiction of the federal courts by reason thereof, and any railway company which may avail itself of the said privileges which shall claim to be subject to the jurisdiction of the federal courts in pursuance of this act shall ipso facto forfeit its reorganization and be remanded to the same condition as it was prior to said reorganization.

Sec. 3. Whereas there is in existence no law which sufficiently provides the manner in which a railroad company sold out under decree of the court or otherwise may form a corporation for the purpose of acquiring, owning, and extending such sold out property, and the lateness of the session, create an emergency and imperative public necessity authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage; therefore it so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 75 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate March 27, 1889.]

Approved, March 29, 1889.

RAILROAD COMPANIES.—RELIEF OF.

Sec. 1. For relief of railroad companies from forfeiture, under Article 4278, Revised Statutes.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 25.—[S. H. B. No. 319.] An Act for the relief of railway companies chartered since January 1, 1887, which have failed or may fail to comply with Article 4278, Revised Statutes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the time in which any railroad company is required to begin the construction of its road, and construct, equip, and put the same in good running order, as provided for in Article 4278 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, is and the same shall be extended until the first day of January, A. D. 1891. And any railway company which shall have forfeited its corporate existence, rights, and powers, by reason of failure to comply with said article 4278 in less than sixty days prior to the passage of this act, shall have restored and preserved to it its corporate existence, and it shall have and enjoy all of the corporate franchises, property, rights, and powers held or acquired by it previous to any cause of forfeiture on account of such failure as aforesaid: Provided, The benefit of this act shall not extend to any road which was chartered prior to January first, 1887: Provided further, That this act shall not be construed to revive, restore, or extend in favor of any railroad company any contract or agreement of any kind or character between said railroad and any other person or persons, which contract or agreement has or would become void or invalid if this act were not passed.

Sec. 2. The fact that no good can result to the state from the forfeitures provided against in this act, and that the public convenience will be promoted, and citizens in parts of the state having invested in railway enterprises saved from great loss unless the relief herein provided for be granted, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and demanding that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 88 yeas, 7 nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 21 yeas, 7 nays.]

Approved, January 26, 1889.

ROADS.

Sec. 1. Power of commissioners as to laying out and changing roads.

CHAP. 26.—[H. B. No. 42.] An Act to amend an act to amend Article 4360 of the Revised Statutes of Texas, Title 87, Chapter 1, approved February 2, 1884.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act to amend Article 4360, Revised Statutes, of the General Laws of 1884, page 19, shall be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 4360. The commissioners courts of the several counties shall have full powers and it shall be their duty to order the laying out and opening of public roads when necessary, and to discontinue or alter any road whenever it shall be deemed expedient as hereinafter prescribed: Provided, That hereafter no public road shall be altered or changed except for the purpose of shortening the distance from the point of beginning to the point of destination, unless the court upon a full investigation of the proposed change find that the public interest will be better served by making the change. That said change shall be by unanimous consent of all the commissioners elected.

Approved, April 2, 1889.

ROADS.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Articles 4410 and 4413, and adds Article 4429a.

Article 4410—Duty of hands.

Article 4413—Power to call out hands.

Article 4429a—Dismissal of hands.

CHAP. 27.—[S. H. B. No. 179.] An Act entitled An Act to amend articles 4410, 4413, and to add Article 4429a, of the Revised Statutes of Texas, in relation to public roads.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Articles 4410 and 4413 of the Revised Statutes be so amended as to hereafter read as follows, and that Article 4429a be added.

Article 4410. It shall be the duty of each road hand to perform his duties as such in accordance with the directions of his overseer, and a day's work, within the meaning of this act, shall be eight hours efficient service when said service is voluntarily performed.

Article 4413. Overseers of roads shall have the power to call out all persons liable to work upon public roads at any time such overseer may deem it necessary, or when ordered by the commissioners court or other competent authority, and such hands may be called out in detail, or the whole force at any one time, as may be deemed best, or as they may be directed, for the better improvement of the public roads.

Article 4429a. Overseers shall dismiss from their road any hand or hands, whether working for themselves or as substitutes for others, who shall fail to do good and efficient work, or who shall hinder other hands from doing their work properly, or dismiss any hand who may be intoxicated, or who shall refuse to obey any reasonable order of the overseers; and the overseer shall proceed against such hand or hands so dismissed in the same manner as if they had refused to obey the summons to work upon the road.

Approved, April 2, 1889.

BRIDGES

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 4434, as to bridging streams where dividing line of two counties, etc.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 28.—[S. B. No. 102.] An Act to amend Article 4434, Title LXXXVII, Chapter 5, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 4434, Title LXXXVII, Chapter 5, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be so amended as to read hereafter as follows:

Article 4434. Whenever any stream is the division line between counties, or when two or more counties are jointly interested in bridges, it shall be lawful for the counties so divided or interested to jointly erect bridges over said dividing stream, upon such equitable terms as the commissioners court of each county interested may agree upon; and if the commissioners court of the counties so divided by such stream or interested in the construction of such bridge shall fail to agree upon the terms of construction of such bridge, or the place where such bridge shall be placed over such dividing stream, then it shall be lawful for either county to erect a bridge or bridges over such dividing stream, and for this purpose the county commissioners courts of either county shall have the same authority and power to issue the bonds of the county as is now conferred upon said courts for the purpose of buying and constructing bridges for public use within the county.

Sec. 2. Whereas there is now no law providing for the relief and remedy sought to be accomplished by this bill, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring a suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 29 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 80 yeas, 1 nay.]

Approved, March 6, 1889.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 4466, increasing salary of superintendent.

CHAP. 29.—[S. B. No. 244.] An Act to amend Article 4466, Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 4466, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 4466. The superintendent of public buildings shall receive an annual salary of not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars.

Approved, March 29, 1889.

SHERIFFS.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Article 4520, limiting number of deputy sheriffs.

CHAP. 30.—[H. B. No. 396.] An Act to amend Article 4520, Title 91, Chapter 1. of the Revised Civil Code of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 4520, Chapter 1, Title 91, of the Revised Civil Code of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 4520. Sheriffs shall have power by writing to appoint one or more deputies for their respective counties, to continue in office during the pleasure of the sheriff, who shall have power and authority to perform all the acts and duties of the principals, and every person so appointed shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by the constitution, which shall be endorsed on his appointment, together with the certificate of the officer administering the same, and such appointment and oath shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk and deposited in said office: Provided, however, That the number of deputies appointed by the sheriff of any one county shall be limited to not exceeding three in the justice precinct in which is located the county site of such county; and a list of these appointments shall be posted up in a conspicuous place in the clerk's office so that all can see: Provided further, That no person shall be appointed a deputy sheriff who stands convicted for a felony, and an indictment for felony of any deputy sheriff appointed shall operate a revocation of his appointment as such deputy sheriff: Provided, That any sheriff may appoint one deputy in addition to the above enumerated for each justice precinct in addition to the precinct where the county site is situated; and all sheriffs having more deputies than are provided for in this act shall make the number of his deputies conform to the provisions of this act.

Whereas the near approach of the end of this session renders it improbable that this bill may be read on three several days, an emergency exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—Vote not shown on original enrolled bill.]

Approved, April 6, 1899.

STATISTICS AND HISTORY.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, by adding Article 4544a, making it penal for officer to refuse to give data, etc.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 31.—[H. B. No. 208.] An Act to amend Chapter 3, Title 92, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, relating to certain duties of state or county officers, by adding thereto Article 4544a, providing a penalty for failure or refusal to perform such duties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 3, Title 92, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 4544a. If any state or county officer shall fail or refuse to give such data, statistics, and information as herein provided, such state or county officer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature, and the improbability of the passage of this act in the ordinary course of legislation, creates an imperative public necessity requiring that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 78 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote 26 yeas, 1 nay.]

Approved, April 2, 1880.

OCCUPATION TAXES.

Sec. 1. Herein as to taxable occupations, sports, and amusements.

CHAP. 32.—[H. B. No. 84.] An Act to amend Section 3 of an act entitled "An Act to amend Articles 4602, 4664, and 4665, Chapter One, Title Ninety-Five, of the Revised Civil Statutes, as amended March the 24th, 1881," approved May the 4th, 1882.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 3 of an act entitled An Act to amend Articles 4602, 4664, and 4665, Chapter 1, Title 95, of the Revised Civil Statutes, as amended March 24th, 1881, approved May the 4th, 1882, shall hereafter read as follows:

Article 4665. That there shall be levied on and collected from every person, firm, company, or association of person pursuing any of the following named occupations an annual occupation tax, except when herein otherwise provided, on every such occupation or separate establishment, as follows:

From every merchant whose annual purchases amount to ten hundred thousand dollars, three hundred dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, two hundred and fifty dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to five hundred thousand dollars, two hundred dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, one hundred and fifty dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to one hundred thousand dollars, one hundred and twenty-five dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to fifty thousand dollars, sixty dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to twenty-five thousand dollars, twenty-five dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to fifteen thousand dollars, twenty dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to ten thousand dollars, twelve dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to five thousand dollars, six dollars; from every merchant whose annual purchases amount to two thousand dollars or less, three dollars. A merchant in the meaning of this act is any person, firm, or association of persons engaged in buying and selling lumber and shingles, goods, wares, and merchandise of any kind whatever.

From every traveling person selling patent or other medicine, one hundred and seventy-five dollars; and no traveling person shall so sell until said tax is paid: Provided, That this tax shall not apply to commercial travelers, drummers, or salesmen making sales or soliciting trade for merchants engaged in selling drugs or medicines by wholesale.

From every fortune teller, one thousand dollars; from every clairvoyant or mesmerist who plies his or her vocation for money, fifty dollars for each and every county in which such vocation is carried on.

From every person, firm, or association of persons engaged in discounting and shaving paper, or engaged in business as money brokers or bankers, or dealers in stocks, securities, or bills of exchange, or in buying and selling bonds, state or county, warrants or other claims against the state, an annual tax of twenty-five dollars in a city or town of not more than two thousand inhabitants; in a city or town of five thousand inhabitants and not less than two thousand, an annual tax of sixty dollars; in a city or town of ten thousand and not less than five thousand inhabitants, an annual tax of one hundred and twenty dollars; in a city or town of twenty thousand and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, an annual tax of one hundred and eighty dollars; in a city or town of more than twenty thousand inhabitants, an annual tax of two hundred and forty dollars.

From every operator or owner of any daguerrean, photograph, or other such like gallery, by whatever name called, if in any incorporated city or town of less than five thousand inhabitants, six dollars; if more than five thousand inhabitants, fourteen dollars; and if elsewhere, four dollars; and from every person soliciting work for any daguerrean, photograph, or such like gallery, or for persons engaged in the business of copying or enlarging pictures or photographs of any character, where such gallery is not situated in or such business is not in the county in which he solicits such work, seven dollars.

From every auctioneer doing business in a city of ten thousand inhabitants or more, an annual tax of forty dollars; from every auctioneer in a city or town of five thousand and not more than ten thousand inhabitants, twenty-five dollars; from every auctioneer in a city or town of two thousand inhabitants and not more than five thousand, ten dollars; from auctioneers in all other towns or villages, seven dollars.

From every keeper of a toll bridge, an annual tax of seven dollars.

From every person, firm, or association of persons following the occupation of ship brokers or ship agents, if in a city or town of ten thousand inhabitants or more, fifty dollars; if in a city or town of less than ten thousand inhabitants, ten dollars.

From every person, firm, or association of persons selling upon commission, an annual tax of seven dollars.

From every land agent there shall be collected an annual tax of five dollars. The term "land agent" shall be construed to mean any person, firm, or association of persons performing for compensation any of the following services: purchasing or selling real estate for others, purchasing or selling land certificates for others. But this term land agent shall not be so construed as to levy tax upon attorney in addition to the one hereinafter levied.

From every person practicing law, and from every conveyancer or other person drawing deeds or other legal instruments for pay, five dollars: Provided, That attorneys at law shall only pay county occupation tax in the county of his or their residence.

From every physician, surgeon, oculist, or medical or other specialist of any kind, traveling from place to place in the practice of his profession, an annual tax of fifty dollars in each county where he may practice his profession; from every dentist, five dollars.

From every person or firm keeping a shooting gallery at which a fee is paid or demanded, an annual tax of twenty-five dollars in each county.

From every person or firm keeping a knife, cane, or doll rack, or any other device upon which rings are pitched, or at which balls are thrown, an annual tax of one hundred dollars.

From every billiard, bagatelle, pigeon-hole, devil-among-the-tailors, or jenny-lind table, and pool table, or anything of the kind, used for profit, twenty dollars; and any such table used in connection with any drinking saloon or other place of business where intoxicating liquors, cigars, or other things of value are sold or given away, or upon which any money or any other thing of value is paid, shall be regarded as used for profit.

From every person, firm, or association of persons selling or offering for sale the Illustrated Police News, Police Gazette, Sporting World, or other illustrated publications of like character, the sum of five hundred dollars in each county in which sale may be made or offered to be made.

From any person or persons who shall sell pools on horse races or other contests, five dollars for each and every day they may so sell said pools.

For every nine or ten pin alley, or any other alley used for profit by whatever name called, constructed or operated upon the principle of a bowling alley, and upon which balls, rings, or other devices used as substitutes thereof are rolled, without regard to the number of pins used, or whether pins are used or not, or whether the balls, rings, or other devices are rolled by hand or with a cue or any other device, one thousand dollars. Any such alley used in connection with any drinking saloon or any drug store, or with any drug store where intoxicating liquors are sold or given away, or upon which any money or thing of value is paid, shall be regarded as used for profit.

From all persons keeping or using for profit any hobby horse or flying-jenny, or device of that character with or without name, sixteen dollars for each county wherein the same are kept or used.

From every foot peddler, five dollars in each county in which he peddles; for every peddler with one horse or one pair of oxen, the sum of fifteen dollars in each county where he peddles; for every peddler with two horses or two pair of oxen, thirty dollars in each county in which he may pursue such occupation; for every peddler with sail or other boat, in the streams or along the coast or bay of this state, thirty dollars in each county in which he may pursue such occupation: Provided, Any blind, deaf and dumb, or any wounded person who has lost a hand or a foot, shall not be required to pay any tax for peddling: Provided, Such persons shall not be exempt from said peddlers tax if in the employ of another person or persons; nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to include traveling vendors of tin or earthen ware: Provided further, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to include traveling vendors of literature exclusively religious in character, or traveling vendors of vegetable, poultry, or other country produce exclusively, fruit and fruit trees exclusively.

For every theater or dramatic representation from which pay for admission is demanded or received, two dollars for each day they may perform, or fifty dollars per quarter: Provided, That theatrical or dramatic representations given by performers for instruction only or entirely for charitable purposes shall not be herein included. For every circus where equestrian or acrobatic feats and performances are exhibited for which pay for admission is demanded or received, for each performance thereof fifty dollars, notwithstanding more than one such performance may take place daily; for every exhibition where acrobatic feats are performed for profit not connected with the circus, ten dollars for each performance; for every sleight-of-hand performance or exhibition of legerdemain, ten dollars; for every fight between man and man, or between men and bulls, or between dogs and bulls, or between bears and dogs, or between bulls and any other animals, or between dogs and dogs, five hundred dollars for each performance; for every cock pit, when kept for profit or upon which any money or thing of value is bet or paid, twenty-five dollars; for every menagerie, wax work, or exhibition of any kind where a separate fee for admission is demanded or received, ten dollars for every day on which fees for admissions are received: Provided, That exhibitions by associations organized for promotion of art, science, charity, or benevolence shall be exempt from taxation: Provided, That persons who form a museum composed entirely of the products of Texas shall have the right to exhibit same for a fee without paying any occupation tax. For every concert where a fee for admission is demanded or received, two dollars: Provided, That entertainments when given by the citizens for charitable purposes or for the support or aid of literary or cemetery associations are exempt.

For every livery or feed stable, thirty cents for each stall and thirty cents for each hack, buggy, or other vehicle; for every hack, buggy, or other vehicle left for hire not connected with a livery, feed, or sale stable, two dollars; for every wagon yard used for profit, not connected with a livery stable, five dollars.

From every life insurance company doing business in this state, an annual tax of three hundred dollars, and in every county in which they may do business, ten dollars as county tax; from every fire, marine, health, live stock, guarantee, or accident insurance company doing business in this state, an annual tax of two hundred dollars, and in every county in which they may do business, seven dollars as county tax. The state tax due from insurance companies shall be paid by such companies to the comptroller of public accounts, whose receipts under seal shall be evidence of payment of state tax, and the county collector's receipt shall be authority to work in any county of this state for which such company has a receipt.

From every person, firm, or association or [of] persons dealing in lightning rods, an annual tax of thirty-six dollars to the state and eighteen dollars as county tax to the county in which such business is carried on; upon every person canvassing for the sale of lightning rods, an annual tax of one hundred dollars and fifty dollars as county tax in each county in which such canvassing is done.

From every person, firm, or association of persons following the occupation of cotton broker, cotton factor or commission merchant in a city of more than five thousand inhabitants, an annual tax of thirty-five dollars, and in all other cases an annual tax of eighteen dollars: Provided, That a merchant who pays an occupation tax as under section 3 of this act shall not be considered as a "cotton broker." From every pawn broker an annual tax of seventy-five dollars. From every cotton buyer and every buyer of wool, ten dollars: Provided, That a merchant who pays an occupation tax as herein prescribed shall not be considered a cotton buyer or buyer of wool.

From every person, firm, agency, or association of persons dealing in sewing machines, an annual tax of fifteen dollars to the state and seven dollars as county tax in every county where such business may be carried on: Provided, That a merchant who pays an occupation tax as required by this section shall not be required to pay this special tax to sell sewing machines.

From every person or firm who peddles out clocks or cooking stoves or ranges over the county, two hundred and fifty dollars for the state and one hundred dollars for each county in which they make a sale: Provided, That a merchant who pays an occupation tax as required by this section shall not be required to pay this special tax for selling clocks and cooking ranges or stoves.

From any person, firm, or association of persons doing an express business in this state an annual tax of one thousand dollars shall be levied and collected, this tax to be paid by such person, firm, or association of persons doing an express business to the comptroller of public accounts, whose receipt under seal shall be issued to the company or companies, certified copies of which shall be evidence of the payment of the state, county, and municipal occupation tax: Provided, That said express companies may be allowed to sell money orders without paying an additional tax, but said express companies shall not be allowed to charge a greater per cent as commissions than postoffice money orders can be bought for: Provided further, That they shall not be required to sell any order for less than five (5) cents as a commission.

From every person, firm, or association of persons owning or running any palace, sleeping, or dining-room cars on any railroad in this state, there shall be collected an annual tax of fifty cents per mile for each and every mile of any and all railroads in this state over which such cars may run. The tax herein due shall be paid by such person, firm, or association of persons to the comptroller of public accounts, whose receipt under seal shall be issued to the person, company, or firm, certified copies of which shall be evidence of the payment of state tax: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall authorize the levy of any county or municipal tax upon such person, firm, or association of persons.

From every person, firm, or association of persons owning or running any railroad cars, steamboat, or stage coaches in this state, there shall be collected quarterly, on the first day of January, April, July, and October of each year, a tax of one per cent on steamboats and stage coaches and one per cent on railroads upon their gross receipts from all their passenger travel within this state. The said gross receipts to be returned under oath by said owner, agent, or manager, to the comptroller, and said tax to be collected by the comptroller under such regulations as he may prescribe: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall authorize the levy of any county or municipal tax upon such person, firm, or association of persons.

From every chartered telegraphic company doing business in this state, there shall be collected one cent for every full rate message sent by any person within this state to any person within this state, and one-half that for any message less than a full rate message so sent. This tax to be paid quarterly to the comptroller, on the sworn statement of the chief manager of said company or companies, or any other officer authorized by said company to make said statement, who shall keep a record of such messages; and the receipts of the comptroller, under seal, shall be issued to said company or companies, certified copies of which shall be evidence of the payment of the state tax: Provided, Railroad messages for running their trains and for company use shall not be taxed: Provided further, That nothing herein contained shall authorize the levy or collection of any county or municipal tax upon such chartered companies for messages sent and messages sent on official business by officers of the United States.

For each telephone company doing business in this state, an annual state tax of fifty dollars and five dollars to each county through which their lines may run.

From each gas company manufacturing gas in towns and cities of ten thousand or more inhabitants, thirty-five dollars; in towns and cities having less than ten thousand inhabitants, twenty dollars.

From each electric light company operating an electric light in a town or city of ten thousand inhabitants or more, thirty-five dollars annually; and in a town or city of less than ten thousand inhabitants, an annual tax of twenty dollars.

From every person, firm, or association of persons loaning money as agent or agents for any corporation, firm, or association, either in this state or out of it, an annual occupation tax of one hundred dollars for the State for the principal office and a county tax of ten dollars from each agent for each county in which he may do business, and no additional occupation tax shall be levied by any county, city, or town in the state.

From each and every person, party, partnership, or corporation engaged in the business of enquiring into and reporting upon the credit or standing of persons engaged in business in this State, or acting as agent or business manager in this State for any such person, party, partnerships, or corporation, two hundred and fifty dollars: And provided further, That no county, city, or town shall levy or collect any occupation tax upon or from any such person, party, partnership, joint stock association, or corporation. The payment of this tax, evidenced by the receipt of the comptroller of public accounts, shall exempt the company or party paying the same from the payment of this tax in any other county; and payment of such tax shall not be required of any sub-agent or correspondent of the party or company carrying on such business in this state.

From each skating rink, twenty-five dollars.

When the comptroller furnishes collectors with blank occupation tax receipts, he shall furnish the commissioners courts with the numbers and value of the receipts furnished to their respective collectors, and such courts shall charge their respective collectors with the number and such proportion of the value of the receipt so furnished as shall apply to the county tax when such collectors shall make their settlements with the comptroller. The comptroller shall furnish the commissioners courts with the numbers and value of the receipts used, and with the numbers and value of the receipts returned, and with the amount of the occupation taxes collected by their respective collectors.

Whereas the collectors of taxes are now required to settle their accounts with the state by April 30, and in order that they may comply with such requirement it is necessary that the occupation tax year should begin May 1, therefore an emergency and a public necessity exists that this take effect and be in force from and after May 1st, 1889, and it is so enacted.

Approved, April 6, 1889.

TAXATION.

- Sec. 1. Amends Act of April 2, 1887, which adds Article 4676a to Revised Statutes, concerning assessment of live stock.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 33.—[S. B. No. 22.] An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to amend Chapter 2, Title 96, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Article 4676a, providing for the assessment of live stock in pastures in the several counties in which such pastures are situated."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act to amend Chapter 2, Title 96, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Article 4676a, which shall read as follows:

Article 4676a. All persons, companies, and corporations owning pastures in this state which lie on county boundaries shall be required to list for assessment all live stock of every kind owned by them in said pastures in the several counties in which such pastures are situated, listing in each county such portion of said stock as the land in such county is of the whole pasture. All persons, companies, and corporations owning any kind of live stock in pastures not their own shall list said live stock in the several counties in which such pastures are situated in the same manner; and in both cases the tax upon such live stock shall be paid to the tax collectors of the several counties in which such live stock is listed and assessed.

Sec. 2. Whereas the assessors of taxes throughout the state for the present year are now engaged in or are about to commence the assessment of property in the various counties of the state; therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 89 yeas, 4 nays.]
Approved, February 13, 1889.

TAXATION.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, Articles 4742, 4743, adds 4743a.

Article 4742—Herein as to collectors reports.

Article 4743—Herein as to examination of such reports by commissioners court.

Article 4743a—Herein as to requiring collectors to pay to treasurer.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 34.—[H. B. No. 390.] An Act to amend Articles 4742 and 4743 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas, and to add thereto another article to be known as Article 4743a.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Articles 4742 and 4743 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas be so amended, and that Article 4743a be added thereto, so that hereafter the same shall read as follows:

Article 4742. At the end of each quarter the collector of taxes shall, on forms to be furnished him by the comptroller of public accounts, make a report under oath to the comptroller of all taxes collected by him for the state every three months. The first report shall include the months of October, November, and December; the second shall include the months of January, February, and March; the third shall include the months of April, May, and June; and the fourth shall include the months of July, August, and September, of each year; and he shall make like reports to the commissioners court of all taxes collected for the county. He shall file such reports, together with the tax receipt stubs and a true copy of his report to the comptroller, in the office of the county clerk. At the time of filing such reports the collector of taxes shall pay any balance in his hands due the county to the county treasurer, and remit any balance due the state to the state treasurer. The county clerk shall, within five days, examine the said reports and stubs, and if the reports and stubs agree in every particular as regards names, dates, and amounts, he, the clerk, shall certify to their correctness; but if they do not agree in any particular, he shall so certify. He, the clerk, shall then forward the report intended for the comptroller, with his certificate thereon, to such officer, and file the true copy thereof with the tax receipt stubs and the report intended for the commissioners court in his office.

Article 4743. It shall be the duty of the commissioners court, at its next regular session after the filing of any report provided for in the foregoing article, to examine such reports and compare the same with the tax rolls and tax receipt stubs and with the receipts and vouchers accompanying the same, and the collector of taxes shall appear before said commissioners court at such regular terms, and make a full statement of all taxes and money, both of the county and state, collected by him during the three months covered by such report. If any mistake is discovered in any such report, the commissioners court shall correct the same. If the collector of taxes is found to be still due the state or county for taxes collected during such quarter, he shall immediately pay to the county treasurer the amount due the county, and file a proper receipt therefor with the county clerk, and remit to the state treasurer the amount due the state, and file with such clerk a voucher showing that he has done so. When such reports are found to be correct, and the tax collector has paid to the county and state treasurer the full amount due the state and county respectively, the commissioners court shall enter an order approving said reports, with the order approving the same shall be recorded in the minutes as other proceedings of said court.

Article 4743a. If any collector of taxes shall have failed to pay over to the county treasurer the amount due by him to the county, or remit to the state treasurer the amount due the state, before the next term of the commissioners court after the filing of his reports as provided in the foregoing article, or shall, during such term, fail or refuse to pay or remit the same and file proper vouchers therefor as provided in said article, the commissioners court shall not approve his reports, but such court shall ascertain the amount due by him both to the county and state, and enter an order requiring him to pay the same to the proper treasurer, as is provided in Article 4769a, Section 2, of the Revised Statutes, and notify such collector to account as is provided for in Article 4769a, Section 3.

Sec. 2. The fact that there is now no adequate law providing for settlement with tax collectors, and the near approach of the end of the session, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 79 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 23 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 3, 1889.

TAXATION.

Sec. 1. Amends Revised Statutes, by adding Article 4759d, relating to redemption of land erroneously sold for taxes and purchased by State.
Emergency clause.

CHAP. 35.—[H. B. No. 3.] An Act to amend Article 4759, Chapter 4, Title 95, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the state of Texas, by adding thereto a new article to be styled Article 4759d.

Whereas many deeds to land are imperfect in that they do not give the abstract numbers or the original headright surveys correctly; and whereas many real estate owners have heretofore rendered and paid taxes upon their lands in this state under an incorrect abstract number or headright survey, or as unknown, the result of said erroneous rendition of lands for taxes being that in many instances the true headright surveys have been sold to the state for taxes when in fact the taxes due on said lands had previous to such tax sale been paid in full by the owners thereof: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 4759, Chapter 4, Title 95, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto a new article to be styled Article 4759d, to read as follows, to wit:

Article 4759d. The commissioners courts of the several counties in this state shall at the regular terms of said courts sit as a court of inquiry in cases where land has been erroneously rendered for taxes; and any land owner whose land has been or may be sold to the state for taxes may appear before said court in person or by proxy and show to the satisfaction of a majority of said court that the taxes for which his or her lands has been sold have been paid, although the same was rendered in an incorrect abstract number or survey or original grantee; thereupon said commissioners court shall issue to the said land owner a certificate setting forth fully said facts, which certificate shall be signed officially by the county judge of said county; and upon the presentation of said certificate to the comptroller of public accounts he shall execute and deliver to said land owner a valid deed relinquishing all the right, title, and interest the state may have acquired in and to said land by reason of such tax sale.

Whereas many deeds to land are imperfect in that they do not give abstract numbers, and many tracts have been erroneously sold for taxes, and the law provides no method for correcting such mistakes, therefore an emergency exists which requires that the constitutional rule requiring that bills be read on three several occasions be suspended and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 81 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, February 23, 1889.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

Sec. 1. Commissioner of agriculture, etc., authorized to sell.
Emergency clause.

CHAP. 36.—[H. B. No. 500.] An Act to authorize the commissioner of agriculture, insurance, statistics, and history to sell certain weights and measures.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioner of agriculture, insurance, statistics, and history is hereby authorized to sell sets or parts of sets of standard weights and measures heretofore manufactured in accordance with Article 4850, Revised Statutes, at the present cost of manufacturing.

Whereas the session is near its close, therefore public necessity authorizes the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, said rule is suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a four-fifth vote; and passed the senate by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 6, 1889.

PART II.

Amendments to Penal Code.

UNLAWFULLY CARRYING ARMS.

Sec. 1. Amends an act to amend Article 318 of Penal Code—Changes the penalty for violation thereof.

CHAP. 37.—[S. B. No. 3.] An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to amend Article 318, Chapter 4, Title 9, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas," passed by the Twentieth Legislature, and approved February 24, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 318 of the Penal Code shall be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 318. If any person in this state shall carry on or about his person, saddle, or in his saddle-bags, any pistol, dirk, dagger, slung-shot, sword-cane, spear, or knuckles made of any metal or any hard substance, bowie-knife, or any other knife manufactured or sold for purposes of offense or defense, he shall be punished by fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten nor more than thirty days, or both by such fine and imprisonment; and during the time of such imprisonment such offender may be put to work upon any public work in the county in which said offense is committed.

Approved, January 30, 1889.

DISORDERLY HOUSES.

Sec. 1. Amends Article 339, Chapter 83, Act of March 29, 1887, and Penal Code, Article 341.

Article 339. Defines "disorderly house."

Article 341. Penalty for keeping or knowingly permitting such house to be kept, etc.

Article 341a. Penalty for owner, lessee, etc., of theatres, etc., where liquors are sold, employing prostitutes, etc.

Article 341b. Enjoins extraordinary diligence on sheriffs, judges, etc.

CHAP. 38.—[S. B. No. 120.] An Act to amend Article 339, Chapter 83, of the General Laws of Texas, approved March 29, 1887, and Article 341, Chapter 4, Title 10, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, and by adding thereto Articles 341a and 341b.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 339, Chapter 83, of the General Laws of Texas, approved March 29, 1887, and Article 341, Chapter 4, Title X, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows, and by adding thereto Articles 341a and 341b:

Article 339. A disorderly house is one kept for prostitution, or where prostitutes are permitted to resort or reside for the purpose of plying their vocation, or any theatre, play house, or house where spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors are kept for sale, and prostitutes, lewd women, or women of bad reputation for chastity are employed, kept in service, or permitted to display or conduct themselves in a lewd, lascivious, or indecent manner, or to which persons resort for the purpose of smoking or in any manner using opium.

Article 341. Any owner, lessee, or tenant who shall keep, or be concerned in keeping, or knowingly permit the keeping of a disorderly house in any house, building, edifice, or tenement owned, leased, or occupied by him, shall be deemed guilty of keeping, or being concerned in keeping, or knowingly permitting to be kept, as the case may be, a disorderly house, and shall be punished by a fine of two hundred dollars for each day he shall keep, be concerned in keeping, or knowingly permit to be kept such disorderly house. Any owner having information that his house is being kept, used or occupied as a disorderly house shall be held guilty of knowingly permitting his house to be kept as a disorderly house under this act, unless he shall immediately proceed to prevent the keeping, using, or occupying of such house for such purpose by giving such information to the county or district attorney against such lessee, tenant, or occupant for violation of this act, or take such other action as may reasonably accomplish such result.

Article 341a. Every owner, lessee, tenant, or manager of any theatre, dance house, play house, or house where spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors are kept for sale, who shall knowingly employ or have in service in any capacity in such theatre, play house, or house where spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors are kept for sale, any prostitute, lewd women, or woman of bad reputation for chastity, or who shall permit any prostitute, lewd woman, or woman of bad reputation for chastity to display or conduct herself therein in a lewd, lascivious or indecent manner, shall be deemed guilty of keeping a disorderly house, and shall be punished by a fine not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. Each day that such person is kept in service or employed or permitted to display or conduct themselves as hereinbefore provided, shall be deemed a separate offense.

Article 341b. Sheriffs and their deputies, constables and their deputies, mayors, marshals, chiefs of police, their deputies and assistants, and policemen of towns and cities are especially charged diligently to discover and report to the proper legal authorities, and by all lawful means to aid in the enforcement of the law for all violations of the articles of this chapter; the district judges are required to give them specially in charge to the grand juries, and grand juries are required at every term of the district court of their county to call before them each and all officers charged with the enforcement of the articles of this chapter and examine them under oath touching their knowledge and information of violations thereof, and as to their diligence in their enforcement.

Approved, April 4, 1889.

OFFENSES RELATING TO THE PROTECTION OF FISH, BIRDS, AND GAME.

Sec. 1. Article 430. Counties exempt from Articles 426, 426½, 427, 428, 429, and 423, 424, 425.

Article 430a. As to taking oysters for planting.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 39.—[H. B. No. 410.] An Act to amend an act passed at the Regular Session of the Twentieth Legislature and approved April 2, 1887, entitled "An Act to amend Article 430 of Section 1 and to repeal Section 2 of an act entitled An Act to amend Articles 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430a, and to create Article 426½, and to repeal Article 430, of Chapter 5, Title 13, of the Penal Code of the Revised Statutes, for the protection of fish and game," approved March 15, 1881.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 430 of Section 1 of an act entitled "An Act to amend Articles 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, and 430a, and to create Article 426½, and to repeal Article 430, of Chapter 5, Title 13, of the Penal Code of the Revised Statutes, for the protection of fish and game," approved March 15, 1881, be so amended as to read as follows:

Article 430. That the following counties are hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426, 426½, 427, 428, and 429, of this chapter, to wit: Nacogdoches, Hood, Bosque, Somervell, Sabine, San Augustine, Shelby, Titus, Franklin, Hunt, Rockwall, Hopkins, Montgomery, Brazos, Rains, Williamson, Wood, Coryell, Hamilton, Brown, Mills, Comanche, Runnels, Cooke, Wise, Montague,

Madison, Leon, Clay, Parker, Jack, and the unorganized counties attached to the same for judicial purposes; Ellis, Anderson, Freestone, Cherokee, Stephens, Eastland, Erath, Comanche, Palo Pinto, Polk, Guadalupe, Throckmorton, Shackelford, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Nolan, Mitchell, Haskell, Stonewall, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher Howard Martin, Andrews, Archer, Wichita, Baylor, Wheeler, Oldham, Knox, King, Dickson, [Dickens,] Crosby, Wilbarger, Childress, Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, Lamar, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Hall, Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, Parmer, Greer, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Gray, Carson, Potter, Hutchinson, Hartley, Moore, Roberts, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Sherman, Hardeman, Dallam, Smith, Upshur, Cass, San Jacinto, Camp, Dimmit, Maverick, Kinney, Cameron, Jackson, Robertson, Kaufman, and the unorganized county of Zavala: Provided, That the exemption from the operation of this law shall not apply to Article 425: And provided, That the counties of Grimes, Angelina, Van Zandt, Walker, Trinity, Parker, Jack, Young, and Bell are hereby exempted from Articles 425, 426, 426½, 427, 428, and 429 of this act: And provided, That the county of Houston is hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426, 426½, 427, 428, and 429 of this act: And provided, That the counties of Fannin, Delta, and Hopkins are hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426 and 426½: And provided, That the counties of Lee and Fayette are exempted from the provision of Articles 426 and 429: And provided, That the counties of Bastrop, Frio, and Brazoria are hereby exempted from the provisions of Article 429: And provided, That the counties of Gonzales, Karnes, Atascosa, [and] Morris are hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 426, 426½, 427, and 428: And provided, That the counties of Bowie and Rusk are hereby exempted from the provisions of Articles 427, 428, and 429: And provided further, That the counties of Titus, Franklin, Rains, and Wood shall be exempted from the provisions of Article 423; and the counties of Waller, Tyler, Jasper, and Newton shall be exempted from the provisions of Article 426: Provided further, That the counties of Burnet and Lampasas are hereby exempt from the game and fish laws of this state: Provided, That the county of Karnes shall be exempted from the provisions of Articles 423, 424, 425, and 426.

Article 430a. That persons may take oysters from their beds within the prohibited time for the purpose of planting.

Sec. [2]. The fact that the provisions of the game law are now in force in certain counties herein exempted from the operations of the game law, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 86 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 23 yeas, no nays.] Approved, April 4, 1889.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

Sec. 1. Amends Penal Code, Article 683, by adding Article 683b, for protection of moving trains.

CHAP. 40.—[H. B. No. 33.] An Act to amend Article 683, Chapter 3, Title 17, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, relating to "Malicious Mischief," and providing a penalty therefor by adding thereto Article 683b.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 683 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas read as follows, to wit:

Article 683. If any person shall wilfully and mischievously injure or destroy any growing fruit, corn, grain, or other like agricultural products, or if any person shall wilfully or mischievously injure or destroy any real or personal property of and description whatever, in such manner as that the injury does not come within the description of any of the offenses against property otherwise provided for by this code, he shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars: Provided, That when the value of the property injured is fifty dollars or less, then in that event he shall be punished by fine not exceeding two hundred dollars.

Article 683b. That any person who shall wilfully or maliciously throw a stone or other missile or fire a gun or pistol at or into any coach or passenger car of a moving railway train, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum of not less than twenty-five dollars and not more than one thousand dollars.

Approved, March 22, 1889.

OFFENSES AGAINST PROPERTY.

Sec. 1. Amends Chapter 15, Title 17, of Penal Code—adding Article 772a. Imposing penalty on inspector or deputy failing to examine and inspect hides, etc.

Article 772b. Imposing penalty on inspector for failure to keep book and record statement, etc.

Article 772c. As to certificate by inspector.

Article 772d. Return of certified copies to county clerk.

CHAP. 41.—[H. B. No. 336.] An Act to amend Chapter 15, of Title 17, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, by the addition of Articles 772a, 772b, 772c, 772d.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 15, of Title 17, of the Penal Code of the State of Texas, be amended by the addition of the following articles:

Article 772a. If any inspector or deputy inspector of hides and animals shall knowingly fail or refuse to faithfully examine and inspect all hides or animals known or reported to him as sold, or as leaving or going out of the county for sale or shipment, and all animals driven or sold in his district for slaughter, packeries, or butcheries, shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars.

Article 772b. Any inspector of hides and animals who shall fail to provide and keep a well bound book and record therein a correct statement, showing the number, ages, and marks and brands of each animal inspected by him or by his deputy or deputies, and the number and all the marks and brands of all hides inspected by him or by his deputy or deputies, and whether the hides are dry or green, and the name or names of the vendor or vendors and of the purchaser or purchasers of said animals or hides, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than three hundred dollars.

Article 772c. Any inspector or deputy inspector of hides and animals who shall fail to correctly state in his certificate of inspection or in his certificate of acknowledgment all the marks and brands of all animals and hides inspected by him, shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than three hundred dollars.

Article 772d. Any inspector of hides and animals who shall fail to return a certified copy of all entries made in his record during each month to the clerk of the county court of his county on the last day of each month, shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than three hundred dollars.

Approved, April 4, 1889.

PART III.

Amendments to Code of Criminal Procedure.

VENUE IN CRIMINAL ACTIONS.

- Sec. 1. Amends Code of Criminal Procedure, adding Articles 216a, 216b.
Article 216a. Property stolen in one county and removed to another; accomplices and accessories; prosecuted, where.
Article 216b. Offense of receiving and concealing stolen property; prosecuted, where.

CHAP. 42.—[H. B. No. 290.] An Act to create Articles 216a and 216b, of Title 4, Chapter 2, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Title 4, Chapter 2, of an act entitled An Act to adopt and establish a Code of Criminal Procedure for the State of Texas, passed February 21, 1879, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 216a. Accomplices and accessories to the crime of theft may be prosecuted in any county where the theft was committed, or in any other county through or into which the property may be carried by either the principal, accomplice, or accessory to the offense.

Article 216b. The offense of receiving and concealing stolen property may be prosecuted in the county where the theft was committed, or in any other county through or into which the property may have been carried by the person stealing the same, or in any county where the same may have been received or concealed by the offender.

Approved, April 4, 1889.

EVIDENCE IN CRIMINAL ACTIONS.

- Sec. 1. Authorizes defendants to testify in criminal actions.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 43.—[H. B. No. 445.] An Act to repeal Exception four (4) to Article 730, Chapter 7, Title 8, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, in relation to persons competent to testify in criminal actions, and to permit the defendant in a criminal action to testify in his own behalf.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Exception four (4) to Article 730, Chapter 7, Title 8, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, be and the same is hereby repealed, and that hereafter any defendant in a criminal action shall be permitted to testify in his own behalf therein, but the failure of any defendant to so testify shall not be taken as a circumstance against him, nor shall the same be alluded to or commented on by counsel in the cause: Provided, That where there are two or more persons jointly charged or indicted, and a severance is had, the privilege of testifying shall be extended only to the person on trial.

Sec. 2. Whereas the law as it now exists prohibits defendants in criminal actions from testifying therein, thereby often suppressing a knowledge of all the facts in the cause, therefore an imperative public necessity and emergency exists requiring that the constitutional rule which requires all bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 87 yeas, 6 nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 19 yeas, 8 nays.]

COSTS PAID BY THE STATE.

- Sec. 1. Article 1054. Sheriff's fees in felony cases.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 44.—[S. B. No. 374.] An Act to amend "An Act to amend Article 1054, Chapter 2, Title 15, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, as amended by an act of the Twentieth Legislature," approved April 7, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1054, Chapter 2, Title 15, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, as amended by an act of the Twentieth Legislature, approved April 7, 1887, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1054. To the sheriff or constable shall be allowed the following fees: In all cases of felony, where the defendant has been brought to trial, whether he be convicted or acquitted, or when the case is disposed of by nolle prosequi or judgment of dismissal: Provided, however, That the fees provided for in this article under subdivision 8 shall be due and payable when the account shall be allowed and approved as therein provided.

1. For executing each warrant of arrest or capias, or for making arrest without warrant, when authorized by law, the sum of one dollar, and five cents for each mile actually and necessarily traveled going and returning in executing the same.

2. For summoning or attaching each witness, fifty cents.

3. For summoning jury in each case, where jury is actually sworn in the case and defendant tried or case disposed of, two dollars.

4. For executing death warrants, fifty dollars.

5. For removing a prisoner, for each mile going and coming, including guards and all other expenses, when traveling by railroad, fifteen cents, when traveling otherwise than by railroad, twenty-five cents: Provided, That where more than one prisoner is removed at the same time, in addition to the foregoing he shall only be allowed ten cents a mile for each additional prisoner: Provided further, That where an officer goes beyond the limits of the state after a fugitive on requisition of the governor, he shall receive such compensation as the governor shall allow for such service.

6. For each mile the officer may be compelled to travel in executing criminal process, summoning or attaching witnesses, five cents: Provided, That in no case shall he be allowed to duplicate his mileage when two or more witnesses are named in the same or different writs in any case, and he shall serve process on them in the same vicinity or neighborhood, or during the same trip he shall not charge mileage for serving each witness to and from the county seat, but shall only charge one mileage and for such additional miles only as are actually and necessarily traveled in summoning or attaching each additional witness. Where process is sent by mail to an officer away from the county seat, or returned by mail by such officer, he shall only be allowed to charge mileage for the miles actually traveled by him in executing such process, and the return of the officer shall show the character of the service and the miles actually traveled in accordance with this sub-division, and his accounts shall show the facts in detail.

7. To officers for service of criminal process not otherwise provided for, the sum of five cents a mile going and returning shall be allowed: Provided, If two or more persons are mentioned in the same or different writs, the rule prescribed in sub-division six shall apply.

8. For conveying a witness attached by him to any courts out of his county, or when directed by the judge from any other county to the court where the case is pending, two dollars and fifty cents per day for each day actually and necessarily consumed in going to and returning from such court and his actual necessary expenses by the nearest practicable route, or nearest practicable public conveyance, the amount to be stated by him in an account, which shall show the place at which the witness was attached, the distance to nearest railroad station, and miles actually traveled to reach the court; if horses or vehicles were used, from whom hired and price paid and length of time consumed, and amount paid out for feeding horses and to whom; if meals and lodging were provided, from whom and where and what price paid: Provided, That officers shall not be entitled to receive exceeding fifty cents per meal and thirty-five cents per night for lodging for any witness. Said account shall also show, before said officers shall be entitled to compensation for expenses of attached witnesses, that the witness was called upon by him to give bond, and was offered by him an opportunity to give bond to appear before the proper court, and was unable or refused so to do. And the officer shall also present to the court the affidavit of the witness to same effect, or shall show that the witness refused to make the affidavit, and should it appear to the court that the witness was able and willing to give bond the sheriff shall not be entitled to any compensation for conveying such witness; and said accounts shall be sworn to by the officer before an officer authorized to administer oaths, and shall state that said account is true, just, and correct in every particular, and present same to the judge, who shall during such term of court carefully examine such account, and if found to be correct, in whole or in part, shall so certify and allow the same for such an amount as he may find to be correct; and if by him allowed, in whole or in part, he shall so certify; and such account, with the affidavit of the sheriff and certificate of the judge, shall be recorded by the clerk of the district court, in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, which shall constitute a part of the minutes or proceedings of the court, and the clerk shall certify to the original account and shall show that same has been so recorded, and said account shall then become due, and same shall constitute a voucher on which the comptroller is authorized to issue a warrant, and such minutes of the court or a certified copy thereof, may be used in evidence against the officer making the affidavit for perjury in case said affidavit shall be wilfully false. Where the officer receiving a writ for the attachment of such witnesses shall take a bond for the appearance of any such witness, he shall be entitled to receive from the state one dollar for each bond so taken, but he shall be responsible to the court issuing said writ that said bond is in proper form and has been executed by the witness, with one or more good and solvent securities, and said bond shall in no case be less than one hundred dollars: Provided, Comptroller may require from such officer a certified copy of all such process before auditing any account.

9. All laws in conflict with this article are hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature, and the fact the changes made in the law by the amendments proposed in this act are of the utmost importance and public good, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is so suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

COSTS PAID BY THE STATE.

Sec. 1. Amends Code of Criminal Procedure, Article 1056, as amended April 12, 1883.

Article 1056. Fees of district clerk in felony cases.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 45.—[S. B. No. 375.] An Act to amend Article 1056, Chapter 2, Title 15, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, as amended by an act of the Eighteenth Legislature, approved April 12, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Article 1056, Chapter 2, Title 15, of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, as amended by an act of the Eighteenth Legislature, approved April 12, 1883, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 1056. The clerk of the district court shall receive for each felony case tried in such court by jury, whether the defendant be convicted or acquitted, the sum of ten dollars. For each transcript on appeal or change of venue, ten cents for each one hundred words. For each felony case finally disposed of without trial, or dismissed, or nolle prosequi entered, ten dollars. For recording each account of sheriffs, as provided for in Article 1054, Code of Criminal Procedure, the sum of fifty cents.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature renders it doubtful if this bill can be reached on its regular call on the calendar, and the importance of the changes herein proposed are of such importance as to create an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is so suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

COUNTY BOUNDARIES.

Sec. 1. Repealing clause.

2. Amends Section 8, of Act April 22, 1879, relating to ascertainment of county boundaries.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 47.—[H. B. No. 512.] An Act to repeal an act to amend Section 8 of "An Act establishing and prescribing the manner of ascertaining the boundaries of counties," approved March 18, 1885, and to re-enact Section 8 of an act establishing and prescribing the manner of ascertaining the boundaries of counties, approved April 22, 1879.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act to amend section 8 of "An Act establishing and prescribing the manner of ascertaining the boundaries of counties," approved March 18, 1885, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. That said section 8 of "An Act establishing and prescribing the manner of ascertaining the boundaries of counties," approved April 22, A. D. 1879, be and the same is hereby re-enacted, to read as follows:

Section 8. That should the surveyors above provided for fail to agree as to the true boundary line between their respective counties, the facts of such disagreement, with a full statement of the questions at issue between them, shall be by them reported to the commissioner of the general land office, whose duty it shall be to examine the disputed matter at once, and from such data as the maps and archives of his office furnish shall designate to such surveyors the line to be run, stating at what specific point they shall begin and to what specific point they shall run, adhering as nearly as possible to the line designated in the act creating such county line, which instruction shall be authority for said surveyors to run such line, and the line so run as above directed shall thereafter be the true dividing line between said counties.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of this session creates a necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days, and the same is therefore suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a four-fifth vote; and passed the senate March 30, 1889.]

Approved, April 2, 1889.

PENSIONS.

Sec. 1. Amends Sections 1 and 2, Act of 1885.

§ [2]. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 48.—[S. S. B. No. 58.] An Act to amend Sections 1 and 2 of an act entitled An Act to provide annual pensions for the surviving indigent soldiers or indigent volunteers of the Texas Revolution, and the indigent surviving signers of the Declaration of Independence, and the indigent surviving widows of such soldiers, volunteers, or signers, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith, passed by the Nineteenth Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Sections 1 and 2 of the above recited act be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

[Section 1.] That to every surviving indigent soldier or indigent volunteer who was in the actual military or naval service of Texas at the time of the siege of Bexar, in December, 1835, or at the time of the battle of San Jacinto, in April, 1836, or who actually participated in any battle in Texas in 1836, or who was in such actual military service for as much as six weeks between the commencement of the revolution at Gonzales in 1835 and the first day of January, 1837, and to every indigent surviving signer of the Declaration of the Independence of Texas, and to every indigent surviving widow of any such soldier, volunteer, or signer, who is and has always been unmarried since the death of such soldier, volunteer or signer, and so long as such widow may remain unmarried, there shall be and is hereby granted an annual pension of one hundred and fifty dollars as hereinafter provided.

Section 2. Each applicant for a pension under this act shall make application in writing for the same to the county judge of the county of his or her residence, and shall post a copy of such application on the court house door of the county for at least thirty days before the application is acted on by the county judge. Such application shall state the name, age, and residence of the applicant, whether or not this applicant received any pension or veteran donation land certificate under any previous law, a list of the real and personal property owned by the applicant and the present value of the same, and what property and the value thereof that such applicant has sold or conveyed within twelve months prior to the date of such application; and shall further state that the applicant is in indigent circumstances, and is dependent upon his or her labor or on the charity of others for a support: Provided, That the word "indigent," within the meaning of this act, shall not allow the ownership of property to exceed one thousand dollars; and that the applicant has not transferred to others any property or values of any kind for the purpose of becoming a beneficiary under this act; and still further, that such applicant is and was for one year preceding the date of the passage of this act a bona fide resident citizen of this state. And in addition to the foregoing, each male applicant shall further state the time he rendered such service and the command he served in; and each female applicant shall state the name of her deceased husband, the date of his death, that she is unmarried and has so remained since the death of the husband for whose services she claims a pension; and shall further state, as accurately as she can, the time her said deceased husband rendered such service and the command he served in. Should the applicant be a signer of such declaration of independence, or a widow of such signer, he or she shall state all that is hereinbefore required, except as to the military service, and in lieu of which it shall state that the applicant was a signer of such declaration of independence, or is the widow of such signer, which application shall be subscribed and sworn to by the applicant, and the same shall be supported by affidavits of at least two credible witnesses who reside in the state, and shall show that the facts stated by the applicant is known and regarded in his or her neighborhood as a Texas veteran or signer of the declaration of independence, or the widow of a Texas veteran or signer of the declaration of independence. Any veteran whose application and proof heretofore made to the comptroller are in compliance with the requirements of this act shall be entitled to his or her pension on presenting such application and proof to the comptroller, without further proof being made; and where such application and proof has been returned to the applicant by the comptroller, said application may re-file the same as if made under this act: Providing, That such application has not heretofore been declared fraudulent.

Sec. 3 [2]. As the applicants and beneficiaries under the provisions are aged and many of them in immediate need of aid in supplying the necessaries of life, an immediate necessity and emergency exists that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 22 yeas, 2 nays; and passed the house by a vote of 58 yeas, 29 nays.]

BREWSTER, JEFF DAVIS, BUCHEL, AND FOLEY COUNTIES—BOUNDARIES OF.

- Sec. 1. Defines boundaries of said counties.
- 2. Emergency clause.

[CHAP. 49.—[H. S. S. B. No. 191.] An Act to amend Section 1, Chapter 4, of an act entitled An Act to create the county of Brewster, and provide for its organization, approved February 2, 1887; and also to amend Section 1, Chapter 38, of an act entitled An Act to create the counties of Buchel, Foley, and Jeff Davis out of the county of Presidio, approved March 15, 1887; and to more particularly define, fix, and establish the boundary lines of said counties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the boundary lines of Brewster, Jeff Davis, Buchel, and Foley counties are hereby established and defined as follows:

A. The county of Brewster is bounded as follows: Beginning at the southeast corner of survey No. 36, certificate No. 3376, G. C. and S. F. Ry. Co.; thence south to the Rio Grande; thence down the Rio Grande to the southeast corner of survey No. 36, certificate No. 1906, block No. 16, G. H. & S. A. Ry. Co.; thence north to the Pecos County line; thence northwest along the Pecos County line to a point due north of Leoncita Springs; thence in a southwest direction to the place of beginning.

B. The county of Jeff Davis is bounded as follows: Beginning at the northwest corner of Brewster County, the southeast corner of survey No. 36, certificate No. 3376, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co.; thence northwest to the northeast corner of survey No. 54, certificate No. 714, T. & P. Ry. Co., block No. 1; thence west to the northeast corner of survey No. 117, certificate No. 747, H. & T. C. Ry. Co., block No. 4; thence north to the southeast corner of survey No. 127, certificate No. 747, H. & T. C. Ry. Co., block No. 4; thence west to the southeast corner of El Paso County, on the Rio Grande; thence north along the east line of El Paso County to the corner of El Paso and Reeves counties; thence in a southeast direction along the former north boundary line of Presidio County to the northeast corner of Brewster County; thence along the north boundary line of Brewster County in a westwardly course to the place of beginning.

C. Buchel county is bounded as follows: Beginning at the northeast corner of Brewster County on the Presidio and Pecos County line; thence south with the east line of Brewster County sixty miles; thence east to the Rio Grande; thence down said river with its meanders to the Pecos County line; thence in a north-westerly direction along said Pecos County line to the place of beginning.

D. The county of Foley is bounded as follows: Beginning at the southeast corner of Brewster County on the Rio Grande; thence north along the east line of Brewster County to the southwest corner of Buchel County; thence east along the south line of said Buchel County to the Rio Grande; thence up the Rio Grande with its meanders to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2. Whereas in the creation of the counties of Brewster and Jeff Davis, and fixing their boundaries, they were placed within less than twelve miles of Marfa, the county seat of Presidio County, the county from which they were taken, this creates a doubt as to their constitutionality; therefore an imperative necessity is created, and an emergency exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is suspended, it is so enacted, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 81 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 27 yeas, no nays.]
Approved, March 27, 1889.

FENCES.

Sec.

1. Unlawful for owner of party fence to remove except as herein provided.

Sec.

2. Notice of intention to remove.
3. Notice requiring removal.

CHAP. 50.—[H. B. No. 516.] An Act to amend An Act to provide for the separation or partition of adjoining fences, and to provide a penalty for the violations of the provisions of this act, passed by the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Texas, approved March 17, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act entitled An Act to provide for the separation or partition of adjoining fences, and to prescribe a penalty for the violation of the provisions of the same, passed by the Twentieth Legislature and approved March 17, 1887, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1. That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person who is a joint owner of any separating or dividing fence, or who is in any manner interested in any fence attached to or connected with any fence owned or controlled by any other person, to remove the same except by mutual consent or as hereinafter provided.

Section 2. Any person who is the owner or part owner of any fences connected with or adjoined to any fences owned in part or in whole by any other person, shall have the right to withdraw or separate his fence or part of fence from the fence of any other person or persons in this state; that such person who desires to withdraw or separate such fence from the fence of any other person shall give notice in writing to such person, his agent, attorney, or lessee, of his intention to separate or withdraw his fence or part thereof for at least six months prior to the time of such intended withdrawal or separation. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be fined in any sum not less than two dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and every ten days shall constitute a separate offense for the violation of this act.

Section 3. That any person who is the owner of any fence wholly upon his own land to which the fence of another is adjoined or connected in any manner, may require the owner of any such fence to disconnect and withdraw the same back on his own land by first giving notice in writing for at least six months to such person, his agent, attorney, or lessee, to disconnect and withdraw his fence back on his own land. That any person who shall negligently or wilfully fail to disconnect his fence and remove the same back upon his own land after the expiration of said notice, shall be fined in any sum not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, and each ten days failure after such notice shall constitute a separate offense for the violation of the provisions of this act.

Sec. 4 [2]. Whereas an early adjournment of this session renders it impossible for bills to be read on three several days, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity demands that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Where there is a depot or place for the shipment of cattle, no inspector of hides and animals shall be elected, but one for each of such counties, except the counties of Nueces and Cameron, shall be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate, who shall hold office for two years and until his successor shall be appointed and confirmed; said inspector so appointed to take the constitutional oath of office and give the bond now required of inspectors of hides and animals, and such inspector shall receive the same fees now allowed to inspectors of hides and animals, and perform the same duties; Provided, That such cattle shall not be subject to inspection on board of any railroad unless the same have been placed on board of such train for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act: And provided further, That the counties of Limestone, Fayette, Lavaca, Gonzales, Colorado, Bell, Calhoun, Cameron, Duval, Encinal, Webb, Zapata, Starr, Hidalgo, Hays, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Blanco, Llano, Kendall, Comal, Houston, Austin, Jackson, Victoria, Freestone, Hamilton, Williamson, Milam, Live Oak, Harris, Bosque, Erath, Hood, Somervell, Liberty, and Fannin counties shall be exempt from all laws regulating inspection of hides.

Sec. 2. That the counties of Wichita, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Childress, Donley, Armstrong, Carson, Potter, Oldham, Hartley, Dallam, Gray, Hemphill, Roberts, Lipscomb, Callahan, Taylor, Nolan, Mitchell, Howard, Martin, and Karnes be placed under the operations of the inspection laws now in force and which may be in force under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 3. That the counties of Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Borden, Dawson, Grimes, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Baylor, Knox, King, Dickens, Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, Hall, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Hale, Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Randall, Ochiltree, Hansford, Hutchinson, Moore, Sherman, Harris, Glasscock, and Liberty are hereby exempt from the operation of the stock law.

Sec. 4. The great necessity for this law creates an imperative public necessity and emergency requiring the constitutional rule that bills be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and the same is therefore suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house and passed the same March 25, 1889; and passed the senate March 25, 1889.]

CHAP. 52.—[S. B. No. 53.] An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to provide for the venue of suits for damages growing out of attachment and sequestration suits," approved March 25, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 69, of the Acts of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Texas, approved March 25, 1887, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows: That any suit for damages growing out of the suing out of any writ of attachment or sequestration, or for the levy of any such writ, may be brought in any county from which such writ was issued, or in any county where such levy was made, in whole or in part, within this state.

Approved, March 29, 1889.

COUNTY COURTS—GREER AND DONLEY COUNTIES.

Sec.

1. Restores civil and criminal jurisdiction to county courts in Greer and Donley.

Sec.

2. Repealing clause.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 53.—[H. B. No. 342.] An Act to restore the jurisdiction of the county courts of the counties of Greer and Donley, and to repeal all laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all the civil and criminal jurisdiction taken from the county court of Greer by an act of the Twentieth Legislature, approved March 26, 1887, and all civil and criminal jurisdiction taken from the county court of Donley by act of the Eighteenth Legislature, approved March 16, 1883, be and the same is hereby restored.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of law in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The fact that said counties are now without the jurisdiction sought creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act be in force and effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a two-thirds vote; and passed the senate by a two-thirds vote.]

Approved, March 21, 1889.

PUBLIC LANDS—SCRAP LANDS.

Sec. 1. For the sale of certain appropriated lands in organized counties.

CHAP. 54.—[S. H. B. No. 348.] An Act to amend Section 1 of an Act to provide for the sale of such appropriated public lands situated in organized counties of the state of Texas as contain not more than six hundred and forty acres, approved March 29, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person desiring to purchase any of such appropriated public lands situated in organized counties of the state of Texas as contain not more than six hundred and forty acres, appropriated by an act to provide for the investment of the proceeds of such sale, approved July 14, A. D. 1879, may do so by causing the tract or tracts which such person may desire to purchase to be surveyed by the authorized public surveyor of the county in which such land is situated. The provisions of this act shall not be so construed as to prohibit the right of acquiring any of said lands under Chapter 9, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes, within the bounds of the reservation here made; but any person shall have the same right of acquiring a homestead within this reservation, under the homestead donation laws of this state, as he may have had prior to the passage of this act: Provided, Where it is ascertained that any of such lands as contain not more than six hundred and forty acres is situated within the enclosed lands of any actual bona fide settler and resident of this state, such settler shall have the preference right for six months from the time that the same shall have been declared by the commissioner of the general land office to be vacant and subject to sale, to purchase as much of said land as may be embraced within his enclosure: Provided, That said preference right shall not be given to any person who has enclosed any vacant land knowing the same to be vacant at the time of enclosing same.

Approved, April 5, 1889.

COMMISSION OF APPEALS.

Sec. 1. Amends Sections 1, 5, and 15, Act of March 30, 1887.

Sub-section 1. Appointment, qualification, etc., of the commissioners.

Sub-section 5. Supreme Court to refer cases to said commission—Notice to parties, etc.

Sub-section 15. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 55.—[S. B. No. 62.] An Act to amend Sections 1, 5, and 15 of an act entitled "An Act to create a Commission or Arbitration and Award, and define the power and duties thereof, and to make an appropriation to pay the salaries of the judges thereof," approved March 30, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Sections 1, 5, and 15 of the above named act be and the same are hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1. That a commission of arbitration and award be and the same is hereby created, to be styled "The Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas." Said commission shall be composed of three persons, who shall be learned in the law and possess the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as judges of the supreme court, who shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advise and consent of the senate if in session, and who shall hold their offices for two years, except as herein otherwise provided. The first appointment made under this act shall be made to take effect on the first day of April, 1889, and the judges so appointed shall hold their offices for two years, and thereafter appointments made under this act shall be made biennially. In case of a vacancy on said commission by death, resignation, or otherwise of any member thereof during the vacation of the legislature, it shall be the duty of the governor to fill the same by appointment; and the person so appointed shall continue in office until the next regular session of the legislature after the appointment.

Section 5. The supreme court is hereby authorized and empowered to refer to said commission of appeals any case or cases now or hereafter pending before said court for examination and report thereon. And it shall be the duty of said supreme court, in order to relieve the docket of said court of the great number of cases encumbering the same, from time to time to refer to said commission of appeals so many of said cases now or hereafter pending in said court as may be reasonably considered and acted upon by the same at the several sessions thereof: Provided, That when any case is referred by the supreme court to said commission of appeals, the counsel for both parties, or the parties themselves, shall be entitled to notice, and shall have the right to be heard upon the same as if said cause was tried by the supreme court, which notice shall be given by registered letter sent by mail, addressed to the parties or their attorneys of record. And five days after the delivery thereof said cause shall be ready for submission, and no other costs shall be incurred for said notice save the postage thereon. And said commission of appeals shall make rules regulating the hearing of causes submitted or referred to the same.

Section 15. Whereas the present "Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas" will expire by its own limitation on the thirty-first day of March, A. D. 1889; and whereas the docket of the supreme court is still in a very crowded condition, and said supreme court is unable to transact the business before it; and whereas a great necessity exists for the continuance of said "Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas" to aid said supreme court in the transaction of its business and decide and determine the cases before it; and whereas the accumulation of business in said supreme court is so great as to prevent in ordinary course that speedy determination to litigation which is essential to justice, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect and be in full force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 84 yeas, no nays.]

LANDS—SALE AND LEASE OF SCHOOL AND OTHER PUBLIC LANDS.

Sec.

1. Amends Section 5, 8, 11, 13, 14, 15, and 22, Act of April 1, 1887.
Sub-section 5. Such lands subject to sale—Quantities to be sold, etc.
Sub-section 8. Prior right to purchase in favor of bona fide settler.
Sub-section 11. Penalties for failing to pay interest when due.
Sub-section 13. Commissioner General Land Office to adopt regulations for sale of timber and timbered land, etc.

Sec.

- Sub-section 14. Lands to be leased by Commissioner of the General Land Office in accordance herewith.
Sub-section 15. Applications for lease—terms, etc.
Sub-section 22. Commissioner of General Land Office, under direction of Governor, to reserve for lease, etc.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 56.—[S. H. B. No. 40.] An Act to amend Sections 5, 8, 11, 13, 14, 15, and 22, Chapter 99, of an act entitled An Act to provide for the sale of all lands heretofore or hereafter surveyed and set apart for the benefit of the public free schools, the university, and the several asylums, and the lease of such lands and of the public lands of the state, and to prevent the free use, occupancy, unlawful enclosure, or unlawful appropriation of such lands, and to prescribe and provide adequate penalties therefor, approved April 1, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 5, 8, 11, 13, 14, 15, and 22, of an act to provide for the sale of the lands heretofore or hereafter surveyed and set apart for the benefit of the public free schools, the university, and the several asylums, and the lease of such lands and of the public lands of the state, and to prevent the free use, occupancy, unlawful enclosure, or unlawful appropriation of such lands, and to prescribe and provide adequate penalties therefor, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows.

Section 5. When any portion of said land has been classified to the satisfaction of the commissioner under the provisions of this act or former laws, such land shall be subject to sale, but to actual settlers only, and in quantities of not less than eighty acres and in multiples thereof, nor more than one section containing six hundred and forty acres, more or less: Provided, That when there is a fraction less than eighty acres of any section left, such fraction may be sold; but lands classified as purely pasture lands and without permanent water thereon may be sold in quantities not to exceed four sections to the same settler; and in no event shall sale be made to a corporation, either foreign or domestic, and all sales to a settler shall be upon the express condition that any sale or transfer of such land to any corporation, directly or indirectly, before patent is issued thereon, shall ipso facto terminate the title of the purchaser or owner, and such land shall be forfeited to the state without re-entry and become again a part of the particular fund to which it formerly belonged.

Section 8. Any bona fide actual settler who may reside on any part of the lands the sale of which is authorized by this act at the time this act may go into effect, shall have the right for a period of six months after the same shall have been appraised to purchase such quantity of land as may be limited by this act, to include his improvements, upon complying with the provisions of this act regulating sales as in other cases, and such land shall be appraised without reference to the improvements thereon. That any bona fide settler who has heretofore purchased or who may hereafter purchase one section of agricultural or watered land and no more, shall have the right to purchase three dry and strictly pastoral sections upon his making oath that he is not acting in collusion with others for the purpose of buying for any other person or corporation, and that no other person or corporation is directly or indirectly interested in the purchase of the same.

Section 11. If upon the first day of August of any year the interest due on any obligation remains unpaid, the purchaser shall have until the first day of the following January in which to pay said interest, and for said default said purchaser shall pay fifty per cent penalty on said interest then past due; and if said purchaser shall fail to pay said past due interest and penalty on or before said first day of January, the commissioner of the general land office shall endorse on such obligation "land forfeited," and shall cause an entry to that effect to be made on the account kept with the purchaser, and thereupon said land shall be forfeited to the state without the necessity of re-entry or judicial ascertainment, and shall revert to the particular fund to which it originally belonged and be resold under the provisions of this act or any future law: Provided, If any purchaser shall die, his heirs or legal representatives shall have one year in which to make payment after the first day of August next after such death. And if any purchaser shall fail to reside upon and improve in good faith the land purchased by him he shall forfeit said land and all payments made thereon to the state in the same manner as for non-payment of interest, and such land shall be again for sale as if no such sale and forfeiture had occurred; or if he shall fail to make the proof of occupancy within the time and in the manner prescribed by the regulations of the commissioner of the general land office, as provided for in section 9 of this act, he shall in like manner forfeit the land and all payments thereon to the state: Provided further, That nothing in this section contained shall be construed to inhibit the state from instituting such legal proceedings as may be necessary to enforce such forfeiture or to protect any other right to such land, which suits may be instituted by the attorney-general, under the directions of the governor, in the proper court of the county in which the land lies or in the district court of Travis County, and jurisdiction of such cases is hereby expressly conferred on said courts: Provided, This section shall be printed on the back of receipt.

Section 13. The commissioner of the general land office shall adopt such regulations for the sale of the timber on timbered lands as may be deemed necessary and judicious, such regulations to be subject to the approval of the governor. Such timber shall not be sold for less than five dollars per acre cash, except in such cases as the commissioner may ascertain by definite examination of a state agent that any particular section is sparsely timbered or contains timber of but little value, in which case he shall be authorized to sell the timber on said section at the best price, on the best terms practicable: Provided, Such timber is sold at not less than two dollars per acre. And in no case shall less than one section of timbered land be sold to any purchaser, except in cases of fractional sections which may be sold under the provisions of this act. The purchaser shall have five years from the date of his purchase within which to remove the timber therefrom, and in case of failure to do so such timber shall be forfeited to the state without judicial ascertainment: Provided, That all timbered lands from which the timber has been cut and taken off may be placed on the market and sold for not less than two dollars per acre, as other lands are sold under the provisions of this act.

Section 14. The public lands, and all lands belonging to the public free schools, asylums, or university fund, shall be leased by the commissioner of the general land office in accordance with the provisions of this act. All of such lands lying north of the Texas and Pacific Railroad and east of the Pecos River shall be leased for a period not longer than six years, except as hereinafter provided; and all lands lying south of the Texas and Pacific Railroad, and all lands west of the Pecos River, and all university lands, and all lying in the counties of Andrews, Gaines, Terry, and Yoakum, shall be leased for a period not longer than ten years, and the lessee shall pay an annual rental of four cents per acre for all lands leased. Provided, That the university lands may be leased at three cents per acre per annum, which rental shall be paid each year in advance, the first payment to be made at the time the lease is executed, and if at the termination of the lease such land is still subject to lease, the lessee or lessees thereof whose term of lease is expired shall have the refusal of such land as he has been leasing on the terms and at the price that may be fixed therefor by the commissioner of the general land office. All leases shall be executed under the hand and seal of the commissioner of the general land office, and shall be delivered to the lessee or his duly authorized agent, and such lease shall not take effect until the first annual rent is paid and the lease duly filed for record in the county where the land lies or to which it may be attached for judicial purposes, and it shall not be necessary for the commissioner to acknowledge such lease before the same is placed on record.

Section 15. Any person desiring to lease any portion of the public lands belonging to the several funds mentioned in this act, shall make application in writing to the commissioner of the general land office, specifying and describing the particular lands he desires to lease; thereupon the commissioner, if satisfied that the lands applied for are not in immediate demand for purposes of actual settlement, and that such lands can be leased without detriment to the public interest, shall notify the applicant in writing that his proposition to lease is accepted; and thereupon he shall execute and deliver to the lessee, in the name and by the authority of the state, a lease of said land for such term as may be agreed upon, and deliver the same to such lessee when satisfied that the lessee has paid to the treasurer of the state the rent for one year in advance. No lands classified as grazing land under this act shall be subject to sale during the existence of such lease, and the possession thereof by the lessee shall not be disturbed during the term of such lease so long as the rents are paid promptly in advance each year as required by this act.

The land classified as agricultural land, which may be leased under this act, shall be leased subject to sale as provided by this act; and whenever such leased land may be purchased, the lessee shall give immediate possession to such purchaser: Provided, That the lessee shall have a pro rate credit upon his next year's rent or the money refunded to him by the treasurer, as he may elect: Provided further, That no such sale shall be permitted where such lessee shall have previously placed improvements of the value of one hundred dollars upon such section of lands sought to be purchased. That no purchaser or other person than the lessee shall be permitted to turn loose within such leasehold more than one head of horses, mules, or cattle, for every ten acres of land purchased, owned, or controlled by him and unenclosed, or in lieu thereof four head of sheep or goats to every ten acres of land so purchased, owned, or controlled and unenclosed. Each violation of the provisions of this act which restricts the number of stock that may be turned loose on lands leased from the state, shall be an offense, and the offender on conviction shall be punished by fine of not less than one dollar for each head of stock he may so turn loose, and each thirty days violation of the provisions of this section shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 22. The commissioner of the general land office, under the direction of the governor, may withhold from lease any agricultural lands necessary for purposes of settlement, and no agricultural land[s] shall be leased if in the judgment of the commissioner they may be in immediate demand for settlement, but such lands shall be held for settlement, and sold to actual settlers only, under the provisions of this act, and all sections or fraction of sections in all counties organized prior to the first day of January, 1875, except El Paso, Pecos, and Presidio counties, which sections are detached and isolated from other public lands, may be sold to any purchaser, except to a corporation, without actual settlement, at not less than two dollars per acre, upon such terms as the commissioner of the general land office may prescribe.

Sec. — [2.] The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature rendering it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days; rule is hereby suspended.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, INSURANCE, STATISTICS, AND HISTORY.

Sec. 1. Amends Sections 2, 5, and 6, Act of April 1, 1887.

Sub-section 2. Designates name of department, and prescribes the seal.
etc.

Sub-section 5. Designates character of statistics collected.

Sub-section 6. Duties and compensation of assessors.

[2] 7. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 57.—[S. H. B. Nos. 111, 142, 173, and 180.] An Act to amend Sections 2, 5, and 6, Chapter 105, of an act entitled "An Act to create a Bureau of Agriculture for the State of Texas, and to add it to the Department of Insurance, Statistics, and History; to properly designate said department and its head, and to prescribe the duties belonging to it relating to agriculture," passed by the Twentieth Legislature and approved April 1, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Sections 2, 5, and 6, Chapter 105, of the above recited act, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 2. The present commissioner of insurance, statistics, and history shall assume the title named in the foregoing section as his official designation. He shall change the seal of his department so as to conform thereto, by inserting in it the words, Department of Agriculture, Insurance, Statistics, and History of the State of Texas, or an intelligible abbreviation thereof, and shall at once assume in addition to his present duties those imposed by this act relating to agriculture, and shall appoint such clerks as the additional labor of his department requires.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the commissioner to arrange and adopt a plan for collecting and publishing agricultural and farm statistics, in such manner and numbers as he may deem best, or the condition of the department will permit, and shall, before the first day of January of each year, furnish the tax assessors of the several counties in the state with the necessary blanks, together with such instructions as will properly direct them in that work, and such blanks shall contain only such questions as relate to agriculture, horticulture, and stockraising.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of tax assessors when listing property for taxes to also call on tax payers and heads of families in their respective counties engaged in agriculture, horticulture, or stockraising, for necessary facts and information for filling out the blanks; they shall be allowed by the commissioners court not less than five cents nor more than ten cents for each tax payer engaged in the occupation heretofore mentioned from whom information for filling out the blanks is secured, one-half to be paid by the state and one-half by the county, to be paid in the same manner that the fees for assessing state and county taxes are now paid; and when any assessor fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of this act or the instructions of the commissioner, the comptroller shall, on notice from the commissioner, withhold the pay due such assessor for assessing the state taxes of his county until notified by the commissioner that such assessor has complied with the law. And assessors are hereby required to report to the commissioner not later than October first of each year.

Sec. 7 [2]. The fact that assessors are now taking statistics, and the necessity for some law regulating their compensation for such work, constitutes a public necessity and emergency demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this law take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATIONS.

Sec. 1. Assent of the state.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 58.—[H. B. No. 520.] An Act to amend an act to give the assent of the state of Texas to the purpose of a grant of money authorized and appropriated by an act of the Congress of the United States, approved March 2, A. D. 1887, and entitled "An Act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with the colleges established in the several states under the provisions of an act approved July 2, A. D. 1862, and of the acts supplementary thereto."

Whereas the Congress of the United States, by an act approved March 2, A. D. 1887, and entitled "An Act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with the colleges established in the several states under the provisions of an act approved July 2, 1862, and of the acts supplementary thereto," has granted to each of the states and territories of the United States an appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars for the purpose indicated in the title of said act and fully set forth in the body thereof; and whereas said act in section 9 thereof provides that the grants of money therein authorized are made subject to the legislative assent of the several states and territories to the purpose of said grants: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the state of Texas does hereby assent to the purposes of said grant, and designates the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas as such station.

Sec. 2. The fact that no further benefits from the grant made by congress to the several states for experiments in agriculture can be had until the state designates the beneficiary of such grant in this state, creates an imperative necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this bill take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

RECEIVERS.

Sec. 1. Amends Sections 2 and 6, of Chapter 131, Laws Twentieth Legislature.

Sub-section 2. No party or persons at interest to be appointed receiver, etc.

Sub-section 6. Application of moneys coming into hands of receivers, etc.

CHAP. 59.—[H. B. No. 194.] An Act to amend Sections 2 and 6, of Chapter 131, of an act to provide for the appointment of receivers, and to define their powers and duties, and to regulate proceedings under such appointment of receivers, as passed by the Twentieth Legislature and approved April 2, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Sections 2 and 6, of Chapter 131, of an act to provide for the appointment of receivers, and to define their powers and duties, and to regulate proceedings under such appointment of receivers, as passed by the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Texas and approved April 2, 1887, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 2. No party, attorney, or any person interested in any way in an action for the appointment of a receiver, shall be appointed receiver therein, nor shall any person be appointed receiver in any case where the property lies within this state unless the person appointed at the time of his appointment is a bona fide citizen of the state of Texas and qualified to vote, and during the pendency of said receivership the person or persons so appointed receiver to keep and maintain actual residence within this state. And if [in] any action for the appointment of a receiver the property sought to be placed in the hands of a receiver is situated partly in this state and partly without, then no person shall be appointed receiver of that part of the property situated in this state unless such person at the time is a bona fide citizen of this state and qualified to vote, and during the pendency of said receivership the person or persons so appointed receiver to keep and maintain actual residence within this state. And if any person should be appointed receiver of property situated in this state, or a part of which is situated in this state and a part without, who is not at the time a bona fide citizen of this state and entitled to vote, all such appointments shall be absolutely null and void in so far as the property situated within this state is concerned. And if any corporation owning property in this state and chartered by this state shall have a receiver of its property situated in this state appointed who is not at the time of appointment a bona fide citizen of this state, and qualified to vote, said corporation shall thereby forfeit its charter, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to at once to prosecute a suit by quo warranto against said corporation so offending to forfeit its charter, and the court trying the cause shall forfeit the charter of said corporation upon proof that a person has been appointed receiver of its property situated in this state who is not qualified to act under the provisions of this section.

Section 6. All moneys that come into the hands of a receiver as such receiver shall be applied as follows: First, to the payment of all court costs of the suit; second, to the payment of all wages of employees due by the receiver; third, to the payment of all debts due by the receiver for materials and supplies purchased during the receivership by the receiver for the improvement of the property in his hands as receiver; fourth, to the payment of all debts due for betterments and improvements done during the receivership to the property in his hands as such receiver; fifth, to the payment of all claims and accounts against the receiver on contracts made by the receiver during the receivership, and for all claims for stock and personal injury claims against said receiver accruing during said receivership, and all judgments rendered against said receiver for personal injuries and for stock killed; sixth, all judgments recovered against the person or persons or corporations in suits brought before the appointment of a receiver in the action. And said claims shall have a preference lien on all of the moneys coming into the hands of the receiver which are the earnings of the property in his hands, and the court shall see that the money coming into the hands of the receiver as earnings of the property in his hands is paid out on the claims against said receiver in the order of their preference as named above, and it shall be the duty of the receiver to pay the funds in his hands which are the earnings of the property while in his hands as receiver on the claims against him in the order of preference named above.

All judgments recovered against a receiver for cause of action arising during the receivership shall be a preference lien upon all the property in his hands as such receiver superior to the mortgage lien; and if a receiver is discharged pending suits against him for causes of action growing out of and arising during the receivership, the cause of action shall not abate, but may be prosecuted to final judgment against the receiver, and the plaintiff in the action may if he sees proper make the party or corporation to whom the receiver has delivered the property that was in his hands as receiver a party to the suit, and if judgment is finally rendered in favor of the plaintiff against the receiver, the court shall also enter up judgment in favor of the plaintiff against the party to whom the property was delivered by the receiver. If any person should sue a receiver and obtain judgment against such receiver, and said receiver shall have in possession moneys subject to the payment of said judgment, and the plaintiff owning the judgment shall apply to the court appointing the receiver for an order to pay said judgment, and if the court appointing the receiver should refuse to order said judgment paid, when there is money in the hands of said receiver subject to the payment of the judgment, then it shall be the duty of the court rendering the judgment to order an execution to issue on said judgment against said receiver upon the filing by the plaintiff in the court where the judgment was rendered an affidavit stating the facts that the plaintiff had applied to the court appointing the receiver for an order for said receiver to pay said judgment, and that it was proven to the court that there was money in the hands of the receiver at that time which was subject to the payment of the judgment, and that the court appointing the receiver refused to order the receiver to pay the judgment; said execution when so issued shall be levied upon any property in the hands of the receiver and shall be sold as under ordinary executions, and a sale of the property will convey the title of the same to the purchaser. All judgments rendered against a receiver for causes of action arising during the receivership shall be a lien upon all of the property in the hands of the receiver superior to the mortgage lien; and if the property should be turned back into the possession of the party or corporation who were owning same at the time of the appointment of a receiver or any one else for them, or as their assigns or purchasers, the party or corporation so receiving said property from said receiver shall take said property charged with all of the unpaid liabilities of the receiver occurring during the receivership to the value of the property delivered by the receiver. If a receiver is discharged by the court before all of the liabilities of the receiver arising during the receivership are settled in full, then the person, persons, or corporation to who the receiver delivers the property that was in his hands as receiver shall be liable to the persons having claims against said receiver for the full amount of the liabilities. The discharge of a receiver shall not work an abatement of the suit against a receiver, nor shall it in any way e[a]ffect the right of the party to sue the receiver if he sees proper.

All judgments rendered against a receiver on causes of action arising during the receivership shall be a lien on all of the property in the hands of said receiver superior to the mortgage lien.

All parties and corporations whose property has been placed in the hands of a receiver by order of court, and which was not sold by the receiver, and which property has been redelivered back to the original parties or corporation without any sale of said property, shall be liable and held to pay all of the unpaid liabilities of the receiver in causes of action arising out of and during the receivership; and if there are any suits pending against a receiver at the date of discharge, on causes of action arising during the receivership, the plaintiff shall have the right to make the party or corporation to whom the receiver delivered the property which was in his hands as receiver a party defendant along with the receiver; and if any judgment is rendered against the receiver for causes of action arising out of and during the receivership, then the court shall also at the same time (if the party or corporation receiving back the property have been made party defendants) render judgment in favor of the plaintiff against both defendants for the amount so found for plaintiff and all costs, and plaintiff shall have the right to foreclose his lien on the property delivered back by said receiver to said party or corporation. If at the date of the discharge of the receiver there are any judgments or claims not sued on against a receiver arising during the receivership, and which judgments and claims not sued on are unpaid at the date of the discharge of said receiver, said unpaid judgments and unpaid claims not sued on shall be a preference lien on all of the property that was in the hands of the receiver superior to the mortgage lien, and the person or corporation to whom the receiver has delivered the property that was in his hands as receiver, shall be liable for all unpaid judgments and unpaid claims not sued on to the value of the property that was delivered by the receiver to said person or corporation.

And any person having a claim against a receiver not sued on at the date of the discharge of the receiver, shall have the right to sue said receiver either alone or jointly with the person or corporation to whom the receiver delivered said property that was in his hands as such receiver; and if any judgment is rendered against said receiver, a judgment shall also be rendered against the person or corporation for the same amount that is rendered against the receiver, not to exceed the value of the property so received by said person or corporation.

That from and after the passage of this act, in any case in which any receiver is sued in any of the courts of this state, and such receiver desires to take an appeal from any judgment which may be rendered against him in any justice or county court, or to take an appeal or writ of error from any judgment which may be rendered against him in any district court, before such appeal or writ of error shall be perfected or allowed such receiver shall enter into bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk of the court or justice of the peace, payable to the appellee or the defendant in error, in a sum at least double the amount of the judgment, interest, and cost, conditioned that such receiver shall prosecute his appeal or writ of error with effect; and in case the judgment of the court to which such appeal or writ of error be taken shall be against him, that he will perform its judgment, sentence, or decree, and pay all such damages and costs as said court may award against him. In the event that the judgment of the court to which such appeal or error is taken shall be against such receiver, judgment shall at the same time be entered against the sureties on his said bond, and execution thereon may issue against such sureties within twenty days after the rendition of such judgment.

PUBLIC EDUCATION.

- Sec. 1. Office of County Superintendent may be abolished.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 60.—[H. B. No. 452.] An Act to amend An Act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the state of Texas, by adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 43b, providing for abolishing the office of county superintendent of public instruction whenever the county commissioners court of any county shall deem it advisable to do so.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county commissioners court of any county in this state shall have the power and authority, when in their judgment such court may deem it advisable, to abolish the office of county superintendent of public instruction in their county by an order entered on the minutes of their court at a regular term thereof. Whenever such office is abolished the county judge of such county shall from the date of said order perform the duties of such office; and the county superintendent shall immediately turn over to such county judge all the books, papers, records, and other school property in his possession.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session, and the fact that there is no law giving the authority to abolish the office of county superintendent of public schools, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency which authorizes the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 77 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 24 yeas, 1 nay.]

Approved, April 6, 1889.

PUBLIC EDUCATION.

- Sec. 1. Counties exempt from district system, etc.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 61.—[H. B. No. 19.] An Act entitled An Act to amend an act to amend Section 71, of Chapter 132, of an act passed at the regular session of the Twentieth Legislature, approved April 2, 1887, passed at the special session of the Twentieth Legislature, approved May 14, 1888.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 71 of the General Laws of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

[Section 71.] The following counties shall be and the same are exempted from the district system provided for in this act, to wit: Angelina, Aransas, Bastrop, Bosque, Bowie, Brazoria, Burleson, Calhoun, Callahan, Cameron, Camp, Cass, Chambers, Concho, Delta, De Witt, Duval, Encinal, Erath, Falls, Fannin, Fayette, Fort Bend, Franklin, Freestone, Goliad, Gregg, Grimes, Guadalupe, Hardin, Hays, Henderson, Hidalgo, Hopkins, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Karnes, Lampasas, Liberty, Limestone, Lee, Marion, Matagorda, McMullen, Menard, Milam, Montgomery, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Orange, Panola, Pecos, Polk, Presidio, Rains, Reeves, Red River, Refugio, Robertson, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shackelford, Shelby, Smith, Somervell, Starr, Trinity, Tyler, Upshaw [Upshur], Van Zandt, Waller, Washington, Webb, Wharton, Zapata, and Houston: Provided, The citizens in any community or section of territory embraced in any of said above named counties may adopt the district system by designating a portion of the territory of any of said counties not exceeding four miles square, and conforming to the provisions and requirements of Sections 30, 31, 32, 33, and 34, of Chapter 25, of an act entitled An Act to establish and maintain a system of public free schools for the state of Texas, and to repeal so much of Chapter 3, of Title 78, of Revised Statutes of Texas, as refers to public free schools outside of incorporated cities and towns assuming or having assumed control of their public free schools, and all laws or parts of laws in conflict with this act of the special session of the Eighteenth Legislature, which passed the senate January 30, 1884, and passed the house of representatives February 4, 1884, and was presented to the governor February 6, 1884, and became a law without his signature, and by conforming to the general provisions of said act and to the acts amendatory thereof, it being intended by this act to permit subdivisions of counties mentioned in this act not exceeding six miles square to avail themselves of and to adopt the district system when the whole county does not want to adopt it.

Sec. 2. That justice may be speedily done to the citizens to be so exempted from said district system, together with the near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature, creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same March 16, 1889; and passed the senate by a vote of 26 yeas, 1 nay.]

Approved, April 3, 1889.

CAPITOL FURNISHING BOARD.

Sec.

1. Governor authorized to extend time of said board and of the "expert."

Sec.

2. Governor authorized to extend time of engineer.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 62.—[H. B. No. 439.] An Act to authorize the Governor to extend further time to the Capitol Furnishing Board, Expert, and Engineer, provided for by an act of the special session of the Twentieth Legislature, approved May 17, 1888.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the governor is hereby authorized and empowered to extend the time of the "capitol furnishing board" and the "expert" until the present contract for furnishing the capitol building has been completed, not to exceed forty days, and not to extend beyond May 1, 1889.

Sec. 2 The governor is further authorized and empowered to extend the time of the engineer until the present contract for improving the capitol grounds has been completed.

Sec. 3. Whereas the time of the capitol furnishing board, the expert, and engineer has expired, and there being no person authorized to see that the contracts for furnishing the new capitol building and grading and improving the capitol grounds are strictly complied with, therefore an emergency exists and imperative public necessity demands that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 80 yeas, 10 nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 24 yeas, 3 nays.]

Approved, February 23, 1889.

PART V.

Miscellaneous.

APPROPRIATION FOR MILEAGE AND PER DIEM PAY OF OFFICERS, MEMBERS, AND EMPLOYES.

- | | |
|--|--|
| Sec. | Sec. |
| 1. $80,000 appropriated for per diem pay of members, etc., of Twenty-first Legislature. | 2. Manner of auditing claims against this appropriation. |
| | 3. Emergency clause. |

CHAP. 63.—[S. B. No. 14.] An Act making an appropriation for the mileage and per diem pay of the members and the per diem pay of the officers and employes of the Twenty-first Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of eighty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of mileage and per diem pay of members and per diem pay of officers and employes of the Twenty-first Legislature.

Sec. 2. The certificate of the secretary of the senate approved by the president thereof, or of the chief clerk of the house approved by the speaker thereof, shall be sufficient evidence to the comptroller upon which he shall audit the claims and issue his warrants upon the treasurer for the respective amounts.

Sec. 3. And whereas the Twenty-first Legislature is now in session, and public policy requires their payment; therefore an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 28 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 99 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, January 12, 1889.

APPROPRIATION TO DEFRAY CONTINGENT EXPENSES.

- Sec. 1. $30,000 appropriated to defray expenses of Twenty-first Legislature.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 64.—[S. B. No. 17.] An Act making an appropriation to defray the contingent expenses of the Twenty-first Legislature.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sum of thirty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the contingent expenses of the Twenty-first Legislature; that (except in cases of accounts for printing done and stationery furnished) the certificate of the chairman of the committee on contingent expenses that an account has been examined and approved by said committee, and countersigned by the president of the senate or the speaker of the house, as the case may be, shall be sufficient authority to authorize and require the comptroller of public accounts to draw his warrant on the state treasurer for the payment of any claim against said fund. The accounts for printing and stationery shall take the course prescribed by the Revised Statutes.

Sec. 2. The fact that it is important that the contingent expenses of the legislature be promptly paid, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from its passage; it is so enacted:

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 28 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 104 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, January 17, 1889.

APPROPRIATIONS—DEFICIENCY.

Sec. 1. $349,090.18 appropriated to be applied to enumerated claims.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 65.—[S. B. No. 16.] An Act making appropriations for deficiencies in the appropriations heretofore made for payment of expenses in support of the state government from March 1, A. D. 1887, to February 28, A. D. 1889, being for payment of claims registered in the comptroller's office in accordance with law, and for outstanding claims not registered, and other deficiencies.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following sums, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same are hereby appropriated for deficiencies incurred in support of the state government for the period beginning March 1, A. D. 1887, and ending February 28, A. D. 1889, and for previous years:

For fees of sheriffs, clerks, and attorneys in felony cases:

For salary of clerk of the penitentiary board from December 20, 1888, to March 1, 1889, to be paid out of the appropriation for salary of secretary of capitol board		125 00

Sec. 2. The fact that there is no appropriation to pay the claims herein stated, which are outstanding against the state, creates a public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to read on three several days be suspended, and that this act shall go into effect from its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 86 yeas, 3 nays.]
Approved, January 26, 1889.

HOUSE OF CORRECTION AND REFORMATORY.

Sec.	Sec.
1. $2214 appropriated for maintenance of the reformatory.	2. Manner of auditing claims against this appropriation.
	3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 66.—[S. S. B. No. 23.] An Act making an appropriation for the support of the House of Correction and Reformatory at Gatesville for the months of January and February, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following sums of money, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same are hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the support of the House of Correction and Reformatory at Gatesville for the months of January and February, 1889:

Feeding sixty boys, nine employees, and six in family, at fifteen cents per day	$675 00

Wages of night watchman two months	60 00
Wages of engineer two months	120 00
	$2214 00

Sec. 2. Said sums of money shall be drawn out of the treasury and expended in the manner provided by "An Act to establish a House of Correction and Reformatory, and to provide for its government and maintenance, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved March 29, 1887.

Sec. 3. Whereas said institution was opened and put in operation on the first day of January, 1889, and there are now no funds in the treasury appropriated for the support and maintenance thereof, there exists an emergency and a great public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 85 yeas, 7 nays.]
Approved, January 31, 1889.

ARBOR DAY.

- Sec. 1. Designates the twenty-second of February as "Arbor Day," etc.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 68.—[S. B. No. 277.] An Act setting apart the 22d day of February of each year as "Arbor Day," and to encourage the planting of trees in this state.

Whereas it is desirable to encourage the planting of trees in this state with the view to supplying shade and timber to the prairies and to the preservation of our forests: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the 22d day of February of each year, the same being now a legal holiday, be further set apart and designated as "Arbor Day," to be devoted to the planting and cultivation of forest, shade, and ornamental trees throughout the state, and to be observed for that purpose in such manner as may seem best to the people of each community.

Sec. 2. Whereas the 22d day of February, A. D. 1889, is now close at hand, and the people of many portions of the state are desirous of inaugurating the celebration of "Arbor Day" as provided for in this bill, there exists an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 24 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 87 yeas, 4 nays.]

Approved, February 22, 1889.

ASYLUM—SOUTHWESTERN TEXAS.

Sec.

1. Branch asylum to be established west of the Colorado River.
2. Commissioners to select the site.
3. Report to governor, approval by, title, etc.
4. Board of managers.
5. Governor to appoint superintendent.

Sec.

6. Support and management of said asylum.
7. Building supervisor.
8. There shall be constructed buildings sufficient to accommodate at least 500 inmates, etc.
9. $150,000 to pay for site, etc.
10. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 69.—[H. B. No. 156.] An Act to provide for the purchase of a site for, and the establishment, location, and construction of an asylum in Southwestern Texas for the care and treatment of the insane, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That there shall be established and maintained a branch asylum for the care and treatment of the insane. The same shall be located west of the Colorado river, in southwest Texas.

Sec. 2. The governor shall appoint three commissioners, who shall select the site for said asylum, who shall receive the sum of five dollars per day and their actual and necessary expenses incurred during the time of service, which time shall not exceed thirty days, their accounts to be certified to by the president of said board of commissioners and approved by the governor, which shall be sufficient evidence to the comptroller upon which to audit the claim and draw his warrant upon the treasurer for the respective amounts. And said board of commissioners, in selecting the site for said asylum, shall make selection with a view to its accessibility and convenience to the greatest number of inhabitants, the supply of water, building material and fuel, drainage, fertility of soil and healthfulness, together with railroad connections; and the same shall contain not less than six hundred and forty acres; and said commissioners shall take into consideration, in the selection of said site, any donations of land or money which may be offered by competitors for the site of said asylum.

Sec. 3. That when said board shall have made their report to the governor, and the same has been approved by him, they shall, after thorough examination, if they find the title to be good and perfect, take title to the land selected in the name of the state for the use and benefit of the state lunatic asylum.

Sec. 4. The governor shall appoint a board of managers to consist of five persons, citizens of the state, who shall be governed by existing laws, and whose duties shall be the same as now prescribed by Title 8 of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Sec. 5. The governor shall appoint, by and with the consent and advice of the senate, a superintendent of said asylum, whose duties, qualifications, term of office, and emoluments shall be the same as are now or may be hereafter provided by law for the superintendent of the lunatic asylum, said superintendent to enter upon the discharge of his duties as soon as said asylum is ready to be occupied by the state.

Sec. 6. The support and management of said asylum shall be the same in every respect as are provided in Title 8 of the Revised Civil Statutes.

Sec. 7. A building supervisor, who shall be employed by the governor, shall supervise the construction of all buildings erected upon said asylum grounds as provided for in this act.

Sec. 8. There shall be constructed upon said grounds so selected permanent and substantial buildings sufficient to accommodate at least five hundred inmates; said building to be provided with modern improvements for furnishing water, heat, ventilation, sewerage, and lights. And the governor shall, immediately after receiving the report of the commissioner provided for in the second section of this act, advertise for plans and specifications for said buildings for sixty days; and he, together with the comptroller and treasurer, shall let the contract for the construction of buildings, according to such plan and specifications as they may adopt, to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall give a good and sufficient bond for the completion of said building according to the contract: Provided, That the contract for construction of said buildings shall not be let prior to the first day of January, 1890.

Sec. 9. There shall be appropriated, out of the general revenue of this state not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the payment of the land for a site and expenses incurred in procuring the same and the improvements herein provided for.

Sec. 10. The fact that there is a large number of insane persons in the jails of the state who are in need of immediate treatment, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days in each house, said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 63 yeas, 30 nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 23 yeas, 5 nays.]

Approved, March 29, 1889.

ATTACHMENTS.

- Sec. 1. For the registration of writs of attachment, etc.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 70.—[S. S. B. Nos. 50 and 52.] An Act to provide for giving notice of attachments levied upon real estate.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whenever an attachment is levied upon real estate, the officer levying the writ shall immediately file with the county clerk of the county or counties in which the real estate so levied upon is situated, a copy of the writ, together with a copy of so much of his return as relates to the land in said county. Said clerk shall enter in a book, to be kept for that purpose, the names of the plaintiffs and defendants in attachment, the amount of the debt, and the return of the officer in full. Should the writ of attachment be quashed or otherwise vacated, the court in which the attachment suit is pending shall cause a certified copy of said order to be sent to the county clerk of the county or counties in which the real estate levied upon is situated. Said clerk shall, upon the receipt of the same, enter in the book aforesaid the names of the plaintiffs and defendants and record the order of the court in full. If the real estate levied upon is situated in any county other than the one in which the suit is pending, then, in case of failure to make the record aforesaid, the attachment lien shall not be valid against subsequent purchasers for value and without notice and subsequent lien-holders in good faith. The county clerk of every county in this state shall keep a well bound book for the record of the matters aforesaid, and shall keep a direct and reverse index thereto, in which shall be entered the names of all the plaintiffs and defendants in the various attachments recorded by him, and the order of the court aforesaid shall be indexed in the same manner, and certified copies of such records shall be admissible in lieu of the original writ and entries. Clerks of the county court shall receive the same fees for recording the matter herein provided for as they are now allowed by law for recording deeds, to be paid by plaintiff, and said fees to be taxed as a part of the costs in the case in which the attachment is issued and paid and collected as other costs. Sheriffs shall receive a fee of one dollar for making the copy and return herein provided for, to be taxed and collected as other costs in the suit.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of this session of the legislature and the fact that no law of the kind now exists on our statute books, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires bills to be read on three several days, and the said rule is suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same March 25, 1889; and passed the house April 1, 1889.]

Approved, April 3, 1889.

BONDS.

Sec.

1. Governor authorized to issue bonds.
2. Denomination of such bonds, etc.

Sec.

3. Bonds to be offered to board of education.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 71.—[S. B. No. 214.] An Act to provide for the issuance of bonds of this state to supply deficiencies in the revenue, and to provide the manner of the sale of such bonds to the board of education for the permanent university fund.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the governor be and he is hereby authorized and directed to have issued manuscript bonds of the state of Texas, to be sold, or exchanged at par, for the permanent university fund at any time when there is on hand in cash any reasonable amount of such funds not less than five thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. That said bonds shall be of such denomination as the governor may direct, and shall be redeemable at the pleasure of the state, and shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable annually at the state treasury on the first day of March of each year.

Sec. 3. That bonds issued under this act, the title of which and the date of its passage shall be recited therein, shall be signed by the governor and treasurer and countersigned by the comptroller, and shall be registered in the office of the state treasurer; and after said bonds have been registered the governor shall offer said bonds to the board of education as an investment for the permanent university fund then on hand in cash which are by law authorized to be invested; and if the board of education take said bonds, the treasurer and comptroller shall make the proper entry, showing the facts of the transaction and the necessary transfer of such fund on their books; and if the board of education shall not take said bonds thus offered, the same shall be destroyed and cancelled and of no effect whatever.

Sec. 4. The present condition of the state treasury, and the further fact that the permanent university fund is being continuously invested in United States bonds and the bonds of this state at a great loss to said fund, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be enforced from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 22 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 83 yeas, no nays.

Approved, April 2, 1889.

BONDS.

Sec.

1. Provides for issuing bonds in the sum of four hundred and ninety-nine thousand dollars.

Sec.

2. Sale of such bonds and application of proceeds.
3. As to sale of such bonds to board of education.

CHAP. 72.—[S. S. B. No. 188.] An Act to provide for the payment of the bonds of the state issued under an act of the legislature, approved August 5, 1870.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the governor of the state is hereby authorized to have prepared manuscript bonds of the state to the amount of four hundred and ninety-nine thousand dollars, payable thirty years from date, to bear interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, said bonds to be redeemable at the option of the state at any time after five years from the date of their issuance, signed by the governor and state treasurer and countersigned by the comptroller.

Sec. 2. The bonds authorized by this act shall be sold by the governor at not less than their face value, and the proceeds arising from the sale thereof shall be applied to the purchase of the bonds issued by authority of the act of August 5, 1870, and payable at the option of the state in 1890: Provided, That this act shall not apply to the bonds of the act of August 5, 1870, that are held by the special funds of the state.

Sec. 3. The governor shall at a reasonable time before the bonds to be redeemed under this act become payable, sell to the board of education, as an investment for the special funds, such an amount of the bonds authorized by section 2 of this act as will be sufficient to redeem such bonds of the act of August 5, 1870, as are not held by the special funds; and when the sale shall have been made, the comptroller shall notify, by publication, the holders of the bonds to be redeemed that the same have been called for redemption, and interest on the same shall cease from the date of the call. The bonds redeemed under this act shall be destroyed by the comptroller in the presence of the governor, and a certificate of the destruction of said bonds shall be signed by the governor and comptroller, giving the numbers and amount of bonds destroyed, which certificates shall be filed in the office of the comptroller.

Approved, April 5, 1889.

BRAZOS COUNTY.

Sec.

1. Restores civil jurisdiction to county court of Brazos.
2. Transfer of certain causes from district court.

Sec.

3. Duties of district clerk.
4. Repealing clause.
5. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 73.—[H. B. No. 455.] An act entitled An Act to restore the civil jurisdiction of the county court of Brazos county, and to repeal all laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Brazos county shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in all civil cases when the matter in controversy shall exceed in value two hundred dollars and not exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of interest, and concurrent jurisdiction with the district court when the matter in controversy shall exceed five hundred and not exceed one thousand dollars, exclusive of interest, but shall not have jurisdiction of suits for the recovery of land. It shall have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases of which justice courts have original jurisdiction, under such regulations as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by law. In all appeals from justices' courts, there shall be a trial de novo in the county court, and an appeal shall lie to the court of appeals under such regulations as are now or may be prescribed by law. The county court shall have the general jurisdiction of a probate court. It shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as provided by law. And the county court or judge thereof shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, injunctions, and all other writs necessary to the enforcement of the jurisdiction of said court, and to issue writs of habeas corpus in cases where the offense charged is within the jurisdiction of the county court or any other court or tribunal inferior to said court.

Sec. 2. That all causes now pending in the district court of Brazos county of which the county court of said county has jurisdiction under the provisions of this act, and all laws giving jurisdiction to the county court, shall be transferred to the county court of said county.

Sec. 3. The clerk of the district court of Brazos county, thirty days from the date this act takes effect, shall transfer to the clerk of the county court of said county all the original papers in causes transferred under this act, together with a certified transcript of all the entries made on the docket of the district court in such causes, and a certified bill of all costs accrued in such causes, and for making out such transcript of the docket the clerk of the district court shall be allowed such fees as are now allowed by law for making out transcripts in cases of appeal, such fees to be taxed as cost in such suits.

Sec. 4. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 5. Whereas there is now pending in the district court of Brazos county certain civil cases which under the provisions of this act would be transferred to the county court of said county for trial; and whereas it is to the interest of the public that such cases should be at once transferred so that the same may be disposed of, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists that this act take effect at once; and the near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 80 yeas, 1 nay; and passed the senate by a vote of 28 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 3, 1880.

BUCHTEL AND FOLEY COUNTIES.

- Sec. 1. Attaches Buchtel and Foley counties to Brewster for surveying purposes.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 74.—[H. B. No. 242.] An Act to attach Buchtel and Foley counties to the county of Brewster for surveying purposes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the counties of Buchtel and Foley be and they are hereby attached to the county of Brewster for surveying purposes. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The great amount of surveying to be done in the counties to be affected by this act, and the distance to be traveled, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this bill take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 74 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays.]
Approved, March 22, 1899.

BUTCHERS, ETC.

Sec.

1. Butchers and slaughterers required to file bond.
2. Penalty for failure to make such bond.
3. Required to keep record of cattle purchased or slaughtered, etc.
4. Prescribes penalty for purchasing slaughtered cattle unless accompanied by hide and ears, etc.

Sec.

5. The record provided for in section 3 to be open for inspection, etc.
6. Penalty for slaughtering animals for sale and failing to produce hides on official demand.
7. Herein as to suits on bond.
8. Fees and records of inspector, etc.
9. Counties exempted from operation of this act.

CHAP. 75.—[S. B. No. 127.] An Act to require butchers and slaughterers of cattle to give a bond, and to prescribe penalties for the violation of the conditions of the same, and to prevent unlawful slaughtering and selling cattle.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That every person, before he shall set up and carry on the trade of a butcher or slaughterer of cattle in the state of Texas, shall file a bond, to be approved by the county judge of the county in which he desires to carry on the business, in a sum of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, payable to the state of Texas, conditioned that he shall keep a true and faithful record, in a book kept for that purpose, of all cattle purchased or slaughtered by him, with a description of the animal, including marks, brands, age, weight, and from whom purchased, and the date thereof; that he will have the hide and ears of such animal inspected by the inspector or some magistrate of the county within five days after it is slaughtered; and that he will not purchase any cattle that has been slaughtered by another unless the hide and ears of such slaughtered animal accompanying said animal offered for sale; and that he will not purchase any animal that has been slaughtered by another, when the ear marks or brands on the hide accompanying such animal when offered for sale, have been changed, mutilated, or destroyed.

Sec. 2. Every person who shall be found carrying on the business of butcher or slaughterer, in the state of Texas, without having filed the bond provided in section one of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be fined in a sum of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars for every day he shall carry on such business.

Sec. 3. Every person who shall carry on the business of butcher or slaughterer of cattle and shall fail to keep a true and faithful record, in a book kept for the purpose, of all cattle purchased or slaughtered by him, together with a description of each animal, including mark, brand, age, weight, and from whom purchased and the date thereof, or shall fail to have the hide and ears of such animal or animals inspected by the inspector or some magistrate of the county within five days after such animal is slaughtered, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and for each offense fined in a sum not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 4. Every person who shall carry on the business of butcher or slaughterer of cattle and shall purchase any cattle that has been slaughtered by another without the hide and ears of such animal accompanying the same, or who shall purchase any animal that has been slaughtered by another when the ear mark or brands on the hide accompanying the same when offered for sale have been changed, mutilated, or destroyed, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and may upon conviction be punished by a fine not less than twenty-five nor more than five hundred dollars, or by confinement in the penitentiary for a term of not less than one nor more than three years, or by both fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the jury trying the same.

Sec. 5. The record provided for in section 3 of this act shall be open to inspection of all persons, and any butcher or slaughterer refusing to permit such inspection or examination shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction fined in a sum not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred dollars for each offense.

Sec. 6. Any person who shall slaughter any cattle and offer the same for sale, or shall sell the same, and shall fail or refuse to produce the hide and ears of such slaughtered animal within the time prescribed by this act upon the demand of any officer of the county in which said animal is offered for sale, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and on conviction may be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred, or by confinement in the penitentiary for a term of not less than one nor more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the jury trying the same.

Sec. 7. Any butcher or slaughterer of cattle who shall violate any of the conditions of the bond referred to in section 1 of this act, in addition to the penalty prescribed in the preceding articles of this act, may be sued upon his bond at the instance of the county or district attorney of the county where such bond is given, and all sums recovered by suits upon said bonds shall be paid into the county treasury and become a part of the available school fund of such county.

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the inspector or magistrate who inspects such hides as are mentioned in this act to keep a record of the marks, brands, color, and a general description of such hide, and for whom inspected, with the date of such inspection, and return the same to the clerk of the county court within ten days after such inspection, and shall be entitled to receive the sum of twenty-five cents for each hide so inspected, to be paid by the party having the hide inspected; and any inspector or magistrate who shall fail to keep such record, or shall fail to make such report to the county clerk as provided in this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction may be fined in any sum not less than five nor more than twenty dollars for each hide that he shall fail to inspect or report as provided in this act.

Sec. 9. Provided, That the provisions of this act shall in nowise apply to either of the following counties: Bell, Gonzales, Coryell, Hamilton, Mills, Brown, Comanche, Lavaca, Llano, San Saba, McCulloch, Concho, Runnels, Coleman, Travis, Grayson, Cooke, Montague, Colorado, Bexar, Jasper, Newton, Orange, Jefferson, Polk, San Jacinto, Tyler, Chambers, Hardin, Liberty, Harrison, Smith, Upshur, Gregg, Wood, Rains, Bowie, Cass, Morris, Titus, Lee, Bastrop, Fayette, Hill, Johnson, Ellis, McLennan, Falls, Robertson, Milam, Brazos, Galveston, Brazoria, Matagorda, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Hays, Blanco, Comal, Tarrant, Wise, Parker, Jack, Dallas, Nacogdoches, San Augustine, Sabine, Shelby, Panola, Rusk, Hunt, Hopkins, Delta, Franklin, Camp, Angelina, Houston, Leon, Grimes, Madison, Kaufman, Rockwall, Fannin, Lamar, Red River, Van Zandt, Henderson, Cherokee, Bosque, Hood, Erath, Somervell, Collin, Denton, Trinity, Walker, Montgomery, Harris, Austin, Washington, Wharton, Fort Bend, Waller, Burieson, Limestone, and Freestone.

CEDING JURISDICTION.

Sec.

1. Vests exclusive jurisdiction in federal government to site for public building in Texarkana.

Sec.

2. Describes lot over which jurisdiction is ceded
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 76.—[H. B. No. 591.] An Act to vest in the United States of America exclusive jurisdiction over the site and ground for a public building in the town of Texarkana, Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That exclusive jurisdiction over the site and grounds for a public building in the town of Texarkana, Bowie County, Texas, be ceded to and vested in the United States of America, so long as said site and grounds shall be owned or used by the United States of America for all purposes except the administration of the criminal laws of the state of Texas and the service of civil process therein.

Sec. 2. That the site and grounds ceded to the United States of America by this act are described as follows, to wit: All of fractional Block No. (50) fifty in Trigg's addition to the town of Texarkana, Texas, including all the streets, alleys, and State Line Avenue adjoining said fractional block up to the state line between the states of Texas and Arkansas.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature, and the fact that the United States has no jurisdiction over the land described in section 2, and said land is needed for public buildings, creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house, and it is so enacted, and this bill shall take effect from and after its passage.

COKE COUNTY—CREATED.

Sec.

1. Creates and defines the limits of Coke County.
2. Named in honor of Richard Coke.
3. Designates committee for organizing this county.
4. Coke County to pay its pro rata share of Tom Green County debts.

Sec.

5. Coke County attached to the thirty-fifth judicial, eleventh congressional, twenty-eighth senatorial, and eighteenth representative districts.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 77.—[S. H. B. No. 138.] An Act to create the county of Coke out of Tom Green County, and to provide for its organization.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a new county, to be called Coke County, is hereby created out of Tom Green County, to wit:

Beginning at the northwest corner of Runnels County for the northeast corner of Coke County; thence west 34 miles, following the south lines of Nolan and Mitchell counties, to a point to northwest corner of Coke County; thence south 27 miles to a point for southwest corner of said Coke County; thence east 34 miles to a point on the west line of Runnels County for southeast corner of Coke County; thence north 27 miles to beginning.

Sec. 2. Said county of Coke is named in honor of Hon. Richard Coke, United States Senator.

Sec. 3. That D. T. Farley, Z. W. Withers, and T. A. Collier are hereby appointed a committee for the purpose of organizing said county of Coke, and they shall after the expiration of thirty days from the time this act takes effect lay off said county into four commissioners precincts and convenient justices precincts, not to exceed eight in number; also a convenient voting precinct for the election of county officers and designate places in each of said precincts where elections shall be held. Said committee shall within ten days thereafter order an election to be held for county officers and for selection of a county seat for said county, and they shall appoint presiding officers of elections for each voting precinct as prescribed by law in other cases. The election returns shall be made to said committee, who shall count the votes and issue certificates of election to the persons elected, and shall approve the bonds of said officers and administer to them the oath of office. Said committee shall keep a record of all the proceedings and file the same in the office of the county clerk when elected, who shall record the same; that any two of said committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and any one of said committee shall have power to administer the oath of office to the officers elected.

Sec. 4. That the new county shall pay a pro rata share of the existing legal debts of the county from which it is taken, and there shall be set apart so much of the county taxes levied and collected on the property within said new county as shall be sufficient to speedily liquidate said existing debts if any, and said pro rata to be based upon the value of the property for each year of the existence of said debt to be determined from the tax rolls of said county as made by the board of equalization.

Sec. 5. That the county of Coke is hereby attached to the thirty-fifth judicial district for judicial purposes, to the eleventh congressional, twenty-eighth senatorial, and eighteenth representative districts for purposes of representation.

Sec. 6. Whereas the county commissioners court of Tom Green County is about to levy taxes for the present year, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity requires the rule requiring that bills be read on three several days be suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 78.—[S. B. No. 291.] An Act to require foreign corporations to file their articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, and imposing certain conditions upon such corporations transacting business in this state, and to repeal an act approved April 2, 1887, entitled "An Act to require foreign corporations to file their articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, and imposing certain conditions upon such corporations transacting business in the state, and providing penalties for a violation of the same."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That hereafter any corporation for pecuniary profit (except as hereinafter provided), organized or created under the laws of any other state, or of any territory of the United States, or any municipality of such state or territory, or of any foreign government, sovereignty or municipality, desiring to transact business in this state, or solicit business in this state, or establish a general or special office in this state, shall be and the same are hereby required to file with the secretary of state a duly certified copy of its articles of incorporation, and thereupon the secretary of state shall issue to such corporation a permit to transact business in this state. If such corporation is created for more than one purpose the permit may be limited to one or more purposes.

Sec. 2. All such corporations now transacting business in this state shall have four months from the date when this act takes effect to comply with the conditions hereof by filing their articles of incorporation as provided in section 1 of this act.

Sec. 3. Hereafter no such corporation can maintain any suit or action, either legal or equitable, in any of the courts of this state upon any demand, whether arising out of contract or tort, unless at the time such contract was made or tort committed the corporation had filed its articles of incorporation under the provisions of this act in the office of the secretary of state for the purpose of procuring its permit.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this act shall not apply to corporations created for the purpose of constructing, building, operating, or maintaining any railway, or to such corporations as are required by law to procure permits to do business from the commissioner of agriculture, insurance, statistics, and history.

Sec. 5. Such corporation shall, if its capital stock be one hundred thousand dollars or less, pay a fee of twenty-five dollars to procure such permit; if its capital stock be more than one hundred thousand dollars, and less than five hundred thousand dollars, it shall pay a fee of fifty dollars; if its capital stock be five hundred thousand dollars, and less than one million dollars, it shall pay a fee of one hundred dollars; if its capital stock exceed one million dollars, it shall pay a fee of two hundred dollars.

Sec. 6. No permit shall be issued for a longer period than ten years from the date of filing such articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state.

Sec. 7. Either the original permit or certified copies thereof by the secretary of state shall be evidence of the compliance of [on] the part of any corporation with the terms of this act. A certificate of the secretary of state to the effect that the corporation named therein has failed to file in his office its articles of incorporation shall be evidence that such corporation has in no particular complied with the requirements of this act.

Sec. 8. The act of April 2, 1887, entitled "An Act to require foreign corporations to file their articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, and imposing certain conditions upon such corporations transacting business in the state, and providing penalties for a violation of the same," be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The near approach of the end of this session of the legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

CHAP. 79.—[S. B. No. 26.] An Act to authorize counties to fund their indebtedness, and to provide means to pay the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county commissioners court of any county in this state is hereby authorized and empowered to compromise, compound, settle with, and to fund any existing indebtedness lawfully made and undertaken by such county by authority of law created prior to January 1, 1889, and for this purpose the said commissioners courts are hereby authorized and empowered to issue bonds in denominations of not less than five hundred dollars, with interest coupons payable annually, said bonds to become due and payable in twenty years from the date of their issuance: Provided, That said bonds may be paid off at any time after two years from the date of their issuance if the commissioners court should so elect: And provided further, That such bonds shall not be sold for less than their face or par value; said bonds to bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum. And the said commissioners courts are further authorized and empowered to levy a tax upon all real and personal property situated in the county, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the hundred dollars on the assessed value of such property in any one year, to pay the annual interest and not less than two per cent annually of the principal of said bonds, beside the expenses of assessing and collecting the same; and no bonds shall be issued under this act until a levy, as herein provided, shall have been made, and when said levy shall have been so made, the same shall continue in force until the whole amount of the principal and interest shall have been fully paid: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize any county to levy any tax in excess of that authorized by the constitution and the laws now in force: Provided further, That it shall not authorize the taking up of bonds heretofore issued, and issuing new bonds in lieu thereof.

Sec. 2. All taxes levied under this act shall be applied solely to the objects for which they were levied, as follows:

1. To the payment of the expenses of assessing and collecting the same.
2. To the payment of the annual interest of said bonds and not less than two per cent of the principal; and if there be any excess on hand, after making the above payments for the current year, it shall be used in the purchase and cancellation of said bonds, after the expiration of said five years, as hereinbefore provided.

Sec. 3. All taxes levied under this act shall be assessed and collected in the same manner and by the same officers whose duty it is to assess and collect the state tax, and they shall receive for their services one-fourth the rate of commissions allowed for assessing and collecting the state tax. The same remedies shall be used to enforce the collection of said taxes that are provided by law to enforce the collection of the state tax: Provided, That such taxes shall be assessed and collected separately from that levied, assessed, and collected for current expenses of municipal government, and shall, when levied, specify in the act of levying the purpose therefor.

Sec. 4. The officer whose duty it is to collect the taxes levied under this act shall give a bond, with two or more sufficient sureties to be approved by the county commissioners court, in a sum to be equal to double the estimated annual amount of said tax, which bond shall be payable to the county, and shall be conditioned for the faithful collection and payment of said tax into the county treasury.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer to receive all moneys collected under this act, and to keep separate accounts thereof, and to pay out the same on warrants drawn by the order of the commissioners court in the usual regular form.

Sec. 6. The collector of the taxes levied under this act shall pay over to the county treasurer, at the beginning of each and every month, all moneys he may have collected during the next preceding month, deducting his legal commission on the amount so paid, and he shall, at each regular meeting of the county commissioners court, make a report of his collections and payments to the county treasurer since the next preceding term.

Sec. 7. All expenses necessary to give effect to the provisions of this act shall be paid out of the treasury of the county, and all bonds issued by any county under this act shall be signed by the county judge and attested by the clerk of the commissioners court, with the seal of said court affixed thereto.

Sec. 8. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. Whereas many counties in this state are burdened with overdue indebtedness, and are not able to provide for the payment of the same and also to pay their current expenses, therefore an imperative public necessity and an emergency exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended; and that this act take effect at once, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 80.—[S. S. B. No. 153.] An Act to regulate the practice of dentistry in the state of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any person to engage in the practice of dentistry in the state of Texas, unless said person has obtained license from a board of examiners, duly appointed and authorized by this act to issue such license: Provided, That dentists who have been in the regular practice of dentistry in this state for three years next preceding the passage of this act, shall not be required to submit to an examination, and shall be entitled to a license without fee which shall be transmitted to him by mail or otherwise upon his application accompanied by satisfactory evidence to the fact of his having been in the regular practice for the time required.

Sec. 2. That the board of examiners shall be appointed by the judge of each judicial district, and shall be composed of three reputable dentists residing in said district, who shall hold their offices two years from the date of appointment, and any vacancy shall be filled by the district judge as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. The board shall immediately after appointment select one of their number as president, and one as secretary, and adopt all rules necessary for the transaction of the business that may come before them.

Sec. 4. Said board shall meet annually at some central point in their respective districts to conduct examinations and grant licenses. Notice of the time and place of such meeting shall be given for one month by publication in some newspaper published in the district.

Sec. 5. Any applicant who shall furnish satisfactory evidence of having graduated and received a diploma from any reputable dental college, and any applicants under the provisions of the first section of this act, and all other applicants who undergo a satisfactory examination as to their qualifications and shall pay to the said board a fee of five dollars, to be used for the advertising and incidental expenses, shall be granted license, which license shall entitle the person to whom granted to practice dentistry in any county, where the same has been recorded as required by section 12.

Sec. 6. Said board shall keep a book, in which shall be registered the names of all persons licensed to practice dentistry by said board.

Sec. 7. The book so kept shall be a book of record, and a transcript from it, certified to by the officer who has it in keeping, with the common seal of said board, shall be evidence in any court in this state.

Sec. 8. That two members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and should a quorum not be present on the day appointed for its meeting, the member present may adjourn from day to day until a quorum be present.

Sec. 9. That one member of said board may grant a license for an applicant to practice, until the next regular meeting of the board, when he shall report the fact, at which time such temporary license shall expire, but such temporary license shall not be granted by a member of the board within one year after the board has rejected the applicant.

Sec. 10. That any person who shall, in violation of the provisions of this act, practice dentistry in this state for a fee or reward, shall be liable to indictment, and on conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than two hundred dollars; nor shall it be construed to prevent persons from extracting teeth, nor in any way interfere with physicians and surgeons in their practice as such.

Sec. 11. That all fines collected from prosecutions under this act shall be appropriated to the common school fund in the county where collected.

Sec. 12. That every person to whom license is issued by said board of examiners shall, within thirty days from the date thereof, present the same to the clerk of the county in which he resides, who shall officially record said license in a book in his office and shall be entitled to demand a fee of fifty cents for his services, but a temporary license issued under section 9 of this act need not be recorded.

Sec. 13. That on the trial of any person indicted under the provisions of this act, it shall be incumbent upon the defendant, in order to exempt him from the penalties of this act, to show that he has authority, under the law, to practice dentistry in this State.

Sec. 14. That all laws or parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

If such corporation is created for more than one purpose the permit may be limited to one or more purposes.

Sec. 2. All such corporations now transacting business in this state shall have four months from the date when this act takes effect to comply with the conditions hereof by filing their articles of incorporation as provided in section 1 of this act.

Sec. 3. Hereafter no such corporation can maintain any suit or action, either legal or equitable, in any of the courts of this state upon any demand, whether arising out of contract or tort, unless at the time such contract was made or tort committed the corporation had filed its articles of incorporation under the provisions of this act in the office of the secretary of state for the purpose of procuring its permit.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this act shall not apply to corporations created for the purpose of constructing, building, operating, or maintaining any railway, or to such corporations as are required by law to procure permits to do business from the commissioner of agriculture, insurance, statistics, and history.

Sec. 5. Such corporation shall, if its capital stock be one hundred thousand dollars or less, pay a fee of twenty-five dollars to procure such permit; if its capital stock be more than one hundred thousand dollars, and less than five hundred thousand dollars, it shall pay a fee of fifty dollars; if its capital stock be five hundred thousand dollars, and less than one million dollars, it shall pay a fee of one hundred dollars; if its capital stock exceed one million dollars, it shall pay a fee of two hundred dollars.

Sec. 6. No permit shall be issued for a longer period than ten years from the date of filing such articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state.

Sec. 7. Either the original permit or certified copies thereof by the secretary of state shall be evidence of the compliance of [on] the part of any corporation with the terms of this act. A certificate of the secretary of state to the effect that the corporation named therein has failed to file in his office its articles of incorporation shall be evidence that such corporation has in no particular complied with the requirements of this act.

CHAP. 83.—[H. B. No. 16.] An Act to create a board of arbitration to settle and determine the controversy between the United States and the state of Texas relating to certain territory by them respectively claimed, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Whereas a controversy exists between the United States and the state of Texas over the title of that territory lying between the North Fork, or Red River proper, and the South Fork, formerly known as Prairie Dog Town River, east of the one hundredth degree of longitude, the same being designated on the maps of Texas as Greer County; and whereas all efforts heretofore made by and between the United States and the state of Texas for a settlement of said controversy have failed; and whereas it is desirable that said conflicting claims should be finally settled and determined: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a board of arbitration be and the same is hereby created for the purpose of deciding said controversy and finally determining the ownership of said territory.

Sec. 2. That said board of arbitration shall consist of three persons, who shall be learned in the law, one of whom shall be appointed by the president of the United States, one by the governor of Texas, and the third, who shall be the chief justice of some one of the states other than Texas, shall be agreed upon and appointed by the president of the United States and the governor of Texas.

Sec. 3. That said board of arbitration shall meet at such place or places as may be designated by a majority of its members, and shall have full authority to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths, and to hear and receive testimony in behalf of the respective claims of the United States and the state of Texas, including any evidence heretofore taken and received by the joint boundary commission under the act of congress approved January 31, 1885, and to thoroughly investigate and decide said controversy to the end that it may be definitely settled and determined whether said territory belongs to the United States or the state of Texas.

Sec. 4. That said board of arbitration shall be appointed and enter upon the work hereby assigned them as early as practicable after the passage of an act of similar import to this by the congress of the United States, and shall render their decision as soon as the importance of the issue and a proper investigation thereof will justify; and when said decision is rendered the same shall be by said board of arbitration certified to the president of the United States and the governor of Texas, and shall be recorded in the respective general land offices of the United States and the state of Texas, and said decision shall be final and decisive of said controversy.

Sec. 5. That the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the governor of this state, to defray the expenses and for compensation of those members of said board of arbitration appointed by the governor and agreed on by the governor and president: Provided, That the United States shall pay a sum equal to that paid by the state as compensation for that member of said board jointly appointed by the president and governor of Texas.

Sec. 6. That this act shall take effect and be in force as soon as the congress of the United States shall pass an act in accordance herewith.

CHAP. 84.—[S. B. No. 297.] An Act to authorize the county commissioners court of Hidalgo County to issue bonds for the protection of the court house and jail and other property from further erosion of the Rio Grande River, and to levy a tax to pay the interest and principal thereof.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That the county commissioners court of Hidalgo County is hereby authorized and empowered to issue the bonds of said county, with interest coupons attached, in such amount as may be necessary, not to exceed ten thousand dollars, to protect the court house and jail of said county and other public property in the same vicinity from further erosion of the Rio Grande River, and to prevent further encroachment of said river; the said bonds running not exceeding ten years, redeemable at the pleasure of the county, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding eight per cent per annum.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of said county shall levy an annual ad valorem tax on the property in said county sufficient to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the redemption of said bonds, not to exceed one-eighth of one per cent for any one year.

Sec. 3. The county shall not issue a larger number of bonds than a tax of one-eighth of one per cent annually will liquidate in ten years, and such bonds shall be sold only at their face or par value.

Sec. 4. The interest on said bonds shall be paid annually on the first day of July, and an account kept by the county treasurer of the amount of principal and interest paid on each.

Sec. 5. The said bond shall be signed by the county judge and countersigned by the county clerk and registered by the county treasurer before they are delivered.

Sec. 6. The fact that the public buildings belonging to said county are in immediate danger from encroachments of the Rio Grande River, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency, wherefore the rule should be suspended requiring bills to be read on three several days, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 79 yeas, 2 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the governor for his approval on the fourteenth day of March, A. D. 1889, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. M. Moore, Secretary of State.]

CHAP. 85.—[S. B. No. 51.] An Act to provide for the more efficient government and maintenance of the House of Correction and Reformatory at Gatesville.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the government of the house of correction and reformatory, established at Gatesville, in pursuance to an act of March 29, A. D. 1887, shall be vested in the governor, a board of control, who shall be known as trustees, and a superintendent, as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Said board of control shall consist of three trustees, to be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate, and shall hold their offices for the term of two years, unless sooner removed by the governor: Provided, That such trustees, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, shall take the constitutional oath of office. Such trustees shall each receive the sum of five dollars per day and their actual expenses while engaged in the performance of their duties, for which the comptroller shall issue his warrant on their verified accounts approved by the governor, and two members thereof shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business: Provided, They shall not receive more than one hundred and fifty dollars per annum each.

Sec. 3. Said trustees shall hold stated quarterly meetings at the reformatory, and shall convene at the seat of government, or at said reformatory in cases of emergency, when thereto called by the governor. It shall be their duty to make full and complete quarterly reports in writing to the governor, covering all the transactions at such meetings and during the preceding quarter, and on or before the 30th day of November of each year to make an annual report in writing to the governor, covering all transactions since their last annual report, fully exhibiting the condition of the institution, together with such suggestions as to the control, government, and management thereof as they may deem necessary or requisite to the interest thereof.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of said trustees to take control and supervision of the reformatory, and in this connection they shall elect one of their members chairman at their first meeting, and prescribe rules respecting the conduct of their meetings and business; and at the same meeting they shall formulate a set of by-laws, rules, and regulations for the economic and efficient government and control of said reformatory and house of correction, having in view the objects to be accomplished by the establishment thereof, which by-laws, rules, and regulations shall be reported to the governor for his approval, or for his amendment and approval, and when so approved, or amended and approved, the same shall become binding and of obligatory force upon the trustees, superintendent, subordinate officers, employees and inmates of said institution, and it shall be the duty of the trustees to see to the enforcement thereof, and of the laws of the state in relation to said house of correction and reformatory.

Sec. 5. The governor shall appoint a superintendent, who shall be financial agent for said reformatory and house of correction, and who shall receive for his services the sum of eighteen ($1800) hundred dollars per annum to be paid quarterly on the comptroller's warrant, based on a verified account ap-provided by the trustees. Such superintendent shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take the oath of office prescribed by the constitution, and shall give a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the governor, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, payable to the governor and his successors in office, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, which bond when so approved, shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state.

Sec. 6. The superintendent shall have the entire control and management of the house of correction and reformatory, subject to the authority established by law and the by-laws, rules, and regulations adopted by the trustees.

(a) It shall be the duty of the superintendent to keep a register in which he shall enter the reception, previous moral character, habits, and education, so far as can be ascertained, and the discharge, death, escape, commutation of time and punishment inflicted on each person committed to the house of correction and reformatory.

(b) It shall be his duty to obey and carry out all written orders and instructions which he shall from time to time receive from the board or from the governor.

(c) He shall reside at the house of correction and reformatory and be held responsible for the strict enforcement of the laws, by-laws, rules, and regulations and written orders of the trustees and of the governor; he shall see that the buildings are kept in good condition and that good order be observed in all departments.

(d) He shall take the proper measures to promote the healthfulness and cleanliness of the house of correction and reformatory.

(e) He shall keep the books of the reformatory, fully exhibiting all moneys received and disbursed, the source from which received, and the purposes for which the same were expended. Said books shall at all times be open to the inspection of the trustees or of the governor, or any one appointed by the governor or the trustees to make such inspection.

(f) Said superintendent shall make full quarterly reports in writing under oath to the governor, showing in detail the fiscal operations of the reformatory since his last report; and it shall also be his duty to make an annual report of like character to the governor, on or before the 30th day of November of each year, covering in detail all the fiscal operations of the reformatory for the year last past.

(g) He shall purchase all materials and supplies and disburse all moneys appropriated therefor, and shall sell all products raised and all articles manufactured by the inmates, and shall deposit all money realized from the sale thereof in the treasury of the state, taking the treasurer's certificate of deposit therefor.

Sec. 7. All supplies for the house of correction and reformatory which are not therein produced or manufactured shall, so far as can be done advantageously to the state, be procured from the state penitentiaries, under such rules and regulations as the trustees and governor may provide; and the laws, rules, and regulations of said penitentiaries, and the laws relating to and defining the mode and manner of furnishing supplies to the asylums, shall apply to and be complied with in procuring such other supplies as may be needed; and no officer of the house of correction and reformatory shall in any manner be interested in any contract made therefor.

Sec. 8. The by-laws herein provided for shall prescribe rules for the liberal commutation of time to be earned by the inmates for good behavior, and for apprenticing the inmates by the trustees, after a reasonable period of confinement, when deemed for the best interest of the house of correction and reformatory and the inmates, and for a term not longer than the time for which they were committed, and for tickets of leave, and for reasonable recreation, and for instruction in reading, writing, arithmetic, and habits of industry, sobriety, and in useful arts or trades; but the specification of any subject to be embraced in the by-laws shall not be construed as a limitation of the power of the trustees to make other rules, regulations, and by-laws, as provided for in previous sections of this act.

Sec. 9. In connection with said house of correction and reformatory there shall be established such mechanical industries as the board of trustees may deem proper and advisable, and the inmates shall be placed at such work as the superintendent shall designate; and the trustees shall especially provide that the white and colored inmates shall be kept, worked, and educated separately.

Sec. 10. The superintendent shall employ, with the advice and consent of the trustees, such subordinate officers, teachers, and employees as the governor and trustees shall determine are requisite and necessary to the due conduct and administration of said house of correction and reformatory, whose salaries shall be fixed by the trustees with the approval of the governor.

Sec. 11. In said house of correction and reformatory shall be confined all convicts heretofore transferred thereto or heretofore provided by law to be transferred from the penitentiaries of this state, and all male persons under sixteen years of age who shall hereafter be convicted of a felony in any court in this state, whose term of confinement shall not exceed five years: Provided, Said convicts confined in said house of correction and reformatory shall be required to wear such uniform as may be adopted by the trustees: And provided, No uniform shall be prescribed similar to that now worn by the convicts in the penitentiaries. It shall be the duty of the governor, upon the recommendation of the trustees and superintendent of said house of correction and reformatory, for good behavior and exemplary moral conduct during confinement, to restore to such convicts all their legal rights at the expiration of their respective terms of servitude.

Sec. 12. When upon the trial and conviction of any person in this state of a felony it is found by the verdict of the jury that the defendant is not more than sixteen years of age, and the verdict of conviction is for confinement for five years or less, the judgment and sentence of the court shall be that the defendant be confined in the house of correction and reformatory instead of the penitentiary, for the term of his sentence, and that such defendant be conveyed to the house of correction and reformatory by the proper authority, and there confined for the period of his sentence; and for such service such officer shall be paid the same fees he would be allowed for carrying such convicts to the penitentiary: Providing, The jury convicting shall say in their verdict whether the convict shall be sent to the reformatory or the penitentiary.

Sec. 13. Upon the discharge of any persons so committed to said house of correction and reformatory, the superintendent shall provide them with a suit of suitable clothing and five dollars in money, and procure transportation for them to their homes, if resident of this state, or to the county in which they may have been convicted, or to such other place in the state at which said discharged inmate may have procured employment, at his option: Provided, That such transportation shall not exceed that to the point from which said convict was convicted.

Sec. 14. If any person confined in the house of correction and reformatory shall escape therefrom, it shall be the duty of any sheriff or peace officer to apprehend and detain him, and to report the same to the superintendent of the house of correction and reformatory, and they shall be returned in the same manner and under the same laws as are provided for the return of convicts escaped from the penitentiaries. And it shall be lawful for any person to apprehend such escaped inmate, and it shall be the duty of any person who apprehends such escaped inmate to immediately deliver him to the sheriff or nearest constable of the county where such arrest has been made, who shall retain him until returned as hereinbefore provided.

Sec. 15. Any person who shall knowingly assist any inmate lawfully confined in the house of correction and reformatory to escape, or who shall knowingly conceal such inmate, or advise or abet the escape of such inmate, or who shall furnish such inmate with money, arms, or any character of means with the purpose of facilitating the escape of such inmate, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be confined in the penitentiary for a term of not less than two nor more than five years.

Sec. 16. The near approach of the close of this session of the legislature, and the fact that the present law creating and governing the house of correction and reformatory is inadequate, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so enacted, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAP. 86.—[S. B. No. 256.] An act to provide for the admission from other states of companies or associations carrying on the business of life or casualty insurance on the assessment or natural premium plan.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That companies or associations organized under the laws of any other state of the United States, carrying on the business of life or casualty insurance on the assessment or natural premium plan, and having cash assets of a sum not less than one hundred thousand dollars, invested as required by the laws of this state regulating other insurance companies, shall be licensed by the commissioner of insurance to do business in this state, and be subject only to the provisions of this act: Provided, however, That such company or association shall first file with the commissioner of insurance a certified copy of its charter, a written agreement, appointing the commissioner of insurance and his successor in office to be its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all lawful process in any action or proceeding against it may be served; a certificate under oath of its president and secretary that it is paying and for the twelve months next preceding has paid the maximum amount named in its policies or certificates in full; a statement under oath of its president and secretary of its business for the year ending December 31 preceding; a certified copy of its constitution and by-laws, and a copy of its policy and application; a certificate from the proper authority in its home state that said company or association is legally entitled to do business in such home state, and has at least one hundred thousand dollars surplus assets subject to its indebtedness. It shall be the duty of the commissioner of insurance to issue a license to any company or association complying with the provisions of this act, and every such company or association shall annually thereafter, before such license is renewed, file with the commissioner of insurance, on or before the first day of March, a statement under oath of its president and secretary, or like officers, of its business for the year ending December 31, preceding.

Sec. 2. Every such company or association shall pay to the commissioner of insurance, for the use of the state, the following fees: For filing copy of its charter, twenty-five dollars; for filing statement preliminary to admission, twenty dollars; for filing each annual statement after admission, twenty dollars; for license to company or association, one dollar.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this act shall in no wise apply to mutual benefit organizations doing business in this state through lodges or councils, such as the order of Chosen Friends, Knights of Honor, or kindred organizations.

Sec. 4. The near approach of the close of this session of the legislature creates an imperative public necessity, which justifies the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is therefore suspended.

7. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 87.—[H. B. No. 290.] An Act to create and provide for the organization of the county of Irion.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a new county to be called Irion shall be created out of the area of Tom Green County, with boundary lines as follows:

Beginning at a point on the south line of Tom Green County, due south of the northeast corner of Survey No. 790, on Dove Creek; thence north thirty miles; thence west to a point south of the southeast corner of Glasscock County; thence south thirty miles to the north line of Crockett and Schleicher counties; thence east to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2. That the expense of running and marking the boundary lines of the new county shall be paid by the new county, and each surveyor engaged in running and marking any of said lines shall receive the sum of $3 for each mile actually run and marked.

Sec. 3. That it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of Tom Green County, within ten (10) days from the enactment of this law, to lay off and divide said new county into convenient precincts for the election of county officers, and also to designate places in the new county where elections shall be held; all of which they shall cause a record to be made by the clerk, and a copy thereof shall be transmitted to the county judge of the new county.

Sec. 4. That the county judge of Tom Green County shall immediately thereafter order an election for county officers and for the location of the county seat of said new county, and he shall appoint presiding officers, judges and clerks of election, and the election returns shall be made to the county judge of Tom Green County, who shall issue certificates to the persons elected, and shall approve the bonds of such officers and shall administer to them the oath of office.

Sec. 5. That the new county shall pay its pro rata share of the existing legal debt of the county of Tom Green, and county commissioners of the new county shall levy and set apart annually a tax that will be sufficient to speedily pay off and discharge said debt.

Sec. 6. That the new county shall be in the thirty-fifth judicial, the twenty-eighth senatorial, and the eightieth representative districts, and courts shall be held in said new county on the ———— and may continue in session one week.

Sec. 7. Whereas the county commissioners court of Tom Green County is about to levy taxes for the present year, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

14. Denouncing penalty for injuring irrigating canal, etc.
15. Corporations created for the purposes hereof may acquire lands.
16. Repealing clause.
17. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 88.—[S. H. B. No. 298.] An Act to encourage irrigation, and to provide for the acquisition of the right to the use of water, and for the construction and maintenance of canals, ditches, flumes, reservoirs, and wells for irrigation, and for mining, milling and stockraising in the arid districts of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the unappropriated waters of every river or natural stream within the arid portions of the state of Texas, in which, by reason of the insufficient rainfall, irrigation is necessary for agricultural purposes, may be diverted from its natural channel for irrigation, domestic, and other beneficial uses: Provided, That said water shall not be diverted so as to deprive any person who claims, owns, or holds a possessory right or title to any land lying along the bank or margin of any river or natural stream of the use of the water thereof for his own domestic use.

Sec. 2. That the unappropriated waters of every river or natural stream within the arid portions of the state, as described in the preceding section of this act, are hereby declared to be the property of the public, and may be acquired by appropriation for the uses and purposes as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 3. The appropriation must be for the purposes named in this act, and when the appropriator, or his successor in interest, ceases to use it for such purpose the right ceases.

Sec. 4. As between appropriators, the one first in time is the one first in right to such quantity of the water only as is reasonably sufficient and necessary to irrigate the land susceptible of irrigation on either side of ditch or canal.

Sec. 5. Every person, corporation, or association of persons which have constructed or may hereafter construct any ditch, canal, or reservoir, for the purposes named in this act, and taking water from any natural stream, shall, within ninety days after this act goes into effect, or within ninety days after the commencement of such construction, file and cause to be recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county where the head gate of such ditch or canal may be situated, or to which said county may be attached for judicial purposes, in a well bound book to be kept by said clerk for that purpose, a sworn statement in writing, showing the name of such ditch or canal, the point at which the head gate thereof is situated, the size of the ditch or canal in width and depth, and the carrying capacity thereof in cubic feet per second of time, the name of said stream from which said water is taken, the time when the work was commenced, and the name of the owners or owner thereof, together with a map showing the route of said ditch or canal.

Sec. 6. Within ninety days next after the filing of said statement, the party claiming the right to appropriate the water shall begin the actual construction of the proposed ditch, canal, or reservoir, and shall prosecute the work thereon diligently and continuously to completion.

Sec. 7. "Completion," as used in the preceding section, is hereby defined to be the conducting of the water in the main canal to the place of intended use.

Sec. 8. By compliance with the preceding provisions of this act the claimant's right to the use of the water relates back to the time when the work of excavation or construction was commenced on said proposed ditch, canal, or reservoir: Provided: That a failure to file said statement shall in no wise work a forfeiture of such heretofore acquired rights, nor prevent such claimants of such heretofore acquired rights from establishing such rights in the courts.

Sec. 9. When any person, corporation, or association of persons, by compliance with the preceding provisions of this act, shall become entitled to the use of the waters in any river or stream, it shall thereafter be unlawful for any other person, corporation, or association of persons, except for domestic use by any one entitled thereto, to so divert the flow of water in said river or stream in such manner and to the extent of depriving said person, corporation, or association of persons in priority of the use of the water to which they may be so entitled.

Sec. 10. Corporations may be formed and chartered under the provisions of this act and of the general incorporation laws of the state of Texas, for the purpose of constructing, maintaining, and operating canals, ditches, flumes, feeders, laterals, reservoirs, and wells, and of conducting, transferring, and furnishing water to all persons entitled to the same, for irrigation and domestic uses, and for the purpose of building storage reservoirs for the collection and storage of water for the uses before mentioned, and for mining, milling, and stock-raising. All persons who own or hold a possessory right or title to land adjoining or contiguous to any canal, ditch, flume, or lateral, constructed and maintained under the provisions of this act, and who shall have secured a right to the use of water in said canal, ditch, flume, or lateral, shall be entitled to be supplied from such canal, ditch, flume, or lateral with water for the irrigation of such land and domestic uses: Provided, The party so entitled shall first make available his said land for agricultural or grazing purposes, and shall provide cisterns, wells, or storage reservoirs for water for domestic purposes.

Sec. 11. All corporations and associations formed for the purposes of irrigation as provided in this act, are hereby granted the right of way, not to exceed one hundred feet in width, over all public, university, school, and asylum lands of the state, with the use of the rock, gravel, and timber on the right of way, for construction purposes, and may obtain the right of way over private lands by contract. Any such corporation may also obtain the right of way over private lands by condemnation by causing the damages for any private property appropriated by such corporations or associations to be assessed and paid for as provided in cases of railroads.

Sec. 12. All surplus water not used or disposed of, as provided for in the preceding sections of this act, shall be conducted back to the stream from which it was taken. And all water sold or disposed of may be measured in inches, feet, or fractional portion of the whole supply, or distributed by the hour or acre system. But any person, corporation, or association of persons shall furnish water in the way and manner named in the contract or certificate issued to the purchasers of said water so long as water remains unsold in the ditch: (Provided, That the commissioner of agriculture, insurance, statistics, and history, shall make a report to the legislature at its next regular session, and at each regular session thereafter, as to the cost and expense attending the construction and maintenance of canals, ditches, flumes, feeders, and wells for irrigation in various parts of the state, and accompany the same with a statement of the charges made for the uses of water by canal, ditch, and well companies, and the legislature shall at such times as it deems proper, either by direct legislation or by the creation of a commissioner or water inspector or inspectors with full delegated power, control and regulate the quantity of water which may be diverted by any water company or individual, when and in the manner in which it may be diverted, and may establish and enforce all such reasonable rules and regulations necessary and proper governing and controlling such corporations and water construction companies and persons operating under the provisions of this act, and may also control, regulate, change, and fix the charges for the use of water made by such ditch, canal, and well companies.)

Sec. 13. All said persons, corporations, and associations shall have the right to run along or across all roads and highways necessary in the construction of their work, and shall at all such crossings construct and maintain necessary bridges for the accommodation of the public, and shall not affect or impair the usefulness or condition of said road or highway.

Sec. 14. Any person who shall wilfully or through gross negligence injure any irrigating canal or its appurtenances, wells, or reservoirs, or who shall waste the water thereof, or shall take the water therefrom without authority, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and for each offense shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

Sec. 15. Any corporation created and organized under the provisions of the general laws of this state or the provisions of this act for the purpose of irrigation, shall have the power to acquire lands by voluntary donation or purchase or in payment of stock or water rights, and to hold and dispose of all such lands and other property, and to borrow money for the construction, maintenance, and operation of its canals, ditches, flumes, feeders, reservoirs, and wells, and may issue bonds and mortgage its corporate property and franchises to secure the payment of any debt contracted for the same: Provided, All lands acquired by said corporation, except such as are used for the construction, maintenance, and operation of said canals, ditches, laterals, feeders, reservoirs, and wells shall be alienated within twenty years from the date of acquiring said lands or be subject to judicial forfeiture.

Sec. 16. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 17. Whereas it is necessary that irrigating canals should be built at once to afford water for irrigational purposes for the present year; therefore an emergency exists, and an imperative public necessity demands the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires a bill to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

JUDGMENTS—NOTICE OF TRANSFERS OF.

- Sec. 1. Herein as to form of transfers of judgments, etc.
2. Herein as to notice.

CHAP. 89.—[S. B. No. 148.] An Act to regulate the sale and transfer of judgments of courts of record, and of causes of action or interest therein where suit has been filed thereon, and to provide for recording such transfers.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the sale of a judgment, or any part thereof, of any court of record within this state, or the sale of any cause of action, or interest therein, after suit has been filed thereon, shall be evidenced by a written transfer, which when acknowledged in the manner and form required by law for the acknowledgment of deeds, may be filed with the papers of such suit, and when thus filed by the clerk, it shall be his duty to make a minute of said transfer on the margin of the minute book of the court where said judgment is recorded of said court, or if judgment be not rendered when such transfer is filed, the clerk shall make a minute of such transfer on the court trial docket when the suit is entered, giving briefly the substance thereof, for which services he shall be entitled to a fee of twenty-five cents, to be paid by the party applying therefor, and this section shall apply to any and all judgments, suits, claims, and causes of actions, whether assignable in law and equity or not.

Sec. 2. That when said transfer is duly acknowledged, filed, and noted as aforesaid, the same shall be full notice and valid and binding upon all persons subsequently dealing with reference to said cause of action or judgment, whether they have actual knowledge of such transfer or not.

Approved, March 26, 1889.

CHAP. 90.—[S. B. No. 167.] An Act to provide for the ascertainment, distribution and sale of the excesses in surveys of land made for the school fund, and to validate surveys of land as herein provided.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all surveys and blocks of surveys heretofore made by virtue of valid alternate scrip be and the same are hereby declared to segregate from the mass of the public domain all the land embraced in said surveys, or blocks of surveys, as evidenced by the corners and lines of same, or by calls for natural or artificial objects, or the calls for the corners and boundaries of other surveys or by the maps and other records in the general land office.

Sec. 2. That all excess in said surveys or blocks of surveys are hereby donated and declared to belong to the public free school fund of the state; and it shall be the duty of the commissioner of the general land office to ascertain, by any and all means practicable, the existence and extent of such excesses, and to provide for and direct such surveys, or corrected surveys, as may be necessary for this purpose: Provided, That where such surveys were made in blocks of two or more surveys, said respective surveys shall remain on the ground consecutively as placed therein, as shown by the maps, sketches, and field notes originally returned to the general land office: Provided, That the person who has already purchased, or who may hereafter purchase from the state, the particular section to which surplus shall by such resurvey be made contiguous, shall have the prior right for the period of six months after such resurvey shall have been made, in which to purchase such excess on the same terms on which such purchaser has already bought or may buy.

Sec. 3. That all such surveys which under the direction of the commissioner of the general land office have been or may be hereafter corrected, so that all excess in the original surveys shall be placed in the surveys belonging to the public free schools, are hereby validated, and the action of the commissioner is hereby ratified; and he is directed and authorized to issue patents to the owners thereof, and to sell such surveys belonging to the public free schools, securing to the state the benefit of such excesses.

Sec. 4. That the provisions of this act shall not apply to nor affect the rights of the third persons heretofore acquired in good faith.

Sec. 5. Provided, That nothing in this act shall apply to any lands for which patents have been issued.

Sec. 6. Whereas there is much confusion and uncertainty in regard to certain lands surveyed in this state, and the rights of actual settlers and purchasers are dependent upon the validity of such surveys, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and demanding that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

LANDS—TO CHANGE SURVEY NUMBERS.

- Sec. 1. Provides for changing survey numbers of school lands, etc.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 91.—[H. B. No. 504.] An Act to authorize the commissioner of the general land office in certain cases to change the number of surveys made by virtue of alternate land certificates.

Whereas there are conflicting locations made by virtue of alternate land certificates; and whereas the common school or even numbered surveys in the conflicting location are not identical; and whereas uncertainty exists as to what particular surveys belong to the common school fund: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That where the common school or even numbered surveys in conflicting locations, made by virtue of alternate land certificates, are not identical or upon the same land, the commissioner of the general land office may, where he deems it to interest of the state to do so, change the numbers of the surveys in the conflicting locations so as to make the common school or even numbered surveys in both locations identical: Provided, That the commissioner of the general land office shall not change the numbers of surveys without the written consent of the owner of the certificates by virtue of which said surveys are made.

Sec. 2. The fact that said school lands are in immediate demand for actual settlement, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act shall take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 77 yeas, 1 nay; and passed the senate by a vote of 21 yeas, 1 nay.]

Sec.

2. Proviso as to interest.

3. Emergency clause.

[HAP. 92.—[S. H. B. Nos. 474 and 478.] An Act extending for ten years the payment of the principal of the purchase money for lands purchased under the two acts of the legislature herein named.

Whereas under an act of the legislature of this state providing for the sale of university lands, approved April 8, 1874, and an act of the legislature of this state providing for the sale of the common school lands, approved July 8, 1879, many of said lands were sold on a credit of ten years, the principal bearing ten per cent interest per annum; and

Whereas many of the obligations given for said lands are now due or about to become due, and said purchase money is bringing to the state a higher rate of interest than can be otherwise obtained for the same; and

Whereas it is to the interest of the school and university funds, to which such lands belong, that the time for the payment of the principal of the purchase money be extended: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all purchasers of said lands under either of the above recited acts, or their assignees, shall have ten years from the date when their original obligations given for said land shall have fallen due within which to pay the principal of said obligations, and no forfeiture of said lands shall be declared on account of the non-payment of the principal of said obligations until the expiration of ten years from date of the maturity of the same as originally made: Provided, This act shall not apply to any purchaser or assignee who shall fail or refuse to pay within twelve months from date of approval of this act all accrued interest due the state on his original obligation or contract.

Sec. 2. Nothing in this act shall be construed to in any respect relieve said purchasers from the payment of interest on said land in the manner or on the terms prescribed in said original acts, nor to prevent a forfeiture of said lands for a failure to comply with the terms of said original obligations in the payment of interest.

Sec. 3. Whereas many of said obligations are now falling due; and whereas it is to the interest of the state that said principal sums yet unpaid shall be left unpaid, so long as the same will bring ten per cent interest; and whereas many of said purchasers will be compelled to make great sacrifices to secure the money to pay said obligations, if compelled to pay the same when due, therefore an imperative public necessity exists for the immediate passage of this bill, and that it take effect from passage; therefore the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days is hereby suspended, and it is enacted that this bill take effect from and after its passage.

LAND BOARD—VALIDATING ACTS OF.

Sec.

1. Contracts of sale of school and other lands by land board validated.
2. Does not apply to persons failing to make bona fide settlement under their contracts.

Sec.

3. Titles of assignees purchased from original vendees of land board validated. Proviso.
4. Patents to land sold by board validated.
5. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 93.—[S. H. B. No. 21.] An Act to make valid and confirm certain contracts of sale made by the land board of the state of Texas with divers persons for the sale of certain of the free school, university, and asylum lands of the state of Texas, sold under the act of the legislature of the state of Texas, approved April 12, 1883.

Whereas the land board of the state of Texas, duly appointed for that purpose, did make contracts under the act of April 12, 1883, for the sale to certain divers persons of the free school, university, and asylum lands of this state; and

Whereas many of such persons acting in good faith, believing that the said contracts were valid and binding and secured to them the right to acquire valid titles to said land by a compliance therewith, have paid to the state a part of the purchase price of the said lands and interest on the amount of the said contract price for several years; and

Whereas it has been found that the said contracts were made by the said land board in many instances without a strict compliance with the requirements of the said law, whereby the said contracts are rendered invalid and said purchasers have failed to acquire any right under the said purchases and contracts so made; and

Whereas it is inequitable and unjust that the said parties so acting in good faith, who have complied with their said contracts should be deprived of their equities so attempted to be acquired and which the state in good faith intended to confer upon them, by reason of the failure of the said land board to comply with the technical requirements of said law, and thus lose the benefit of what they have paid on said contracts and be deprived of the said lands: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all contracts made by the land board of the state of Texas for the sale of the free school, university, and asylum lands under the act of April 12, 1883, to any person who has in good faith made such purchase and in good faith has complied with the requirements of said act, the rules and regulations of the state land board, and the terms and conditions of his said contract, shall be and are hereby made valid and binding upon the state in the same manner as if the said land board had in all particulars complied with the requirements of the said law.

Sec. 2. This act shall not apply to any person or persons who have failed to make a bona fide settlement upon the said land in such case as by the terms of his contract or the requirements of said land board settlement was required, nor to any person or persons who entered into such contracts of purchase under the agreement or promise on their part that actual settlement should be made thereon, unless he or they have made such actual settlement in good faith as required.

Sec. 3. The title of all vendees or assignees who on the first day of January, 1889, were actual bona fide settlers upon any land purchased from the aforesaid land board, holding said land under deed or regular chain of title from the original purchasers, and who are still residing upon said land—in cases where the original purchaser failed to comply with the law and the requirements of said land board as to settlement and occupancy, but where the annual installments of interest have been paid—are hereby validated and confirmed: Provided, The provisions of this section shall not refer to nor include more than one section of agricultural or three sections of grazing lands.

Sec. 4. All patents heretofore issued for any lands sold by the state land board under the act of April 12, 1883, are hereby validated.

Sec. 5. The unsettled condition of the title to the lands as aforesaid, and the injustice to many citizens that has or may flow from the failure of said land board to comply with the requirements of the law in making said sales, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency, which authorizes the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act will take effect from and after its passage.

Approved, March 12, 1889.

3. This act not to affect rights of third parties.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 94.—[S. B. No. 269.] An Act to validate certain surveys which for any reason might be deemed invalid, and to authorize the commissioner of the general land office to issue patents therefor.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That in all cases where parties resurveyed or relocated lands by virtue of any valid land certificates previously surveyed and on file in the general land office, without having taken out certified copies thereof, and thereby failed to comply strictly with the law, such last named survey, which in law might be deemed a relocation, shall be valid and the owner shall hold thereunder thereby abandoning all other surveys previously made, and the commissioner of the general land office is authorized to issue patents therefor.

Sec. 2. That all surveys heretofore made by any county or district surveyor, which would otherwise be valid, shall not be called in question on account of said surveys having been made outside of the proper county or district, but said surveys shall be valid the same as if the said surveyor had jurisdiction in the territory embracing the same.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this act shall not apply to nor affect the rights of third persons heretofore acquired by virtue of any purchase from the state location or surveys made in accordance with the laws in force at the time of such location and survey.

Sec. 4. Whereas there is much confusion and uncertainty in regard to certain lands surveyed in this state, and the rights of actual settlers and purchasers are dependant upon the validity of such surveys, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and demanding that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

LANDS—UNORGANIZED COUNTY SCHOOL.

Sec.

1. Commissioner of land office authorized to lease lands of unorganized counties.

Sec.

2. Control of lands vests in the county upon organization.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 95.—[S. B. No. 143.] An Act to provide for leasing the unorganized county school leagues.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: The commissioner of the general land office is hereby authorized to lease, for a term of not exceeding ten years, at a price not less than two cents per acre, the three hundred and twenty leagues of land set apart and surveyed in the year 1882 for the unorganized counties of the state, situated in the counties of Hockley, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, Andrews, Martin, Dawson, and Grimes, under the same rules and upon the same terms as are prescribed by law for the lease of the university lands. The proceeds of such lease shall be paid into the state treasury and become a part of the available school fund of the state.

Sec. 2. Whenever any county entitled to said lands shall be organized, the control of said lands belonging to such county shall vest in the commissioners court of such county, and any lease money thereafter becoming due, shall be payable to such county, but all leases executed before such organization of the county shall be binding for the full term thereof.

Sec. 3. There being no law requiring or providing for the lease of said land creates an emergency, and the importance of this bill creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended.

LANDS—MILAM COUNTY SCHOOL.

Sec.

1. Provides for warrants to reimburse settlers for amounts paid on pre-emption of Milam County school lands.

Sec.

2. $1500 appropriated for purposes of this bill.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 96.—[H. B. No. 310.] An Act for the relief of settlers upon the Milam County school lands located in Hood County, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Whereas under an act of the legislature of the state of Texas, approved July 21, 1870, certain settlers on the Milam County school lands, located in Hood County, bought their pre-emption claims from the state of Texas at the rate of fifty cents per acre, and received patents therefor from the state; and whereas the supreme court has declared said law unconstitutional and said patents void; and whereas the said settlers, or their assigns, have lost said lands at the suit of Milam County, and said parties have given notice of their intention to apply for relief at the hands of the Twenty-first Legislature, and ask to be reimbursed in their purchase money with lawful interest:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That upon proper proof being made to the comptroller of public accounts that the said settlers, or their assigns, who then owned and paid for said pre-emption surveys and lost the same through the courts of this state, that the said comptroller is authorized and ordered to draw a warrant on the state treasurer in favor of each of said settlers, or his assigns, for the amount or amounts paid by him to the state for said pre-emption claims.

Sec. 2. That the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be appropriated out of the general revenue not otherwise appropriated to pay the same.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the end of the present session of the legislature, and the great probability that this bill will not be reached on the regular call of business before the end of the same, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

2. Duty of clerks of said courts.
3. Appeals from justices, etc.

Sec.

4. As to executions on existing judgments.
5. Repealing clause.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 97.—[H. B. No. 552.] An act to diminish the civil and criminal jurisdiction of county courts of La Salle and Mills counties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county courts of La Salle and Mills counties shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a probate court; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards; settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians; transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the partition, settlement, and distribution of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as prescribed by law, and to issue all writs necessary for the enforcement of its own jurisdiction, and to punish contempts under such provisions as may be prescribed by general laws governing county courts, and to have and exercise general jurisdiction over questions of eminent domain as prescribed by law, but said county courts shall have no other jurisdiction, civil or criminal.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the county clerks of La Salle and Mills counties, within twenty days after the passage of this act, to make a full and complete transcript of all orders on the dockets of said county courts in cases still pending in said courts, of which cases the district courts of said counties shall have exclusive jurisdiction, and to deliver said transcript, together with the original papers in such cases and a certified bill of costs in each case, to the clerks of the district courts of said counties, and said district clerks shall enter said cases on the dockets of the district courts of said counties for trial by said district courts, and all process now issued and returnable to the county courts of said counties of which the district courts are given jurisdiction by this act, shall be returnable to the district courts of said counties by the officer executing the same, and all cases transferred by this act shall stand on the docket of the district courts of counties as appearance cases, and shall be tried by the district courts of said counties as other cases, and the said district courts shall exercise all the civil and criminal jurisdiction heretofore vested in said county courts by the constitution and laws but directed by this act.

Sec. 3. All appeals from justices and mayors or recorders courts of said counties shall be to the said district courts, and the district courts may render judgment on all cost bonds heretofore filed or that may be filed in said counties up to the time this act takes effect in the county courts of said counties.

Sec. 4. The clerks of the county courts of said counties shall issue execution upon all judgments that may have been rendered in said courts and collect the same as now allowed by law, but all suits that may arise out of any execution by injunction or trial of the rights to property shall be filed in and tried by the district courts of said counties.

Sec. 5. That all laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. That in order to give regularity in the proceedings of said courts and to save expense to said counties, an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days should be suspended, it is so suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAP. 98.—[S. S. B. No. 55.] An Act to provide for the speedy and efficient enforcement of the liens of mechanics, contractors, subcontractors, builders, laborers, and material men, and to repeal all existing laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person or firm, lumber dealers, artisan, laborer, mechanic, or subcontractor, who may labor or furnish material, machinery, fixtures, or tools to erect any house or improvement, or to repair any building or improvement whatever, under or by virtue of contract with the owner or his agent, trustee, contractor, or contractors, upon complying with the provisions of this act, shall have a lien on such house, building, fixtures, or improvements, and shall also have a lien on the lot or lots of land necessarily connected therewith to secure payment for labor done, lumber, material, machinery, or fixtures, and tools furnished for construction or repair.

Sec. 2. In order to fix and secure the lien herein provided for, it shall be the duty of every original contractor, within four months, and every journeyman, day laborer, or other person seeking to obtain the benefits of the provisions of this act, within thirty days after the indebtedness shall have accrued, to file his or their contract in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such property is situated, and cause the same to be recorded in a book to be kept by the county clerk for that purpose: Provided, That if such journeyman, day laborer, or other person have no written contract, it shall be sufficient for them to file an itemized account of their claim, supported by affidavit, showing that the account is just and correct, and that all just and lawful offsets, payments, and credits known to the affiant have been allowed.

Sec. 3. Any person or firm who may furnish any material to any contractor, to be used in the erection of any house, building, or improvement, or to repair any house, building, or improvement, by giving written notice to the owner of such house, building, or improvement, or his agent or representative, of each and every item as it is furnished, and by showing how much there is due and unpaid on each bill of lumber furnished by said lumber man or material man under said contract, at any time within ninety days after the indebtedness shall have accrued, fix and secure the lien provided for in this act as to the material furnished at the time or subsequent to the giving of the written notice above provided for, by filing in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such property is situated, an itemized account of his or their claim, as provided in this section, and cause the same to be recorded in a book kept by the county clerk for that purpose: Provided, That any lien fixed and secured under this section shall attach to the house, building, or improvements, and also to the lot or lots on which said building or buildings are situated: Provided, That in no case shall the owner be compelled to pay a greater sum for or on account of labor performed or material, machinery, fixtures, and tools furnished, as provided in this act, than the price or sum stipulated in the original contract between such owner and the original contractor or builder for such house, building, fixtures, improvements, or repairs.

Sec. 4. If there be no written contract it shall be the duty of the person seeking to obtain the benefits of this act, to deliver to the clerk of the county court a sworn account as provided for in sections two and three, to be filed and recorded as therein provided, and in such case, when the labor is performed for or the material is furnished to the owner of the building or improvement, the following form may be used and will be sufficient to fix the lien contemplated by this act:

THE STATE OF TEXAS, }
 County. } A. B., affiant, makes oath and says: That the annexed is a true and correct account of the labor performed (or material furnished) C. D., of county, Texas, and that the prices thereof as set forth in said account hereto annexed are just and reasonable and the same is unpaid; that said labor was performed (or material furnished, or both) for said C. D., at the time in said account mentioned, under and by virtue of a contract between affiant and C. D., and that due notice was given by affiant of the labor performed or material furnished, in accordance with section 3; and affiant further makes oath and says that he is informed and believes that C. D. was, at the time said contract was made and entered into and said labor was performed (or material furnished), the owner of the house or improvements described as follows: (Here describe the house or improvement.) And that said house (or improvement) is situated upon a certain lot or tract of land which affiant is informed is owned by said C. D., and which is described as follows: (Here describe the lot or tract of land.) And this affiant claims a lien upon said house (or improvements) and upon said land: Provided, however, A substantial compliance with the above form shall be deemed sufficient.

Sec. 5. If the labor performed for or the material is furnished to a contractor or builder, and not to the owner of the property, then the following form shall be deemed sufficient to fix the lien provided for by this act:

THE STATE OF TEXAS, {

..... County. { A. B., affiant, makes oath and says: That the annexed is a true and correct account of the labor performed for (or material furnished to) C. D., a contractor (or builder), by affiant (or other person), and the prices thereof as set forth in the annexed account are just and reasonable, and the same is unpaid (or the sum of dollars, as shown by said account, unpaid), after allowing all just and lawful offsets, payments, and credits known to affiant; that said labor was performed (or material furnished, or both) for or to said C. D., to be used in the erection of a house (or building or improvement, or in repairing of a house, building, or improvement) owned, as affiant is informed and believes, by E. F., of county, state of Texas, and that said labor was performed (or material furnished, or both) to or for said C. D., under and by virtue of a contract between affiant (or other party) and said C. D. (And in case of material furnished, affiant shall further swear that he has given to the owner, his agent, or representative, notice in writing of each item of said account, as required in section 3, as the same was furnished to said C. D.): Provided, however, That a substantial compliance with the above form shall be deemed sufficient to fix and secure the lien.

Sec. 6. In case the contract is filed and recorded as provided for in the second section of this act, a like description of the house, building, or improvement and the lot or tract of land shall accompany the same as is required in the foregoing forms, except that the same is not required to be under oath.

Sec. 7. When the contract or account is filed and recorded as required by the preceding sections of this act, it shall be deemed sufficient diligence to fix and secure this lien. If this lien is against land in a city, town, or village, it shall extend to or include the lot or lots upon which such house, building, or improvement is situated, or upon which such labor was performed; and if the lien is against land in the country, it shall extend to and include fifty acres upon which such house, building, or improvement is situated, or upon which such labor has been performed.

Sec. 8. The lien herein provided for shall attach to the houses, buildings, or improvements for which they were furnished or the work was done in preference to any prior lien or incumbrance or mortgage upon the land upon which houses, buildings, or improvements have been put or labor performed, and the person enforcing the same may have such house, building, or improvement sold separately: Provided, Any lien, incumbrance, or mortgage on the land or improvement at the time of the inception of the lien herein provided for, shall not be affected thereby, and holders of such liens need not be made parties in suits to foreclose liens herein provided for.

Sec. 9. When the house, building, or improvements are sold separately, the officer making the sale shall place the purchaser in possession thereof, and such purchaser shall have the right to remove the same within a reasonable time from the date of the purchase.

Sec. 10. Every sale must be upon judgment rendered by some court of competent jurisdiction, foreclosing such lien and ordering sale of such property.

Sec. 11. When material is furnished, labor performed, erections or repairs made upon a homestead, if the owner thereof is a married man, then to fix and secure the lien upon the same, it shall be necessary for the person or persons who furnished the material or performed the labor, before such material is furnished or labor is performed, to make and enter into a contract in writing, setting forth the terms thereof, which shall be signed by the owner and his wife, and privily acknowledged by her, as is required in making sale of homestead. And such contract shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk in the county where such homestead is situated, in a well bound book to be kept for that purpose: Provided, When such contract has been made and entered into by the husband and wife and the contractor or builder, and the same has been recorded, as heretofore provided, then the same shall inure to the benefit of any and all persons who shall furnish material or labor thereon for such contractor or builder.

Sec. 12. Every person, except the original contractor or builder, or those claiming under the third section of this act, who may wish to avail himself of the benefits of this act, shall give at least ten days notice in writing before the filing of the lien, as herein required, to the owner or owners, or agent, or either of them, that he holds a claim against such house, building, or improvement, setting forth the amount, and from whom the same is due; and thereafter said owner or owners, or agent, shall be authorized to retain in his hands the amount claimed until the same is settled or determined not to be owing.

Sec. 13. A compliance with the provisions of the preceding section shall be deemed sufficient diligence to fix the liability of the owner of such house, building, or improvement for the payment of such demand, subject to the subsequent provisions of this act.

Sec. 14. In all cases when a lien shall be filed under a provision of this act, by any person other than the original contractor or builder, it shall be the duty of the original contractor to defend any action brought thereupon, at his own expense, and during the pending of such action, the owner may withhold from the contractor or builder the amount of money for which such lien shall be filed, and in case of judgment against the owner or his property upon the lien, he shall be entitled to deduct from any amount due by him to the contractor the amount of said judgment and costs, and if he shall have settled with the contractor or builder in full, he shall be entitled to recover back from the contractor any amount so paid by the owner for which the contractor or builder was originally the party liable. But no owner or proprietor shall in any case be required to pay, nor his property be liable for any money that he may have paid to the contractor before the fixing of the lien or before he has received written notice of the existence of the debt, and all subcontractors, laborers, and material men shall have preference over other creditors of the principal contractor or builder: Provided further, A copy of each bill of lumber furnished to the contractor or builder, as the same is furnished, shall be delivered to the owner of said homestead, said bill specifying each item so furnished, how much is paid thereon, and what is due for lumber or material furnished for said contract prior thereto: Provided, When the debt is paid under the contract for such building or improvements, the party for whose interest the contract was recorded shall enter a relinquishment showing a full compliance of said contract to the extent of all money due them from the original contractor or builder on account of labor done or material furnished, and the money due said original contractor or builder from the person owning or having improvements made shall not be garnished by other creditors to the prejudice of such subcontractors, mechanics, laborers, or material men.

Sec. 15. When labor is performed by the day or week, then the indebtedness shall be deemed to have accrued at the end of each week during which labor is performed. When material is furnished the indebtedness shall be deemed to have accrued at the date of the last delivery of such material, unless there is an agreement to pay for such material at a specified time.

Sec. 16. The liens for work and labor done or material furnished, as provided in this act, shall be upon an equal footing, without reference to date of filing the account or lien, and in all cases when a sale shall be ordered and the property sold, which may be described in any account or lien, the proceeds arising from such sale, if not sufficient to discharge all the liens against the same, without reference to the date of filing the account or lien, shall be paid pro rata on the respective liens: Provided, Such accounts or liens shall have been filed and suit brought as provided by this act: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as in any manner affecting the contract between said owner and original contractor as to the amount, manner, or time of payment of said contract price.

Sec. 17. The lien created by this act shall cease to be operative after twelve months after the same is fixed, unless suit is brought within said time to enforce such lien.

Sec. 18. All parties who are authorized under this act to file a lien, and have done so, and had such lien recorded, shall, when such lien is paid or satisfied, or have received their proper lienable parts for which the owner of the building would be liable under this act, shall record a relinquishment and satisfaction of such lien.

Sec. 19. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 20. It being important that the benefits of this act be realized at once, because the parties to be benefited by this act have no adequate protection under existing laws, creates an emergency and an imperative necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days should be suspended, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

LIEN—LIVE STOCK.

Sec.

1. Lien of keeper of stallion, etc., on progeny.
2. Period for which such lien shall remain in force, etc.
3. Manner of fixing lien where contract is in writing.

Sec.

4. Manner of securing when contract is verbal.
5. Contract, written or sworn to, to contain description of mother of progeny.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 99.—[H. B. No. 154.] An Act to confer upon the owner or keeper of any stallion, jack, or bull, a lien on the progeny thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the owner or keeper of any stallion, jack, or bull, who keeps the same confined for the purpose of standing them for profit, shall have a preference lien upon the progeny of such stallion, jack, or bull, to secure the payment of the amount due such owner or keeper for services of such stallion, jack, or bull, and such lien may be foreclosed in the same manner as other mortgage liens upon personal property in this state: Provided, That where parties misrepresent their stock by false pedigree no lien shall obtain.

Sec. 2. The lien herein provided for shall remain in force for the period of twelve months from the birth of said progeny, but shall not be enforced until six months shall have elapsed after such birth.

Sec. 3. In order to fix and secure the lien provided for the owner or keeper shall have the right at any time within sixty days after such service by such stallion, jack, or bull is rendered, to file his contract in the office of the county clerk of the county of the residence of the person benefited by such service, and cause the same to be recorded in a book kept by the clerk for that purpose, and said clerk shall be allowed a fee of twenty cents for recording such contract.

Sec. 4. If the contract or agreement be verbal a duplicate copy of the same shall be made under oath; one to be delivered to the clerk to be recorded and filed as provided for written contracts, and the other to be transmitted to the party owing the debt.

Sec. 5. The contract, written or sworn to, as provided for in the two preceding sections, shall contain a definite description by marks, brands, and color of the mother of such progeny.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature, and the improbability of reaching and reading this bill on three several days, creates an emergency and public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is so suspended.

17. As to procuring non-mineral land adjacent to lode.
18. As to taking timber and stone on mineral lands for development purposes.
19. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 100.—[S. H. B. No. 48.] An Act to promote the development of the mining resources of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all the public schools, university, asylum, and public lands containing valuable mineral deposits are hereby reserved from sale or other disposition, except as herein provided, and are declared free and open to exploration and purchase under regulations prescribed by law by citizens of the United States and those who have declared their intention of becoming such: Provided, That all who have located and recorded claims under previous laws and have not abandoned same, but are engaged in developing same, shall have a prior preference right for thirty days after the passage of this act in which to relocate same under this act.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the commissioner of the general land office immediately upon the passage of this act to have a map made showing the location of all public school, university, asylum, and public lands which are unsold at that date; and it shall be the duty of the geological and mineralogical survey to examine all such lands as soon as practicable thereafter, and to designate such tracts as are apparently mineral bearing as mineral lands for the purposes of this act. If mineral lands are afterwards claimed to exist at other locations than are so designated, they shall also be examined and classified accordingly.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the commissioner of the general land office to unite a suitable number of these mineral locations into mining districts, in each of which shall be a surveyor who must either be the surveyor of the district or county or a regularly appointed deputy, and an officer qualified to administer oaths.

Sec. 4. A mining claim upon veins or lodes of quartz or other rocks in places bearing silver, cinnabar, lead, tin, copper, or other valuable metals, excluding deposits of iron ore, coal, kaolin, baryta, salt, marble, fire clays, valuable building stones, oil, or natural gas, may equal but shall not exceed one thousand five hundred feet along the vein or lode. No such claim shall exceed twenty-one acres in total area. The end lines of each claim shall be parallel to each other, and all claims shall be in the form of a parallelogram or square unless such form is prevented by adjoining rights or boundaries of the section in which the claim lies. The locator under this act shall be entitled to the use of all the superficial area between the enclosing lines of the claim, and to all minerals thereon, and between the side and end lines extending downwards vertically until the rights secured by posting are forfeited as provided, and in all conflicts priority of location shall decide.

Sec. 5. The locators of any mining claim shall post up at the center of one of the end lines of the same a written notice stating the name of the locator and of the claim, and the date of posting, and describe the claim by giving the number of feet in length and width, and the direction the claim lies in length from the notice, together with the section, if known, and the county; and shall place stone monuments at the four corners, and otherwise describe corners so that they can be readily found. The notice shall be placed in a conspicuous place so as to be readily seen.

Sec. 6. The locators shall, within three months after the date of posting the required notice, sink a shaft at least ten feet in depth by four feet square, or a tunnel of the same dimensions ten feet in length, or an open cross cut twenty feet in length, four feet or more wide and ten feet in depth at its shallowest part, and shall within said time file with the county surveyor or the district surveyor of the county, as the case may be, an application in writing for the survey of their claim, which application shall be accompanied with a fee of twenty dollars, unless its tender is waived, and also with an affidavit attached thereto that the required work, signifying it, has been done, and that the locators have found valuable mineral on the claim; and the affidavit shall state the date of the first posting of the notice on the claim by the applicants; and further, that the notice has not been post-dated or changed in its date. Upon receiving said application and fee the surveyor shall record the application together with the affidavit, and he shall thereupon forthwith proceed to survey said claim and forward the field notes to the commissioner of the general land office within thirty days after filing the application, in default of which he shall pay the aggrieved party such damages as he may sustain, and in addition thereto shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction fined not less than twenty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars; and it shall be the duty of the applicants to see that the field notes are so returned. The fee of twenty dollars shall cover all the services provided for in this section. In all other cases enumerated in this act the fee shall be the same allowed county clerks for similar services.

Sec. 7. Annually after the filing of the application for a survey as hereinbefore provided, the claimant shall, until after application is made for a patent as hereinbefore provided, do one hundred dollars worth of work in developing each claim; but where claims adjoin, the amount of work may be done on one for all belonging to the same party. The value of such shall be estimated at what it could be contracted for at a fair cash price, but the cost of tools and implements and the expense of going to and returning from the mine shall not be included in said estimate. And shall in addition to this amount of work, annually pay to the treasurer of the state the sum of fifty ($50) dollars on each and every claim filed upon, which amount shall be credited to the fund to which the land belongs upon which the claim is located: Provided, That all amounts so paid shall be a credit upon the final payment for such land provided for in section nine of this act. Within one month after the expiration of each year, the owner shall make and file with the surveyor his affidavit, setting forth specifically what the work consists of in detail and the value thereof, and shall also file with the surveyor at the same time the receipt of the state treasurer for the amount of cash payment provided for herein or a certified copy thereof. Upon the failure of any one of several co-owners to contribute his proportion of the expenditures required in this act within the necessary time, the co-owners who have performed the labor or made the improvements, or paid the fees or other expenditures required in this act, may, at the expiration of the year in which the same is to be done, give notice in writing or notice by publication in a newspaper published in the county where the mining is, if any; if none in such county, then in the newspaper published nearest to the mine, for at least once a week for ninety days. If after such personal notice in writing or by publication, such delinquent should fail or refuse to contribute his proportion of the expenditure required by this act, his interest in the claim shall become the property of his co-workers who have made the required expenditures. An affidavit by the co-owners forfeiting the interest of such delinquent shall, when recorded in the office of the proper surveyor, be sufficient evidence of such delinquency.

Sec. 8. That when a tunnel is run for the development of a vein or lode, or for the discovery of mines, the owner of such tunnel shall have the right of possession of all veins or lodes within two thousand feet from the face of such claim, on the line thereof, not previously known to exist, discovered in such tunnel to the same extent as if discovered from the surface; and locations on the line of such tunnel of veins or lodes not appearing on the surface, made by other parties after the commencement of the tunnel and while the same is being prosecuted with reasonable diligence, shall be invalid, but failure to prosecute the work in the tunnel for six months shall be considered as an abandonment of the right of all undiscovered veins on the line of said tunnel.

Sec. 9. Whenever the owners of any mining claim shall desire a patent, they shall, within five years after the filing of the application for survey, file their application for a patent upon their claim with the commissioner of the general land office, accompanied with the receipt of the state treasurer, showing that twenty-five dollars per acre has been paid by the applicant for patent to the state treasurer. No patent shall be issued in any case until the expiration of sixty days from the filing of the application. Upon filing said application, the applicant shall cause to be published for four successive weeks, one insertion each week, in some newspaper published in the county in which the mine is situated, if there be any; if not, then in some newspaper published in the nearest county to the mine in which a newspaper is published, a notice stating the fact that application has been filed for patent on the claim (or claims), describing them clearly. A copy of the printed notice with affidavit that it has been published as required by this section, and that all the requirements of this act have been complied with, shall be filed with the commissioner of the general land office before patent shall issue. After the expiration of thirty days after the last insertion of said notice, patent shall issue unless protest has been filed.

Sec. 10. Any person or association of persons qualified as required by section 1 of this act, shall have the right to locate and obtain a patent on any quantity of these lands containing deposits of coal, iron ore, kaolin, baryta, salt, marble, fire clay, oil, natural gas, or valuable building stones, in legal subdivisions of the section, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to an individual person or three hundred and twenty acres to an association or corporation, upon compliance with the general land law in regard to obtaining titles and with regulations or section 9 in regard to publication, etc., and the payment to the state treasurer of not less than ten dollars per acre for such lands where the same shall be situated more than ten miles from any completed railroad, and not less than twenty dollars for such lands as shall be within ten miles of such road: Provided, That when any association of not less than four persons shall have expended not less than five thousand dollars in working and improving any such mine or mines, such association may enter not exceeding six hundred and forty acres, including such mining improvements: And provided further, That this act shall be held to authorize only one entry by the same person or association of persons under its provisions; and no association of persons, any member of which shall have taken the benefit of this act, either as an individual or as a member of any other association, shall enter or hold any other land under the provisions of this act; and no member of any association which shall have taken the benefit of this act shall enter or hold any other lands under its provisions: And provided further, That nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the sale of lands valuable for mines of gold, silver, and copper, or other minerals enumerated in section 4.

Sec. 11. Any person desiring to contest the issuance of patent may do so by filing with the commissioner of the general land office a protest, setting forth the grounds of objection generally, and that protestant has an interest in the subject matter, which protest shall also state that the same is presented in good faith and not to injure or delay the applicants, or any of them, and the same shall be verified by affidavit; whereupon it shall be the duty of the commissioner to withhold patent until the controversy is ended: Provided, That if the protestant shall not, within thirty days after filing his protest, institute suit in the court having jurisdiction thereof in the county where the claims are located, his protest shall constitute no further barrier to the issuance of patent. A certified copy of the petition or a certificate of the clerk of the court where suit is pending shall be sufficient evidence to the commissioner of the pendency of the suit and of the date of filing said suit. When the land in controversy lies partly in two counties, suit may be brought in either. More than one claim shall not be embraced in the same patent or application. The suits here provided for shall be entitled to precedence of trial on the docket.

Sec. 12. When a location has been made in land disposed of by the state since the passage of an act for disposition of minerals on the land embraced in the first section of this act, approved April 14, 1883, if such location was made subsequent to the disposition by the state of such lands, and the locator or his assignees have not abandoned said claim, but is working it in good faith, locator and his assignees shall nevertheless be entitled to the mineral and to the use of the superficial area as in other cases; and if the case is such that the fee in the land cannot pass by patent, a patent may issue to all the minerals in the claims, and shall be a license from the state to enter upon and work said claim and extract the mineral therefrom. In cases provided for in this section when the fee does not pass, the price shall be twenty dollars per acre, and the locator or his assignee shall in addition pay to the owner of the land in fee the fair value of the land so taken up by his claim, and roads and fences necessary to give him ingress and egress thereto, and be liable for any damages which may result to owner of the land in fee. All other provisions of this act shall apply to said location.

Sec. 13. All claims upon which patent has not been applied for within five years next after the application for survey, or which have not been surveyed and the field notes returned to the general land office within the time prescribed therefor as hereinbefore provided, or upon which the assessment work has not been done, an affidavit therefor, filed as provided by this act, shall be and are declared forfeited without judicial action of any kind and subject to location as originally, but not by any one interested in the claim at the time of forfeiture; and any location for or on behalf of any such party shall be wholly void. Whenever any such claim shall be relocated, the locators and each of them shall make affidavit that the location is made without any contract or agreement of any kind that any of the parties owning an interest in the location before relocation has or is to have any interest in the same. In all other cases where affidavit is required by this act it may be made by one or more of the parties cognizant of the facts.

Sec. 14. No claim which has been forfeited for any cause shall be subject to relocation for a period of thirty days next thereafter; and the party owning the same may apply to the land commissioner within that time for relief, and if it appear to him from the proof submitted that the forfeiture was not occasioned by the negligence of the owner, but by circumstances which he could not reasonably control, the commissioner may, within that time, in his discretion, grant relief against the forfeiture, and if he grants such relief he shall at once forward his order to that effect to the surveyor, who shall file the same for record in his office.

Sec. 15. Whenever any application shall be made to buy or obtain title to any of the lands embraced in section one of this act, except where the application is made under this act, the applicant shall make oath that there is not, to the best of his knowledge and belief, any of the mineral embraced in this act thereon, and when the commissioner has any doubt in relation to the matter he shall forbear action until he is satisfied. And any sale or disposition of said lands shall be understood to be with a reservation of the mineral thereon to be subject to location as herein provided.

Sec. 16. That claims usually called placers, including all forms of metallic deposits, excepting veins of quartz or rock in place, shall be subject to entry and patent under like circumstances and conditions, and upon similar proceedings as are provided for vein or lode claims. All placer claims located shall conform as near as practicable with existing surveys and their subdivisions, and no such location shall include more than forty acres for each individual claimant, and shall not exceed three hundred and twenty acres for any association of persons. The price which shall be paid for such placer shall not be less than ten dollars per acre, together with all costs of proceedings as before provided.

Sec. 17. When non-mineral land, not contiguous to the vein or lode, is used by the prospector of such vein or lode for mining or milling purposes, such non-adjacent surface ground may be embraced and included in an application for a patent for such vein or lode, and the same may be patented therewith subject to the same preliminary requirements as to survey and notice as are applicable to veins or lodes; but no location of such non-adjacent lands shall exceed ten acres, and payment for the same must be made at the same rate as fixed by this act for the superficies of the lode. The owner of a quartz mill or reduction works, not owning a mine in connection therewith, may also receive a patent for a mill site as provided in this section.

Sec. 18. Any owner or worker of mining claim under this act is authorized to fell and remove for building and mining purposes any timber or any trees growing or being upon unoccupied lands as described in section one, said lands being mineral and subject to entry only as mineral lands, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed for the protection of timber and undergrowth upon such lands and for other purposes.

Sec. 19. The great importance of the mining interest of the state, and the uncertainty existing by reason of the abolishment of the land board, causes confusion in our mining laws, and creates an emergency, and an imperative necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is so suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted. All laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

NEGOTIABLE SECURITIES HELD BY STATE IN TRUST.

- Sec. 1. Negotiable securities held by state in trust to be made non-negotiable.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 101.—[H. B. No 122.] An Act to make all negotiable bonds and coupons held by the state of Texas in trust for its public institutions non-negotiable.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the treasurer of the state of Texas shall in the presence of the board of education have indelibly written, stamped, or cut upon the face of all negotiable bonds now or that may hereafter be held by the state in trust for any of its public institutions the words "This bond is non-negotiable and belongs to the fund (naming the fund) of the state of Texas," and he shall sign or stamp his official name thereto. Said treasurer shall also in the presence of said board have indelibly written, stamped, or cut upon each coupon or any such bond the words "non-negotiable." Any such bond or coupon thus endorsed shall be non-negotiable.

Sec. 2. Whereas the State of Texas now holds a large number of bonds and coupons that public policy requires should be non-negotiable; therefore an emergency and an imperative public necessity exist and requires that the constitutional rule requiring a bill to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.

- Sec. 1. Validating the acts of in certain cases.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 102.—[S. H. B. No. 471.] An Act to validate certain notarial acts in the state of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all acts of notaries public appointed by authority of the laws of the state of Texas, as evidenced by the impress of the notarial seal having the word "Texas" engraved just over the points of the star thereon, also where the word "Texas" is engraved between the points of the star, and the county of and the residence of the authenticating officer under the star or seal having the word ".... county, Texas," instead of "The county of.... Texas," are hereby made as valid and binding as though the word "Texas" had been engraved on the margin of the seal, and the record of all deeds, or other instrument, which have been authenticated by the use of such seal, shall be held hereafter to be notice, and copies from the records shall be admissible in evidence the same as if the seal used had been in strict conformity with law.

Sec. 2. The great number of bills already introduced creates an imperative public necessity that the rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and it is so suspended; and the uncertainty now existing as to the status of land titles, the conveyance of which is evidenced by notarial seals with the word "Texas" between the points of the star, creates an emergency requiring that this act should take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Sec.

7. Penalty for falsely branding or re-filling any barrel, cask, etc.
8. Oath, bond, etc., of inspector and deputies.
9. Schedule of fees.
10. Party selling oil not inspected responsible to any person injured.
11. Duty of inspector and deputies to make complaints.
12. Prohibiting inspector and deputies from dealing in oil.
13. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 103.—[S. H. B. No. 167.] An Act to provide for the inspection of refined oils which are the product of petroleum, and which may be used for illuminating purposes within this state, and to regulate the sale and use thereof, and to provide penalties for violation of the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That no refined petroleum, kerosene, or any other illuminating fluids, in whole or in part petroleum, or any product of petroleum, be they designated by whatever name, the fire test of which is 110 degrees Fahrenheit, shall be sold or offered for sale for illuminating purposes before being first inspected and branded as hereinafter provided: Provided, however, That any of said fluids which have been inspected and branded according to the provisions of this act shall not again be subject to inspection.

Sec. 2. Said fire test shall be determined by an inspector or deputy inspector, appointed under the provisions of this act, who shall use the Foster cup or Foster's automatic oil tester, or such other well defined instrument as may be customarily used for such purpose, according to the following formula: Heat with alcohol, small flame; when the thermometer indicates ninety degrees, remove the lamp; at ninety-five degrees try for a flash with small bead of fire on end of string or small hard wooden taper held within a quarter of an inch of surface of oil; replace lamp and heat oil gradually from this point until the burning point is reached; removing lamp every four degrees and allowing oil to run up three degrees before replacing lamp, flashing oil each time just before the lamp is replaced until the result is attained. Or said fire test may be made by an inspector or deputy inspector, appointed under the provisions of this act, who shall use the Foster cup or Foster's automatic oil tester according to the directions accompanying same and prescribed by the manufacturers for the use of said tester.

Sec. 3. The governor shall appoint a suitable person, a resident of this state, who is not interested in manufacturing, dealing in, or vending any of said illuminating fluids, as state inspector of oils, and who shall not be interested in the Foster cup or other apparatus, whose term of office shall be for two years from the date of appointment or until his successor shall be appointed and shall qualify. The state inspector, when appointed, shall by and with the consent of the governor divide the state into convenient inspection districts, which districts may from time to time in the same manner be changed for the purpose of facilitating inspections under this act. And the said inspector is hereby empowered to appoint a suitable number of deputy district inspectors, who shall be empowered to perform the same duties in the districts for which they are appointed and be liable to the same penalties as the state inspector. And said inspector may, for reasonable cause, remove any of said deputies. It shall be the duty of the said inspector and his deputies to provide themselves, at their own expense, with the necessary instruments and apparatus for inspecting said fluids, and to promptly inspect the same when called upon for that purpose. And the state inspector shall adopt uniform brands for use by himself and the deputy district inspectors in branding packages containing inspected fluids, and shall adopt all reasonable rules, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, necessary for the government of deputy inspectors in the performance of their duties, and shall have supervisory control and direction over them in all matters pertaining to the inspection of fluids. And in case of controversy between any deputy inspector and person or persons for whom the inspection shall be made by such deputy with regard to the manner and the result of making such inspection, shall determine such controversy according to the intent of this act. The said state inspector shall be authorized to make inspections of said fluids at any place within this state, and shall in addition to the deputy district inspectors hereinbefore provided for, at his own cost and expense, appoint such other deputy inspectors to aid him in making inspections as may be necessary for the proper discharge of the duties of his office, who shall work under his immediate supervision: Provided, That he shall be entitled to receive the inspection fees for all inspections made by him or the said deputies under his supervision, and shall be responsible on his official bond for their acts: Provided, It shall not be necessary to inspect one which has been inspected under a law of another state.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the state inspector and district deputy inspectors, within their respective districts, to inspect without delay all said fluids offered for sale by any manufacturer, vendor, or dealer, as hereinbefore provided in section 2, and if upon such inspection the said fluids shall meet the requirements of said section, the inspector making the same shall fix his brand or device, viz., "Approved," with the date, over his official signature, upon the package, barrel, or cask containing the same; but if the said fluids so inspected shall not meet said requirements, he shall fix his brand or device, viz., "Rejected for illuminating purposes," with the date, over his official signature, upon the package, barrel, or cask containing the same. And where the fluids is contained in cans, two or more of which are encased in wood, he shall also fix his brand upon the case containing such packages. To more effectually carry out the provisions of this act, it shall be lawful for the state inspector or any deputy district inspector, within his district, to enter into or upon the premises of any manufacturer, vendor, or dealer of or in said fluids, and if he finds any of said fluids that have not been inspected and branded according to the provisions of this act, to inspect and brand the same: Provided, however, That none of said fluids while in transit in the state or for points beyond its limits, or in boats or vessels, railroad tank cars, or in store intended for export, shall be subjected to inspection hereunder except at the request of the person owning or having charge of the same.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the state inspector or of the deputy district inspectors, within their respective districts, when requested so to do by the owner or the person having charge of the same, to promptly inspect any of said fluids contained in bulk, storage tanks, reservoirs, railroad tanks, or wagon tanks, by making a single test in the manner prescribed: Provided, That where such inspection is made, the inspector or his deputy making the same shall see the fluid so inspected placed in the cask, barrel, or other package in or from which it is intended to be sold, and properly brand such cask, barrel, or other package in the manner hereinbefore provided for, according to the degree of the fire test of said fluid: And provided further, That the terms "casks," "barrels," and "other packages," as used in this act, shall include wagon tanks.

Sec. 6. If any person for himself, or as agent for any other person or corporation, shall, contrary to the provisions of this act, sell, attempt to sell, or use as an illuminant within this state, any of said fluids before first having the same inspected and branded as hereinbefore provided; or shall sell or offer to sell any of said fluids to any person within this state, to be used for illuminating purposes therein, or use the same for such purpose, after the same have been inspected and branded "rejected for illuminating purposes," as hereinbefore provided, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than three hundred dollars.

Sec. 7. If any person shall falsely brand any cask, barrel, or other package provided to be branded by this act, or shall refill and use any such cask, barrel, or other package having an inspector's brand thereon, without having the fluids therein first inspected, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both; or if any person shall sell or dispose of any empty cask, barrel, or other package which has been branded by the inspector "approved," according to the provisions of this act, before thoroughly canceling, removing, or effacing said brand from the same, he shall, upon conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each cask, barrel, or other package so sold or disposed of.

Sec. 8. Every person appointed a state inspector or deputy inspector shall, before he enters upon the discharge of the duties of his office, take the oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state. The state inspector shall execute a bond to the state in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and each deputy district inspector shall execute a like bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, both with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the secretary of state, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon them by the provisions of this act, which bond shall be for the use of all persons in any way aggrieved or injured by the act or neglect of the inspector executing the same, and the said bonds shall be filed with the secretary of state. It shall be the duty of the inspector and deputy district inspectors to keep true and accurate records of all oils inspected and branded by them, which record shall state the date of inspection, the number of gallons rejected, the number of gallons approved, the number of gallons inspected, the names of the persons for whom inspected, the number and kind of casks, barrels, or packages inspected, and the money received for such inspection. It shall also be the duty of every deputy district inspector, on the first of each month, to forward to the state inspector a copy of such records kept by him for the preceding month; and in the month of January in each year the state inspector shall make and deliver to the governor of the state a report containing an aggregate of the records kept by him and of said reports, which said records and reports in the hands of said state inspector, deputy district inspectors, and governor, shall at reasonable times be open to the inspection of the public.

Sec. 9. The inspector and each deputy district inspector shall be entitled to demand and receive from the owner or party calling upon him or for whom he performs the inspection, the following fees, which shall be a lien upon the fluids and packages inspected, to wit: For less than one hundred gallons, one dollar; and for any quantity from hundred gallons inclusive and upwards, one cent per gallon inspected in single wagon tanks, in single casks or barrels, or other packages, whether of wood, iron, tin, or other material containing twenty-five gallons or more; and in cases containing two or more cans or vessels, two dollars and fifty cents for one hundred gallons or less; and one and one-half cents per gallon for all quantities inspected over and above one hundred gallons; this shall apply to all case oil used for illuminating purposes put up in cans of less than twenty-five gallons capacity.

Sec. 10. Whoever sells or keeps for sale to be consumed in this state any of said fluids not inspected as provided for in this act, shall be responsible to the party or parties injured for any violation of the provisions of this act by himself or by any clerk or person in his employ in the sale of such oil.

Sec. 11. It shall be the duty of said inspector and deputy district inspectors who know of any violation of any of the provisions of this act to enter complaint before any court of competent jurisdiction against any person so offending; and in case said inspector or deputy inspectors, having knowledge of any violation of this act, neglect to enter complaint as required by and provided for in this act, shall be fined in any sum not to exceed five hundred dollars, and shall be removed by the court trying the case from his position as such inspector or deputy inspector.

Sec. 12. No state inspector or deputy inspector shall, while in office, traffic, directly or indirectly, in any article in which any of said fluids is a constituent part, which he is appointed to inspect; and in case of the violation of the provisions of this section by any state inspector or deputy inspector, he shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and shall be subject to removal from office.

Sec. 13. That whereas there is no law in this state providing for the inspection of oils sold for illuminating purposes, thereby creating an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, this act shall take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 104.—[H. B. No. 125.] An Act to regulate the practice of pharmacy in the state of Texas, and providing penalty for the enforcement of the same.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That it shall be unlawful for any person, unless a qualified pharmacist within the meaning of this act, to open or conduct any pharmacy or store for compounding medicines, or for any one not a qualified pharmacist to prepare physicians' prescriptions or compound medicines, except under the direct supervision of a qualified pharmacist as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Any person in order to be qualified, shall be twenty-one years old and shall have passed a satisfactory examination before the board of pharmacy of Texas, or shall be a graduate in pharmacy or an assistant in pharmacy.

Sec. 3. Graduates in pharmacy shall be such as have obtained a diploma from a regular incorporated college of pharmacy, and that requires not less than two years experience in stores where prescriptions of medical practitioners have been compounded before said diploma is issued.

Sec. 4. Assistants in pharmacy must be twenty-one years old and have had two years experience in stores where prescriptions of medical practitioners have been prepared, and shall have passed a satisfactory examination before the board of pharmacy of Texas.

Sec. 5. As soon as convenient after the passage of this act the presiding judge of the district court of the several judicial districts shall as soon as practicable, severally appoint a board of pharmaceutical examiners for their respective districts, who shall hold their office two years, which appointment shall be in writing and signed by the judge making the same and delivered to the person appointed. Said board of pharmaceutical examiners shall be composed of not less than three qualified pharmacists, who are residents of the districts of which they are appointed. If a vacancy occurs in said board another shall be appointed as aforesaid to fill the unexpired term. Said board shall have power to make by-laws and all the necessary regulations for the proper fulfillment of their duties under this act.

Sec. 6. The board shall meet within ninety days after the passage of this act, and once a year thereafter, in as central portions of the district as practicable, and shall give one month's notice through the public press of the time and place of such meeting. The board shall organize for business by electing a registrar of pharmacy. The duties of said board shall be to examine all applicants for registration; to direct the registration by the registrar of all persons properly qualified or entitled thereto.

Sec. 7. The duties of the registrar of pharmacy shall be to keep a book in which shall be entered, under the supervision of the board of pharmacy, the name and place of business of every person who shall apply for registration, and a statement, signed by the person making the application, of such facts in the case as may claim to justify his or her application. It shall also be the duty of the registrar to duly note the fact against the name of any qualified pharmacist who may have died or removed from the state or disposed of or relinquished his business.

Sec. 8. Any person in order to become a qualified pharmacist within the meaning of this act, shall apply and appear for examination and registration, and shall pay to the board of pharmacy five dollars; and on passing the examination required, shall be furnished free of cost a certificate of registration signed by the said board. Should said person fail to pass a satisfactory examination, he may at any other one meeting of the board of pharmacy within twelve months be permitted to be examined without cost.

Sec. 9. Graduates, as specified in section three, shall apply for registration and if they produce satisfactory evidence to the board of pharmacy that they have a right to be registered, shall, upon paying the said board three dollars, be furnished a certificate of registration without examination.

Sec. 10. Proprietors who are actively engaged in the preparation of physicians' prescriptions and compounding and vending medicine in the state of Texas at the passage of this act, shall be exempt from examination; also assistants who are likewise engaged and have been so engaged for three years, and are twenty-one years old: Provided, He, she, or they will register as specified in this act at first meeting of the board of pharmacy, and upon paying the board three dollars, shall be furnished with a certificate of registration: Provided, That the provisions of this bill shall not prevent any person from engaging in the business herein described as proprietors or owners thereof: Provided, Such proprietor or owner shall have employed in his business some qualified pharmacist to fill prescriptions and compound drugs.

Sec. 11. All persons receiving a certificate of registration shall place it in a conspicuous place in their place of business. In failing to do this, the board of pharmacy shall cancel their registration and deprive them of their certificate.

Sec. 12. Any person not a qualified pharmacist, but continues to compound prescriptions or retail medicines without complying with this act, shall upon the first conviction be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars; and upon the second and every subsequent conviction, shall be sentenced to a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 13. Any person who shall procure or attempt to procure registration for himself or for another, under this act, by making or causing to be made any false representation, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars, and the name of the person so fraudulently registered shall be stricken from the register.

Sec. 14. Any member of the board of pharmacy may issue temporary certificates upon satisfactory proof that the applicant is competent; but said temporary certificate shall be null and void after the first regular or extra meeting of the board next after granting said temporary certificate: Provided further, That not more than one temporary certificate shall ever be granted to any one person.

Sec. 15. All courts having jurisdiction in criminal causes are required to give this act in charge to each grand jury impanelled in such courts.

Sec. 16. This act shall not apply to towns and cities containing less than one thousand inhabitants. Towns and cities that arrive at one or more thousand inhabitants on and after the passage of this act shall come within its provisions. The manner of ascertaining the census shall be the last official one, whether it be federal, state, town, or city.

Sec. 17. Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to any practitioner of medicine who does not keep open shop for compounding, dispensing, and selling medicines, nor so construed as to prevent any person or persons from investing their means in a drug store or stores: Provided, They keep employed qualified pharmacists for the direct supervision of vending and compounding medicines.

Sec. 18. The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature, and the great improbability of reaching this bill in its regular call, and the great importance for legislation on the subject embraced in this bill, creates an emergency and a public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

2. Treasurer of board of trustees, bond of, etc.
3. Payment of money to treasurer of board of trustees.

Sec.

4. Special taxes in cities and towns.
5. Provisions hereof do not apply to cities organized under the general law.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 105.—[H. B. No. 243.] An Act to further provide for and regulate the control and management of the public free schools in cities and towns in this state where the exclusive control and management of the public free schools within their limits has been or may be vested in a board of trustees, and to further define the duties and powers of such board of trustees in the exclusive control and management of the public free schools in such cities and towns.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That in all cities and towns in this state which have assumed or may hereafter assume the exclusive control and management of the public free schools within their limits, and which have determined or may hereafter determine that such exclusive control and management of the public free schools within their limits shall be in a board of trustees, and organized under an act of the Sixteenth Legislature, approved April 3, 1879, and acts amendatory thereto, the title to all houses, lands, and other property owned, held, set apart, or in any way dedicated to the use and benefit of the public free schools of such city or town, including property heretofore acquired as well as that which may hereafter be acquired, shall be vested in the board of trustees and their successors in office in trust for the use and benefit of the public free schools in such city or town, and such board of trustees shall have and exercise the exclusive control and management of such school property, and shall have and exercise the exclusive possession thereof for the purposes aforesaid: Provided, That where trustees are named, other than the municipal corporation itself, in any instrument conveying, donating, bequeathing, or devising any money or other property, real or personal, for the benefit of any city or town, this act shall not interfere in any manner with the title or authority of such trustees to or over such money or other property. And such board of trustees shall constitute a body corporate and shall have full power to protect the title, possession, and use of all such property within the limits of such city or town, and may bring and maintain such suit or suits in law or in equity in any court of competent jurisdiction, when necessary, to recover the title or possession of any such property that may be adversely held or seized, or to prevent any trespass upon or injury to such property, and the power and authority of any such board of trustees to bring and maintain any suit in relation to the recovery of such property or of the possession and use thereof, or for any trespass thereon or injury thereto that may now be pending in any court of this state, is hereby authorized, ratified, and confirmed: Provided, That the provisions of this section (1) shall not apply to lands belonging to the state upon which houses for school purposes have been built without authority from the state.

Sec. 2. That the treasurer of the board of trustees of any such city or town, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall execute a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, payable to the state of Texas, and to be approved by such board of trustees, and in such sum as shall be fixed by said board of trustee, not less than one-half of the annual school revenues that shall come into his hands, conditioned that such treasurer will receive and disburse such school funds as shall come into his hands according to law, and that he will render a full and true account of all such funds.

Sec. 3. That the pro rata of the available school fund of the state appropriated and set apart to such city or town shall be, by the proper officer or department of the state, paid over directly to such treasurer of the board of trustees, who shall execute the proper receipts therefor; and all moneys and funds arising from the assessment and collection of any special tax in such city or town for public free school purposes shall be by the assessor and collector, or the collector or other proper officer of such city or town whose duty it is to collect the taxes, turned over directly to the treasurer of the board of trustees of such city or town, who shall execute and deliver his receipt to such collector, and the mayor and council or board of aldermen of such city or town shall have no power or control over such funds.

Sec. 4. In such cities and towns as have assumed the exclusive control of the public free schools within their limits, and have decided under the laws providing therefor that a special tax shall be levied for the support of such public free schools, the mayor and council or board of aldermen of such city or town shall annually assess and levy such tax by ordinance duly passed and approved in the same manner as is required in the assessment and levy of taxes for general purposes in such city or town. In cities and towns which have voted upon and directed the levy of a special tax not exceeding one-half of one per cent, the mayor and council or board of aldermen of such city or town shall annually levy such rate of taxes for public school purposes, not exceeding one-half of one per cent, as shall be sufficient for the support of the public free schools for the term as required by law, but in such cities and towns as have voted upon and decided at an election held for that purpose that a specific rate of taxes shall be assessed and levied in such city or town for the support of its public free schools, the mayor and council or board of aldermen of such city or town shall have no discretion in fixing the rate at which such tax shall be levied, but shall assess and levy the same at the rate fixed in the proposition as submitted and adopted by the qualified voters of such city or town at the election held for that purpose.

Sec. 5. That the provisions of this act shall apply to cities organized under special charters or special acts of incorporation, but not to cities and towns organized and incorporated under the general law.

Sec. 6. That difference in opinion as to the construction of the law as it now exists as to the powers and duties of the mayor and council or board of aldermen, and as to the powers and duties of the board of trustees in certain cities of this state in which the exclusive control and management of their public free schools has been vested in a board of trustees, has produced such contention and conflict of authority that not only the efficiency of the schools are impaired, but even their continuance imperiled, which constitutes an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended as to this act, and also creates an emergency which requires the immediate passage of this act, and that it take effect at once, wherefore it is enacted that this act take effect from and after its passage.

RAILROADS.

Sec.

1. Herein as to place of general offices of railroad companies.
2. Herein as to offices to be maintained at such place, etc.

Sec.

3. Penalty for violating provisions of this act.

CHAP. 106.—[H. B. No. 77.] An Act to require all railroad companies to keep and maintain permanently their general offices, machine shops, and round houses within the state of Texas, at certain places, and to keep all books, accounts, etc., at said offices, and to provide penalties for failing to comply therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That every railroad company chartered by this state, or owning or operating any line of railway within this state, shall keep and maintain permanently its general offices within the state of Texas, at the place named in its charter for the locating of its general offices; and if no certain place is named in its charter where its general offices shall be located and maintained, then said railroad company shall keep and maintain its general offices at such place within this state where it shall have contracted or agreed, or shall hereafter contract or agree to locate its general office for a valuable consideration; and if said railroad company has not contracted or agreed for a valuable consideration to maintain its general office at any certain place within this state, then such general offices shall be located and maintained at such place on its line in this state as said railroad companies may designate to be on its line of railway. And such railroads shall keep and maintain their machine shops and round houses, or either, at such place or places as they may have contracted to keep them for a valuable consideration received; and if said general offices and shops and round houses, or either, are located on the line of a railroad in a county which has aided said railroad by an issue of bonds in consideration of such location being made, then said location shall not be changed; and this shall apply as well to a railroad that may have been consolidated with another as to those which have maintained their original organization.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of said railroad company to keep and maintain at the place within this state where its said general offices are located, the office of its president or vice-president, also the office of its secretary, treasurer, local treasurer, auditor, general freight agent, traffic manager, general manager, general superintendent, general passenger and ticket agent, chief engineer, superintendent of motive power and machinery, master mechanic, master of transportation, train master, stock and fuel agent, claim agent, and each and every one of its general offices shall be so kept and maintained, by whatever name it is known, and the persons who perform the duties of said general offices, by whatever name known, shall keep and maintain their offices at the place where said general offices are required to be located and maintained, and the persons holding said general offices of a railroad shall reside at the place and keep and maintain their offices at the place where the general offices of said railroad are required by law to be kept and maintained, and if the duties of any of the above named offices are performed by any person, but his position is called by a different name, it is hereby made the duty of said railroad company to have and maintain said offices at the place where its general Texas offices are kept and maintained as required by this act: Provided, That if the judgment of the court shall be to forfeit the charter, then it shall allow the railroad company six months from the date of the judgment within which to comply with the requirements of this act, and if said railroad shall comply within the said time no forfeiture shall occur, but if the railroad company shall not comply then the judgment shall be final, the object and meaning of this statute being to require every railroad company owning or operating a line of railway within this state, to keep and maintain its general offices within this state at such place as required herein, and the name of the above as general offices shall not be understood to allow the railroad company to have any of the offices usually known as general offices at any other place than the one it is required to keep its general offices at, and each and every railroad is hereby required to have and maintain its general offices at the place named herein.

Sec. 3. Each and every railroad company chartered by this state, or owning, operating, or controlling any line of railroad within this state, which shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall forfeit the charter by which it operates its railroad in this state to the state of Texas, and it is hereby made the duty of the attorney-general of this state, upon the application of any disinterested party or on his own motion, to proceed at once against every railroad company owning, operating, or controlling any line of railway within this state by quo warranto to forfeit the charter of the railroad company so offending or violating any of the provisions of this law, shall in addition to forfeiting the charter to that part of the railroad situated within this state be subject to a penalty of five thousand dollars for each and every day it violates any of the provisions of this act, said penalty to be recovered in the name of the state of Texas by a suit which shall be filed by the attorney-general in any court in this state having jurisdiction, and on the trial the court shall (if it finds that the railroad company has violated any of the provisions of this act) render judgment in the name of the state of Texas at the rate of the sum of five thousand dollars for each and every day said court shall find that said railroad company violated any of the provisions of this act. And any money recovered from any railroad company under the provisions of this act shall be paid over into the state treasury and become a part of the available public free school fund.

Approved, March 27, 1889.

RAILROADS.

Sec.

1. Collection of claims not exceeding fifty dollars against railroads.

Sec.

2. Said section not to be construed to repeal any other remedy.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 107.—[H. B. No. 307.] An Act to regulate the presentation and collection of personal services or labor, or for damages or for overcharge on freight against railway corporations doing business in this state in case where the amount claimed does not exceed fifty dollars, and to fix the measure of damages recoverable in certain of such cases.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That after the time when this act shall take effect any person in this state having a valid bona fide claim for personal services rendered or labor done, or for damages, or for overcharges on freight, or claims for stock killed or injured by the train of any railway company, provided that such claims for stock killed or injured shall be presented to the agent of the company nearest to the point where such stock was killed or injured, against any railway corporation operating a railroad in this state, and the amount of such claim does not exceed fifty dollars, may present the same, verified by his affidavit, for payment to such corporation by filing it with any station agent of such corporation in any county where suit may be instituted for the same, and if, at the expiration of thirty days after such presentation, such claim has not been paid or satisfied, he may immediately institute suit thereon in the proper court; and if he shall finally establish his claim, and obtain judgment for the full amount thereof, as presented for payment to such corporation in such court, or any court to which the suit may have been appealed, he shall be entitled to recover the amount of such claim and all costs of suit, and in addition thereto all reasonable attorneys fees, provided he has an attorney employed in his case, not to exceed ten dollars, to be assessed and awarded by the court or jury trying the issue.

Sec. 2. Nothing in the foregoing section shall be construed to repeal or in any manner affect any provision of law now in force giving a remedy to persons having claims against railway corporations.

Sec. 3. There being no law now in force in this state providing an effectual remedy for persons having such claims as are mentioned in this act, therefore an emergency and imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act immediately pass, and that it take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

RAILROADS—SEPARATE COACHES FOR PASSENGERS OF DIFFERENT COLORS.

Sec.

1. Authorizes railroad companies to provide separate coaches for passengers of different colors.
2. Separate coaches to be of equal comfort, and character designated.
3. The words "different colors" defined.

Sec.

4. Separate coaches and their use.
5. Penalty for violations of this act.
6. Conductors authorized to enforce provisions of this act.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 108.—[H. S. S. B. No. 18.] An Act to authorize railroad companies in this state to provide separate coaches for white and colored passengers.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That after the taking effect of this act all railroad companies in this state who are common carriers of passengers for hire, whose trains are propelled by steam, are authorized and empowered to make provision to transport passengers of different colors in separate coaches on such trains on such portions of their road or roads as may be deemed necessary or proper.

Sec. 2. Said separate coaches shall be of equal character as to comfort, etc., and shall be designated by appropriate words and letters indicating the character of the coach.

Sec. 3. The words "different colors," as used in section 1 of this article, refer to what are commonly known as white people and colored people of African descent.

Sec. 4. It shall be deemed a separate coach within the meaning of this article to divide the coach equally by a substantial partition with a door in same, one division of which shall be used exclusively for colored passengers and the other for white passengers.

Sec. 5. If any passenger upon a train provided with separate coaches for colored passengers shall ride or attempt to ride in a coach or division of same not designated for his or her color, after having been forbidden to do so by the employe of the railroad in charge of the train, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine of not less than five nor more than twenty dollars: Provided, That the railway companies shall have the right to regulate and control the travel on all other coaches in each of their said trains except the two coaches or double coach, as the case may be, provided for in this act.

Sec. 6. Conductors of passenger trains in this state have the power while on their respective trains to enforce the provisions of this act in reference to the separation of passengers of different colors.

The near approach of the close of the session is such an imperative public necessity as justifies the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 109.—[H. B. No. 618.] An Act to record certain certified transcripts from justices courts in same manner and with like effect deeds are admitted to record.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That whenever land sold under execution or order for sale issuing out of a justice court in this state, upon the application of any party interested in said land, it shall be the duty of the justice of the peace having the custody of the execution and judgment upon which said execution issued to make from said records a complete transcript of said judgment and the execution issued thereon and levied on land, together with the levy and return of the officer executing the same thereon endorsed, and to certify to the correctness thereof officially, then said transcript shall be admitted to record in the county where the land is situated in the same manner in which deeds are recorded and with like effect, which said transcript or certified copy thereof, under the hand and seal of the county clerk of the county where said transcript has been recorded, shall be admitted in evidence in all the courts of this state in like manner and with like effect that the original judgment and execution with endorsements thereon would have if offered.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session of the present legislature creates an emergency and imperative public necessity for the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days to be suspended, and such rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

No. 255.] An Act to prevent the opening up of public roads across lands owned and used or for actual use by state, educational, eleemosynary, or other public state institutions without the consent of the state, and to close roads heretofore opened across such grounds whenever the state deems it necessary.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That no public road shall be opened across lands owned and used or for actual use by the state, educational, eleemosynary, or other public state institutions for public purposes and not subject to sale under the general laws of the state, without the consent of the trustees of said institution and the approval of the governor of the state, and the roads heretofore opened across such lands may be closed by the authorities in charge of any such lands whenever they deem it necessary to protect the interests of the state, upon repayment to the county where the land is situated, with eight per cent interest, the amount actually paid out by said county for the condemnation of said lands as shown by the records of the commissioners court.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The fact that public roads have heretofore been opened across grounds occupied by educational and other institutions of the state without the consent of the state's agents, to the injury and detriment of the public interests, and that additional roads are contemplated across such grounds, creates an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

1. Road commissioners—appointment, bond of, etc.
2. Power of road commissioners over overseers, etc.
3. Expenditure of money by road commissioner, etc.
4. Reports of road commissioners to commissioners court.
5. Penalty for willful failure of road commissioners to comply with the provisions hereof.

Sec.

6. Duty of commissioners court as to expenditure of funds, etc.
7. Commissioners court authorized to make rules, etc.
8. Commissioners courts and road commissioners authorized to accept donations of labor, money, etc.
9. This law not to be construed as repealing any existing law.
10. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 111.—[S. S. Bs. Nos. 79, 91, 92, and H. B. No. 636.] An Act to create a more efficient road system for this state, and authorizing the employment of road commissioners, define their duties and powers, and fixing a penalty for failure of duty, and further defining the duties and powers of county commissioners courts.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That each county commissioners court of this state may employ not exceeding four road commissioners for their respective counties, who shall be resident citizens of the district for which they are employed, and when more than one is employed, the district that each road commissioner is to control shall be defined and fixed by the court; such road commissioners when employed shall receive such compensation as may be agreed upon by the court, not to exceed two dollars per day for the time actually engaged. Each road commissioner when employed, before he enters upon his duties, shall execute a bond, payable to the county judge of the county and his successors in office, in the sum of one thousand dollars, with one or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the county judge, and conditioned for a faithful performance of his duties.

Sec. 2. A road commissioner when employed shall have control over all overseers, hands, tools, machinery, and teams to be used upon the roads in his district; and shall have the power to require overseers to order out his hands in any number he may designate for the purpose of opening, working, or repairing the roads or building or repairing bridges or culverts of his district; and it shall be the duty of such road commissioners to see that all the roads and bridges of his district are kept in good repair, and he shall, under the direction and control of the commissioners court, inaugurate a system of grading and draining public roads in his district, and see that such system is carried out by the overseers and hands under his control, and shall obey all orders of the commissioners court; and he shall be responsible for the safe keeping and liable for the loss or destruction of all machinery, tools, or teams placed under his control, unless such loss is without his fault, and [when] he shall be discharged he shall deliver them to the person designated by the court.

Sec. 3. He shall expend such money as may be placed in his hands by the commissioners court under its direction in the most economical and advantageous manner on the public roads, bridges, and culverts of his district; and all his acts shall be subject to the control, supervision, orders, and approval of the commissioners court; he shall work the convicts and such other labor as may be furnished him by the commissioners court; and when the road commissioner shall have funds in his hands to expend for labor on the roads, and it shall be necessary for any overseer or overseers in his district to work more than five days during any one year upon the public roads, he may employ such overseers to continue their duties as such for such a length of time as may be necessary, and pay them for their services not more than one dollar and fifty cents per day for the time actually employed after the five days: Provided, That hands shall not be required to work when there shall be on hand, after building and repairing bridges, a sufficient road fund to provide for the necessary work on the roads.

Sec. 4. Said road commissioner shall report to the commissioners court at each regular term under oath, showing an itemized account of all money he has received to be expended on roads or bridges and what disposition he has made of the money, and showing the condition of all roads, bridges, and culverts in his district, and such other facts as the court may desire information upon, and shall make such other reports and at such time as the court may desire.

Sec. 5. Any road commissioner who shall wilfully fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred dollars.

Sec. 6. The commissioners court shall see that the road and bridge fund of their county is judiciously and equitably expended on the roads and bridges of the county, and as nearly as the condition and necessity of the roads will permit, it shall be expended in each county commissioners precinct in proportion to the amount collected in such precinct; and in expending money in building permanent roads the money shall first be used only on first or second class roads, and on those which shall have the right of way furnished free of cost to make as straight a road as is practicable to obtain and having the greatest bonus offered by the citizens of money, labor, or other property.

Sec. 7. The commissioners courts are authorized to make all reasonable and necessary rules and orders for the working and repairing of public roads, and to utilize the labor to be used and money expended thereon, not in conflict with the laws of this state, and enforce such rules and orders; and they are further authorized to purchase or hire all necessary road machinery, tools, or teams, and hire such labor as may be needed in addition to the labor now required of citizens to build or repair the roads.

Sec. 8. Commissioners courts or road commissioners may accept donations of money, lands, labor of men, teams, or tools, or any other kind of property or material to aid in building roads in their counties, and may authorize any person to make a drain along any public road for the purpose of draining his land, and require the person draining his land to do such work under the direction of the road commissioner.

Sec. 9. Be it further enacted, That this act shall not be construed to repeal any existing law, but it is cumulative and in aid of the existing law: Provided, That when road commissioners are employed the county commissioners are not required to supervise the roads as required by Article 4300a, Revised Statutes: Provided, Nothing in this law shall be construed so as to require more than five days service in one year of any citizen.

Sec. 10. The near approach of the close of the session, and the great necessity for the people of this state to have a more efficient road system, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is so suspended, and that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

TAXATION.

Sec.

1. New counties responsible for pro rata of indebtedness.
2. Manner of apportionment of such indebtedness.
3. Duty of comptroller.
4. Duty of commissioners court where the territory is made a part of organized county.

Sec.

5. Tax for pro rata indebtedness.
- 5a. Herein as to taxes due unorganized counties collected by comptroller.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 112.—[S. B. No. 266.] An Act to provide the manner of assessing and collecting a tax on property in newly created counties and in territory cut off from one county and attached to another county to pay their pro rata share of the indebtedness of the parent county existing at the time of the severance of a part of its territory.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: When any new county has heretofore been or may hereafter be created wholly and entirely out of any existing county, the new county shall bear and pay its pro rata portion of the indebtedness of the county from which it was taken, which indebtedness shall be estimated and apportioned upon the basis set forth in section 2 of this act.

Sec. 2. The apportionment of such indebtedness shall be made upon the taxable values of the whole territory liable for such indebtedness as shown by the first assessment rolls made after the severance of such territory, and the territory severed shall pay that proportion of the entire indebtedness which its taxable values bear to the taxable values of the whole territory liable.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the comptroller of public accounts to assess and collect from the non-residents of unorganized counties such rate of taxation, to pay the pro rata share of the debt due by such unorganized county, as the commissioners court of the parent county shall levy on property in said parent county to pay such debt, and a certified statement of the commissioners court making the levy in the parent county, giving the amount of the levy, shall be authority for his action.

Sec. 4. When the territory taken is added to and made a part of an organized county, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court of such county to levy and have collected on all property in such territory a tax sufficient to pay their pro rata of the indebtedness, said tax not to exceed the constitutional limit; and it shall be the duty of the commissioners court of the county to which any unorganized county may be attached for judicial purposes to levy and have collected on all property in such unorganized county owned or held by resident citizens a tax for the purpose of paying such indebtedness.

Sec. 5. When any county heretofore or that may be hereafter created has organized, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court of such county to levy and have collected on all property in this county such rate of taxation to pay the pro rata share of the debt due by such county as the commissioners court of the parent county shall levy on property in said parent county to pay such debt.

Sec. 5a. All county taxes due unorganized counties collected by the comptroller shall be kept by him to the credit of such unorganized county until the same shall have been organized, then he shall, upon demand of the treasurer of the former unorganized county, pay the same over to the said treasurer: Provided! That in case any unorganized county is indebted to any county from which the same has been created, and which debt existed at the time of its creation, the comptroller shall use so much of said fund as may be necessary to pay the pro rata share of such debt due by such unorganized county, and an order of the commissioners court of the parent county stating the amount due from the unorganized county shall be authority for the comptroller to draw his warrant for said amount, and the provisions of this section shall apply to all money now held by the comptroller for unorganized counties and to all money hereafter collected.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature and the great number of bills to be considered, renders it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, therefore an emergency exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended.

TAXATION.

- Sec. 1. Extends time for redemption of lands sold for taxes to state, etc.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 113.—[S. B. No. 24.] An Act to extend the time within which lands that have been sold for taxes and bought in by the state may be redeemed.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the States of Texas: That all lands which have been heretofore sold for taxes and bought in by the state, or by cities or towns, and which have not been redeemed, may be redeemed by the owner thereof, or their agent or legal representative, if within twelve months from the date on which this act takes effect said owner or agent or legal representative shall pay to the state the original state and county taxes for which said lands were sold, and all costs, together with eight per cent interest thereon, and the taxes due each year since such sale, or from the day of the accrual of such subsequent taxes, as the case may be, under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the comptroller of the state.

Sec. 2. Whereas there are persons whose lands have been sold for taxes, and who are anxious to redeem the same, and which creates and imperative public necessity of the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires that all bills be read on three several days, said rule is therefore suspended, and an emergency exists that this act should take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted: Provided, That the proportion of the redemption money due the county shall be remitted to the treasury of the proper county by the comptroller.

TEMPORARY CAPITOL.

- Sec. 1. Authorizes lease of to John B. Hood Camp of ex-Confederate Veterans.
 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 114.—[H. B. No. 586.] An Act to lease the temporary capitol building in the city of Austin to the board of directors of the John B. Hood Camp of ex-Confederate Veterans.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the superintendent of public buildings and grounds be authorized to lease for the term of ten years, at the rate of five dollars per annum, the temporary capitol building, situated in the city of Austin, to the board of directors of the John B. Hood Camp of ex-Confederate Veterans: Provided, That said board of directors shall make a good and sufficient bond to the governor and his successors in office for the keeping of said building in good repair: And provided further, That said board of directors keep said building insured with a reliable insurance company.

Sec. 2. That the near approach of the end of the session of this legislature creates an emergency that justifies the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

CHAP. 115.—[H. B. No. 453.] An Act to create and establish boards of health in the unincorporated towns and villages of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioners court of any county in which an unincorporated town or village may be situated be empowered to lay off the lines embracing said town or village.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of the county in which any such town or village may be situated may appoint a board of health for said town, consisting of three persons, not less than two of whom shall be regular practicing physicians, and shall at once notify the state health officer, and said board so appointed shall be subject to the state health officers.

Sec. 3. After the result of the appointment of said board they must elect one of their number as presiding officer, whose duty it shall be to notify any citizen residing within the prescribed limits of the said town or village whenever his premises are in an unclean and unhealthy condition, and that he must proceed at once to clean his premises.

Sec. 4. Any person living within the prescribed limits of such town or village, having received such notice and failing to comply, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punished in any court of the state having jurisdiction, and fined not less than five (5) nor more than ten (10) dollars, together with all cost attached to the case, for each and every offense.

7. Repealing clause.

CHAP. 116.—[H. B. No. 560.] An Act to diminish the civil jurisdiction of the county court of Travis county.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the county court of Travis County shall have and exercise the general jurisdiction of a probate court; shall probate wills, appoint guardians of minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, grant letters testamentary and of administration, settle accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, transact all business appertaining to the estates of deceased persons, minors, idiots, lunatics, persons non compos mentis, and common drunkards, including the settlement, partition, and distribution and settlement of estates of deceased persons, and to apprentice minors as provided by law, and issue all writs necessary to the enforcement of said jurisdiction; to punish contempt under such provisions as are or may be provided by general law governing county courts throughout the state, but said county court of Travis County shall have no other civil jurisdiction whatever.

Sec. 2. Said county court shall have and exercise such jurisdiction over and pertaining to criminal matter and proceedings as by general law of this state is conferred upon county courts.

Sec. 3. The district court of Travis County shall have and exercise jurisdiction in all civil matters and causes over which by the laws of the state the county court of said county would have jurisdiction, except as provided in section one of this act; and all causes other than probate matters and such as are provided by sections one and two of this act, be and the same is hereby transferred to the district court of said Travis County; and all writs and process relating to civil matters heretofore issued by or out of said county court of Travis County other than those pertaining to matters over which by section one of this act jurisdiction is given to said county court of said county, be and the same is hereby made returnable to the next term of the district court of Travis County, Texas.

Sec. 4. The county clerk of the said Travis County be and he is hereby required, within twenty days after the passage of this act, to make a fair and complete transcript of all entries upon his civil dockets heretofore made in causes which by section three of this act are transferred to the district court of said county and deliver the same to the district clerk of said county together with all the papers to such causes pertaining, and all such causes shall be immediately docketed by said district clerk, and such civil cases so transferred shall stand on the docket of said court as appearance cases for the next succeeding term of said court.

Sec. 5. This act shall not be construed to in any manner affect judgments heretofore rendered by said county court of Travis County pertaining to matters and causes which by section three of this act are transferred to the district court of said county, but the county clerk of said county shall issue all executions and orders of sale as the judgments in such cases require, and such executions and orders of sale and proceedings thereunder shall be as valid and binding to all intents and purposes as though the change had been made as by section three of this article is contemplated.

Sec. 6. That the crowded condition of the civil docket of the county court of Travis County renders impossible a speedy trial and disposition of the cases thereon, which creates an emergency and public necessity requiring that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Sec. 7. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and they are hereby repealed.

Sec.

10. Associations violating this act to forfeit $50 a day, recoverable on suit.
11. Contracts or agreements in violation hereof void.
12. The provisions hereof cumulative.
13. Exempts live stock and agricultural products in hands of producers.
14. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 117.—[S. H. Bs. Nos. 9, 117, 136, 192, and 313.] An Act to define trusts, and to provide for penalties and punishment of corporations, persons, firms, and associations of persons connected with them, and to promote free competition in the state of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That a trust is a combination of capital, skill, or acts by two or more persons, firms, corporations, or associations of persons, or of either two or more of them for either, any, or all of the following purposes: First—To create or carry out restrictions in trade. Second—To limit or reduce the production, or increase or reduce the price of merchandise or commodities. Third—To prevent competition in manufacture, making, transportation, sale, or purchase of merchandise, produce or commodities. Fourth—To fix at any standard or figure, whereby its price to the public shall be in any manner controlled or established, any article or commodity of merchandise, produce, or commerce intended for sale, use, or consumption in this state. Fifth—To make or enter into, or execute or carry out any contract, obligation, or agreement of any kind or description by which they shall bind or have bound themselves not to sell, dispose of, or transport any article or commodity, or article of trade, use, merchandise, commerce, or consumption below a common standard figure, or by which they shall agree in any manner to keep the price of such article, commodity, or transportation at a fixed or graduated figure, or by which they shall in any manner establish or settle the price of any article or commodity or transportation between them or themselves and others to preclude a free and unrestricted competition among themselves or others in the sale or transportation of any such article or commodity, or by which they shall agree to pool, combine, or unite any interest they may have in connection with the sale or transportation of any such article or commodity that its price might in any manner be affected.

Sec. 2. That any corporation holding a charter under the laws of the state of Texas which shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall thereby forfeit its charter and franchise, and its corporate existence shall cease and determine.

Sec. 3. For a violation of any of the provisions of this act by any corporation mentioned herein it shall be the duty of the attorney-general or district or county attorney, or either of them, upon his own motion, and without leave or order of any court or judge, to institute suit or quo warranto proceedings in Travis County, at Austin, or at the county seat of any county in the state, where such corporation exists, does business, or may have a domicile, for the forfeiture of its charter rights and franchise, and the dissolution of its corporate existence.

Sec. 4. Every foreign corporation violating any of the provisions of this act is hereby denied the right and prohibited from doing any business within this state, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to enforce this provision by injunction or other proper proceedings in the district court of Travis County, in the name of the State of Texas.

Sec. 5. That the provisions of Chapter 48, General Laws of this state, approved July 9, 1879, to prescribe the remedy and regulate the proceedings by quo warranto, etc., shall, except in so far as they may conflict herewith, govern and control the proceedings when instituted to forfeit any charter under this act.

Sec. 6. Any violation of either or all the provisions of this act shall be and is hereby declared a conspiracy against trade, and any person who may be or may become engaged in any such conspiracy or take part therein, or aid or advise in its commission, or who shall, as principal, manager, director, agent, servant, or employe, or in any other capacity, knowingly carry out any of the stipulations, purposes, prices, rates, or orders thereunder or in pursuance thereof, shall be punished by fine not less than fifty dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, and by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than ten years or by either such fine or imprisonment. Each day during a violation of this provision shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 7. In any indictment for an offense named in this act it is sufficient to state the purposes or effects of the trust or combination, and that the accused was a member of, acted with or in pursuance of it, without giving its name or description, or how, when, or where it was created.

Sec. 8. In prosecutions under this act it shall be sufficient to prove that a trust or combination as defined herein exists, and that the defendant belonged to it or acted for or in connection with it, without proving all the members belonging to it, or proving or producing any article of agreement or any written instrument on which it may have been based, or that it was evidenced by any written instrument at all. The character of the trust or combination alleged may be established by proof of its general reputation as such.

Sec. 9. Persons out of the state may commit and be liable to indictment and conviction for committing any of the offenses enumerated in this act which do not in their commission necessarily require a personal presence in this state, the object being to reach and punish all persons offending against its provisions whether within or without the state.

Sec. 10. Each and every firm, person, corporation, or association of persons, who shall in any manner violate any of the provisions of this act shall for each and every day that such violation shall be committed or continued forfeit and pay the sum of fifty dollars, which may be recovered in the name of the state of Texas in any county where the offense is committed or where either of the offenders reside, or in Travis County, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general or the district or the county attorney to prosecute for and recover the same.

Sec. 11. That any contract or agreement in violation of the provisions of this act shall be absolutely void and not enforceable either in law or equity.

Sec. 12. That the provisions hereof shall be held cumulative of each other and of all other laws in any way affecting them now in force in this state.

Sec. 13. The provisions of this act shall not apply to agricultural products or live stock while in the hands of the producer or raiser.

Sec. 14. Whereas the people of this state are without a remedy against trusts, therefore an emergency and imperative public necessity exists requiring that the constitutional rule which requires that all bills shall be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

TRUSTEES' SALES.

Sec. 1. Prescribes manner of sales under powers conferred by liens growing out of contract.

CHAP. 118.—[S. H. Bs. Nos. 245 and 279.] An Act to prescribe the place and time of sale of all real estate hereafter to be sold under power conferred by any deed of trust or other contract lien.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all sales of real estate which may hereafter be made in this state under powers conferred by any deed of trust or other contract lien shall be made in the county in which such real estate is situated, notice shall be given as now required in judicial sales, and such sales shall be made at public vendue, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of the first Tuesday in any month: Provided, That when such real estate is situated in an unorganized county such sale shall be made in the county to which such unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes, and where such real estate is situated in two or more counties the sale may be made in any county where any part of the real estate is situated, after notice as required in judicial sales has been given in every county in which any part of such real estate is situated.

2. Lawful for donor to declare manner that such title may be transmitted, etc.
3. Title to vest in certain contingencies in state in trust for the university.

Sec.

4. Title shall be received and trust assumed subject to laws, etc.
5. Copies of donations—reports concerning donations, etc.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 119.—[H. B. No. 241.] An Act to legalize the donation of property to establish or assist in establishing professorships [or] scholarships in the University of Texas or any of its branches, and to provide for the protection and the security of their benefits in accomplishing the objects of their donors.

Whereas the University of Texas is not a corporation capable of receiving a title to property donated, being an institution of learning under the control of the state government: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person, association of persons, or body corporate making a donation of property for the purpose of establishing or of assisting in the establishment of a professorship or scholarship in the university or any of its branches, either temporarily or permanently, may vest the legal title of the property in any person or persons, body corporate or the state of Texas, to be held in trust for said purpose under such directions, limitations, and provisions as may be declared in writing in the donation which are not inconsistent with the objects and proper management of said institution or its branches.

Sec. 2. It shall be lawful for the person or persons or body corporate to declare and direct the manner in which said title to said property shall thereafter pass or be transmitted from the person or persons or body corporate receiving it to others in continued succession to be held and appropriated to the use aforesaid, and it shall be lawful for the donor or donors to declare and direct the persons or class of persons who shall receive the benefit of said donations, together with the manner in which the person or persons who shall receive said benefits shall be from time to time selected, as it may become necessary to carry out the object of the donation: Provided, Said declarations and directions are not inconsistent with the objects and proper management of said institution or its branches.

Sec. 3. That in the event there is a failure to transmit the title to the property, or to bestow its use in the manner as declared and directed in the donation, or in the event they or either of them should become impracticable from the change of circumstances, the title to the property, unless otherwise directed expressly by the donor, shall vest in the state of Texas to be held in trust to carry into effect the purposes of the donation as nearly as may be practicable by such agencies as may be provided therefor.

Sec. 4. That the title to said property donated shall be received, and the trust conferred in the donation shall be assumed, subject to laws that may be passed and carried into effect from time to time which may be necessary to prevent a loss of or damage to the property donated or an abuse or neglect of the trust so as to defeat, materially change, or prevent the objects of the donation.

Sec. 5. That copies of said donation shall be procured and filed with the board which may have control of the university or any of its branches to which the donation applies, which board shall report the condition and management of the property and the manner in which the trust is being administered as part of the matters reported pertaining to said institution.

Sec. 6. The near approach of the close of the session of the legislature creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act will take effect from and after its passage.

CHAP. 120.—[S. B. No. 94.] An Act to legalize the donation of property to establish or assist in establishing professorships or scholarships in the University of Texas or any of its branches, and to provide for the protection and security of their benefits in accomplishing the objects of their donors.

Whereas the University of Texas is not a corporation capable of receiving a title to property donated, being an institution of learning under the control of the state government: Therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That any person, association of persons, or body corporate making a donation of property for the purposes of establishing or of assisting in the establishment of a professorship or scholarship in the university or any of its branches, either temporarily or permanently, may vest the legal title in the property in any person or persons, body corporate or the state of Texas, to be held in trust for said purpose under such directions, limitations, and provisions as may be declared in writing in the donation which are not inconsistent with the objects and proper management of said institution or its branches.

Sec. 2. It shall be lawful for the person or persons or body corporate to declare and direct the manner in which said title to said property shall thereafter pass or be transmitted from the person or persons or body corporate receiving it to others in continued succession to be held and appropriated to the use aforesaid, and it shall be lawful for the donor or donors to declare and direct the person or class of persons who shall receive the benefit of said donation, together with the manner in which the person or persons who shall receive said benefits shall be from time to time selected, as it may become necessary to carry out the object of the donation: Provided, Said declarations and directions are not inconsistent with the objects and proper management of said institution or its branches.

Sec. 3. That in the event there is a failure to transmit the title to the property or to bestow its use in the manner as declared and directed in the donation, or in the event they or either of them should become impracticable from the change of circumstances, the title to the property, unless otherwise directed expressly by the donor, shall vest in the state of Texas to be held in trust to carry into effect the purposes of the donation as nearly as may be practicable by such agencies as may be provided therefor.

Sec. 4. That the title to said property donated shall be received, and the trust conferred in the donation shall be assumed, subject to laws that may be passed and carried into effect from time to time which may be necessary to prevent the loss of or damage to the property donated, or an abuse or neglect of the trust so as to defeat, materially change, or prevent the objects of the donation.

Sec. 5. That copies of said donation shall be procured and filed with the board which may have control of the university or any of its branches to which the donation applies, which board shall report the condition and management of the property and the manner in which the trust is being administered as part of the matters reported pertaining to said institution.

Sec. 6. The crowded condition of business pending before the legislature rendering it impracticable to read this bill on three several days, an imperative public necessity authorizes the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring three several readings, and said rule is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 28 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a four-fifths vote.]

2. Penalty for violating this act.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 121.—[H. B. No. 302.] An Act to prevent the duplication of process for witnesses in felony cases.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for the clerk of any district court, after a witness in a felony case has been served with a subpoena or an attachment, to issue any other or further process for said witness, except upon the order of the presiding judge, made upon application to him for that purpose. When a witness has been served with process by one party it shall inure to the benefit of the opposite party in case he should need said witness, and as far as practicable the clerk shall include in one process the names of all witnesses for the state and defendant, and such process shall show that the witnesses are summoned for the state and/ defendant.

Sec. 2. Any district clerk who shall violate the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars.

Sec. 3. The fact that the state is put to great expense on account of the duplication of process for witnesses in felony cases, and there is no law in force to prevent such duplication, and the near approach of the close of this session of the legislature, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

3. Repealing clause.
4. Suspension of rules.
5. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 122.—[S. B. No. 348.] An Act to prescribe the times for holding the terms of the district court in the seventh judicial district, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the district court in the several counties comprising the seventh judicial district shall be held as follows:

In the county of Smith on the first Monday of February and September of each year, and may continue in session seven weeks.

In the county of Van Zandt on the seventh Monday after the first Monday in February and September of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Wood on the eleventh Monday after the first Monday in February and September of each year, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Upshur on the first Monday in January and on the seventeenth Monday after the first Monday in February, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Gregg [on] the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in September and February, and may continue in session three weeks.

Sec. 2. All writs and process heretofore returnable to the district courts of the several counties comprising the seventh judicial district shall be returnable as herein provided, and shall be as valid and binding as though no change had been made in the times for holding courts herein.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The fact that these courts will meet in less than ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature and the lateness of the session creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that the constitutional rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

Sec. 5. That this act take effect and be in force on and after Monday, August 5, 1889.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 22 yeas, no nays; and passed the house March 30, 1889.]

CHAP. 123.—[S. B. No. 242.] An Act to prescribe the time for holding district court in the eighth judicial district of Texas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the district courts for the eighth judicial district of Texas shall be held on and after June 1, 1889, as follows:

In the county of Hunt on the first Monday in January and on the second Monday in June, and may continue in session seven weeks.

In the county of Rains on the seventh Monday after the first Monday in January and on the third Monday after the second Monday in September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Delta on the tenth Monday after the first Monday in January and on the second Monday in September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Hopkins on the thirteenth Monday after the first Monday in January and on the sixth Monday after the second Monday in September, and may continue in session six weeks.

Sec. 2. That the provisions of this act shall take effect and be in force on and after June 1, 1889, and all process issued before that time and all bonds and other obligations entered into prior to that time shall be returnable to the courts as now held; but all such process and obligations issued June the first, 1889, and thereafter, shall be returnable to the terms of court as herein provided for.

Sec. 3. All process issued prior to June the first, 1889, and all bonds and obligations entered into prior to that time, shall be of legal force and effect as the terms of court provided for herein after the first day of June, 1889, and shall require the person served with such process and parties to such obligations to appear at the times of holding court specified herein and do and perform any act required of such party as if the court were held at the time specified in such bond or process.

Sec. 4. Whereas the terms of court in said district are now held at an impracticable time during the summer months; and whereas it is the unanimous desire of the bar of said district and the court and officers thereof that the next term of the district courts of said district should be held as herein provided; and whereas the business of the court can be more speedily dispatched under this act than under existing laws, thereby saving a large sum to the tax payers of the district; and whereas unless this act should take effect from passage, conflicts might arise in the service and return of process and the legal effect of obligations returnable to said court: Therefore,

Resolved, That an imperative public necessity exists for the immediate passage of this act, and it shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 75 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 2, 1889.

CHAP. 124.—[H. B. No. 82.] An Act to prescribe the time of holding the terms of the district court in the eleventh judicial district.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the terms of the court of the eleventh judicial district shall hereafter be held as follows:

In the county of Montgomery on the first Monday of July and December in each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Harris on the first Mondays in January, April, and October of each year, and shall continue in session eight weeks, or until the business of the court is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That all process and writs heretofore issued, or which may be issued up to the time this act takes effect, by or from the district court of said counties, and made returnable to the terms of said court as now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing term of said courts as prescribed by this act, and all such writs and process are hereby legalized and validated as if the same had been made returnable to the term of said courts as fixed by this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section two (2), chapter 81, of the Acts of the regular session of the Twentieth Legislature, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 2. The twelfth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Trinity, Walker, Madison, Leon, and Grimes, and the district courts shall be held in said counties as follows:

In the county of Trinity on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Walker on the third Monday after the first Monday in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Madison on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Leon on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Grimes on the twelfth Monday after the first Monday in March and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 3 [2]. That all writs and process, civil and criminal, heretofore issued and which may be hereafter issued up to the time this act takes effect, and which are made returnable to the terms of the court in said twelfth judicial district as now fixed by law, be and are hereby made returnable to the terms of said court as fixed by this act, in the same manner as if this act were in force when the same were or may be issued.

Sec. 4 [3]. The near approach of the time of holding courts in said district under the law now existing, and the importance of the immediate passage of this bill, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days, and the same is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 14 of the above recited act, approved March 27, 1885, be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 14. [1] All that part of Dallas County lying north of the following line, viz., beginning at the point on the east boundary line of said county where the same is intersected by the center of the track of the Texas and Pacific Railroad; thence in a western direction with the center of the track of said railroad to a point in the city of Dallas where the same is crossed by Jefferson street; thence in a southern direction along the center of said street to a point directly opposite to the center of the court house situated in said city; thence in a western direction directly through the center of said court house to the Trinity River; thence up said river to the point where the same is crossed by said railroad; thence in a western direction with the center of the track of said railroad to the point where the same crosses the western boundary line of said county, shall constitute the fourteenth judicial district, and the district court shall be begun and held therein as follows: On the second Mondays in March, May, September, and December, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. All that part of said county of Dallas lying south of the line as defined in the foregoing section of this act shall constitute the forty-fourth judicial district, and the district courts shall be begun and held therein as follows: On the first Mondays in January, April, June, and October, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 3. That said district courts of the fourteenth and forty-fourth judicial districts shall have concurrent jurisdiction throughout the limits of said Dallas County of all matters civil and criminal of which jurisdiction is given to the district court by the constitution and laws of the state; and the grand and petit juries for said courts respectively shall be selected and drawn from the body of the county: Provided, That the judge of the fourteenth judicial district shall cause a grand jury to be drawn for and organized at the March and September terms of said court, and the judge of the forty-fourth judicial district shall cause a grand jury to be drawn for and organized at the January and June terms of said court: Provided further, That either of said judges may in his discretion have a grand jury drawn for and organized at any other time or terms of this court.

Sec. 4. That the judge of the fourteenth judicial district as heretofore constituted shall continue as the judge of the fourteenth judicial district as herein constituted until the expiration of the term of his office and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

Sec. 5. Immediately after this act takes effect the governor shall appoint a suitable person as judge of the forty-fourth judicial district, who shall hold said office until the next general election held for state and county officers and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

Sec. 6. If any election precinct in Dallas County, or ward in any incorporated city or town therein, shall be situated in part in each of the districts hereby created, then each voter thereof shall vote for the district judge only of the district in which such voter resides.

Sec. 7. When this act takes effect the clerk of the district court of Dallas County shall make up a docket for each of said courts by placing thereon alternately the cases, civil and criminal, now pending in the district court of Dallas County; that is, said clerk shall place the first case on said docket upon the docket of the fourteenth judicial district, and the next upon the docket of the forty-fourth judicial district, and so on to the end of said docket, so that the pending business may be as equally divided between said courts as can in this mode be accomplished; and all cases, prosecutions, and proceedings thereafter filed with said clerk shall by him be entered upon the dockets of said courts alternately, so that the business may be equally distributed between said courts: Provided, Either of said judges may in his discretion transfer any case or cases pending in his court to the other district court herein provided for by order or orders entered upon the minutes of his court, and where such transfer or transfers are made the clerk of the district court of Dallas County shall enter such case or cases upon the docket of the court to which the transfer is made.

Sec. 8. All process heretofore issued or served, returnable to the district court of Dallas County, shall be considered as returnable at the times as herein prescribed, and all such process is hereby legalized and validated as if the same had been made returnable to the court and at the time herein prescribed.

Sec. 9. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 10. The crowded condition of the docket of the district court of Dallas County creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this bill be placed upon its passage without being so read, and that this act take effect and be in force from its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 23 yeas, 4 nays; and passed the house by a vote of 60 yeas, 34 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the governor of Texas for his approval on the twenty-seventh day of February, 1889, and was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That chapter 46, of the Acts of the Twentieth Legislature of the state of Texas, approved March 21, 1887, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows: That the district courts of the several counties comprising the twenty-fifth judicial district of Texas shall hereafter begin and hold their terms as follows:

In the county of Colorado on the first Mondays in March and September of each year, and may continue in session six weeks at each term.

In the county of Lavaca on the first Mondays in February and August of each year, and may continue in session four weeks at each term.

In the county of Gonzales on the first Mondays in January and July of each year, and may continue in session four weeks at each term.

In the county of Guadalupe on the first Mondays in May and November of each year, and may continue in session four weeks at each term.

In the county of Wilson on the first Mondays in June and December of each year, and may continue in session four weeks at each term.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The accumulation of the business of the district courts of Colorado County renders it impossible to transact the business of said courts in the short terms fixed by law and creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays, and passed the house by a vote of 89 yeas, no nays.]

CHAP. 133.—[S. B. No. 260.] An Act to amend Section 26, Chapter 20, of the extra session of the Eighteenth Legislature, approved February 6, 1884, being an act to redistrict the state of Texas into judicial districts, and to fix the times for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section twenty-six, chapter 20, of the extra session of the Eighteenth Legislature, approved February 6, 1884, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 26. The twenty-sixth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Travis and Williamson, and the terms of the district court of the twenty-sixth judicial district shall hereafter be held as follows:

In the county of Williamson on the first Monday in January in each year and continue in session until the last Saturday before the third Monday in February; and on the first Monday in July, and continue in session until the last Saturday in July, unless the business of the court should be sooner disposed of.

In the county of Travis on the third Monday in February in each year, and continue in session until the last Saturday before the first Monday in May; on the first Monday in May, and continue in session until the last Saturday before the first Monday in July; on the first Monday in September, and continue in session until the last Saturday before the first Monday in November; on the first Monday in November, and continue in session until the last Saturday before the twenty-fifth day of December, unless the court should deem it proper to adjourn this term at an earlier day: Provided, That a grand jury for Travis County may not be drawn except for the May term and November term of said court, unless the district judge should deem it necessary to call a grand jury at other terms and should so order.

Sec. 2. The crowded condition of the business of the district court of Travis County, and the importance of disposing of state cases and other cases therein pending more speedily than can now be done, create an emergency and public necessity requiring that the constitutional rule for bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force on and after the first Monday in August, 1889, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 27 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 90 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, March 5, 1889.

OHAP. 134.—[S. B. No. 184.] An Act to fix the time of holding the district court in the twenty-seventh judicial district of the state of Texas, and to provide for the issuance and return of process therein, and to repeal all laws in conflict with this act.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the terms of the district court in the twenty-seventh judicial district of the state of Texas shall hereafter be begun and holden as follows, to wit:

In the county of Mills on the third Mondays in March and September of each year, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Burnet on the first Mondays in April and October of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Lampasas on the first Mondays in May and November of each year, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Bell on the first Mondays in July and January of each year, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. That all process heretofore issued or served in any of said counties and returnable to the respective terms of the district court therein as fixed by existing laws, and all process that may hereafter and prior to the taking effect of this act be issued or served in any of said counties and returnable to the respective terms of the district court therein as fixed by existing laws, be and the same are hereby legalized and validated and shall be considered as returnable to the next term of said court as herein prescribed, and grand and petit juries heretofore or hereafter and prior to the taking effect of this act selected, drawn, or summoned to serve during the respective terms of the district court in said counties as fixed by existing laws, be and the same are hereby legalized and validated, and shall be considered selected, drawn, or summoned, as the case may be, to serve during the next term of said court as herein prescribed.

Sec. 3. That all of section twenty-six (26) of "An Act to redistrict the state into judicial districts and fix the times of holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884," approved April 9, 1883, and that so much of section six (6) of "An Act to establish and organize the county of Mills," approved March 15, 1887, as conflicts with the provisions of this act, and all other laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. Whereas the times of opening the district court in Mills County and in Bell County are materially changed, and whereas some confusion might otherwise arise therein, there exists an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended; and it is further enacted that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That an act entitled An Act to re-enact section 28 of an act entitled An Act to redistrict the state into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9, 1883, and to amend said section 28 of said act, approved February 26, 1886, be and the same is hereby amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 28. The twenty-eighth judicial district of the state of Texas shall be composed of the counties of Webb, Encinal, Duval, Nueces, Zapata, Starr, Hidalgo, and Cameron, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows:

In the county of Cameron on the first Monday in May and November, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Hidalgo on the fourth Monday after the first Monday in May and November, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Starr on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in May and November, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Zapata on the eighth Monday after the first Monday in May and November, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Webb on the ninth Monday after the first Monday in May and November, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Duval on the fourteenth Monday after the first Monday in May and November, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Nueces on the sixteenth Monday after the first Monday in May and November, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of, not to exceed six weeks.

The unorganized county of Encinal is hereby attached to the county of Webb for judicial purposes.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That all writs and process civil and criminal heretofore issued by or from the district courts in the several counties in the said district and made returnable to the former terms of said courts as said terms are now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing terms of said district courts in each county as they are prescribed in this act; and all such writs or process that may be issued by or from said courts at any time within five days next before the holding of the next ensuing terms of said courts as prescribed herein, are hereby made returnable to the term or terms of said courts as the terms thereof are herein prescribed.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. Be it further enacted, That the fact the convenience of the people of the counties of the twenty-eighth judicial district demands that the terms of the district court commence and be held under the provisions of this act creates an imperative public necessity and emergency for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 1 of the above recited act be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1. The twenty-ninth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Palo Pinto, Hood, Somervell, Erath, Hamilton, and Coryell, and the terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Palo Pinto on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Hood on the third Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Somervell on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Erath on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In the county of Hamilton on the eleventh Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Coryell on the third Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session four weeks.

Sec. 2. All writs, process, and bonds, civil and criminal, which may be issued or executed up to the time this act takes effect, by or from the district courts of the several counties above named or under order of said courts, and made returnable to the terms of said courts as they are now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing terms of said courts in each county as they are prescribed by this act, and all such writs, process, and bonds above mentioned are hereby legalized and validated to all intents and purposes as if the same had been returnable to the term of said courts as the terms thereof are herein prescribed.

Sec. 3. The fact that the time of holding the courts in the aforesaid district as hereby changed will create a confusion in holding the courts under this act after it takes effect if it should take effect from and after its passage, and the further fact of holding two terms of the district court of Coryell County in quick succession, which will probably have to be done if this act does not take effect until ninety days after the adjournment of this legislature, would cause great and unnecessary expense, creates an emergency and imperative and public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days in each house should be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect on and after the first day of April, A. D. 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the twenty-ninth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Palo Pinto, Hood, Somervell, Erath, Hamilton, and Coryell, and the terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Palo Pinto on the last Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Hood on the third Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Somervell on the fifth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Erath on the seventh Mondays after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue session four weeks.

In the county of Hamilton on the eleventh Mondays after the first Monday in March and September and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Coryell on the third Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session four weeks.

Sec. 2. All writs, process, and bonds, civil and criminal, which may be issued or executed up to the time this act takes effect, by or from the district courts of the several counties above named, or under order of said courts, and made returnable to the terms of said courts as they are now fixed by law, shall be returnable to the next ensuing terms of said courts in each county as they are prescribed by this act. And all such writs, process, and bonds above mentioned are hereby legalized and validated to all intents and purposes as if the same had been returnable to the term of said courts as the terms thereof are herein prescribed.

Sec. 1. The fact that the time of holding the courts in the aforesaid district as hereby changed will create a confusion in holding the courts under this act after it takes effect, if it should take effect from and after its passage, and the further fact of holding two terms of the district court of Coryell County in quick succession, which will probably have to be done if this act does not take effect until ninety days after the adjournment of this legislature, would cause great and unnecessary expense, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring this bill to be read on three several days in each house should be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force on and after the first day of April, A. The unorganized counties of Borden and Dawson are hereby attached to Howard County for judicial purposes.

The unorganized county of Andrews is hereby attached to the county of Midland for judicial purposes; and the unorganized counties of Kent and Garza be and are hereby attached to Scurry County for judicial purposes.

Sec. 5. The thirty-ninth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Knox, Baylor, Throckmorton, Haskell, Jones, Stonewall, Crosby, and the unorganized counties of King, Dickens, Motley, Lubbock, Lynn, [and] Floyd, and the terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In Jones County on the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session five weeks.

In the county of Haskell on the fifth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In Throckmorton County on the eighth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In Baylor County on the tenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Knox on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Crosby on the fifteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Stonewall on the seventeenth Mondays after the first Mondays in February and August, and may continue in session two weeks.

Sec. 6. The unorganized county of King is hereby attached to the county of Knox for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Dickens, Motley, Lubbock, Lynn, and Floyd are hereby attached to Crosby County for judicial purposes.

Sec. 7. The forty-sixth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Donley, Greer, Childress, Hardeman, and Wilbarger, and the unorganized counties of Cottle, Hall, Briscoe, Armstrong, and Collingsworth, and terms of the district court shall be held therein each year as follows:

In the county of Donley on the second Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session three weeks.

In Childress County on the fourth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session two weeks.

In Greer County on the sixth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session three weeks.

In Hardeman County on the ninth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session four weeks.

In Wilbarger County on the thirteenth Mondays after the first Mondays in January and July, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 8. The unorganized counties of Cottle and Collingsworth are hereby attached to Childress County for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Armstrong, Briscoe, and Hall are hereby attached to Donley County for judicial purposes.

Sec. 9. The forty-seventh judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Potter, Hale, Oldham, and the unorganized counties of Dallam, Sherman, Moore, Hartley, Deaf Smith, Randall, Parmer, Cochran, Hockley, Bailey, Lamb, Swisher, and Castro, and terms of the district court shall be held therein as follows:

In Potter County on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session four weeks.

In Hale County on the first Mondays in April and October, and may continue in session three weeks.

In Oldham County on the first Mondays in May and November, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 10. The unorganized counties of Sherman, Moore, and Randall are hereby attached to Potter County for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Hockley, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, and Swisher are hereby attached to Hale County for judicial purposes.

The unorganized counties of Parmer, Castro, Deaf Smith, Hartley, and Dallam are hereby attached to Oldham County for judicial purposes.

Sec. 11. The district judges and district attorneys heretofore elected and now acting for the thirty-first, thirty-second, and thirty-ninth judicial districts herein mentioned shall continue the exercise of their said offices respectively.

Sec. 12. That immediately after the taking effect of this act the governor shall appoint a suitable person as district attorney and a suitable person as district judge in each of said forty-sixth and forty-seventh judicial districts, who shall hold their office until the next general election, at which time a district judge and a district attorney shall be elected in each of said districts and at subsequent elections according to existing laws.

Sec. 13. That all process issued or served before this act goes into effect, returnable to the district court of any of the counties of said judicial districts, shall be considered as returnable to said courts in accordance with the terms as prescribed in this act, and all such process is hereby legalized, and all grand and petit juries drawn and selected under existing laws in any of the counties of said judicial districts shall be considered lawfully drawn and selected for the next terms of the districts courts of their respective counties held after this act takes effect, and all such process is hereby legalized and validated.

Sec. 14. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 15. Whereas the rapid settlement of the counties mentioned in this act, and the inability of district judges under former laws to transact all the business in the courts of the said several counties, creates an imperative public necessity, and an emergency exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days; therefore said constitutional rule is suspended, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Section 37. (1) All that part of Bexar County lying north and west of the following lines, viz., beginning at the intersection of the International and Great Northern Railroad with the Cibolo Creek in the boundary line between the counties of Bexar and Comal; thence in a southwestern direction with the center of the roadbed of said railroad to a point within the city of San Antonio where the northern boundary line of the park surrounding San Pedro Springs extended west will intersect said railroad; thence from said point of intersection along said extended line east to the northwest corner of said park; thence in the same direction with said north line of said park to its northeast corner; thence east in the same direction to a point where this line will intersect Maverick Street extended north to intersect this line; thence south to the northern terminus of Maverick Street of said city as now laid out; thence south with said Maverick Street to its intersection with the upper labor ditch of said city; thence up said ditch to where it intersects Grand Avenue of said city; thence with Grand Avenue to the San Antonio River; thence down said river with its meanders to its intersection with the south side of Houston Street; thence with the south side of Houston Street to its intersection with the east side of Soledad Street at the corner of Houston and Soledad streets of said city; thence with the east side of Soledad Street to a point on same where a line run through the center of the hall of the court house of Bexar County parallel with the walls of said hall will intersect said east side of Soledad Street; thence east through the center of the hall of said court house and parallel with the walls of said hall to the San Antonio River; thence down said river with its meanders to the point where the Galveston, Harrisburg, and San Antonio Railroad crosses same; thence with said Galveston, Harrisburg, and San Antonio Railroad to the point where it crossed said International and Great Northern Railroad; thence in southwestern direction with said International and Great Northern Railroad to its intersection with the boundary line of Bexar County, shall constitute the forty-fifth judicial district, and the district court shall be begun and holden therein as follows, viz.: on the first Monday in March, and may continue in session twelve weeks; on the first Monday in June, and may continue in session four weeks; on the first Monday in September, and may continue in session twelve weeks; and on the first Monday in December, and may continue in session twelve weeks: Provided, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent the district court of the thirty-seventh judicial district as at present constituted and now in session from continuing in session until the expiration of its term as now fixed by law.

(2) All that part of the county of Bexar lying south and east of the line described in the foregoing subdivision (1) of this act, it being all of said county not included in said forty-fifth judicial district, shall constitute the thirty-seventh judicial district, and the district court shall be begun and holden therein as follows, viz.: on the first Monday in March, and may continue in session twelve weeks; on the first Monday in June, and may continue in session four weeks; on the first Monday in September, and may continue in session twelve weeks; and on the first Monday in December, and may continue in session twelve weeks.

(3) That said district courts of the forty-fifth and thirty-seventh judicial districts shall have concurrent jurisdiction throughout the limits of Bexar County of all matters civil and criminal of which jurisdiction is given to the district court by the constitution and laws of this state, and that the grand and petit juries shall be selected and drawn from the body of the county: Provided, That there shall be no grand jury organized or impaneled by the said judge of the forty-fifth judicial district, but the judge of the thirty-seventh judicial district shall at each term of his court as provided by law organize the grand jury for said thirty-seventh judicial district, which grand jury shall have power to inquire into all offenses committed within the body of the county of Bexar, and all indictments of all matters civil and criminal of which jurisdiction is given to the district court of said thirty-seventh judicial district, and all appeals and criminal cases from the inferior courts of Bexar County shall be returnable to and filed upon the docket of the district court of the thirty-seventh judicial district.

(4) All civil causes of which the district court of said thirty-seventh and forty-fifth judicial districts have original or appellate jurisdiction, may, at the option of the plaintiff in causes to be originally filed in said courts, or at the option of appellant in cause to be appealed thereto, be filed in the district court of either the thirty-seventh or forty-fifth judicial district.

(5) That either of the judges of said respective courts may in his discretion transfer any cause or causes, civil or criminal, that may at any time be pending in his court, to the other district court herein provided for, by order or orders entered upon the minutes of his court, and where such transfer or transfers are made the clerk of the district court of Bexar County shall enter such cause or causes upon the docket of the court to which said transfer or transfers are made.

(6) That the judge of the thirty-seventh judicial district as heretofore constituted shall continue as the judge of the thirty-seventh judicial district as herein constituted until the expiration of the term of his office and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

(7) Immediately after this act takes effect the governor shall appoint a suitable person as judge of the forty-fifth judicial district, who shall hold said office until the next general election held for state and county officers and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

(8) If any election precinct in Bexar County, or ward in any incorporated city or town therein, shall be situated in part in each of the districts hereby created, then each voter thereof shall vote for the district judge only of the district in which said voter resides.

(9) When this act takes effect the clerk of the district court of Bexar County shall make up a docket for each of said courts by placing on the docket of said district court of the thirty-seventh judicial district all causes that may now be on file in said court or may be hereafter filed in said court under the foregoing provisions, and by placing on the docket of said district court of the forty-fifth judicial district all such causes as may be transferred thereto by the judge of the district court of the thirty-seventh judicial district and all such causes as may be filed therein under the foregoing provisions.

(10) All process heretofore issued or served returnable to the district court of Bexar County, shall be considered as returnable at the times herein prescribed, and all such process is hereby legalized and validated as if the same had been made returnable to the court and at the time herein prescribed.

(11) That the district attorney of the thirty-seventh judicial district as heretofore constituted shall continue as the district attorney of the thirty-seventh judicial district as herein constituted until the expiration of the term of his office and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

(12) That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The crowded condition of the docket of the district court of Bexar County creates an imperative public necessity and emergency that requires the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days to be suspended and that this bill be placed upon its passage without being so read, and that this act take effect and be enforced from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 23 yeas, 6 nays; and passed the house by a vote of 41 yeas, 34 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the governor of Texas for his approval on the 6th day of February, 1880, and was not signed by him nor returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. M. Moore, Secretary of State.]

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—THIRTY-EIGHTH.

Sec.	Sec.
1. Sub-section 38. Counties composing and terms of court in thirty-eighth district.	2. Repealing clause. 3. Emergency clause.

OHAP. 141.—[S. B. No. 395.] An Act to amend chapter 61, an act entitled "An Act to amend section 38 of an act entitled 'An Act to redistrict the state into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9, 1883,' approved March 25, 1887."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That chapter 61, an act entitled "An Act to amend section 38 of an act entitled 'An Act to redistrict the state into judicial districts and fix the times for holding court therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 9, 1883,' approved March 25, 1887," be and the same is hereby amended so that the said section 38 shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 38. The thirty-eighth judicial district shall be composed of the counties of Uvalde, Comal, Kendall, Kerr, Bandera, and Medina, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows:

In the county of Uvalde on the second Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks, and the present term of court in Uvalde County may be continued as if commenced under this act.

In the county of Bandera on the fifth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Kendall on the seventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Kerr on the ninth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Comal on the eleventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Medina on the thirteenth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the close of the legislature creates an imperative public necessity which justifies the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and the same is suspended; and the crowded condition of the docket of the district court in the county of Uvalde requires more time for the disposition of the causes pending, and this fact together with the increasing business in the courts of said county creates an emergency that this bill become a law and take effect from and after passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 79 yeas, no nays.]
Approved, March 30, 1889.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS—FORTIETH.

- Sec. 1. Sub-section 2. Counties composing and terms of court in fortieth district.
Sub-section 4. Writs and process, return of.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 142.—[H. S. S. B. No. 364.] An Act to amend sections 2 and 4 of an act entitled An Act to amend articles 8 and 14 of an act entitled An Act to redistrict the state into judicial districts, and to fix the times for holding courts therein, and to provide [for] the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 19, 1883; to create the fortieth judicial district of the state of Texas, and to fix the times for holding courts therein, and provide for the appointment of a district judge for said district, approved March 27, 1883.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section 2 of an act entitled An Act to amend articles 8 and 14 of an act entitled An Act to redistrict the state into judicial districts and fix the time for holding courts therein, and to provide for the election of judges and district attorneys in said districts at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1884, approved April 19, 1883; to create the fortieth judicial district of the state of Texas, fix the times of holding courts therein, and provide for the appointment of a district judge for said district be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 2. The counties of Ellis, Rockwall, and Kaufman shall be and the same are hereby constituted the fortieth judicial district, and the district courts therein shall be held as follows:

In the county of Ellis on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session eight weeks.

In the county of Rockwall on the first Mondays in May and November, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Kaufman on the fourth Mondays in May and November, and may continue in session seven weeks.

Section 4. All process heretofore issued or served returnable in any of the counties of said judicial district as heretofore prescribed by law, shall be considered as returnable at the times herein prescribed, and all such process is hereby legalized and validated as if the same had been made returnable at the time herein prescribed.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session of the present legislature and the great need of changing the time of holding the courts mentioned in this act, creates an imperative public necessity, and emergency exists that requires that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this bill be placed upon its immediate passage, and that this bill take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 82 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 23 yeas, no nays.]

Sec.

1. Prescribes the terms of court in the forty-first district.
2. Writs and process, return of.

Sec.

3. Repealing clause.
4. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 143.—[H. B. No. 334.] An act to prescribe the times for holding the terms of the district court in the forty-first judicial district, and to repeal all laws and parts of laws in conflict therewith.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the terms of the district court in the several counties comprising the forty-first judicial district shall be held as follows:

In the county of Jeff Davis on the second Monday before the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Brewster on the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Pecos on the third Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session one week.

In the county of Val Verde on the fourth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Kinney on the sixth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session three weeks.

In the county of Edwards on the ninth Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session two weeks.

In the county of Maverick on the eleventh Monday after the first Mondays in March and September, and may continue in session until the business is disposed of.

Sec. 2. All writs and process heretofore returnable to the district courts of the several counties comprising the forty-first judicial district shall be returnable as herein provided, and shall be as valid and binding as though no change had been made in the times for holding the courts therein.

Sec. 3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. Whereas there is no time fixed by law for holding the terms of the district court in Jeff Davis County, one of the counties in the forty-first judicial district, the terms of said court having heretofore been held therein under an order of the district judge of the said district, and there is now such important business on the docket of said court in said county, which creates such an emergency and public necessity as requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, said rule is therefore suspended, and it is further enacted that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

RESOLUTIONS.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

Sec. 1. To amend Section 2 of Article 10 of the Constitution.

No. 1.—[S. J. R. No. 16.] Joint Resolution amending Article 10, Section 2, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 2, Article 10, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to read as follows:

Article 2. Railroads heretofore constructed or which may hereafter be constructed in this state are hereby declared public highways and railroad companies common carriers. The legislature shall pass laws to regulate railroad freight and passenger tariffs, to correct abuses, and prevent unjust discrimination and extortion in the rates of freight and passenger tariffs on the different railroads in this state, and enforce the same by adequate penalties; and to the further accomplishments of these objects and purposes may provide and establish all requisite means and agencies invested with such powers as may be deemed adequate and advisable.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors for members of the legislature of the state of Texas at the next general election for state and county officers, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "For the amendment to Article 10, Section 2, of the Constitution, relating to railroads;" and all voters opposed to said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "Against the amendment to Article 10, Section 2, of the Constitution, relating to railroads:" Provided, That the said article and section of the constitution may be indicated on said ballots either by words, numerals, or figures. The governor of the state is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the constitution and existing laws of the state.

Approved, April 8, 1889.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

Sec. 1. To amend Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution.

No. 2.—[S. J. R. No. 19.] Joint Resolution to amend Section 9, Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 9, Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article Eight.

Section 9. The state tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt and of the taxes provided for the benefit of public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation; and no county, city, or town shall levy more than twenty-five cents for city or county purposes, and not exceed fifteen cents for roads and bridges on the one hundred dollars valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the amendment, September 25, A. D. 1883; and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, water works, and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation in any one year, and except as is in this constitution otherwise provided; and the legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads: Provided, That a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters of the county, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax, not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of public roads and highways without the local notice required for special or local laws.

Sec. 2. That the governor of Texas be and he is hereby required to submit the foregoing resolution to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at the next general election.

Sec. 3. That those voting for the amendment shall have written or printed on their ballot "For amendment to Section 9, Article 8, of the Constitution," and those voting against the amendment shall have written or printed on their ballot "Against amendment to Section 9, Article 8, of the Constitution."

Approved, April 6, 1889.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

Sec.

1. Instructs attorney-general to sue for infringement of copyright.

Sec.

2. Five hundred dollars appropriated for purposes hereof.
3. Emergency clause.

No. 3.—[S. J. R. No. 12.] Joint Resolution authorizing the attorney-general to bring suit for the state for the violation of the state copyright to the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals Reports, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Whereas it is alleged that the copyright of the state to the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals Reports, published under chapter 12 of the Acts of 1882, approved May 3, 1882, has been violated by the unauthorized publication of said reports: Therefore.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the attorney-general be and he is hereby authorized and required to investigate the charge set forth in the preamble hereto, and if satisfied of the truth of the same, to institute in the name of the state such legal proceedings as he may deem necessary and proper to protect the interest of the state in the premises.

Sec. 2. The sum of five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of paying the costs and expenses of such investigation and legal proceedings.

Sec. 3. The loss resulting to the state from the violation of her copyright as aforesaid creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule for the reading of bills and resolutions on three several days; said rule is hereby suspended, and this resolution shall take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing joint resolution originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, 2 nays; and passed the house by a vote of 86 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, February 22, 1889.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

- Sec. 1. Acknowledges donation by W. H. Westfall, G. W. Lacy, and N. L. Norton.
2. Sets apart room in capitol for deposit of granite specimens.

No. 4.—House Concurrent Resolution.

Whereas the immense deposit of granite and marble in several counties of this state assures to Texas a high rank in point of building resources, and also promises extensive industrial enterprises to her people; and whereas Burnet County has furnished the entire granite stone for the new state capitol when the most diligent research failed to find available material suited for this purpose elsewhere in this commonwealth, the said Burnet County granite having been decided by the best architects and experts in America, to be capable of the highest polish and greatest durability of any in the United States and equal to any in the known world; and whereas the granite for the capitol building (one of the first in the United States) was a present to the state of Texas free of charge by W. H. Westfall, G. W. Lacy, and N. L. Norton, citizens of Burnet County;

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring:

Section 1. That the state acknowledge with pride the liberality and patriotism of the said W. H. Westfall, G. W. Lacy, and N. L. Norton, in the princely donation of the beautiful granite of which this magnificent new capitol is built, and that the thanks of the people of the state of Texas are hereby tendered to said citizens for the same.

Sec. 2. That as said W. H. Westfall, G. W. Lacy, and N. L. Norton have never asked and do not now ask or desire one cent for the donation they have made, but desire to make an additional present to the state of specimens of granite, marble and lithographic stone of different grades, all polished in their highest capacity; also fire brick and varieties of specimens of wood, finished and polished, to show the resources and quantity of building material in Burnet County; therefore, to enable these men to carry out their desire, a room in this capitol building not needed by the state be set apart for the reception of said deposits, and that each and every county in the state shall have the right and are requested to make similar deposits of any and all building material, in small blocks or pieces, polished in their highest capacity, thus creating a state museum showing the resources of the state in her building materials as well as the quantities and capabilities of the same as to finish and durability, said room to be under the supervision of the commissioner of agriculture, insurance, statistics, and history, and shall be open to all citizens of this state or visitors from abroad when they visit the capitol that they may look through and examine the said deposits in said museum. And in recognition of our appreciation of the donation thus made by W. H. Westfall, G. W. Lacy, and N. L. Norton [they] are hereby especially invited to visit and occupy said room when they visit the capitol during life or until the state shall need the room for other purposes.

Approved, February 25, 1889.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

- Sec. 1. To appoint committee of house and senate to attend interstate convention.

No. 5.—House Concurrent Resolution.

Whereas the people of Texas, especially the stockgrowers, have become satisfied that there exists a beef and pork combine or trust, having for its or their domicile Chicago, Illinois; Kansas City, Missouri, and perhaps in other states, but operating in many dark devious ways in the state of Texas to the almost utter destruction of the stock interests in this state; said combine or trust is believed to be directly responsible for the low prices that prevail for their beef products, the price now obtained for such products being but little if any in advance of the actual cost of production; and whereas it is desirable that the operations of said combine or trust should be fully investigated and such legislation enacted as will tend to protect the great stockgrowing interests of this state and the people at large against the iniquitous purpose and intent of said combine or trust; and whereas the state of Kansas has by a concurrent resolution of its senate and house of representatives, now in session, invited the co-operation of the state of Texas and other states interested in assisting them by concert of action in all the states to destroy as far as possible the said combine and trust, and to that end to meet at such place and time as may be designated by the governor of the state of Kansas in a convention of members from the legislatures of the several states interested: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of Texas, the Senate concurring: That the speaker of the house of representatives shall appoint five members of the house to act with three members of the senate to be appointed by the president thereof, whose duty it shall be to proceed to the place hereinafter to be named by the governor of Kansas, at the time designated by him, there to represent the state of Texas in the convention of states herein before mentioned.

Resolved, That the actual expenses and mileage of said committee be paid for out of the contingent fund of the Twenty-first Legislature.

Approved, March 6, 1889.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

For supply safe to superintendent of public instruction.

No. 6.—House Concurrent Resolution.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring: That the superintendent of public buildings and grounds is hereby authorized to remove the safe now in the temporary capitol, known as the state treasurer's safe, into the office of superintendent of public instruction.

Approved, March 19, 1889.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Addressed to our senators and representatives in Congress in relation to deep water harbor.

No. 7.—[S. C. R. No. 8.] Resolution requesting senators and representatives from Texas in congress to secure a permanent appropriation of the amount that may be recommended by the board of engineers as necessary to construct and maintain a first class deep water harbor on the coast of Texas.

Whereas in the Interstate Deep Harbor Convention held in Denver, Colorado, in August, 1888, the states of Texas, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Arkansas, California, Nevada, and Kansas, and the territories of New Mexico, Wyoming, Dakota, Arizona, and Indian Territory being represented, it was unanimously resolved by the said convention that the commercial, agricultural, mining, manufacturing, and stock interests of that part of the United States lying west of the Mississippi, and the commercial and naval necessities of the entire country, demand a first class, permanent, safe, deep water harbor on the coast of Texas; and whereas the speedy construction and maintenance of such harbor will greatly promote the prosperity of Texas by giving her a better market and commercial advantages for her rapidly increasing surplus products: Therefore,

Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein: That our senators and representatives in congress are earnestly requested to procure immediately, by appropriate legislation, a permanent available appropriation of the amount recommended by the board of engineers as necessary for the construction and maintenance of a first class deep water harbor on the coast of Texas capable of safely accommodating the largest ocean carriers and naval vessels of the world.

Approved, March 29, 1889.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

I, J. M. Moore, secretary of state of the state of Texas, certify that the foregoing laws and resolutions, passed at the regular session of the Twenty-first Legislature, have been carefully examined and compared with the original enrolled bills now on file in this department, and are true copies of said originals.

I further certify that the Twenty-first Legislature convened in the city of Austin, January 8, A. D. 1889, and adjourned April 6, A. D. 1889.

In testimony whereof I have subscribed my name, and hereto affixed the seal of the state of Texas, in the city of Austin, May 4, 1889.

J. M. MOORE,
Secretary of State.

CHAP. 1.—[S. B. No. 259.] An Act to incorporate the city of Dallas, and to grant it a new charter.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the inhabitants of the city of Dallas, in Dallas County, and State of Texas, shall continue to be and are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate by the name and style of the city of Dallas; and by that name shall have perpetual succession; shall have all the rights, immunities, powers, privileges, and franchises now enjoyed by said city and herein granted, and be subject to all its present liabilities, and may sue and be sued, plead and impleaded, in all courts of law and equity, may contract and be contracted with, may take, hold, and convey any property whatever for corporation purposes, either within or without the city limits, and may have a common seal and alter the same at pleasure.

BOUNDS AND LIMITS.

Sec. 2. That the bounds and limits of said city are hereby established and described as follows:

Beginning on the east bank of Trinity River at low water mark, and midway between Commerce Street and Main Street; thence southerly with the meanderings of said river to the southeast boundary line of the A. C. McDaniel survey; thence in a course about north 45 east with said southeast boundary line to the A. C. McDaniel survey to northeast line of right of way of the Houston and Texas Central Railway main track, a distance of 4250 feet, more or less; thence southwesterly with said right of way line of the Houston and Texas Central Railway main track, a distance of 8361 feet, more or less, to the east boundary line of the original corporation of the city of Dallas.

Thence with said line (about north 14 west) to the northeast corner of said original corporation, a distance of 7776 feet, more or less. Thence with the north line of said original corporation (about south 76 west) a distance of 1420 feet, more or less, to the right of way of the Houston and Texas Central Railway; thence northwesterly along said right of way line of said Houston and Texas Central Railway to the centre of Flora Street, a distance of 440 feet, more or less. Thence along said centre line of Flora Street, north 45 east, to the southeast side of Haskell Avenue, a distance 3300 feet, more or less.

Thence with the southwest side of Haskell Avenue (about north 45 west) and its continuation to the northwest side of Preston Avenue extended, a distance of 5310 feet, more or less; thence with the northwest side of Preston Avenue (about south 45 west) to the northeast boundary line of Bowser & Lemmon's Oak Lawn and North Dallas addition to the city of Dallas, a distance of 360 feet, more or less; thence with the northeast boundary line (about north 45 west) to the southeast side of Washington Avenue, a distance of 2040 feet, more or less; thence with the southeast side of said Washington Avenue (about south 45 west) to the southwest side of Cedar Springs road, a distance of 2750 feet, more or less; thence with the southwest side of Cedar Springs road (about south 45 east) to the southeast side of Oak Lawn Avenue, a distance of 210 feet, more or less; thence with the southeast side of Oak Lawn Avenue (about south 45 west) and its continuation to the southwest side of the present right of way of the Dallas and Wichita Railway, a distance of 4200 feet, more or less; thence southeasterly with the present southwest line of the said right of way to the northwest side of Payne Street, a distance of about 4500 feet; thence with the northwest side of Payne Street extended (about south 45 west) to the original corporation line of the city of Dallas, a distance of 770 feet, more or less; thence with said original corporation line (about south 76 west) to low water mark of Trinity River, a distance of 1200 feet, more or less; thence southerly with the meanderings of said river to the place of beginning.

Sec. 3. That any territory adjoining the present or future boundaries of said city may from time to time, in any size or shape desired, be admitted and become a part thereof on application made or written consent given to the city council by the owner or owners of the land, or, as the case may be, by a majority of the legal voters resident on the land sought to be added. In all such cases the territory so added shall be described by metes and bounds in an ordinance accepting, assenting, and adding the same to the municipal corporation; and thereafter the inhabitants of such added territory shall, in all respects, be on an equal footing with the inhabitants of the original municipal territory: Provided, This section shall not apply to any part of the territory known as East Dallas, which shall only be added by a majority vote of the inhabitants thereof at an election duly called for that purpose by the county judge and conducted in the manner prescribed by law; the city council of Dallas is hereby empowered to make satisfactory terms for assuming the payment of the bonded and floating indebtedness of said East Dallas, and such other terms that may be deemed necessary for such annexation.

Sec. 4. That the city council may divide the city into a convenient number of wards, not exceeding twelve, and define and establish the boundaries thereof, and may change the same from time to time as may be deemed expedient, having regard for the number of inhabitants so that each ward shall contain as nearly as may be the same number of qualified electors for city election.

Sec. 5. All qualified electors of the state who shall have resided for six months immediately preceding the election within the limits of said city shall have a right to vote for mayor and all other elective officers of said city, but in all elections to determine the expenditure of money or assumption of debt, or levy of special taxes, only those shall be qualified to vote who pay taxes on property in said city, their qualification to be ascertained by an inspection of the assessment rolls.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 6. The legislative power of the city of Dallas shall be vested in the city council, consisting of a mayor and two aldermen from each ward, all of whom shall be elected by the people biennially as hereinafter provided. Said officers shall perform such duties as are herein required of them and as may be prescribed by ordinance. The mayor shall receive an annual salary of not more than three thousand dollars, and he shall not receive any fees or commissions. The aldermen shall receive for their salaries such compensation as the city council may provide by ordinance, not to exceed three dollars for each meeting.

Sec. 7. No person shall be eligible to the office of mayor or alderman unless, in addition to other qualifications required by law, he be at the date of his election a qualified voter of the city of Dallas, a freeholder therein, and shall have resided therein for at least one year preceding his election, and shall have paid a city tax and shall not be in arrears in the payment of any tax or other liability due the city.

Sec. 8. No person shall be eligible to any office, elective or appointive, in the city of Dallas, unless he be a qualified voter therein.

Sec. 9. The first election under this charter shall take place on the first Tuesday in April, 1889, at which time and every two years thereafter there shall be elected by the qualified voters of said city a mayor, a city judge, and one alderman from each ward, who shall hold their offices for two years and until their successors are elected and qualified: Provided, That two aldermen may be elected from the eighth and ninth wards.

Sec. 10. The second general election under this charter shall be held on the first Tuesday in April, 1890, at which time and every two years thereafter there shall be elected by the qualified voters of each ward in said city one alderman from each of said wards, who shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified, and also the city assessor, and city collector, and chief of police.

Sec. 11. Aldermen from wards must be residents of said wards and voted for only by voters of their wards.

Sec. 12. Said elections shall be held at such places as the city council may direct, and at least thirty days notice thereof shall be given by publication in one or more newspapers of said city.

Sec. 13. Said elections shall be ordered by the mayor or city council. For the purposes of holding such election and others ordered, the city council shall appoint biennially in each ward some suitable person who shall be presiding officer at all elections in his ward.

Sec. 14. The presiding officer in each ward shall select two judges and two clerks, who with the presiding officer shall be managers of the election. The presiding officer and judges must be qualified voters in the city. The city council shall provide for their compensation and define and regulate their duties and powers. The mayor, whenever an election is ordered, shall give the required notice and issue to the presiding officer a writ of election, and every published notice of election shall state the officer to be elected, the place where the election will be held, and the name of the presiding officer thereat. In case the officer so appointed is unable, fails, refuses, or neglects to act, or the city council have failed to appoint, and in case no appointed presiding officer appears to open the polls, the attending qualified voters may appoint such officers, who shall perform the same duties and have the same powers as the first appointee; but in such cases the managers in their returns or otherwise shall certify that the presiding officer failed to attend or neglected to act and that the person acting as such was duly chosen by the electors present.

Sec. 15. The manner of conducting and voting at elections under this act and contesting same, keeping of the poll-lists, canvassing the votes, and certifying the returns, shall be such as the city council may provide by ordinance, and in case no such provisions are made by the council then the state election law for cities and towns, so far as applicable, shall govern unless herein otherwise provided.

Sec. 16. The managers of elections shall be sworn to well and truly conduct the elections without partiality or prejudice and agreeably to law according to the best of their skill and ability, which oath shall be administered to the judges and clerks by the presiding officer. The presiding officer shall be sworn to discharge the duties of presiding officer of elections to the best of his skill and ability, which oath shall be administered by the mayor, city secretary, or any justice of the peace.

Sec. 17. Whenever it happens in such elections that there is a tie between one or more candidates for the same office, the mayor or city council shall declare such election void as between such candidates, and order a new election for such office, giving at least ten days notice thereof.

Sec. 18. All vacancies in offices shall be filled by special elections, but in such cases it shall not be necessary to give more than ten days notice. Special elections shall be conducted as are regular elections.

Sec. 19. Every person elected or appointed to any office in the city of Dallas shall before he enters upon his duties take the official oath prescribed by the state constitution and such additional oath as the city council may deem best to secure a faithful performance of duty.

Sec. 20. The other officers of said city shall be a treasurer, an assessor, a collector, a city secretary, a city judge, a city attorney, chief of police, a city engineer, a city health officer, a superintendent of water works, an auditor and such other officers or agents as the city council may direct, all of whom except the assessor, collector, city judge, and chief of police shall be elected by the city council as the present terms of such officers expire and every two years thereafter: Provided, That the regular time for electing such officers by the council or such of them whose terms have expired shall be on the second Monday in May after each regular annual election. This section shall not be construed to interfere with the terms of any person now occupying any of said offices. All officers elected by the council shall hold their offices for two years and until their successors are elected and qualified. They shall give such bonds as the city council may require and perform such duties as are herein provided, as may be prescribed by the city council before each annual election for the officers to be elected; and such compensation shall not be changed during the term of said officers.

Sec. 21. The compensation of all officers shall be such as may be fixed by the city council.

Sec. 22. The term "officer," as used in this charter, shall apply only to those officers who are elected by the people or the council, for a fixed and definite period, and the same does not include policemen and other agents or employees of said city.

Sec. 23. Any officer moving out of the city limits, or the ward from which he may have been elected alderman, or ceasing to possess any of the qualifications required of him, shall thereby vacate his office, and the same shall be filled by special election or appointment as the case may be.

THE MAYOR.

Sec. 24. The mayor shall be elected and hold his office as hereinbefore provided. He shall be the chief executive officer of the city. He shall have power to appoint special policemen for any special occasion, and call out the militia and military in the city for the suppression of any riot or public disturbance. He shall be active in enforcing the laws and ordinances of said city. He shall from time to time give the council information about the condition of affairs, and recommend for consideration such measures as he deems best for the city. He shall have, by the advice and consent of the council, power to appoint experts to examine the affairs of any department of the city when he thinks it necessary. In all cases of the examination of charges against any officer or employee of the city, election contests, etc., he shall have power to administer oaths, subpoena and compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers. He shall sign all contracts or obligations of the city. He shall have the power to veto any resolution, by-law, motion, or order passed by the city council, by filing his written objections thereto within three days after the passage thereof, Sundays and day of passage to be excluded. At the next regular meeting, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the council shall consider such objections, and unless the council pass the measure over his veto by a two-thirds vote of the aldermen present, taken by yeas and nays, said measure shall be of no effect. The mayor shall have power to require any officer of the city to exhibit his books and papers, and a refusal of any officer when so required shall be deemed a forfeiture and abandonment of said office. The mayor shall have and exercise such other powers and perform such other duties as may be conferred or required by the city council not inconsistent with this charter.

CITY COURT.

Sec. 25. That the judicial power of the city of Dallas shall be and the same hereby is vested in a court to be known as "The Dallas City Court," to be presided over by a judge to be known as the "City Judge," which court hereby is created and established with a criminal jurisdiction as follows:

First. To try, hear, determine, and punish all misdemeanors over which the recorder's court of Dallas now has jurisdiction.

Second. To try, hear, determine, and punish all misdemeanors arising under the ordinances of the city authorized by any of the provisions of this charter. To have concurrent jurisdiction with state courts over all misdemeanors against state laws committed within the city limits, except theft, swindling, and those involving official misconduct, and to have exclusive jurisdiction over female vagrants.

Sec. 26. Said city court shall be deemed always open for the trial of said causes, and proceedings before said court shall be commenced by filing a written complaint, specifying the charges made against the accused with reasonable certainty, which complaint shall be sworn to, and shall not be quashed for any formal defects if it substantially sets forth the nature of the violation alleged. Said court shall have no civil jurisdiction.

Sec. 27. All process of said court shall run in the name of the city of Dallas, and shall be served and executed in the same manner as like process issuing from a state court, unless herein otherwise provided. The practice and procedure of the state courts, so far as applicable and practicable, shall govern in said city court, unless otherwise provided herein or by ordinance of the city council.

Sec. 28. In lieu of the present office of recorder of the city of Dallas, there is hereby created the office of city judge, which shall be filled by some suitable person to be elected by the people at the regular annual election in April, 1889. Such officer when elected shall be known as the city judge, and shall preside over and hold said court and discharge all the duties thereof. He shall hold his office for the term of two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall be a resident of said city, and a qualified voter therein. He shall be a person learned in the law.

Sec. 29. He shall have full power and authority to enforce all powers of said city court. He shall have full power to issue subpoenas for witnesses, and to compel their attendance by process of attachment. He may punish all contempts of his court by fines and imprisonment, or either. He may issue subpoenas, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions, and all process known to law which state courts in such cases may issue. He may require of any person arrested a bond for his or her good behavior, and to keep the peace, or for his or her appearance before said court, with two good and sufficient sureties, which bonds, as well as all other bonds taken in any proceeding in said court, shall be payable to the city of Dallas. He shall have full power to administer official oaths and affirmations, and give certificates therefor. The city council may determine what costs, if any, shall be charged for proceedings in and for all processes issued by said court, and shall allow the judge thereof for his services such compensation as they may deem just. He shall perform all the duties herein required, and such other duties as may be prescribed by ordinance, not inconsistent with the constitution of this state. All fines imposed by said court shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city. The city council may, if they deem it necessary, provide said court with a clerk and seal. In cases of temporary failure to act for any cause on the part of the city judge, the mayor is hereby authorized to appoint some person qualified, who shall discharge the duties of said office and receive the pro rata compensation due therefor. The provisions herein referring to said city judge shall not be construed to interfere with the term of the present city recorder until the time for which he was elected has expired.

Sec. 30. All jurors in said court shall be residents of said city and otherwise possess the same qualifications as jurors in state courts. They shall be summoned and selected in such manner as the city council may provide by ordinance.

Sec. 31. Appeals shall lie from said court to the court of appeals in all cases where the fines imposed by the court or jury shall exceed $100. Said appeals shall be governed by the rules of practice and procedure for appeals from the county court to said court of appeals, so far as the same may be applicable.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 32. There shall be a police department, composed of chief of police, who shall be elected as heretofore provided, and such policemen as may be employed on the force, and a police board, composed of the mayor and any two aldermen selected for that purpose. The mayor shall be chairman of said board. Said board shall make such rules and regulations for the government of said department as to them may seem best.

Sec. 33. The chief of police shall be the chief police officer of the city under the mayor. He may appoint one or more deputies, and shall, either in person or by deputy, attend all meetings of the council and upon the city court, and promptly and faithfully execute all writs and process issued from said court. He shall have like power with the sheriff of the county to execute search warrants and other writs. He shall be active in quelling riots, disorders, disturbances of the peace, and violations of every kind within the city limits, and shall take into custody all persons thus offending, and may take good and sufficient bail for the appearance before the city court of any person charged with any offense against the ordinances or laws of the city. It shall be his duty to arrest without warrant all violators of said ordinances or laws, and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the discharge of his duties. In the prevention and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders, he shall have the same powers of a sheriff of a county under the laws of the state. He shall perform such other duties and possess such other powers as the council may by resolution or ordinance require and confer.

DUTIES OF OTHER OFFICERS.

Sec. 34. It shall be the duty of the city secretary to attend every meeting of the council and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose, and to engross and enroll all laws, resolutions, and ordinances of the city, to preserve and keep in order all books, papers, documents, records, and files of said council, to countersign all commissions and licenses issued by the mayor, and to keep a record of them, and draw all warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same, and keep accurate account thereof in a book provided for that purpose. He shall have custody of all laws and ordinances of said city. He shall have custody of the seal of corporation, and shall only affix the same to the obligations of the city by order of the city council. He shall perform such other and further duties as may be required of him by the council by resolution, ordinance, or otherwise, and give such bond and receive such compensation and fees as the city council may prescribe.

CITY ATTORNEY.

Sec. 35. The city attorney shall attend to all cases in any court in this state wherein the city may be a party in interest, unless the council otherwise provides. He shall draw all ordinances, and inspect and pass upon all papers and documents involving any interest of the city. He shall be the legal adviser of the mayor, the city council, or any committee thereof, and all city officers upon legal questions touching their official duties. He shall receive such compensation and fees as the council may allow, give such bond and perform such other duties as the council may prescribe.

CITY ENGINEER.

Sec. 36. The city engineer shall inspect and pass upon the construction of all public works ordered by the city, and shall make out plans and specifications and estimates therefor; he shall do the surveying and engineering ordered by the city; he shall preserve all plans, maps, notes, surveys, books, papers, and documents, and other things pertaining to his office made by him or in his charge, and deliver the same to his successor in office. He shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as may be required of him by the council by resolution, ordinance, or otherwise. The city engineer shall receive such compensation as the city council may prescribe, and give such bond as may be required by the city council.

CITY COLLECTOR.

Sec. 37. The city collector shall collect all taxes due the city, whether the same be general, special, special assessments, occupation, license, or otherwise, and shall pay the same over to the city treasurer promptly as collected, taking duplicate receipts therefor, one of which he shall retain and the other he shall return to the council. He shall monthly, or oftener if required, make a detailed report to the council of all collections made by him. He shall be vigilant and see that no business of any kind is conducted without the license or occupation tax due therefor shall have been first paid. He shall be responsible for all acts of his deputies. He shall be vigilant in collecting all delinquent taxes, and enforce their collection as herein provided, and as may be provided by ordinance. He shall give bond in such amount and form as the council may prescribe, with good and sufficient securities. The council may require a new bond of him if in their opinion the existing bond is insufficient, and whenever such bond is required he shall perform no official act until such bond shall be given and approved. He shall receive such compensation and costs as the city council may prescribe. He shall have all the powers and perform all the duties herein provided, and such others as the council may confer and prescribe.

TREASURER.

Sec. 38. The city treasurer shall give such bond as the city council may require, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. He shall receive and securely keep all monies belonging to the city, and make all payments for the same upon the order of the mayor, attested by the secretary, under seal of the corporation: Provided, That no order shall be paid unless it shows upon its face that the city council has ordered its issuance, and for what purpose. He shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments to the city council at their first regular meeting in every month, and at such other times as the council may require. He shall perform such other acts and duties as the council may require, and receive such compensation as the council may prescribe.

ASSESSOR.

Sec. 39. The city assessor shall assess all the taxable property in the city in such manner and within such time as the city council may prescribe. He shall make duplicate assessment rolls, and on their completion and approval by the city council he shall deliver one to the city secretary and the other one to the city collector. The assessor is hereby authorized to require property owners to render a correct account of their property under oath or affirmation, to be by him administered. He shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as the council may confer and prescribe by ordinance, and shall receive such compensation as the city council may prescribe.

Sec. 40. The superintendent of the water works shall have charge of the city water works, and shall manage and control the same subject to such regulations as the city council may prescribe by ordinance or otherwise, and shall receive such compensation as the city council may prescribe.

Sec. 41. The health officer and city auditor shall each have such powers and perform such duties as the city council may confer and prescribe by ordinance or otherwise, and shall receive such compensation as the city council may prescribe.

Sec. 42. The city council shall have power from time to time to require other duties of all city officers.

CITY COUNCIL.

Sec. 43. The city council shall be composed of the mayor and aldermen provided for in this charter. The mayor shall be president of the council, and in case of a tie on any question he shall give the casting vote, but in elections he shall vote as other members of the council. At the first meeting of each new council, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the council shall elect one of the aldermen president or mayor pro tem., who shall hold his office for one year. In case of failure, inability, or refusal of the mayor to act, the president pro tem. shall perform the duties and receive the fees and compensation of the mayor. In the absence of the mayor and the president pro tem. any one of the aldermen present may be appointed to preside.

Sec. 44. A majority of the aldermen shall constitute a quorum for business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members. At meetings for the imposition of taxes two-thirds of a full board shall be required. Regular meetings of the council shall be at such times as the council may fix by resolution or otherwise; but the mayor, on his own motion or at the request of three or more aldermen, may call special meetings by written notice thereof served upon each member or left at his usual place of abode or usual place of business. Such notices should state the object and purpose for which such meeting is called.

Sec. 45. The city council shall adopt such rules and regulations for its government and order of business as its members may deem best. It shall be the judge of the qualifications and election of its members, including the mayor. It shall also be the judge of the election and qualifications of all city officers. It may punish members, or other persons, during its sittings, for disorderly conduct, by fine. It may, with an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the whole number of aldermen elected and qualified, the yeas and nays being called for and recorded, remove any officer of the city for any conduct or offense which in the opinion of the council, expressed by the two-thirds vote aforesaid, shall render him unfit to hold his office; but no officer shall be removed until he shall have had the opportunity of being heard himself or by counsel, or by both.

Sec. 46. The meetings of the council shall be public, except when by a majority vote of the members present it may be deemed expedient to deliberate with closed doors upon any special question.

Sec. 47. A record of the council proceedings shall be kept by the city secretary, and each vote taken by yeas and nays shall be entered therein, and no action of the council shall have any force unless a majority of the members present shall have voted in favor of it.

GENERAL POWERS OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

Sec. 48. The city council shall have the management and control of the finances and all property, real, personal, or mixed, belonging to the city.

Sec. 49. The city council shall have power to appropriate money and provide for the payment of debts and expenses of the city.

Sec. 50. To provide by ordinance special funds for special purposes provided for under the provisions of this charter, and to make the same disburseable only for said purposes, and to impose proper penalties for enforcing the same.

Sec. 51. To provide by ordinance for the payment of any existing and outstanding indebtedness and for the payment of any bonds that may from time to time be issued, and shall for such purposes have the power to levy, assess, and collect a special tax.

Sec. 52. To make regulations to prevent introduction of contagious diseases into the city, to make quarantine laws for that purpose, and to enforce them within the city and within ten miles thereof.

Sec. 53. To provide or cause to be provided the city with water; to make, regulate, and establish public wells, pumps, cisterns, hydrants, reservoirs, and stand pipes in the streets or elsewhere in said city or beyond the limits thereof, for the convenience of the inhabitants and the extinguishment of fire, and to prevent the unnecessary waste of water and to condemn all right of way necessary for any of said purposes.

Sec. 54. The city council shall have exclusive control and power over the streets, alleys, crossings, highways, and public grounds in the city, and to abate and remove all encroachments or obstructions thereon, to open, alter, abolish, widen, extend, establish, regulate, grade, pave, clean, or otherwise improve said streets, and to protect the same from all encroachments and injury of every kind whatsoever.

Sec. 55. To establish, erect, construct, and keep in repair bridges, culverts, conduits, sewers, and sidewalks, and to regulate the construction and use of same, and to abate or punish any obstruction or encroachment thereon. The cost of constructing sidewalks, together with the cost of collection, shall be entirely defrayed by the property owners in such manner as the city council may provide, and shall be a perpetual lien on the property in question until paid. The costs of sewers shall be paid as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 56. To prevent the encumbering of streets, alleys, sidewalks, and public ground with carriages, wagons, carts, hacks, buggies, or other vehicles, with boxes, timber, firewood, posts, awnings, signs, or anything else whatever, in any manner whatever; to compel all persons to keep all weeds, filth, rubbish, trash of every kind from their premises and from the sidewalks, streets, and gutters in front of the premises occupied by them and to pass all ordinances necessary to enforce such things.

Sec. 57. To permit, prevent, and regulate the laying of gas and water mains and pipes therein. To compel any person using the streets, alleys, or sidewalks for the purpose of laying gas or water mains and pipes, sewer pipes, or for building or other purposes, to repair, clean up, and restore said streets, sidewalks, and alleys so used.

Sec. 58. To prevent any street or sidewalk from being dug up or excavations to be made therein, unless the same be done with the permission of the city council and under the direction of the city engineer.

Sec. 59. To regulate, establish, and change the grade of all sidewalks, streets, and premises, and to require and compel the filling up and raising of the same.

Sec. 60. To divide and redivide the city into wards and alter the boundaries thereof for the purpose of equalizing the population of the several wards.

Sec. 61. To provide for lighting the streets and public grounds and erecting lamp posts, electric towers, or other lighting apparatus.

Sec. 62. To provide for the erection of market houses, establish markets and market places, and provide for the government and regulation thereof. To provide all needful buildings for the use of the city. To provide for enclosing, improving, ornamenting, and regulating all public grounds belonging to the city. To provide hospitals and regulate and maintain the same, and to permit or prohibit private hospitals. To establish an active system of inspection over premises and the conduct of persons.

Sec. 63. To establish and regulate public grounds, and to regulate, restrain, and prohibit the running at large of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, swine, goats, geese, and other animals in the city, and to authorize the distraining, impounding, and sale of the same for costs of the proceedings and penalty incurred, and to order their destruction when they can not be sold, and to impose penalties on the owners or keepers thereof for violation of any ordinance, whether they reside in or out of the city, and at all such sales the purchaser of any animal shall be deemed to acquire a good and valid title thereto, if provisions of the ordinances have been complied with, whether the owner of such animal resides in or out of the city.

Sec. 64. To establish and maintain a city police, prescribe the duties and powers of policemen, and regulate their conduct.

Sec. 65. To regulate, restrain, locate, abate, or prohibit slaughter houses, glue factories, bone boilers, hide houses, or establishments for curing hides, soap factories, places for rendering lard, tallow, offal, and other substances that can be rendered, and all other establishments where any nauseous, dangerous, offensive, or unwholesome business may be carried on.

Sec. 66. To regulate the storage and transportation of all illuminating oils, high explosives, gunpowder, tar, pitch, and all other inflammable oils and combustibles of every kind.

Sec. 67. To regulate parapet walls, to prevent dangerous construction and condition of chimneys, fireplaces, hearths, stoves, stovepipes, boilers, and other heating apparatus, and cause the same to be removed and made safe.

Sec. 68. To prevent the deposit of ashes in unsafe places, and cause the removal from one's premises of all trash, old papers, straw, goods boxes, barrels, and anything else dangerous on account of fire, and of all filth, slops, animal and vegetable matter, and everything else offensive and dangerous to health and comfort, and to cause all buildings and enclosures in a dangerous state to be put in a safe condition.

Sec. 69. To regulate or prevent the carrying on of manufactories and works dangerous in causing or promoting fires, and regulate the location of cotton presses, sheds, and other buildings dangerous on account of fires.

Sec. 70. To regulate the size, number, and manner of construction of doors and stairways of theatres, tenement houses, audience rooms, public halls, and all buildings used for the gathering of a large number of people, whether now built or hereafter to be built, so that there may be convenient, safe, and speedy exit in case of fires.

Sec. 71. To require the construction of suitable fire escapes on or in hotels, lodging houses, factories, and other buildings, whether now built or hereafter to be built.

Sec. 72. To establish and maintain a fire department, fix the number and compensation of all firemen, employees, and members of the department, prescribe their respective duties, regulate their appointment and dismissal, and fix penalties for the violation of all regulations pertaining thereto; to procure steam fire engines and other apparatus for extinguishing fires, provide for the care, management, and maintenance of the same, and to do everything whatsoever necessary for the regulation and maintenance of such department.

Sec. 73. To regulate, prevent, and prohibit the use of fireworks and firearms.

Sec. 74. To compel the owners or occupants of houses or other buildings to have scuttles in their roofs and stairs or ladders leading to the same.

Sec. 75. To establish fire limits, and prohibit the erection, building, placing, removing, or repairing of wooden buildings within said limits; also to prohibit the removal of any wooden building from one place to another within said limits, and may require all buildings within said limits to be constructed with fire-proof material; also may prohibit the repairing of wooden buildings within said limits when the same shall have been damaged thirty-three and one-third per cent of their value, and may provide the mode of ascertaining such damage; also may declare all dilapidated wooden buildings which they deem dangerous on account of fire nuisances and require the same to be removed in such manner as the council may direct.

Sec. 76. To authorize one or more officers, agents, or employees of the city to enter into and upon all buildings and premises, to examine and discover whether the same are dangerous on account of fire or in any unclean state and cause all defects to be remedied and filth and trash to be removed; and generally the council shall have power to establish such regulations for the prevention and extinguishment of fires as it may deem expedient.

Sec. 77. The city council shall have the exclusive right to erect, own, maintain, and operate water works for the use of the city and its inhabitants and to regulate the same, to prescribe rates for water furnished to said inhabitants, and make such rules and regulations as the said council may deem expedient; also shall have the power to acquire by purchase or donation suitable grounds on which to erect such works and all necessary right of way, and to do everything whatsoever necessary to operate and maintain said works.

Sec. 78. To provide work houses for vagabonds and disorderly persons who are unable or refuse to pay fines or who have been sentenced to fine and imprisonment, or to compel them to work on the streets, alleys, and any public works, and to make all necessary regulations concerning the same.

Sec. 79. To define what shall be nuisances in the city, and within three thousand feet of the corporation lines, and to abate them by summary proceedings, and punish the authors thereof by penalties, fines, and imprisonment.

Sec. 80. To provide, keep, and regulate a city prison.

Sec. 81. To establish standard weights and measures, and to regulate weights and measures to be used in the city, and provide for and regulate the inspection, weight, and quality of everything to eat and drink offered for sale in said city. To provide for the inspection and weighing of hay and coal, and the measurement of firewood and other fuel to be sold in the city.

Sec. 82. To provide for taking the enumeration of the inhabitants of the city.

Sec. 83. To prescribe fines, forfeitures, and penalties for breach of any ordinance enforcing the powers granted in this charter, and to provide for the recovery and appropriation of such fines and forfeitures, and the enforcement of such penalties.

Sec. 84. The city council shall have full power and authority by ordinance to regulate, control, and prohibit the carrying of firearms and other weapons within the city limits, and is hereby empowered to provide and inflict the same punishment therefor as is now or hereafter may be provided by the state law against persons unlawfully carrying weapons.

Sec. 85. To tax, regulate, restrain, or prohibit the running at large of dogs and authorize their destruction when at large contrary to ordinances, and to impose penalties on the owners, harborers, or keepers thereof for violation of such ordinances.

Sec. 86. To provide for the suppression and prevention of any riot, rout, noise, affray, disturbance, or disorderly assembly in any public or private place within the city.

Sec. 87. To prevent, prohibit, and suppress horse racing, immoderate riding or driving in the streets; to prohibit and punish abuses and cruelty to animals, birds and fowls of every kind; to compel persons to fasten their horses or animals attached to vehicles, or otherwise, while standing or remaining in the streets or other public places.

Sec. 88. To prohibit and restrain the rolling of hoops, flying of kites, firing of firecrackers and fireworks of any kind, the riding of bicycles, tricycles, or any other amusement having a tendency to annoy persons passing in the streets or on the sidewalks; to restrain and prohibit the ringing of bells, the blowing of horns and bugles, the crying of goods, and all other noises, practices, and performances tending to collect persons on the streets or sidewalks by auctioneers and others for the purpose of business or otherwise.

Sec. 89. To restrain, regulate, and punish vagrants, street beggars, and prostitutes.

Sec. 90. To do all acts and make all regulations which may be necessary and proper for the promotion of health or the suppression of disease. To compel the owner or occupant of any unwholesome house or place to cleanse, remove, or abate the same, as may be necessary for the health, comfort, and convenience of the inhabitants.

Sec. 91. To regulate the burying of the dead, the registration of births and deaths, direct the keeping and returning of bills of mortality, and impose penalties on physicians, undertakers, sextons, and others for any default in the premises.

Sec. 92. To prevent all boxing matches, sparring exhibitions, cock fighting and dog fighting, and punish all persons thus offending.

Sec. 93. To prevent all trespasses, breaches of the peace and good order, assaults, assaults and batteries, aggravated assaults and batteries, fighting, quarreling, using abusive and insulting language, misdemeanors and all disorderly conduct of every kind, and to punish all persons thus offending with the same penalties as may be inflicted therefor by the state law. To regulate or prevent drumming on the streets or sidewalk, railway platform or other public places.

Sec. 94. To control and regulate the use of steam whistles in the city limits.

Sec. 95. To regulate, license or prohibit butchers, prevent their slaughtering animals in the city limits and revoke their license for malconduct in trade, and regulate, license, and restrain the sale of fresh meats, fish, fruits and vegetables.

Sec. 96. To compel the owner or occupant of any grocery, soap, tallow, or chandler establishment, or blacksmith shop, tannery, stable, slaughter house, distillery, brewery, or other building, or sewer, privy, hide house, or other unwholesome or nauseous place or house, to cleanse, remove, fill up, repair or abate the same as may be necessary for the health, comfort, and convenience of the inhabitants.

Sec. 97. To require the owners of private drains, sinks, and privies to fill up, cleanse, drain, alter, relay, repair, fix, and improve the same as they may be ordered by resolution or ordinance, and impose penalties upon persons failing to do the same. If there be no person in the city upon whom such order can be served the city can have such work done, and the cost of the same shall be a lien on the property and taxed up against it and collected in such manner as the city council may determine.

Sec. 98. To prevent any person from bringing, depositing or having within the city limits the carcass of any dead animal or any other unwholesome substance or matter, or filth of any kind, and to require prompt removal of the same and impose all necessary penalties for the enforcement of such powers.

Sec. 99. To provide for sprinkling the streets, avenues, and public grounds.

Sec. 100. To license, tax, and regulate merchants, commission merchants, hotel and inn keepers, drinking houses or saloons, bar rooms, beer saloons, and all places or establishments where intoxicating or fermented liquors are sold; brokers, money brokers, real estate agents, insurance agents, insurance brokers, auctioneers, and all other trades, professions, occupations and calling of every kind, the taxing of which is not prohibited by the constitution of the state, which tax shall not be construed to be a tax on property: Provided, No occupation tax shall be levied against any laborer as such, or any clerk, accountant, bookkeeper or other person working at his trade as a journeyman.

Sec. 101. To license, tax, and regulate, or prevent or suppress paupers, peddlers, pawnbrokers, and keepers of theatrical or other exhibitions, shows, and amusements. To license, tax, and regulate or prohibit theatres, circuses, the exhibition of common showmen and of shows of any kind, and the exhibition of natural or artificial curiosities, menageries and musical exhibitions, and performances, and to regulate and license or prohibit street parades, pool tables, striking machines, lung testers, doll racks, cane racks, and exhibitions, devices, and things for which a fee is charged.

Sec. 102. To license, tax, and regulate hackmen, draymen, omnibus drivers, baggage wagon drivers and drivers of vehicles of every kind, and all others pursuing like occupations with or without vehicles, and prescribe their compensation, and make it a misdemeanor for any person to attempt to defraud them of any legal charge for services rendered, and to regulate stands for vehicles, and regulate, license, and restrain runners for railroads, vehicles of any kind, hotels and public houses of any kind, or other business of any kind.

Sec. 103. To license, tax, and regulate billiard tables, pin alleys and ball alleys, to suppress, restrain, regulate and control disorderly houses, tippling shops and groceries, gambling and gaming houses, and games of every kind, lotteries, and all fraudulent devices and practices, bawdy houses of prostitution, and to punish all keepers of said houses and exhibitors of or players at said games and other things, with the same penalties, fine, and imprisonment as may be inflicted therefor by the statutes of the state of Texas.

Sec. 104. To restrain, regulate, and prohibit the selling or giving away indirectly, to evade a tax or penalty, of intoxicating or malt liquors, or anything else, by any person within the city, except by persons duly licensed; to forbid and punish the selling, bartering or giving away of any intoxicating or malt liquors to any minor, apprentice or habitual drunkard.

Sec. 105. To regulate the inspection of beef, pork, flour, meal, fish, salt, and other provisions, whisky and other liquors, and to appoint weighers, gaugers, and inspectors, and prescribe their duties and powers, and regulate their fees.

Sec. 106. To open, close, and regulate saloons, and all places where intoxicating of fermenting liquors are sold on Sunday, and to prescribe what hours on Sunday such sales can be made, and what hours such places must be closed and sales prohibited; also all places of amusement and business.

Sec. 107. To prevent the sale, bartering or giving away of any intoxicating liquors in any house or place where any theatrical or dramatic representations are given, and prevent the same from being brought in or to such places under any pretext whatever. All rooms, buildings or apartments of any kind inside of the room where such representations are given, or being a part of it, or adjoining or connected therewith by any door or doors, dumb waiter or opening of any kind, shall be held to be within the places inhibited by this section.

Sec. 108. To regulate and prevent the location of saloons in resident portions of the city.

Sec. 109. To make all needful and proper regulations concerning bakers, butchers, hotel keepers, theaters, and other public houses; also all draymen, horse drivers, water carriers, omnibus drivers, hack drivers and drivers of baggage wagons and other vehicles; and especially to preserve order and to prevent noise and confusion in and about the several depots on the arrival or departure of trains; and to make and regulate stands for vehicles at said depots and other public places.

Sec. 110. To regulate or prohibit the driving of cattle and other stock through the streets of the city.

Sec. 111. To inspect the construction of all buildings in said city. To regulate and locate the erection of all poles in the city, and cause the same to be changed, whether telegraph, telephone, electric light or otherwise.

Sec. 112. To regulate the speed of engines and locomotives within the city.

Sec. 113. To direct and control the laying and construction of railroad tracks, turnouts and switches, and to require that they be constructed and laid so as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of streets, and to require that they be kept in repair. To regulate the use of locomotive engines; to direct and control the location of cable and all other street railroad tracks, and all steam railroad tracks, and to require railway companies of all kinds to construct, at their own expense, such bridges, turnouts, culverts, crossings and other things as the city council may deem necessary. To regulate the speed of all railroad trains within the city limits, and their stops at street crossings, and require said companies to keep the streets through which they run in repair, and to light the same whenever deemed necessary, and to prescribe the kind of lights to be used, and to levy special taxes or assessments upon them for street improvement the same as against property owners.

Sec. 114. To prevent and regulate the running of horse railway cars, or cars propelled by dummy engines or other power, the laying down tracks for the same, the transportation of passengers thereon, the form of the rail to be used, and everything else concerning street railways, and to levy special taxes or assessments against such roads for street improvement, the same as against property owners.

Sec. 115. The city shall have the power to acquire and own within or without the city limits, either by purchase, donation, bequest, or otherwise, all property it may need for any municipal purpose whatever, and all necessary right of ways thereto, and shall also have the power to sell and dispose of the same.

Sec. 116. The city council shall have the sole authority to grant, upon such terms as it may see fit, the right to any person, corporation, or company to make and construct street railways or other railroads in any street or highway in said city, receive compensation therefor, and to regulate and control the use thereof: Provided, The owners of a majority of front feet, exclusive of street intersections, on each street composing the line of road, are willing.

Sec. 117. No railroad company—street, steam, or other kind,—no telephone, telegraph, electric light company, or other kind,—no person or corporation, shall ever occupy or use the streets or highways of the city of Dallas without first obtaining the consent of the city council.

Sec. 118. The city council shall have power to levy and collect the ordinary municipal taxes upon the road bed, rights, franchises, and all other property of street railroads of every kind, whether their motive power be steam, horse, mule, electricity or otherwise; also to require them to pay their pro rata share of paving and improving the space between the rails of such road on any street improved occupied by them, including street intersections; and shall have power to levy and collect special assessments against such roads and their owners for such purpose, and such assessments shall be a lien on such roads and all their rights and franchises, and shall be collected as such taxes are collected from other property owners on the streets so improved.

Sec. 119. The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for funding the whole or any part of the existing debts of the city or any future debt, by canceling the evidences thereof, and assuring to the holders or the creditors notes or bonds, with or without coupons, bearing interest not to exceed six per cent per annum.

Sec. 120. The council shall have power to appropriate so much of the general revenues of the city for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city, and for the purpose of improving the streets, constructing sewers, erecting and maintaining public buildings of every kind, water works, etc., as the council may from time to time deem expedient; and in furtherance of any or all of these objects, the city shall have the right and power to borrow money upon the credit of the city, and issue coupon bonds of the city therefor in such sum or sums as may be deemed expedient, to bear interest not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at such place as may be designated by the city ordinance: Provided, That the aggregate amount of said bonds shall at no time exceed one million five hundred thousand dollars.

Sec. 121. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they are issued, and shall not be invalid if sold for less than their par value, and when any bonds are issued by the city a fund shall be provided to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to redeem said bonds, which fund shall not be diverted or drawn upon for any other purpose, and the city treasurer shall honor no drafts on said funds except to pay the interest upon or redeem the bonds for which it was provided.

Sec. 122. Said bonds shall be signed by the mayor, countersigned by the city secretary, and shall be payable at such places and such times as may be fixed by ordinance of the city council, not less than ten nor more than fifty years.

Sec. 123. It shall be the duty of the mayor when such bonds are issued to forward the same to the comptroller of the state, whose duty it shall be to register them in a book kept for that purpose, and to endorse on each bond registered his certificate of registration, and at the mayor's request certify the amount of bonds so registered in his office up to date.

Sec. 124. It shall be the duty of the mayor at the time of forwarding said bonds for registration to furnish the comptroller with a statement of all taxable property, real and personal, in the city; also with a statement of the amount of tax levied for the payment of interest and to create a sinking fund. It is hereby made the duty of the comptroller to see that a tax is levied and collected by the city sufficient to pay the interest semi-annually on all bonds issued and to create a sinking fund sufficient to pay said bonds at maturity, and see that said sinking fund is annually invested in good interest-bearing securities or applied to the redemption of the bonds for which it is set aside.

REVENUE.

Sec. 125. The city council shall have power and is hereby authorized to annually levy and collect taxes not exceeding one and one-half per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property in the city not exempt from taxation by the constitution and laws of the state: Provided, That the city council shall have the power to levy and collect an additional one per cent on the assessed value of all taxable property, real and personal, in said city not exempt as aforesaid, if two-thirds of those authorized to vote on the assumption of debt by section 3, article 6, of the state constitution, shall first have voted in favor of such levy at an election duly ordered for such purpose, the whole number of votes to be determined by the number voting at this election. The city council shall have the right to annually levy and collect a poll tax not exceeding one dollar for every year upon all male inhabitants over the age of twenty-one and under sixty, residents of the city at the time of the assessment.

Sec. 126. That in accordance with section ten, article eleven, of the state constitution, the council may levy a special tax for one or more years for the purchase of ground, erection of buildings, and the support and maintenance of a seminary, academy, or high school in connection with the public schools of the city. May also levy a special tax in accordance with state law for the purpose of erecting additional public school houses or repairing those already built or for the purchase of grounds therefor. The funds so raised shall be appropriated exclusively for the purpose named and shall not be diverted therefrom. The aggregate tax levied for either or all of said purposes in any one year shall never exceed one-fourth of one per cent ad valorem on the taxable value of all property in the city. No such tax shall be levied until the question shall have been submitted to a vote of the tax payers at a special or general election of those entitled to vote thereon by the constitution of the state. Such election shall be ordered by resolution of council as in other elections.

Sec. 127. The city council shall have power to levy and annually collect taxes known as license or occupation taxes upon professions, callings, and other business carried on, and upon carriages, hacks, coaches, buggies, drays, carts, wagons, and all other vehicles used in the city for public use. That each and every person or firm engaged in the following professions, callings, and business, among others, shall be liable to pay such tax, but this enumeration shall not be considered to deprive the city council of the right and power to levy and collect other license or occupation taxes from other persons under the general authority herein granted: Every person or firm engaged in selling goods, wares, and merchandise, liquors in quantities less than a quart, or in keeping any grog shop, tippling house, bar room, drinking saloon, or any place where spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, wine, or beer are sold in quantities less than a quart; every person or firm keeping a billiard table, ball alley, nine or ten pin alley, or any similar game, or keeping a tavern, hotel, or boarding house, restaurant, lunch stand, or place of any kind where refreshments are sold; every person or firm keeping a livery stable, sale stable, feed stable, or wagon yard; every person or firm selling goods, wares, or merchandise at public auction, or pursuing the occupation of real estate agent, merchandise or cotton broker, commission merchant, or broker of any kind, or hawker or peddler of any goods whatever; every person or firm keeping a storage or warehouse, or intelligence office, or brewery, or beer shop, distillery, or fruit stand, or engaged in compressing cotton; every insurance agent, every insurance company, shall pay said tax, and every agent representing any such company which has failed to pay said tax shall be subject to a fine; every telegraph, telephone, electric light, gas, or other such company; every person or firm keeping a lumber, wood, or coal yard, or any place for the sale of such articles or building material of any kind, and all other persons or firms engaged in any profession, occupation, calling, and business whatsoever, the taxing of which is not prohibited by the constitution of the state; any person or firm pursuing occupation, business avocations, or callings subject to license tax, shall pay on each, and no license tax shall extend to more than one establishment or include more than one avocation, occupation, business, or calling.

Sec. 128. To authorize the proper officer of the city to grant and issue license, and to direct the manner of issuing and registering the same, and fix the fees and charges thereof. No license shall issue for a longer period than one year, and shall not be assignable except by permission of the city council.

Sec. 129. No property of any kind, church, school, public or otherwise, in the city of Dallas, shall be exempt from any of the special taxes and assessments authorized by this charter for local improvements.

Sec. 130. The fiscal year of the city of Dallas shall begin and end at 12 o'clock noon on the third Monday in April of each year. The council at the second regular meeting in June of each year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, shall examine the assessment rolls and levy the annual tax for such year, but special taxes allowed by this charter may be levied, assessed, and collected at such time as the council in each case may provide.

Sec. 131. All persons or corporations owning or holding personal property or real estate in the city of Dallas on the first day of January of each year shall be liable for all municipal taxes levied thereon for the fiscal year beginning the next following April.

Sec. 132. The personal property of all persons owing any taxes to the city of Dallas is hereby made liable for all of said taxes, whether the same be due upon personal or real property or upon both.

Sec. 133. The city council shall have full power to provide by ordinance for the prompt collection of taxes assessed, levied, and imposed under this charter, and are hereby authorized and to that end may and shall have full power and authority to sell or cause to be sold all kinds of property, real and personal, and may and shall make all such rules and regulations and ordain and pass all ordinances deemed necessary to the levying, laying, imposing, assessing, and collecting of any taxes provided for in this charter.

Sec. 134. The city council shall have power to assess the property and shares of corporations, companies, banks, and such other institutions as the same are now or may be assessed by the state law in such cases made and provided, and shall have full power to enforce the collection of such taxes in such manner as by said council may be deemed necessary.

Sec. 135. The city council shall have power by ordinance to regulate the manner and mode of making out tax lists, inventories, and appraisements of property therein, and to prescribe the oath that shall be administered to each person on rendition of his property, and prescribe how, when, and where property shall be rendered, and to prescribe the number and form of assessment rolls and fix the duties and define the power of the city assessor, and adopt such measures as the council may deem advisable to secure the assessment of all property within the city limits, and collect the tax thereupon, and may provide a fine and imprisonment or either for all persons neglecting, failing, or refusing to render their property for taxation.

Sec. 136. Every person, partnership, corporation, and company owning or controlling property within the limits of the city on or before the first day of April, after published notice, shall render to the city assessor a full and complete inventory of the taxable property possessed or controlled by him, her, or them within said limits on the first day of January last, verified as required by ordinance, and any person failing or refusing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to such fine as may be imposed by ordinance, and the city council shall by ordinance define the duties of tax payers, and make all necessary rules and regulations to secure the rendition of property and the collection of taxes due thereon.

Sec. 137. The city assessor shall, at least ten days before the first day of January of each year, give public notice by hand bills circulated through the city and by advertisement in some paper that all persons owning or controlling, as agent or otherwise, any personal property or real estate subject to municipal taxation, are required to render the same on or before the first day of April of each year. All merchants doing business in the city are required within the same time to furnish the assessor a true statement, verified by affidavit, of all goods, wares, and merchandise owned or kept on hand by such merchant on the first day of January. Any merchant failing to comply with this requirement shall be liable to such fine as may be imposed by ordinance.

Sec. 138. If the assessor shall discover any real or personal property which was subject to taxation for any previous year, and which from any cause has escaped taxation for that year, he shall assess the same in a supplement to his next assessment roll at the same rate under which such property should have been assessed for such year, stating the year, and the taxes thereon shall be collected in the same manner as other assessments.

Sec. 139. The assessor shall assess all property which for any cause has not been rendered, placing such valuation thereon as he may deem just. If the owners of such property are unknown such assessment shall be in the name of "unknown."

Sec. 140. Where the assessor and the party rendering cannot agree as to the value of property it shall be left to a board of appeals to decide the value, and such decisions shall be final; said board to be composed of three disinterested freeholders, appointed by the mayor in January or as vacancies occur, and who shall hold their office for two years, unless sooner removed for cause by the mayor. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Said board shall meet to hear appeals from parties aggrieved, on the first Monday in April, and shall hold sessions until all appeals have been heard. The assessor shall give at least five days notice of such meeting by newspaper publication. The board shall have the right to diminish or increase the valuation of any property so as to correspond with the valuation of other similar property, and shall order any error in assessment to be changed and corrected. The members of the board shall be sworn to discharge their duties faithfully and impartially. They shall receive for their services such compensation as the city council may direct. Any one aggrieved by error in assessment may complain to the board in writing. No increase of valuation in property shall be made without notifying the owners thereof in such manner as the council may provide.

Sec. 141. A lien is hereby created on all property, personal and real, in favor of the city of Dallas, for all taxes, ad valorem, occupation, or otherwise. Said lien shall exist from January in each year until the taxes are paid. Said lien shall be prior to all other claims, and no gifts, sale, assignment, or transfer of any kind or judicial writ of any kind can ever defeat such lien, but the city collector can pursue such property and wherever found may seize and sell enough thereof to satisfy such taxes.

Sec. 142. If any one against whom a personal tax is assessed, and which is due and unpaid, whether the same be delinquent or not, shall have removed out of the city, or shall be about to remove out of the city, or shall have removed or about to remove his personal property out of the city, it shall be the duty of the collector to proceed at once and collect such taxes by seizure and sale of any personal property of such person to be found in the city of Dallas or anywhere in the state of Texas.

Sec. 143. All taxes shall be payable at the city collector's office, and the city council shall have full power to sell or cause to be sold all personal or real property for taxes due and shall make all rules and regulations necessary for such purpose.

Sec. 144. No demand for taxes shall be necessary, but it is hereby made the duty of every person or corporation subject to taxation to attend at the office of collector some time between the second Monday in June and October the first in each year and pay his or her taxes. If any one fails to pay them before the first day of October the same shall be delinquent and bear interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum thereafter: Provided, That the city council may give an extension of time on said taxes if the same be deemed advisable.

Sec. 145. The collector shall by virtue of his tax rolls have power and authority to seize and levy upon personal property and real estate, and sell the same to satisfy delinquent taxes. When he seizes personal property for such purposes he shall keep the same at the expense of the owner until sale is made, and shall give notice of the time and place of sale of same by posting a written notice at the city hall door and one at the court house in the city of Dallas at least ten days before day of sale. He shall sell the same to the highest bidder for cash for all taxes, interest, cost, and expenses in caring for said property, and shall make an entry in the book of sales of the amount realized.

Sec. 146. Before sales of real estate are made, notice of the time and place of sale, together with as near as may be a description of the property, shall be given by posting two notices, one at the court house and the other at the city hall in the city of Dallas, also by publication in some newspaper of the city for at least three weeks, which shall contain a statement of the amount due on each particular piece of ground.

Sec. 147. And finally the city council shall have full power to do or cause to be done everything whatsoever necessary to enforce a prompt assessment and collection of all taxes and assessments provided for in this charter, and to make all regulations necessary for the sale of property for said taxes and assessments.

Sec. 148. The collector shall, when any real estate has been sold for taxes, make and execute a deed to the purchaser for the property sold, which deed shall be prima facie evidence of the following facts:

First. That the lot or lots conveyed was or were subject to taxation and assessment at the time of such sale, and was taxed and assessed according to law.

Second. That the taxes were not paid at any time before sale and a lien therefor existed.

And such deed shall be conclusive evidence of the following facts:

First. That the real estate therein conveyed was advertised according to law.

Second. That the property was sold for taxes as stated in the deed.

Sec. 149. A sale of personal property for delinquent taxes shall convey with it an absolute title, and the owner shall have no right to redeem the same.

Sec. 150. The city shall have the right to become a purchaser of property at tax sales, and the mayor shall attend such sale for such purpose.

Sec. 151. Whenever any real property is bid off to the city or to any individual for delinquent taxes, the owner or attorney or his agent may redeem the same at any time within two years from day of sale by paying the following amounts: All taxes paid or due, ten per cent per annum interest thereon from the time they became delinquent, and two and one-half dollars ($2.50) as cost on each piece of property sold, and as a further penalty a sum equal to twenty-five per cent of the amount of the delinquent tax, if redeemed in three months; fifty per cent penalty if redeemed in six months; seventy-five per cent if redeemed in one year; and one hundred per cent if redeemed thereafter within two years, the said penalties to go to the purchasers at tax sales, whether the purchaser be the city or an individual.

Sec. 152. If any real property sold for taxes under the provisions of this act shall not be redeemed within two years from the day of sale, the holder of the tax deed shall have the right to bring a suit in the district court of the county of Dallas to have the absolute title to such real estate without any equity of redemption vested in him.

Sec. 153. The provisions herein for collecting taxes shall not be construed to prevent the city from filing a suit in any court of competent jurisdiction for the collection of any taxes due on real estate, as well as personal property, and for the enforcement of levies for such taxes.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Sec. 154. The city council shall have full power and authority to grade, fill, raise, repair, macadamize, remacadamize, pave, repave, or otherwise improve any avenue, street, or alley, or any portion thereof in the city, to such extent and out of such material and under such regulations as said council may provide, whenever a majority of the aldermen present vote in favor of such improvement. All grading of streets and sidewalks shall be at the cost of the city. All repairing of streets shall be at the cost of the city unless herein otherwise provided. The word "repairing" as here used shall apply only to small or ordinary defects in streets that have [been] put to grade and paved or macadamized. All other of such improvements shall be entirely at the cost of the fronting or abutting property owners on each street so improved, who shall pay pro rata such entire costs according to the number of front or abutting feet respectively owned by them on such street: Provided, That when any person, corporation, or company owns or operates any street railroad or railroad of any kind on such street, avenue, or alley, such person, corporation, or company shall pay for paving or otherwise improving that part of the street between the rails of such road, and the owners of fronting property shall be relieved of their pro rata of such sum so paid by such roads. The city shall, out of the general fund, pay for all street intersections so improved, except that portion occupied or used by said railroads, which must be paved as above provided, by the owners or operators thereof. Property owners shall pay the entire cost of all curbing. The pro rata share of the costs of such improvements due from property owners and said railroads as above provided, together with the expense of collecting the same, shall be a special tax and lien against the lot or lots or blocks fronting or abutting upon the street improved and against the road beds, ties, rails, fixtures, rights, and franchises of such street or other railroads that may be operated thereon. The city council shall, by resolution duly passed, designate the street or streets, avenues, or alleys, or portions thereof to be improved, the nature of the improvements to be made, and material to be used. Whenever the council shall so determine upon such improvement they shall advertise for bids, giving the plans, specifications, and the extent of the improvements. The work shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder in the discretion of the council, and with such bonds as the council may require. Said council shall levy a special tax on the property fronting or abutting on the street so improved for the pro rata amounts due from property owners, and when street or other railroads are operated on said street the council shall levy a special tax upon the roadbed, ties, rails, fixtures, rights, and franchises of such road for the pro rata share due from them for improving the space between the rails of such roads. Said tax shall be levied after contract is let, shall become due and delinquent as the ordinance levying the same may specify, shall be a lien from the time of levy, and shall be used for the payment of said improvement. If said taxes be not paid as provided for by ordinance, their collection shall be enforced as the collection of other taxes, by advertisement and sale of the property, rights, and franchises levied upon: Provided, It shall not be necessary to sell at the same time as for delinquent ad valorem taxes. At such sales the collector shall execute to the purchaser a deed similar to the one executed when property is sold for ad valorem taxes. All contracts for street improvements now outstanding shall be paid for in accordance with this charter, and the city council in making the levy of assessments to pay for said improvements shall make them under the provisions of this section.

Sec. 155. In all cases of special assessment for local improvements of any kind against any property, persons, or corporations whatsoever, and said assessment have failed to be valid, in whole or in part, because for want of form, insufficiency, or for non-compliance with the charter provisions governing such assessment, the city council shall be and are hereby authorized to reassess said special taxes or assessments, and to enforce their collection in accordance with the charter provisions existing at the time the reassessment is made.

SIDEWALKS.

Sec. 156. The city council shall fix and determine the nature and extent of sidewalk improvements and decide as to the kind of material to be used. The cost of constructing all sidewalks, including curbing and guttering and the keeping of the same in repair, together with the cost of collection, but not including the grading, shall be defrayed entirely by the property owners of the lots or blocks fronting on the sidewalks to be constructed, according to the number of feet frontage owned by each. Whenever the council by resolution or otherwise orders a construction of any sidewalk and notice thereof has been served upon the property owner if in the city, or if out of the city upon his agent, it shall be the duty of such property owner or his agent to at once construct such sidewalk as ordered by the council and under the supervision of the city engineer. If such property owner or his agent shall fail to construct such sidewalk within the time required by the council, then the city may have it constructed, and the expense of the same, together with the cost of collection, shall be a charge against the owner and a special tax and lien upon the property until paid, and its collection may be enforced by sale of the property as in other cases for special taxes or assessments on real estate, or the same may be collected by suit against the property owner and the lien upon the property foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction. In addition hereto the city council shall [have] power by ordinance to punish persons who fail or refuse to build sidewalks after having been duly notified so to do. And finally said council is hereby fully empowered to do everything whatsoever necessary to enforce the provisions of this section.

SEWERS.

Sec. 157. The city council shall have power by ordinance to provide for and cause a general sewer and drainage system, to be divided into public, district, and private sewers and drains, and to be constructed, maintained, and regulated in such manner and out of such material as the council may prescribe. Public sewers shall be established as the council may direct, and there may be extension of branches of sewers already constructed or entirely new throughout as may be deemed expedient. The city council may if necessary levy a tax on all taxable property in the entire city to pay for the construction and repairs of such public sewers, which shall be called a "special sewer tax" and used solely for such purpose. No public sewer shall be run diagonally through private property when it is practicable without injury to said sewer to construct it parallel with one of the exterior lines of such property. No public sewer shall be constructed through private property when it is practicable to construct it oblong or through a street or public highway. District sewers shall be established within the limits of districts defined by ordinance and shall connect with other sewers or drains in such manner as the city council may prescribe. District sewers shall be at the cost of the property owners specially benefited. Whenever the city council shall determine by ordinance that such work shall be done, they shall advertise for bids, giving the plans and specifications and extent of the improvement. The work shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder in the discretion of the council and with such bond as the council may require. When any district sewer or drain shall have been completed, the city engineer shall report the entire cost of said work to the council, and shall furnish a list of all property in said sewer district, together with the names of the owners thereof. The city council shall thereupon proceed to assess said amount against said property, and levy a special tax therefor against the lots of ground in the district, exclusive of improvements, in proportion to the area of the whole district, exclusive of public highways. The city collector shall enter such taxes in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, and shall proceed to collect the same as other taxes by advertisement and sale of the property taxed: Provided, It shall not be necessary to sell at the same time as for delinquent ad valorem taxes. Said tax shall be a lien on such property from the time of the levy. Private sewers or drains connecting with public or district sewers may be constructed under such restrictions and regulations as may be provided by ordinance, but the city shall be at no expense on account of the same, and may by ordinance force the construction and keeping clean and in proper repairs of the same by the persons owning or using them. If the owner of such property shall not in five days after notice proceed to construct such private sewer or drain under the superintendence of the city engineer, in strict compliance with the ordinance regulating such things, then the city may have such work done and taxed up against the property, as provided for district sewers. Said cost shall be a lien upon the property from the time of its levy, and its collection shall be enforced as above provided for district sewers. In addition to the above, the city council shall have full powers by ordinance to punish all persons failing or refusing to comply with any regulation or requirement pertaining to private sewers or drains.

CONDEMNATION OF PROPERTY.

Sec. 158. The city council shall have the power to appropriate private property for public purposes. Whenever said council shall deem it necessary to take any private property in order to open, extend, change, or widen any public street, avenue, or alley, or for the construction of water mains or sewers within or without the city limits, such property may be taken for such purpose by making just compensation to the owner thereof. If the amount of such compensation cannot be agreed upon, the land desired may be condemned by a board of four disinterested appraisers, each of whom shall be a freeholder and legal voter in the city, two of whom shall be chosen by the mayor, and two by the property owners interested, from a panel of eight qualified persons duly summoned by the mayor for such purpose. The mayor shall cause the property owners to be notified of the time and place of the meeting to select said board and request them to be present. If any property owner be a non-resident of the state, service upon his agent shall be deemed sufficient. When the property to be condemned is the property of the estate of a deceased person or of a minor, and such estate has a legal representative or such minor a guardian, then said notice shall be served upon such representative or guardian. When the persons summoned shall meet, the mayor in behalf of the city shall select two of the number and the property owners two more, and the four thus chosen shall compose said board. But if the property owners fail to appear, then the mayor shall select the entire four. Said board before entering upon its duties shall be sworn by the mayor or any person authorized to administer oaths, "to determine the value of the land in question without prejudice or partiality." A majority of said board agreeing shall be competent to make an award. In case of a tie the board shall choose the fifth man, who shall possess like qualifications and take the same oath. Said board of appraisers shall appoint a day as early as practicable to go upon the ground sought to be taken, view the same, and assess the damages, which shall be the actual value of the property taken. The city engineer shall immediately deliver to said appraisers a map or plat of the ground to be taken, and shall attend them in person if desired and point out such ground. The damages aforesaid shall be taxed up against the lot or lots or parcels of ground in the immediate vicinity benefited or enhanced in value by the proposed improvements, and said board of appraisers shall at the same time they assess said damages also ascertain and pro rate the amount of benefits accruing to the lots or parcels of ground aforesaid, all of which shall appear in their report. Said report shall be signed by the concurring members of said board, shall be sealed, endorsed "award of appraisers," and addressed to the city council. Said report shall not be void for want of form or misdescription of property, but the council may cause the same to be corrected. The council shall consider said report as early as practicable, and if they approve of the same they shall order the city attorney to draw an ordinance levying the benefits assessed by the board against the various lots or parcels of land with a proper description of the same. Upon the passage of such ordinance the amounts therein named shall become special taxes against the property, shall be a lien thereon, and their collection enforced by advertisement and sale of the property as in the collection of ad valorem taxes: Provided, It shall not be necessary to sell at the same time as for delinquent ad valorem taxes. The city council may in its discretion, when the same is deemed just, tax only a part of such cost against the respective lots or parcels of ground so benefited and pay the remainder out of the city treasury, or it may not tax any of said cost against said lots or parcels of ground and pay the entire amount out of the city treasury. All ordinances ordering such improvements must state how the cost of the same must be paid for, and a copy of such ordinance shall be furnished the board of appraisers prior to their assessment of the damages. Alleys through blocks shall be opened entirely at the cost of the owners of the ground in each respective block. The report of the board of appraisers aforesaid, after the same has been adopted by the city council, shall be final and conclusive and no appeal or writ of certiorari shall lie therefrom.

Sec. 159. The city council shall have power to require the filling up, draining, and regulating of any lot or lots, grounds or yards, or other places in the city which shall be unwholesome or have stagnant water or filth of any kind therein, or from any other cause be in such condition as liable to produce disease; also to cause all premises to be inspected and cleansed; also to require the making, filling up, altering, and repairing of all sinks and privies and direct the mode and material for constructing them in the future. And said council shall have full power by ordinance to provide punishment for all persons failing or refusing to do any of such things or permitting the premises occupied by them to be in a filthy and unhealthy state. In cases of filling up and draining any ground, if the owner thereof cannot be found, or for any cause fails or refuses to do said filling or draining, the city may have it done and tax expenses thereof up against the ground as a special tax and lien thereon and collect the same as provided for the collection of any other special taxes or assessments in this act.

Sec. 160. That the city council shall have full power and authority to pass all ordinances and adopt all resolutions, rules, and police regulations that may be necessary and proper to carry into effect and fully enforce all powers vested by this act, and in addition the city council shall also have power upon all questions not provided for in this act, to pass all ordinances and adopt all resolutions, rules, and police regulations not contrary to the constitution of the state of Texas that may be necessary for the trade, commerce, health, order, and good government of said city, and to enforce all such ordinances, rules, and regulations, and punish their violations by fines and imprisonment, both or either, or by work on the streets or other public works as may be required by the judgment of the court, and for any fine imposed by the city court execution may issue to collect such fine and costs in same manner as from state courts. They shall be issued to the chief of police, who in levying on property and selling the same shall have full power as the sheriff in executions issued from state courts in like cases.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Sec. 161. That the city public schools shall be under the management and control of a board or school directors composed of one member from each ward, who shall be elected by the people as vacancies therefor occur and shall hold their office for the term of two years. They shall serve without compensation. Their duties shall be to look after the interests of the public schools of the city, to elect a superintendent, teachers, and janitors, to keep school buildings and grounds in repair, and keep property insured. They shall purchase all supplies, make or have made all repairs, fences, and walks. They shall audit all bills and accounts and approve the same, except when they shall exceed one hundred dollars, when they shall be referred to the city council for action or approval. They shall be subject to the ordinances of the city. The city council shall provide means to pay for all repairs, supplies, and furniture necessary for said schools, and for keeping school houses and grounds in repair. The city council may annually make an appropriation sufficient to supplement the state school fund so as to run the schools at least nine months each year, said appropriation to be made out of the general fund, or a tax levied for that especial purpose. All bills or accounts approved by said board of directors or city council shall be paid by the city treasurer on warrants issued by the city secretary approved by the mayor. It shall be the duty of the board to annually take the scholastic census of the city under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance and in conformity with said laws. In case of vacancies in said offices for any cause before the annual election the council is hereby authorized to fill such vacancies by appointment for the unexpired term.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Sec. 162. All city offices shall be kept in the city hall and shall be open such hours as may be prescribed by ordinance.

Sec. 163. All bonds, contracts, or other instruments requiring the assent of the city shall be signed by the mayor or acting mayor, and all legal process against the city shall be served upon the mayor or acting mayor.

Sec. 164. In addition to other modes of collection anywhere in this act provided, all tax due the city whether general or special, assessments for improvements or otherwise, may be collected by an action of debt and liens on real estate foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction. The assessment roll of such taxes shall be taken as prima facie evidence of the statements made therein, and the city shall have equal right to become the purchaser at all sales of property for taxes due it under judgment or otherwise. It shall be the duty of the mayor to attend such sales to make such purchase if they be necessary.

Sec. 165. No action against the city shall be sustained in any case in which it might be liable for damages for injuries caused from streets, highways, ways, crossings, culverts, bridges, sidewalks, sewers, awnings, or other things being out of repair from gross negligence of said city, unless the same have remained so for ten days after special notice in writing given to the mayor or city engineer.

Sec. 166. No suit for damages of any kind shall ever be sustained against said city unless such suit is instituted within three months next after the accrual of such cause of action.

Sec. 167. Before the city of Dallas shall be liable for damages of any kind, the person injured or some one in his behalf shall give the mayor or city council notice in writing of such injury within thirty days after the same has been received, stating in such notice when, where, and how the injury occurred and the extent thereof.

Sec. 168. It shall not be necessary in any action, suit, or proceeding in which the city of Dallas is a party, for any bond, undertaking, or security to be executed in behalf of said city, but all such actions, suits, appeals, or proceedings shall be conducted in the same manner as if such bond, undertaking, or security had been given, and said city shall be just as liable as if they had been duly given and executed.

Sec. 169. The property real and personal belonging to said city shall not be liable to be sold or appropriated under any writ of execution or cost bill, nor shall the funds belonging to said city in the hands of any person be liable to garnishment, nor shall the city be liable to garnishment on account of any debt it may owe or funds it may have on hand due any person, nor shall the city or any of its officers or agents be required to answer to any writ of garnishment on any account whatsoever.

Sec. 170. Whenever in the opinion of the city council any buildings, fence, shed, awning, or structure of any kind or part thereof is liable to fall down or endanger persons or property, the council may order the owner or agent of the same or occupant of the premises to take down and remove the same within such time as they may direct, and may punish by fine and imprisonment or either all persons failing so to do. Said council shall have the additional power to remove the same at the expense of the city on account of the owner of the property, and assess the expenses thereof, including condemnation proceedings, as a special tax against the land, and the same may be collected as other special taxes provided for in this charter or by suit in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 171. The city council shall have full power to condemn all dangerous buildings or obstructions of any kind, and may provide regulations therefor by ordinance.

Sec. 172. In all judicial proceedings it shall be sufficient to plead any ordinance by caption, or by the number of the sections thereof wanted and the caption, and it shall not be necessary to plead the entire ordinance or section. All printed ordinances or codes of ordinances published by authority of the city council shall be admitted in evidence and shall have the same force and effect as would the original ordinances.

Sec. 173. All writs, subpoenas, or other process issuing out of the city court shall run in the name of the city of Dallas, and may be executed and served by the chief of police or his deputies or policemen anywhere within Dallas County, Texas.

Sec. 174. In all cases where by any of the provisions of this act, or by ordinances in pursuance thereof, a person is required to obtain a license for any calling, occupation, business, or avocation, and has on complaint before the city court been adjudged guilty of violating any rule, regulation, or ordinance of the city in relation thereto, said court in addition to the punishment to be imposed therefor may suspend or revoke the license so granted.

Sec. 175. The city council shall have power to cause the ordinances of the city to be printed in code form and have the same rearranged and digested as often as to the council may seem advisable.

Sec. 176. The city council shall have power to cause telegraph, telephone, and electric light companies to change the location of their poles; also to cause all erected poles not in use to be taken down and removed. If such companies shall fail to do such things after being notified, the city can have the same done at the expense of such companies. The city council shall also have the power to require telegraph, telephone companies, and electric companies to run their wires under ground if in the wisdom of the council public interest should so demand.

Sec. 177. The style of all ordinances shall be, "Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Dallas;" but the same may be omitted from ordinances published in book or pamphlet form.

Sec. 178. All ordinances of a general nature shall be published at least once in some newspaper in the city of Dallas.

Sec. 179. All ordinances shall take effect from their passage unless otherwise therein expressed.

Sec. 180. All ordinances of the city when printed and published by authority of the city council shall be admitted and received in evidence in all courts and places without any further proof whatever; and all ordinances thus printed in book or pamphlet form shall be presumed to have been printed by authority of the council, and shall be prima facie evidence of that fact. Certified copies of ordinances shall also be received in evidence.

Sec. 181. All ordinances, resolutions, rules, and regulations now in force in the city of Dallas, and not in conflict herewith shall remain in force under this act until altered, amended, or repealed by the city council, after this act takes effect.

Sec. 182. That every ordinance passed by the city council shall be enrolled by the secretary within the next succeeding five days, Sundays excepted, or as soon thereafter as practicable. It shall then be carefully compared with the original bill and all amendments, if any, by at least one member of the committee that may be charged with that duty by the city council. If errors exist, they shall be corrected. If no errors exist, or if found then after their correction, the member making the comparison shall endorse on the margin the words "correctly enrolled" and give the date thereof and subscribe his name thereto. Whereupon the same shall be delivered immediately to the mayor for his consideration. If the mayor approve the same, it shall become a law. If he fail to approve or object to the same within ten days, exclusive of the day of presentation and Sunday should that intervene, the same shall become a law without his signature. But if within said time he shall veto the same, he shall present his written objections to the council by filing the same with the city secretary, and unless the council pass the ordinance over the mayor's veto by the majority hereinbefore provided the same shall not become a law.

Sec. 183. The city council shall have the right to remit, in whole or in part, any fine or penalty belonging to the city which may be imposed under any ordinance or resolution passed in pursuance of this act.

Sec. 184. No lien of any kind can ever exist against the public school buildings, public halls, or public works of the city of Dallas. All sub-contractors, material men, mechanics, and laborers upon any public works of the city of Dallas are hereby required to notify the city of all claims they may have on account of such work against said city, and when such notice has been given the city shall retain an amount from any funds due the contractors sufficient to satisfy all such claims: Provided, That such notice may be given at any time after such indebtedness becomes due and before final settlement: And provided further, That no contractor or sub-contractor shall issue any time checks on any public works of said city.

Sec. 185. All works of improvement and public works of the said city the cost of which shall exceed five hundred dollars, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder in the discretion of the city council under such regulations as the council may prescribe.

Sec. 186. The council shall require good and sufficient bonds of all contractors, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, who shall be residents of the state of Texas. No non-resident of the state shall ever be received as surety on any bond payable to the city of Dallas, except such guarantee companies as may be satisfactory to the city council. When bondsmen are not residents of Dallas County such proof of their solvency may be required as the council may deem necessary.

Sec. 187. All appropriations made or set apart for the payment of any interest or sinking fund or both, shall under no circumstances ever be diverted to any other purpose.

Sec. 188. The provisions of this act in so far as they may conflict with any state law shall be held to supersede the state law to that extent, and shall not be held invalid on account of such conflict.

Sec. 189. All questions arising in administering said city government and not provided for in this act shall be governed by the state law in such cases made and provided.

Sec. 190. All property, real and personal, belonging to the city of Dallas is hereby vested in the corporation created by this act, and the officers of said corporation now in office shall continue the same until superseded in conformity to the provisions hereof, but shall be governed by this act from and after it takes effect.

Sec. 191. This act shall not invalidate any legal action heretofore done by the city council of the city of Dallas or any of its officers or impair any liability which may have been created by said corporation prior to the passage of this act.

Sec. 192. No office provided for in this act and not now already existing shall be held to be created until the same is established by ordinance of the city council.

Sec. 193. That this act shall be deemed a public act and judicial notice shall be taken thereof in all courts and places without the same having been read in evidence.

Sec. 194. The city council shall have the power to prohibit the working of state convicts within the corporate limits of the city.

Sec. 195. To locate and regulate variety theatres.

Sec. 196. That an act entitled An Act to incorporate the city of Dallas and to grant a new charter to said city approved August 9, 1876, and all other acts relative to the incorporation of the city of Dallas in conflict with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, but all property actions, rights of actions, claims, and demands of every nature and kind whatever, vested in said city under and by virtue of said laws hereby repealed, shall vest in and remain and inure to the said corporation under this act as fully and completely in all respects as if the said laws had not been repealed.

Sec. 197. Whereas the municipal election of the city of Dallas will be held early in the month of April next, and whereas it is desirable that said election should be held under this charter, therefore an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists requiring the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and said rule is so suspended, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 86 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, March 13, 1889.

CHAP. 2.—[S. B. No. 355.] An Act to amend Sections 25 and 31 of an act entitled An Act to grant a new charter to the city of Dallas, passed by the Twenty-first Legislature and approved March 13, 1889.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 25 and 31 of an act entitled An Act to grant a new charter to the city of Dallas, passed by the Twenty-first Legislature and approved March 13, 1889, be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 25. The judicial power of the city of Dallas shall be and the same is hereby vested in a court to be known as the Dallas City Court, to be presided over by a judge to be known as the city judge, which court is hereby created and established with a criminal jurisdiction as follows: First—To try, hear, determine, and punish all misdemeanors over which the recorder's court of Dallas now has jurisdiction. Second—To try, hear, determine, and punish all misdemeanors arising under the provisions of this charter. To have concurrent jurisdiction with state courts over all misdemeanors against the state laws committed within the city limits, except theft, swindling, aggravated assaults, aggravated assaults and battery, keepers or exhibitors of such games as are prohibited by law, and those involving official misconduct, and to have exclusive jurisdiction over disorderly houses and female vagrants.

Section 31. No appeals shall lie from this court unless the fine imposed is twenty dollars or more, and then only to the court of appeals. Said appeals shall be governed by the rules of practice and procedure for appeals from the county court to said court of appeals so far as the same may be practicable.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the session, and the fact that it is desirable that this act go into effect as soon as possible, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended, and this act take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays and passed the house by a vote of 76 yeas, no nays.]

|--|---|

CHAP. 3.—[S. B. No. 392.] An Act to provide for the repeal of the charter of East Dallas and the annexation of the territory thereof to the city of Dallas.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all of the territory embraced within the present limits of the city of East Dallas be and the same is hereby attached to and made a part of the city of Dallas, in Dallas County; from and after the time that this act shall take effect all of the said territory shall become subject to the charter of the said city of Dallas and subject to all ordinances and other lawful regulations that may be passed or made by the lawfully constituted authorities of the city of Dallas the same as the territory of said city of Dallas was subject thereto, and all officers and courts of the city of Dallas shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction and power over the persons and property of every kind within the said limits now known as East Dallas as it has and exercises over persons and property in the city of Dallas.

Sec. 2. That all public school buildings and all public property, real, personal, and mixed, and all public streets and alleys in the said city of East Dallas, shall be vested in the said city of Dallas, the same as like property is now vested in the city of Dallas, and shall from the time that this act takes effect be subject to the control, management, and disposition of the said city of Dallas, and the free schools within the limits of East Dallas shall be subject to the control of the city of Dallas the same as those within the limits of the city of Dallas, entitled to the same rights and privileges, and subject to the same duties as the people and population of the city of Dallas.

Sec. 3. Before the tenth day of December, 1889, the city council of the city of East Dallas shall lay out the territory within its present limits into three wards as nearly equal in population and territory as is practicable, which wards so laid out shall upon the taking effect of this act become wards of the city of Dallas, and shall not be changed by the city council of the city of Dallas prior to the first day of January, 1892. There shall be an election held in the city of East Dallas on the second Tuesday in December, 1889, at which there shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof two aldermen for each of the wards so laid out, said election to be conducted in all respects as elections under the charter of the city of East Dallas. The aldermen so elected shall upon the taking effect of this act become members of the city council of the city of Dallas and shall qualify as required by the charter thereof. The said aldermen so elected shall be divided by lot into two classes: those of the first class shall hold their offices until the general election for aldermen in the city of Dallas for the year 1891, and those of the second class shall hold their offices until the general election in said city for the year 1892. After the first election the election for aldermen for said wards shall be held under the charter of the city of Dallas.

Sec. 4. The city of Dallas shall assume and pay all of the lawful debts which may exist against the city of East Dallas at the time this act shall go into effect, and said city of Dallas shall be entitled to receive from the officials of the city of East Dallas all moneys on hand, all books and assessment rolls, and all property of every kind, and all official and other bonds payable to the city of East Dallas or any of its officials shall inure to the benefit of the city of Dallas. All taxes levied and assessed by the city of East Dallas and not collected when this act shall take effect shall be collected and for the benefit of the city of Dallas as other taxes are collected.

Sec. 5. The city of Dallas is hereby authorized and empowered to levy a tax upon the property and other subjects of taxation within the limits of the present city of East Dallas sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund of all bonds, and to pay all other debts that may exist against said city of East Dallas, and to fully provide for the payment of such debts, but no tax levied for this purpose shall be levied upon property in the limits of the city of Dallas, nor shall the like tax for paying the interest and sinking fund on bonds, or the payment of any debts against the city of Dallas accruing prior to January 1, 1890, be levied upon property or subjects of taxation in the limits of the present city of East Dallas, and the city council of the city of Dallas is authorized to make all necessary rules and regulations to secure the separate collection and application of said taxes for the said purposes, but the city council of Dallas shall have full and complete power to levy taxes for every purpose as under its charter without distinction as to territory.

Sec. 6. That all franchises granted to any firm, person, or corporation prior to the first day of January, 1890, shall be and remain as valid and as binding as if this act had not been passed, and all such persons, firms, or corporations in the exercise and enjoyment of such franchises shall be subject to the control of the city council of the city of Dallas, and all courts and officials the same as if within the limits of the said city of Dallas as now existing.

Sec. 7. That all ordinances adopted by the city of Dallas prior to the first day of January, 1890, and not in conflict with the provisions of this act, shall be as binding in the territory of the city of East Dallas as in the city of Dallas.

Sec. 8. That this act shall take effect from and after the first day of January, 1890, and upon that date the charter of the city of East Dallas shall be repealed and the term of office of each officer in said city of East Dallas, except the aldermen herein provided for, shall cease and terminate from that date.

Sec. 9. The near approach of the close of the session of the legislature creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency authorizing the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is hereby suspended.

Approved, April 3, 1889.

CHAP. 4.—[H. B. No. 436.] An Act to grant a new charter to the city of El Paso.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all the inhabitants of the city of El Paso shall continue to be a body corporate and politic with perpetual succession by the name and style of the "City of El Paso," and under that name shall be known in law and shall have power to make and use a corporate seal and to alter the same at pleasure; to make such contracts as may be necessary for the more perfect execution or enjoyment of powers, duties, rights, franchises, and immunities hereby granted or imposed; to take, purchase, hold, lease, grant, and convey such property, real, personal, or mixed, as the purposes of said corporation may require, whether the said property be within or without the limits thereof; and to sue and be sued.

Sec. 2. That all that portion and no more of the county of El Paso embraced within the bounds hereinafter in this section set forth and described shall be within the limits of said city, and subject to its jurisdiction; that is to say, beginning at the southwest corner of the present Fort Bliss military reservation as established by the military survey; thence due north along the west boundary line of said reservation and beyond the same to the intersection of an extension due west of the north boundary line of the "N. W. Burdett Survey No. 1," commonly known as the "Bassett Addition;" thence due east to the northeast corner of the said "N. W. Burdett Survey No. 1;" thence due south to the international boundary line between Texas and Mexico; thence along said boundary line to its intersection with a line running due south from the southwest corner of the aforesaid military reservation; thence due north to the place of beginning: Provided, That whenever a majority of the male freeholders over twenty-one years old, who are citizens of the state of Texas and inhabitants of any territory adjoining said city, shall desire to have such territory annexed to the said city, they may present a written petition to that effect to the city council, and shall attach to said petition the affidavit of one or more of their number to the effect that said petition is signed by a majority of such freeholders; and thereupon the city council, at any regular session held not sooner than twenty days after the presentation of said petition, may by ordinance annex said territory to the city, and thenceforth the said territory shall be a part of the city and the inhabitants thereof shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of other citizens, and shall be bound by the acts, ordinances, resolutions, and regulations of the city: And provided further, That the city council may make, pass, or ordain such rules, regulations, ordinances, or resolutions as may be necessary to secure the more perfect use and enjoyment of and the maintenance of good order on real estate owned or occupied for municipal purposes by the city out of the limits thereof and within the county of El Paso, and all violations of such rules, regulations, or ordinances shall be punishable in the recorder's court.

OFFICERS AND THEIR ELECTION.

Sec. 3. The municipal government of the city shall consist of a city council, which shall be composed of a mayor and a board of aldermen. A majority of the board of aldermen shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business except at called meetings or meetings for the imposition of taxes, when two-thirds of the full board shall be required unless otherwise herein specified.

Sec. 4. The city council shall divide the city into such wards as it may deem advisable and may increase or diminish the number of wards and change their boundaries at pleasure: Provided, That the number of wards shall never exceed nine and until the population of the city shall be twenty-five thousand or more the number of wards shall not exceed six: And provided further, That no change shall be made in the number or boundaries of the wards within four months preceding any regular municipal election.

Sec. 5. Every person who is entitled to vote for members of the legislature of this state, and who shall have resided within the corporate limits of the city for six months and in the ward in which he offers to vote for twenty days next preceding any city election held for the purpose of electing officers, shall have the right to vote thereat.

Sec. 6. There shall be an election of city officers in said city held in the manner hereinafter specified on the second Tuesday in April of each and every year: Provided, That if this act shall not go into effect in time to allow of notice being given under its provisions for an election on the second Tuesday in April, 1889, then and in that event the first general election under this act shall be held on the fifth Tuesday after this act shall take effect and be in force, and all officers elected at said first election or by the city council as provided in section 13 of this act shall hold office until the qualification of their successors in accordance with this act.

Sec. 7. The qualified electors of said city shall elect the following named officers thereof: The mayor, two aldermen from each ward, a recorder, a treasurer, a city attorney, a city assessor and collector, and a city engineer, each of whom shall hold his office for two years and until the election and qualification of his successor: Provided, That of the officers elected at the first election held in accordance with this act, one alderman, to be determined by lot from each ward, the recorder, the treasurer, the city attorney, the city assessor and collector, and the city engineer shall hold their offices until the next general municipal election only and until the election and qualification of their successors.

Sec. 8. No person shall be eligible to the office of mayor unless he possesses the qualifications of an elector at municipal elections, is a citizen of the United States, and shall have resided two years next preceding the election within the limits of the city; and no person shall be eligible to the office of alderman unless, in addition to the above qualifications, he be a resident at the time of his election of the ward from which he may be elected; and if any alderman shall remove from the ward in which he was elected, the city council shall declare his office vacant and a new election shall be ordered to fill the same. No person shall be eligible to any office specifically created by this act unless he possesses the qualifications of an elector at municipal elections: Provided, That if an officer holding an office specifically created herein shall remove from the city, the city council shall declare his office vacant and the same shall be filled in the manner specified in section 15 hereinafter.

Sec. 9. The mayor shall, by proclamation published in some newspaper published in the city, give thirty days notice of all elections, except when the election is held to fill a vacancy, and in that event ten days notice shall be so given. Such proclamation shall state the places at which said election is to be held, the purpose of the election, and the offices, if any, that are to be filled. The city council shall provide the places at which the election is to be held, one in and for each ward: Provided, That when the population of the city shall be twenty-five thousand or more the city council may provide that polls be opened and votes cast in any number of places in each ward, not exceeding three, that may be deemed necessary, and in that event the city council shall have power to require each voter to cast his vote at the voting place in the subdivision of the ward in which he resides. The mayor shall appoint and the board of aldermen confirm the presiding officers of election, each of whom shall be a qualified voter at municipal elections of the ward for which he is appointed and at the election over which he is to preside. In the event that the mayor shall fail to give notice as herein required of any municipal election, the board of aldermen shall at any time within thirty days of the election give such notice; and if both the mayor and the board of aldermen fail to give the notice of election herein provided for, then and in that event any two or more aldermen may give such notice at any time within twenty days of the election. If for any reason the city council shall have failed at the time of the issuance of the notice of election to provide the places at which the election is to be held, the person or persons by whom the notice is given shall provide such places. Except where otherwise herein provided, elections shall be held, votes counted, and returns made in the same manner as is now or may hereafter be provided for the elections at which members of the legislature are elected.

Sec. 10. The presiding officers and the judges of elections shall have all the powers now or hereafter possessed by the judges of the elections at which members of the legislature are chosen, and in addition thereto they shall have and exercise such additional powers to prevent illegal voting and to maintain the public peace in the neighborhood of the polls as may be conferred on them by the council.

Sec. 11. Returns of elections shall be made to the mayor within twenty-four hours after the completion of the counting of the votes. As soon as all the ballots cast at each voting place shall be counted, they, together with one poll list and one tally list, shall be placed in a wooden or metallic box securely fastened and sealed and within forty-eight hours thereafter shall be delivered by one of the managers of the election to the city clerk, who shall safely keep the same for six months after the election, at which time, unless required in case of a contested election, they shall be by him destroyed. The presiding officer of election shall retain in his custody one of the poll lists and one of the tally lists of the election and shall keep the same in his possession for six months subject to the inspection of any person interested in the election.

Sec. 12. On the first Saturday following every election, or as soon thereafter as possible, the city council shall meet and open and canvass the returns and ascertain and declare the result of the election. The proceedings of the city council in opening and canvassing the returns shall be entered at large upon the minutes as in other cases, and if the election was held for the election of any officer or officers, the said entry shall show the number of votes received by each candidate at each voting place, the office for which he was a candidate, and the name of the person elected to each and every office. The candidates receiving the highest number of votes respectively shall be declared elected. In case of a tie between two or more candidates for the same office, not all of whom can be elected, the city council shall declare such election void as between such candidates only, and shall immediately order a new election for that office, first giving not less than ten days notice thereof. Every officer elect of whom no official bond is required, and every officer elect of whom an official bond is required, shall qualify within five and ten days respectively after the aforesaid declaration of the result of the election: Provided, That the mayor elect shall in all cases qualify within six days of the aforesaid declaration. If any officer shall fail to qualify within the time herein specified, the city council shall forthwith declare the office vacant, and the same shall be filled as herein provided in section fifteen of this act.

Sec. 13. On the third Tuesday after the general popular municipal election in each and every year ending in an odd number, or as soon thereafter as is practicable, the city council shall elect by ballot the following named officers who shall hold their offices for two years and until the qualification of their successors: a city clerk and such other officers and agents other than policemen as the corporate necessities may require: Provided, That when the population of the city shall reach twenty-five thousand the office of assessor and collector of taxes may be divided, and there shall be elected, as hereinbefore provided in section 7, an assessor of taxes and a collector of taxes, whose duties, powers, and compensation respectively shall be fixed by the city council as provided in this act. Every person elected to office by the city council or appointed by the mayor shall within twenty days thereafter qualify and enter upon the discharge of his duties, and in default thereof the city council shall declare the office vacant and proceed to fill the same by a new election. And there shall be a chief of police appointed by the mayor, by and with the consent of the board of aldermen, whose term of office shall expire with that of the mayor appointing him. The mayor shall also by and with the consent of the board of aldermen appoint all police officers.

Sec. 14. The recorder shall be learned in the law, and he shall be paid a salary of not less than fifteen hundred dollars per annum, but in no case shall he receive any fees. The other officers and agents of the city, except the aldermen, shall receive for their services such compensation as the city council may ordain. The aldermen shall each receive such a sum, not to exceed five dollars for each session of the city council attended, as the city council may ordain: Provided, That no alderman shall receive in any one year more than the sum of three hundred dollars.

Sec. 15. When a vacancy shall occur in any office, if the vacancy occurs in an office held by an officer elected by the people, a special election shall be held to fill the same; if in an office within the elective or appointive power of the city council, the council shall proceed to fill the same; if in an office within the appointive power of the mayor, the vacancy shall be filled by him. The city council shall have power to fill any vacancy occurring in an office ordinarily filled by popular election until a special election can be held. The city council shall provide for filling vacancies in all offices not herein provided for, and in all cases of vacancy the same shall be filled for the unexpired term only: Provided, That whenever a vacancy shall occur by resignation or otherwise in the municipal offices of the city, so that such vacancy cannot be filled under the charter of the city or under the laws of the state in force at the time of such vacancy, then and in that event it shall be the duty of any judge of a court of record of El Paso County, upon the petition of not less than fifty of the principal tax payers, citizens of the city, at once to order an election to fill such vacancy, giving notice of not less than ten days in the usual manner provided for such elections. During the temporary absence or disability of any officer the city council shall elect some suitable person to discharge the duties of the absent or disabled officer until his return or the removal of his disabilities.

DUTIES AND POWERS OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 16. Every person elected by the voters of said city to fill any office or by the city council under this act shall before entering upon the duties of his office take and subscribe the official oath prescribed in the constitution of this state, and the city council may by ordinance require such additional oath as it may deem best calculated to secure faithfulness in the performance of their duties by such officers.

Sec. 17. The mayor shall be the chief executive officer of the city and shall be vigilant and active at all times in causing the laws and ordinances for the government of said city to be duly executed and put in force. He shall inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers in the government thereof, and as far as may be in his power shall cause all negligence, carelessness, and positive violations of duty to be prosecuted and punished. He shall have power whenever in his judgment the good of the city may require it to call special meetings of the city council, and he shall from time to time communicate to that body all such information and recommend all such measures as may tend to the improvement of finances, police, health, security, cleanliness, comfort, ornament and government of the city.

Sec. 18. Whenever the mayor shall deem it necessary in order to enforce the laws of the city, or to avert danger, or to protect life or property in case of riot or any outbreak or public calamity or public disturbance, or when he has reason to fear any serious violation of law or order, or any outbreak, or any other danger to the city or the inhabitants thereof, he shall summon into his services as a special police force all or as many of the citizens as in his judgment and discretion may be necessary and proper, and such summons may be by proclamation or order addressed to the citizens generally or to those of any ward of the city or subdivision thereof, or such such summons may be by personal notification; such police force while in service shall be subject to the orders of the mayor, shall perform such duties as he may require, and shall have the same power while on duty as the regular police force of the city, and any person so summoned and failing to obey, or appearing and failing to perform any duty that may be required by this act, shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Sec. 19. The mayor shall have authority in case of a riot or any unlawful assemblage and with a view to preserve peace and good order in the city to order and enforce the closing of any theater, ball room, grog shop, bar room, tippling house, or other place of resort or public room or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence the laws of the state or any ordinance of the city, and he shall perform such other duties and possess and exercise such other powers and authority as may be prescribed and conferred by the city council.

Sec. 20. All ordinances and resolutions adopted by the council shall before they take effect be placed in the office of the city clerk, and if the mayor approve thereof he shall sign the same, and such as he shall not sign he shall return to the city council with his objections thereto. Upon the return of any ordinance or resolution by the mayor the vote by which the same was passed shall be reconsidered, and if after such reconsideration two-thirds of the whole number of aldermen elected agree to pass the same and enter their votes on the journal of their proceedings it shall be in force: Provided, That if the mayor shall neglect to approve or to object to any such ordinance or resolution for a longer period than five days after the filing with the clerk as aforesaid, exclusive of the day of filing, the same shall go into effect.

Sec. 21. The recorder shall be the chief judicial officer of the city, and as such he shall hold a court within said city by the name of the recorder's court of the city of El Paso, which said court shall have jurisdiction and cognizance of all misdemeanors, breaches of the peace, infractions of the ordinances, and all other cases arising under the laws of the city, and shall be deemed always open for the trial of said cases. The said court shall have full power, authority, and jurisdiction in all cases arising under the ordinances of the city and over any breaches and violations thereof and of any and all persons thus offending, and to try and determine all suits, actions, and complaints charging a violation of any ordinance of the city, and may grant new trials on motion in writing showing sufficient cause, and all prosecutions, trials, and proceedings had in said court under this act shall be governed as nearly as may be by the laws and rules regulating trials, prosecutions, and proceedings in justices' courts in force at the time. The recorder may require of any person arrested under the provisions of this act a bond for his good behavior and to keep the peace, with two good and sufficient sureties, which bond shall be payable to the city of El Paso. He shall have full power and authority to issue subpoenas for witnesses and to compel their attendance by process of attachment. He may punish all contempts by fine and imprisonment or either, may issue subpoenas, attachments, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions and all other process known to law which a justice of the peace of this state may lawfully issue, and all of said writs and process shall be issued, served, and executed under the same forms and in the same manner as the like process would be when issued by a justice of the peace unless herein otherwise provided. He shall also have full power and authority to administer official oaths and all oaths and affirmations in trials before him. The recorder shall possess and execute in the city in criminal cases all the powers and duties of a justice of the peace, and shall have the same authority and like powers with justices of the peace in the prevention and suppression of crime, but he shall in no case entertain jurisdiction in civil suits. The city council may determine what costs, if any, shall be charged in proceedings in and for all process issued in said court: Provided, That said costs shall not be in excess of the costs allowed by the laws of the state in like cases. The recorder shall perform such other duties that may be prescribed by any ordinance of the city as may properly and lawfully be required of said officer as the judge of said court and are not inconsistent with the laws and constitution of this state: Provided, That all moneys collected from fines of whatever character imposed by the recorder shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city.

Sec. 22. Every person brought before the recorder to be tried for an offense for which the penalty may be fine or imprisonment, or both, shall be entitled if he shall demand it to be tried by a jury of six qualified voters of the city, who shall be summoned, impaneled, and sworn as jurors in justices courts under the laws of the state.

Sec. 23. In all cases of conviction in the recorder's court the defendant shall have the right of appeal to the county court upon the same conditions and in the same manner as nearly as may be as provided in case of appeals in criminal cases from the justices courts to the county court: Provided, That whenever the defendant is fined in a sum greater than one hundred dollars or is sentenced to imprisonment the county court shall have no jurisdiction to entertain the appeal and the defendant may appeal directly to the court of appeals upon the same conditions and in the same manner as nearly as may be as is provided in case of appeals in criminal cases from the county courts to the court of appeals.

Sec. 24. The chief of police shall attend upon the recorder's court while said court is in session and shall promptly and faithfully execute all writs and processes issued from said court. He shall have like power with the sheriff of the county to execute the writ of search warrant. He shall be active in quelling riots, disorder, and disturbances of the peace within the limits of the city, shall take into custody all persons so offending against the peace of the city, and shall have authority to take suitable and sufficient bail for the appearance before the recorder's court of any person charged with an offense against the ordinances or laws of the city. It shall be his duty to arrest without warrant all violators of the public peace, and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the execution of the duties of his office, or who shall be guilty of any disorderly conduct or disturbance whatever. To prevent a breach of peace or to preserve quiet and good order he shall have authority to close any theater, bar room, ball room, drinking house, or any other place or building of public resort; and in the prevention and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders he shall have, possess, and execute like power, authority and jurisdiction as the sheriff of a county under the laws of the state. He shall receive a salary to be fixed by the city council. The chief of police shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the city council may require, and he shall perform such other duties and possess such other powers, rights, and authority as the city council may by ordinance require and confer, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state.

Sec. 25. It shall be the duty of the city clerk to attend every meeting of the city council and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose, and to engross and enroll all laws, resolutions, and ordinances of the city council; to keep the corporate seal; to take charge of and preserve and keep in order all the books, papers, records, documents, and files of said council; to countersign all commissions issued to the city officers and licenses issued by the mayor, and to keep a record or register thereof; and to make out all notices required under any regulation or ordinance of the city. He shall draw all warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same and keep an accurate account thereof in a book provided for that purpose. He shall be the general accountant of the city and shall keep in books regular accounts of the receipts and disbursements for the city, and separately under proper heads each cause of receipt and disbursement; and also accounts with each person, including officers, who have money transactions with the city, crediting amounts allowed by proper authority and specifying the particular transaction to which such entries apply. He shall also keep a register of bonds and bills issued by the city, and all evidences of debt due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof, and all facts connected therewith as they occur. He shall carefully keep all contracts made by the city council, and he shall do and perform all such other duties as may be required of him by law, ordinance, resolution, or order of the city council. He shall receive for his services an annual salary, payable at stated periods, to be fixed by the city council.

Sec. 26. The treasurer of the city shall give bond in favor of the city in such amount and in such form as may be required by the city council and with sufficient security to be approved by the city council, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. He shall receive and securely keep all moneys belonging to the city and make all payments for the same upon the order of the mayor, attested by the clerk under the seal of the city: Provided, That no order shall be paid unless the said order shall show upon its face that the city council has directed the issuance and for what purpose. He shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments to the city council at their first regular meeting in every quarter, and whenever at other times he may be required by the council to do so; at the end of every half year he shall cause to be published at the expense of the city a statement showing the amount of receipts and expenditures for the six months next preceding, and the general condition of the treasury; and he shall do and perform such other acts and duties as the city council may require; and for his services he shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the city council.

Sec. 27. The assessor and collector shall make up the assessment of all property taxed by the city and make duplicate rolls thereof, and on completion of the rolls shall deliver one of them to the city clerk. He shall collect all taxes due the city, and in the event of non-payment of any taxes shall proceed to sell property to raise the amount of taxes so due; and shall in the performance of their duties observe the provisions of this act and the ordinances of the city relating thereto. He shall give bond in such amount and in such form as the city council may prescribe, with good and sufficient sureties. He shall at the expiration of every week pay to the city treasurer all moneys by him collected, and shall report to the city council at the first meeting in every month all moneys so collected and paid; and he shall perform all such other duties and in such manner and according to such rules and regulations as the city council may prescribe. The assessor and collector is authorized to require the owners of all property subject to taxation to render a correct account of the same under oath to be administered by him. The assessor and collector shall receive such fees and commissions for his services as may be allowed by the ordinances of the city.

Sec. 28. The city attorney shall attend all meetings of the council and shall draw up all the ordinances of the city. He shall, when so requested, give advice in writing to the city council, the mayor, the treasurer, chief of police, health physician, or assessor and collector. He shall prosecute or defend as the case may be all suits or cases to which the city is a party and pending in any court sitting in El Paso County or appealed from any of said courts. He shall attend the sessions of the recorders court either in person or by deputy, and prosecute all persons charged with offenses therein, and for which purpose he may appoint a deputy. He shall approve the form of all contracts to which the city is a party, and of all official bonds, and in general shall do and perform all and every service of a professional nature that he may be required to do by the city council.

Sec. 29. It shall be the duty of the city engineer to make all surveys of such streets, alleys, lanes, blocks, lots, or other grounds within or without the city as the city council shall direct; to establish permanent monuments in all such surveys in such manner as to protect them as far as possible from destruction by fire, traffic, or other cause; to make all surveys of lots, blocks, or other grounds within the city for private individuals when called upon by them to do so, of which surveys when so completed he shall give certificates to such individuals as may require them; to take the levels, establish bench-marks at convenient distances, and report to the city council the proper grades for all such streets, alleys, and all other public or private grounds as the council may direct; to have a general supervision of all grading and other public works of a permanent character done for the city and not otherwise provided for, and to see that such improvement is done according to grade, ordinance, and contract; to prepare plans and specifications for the construction of all such works, which plans and specifications shall be submitted to the council for approval; and to perform all other duties not inconsistent with the nature of his office which the city council may require. He shall keep in his office a record book wherein a plat of every survey made by him within the city limits shall be placed and indexed; also grade maps which have been approved and made official by the council, and a correct list of benchmarks with their descriptions and locations. He shall also keep in his office a book of levels containing a true copy of all the original notes of the levels of the streets, alleys, or other grounds taken by him for any purpose relating to his office. He shall also keep in his office a book in which he shall record all estimates made by him on public works. He may employ by and with the consent of the council such assistants as may be necessary for the proper prosecution and discharge of his duties. All instruments, engineers materials, statements, and other supplies that shall be required for the office of the city engineer shall be furnished him by the city as the council shall direct. It shall be the duty of the committee on streets and grades to examine at least every three months all books and records of the office and report the condition of the same to the city council.

Sec. 30. The city council shall have power from time to time to require [other] and further duties of all officers whose duties are herein prescribed, and to define and describe the powers and duties of all officers appointed or elected to any office under this act whose duties are not herein specially defined, and to fix their compensation.

Sec. 31. The city council may require bonds to be given to the city by all officers for the faithful performance of their duty. Whenever the city council shall be of the opinion that the bond of any city officer is defective or insufficient, it may require the officer to give a new bond, and if such officer fails to comply with the order of the city council for the space of ten days his office shall be declared vacant by the city council and shall be filled as herein provided in the case of vacancy otherwise created. All official bonds shall be payable to the mayor and to his successors in office and shall be approved by the city council, and the validity of no official bond shall be affected by any subsequent increase or change in the official duties of the office made by the city council by virtue of the powers in it herein vested.

GENERAL POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

Sec. 32. The mayor and the board of aldermen shall constitute the city council of the city. The city council shall meet at such times and places as it shall by resolution direct. The mayor when present shall preside at all meetings of the city council, and shall in all cases of tie have a casting vote. In case of the absence of the mayor from any meeting of the city council, the board of aldermen may elect an alderman to preside at that meeting. In case of the absence of the mayor from the city or his disability to perform the duties of the office, the board of aldermen may elect an alderman to fill the office of mayor until the mayor shall return or shall be able to resume the duties of the office. Any three members of the board of aldermen may call a special meeting of the city council. All calls for special meetings whenever issued by the mayor or by members of the board of aldermen shall be in writing and shall state the object of the meeting, and no business shall be transacted at said meeting other than that specified in the call.

Sec. 33. The city council shall hold stated meetings. Petitions and remonstrances may be presented to the council in writing only. The council shall determine the rules of its proceedings and shall be the judge of the election and qualifications of its own members, and may punish them for disorderly conduct.

Sec. 34. The city council shall have the management and control of the finances and property, real, personal, and mixed, belonging to the city: Provided, That no suit of any nature whatever shall be maintained against the city of El Paso unless the plaintiff therein shall aver and prove that previous to the filing of his petition he applied to the city council in writing for redress, satisfaction, compensation, or relief, as the case may be, and that the same was by the city council refused.

Sec. 35. The city council shall have power to appropriate money and to provide for payment of debts and expenses of the city.

Sec. 36. To provide by ordinance special funds for special purposes and to make the same disbursable only for the purpose for which the fund was created, and any officer of the city misappropriating said special fund shall be deemed guilty of malfeasance in office and shall upon trial and conviction be removed from office and be incapable thereafter to hold any office in the city.

Sec. 37. To make regulations to prevent the introduction or spread of contagious diseases within the city; to make quarantine laws for that purpose, and to enforce them within the city and within ten miles thereof; to enforce vaccination.

Sec. 38. To establish or erect, or cause to be established or erected, markets and market houses; to designate, regulate, and control market places and privileges, and to inspect and determine the mode of inspecting meats, birds, fowls, fish, vegetables, fruits, milk, and every article of food or drink intended for human use or consumption, or which may be used in the composition or preparation of such food or drink brought into, held, or offered for sale in the city, and to seize and destroy any decayed or unwholesome fruit or vegetables, any impure or unhealthy or unwholesome meats, birds, fowls, or fish, or any milk which has been watered, adulterated, reduced, or changed in any respect by the addition of water or other substance or by the removal of cream; and to regulate, license, control, or prevent the sale or the keeping for sale on the public streets, squares, and alleys of any article of food or drink, or any goods, wares, or merchandise of any kind whatever.

Sec. 39. To erect or establish one or more hospitals, and to control and regulate the same; and to prohibit or to permit and regulate the establishment of private hospitals.

Sec. 40. To make such rules and regulations in regard to butchers as it may deem necessary and proper.

Sec. 41. To regulate the inspection of beef, pork, flour, meal, salt, and other provisions; whisky and other liquors to be sold in barrels, hogsheads, and other vessels and packages; to appoint weighers, gaugers, and inspectors, to prescribe their duties and regulate their fees.

Sec. 42. To abate all nuisances which may injure or affect the public health or comfort in any manner they may deem expedient.

Sec. 43. To do all acts and make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the promotion of health or the suppression of diseases.

Sec. 44. To co-operate with the commissioners court of the county of El Paso in making such improvements connected with the city and county as may be deemed by the city council and the commissioners court necessary to improve the public health and to promote efficient sanitary regulations; and by mutual arrangement they may provide for the construction of such improvements and the payment therefor.

Sec. 45. To compel the owner or occupant of any grocery, soap, tallow, or chandler establishment, or blacksmith shop, tannery, stable, slaughter house, distillery, brewery, sewers, privy, hide houses, or other unwholesome or nauseous house or place, to cleanse, remove, or abate the same as may be necessary for the health, comfort, and convenience of the inhabitants.

Sec. 46. To direct the location of business, tanneries, blacksmith shops, livery stables, and manufacturing establishments; to direct the location of and regulate the management and construction, or to restrain, abate, and prohibit within the city limits slaughtering establishments, hide houses, or establishments for keeping or curing hides, establishments for making soap, for steaming or rendering lard, tallows, offal, and such other substances as may be rendered, and all establishments or places where any nauseous, offensive, or unwholesome business may be carried on.

Sec. 47. To regulate the burial of the dead, and to prohibit public funerals in case of death from any contagious or infectious disease; to purchase, establish, and regulate one or more cemeteries; to regulate the registration of marriages, births, and deaths; to direct the returning and keeping of bills of mortality, and to impose penalties on physicians, ministers, sextons, and others for any default in the premises.

Sec. 48. To abate and remove nuisances, to punish the authors thereof by penalties, fines, and imprisonment, and to define and declare what shall be nuisances and authorize and direct the summary abatement thereof.

Sec. 49. To require all owners of private ditches, drains, sinks, and privies to wall up, cover up, fill up, cleanse, drain, alter, relay, repair, fix, or improve the same as may be ordered by any resolution or ordinance of the city, and in the event of any failure, neglect, or refusal to comply with any such order the party so failing shall be liable to fine and imprisonment. In the event of there being no person in the city on whom such order can be served, the city may have such work done and such improvements made on account of the owner thereof, and all costs, charges, and expenses shall be a lien on the property on the filing of a memorandum by the mayor under the seal of the city and recording the same with the clerk of the district court, and the city may enforce said lien and institute suit in the corporate name and obtain judgment against said party for the amount so due as aforesaid in any court having jurisdiction.

Sec. 50. To prevent any person from bringing, depositing, or having within the limits of the city any dead animal or other offensive or unwholesome substance or matter, and to require the removal or destruction by any person who shall have on his premises, or shall have placed or caused to be placed upon or near his premises or elsewhere in the city, any substance or matter, filth, or any putrid or unsound meat, fish, hides, or skins, fruit or vegetables, and in his default to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city; to require the owner of any dead animal to remove the same to such place as may be designated.

Sec. 51. To secure the sanitary condition of tenement houses, jails, prisons, and all public buildings within the city limits.

Sec. 52. To prevent the erection on the banks of streams or ditches of factories or other establishments which will befoul or make impure their waters.

Sec. 53. To regulate and control the construction, the location, the method, or manner of emptying or cleansing, and the time or frequency of cleansing of all cesspools or privy vaults, or other description of privies, and to prohibit cesspools or privy vaults within the city or any part thereof.

Sec. 54. To inspect all buildings and establishments used for educational or asylum purposes; to see that the inmates thereof are properly treated, and to regulate all institutions of whatever nature used as asylums, colleges, or boarding schools, and to require the managers thereof to make a report of the number of inmates, and sanitary condition of the same every month.

Sec. 55. To require any cellar, room, tenement, or building in the city limits occupied as a dwelling place which has become by reason of the number of occupants, want of cleanliness, or other cause, unfit for such purpose, and a cause of nuisance or sickness to the occupants or the public, to be put into proper condition as to cleanliness, or to require the occupants to quit the premises; to cause the premises to be properly cleaned at the expense of the owner, or to remove the occupants forcibly, and to close up the premises and not allow the same to be occupied again as a dwelling place without the consent of the board of health.

Sec. 56. To provide or cause to be provided the city with water; to make, regulate, and establish public wells, pumps, and cisterns, hydrants and reservoirs in the streets or elsewhere within the city or beyond the limits thereof for the extinguishment of fires and the convenience of the inhabitants; to prevent the unnecessary waste of water, and to make, establish, and regulate all irrigation ditches and have entire control of the same.

Sec. 57. To have the exclusive control and power over the streets, alleys, and public grounds and highways of the city, and to abate and remove encroachments thereon; to open, alter, widen, extend, establish, regulate, grade, clean, or otherwise improve said streets; to put drains or sewers therein, and to prevent the encumbering thereof in any manner, and to protect the same from any encroachment or injury; and to regulate and alter the grade in premises, and to require the filling up and raising of the same; to alter and establish the channels of any ditches or water courses within the limits of the city when the health, safety, or convenience of the city may require such to be done, and to wall up or cover said ditches or canals: Provided, That the city shall not be liable in damages at the suit of any person for injuries, either to the person or the property, arising from the unsafe condition or want of repair of any street, square, alley, or sidewalk, unless at least ten days before the injury occurs a notice in writing shall have been filed with the city clerk specifically pointing out the nature and exact locality of the defect, obstruction, or other thing that afterwards occasions it.

Sec. 58. To establish, erect, construct, regulate, and keep in repair bridges, culverts and sewers, sidewalks, and crossways, and to regulate the construction and use of the same, and to abate and punish any obstruction or encroachment thereon.

Sec. 59. To provide for lighting the streets by gas, electricity, or otherwise, and for erecting lamp posts and lamps therein; to regulate the lighting thereof, and from time to time to create, alter, or extend lamp districts; and exclusively to regulate, direct, and control the laying and repairing of the gas pipes and gas fixtures in the streets, alleys, sidewalks, and elsewhere.

Sec. 60. To provide for enclosing, regulating, and improving all public grounds and cemeteries belonging to the city, and to direct and regulate the planting and preserving of ornaments and shade trees in the streets, alleys, sidewalks, or public grounds.

Sec. 61. To regulate the carrying of weapons and to prevent the carrying of the same concealed.

Sec. 62. To prevent the encumbering of the streets, alleys, sidewalks, and public grounds with carriages, wagons, carts, hacks, buggies, or any vehicles whatsoever, boxes, lumber, timber, firewood, posts, awnings, signs, or any other substance or material whatever or in any other manner whatever; to compel all persons to keep all weeds, filth, and any kind of rubbish from the sidewalks, streets, and gutters in front of the premises occupied by them; to require and compel the owners of property to fill up, grade, level, and otherwise improve the sidewalks in front and adjoining their property; and to inspect the construction of buildings, to cause unsafe buildings to be made safe or to be removed, and to prohibit the use of material deemed unsafe.

Sec. 63. To license and tax merchants, commission merchants, hotel and inn keepers, drinking houses or saloons, bar rooms, beer saloons, and all places or establishments where intoxicating or fermented liquors are sold; brokers, money brokers, real estate agents, insurance agents, insurance brokers, and auctioneers, and all other trades, professions, occupations, and callings, the taxing of which is not prohibited by the constitution of the state, which tax shall not be construed to be a tax on property.

Sec. 64. To license, tax, and regulate or to suppress and prevent hawkers, peddlers, pawnbrokers, and keepers of theatrical and other exhibitions, shows, and amusements.

Sec. 65. To license, tax, and regulate, or to prohibit circuses, the extortions of common showmen, and of shows of any kind and the exhibitions of natural or artificial curiosities, caravans, menageries, and musical exhibitions and performances.

Sec. 66. To license, tax, and regulate hackmen, draymen, omnibus drivers, and drivers of baggage wagons, porters, and all others pursuing like occupations with or without vehicles; to prescribe their compensation and to provide for their protection, and to make it a misdemeanor for any person to attempt to defraud them of any legal charge for services rendered, and to regulate, license, and restrain runners for railroads, stages, and public houses.

Sec. 67. To license, tax, and regulate billiard tables, pin alleys, and ball alleys, to suppress and restrain disorderly houses, tipping shops and groceries, gambling, and gaming houses, lotteries and all fraudulent devices and practices within the limits of the city.

Sec. 68. To authorize the proper officers of the city to grant and issue licenses and to direct the manner of issuing and registering thereof and the fees and charges to be paid therefor; but no license shall be issued for a longer period than one year, and shall not be assignable except by permission of the city council.

Sec. 69. To prohibit the selling or giving away indirectly, to evade a tax or penalty, of intoxicating or malt liquors by any person within the city; to forbid or punish the selling or giving away of any intoxicating or malt liquors to any minor, apprentice, or habitual drunkard.

Sec. 70. The city council shall have full power to prevent by ordinance the sale or giving away of any intoxicating liquors in any house or other place where theatrical or dramatic representations are given, and also to prevent intoxicating liquors of any description being brought into any house or place where such representations are given under any pretext whatever.

Sec. 71. To regulate the weight and quality of the bread to be sold or used within the city.

Sec. 72. To create, establish, and regulate the police of the city and to prescribe their duties, powers, and compensation.

Sec. 73. To suppress and prevent any riot, affray, noise, disturbance, or disorderly assembly in any public or private place within the city.

Sec. 74. To prevent, prohibit, and suppress horse racing or immoderate riding or driving on the streets; to prohibit and punish the abuse of animals, and to compel persons to fasten horses or other animals whether attached to vehicles or not while standing or remaining on the streets.

Sec. 75. To restrain and punish vagrants, mendicants, street beggars, and prostitutes.

Sec. 76. To establish and regulate public pounds, and to regulate, restrain, and prohibit the running at large of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, swine, and goats; to authorize the distraining, impounding, and sale of the same for the costs of the proceedings and the penalty incurred, and to order their destruction when they can not be sold; and to impose penalties on the owners thereof for a violation of any ordinance.

Sec. 77. To tax and regulate or to restrain and prohibit the running at large of dogs, and to authorize their destruction when at large contrary to ordinances, and to impose penalties on the owners or keepers thereof for violations of such ordinances.

Sec. 78. To prohibit and restrain the firing of firecrackers, guns, and pistols, the use of velocipedes, or the use of any pyrotechnics, or any other amusements or practices tending to annoy persons passing in the streets or sidewalks or to frighten horses or teams; to restrain and prohibit the ringing of bells, blowing of horns or bugles, crying of goods and all other noises, practices, and performances tending to the collection of persons on the streets and sidewalks by auctioneers and others for the purpose of business, amusement, or otherwise.

Sec. 79. To erect and establish one or more work houses or houses of correction within or without the city limits, and to make all necessary rules and regulations thereof and to appoint all necessary keepers or assistants. In such work houses or houses of correction may be confined all vagrants, stragglers, idle, suspicious, and disorderly persons who may be committed by the recorder, and any person who shall fail or refuse to pay the fine, penalty, or costs imposed for any misdemeanor or breach of any ordinance of the city may, instead of being committed to jail, be kept therein subject to labor and confinement.

Sec. 80. To compel and force all offenders against any ordinance of the city found guilty by the recorder and sentenced to fine and imprisonment to labor on the streets and alleys of the city or on any public work under such regulations as may by ordinance be established.

Sec. 81. To prevent all trespasses, breaches of the peace and good order, assaults and batteries, quarreling, using abusive, obscene, profane, and insulting language, misdemeanors, and all disorderly conduct, and to punish all persons thus offending; to define and suppress disorderly houses, and to make the keeping or frequenting thereof an offense.

Sec. 82. To prevent and punish the keeping of all houses wherein indecent, loud, or immodest dramatic or theatrical representations are given, or bawdy houses of prostitution or assignation within the city, and to adopt summary measures for the removal or suppression of all such establishments.

Sec. 83. To direct and control the laying and constructing of railroad tracks, turn outs, and switches, or to prohibit the same in the streets, avenues, and alleys, unless the same shall have been authorized by law, and the location of depots within the city; to require that railroad tracks, turn outs, and switches shall be so constructed as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of streets, avenues, and alleys, and that sufficient space shall be left on either side of said track for the safe and convenient passage of teams, carriages, and other vehicles and persons; to require railroad companies to keep in repair the streets, avenues, or alleys through which their trains may run, and if ordered by the city council to construct and keep in repair suitable crossings at the intersections of streets, avenues, and alleys, and to construct and keep in repair ditches, sewers and culverts when the city council shall deem it necessary; to direct the use and regulate the speed of locomotive engines in the city, or to prevent and prohibit the use or running of the same within the city: Provided, That the provisions of this section shall apply to railroads known as steam railroads, and not city, street, or horse railroads.

Sec. 84. The city council shall have power to assess and collect the municipal taxes upon city or horse railroads; to compel said city railroad companies to keep their roads in repair; to require that tracks, turn outs, and switches shall be so constructed as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of the streets, avenues, and alleys; to make them conform to the grades of the streets upon which their tracks may be laid whenever said streets shall have been graded by the city; to restrain the rate of speed so as not to exceed seven miles per hour; and to compel said city railroads to supply ample accommodation for the safe and convenient travel of the people on the streets where their tracks are run; and the city council may enforce these regulations by proper ordinances with suitable penalties for any violation of said ordinances.

Sec. 85. To prevent or to regulate and control the driving of cattle, horses, and all other animals into or through the city.

Sec. 86. The city council shall have power to pass, publish, amend, or appeal all ordinances, rules, and police regulations not contrary to the constitution of this state, for the good government, peace, and order of the city and the trade and commerce thereof, that may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers vested by this act in the city government or any department or officer thereof; to enforce the observance of all such rules, ordinances, and police regulations, and to punish violations thereof by fines, penalties, and imprisonment in the prison, work house, or house of detention, or to work on the streets or other public works, in the discretion of the court before whom conviction may be had; but no fine or penalty shall exceed one hundred dollars nor the imprisonment fifteen days for any one offense, unless a larger fine and a longer period of imprisonment are herein allowed: Provided, That the city council by a vote of two-thirds of all the aldermen elected may make the violation of any city ordinance punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. For any fine, penalty, and costs imposed by the recorder in the trial of any cause or complaint before him, execution may issue to collect such fines and costs, to be levied and executed in the same manner that executions are from the district court. The same shall be issued by the recorder to the chief of police, who in levying on property and selling shall have like power and authority as the sheriff of the county in executions issued from the district court; and the laws of the state, as far as applicable, shall apply to and be in full force and effect as to the executions issued from the recorders court; and any person upon whom any fine or penalty is imposed may be committed until the payment of the same, with costs, and in default thereof may be imprisoned in the city prison or work house or house of correction, or may be required to work on the streets or other public works of the city for such time and in such manner as may be provided by ordinance: Provided, That such imprisonment or forced labor shall not exceed that imposed on persons who fail to pay the fines of like amount or penalty assessed by the county court.

Sec. 87. To pass all necessary ordinances to provide for funding or compromising the whole or any part of the existing debt of the city or any future debt: Provided, That unless herein otherwise specified such debt shall be funded or compromised in accordance with the general laws of the state in force at the time and applicable to cities.

Sec. 88. For the purpose of permanently improving the streets, erecting public buildings, constructing or acquiring canals for supplying the city with water, providing water works and other permanent public improvements, the city council shall have power to borrow money upon the credit of the city, and to issue coupon bonds of the city therefor in such sum or sums as it may deem expedient, to bear interest not exceeding eight per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at such place as may be fixed by city ordinance: Provided, That the aggregate amount of bonds issued by the city council and outstanding and unredeemed shall at no time exceed six per cent of the value of the property within the city subject to ad valorem tax.

Sec. 89. No bonds shall be issued unless the same shall have been ordered by the city council at the regular meeting thereof by a two-thirds majority of all the members elected; nor then until the action of the city council has been ratified by a majority of the ad valorem tax payers of the city at an election held for the purpose of determining whether or no such bonds shall be issued. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they were issued, and shall not be sold for less than their par value; and when any bonds are issued by the city a fund shall be created to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to redeem the bonds, which fund shall not be diverted nor drawn upon for any other purpose, and the city treasurer shall honor no drafts on said fund except to pay interest upon or redeem the bond for which it was provided.

Sec. 90. Said bonds shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the clerk, and shall be payable at such places and at such times as may be fixed by ordinance of the city council, not less than five nor more than fifty years.

Sec. 91. It shall be the duty of the mayor whenever any bond or bonds are issued to forward the same to the comptroller of public accounts of the state, whose duty it shall be to register said bond or bonds in a book kept for that purpose, and to indorse on each bond so registered his certificate of registration, and to give at the request of the mayor his certificate certifying to the amount of bonds so registered at his office up to date.

Sec. 92. It shall be the duty of the mayor at the time of forwarding any of said bonds for registration to furnish the comptroller with a statement of the value of all taxable property, real and personal, in the city; also with a statement of the amount of tax levied for the payment of interest and to create a sinking fund. It is hereby made the duty of the comptroller to see that a tax is levied and collected by the city sufficient to pay the interest semi-annually on all bonds issued, and to create a sinking fund sufficient to pay the said bonds at maturity, and that said sinking fund is invested in good interest-bearing securities.

Sec. 93. The city council shall have power by ordinance annually to levy and collect taxes on the assessed value of all property, real and personal, in the city not exempt from taxation by the constitution and laws of the state to the amount and for the purpose specified hereinafter, as follows, to-wit: First—Taxes not exceeding one per cent of the assessed value of such property for the purpose of defraying the current municipal expenses and to pay debts heretofore contracted. Secondly—Taxes not exceeding one-half of one per cent of the value of such property to construct or acquire water works, gas works, canals, public grounds or buildings, and to improve the streets and to make other permanent and public improvements. Thirdly—Taxes not exceeding one-half of one per cent of the assessed value of such property to maintain the public free schools: Provided, That no tax shall ever be levied except with the consent of two-thirds of all the aldermen elected at the regular meeting of the city council.

Sec. 94. No debt shall ever be created by the city unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and to create a sinking fund of at least two per cent thereon.

Sec. 95. The city council shall have power to levy and collect an annual poll tax not to exceed one dollar from every male inhabitant of the city over the age of twenty-one years, who is a resident thereof at the time of such annual assessment and not exempt by law therefrom.

Sec. 96. The city council shall have power to levy and collect occupation taxes from all persons pursuing any occupation taxed by the state: Provided, That in no case shall any occupation tax exceed one-half of that collected by the state from the same occupation.

Sec. 97. The occupation tax shall be collected by the assessor and collector, and shall be paid to that officer by each and every person and firm owing such tax and before engaging in any trade, profession, business, calling, vocation, or occupation subject to said tax, and if any person shall engage in any business, calling, vocation, or occupation which by an ordinance of the city is subject to an occupation tax without first having paid said tax, he, she, or they shall on conviction before the recorders court be liable to imprisonment or a fine of ten dollars or both such fine and imprisonment for each day such violation of said ordinance may continue, and this article shall apply to all persons owing such tax and failing to pay the same: Provided, That the city council may collect said occupation tax by suit in any court having jurisdiction under such rules and regulations as it may provide by ordinance, and said tax shall not be construed to be a tax on property.

The council may require all persons paying occupation taxes to take out licenses, which shall be receipts therefor.

Sec. 98. The term real estate or property, as used in this act, shall be construed to include lots, lands, and all buildings or machinery and structures of every kind erected upon and affixed to the same.

Sec. 99. The term personal estate or property, as used in this act, shall be construed to include all household furniture, moneys, goods, capital, chattels, public stocks and stocks of corporations, moneyed or otherwise, and generally all property which is not real.

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Sec. 100. The city council shall have full power to provide by ordinance for the prompt collection of all taxes assessed, levied, and imposed under this act and due or becoming due to said city; and is hereby authorized and to that end may and shall have full power and authority to sell or cause to be sold real as well as personal property, and may and shall make all such rules and regulations and ordain and pass all such ordinances as they may deem necessary to the levying, laying, imposing, assessing, and collecting of any of the taxes herein provided.

Sec. 101. The city council shall have power by ordinance to regulate the manner and mode of making out tax lists or inventories and appraisement of property therein; to prescribe the oath that shall be administered to each person on such rendition of property, and to prescribe how and when property shall thus be rendered; to prescribe the number and form of assessment rolls; and to fix the duties and define the powers of the assessor and collector; and to adopt such measures as it may deem advisable to secure the assessment of all property within the limits of the city, and to collect the tax thereon; and the council may by ordinance provide that any person, firm, or corporation having property subject to taxation or being liable for any tax under the provisions of this act, and neglecting to render a list, inventory, and appraisement thereof, as required by ordinance of said city, shall be liable to fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 102. Every person, partnership, and corporation owning any property within the limits of the city, shall within two months after published notice hand to the assessor and collector of the city a full and complete inventory of the property possessed or controlled by him, her, or them within said limits not exempt from taxation, on the first day of March of the current year, verified as required by ordinance; and any person failing or refusing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to fine and imprisonment; and the city council shall by ordinance clearly define the duties of tax payers herein, and make all necessary rules and regulations to secure the rendition of property and the collection of taxes due thereon.

Sec. 103. Except where herein otherwise provided, taxes shall be assessed and collected as may be in the same manner that the state and county taxes are or may hereafter be assessed and collected; and the city shall have all the powers and remedies to secure and enforce the payment of taxes that are now or may hereafter be in existence to secure and enforce the payment of state and county taxes. Except where herein otherwise provided, the assessor and collector shall as nearly as may be be governed in the discharge of his duties by the laws, rules, and regulations that now or may hereafter apply to and govern the assessors and the collectors of state and county taxes in discharge of their duties as such; and shall have and exercise as nearly as may be the same powers as are now or may hereafter be conferred on the assessors and collectors of state and county taxes.

Sec. 104. The city council shall be a board of equalization, and three aldermen and the mayor or any five aldermen without mayor, shall constitute a quorum of said board.

Sec. 105. The board of equalization shall convene annually at the time fixed by the city council to receive all the assessment lists or books of the assessor of the city for examination, correction, equalization, appraisement and approval, and at all meetings of said board the city clerk shall act as secretary thereof.

Sec. 106. The board of equalization shall cause the assessor to bring before it at the time fixed for the convening of said board all the assessment lists or books of the assessor of the city for its examination, that it may see if each and every person has rendered his property at a fair market value; and said board shall have power to send for persons and papers, to swear and qualify persons who testify, to ascertain the value of such property; and if they are satisfied it is too high they shall lower it to its proper value, and if too low they shall raise the value of such property to a proper figure. Said board shall also have power to correct any errors that may appear on the assessor's lists or books.

Sec. 107. The board of equalization shall equalize as nearly as possible the value of all the improved lots within the corporate limits of the city, having reference to the size and location of said lots and the improvements thereon, and shall equalize the value of unimproved lots as nearly as possible, having reference to the size and location thereof; and all other property of the same kind shall be made as nearly equal as possible. Any person may file with said board, at any time before the final action of said board, a complaint as to the assessment of his or any other person's property, and said board shall hear said complaint, and said complainant shall have the right to have witnesses summoned in sustaining said complaint, as to the insurance on said property, or the rents and profits it may bring the holder thereof.

Sec. 108. The city assessor, at the same time that he delivers to said board his lists and books as provided in section 106 of this act, shall also furnish said board a certified list of the names of all persons who refuse either to swear or qualify or to sign the oath or affirmation as required by law, together with a list of the property of such persons situated within the corporate limits of the city as made by him through other information; and said board shall examine said lists and appraise the property so listed by the assessor.

Sec. 109. In all cases where the board of equalization shall find it their duty to raise the value of any property appearing on the lists or books of the assessor they shall, after having fully examined such lists or books and corrected all errors appearing therein, adjourn to a day not less than ten nor more than thirty days from the day of adjournment, such day to be fixed in the order of adjournment, and shall cause the secretary of said board to give written notice to the owner of such property or to the person rendering the same of the time to which the board may have adjourned, and such owner or person rendering said property may at that time appear and show cause why the value of said property should not be raised, which notice may be served by depositing the same, properly addressed and postage paid, in the city postoffice.

Sec. 110. The board of equalization shall meet at the time specified in said order of adjournment and shall hear all persons the value of whose property has been raised, and if said board is satisfied it has raised the value of such property too high it shall lower the same to its proper value.

Sec. 111. The board of equalization after it has finally examined and equalized the value of all property on the assessor's lists or books, shall approve said lists or books and return them together with the lists mentioned in section 108 of this act, that he may make up therefrom his general rolls as required by law; and when said general rolls are so made up the board shall meet again to examine said rolls and approve the same if found correct.

Sec. 112. The action of said board at the meeting provided for in section 111 of this act shall be final and shall not be subject to revision by said board or by any tribunal thereafter.

Sec. 113. Before the board shall enter upon its duties the members thereof shall be sworn by any officer authorized by law to administer oaths faithfully and impartially to discharge all duties incumbent upon them as such board.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 114. The city council, for the purpose of providing against the calamities of fire may prohibit the erection, building, placing, moving, or repairing of wooden buildings within such limits of the city as it may designate and prescribe; and may within said limits prohibit the moving or putting up of any wooden buildings from without said limits; and may also prohibit the removal of any wooden building from one place to another within said limits; and may direct, require, and prescribe that all buildings within the limits so designated and prescribed as aforesaid shall be made or constructed of fire proof materials; and to prohibit the building or repairing of wooden buildings within the fire limits when the same shall have been damaged to the extent of fifty per cent of the value thereof, and may prescribe the manner of ascertaining such damage; and may declare all dilapidated buildings nuisances and direct the same to be repaired, removed, or abated in such a manner as it shall prescribe and direct; and may declare all wooden buildings in the fire limits which it deems dangerous to contiguous buildings or in causing or promoting fires to be nuisances and require and cause the same to be removed in such manner as they shall prescribe.

Sec. 115. The city council shall have power to prevent and prohibit the dangerous condition of chimneys, flues, fire places, stove pipes, ovens, or any other apparatus used in or about any building or manufactory, and to cause the same to be removed or placed in a secure and safe condition when considered dangerous.

Sec. 116. To prevent the deposit of ashes in places where they would be liable to produce fire or in any wooden box or barrel or within any wooden building, and to appoint one or more officers to enter all buildings and inclosures to examine and discover whether the same are in a dangerous state, and to cause such as may be dangerous to be put in a safe condition.

Sec. 117. To require the inhabitants to keep and provide as many fire buckets and ladders or other means to reach the roof as it shall prescribe, and to regulate the use thereof in times of fire.

Sec. 118. To regulate and prevent the carrying on of manufactories and works dangerous in promoting or causing fires; to prohibit or regulate the building and erection of cotton presses and sheds.

Sec. 119. To direct, regulate, or prohibit the keeping or storing within the city limits of gunpowder or any other explosive or dangerous materials, and to regulate the conveying of the same.

Sec. 120. To regulate and prescribe the manner and to order the building of parapet and party walls.

Sec. 121. To compel the owners or occupants of houses or other buildings to have scuttles in their roofs and stairs or ladders leading to the same.

Sec. 122. To authorize the mayor, officers of fire companies, or any other officers of the city, to keep away from the vicinity of any fire all idle, disorderly, and suspicious persons, and to arrest and imprison the same, and to compel all officers of the city and all other persons to aid in the extinguishment of fires and in the preservation of property exposed to danger thereat and in preventing goods from being stolen.

Sec. 123. And generally to establish such regulations for the prevention and extinguishment of fires as the city council may deem expedient.

Sec. 124. The city council shall have power to organize and maintain a fire department: Provided, That all volunteer fire companies shall elect their own officers, subject to the approval of the city council.

Sec. 125. When any building in the city is on fire it shall be lawful for the mayor or the chief or acting chief of the fire department to direct such building, or any other buildings which he may deem hazardous and likely to take fire and communicate to other buildings, to be torn down or blown up or destroyed, and no action shall be maintained against any person or against the city therefor; but any person interested in any building so destroyed or injured may within six months and not thereafter apply in writing to the city council to assess and pay the damage he has sustained; and if the city council and the claimant can not agree on the terms of adjustment then the application of such claimant shall be referred to three commissioners, one to be appointed by the claimant, one by the city council, and the third by both; they shall be sworn faithfully to execute their duty according to the best of their ability, shall have power to subpoena and swear witnesses, and shall give all parties a fair and impartial hearing, and shall give notice of time and place of meeting; said commissioners shall be qualified voters and owners of real estate in the city, shall take into account the probabilities whether the said building would have been destroyed by fire if it had not been so pulled down or destroyed, and the loss of insurance upon said property, if any, caused by pulling down, blowing up, or destroying said building, and may report that no damage should equitably be allowed such claimant.

Sec. 126. When a report shall be made and finally confirmed for the appraising of said damages a compliance with the terms thereof by the city council shall be deemed a full satisfaction of said damages.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

Sec. 127. There shall be created a board of health, which shall consist of six citizens from the city at large, all of whom shall be taxable inhabitants of the city, one of whom shall be a practicing physician and one a lawyer. Four members of the board shall constitute a quorum. They shall be appointed by the mayor with the approval of a majority of the city council at their first annual meeting or as soon thereafter as practicable at a regular meeting. Two shall be appointed for three years, two for two years, and two for one year; and annually thereafter the mayor with like approval shall appoint two members of said board for the term of three years, and all vacancies shall be filled in like manner for the unexpired terms. And they shall be subject to suspension and removal as in cases of other officers of the city.

Sec. 128. The board of health shall have general supervision over the public health of the city, and for that purpose it is authorized and empowered to make such rules and regulations, not to conflict with the ordinances of the city or the laws of the state, as it may deem best to promote and preserve the health of the city; to enforce the observance of its rules and regulations and the laws and ordinances of the city in relation thereto; to appoint such officers and employees as may be necessary for the execution of its orders, and to define their duties, as the city council may by ordinance permit and to be provided for hereafter by ordinance; to enter into or authorize and require any employee to enter into and examine in the day time all buildings, lots, and places of every description within the city, and to ascertain and report to it the condition thereof so far as the public health may be affected thereby. The board of health shall have power: To determine, regulate, and order, as to the materials, plans, and mode of construction, alteration, repair, location, removal, cleansing, disinfecting, or filling of all sinks, or earth closets, and other descriptions of privies within the city; to regulate and control the public sewers, and the mode of connection of house drainage and plumbing with public sewers, and to compel owners of buildings to connect the same with the public sewers, where a public sewer abuts the estate to be drained or is within one hundred feet thereof; to declare and abate nuisances prejudicial to the public health, and in such manner as may be provided by ordinance, and to adopt such measures and issue such orders for the cleansing or purifying of any place or places, or abate or removal of any nuisance, as it may deem proper or necessary; to provide for and enforce the registration of all marriages, births, and deaths occurring within the city. It shall have charge of all city hospitals and make all necessary rules for the government of the same. The board of health shall have power to take such measures as it may deem effectual to prevent the entrance or spread of any pestilential, contagious, or infectious diseases into the city; to stop, detain, and examine for that purpose any person or persons coming from any place infected or believed to be infected with such disease; to establish, maintain, and regulate pest houses or hospitals for such diseases at some place within the city or not exceeding five miles beyond its bounds; at its discretion to cause any person infected with any such disease to be sent to such pest house or hospitals; to enforce vaccination; to remove from the city or cause to be destroyed any furniture, wearing apparel, or property of any kind which shall be suspected of being tainted or infected with pestilence, or which shall be likely to pass into such a state as to generate or propagate disease; to require the isolation of all persons and things infected with or exposed to contagious or infectious disease; to prohibit and prevent all intercourse and communication with or use of infected premises, places or things, and to require and if necessary to provide the means for the thorough disinfecting and cleansing of the same before general intercourse therewith shall be allowed.

Sec. 129. The owner, driver, conductor, or person in charge of any stage, railroad car, or public conveyance, which shall enter the city knowingly having on board any person sick of a malignant or pestilential, contagious or infectious disease, unless such person became sick on the way and could not be left, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment or either. Such owner, driver, conductor, or person in charge, shall within three hours after the arrival of such sick person report in writing the facts, with the name of such person and the locality or house where he was put down, to the health physician; and every neglect to comply with these provisions shall be a misdemeanor, punishable with fine and imprisonment or either. Any person who shall knowingly bring or cause to be brought into the city any person or property of any kind tainted or infected with malignant fever or pestilential or infectious disease shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punishable by fine or imprisonment or either.

Sec. 130. Every keeper of any inn, hotel, tavern, or boarding or lodging house in the city, who shall have in his house any sick guest, traveler, or other person, shall report the fact and the name of the person in writing, within six hours after he came to the house or was taken sick therein, to the health physician. Every physician in the city shall report under his hand to the health physician the name and residence or whereabouts and disease of every person whom he shall have sick of any malignant or infectious or pestilential disease within six hours after he shall have visited such patient and determined or suspected the presence of such disease. A violation of either of the provisions of this section or any part of either of them shall be a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment or either: Provided, That no fine under the articles of this section shall in any case be less than ten dollars nor more than five hundred dollars; nor shall imprisonment be for a less period than five days nor more than three months.

Sec. 131. The board of health shall appoint a health physician not a member of said board for the city, who shall also be ex officio secretary of the board, whose general duties shall be defined by the board; also such medical staff for the city hospitals as the city council may by ordinance permit, and select all other subordinate officers for the city hospitals as shall be provided by ordinance; their salaries to be fixed in all cases by the city council.

Sec. 132. In order to effect the abatement of nuisances or accumulated filth, the board of health shall have power, whenever in its opinion such nuisance or filth exists and is or is likely to become detrimental to the public health, after officially so declared by them, to notify in writing through its officers the owner, agent, lessee, or tenants thereof to abate the same, either by filling up, draining, cleansing, purifying, or removing the same as the case may be. If the owner who shall have been served with such notice shall fail within the time indicated in such notice to comply with such order of the board, or fail to show good cause to said board why he can not or ought not to comply with such order, for which purpose he shall be entitled to be heard before said board if he so requests it, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, with an additional fine of not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars imposed for each and every day that the person or persons thus convicted shall after conviction and due notice thereof fail or refuse to abate or use due diligence in the work of abating such nuisance; and if such service can not be made for the reason that the owner, agent, lessee, or tenant of the property upon which the nuisance may exist can not be found in the city, of which fact the return upon the notice of the officer serving the same shall be conclusive evidence, then the board shall cause such notice to be published, in the newspaper doing the city printing, for five consecutive days (Sundays excepted), and if within five days after such service of such notice or after its publication as aforesaid such nuisance shall not be abated, or the order observed by the owner, then the board of health may order the same to be done; the said work to be executed under the supervision of the street superintendent or such other person charged with like city work and as hereinafter directed, and the cost and manner of execution of the same when fully completed to be ascertained by the city engineer under the direction of the board of health, and the amount thereof shall be assessed as a special tax against the property so improved or upon which such work has been done in the name of the owner thereof, and the collection of said amount shall be enforced in accordance with the ordinances of the city; and on filing with the county clerk of El Paso county a statement by the mayor of such expense shall have a first privileged lien on said property to secure said expenditure and twelve per cent interest thereon. For any such expenditure and interest as aforesaid suit may be instituted and recovery had in the name of the city in any court having jurisdiction, and the statement so made as aforesaid or a certified copy thereof shall be full and satisfactory evidence of the amount expended in such improvement.

Sec. 133. Whenever it shall come to the knowledge of the board of health that any malignant, infectious, or contagious disease or epidemic is prevalent in the city or will probably become so, the president of the board having made public announcement of such fact, after the announcement the board of health shall have power by order to take all steps and use all measures necessary to avoid, suppress, or mitigate such disease; and to provide for such emergency it may employ such officers, agents, servants, and assistants as the city council may by resolution or ordinance permit; and may establish temporary hospitals, provide the necessary furniture, medical attendance, and nurses as in the opinion of said board may be necessary and advisable and as may be permitted by ordinance or resolution of the city council. The board shall have and exercise such extraordinary powers until the epidemic or diseases in view of which the said public announcement was made is no longer imminent or prevalent, whereupon the said powers shall cease.

Sec. 134. Said board shall keep a record of its proceedings; shall file all petitions, documents, and papers belonging to its office, and shall keep a correct account in full of all its receipts and expenditures, and shall make rules and regulations for the government of the board and for the transaction of its business. Copies of records, documents, rules, and regulations, when authenticated by its secretary, shall be presumptive evidence in any court of justice of the facts therein contained: Provided, such rules and regulations are not inconsistent with the charter or ordinances. The archives and all papers pertaining to the sanitary department shall at all times be open to inspection of the mayor or a committee of the city council, and monthly or quarterly reports of all the operations, receipts, and expenditures shall be made by the board of health to the city council.

Sec. 135. The powers, authority, and jurisdiction of the board of health shall be and the same are hereby extended over and throughout the district of country outside the city of El Paso to the extent of five miles from its corporate limits in any direction from said corporate limits within the state of Texas. When the annual appropriation of funds for current expenses of the city is made by the city council, as provided in this act, such an amount as may be necessary for sanitary purposes, together with such fines and penalties as may accrue under the provisions of this act, shall be set aside as a special fund, to be known as the sanitary fund, in the hands of the city treasurer, and shall only be subject to be drawn out on requisition of the board of health for sanitary purposes: Provided, That all claims and accounts of the said board of health shall be duly audited in the same manner as other claims and accounts against the city.

STREETS AND ALLEYS.

Sec. 136. The city council shall have power to establish by ordinance the grade of any street, alley, avenue, or lane within the city, and when the grade of such street, alley, avenue, or lane shall have been so established, the grading completed and accepted by the city council, such grade shall not be changed except by a vote of two-thirds of the city council, and not then until just compensation shall have been made by the city council to the owners of property which may be damaged by said change of grade; and if the amount of such compensation can not be agreed upon by the city council and the owner or owners of such property, then the city council shall proceed to have the damages assessed and determined in the manner provided in section 148 of this act, and the commissioners appointed to assess the damages shall take into consideration the benefit, if any, to such property by the proposed change of grade.

Sec. 137. The city council shall have power to extend, vacate, open, widen, grade, pave, macadamize, or otherwise improve and keep in repair in any manner that they may deem proper any street, sidewalk, alley, avenue, or lane within the limits of the city, and to defray the cost and expense of such improvements or any of them. The council shall have power to levy and collect special taxes upon the lots and pieces of ground adjacent to or abutting upon the street, sidewalk, alley, avenue, or lane thus opened, widened, extended, or improved or to be improved as aforesaid.

Sec. 138. Such taxes shall be levied on all the lots and pieces of ground to the center of the block fronting on or adjacent to the improvement made and extended along the street or streets, sidewalks, alleys, avenues, or lanes for the distance improved or extended as aforesaid.

Sec. 139. The council shall also have power to provide for keeping clean and free from all obstructions and accumulations and may provide for the assessment and collection of taxes on unoccupied real estate and for the sale and conveyance thereof to pay the expenses of keeping the sidewalks adjacent to such real estate clean and free from obstructions and accumulations as herein provided.

Sec. 140. When the city council shall deem it necessary to open, widen, extend, pave, macadamize, bridge, curb, gutter, or otherwise improve any street, alley, avenue, or lane, or to construct any sidewalks or crossings, either where a sidewalk is already built or where it may be declared necessary to construct a sidewalk with or without crossings within the limits of the city, for which a special tax is to be levied as herein provided, the council shall by resolution declare such work or improvement necessary to be done, and such resolution shall be published once each week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper doing the official printing for the city, and if a majority of the persons owning such property reside in the city (except persons claiming an interest in such property by reason of tax titles), and whose property is liable to be taxed for such work or improvement shall not within twenty days thereafter file with the city clerk their protest against such improvement, then the city council shall have power to cause such improvement to be made and to contract therefor and to levy and collect the taxes as herein provided: Provided, That no resolution for the same improvement shall again be passed by the council within six months after such protest shall have been filed: And provided further, That when the city council shall have declared it necessary by resolution as herein provided to construct a sidewalk and crossings along any street, alley, avenue, or lane in the city for which a special tax is to be levied as herein provided, and no sufficient protest against said sidewalks and crossings as herein provided shall have been filed with the city clerk, the city council shall cause the city engineer to advertise for proposals for doing said work, and at any time prior to the contract being signed for doing said work the owner or agent for any portion of the property liable to be taxed for said improvements may construct the sidewalks, under the directions of the city engineer and to his entire satisfaction and approval, along or in front of such portion of property liable to be taxed as aforesaid; and it shall be the duty of the city engineer in calculating the amount of tax to be levied for said improvement to credit the statement which he files with the city clerk showing the amount of tax due upon each block, lot, or piece of ground as hereinafter provided, with the amount of sidewalk so constructed by said owner or agent as aforesaid, but the construction of said sidewalk by said owner or agent as aforesaid, shall not exempt such lot or lots or pieces of ground from being liable for their proportion of the tax so levied for the construction of the cross walks and intersections across the cross streets between the points named in the original resolution declaring it necessary to construct said sidewalk and crossings.

Sec. 141. Such taxes shall be due and may be collected as the improvements are completed in front of or along or upon any block or piece of ground, or at the time the improvement is completed, according as shall be provided in the ordinance levying the tax. Such tax, if not paid within thirty days after becoming due, shall have added thereto a penalty of ten per cent and shall bear interest from the day of sale at the rate of twenty-five per cent per annum, to be computed on the tax, penalty, and costs of sale.

Sec. 142. The costs and expenses of grading, filling, paving, macadamizing, culverting, curbing, and guttering or otherwise improving streets, sidewalks, alleys, avenues, or lanes, at their intersections, may be included in the special tax levied for the improvement of any one street, sidewalk, alley, avenue, or lane as may be deemed just by the council.

Sec. 143. When the special tax is levied it shall be the duty of the engineer of the city to calculate the amount of tax on every block or piece of ground and file a statement thereof with the city clerk, who shall as soon as the tax is due on any block or piece of ground issue a certificate describing it by its number and block and stating the amount of tax due thereon and the name of the person entitled to the same and the purposes for which said tax was levied; and such certificate so given shall be the tax warrant of the contractor, and shall be by the city clerk placed in the hands of the city treasurer, who shall give notice through the official paper of the city, at the cost of the contractor, when the penalty will accrue, and the treasurer shall keep a record of all such warrants and enter in the margin of such record all amounts paid and by whom paid.

Sec. 144. It shall be sufficient in any case to describe the lot or piece of ground as the same is platted and recorded, although the same may belong to several persons; but in case any lot or piece of ground may belong to different persons the owner of any part thereof may pay his proportion of the tax on such lot or piece of ground and his proper share may be determined by the city treasurer.

Sec. 145. The city council shall have power to provide for the sale and conveyance of any lot or piece of ground for nonpayment of such special taxes and the deeds given to convey the same may be recorded in the office of the register of deeds as other conveyances; the conveyance shall be to the person owning the certificate of sale at the time such conveyance is given: Provided, That any lot or piece of ground may be redeemed within two years after the day of sale or at any time thereafter until the tax deed is issued, by paying to the city treasurer the tax, penalty, costs, and interest at the rate of twenty-five per cent per annum. Lots of land belonging to minors or any interest they may have in any lands sold for special taxes may be redeemed in the same manner at any time before such minor becomes of age and during one year thereafter.

Sec. 146. When any improvement mentioned in this act is completed according to contract, it shall be the duty of the city engineer to inspect the same carefully, and if the improvement is found to be properly done the engineer shall accept the same and forthwith report the acceptance of the same to the city council, which may confirm or reject such acceptance. When the ordinance levying the tax makes the same due as the improvement is completed in front of or along any block or piece of ground, then the engineer may accept the same in sections from time to time if found to be done according to contract, always reporting his acceptance to the city council for confirmation or rejection.

Sec. 147. Special taxes shall be a lien on the lots and pieces of ground subject to the same from the time the amount thereof shall have been ascertained, and in case any error or irregularity should occur in levying or collecting any such special tax proceedings may be taken anew so as to obviate any such error or irregularity.

Sec. 148. Whenever the city council shall deem it necessary to take any private property in order to open, change, or widen any public street, avenue, or alley, or for the construction of water mains or sewers, or for any other municipal purpose within or without the limits of the city, such property may be taken for such purpose by making just compensation to the owner thereof. If the amount of such compensation can not be agreed upon by the city council and the owner or owners of such property it shall be the duty of the city council to cause to be stated in writing the real estate or property sought to be taken, the name of the owner thereof, and his residence if known, and file such statement with the county judge of El Paso County. Upon the filing of such statement it shall be the duty of said judge in term time or vacation to appoint three disinterested freeholders and qualified voters of the county as special commissioners to assess the damages to accrue to the owner by reason of such proposed condemnation. The commissioners so appointed shall in their proceedings be governed and controlled by the laws in force in reference to the condemnation of right of way for railroad companies and the assessment of damages therefor, the city occupying the position of the railroad company; and all laws in reference to applications for the condemnation of right of way for railroad companies, including the measure of damages, the right of appeal and the like, shall apply to an application by the city under this act for the condemnation of property for the purpose of opening, changing, or widening streets, avenues, or alleys, or for the construction of water mains or sewers, or for any other municipal purpose, the city to occupy the position of the railroad company.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

Sec. 149. Whenever in the opinion of the city council any building, fence shed, awning, or any erection of any kind or any part thereof is liable to fall down and endanger persons or property, the council may order any owner or agent of the same, or any owner or occupant of the premises on which such building, shed, awning, or other erection stands or to which it is attached, to take down and remove the same or any part thereof within such time as the city council may direct, and to punish by fine and imprisonment or either any neglect, failure, or refusal to comply therewith. The city council shall in addition have the power to remove the same at the expense of the city on account of the owner of the property or premises and assess the expenses on the land on which it stood or to which it was attached, and shall by ordinance provide for such assessment, the mode and manner of giving notice, and the means of recovering such expenses.

Sec. 150. Writs issued by the recorder of the city for offenses against the laws may be executed and the accused persons arrested by the chief of police or any police officer or by the sheriff or any constable of El Paso County anywhere in El Paso County.

Sec. 151. Whenever any person shall have been required by the recorder to give peace bond or a bond for good behavior or any similar bond under this act, and shall have complied with such orders and afterwards been guilty of a violation or infraction of such bond, and the same is proved or established to the satisfaction of the recorder in any trial or complaint, such party so offending may be fined in the sum of two hundred dollars and imprisonment for two months, and the city in its corporate name may sue in any court having jurisdiction for the recovery of the penalty of such bond.

Sec. 152. In all cases where by any provision of this act or by ordinance passed in pursuance thereof a person is required to obtain a license for any calling, occupation, business, or vocation, and has on complaint before the recorder been adjudged guilty of violation of any rule, regulation, or city ordinance of the city council in relation thereto, the recorder in addition to fine and imprisonment or either may suspend or revoke the license so granted.

Sec. 153. The city council shall as soon as may be after the commencement of each municipal year contract, as it may by ordinance or resolution determine, with a public newspaper of the city as the official paper thereof, and to continue as such until another is elected, and shall cause to be published therein all ordinances, notes, and other matters required by this act or by the ordinances of the city to be published.

Sec. 154. The city council shall at least ten days before the expiration of each municipal year cause to be published in a city newspaper a correct and full statement of the receipts and expenditures from the date of the last annual report, together with the sources from which the funds were derived, and showing for what purpose disbursed and the condition of the treasury, together with such information as may be necessary to a full understanding of the financial condition of the city.

Sec. 155. Every ordinance imposing any penalty, fine, imprisonment, or forfeiture for violation of its provisions, shall after the passage thereof be published in every issue of the official paper for ten days, and the proof of such publication by the printer or publisher of such newspaper, taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths and filed with the city clerk, or any other competent proof of such publication, shall be conclusive evidence in all courts of the publication and promulgation of such ordinances. Ordinances passed by the city council and requiring publication shall take effect and be in force from and after the publication thereof unless it be therein otherwise expressly provided: Provided, That all ordinances and resolutions of the city council appearing on the minutes thereof shall be presumed to have been published and promulgated as herein required unless the contrary shall be shown.

Sec. 156. All ordinances of the city where printed and published by authority of the city council shall be admitted and received in all courts and places without further proof.

Sec. 157. The style of all ordinances shall be substantially, "Be it ordained by the city council of the city of El Paso," but it may be omitted when published in the form of a book or pamphlet.

Sec. 158. All ordinances, regulations, or resolutions in force in the city of El Paso and not in conflict with this act shall remain in force under this act until altered, amended, or repealed by the city council; and all officers of the city in office at the time of the taking effect of this act shall remain in office till the election or appointment and qualification of their successors, as herein provided.

Sec. 159. All fines, forfeitures, and penalties for breach or violations of this act, or of any regulation, order, or ordinance of the city council, shall when collected be paid into the city treasury for the use and benefit of the city.

Sec. 160. Resignation by any officer authorized to be elected or appointed by this act shall be made to the city council in writing, subject to its approval and acceptance: Provided, That nothing in this article shall apply to appointments by the mayor. Any appointee by the mayor wishing to resign shall present his resignation to the mayor in writing for his action.

Sec. 161. The city council shall have power to remove any officer for incompetency, for corruption, misconduct, or malfeasance in office after he shall have been given due notice and an opportunity to be heard in his defense. In addition to the foregoing power of removal, the city council shall have power at any time to remove any officer of the corporation elected by it by resolution declaratory of its want of confidence in such officer, provided that two-thirds of all the aldermen elected vote in favor of such resolution.

Sec. 162. Whenever any person shall be removed from any office, or the term for which he elected or appointed has expired, or he has resigned or has ceased to act in his official capacity, he shall deliver over to his successor all books, papers, and effects in any way appertaining to his office. Every person violating this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be deemed an offender within the meaning of any law of the state punishing such offenses, and in addition thereto he shall on conviction before the recorder be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars and imprisonment for any time not exceeding six months or either. Any officer who shall have been intrusted with the collection or custody of funds belonging to the city and who shall be in default to the city, besides being liable to a criminal prosecution and a civil action for debt, shall thereafter be incapable of holding any office under the city until the amount of his defalcation shall have been fully paid to the city with twelve per cent interest.

Sec. 163. No member of the city council shall hold any other employment or office under the city government while he is a member of the council unless herein otherwise provided, and no member of the city council or any officer of the corporation shall be directly or indirectly interested in any work, business, or contract, the expense, price, or consideration of which is paid from the city treasury or by an assessment levied by ordinance or resolution of the city council, nor be the surety of any person having a contract, work, or business with the city for the performance of which security may be required, nor be the surety on the official bond of any officer of the city.

Sec. 164. Each alderman shall be fined five dollars for each meeting of the city council which he fails to attend unless on account of his own sickness or that of his family. Any member of the city council remaining absent for three consecutive meetings of the council unless prevented by sickness, without first having obtained leave of absence at a regular meeting, shall be deemed to have vacated his office, and the mayor shall proceed to fill the vacancy in accordance with the charter.

Sec. 165. The city council shall have power to prescribe the duties of all officers and persons appointed by it or elected to any office or place whatever, subject to the provisions of this act, and to remit in whole or in part on such conditions as may be deemed proper, by a vote of two-thirds of the members present, any fine or penalty belonging to the city which may be imposed or incurred under this act or under any ordinance or resolution in pursuance thereof.

Sec. 166. The city council shall, on the first day of January of each and every year ending in an odd number or as soon thereafter as practicable fix the salary of the mayor to be elected at the next regular election, and shall at the same time establish the compensation or salary to be paid to the officers elected or appointed by the city council, and the compensation or salary so established shall not be changed during the term for which said officers shall be elected or appointed.

Sec. 167. It shall not be necessary in any action, suit, or proceeding in which the city shall be a party for any bond, undertaking, or security to be executed in behalf of the city; but all such actions, suits, and proceedings shall be conducted in the same manner as if such bond, undertaking, or security had been given, and for all the purposes of such actions, suits, and proceedings the city shall be liable in the same manner and to the same extent as if the bond, undertaking, or security required in ordinary cases had been duly given and executed.

Sec. 168. The cemetery lots which have been and may hereafter be laid out and sold for the city for private places of burial shall with their appurtenances be forever exempt from taxes, executions, attachments, or forced sales.

Sec. 169. All rights, actions, fines, penalties, and forfeitures in suits or otherwise which have accrued under the laws heretofore in force shall be vested in and prosecuted by the corporation hereby created; and no suit pending shall be affected by the passage and acceptance of this act, but the same shall be prosecuted or defended, as the case may be, by the corporation hereby created.

Sec. 170. All property, real, personal, or mixed, belonging to the city of El Paso is hereby vested in the corporation created by this act.

Sec. 171. No indebtedness of any character whatever hereafter incurred by said corporation shall draw a higher rate of interest than ten per cent per annum.

Sec. 172. The city council shall have power to establish free libraries in the city, to adopt rules and regulations for the proper management thereof, and to appropriate such part of the revenues of the city for the management and increase thereof as the city council shall by ordinance determine.

Sec. 173. The city council shall have power to take a census of the city whenever and as often as it may be necessary.

Sec. 174. This act shall be deemed a public act and the courts shall take judicial knowledge thereof at all times and in all proceedings.

Sec. 175. Whereas the city of El Paso now has more than ten thousand inhabitants, and the present charter thereof is wholly inadequate, and it is desirable that the municipal elections of said city should be held at the same time as those of the other cities; therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity demands the suspension of the constitutional rule which requires a bill to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Sec. 176. An act entitled "An Act to incorporate the city of El Paso," approved May 17, 1873, is hereby repealed.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 91 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 22 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, March 2, 1889.

CHAP. 5.—[S. B. No. 258.] An Act to incorporate the city of Fort Worth, and to grant a charter to said city.

ARTICLE I.—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all the inhabitants of the city of Fort Worth shall continue to be a body politic and corporate, with perpetual succession, by the name and style of the city of Fort Worth, and as such they and their successors by that name shall have, exercise, and enjoy all the rights, immunities, powers, privileges, and franchises now possessed and enjoyed by said city, and herein granted and conferred, and shall be subject to all the duties and obligations now pertaining to or incumbent on said city as a corporation, and may ordain and establish such acts, laws, regulations, and ordinances, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state, as shall be needful for the government, interest, welfare, and good order of said body politic; and under the same name shall be known in law, and be capable of contracting and being contracted with, suing and being sued, impleading and being impleaded to, answering and being answered unto in all courts and places and in all matters whatever; may take, hold, and purchase, lease, grant, and convey such real and personal property or estate as the purposes of the corporation may require, within or without the limits thereof; and may make, have, and use a corporate seal, and change and renew the same at pleasure.

Sec. 2. City Limits.—That the limits of the said city of Fort Worth shall be and remain the same as they exist at the time of the enactment of this law: Provided, That such limits may hereafter be extended so as to embrace any adjoining territory whenever a majority of the inhabitants of such territory entitled to vote for members of the state legislature shall vote in favor of becoming a part of the population of said city and annexing said territory to said city. Sufficient evidence that a majority of said inhabitants have voted in favor of said proposition shall be the affidavit, defining the territory desired to be added, of five of them filed with the mayor. When such affidavit shall be filed the mayor shall forthwith communicate same to the city council of said city. At its first regular meeting, or as soon thereafter as practicable after being furnished by the mayor with said affidavit, the city council may by ordinance receive said inhabitants as part of the population, and said territory as part of the territory of said city; and when so received thenceforth the inhabitants of said territory shall be a part of the population of said city of Fort Worth, and said territory shall constitute a part of its territory to all intents and purposes like other inhabitants and territory thereof.

Sec. 3. Wards.—The wards of said city and their boundaries shall be and remain the same as exist at the time of the enactment of this law: Provided, That the city council shall have power from time to time to divide said city into as many wards as they may deem expedient, and may prescribe and change the boundaries thereof; but no such division or change shall be made unless it be done at least three months preceding the city election next ensuing, and said wards so established shall contain as far as practicable an equal number of votes.

ARTICLE II.—OFFICERS AND THEIR ELECTION.

Sec. 4. Municipal Government Defined.—The municipal government of said city shall consist of a city council composed of the mayor and two aldermen from each ward. A majority of the aldermen shall constitute a quorum of the council for the transaction of business, except at called meetings or meetings for the imposition of taxes, when two-thirds of the aldermen shall be required unless herein otherwise provided.

Sec. 5. Other Officers.—The other officers of said corporation shall be a treasurer, an assessor and collector, a secretary, a city attorney, a marshal, a recorder, a city engineer, and such other officers and agents as the city council may from time to time establish.

Sec. 6. Officers, how Chosen.—The mayor and aldermen and all of the officers mentioned in the last preceding section, except recorder of said city, shall each be elected by the qualified voters of said city as hereinafter provided, and shall hold their respective offices for two years and until the election and qualification of their successors.

Sec. 7. The city council shall on their first regular meeting in April in each year elect a city recorder, who shall hold his office for one year and until his successor is elected and qualified. Should said city council fail to elect said city recorder on their first meeting in April, then they shall do so at their next regular meeting.

Sec. 8. Annual Election.—An election shall be held in each of the wards of said city on the first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1889, and annually thereafter at such places as the city council may designate.

Sec. 9. Elections to be Ordered and Notice Given.—Said elections shall be ordered by the city council, and when same shall be so ordered the council shall cause to be given twenty days notice thereof in one or more newspapers published in said city, which notice shall state the officer or officers to be elected, the places where said election will be held, and the names of the various presiding officers of election. Should the council for any reason fail to order an election or to give notice thereof the mayor shall make such order or give such notice.

Sec. 10. Appointment of Presiding Officers, etc.—At the first regular meeting in May in each year or earlier the council shall designate some suitable place in each ward at which during the ensuing year all elections shall be held, and if the council shall neglect or refuse to designate such places or any of them, or if from any cause the places so designated or any of them can not be procured for the purposes hereinbefore specified, then the mayor may at any time before the next ensuing election designate such places and shall at the same time appoint some suitable person in each ward to serve as presiding officer of elections in said ward: Provided, That no person shall be appointed presiding officer who is not a qualified voter of the ward for which he is appointed. As soon as practicable after the appointment of presiding officers the city secretary shall notify each person so appointed of the fact. In case a person appointed presiding officer of election fails to attend on the day of election or fails or refuses to act, or in case no presiding officer has been appointed, it shall be lawful for the voters of the ward present on that day at the ward voting place to select from among their number a presiding officer to act as such at that election, and the person so selected shall have the same power and authority as if he had been appointed by the council, but in such case the managers of the election shall in their returns certify that the presiding officer was appointed from and by the voters at the ward voting place on the day of such election, because there was no regular presiding officer in attendance, or because the regular presiding officer failed or refused to act, as the case may be.

Sec. 11. Judges and Clerks Appointed, etc.—The presiding officer of each ward shall on or before the day of election select from among the qualified voters of the ward three judges and four clerks, such selections to be made from different political parties if demanded as nearly as practicable and there be present a sufficient number of the party making the demand who are willing and competent to serve in said positions; and said judges and clerks together with the presiding officer shall be the managers of the election. Managers of elections shall receive $2 per day for each day of twelve hours or fraction thereof while engaged in their official duties.

Sec. 12. First Election, etc.—At the first annual election under this law there shall be elected by the qualified voters of said city a treasurer, an assessor and collector, a secretary, a marshal, a city attorney, and a city engineer, each of whom shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified; and at said first election there shall be elected by the qualified voters of each ward of said city one alderman, who shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified, and at each annual election thereafter there shall be elected by the qualified voters of each of said wards one alderman, who shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified. The aldermen to be chosen at said first election shall be to fill the places of those whose successors under the existing order of things are to be chosen, and those to be subsequently elected shall be to fill places as they would have to be filled had not this law been passed. The first election under this law shall be held by the officers heretofore last appointed by the council at the places heretofore last designated: Provided, That if any presiding officer fails to attend or fails or refuses to act his place may be filled by the voters as provided in section 10.

Sec. 13. Time of Holding Elections and Making Returns Thereof.—At all elections held under this law the ballots of each ward shall be taken separately—the polls to be opened for one day only from 8 o'clock a. m. until 6 o'clock p. m. Should the polls not be opened promptly at 8 o'clock, the time shall be extended beyond the hour of 6 so as to secure the full period of 10 hours for voting purposes. The managers of elections shall count and cast up the votes for each candidate in accordance with the state laws, and sign and certify to the returns in duplicate, one of which shall be sealed up and retained by the presiding officer for use by the council or the courts of the country in any legal investigation of the election; the other copy shall be sealed up with the name of the presiding officer written across the seal, and shall be by one of the managers of the election delivered in open session to the council the next day or as soon thereafter as practicable. The officer so delivering same shall make oath before the mayor or one of the aldermen that the returns delivered by him have not been altered or opened since being signed and sealed as aforesaid. As received the city council shall immediately open the returns from each ward and estimate the result, causing same to be recorded in tabular form in the minutes of the council. Persons receiving the highest number of votes for the various offices shall be declared elected to the offices for which they were respectively voted. The newly elected officers may enter on their duties on the fifth day after election, Sundays excepted: Provided, That any officer elect shall qualify at any time within thirty days; otherwise the office shall be deemed vacant. It shall be the duty of the city secretary to notify all persons elected or appointed to office of their election or appointment, and the city council elect shall convene at the usual place of meeting on the fifth day, Sundays excepted, after their election, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and be installed under the provisions of this law.

Sec. 14. Qualification of Voters.—Every person entitled to vote for members of the legislature of the state, who shall have resided within the limits of the city for six months and in the ward in which he offers to vote for ten days next preceding any city election, shall be entitled to vote at such election.

Sec. 15. Oath of Managers of Elections.—The managers of elections shall be sworn well and truly to conduct the election without partiality or prejudice and agreeably to law, according to the best of their skill and understanding. The oath shall be administered by the presiding officers to the judges and clerks, and one of the judges after being sworn shall administer same oath to presiding officer.

Sec. 16. Proceedings in Case of a Tie Vote, etc.—Whenever it happens in any election that there is a tie vote between two or more candidates for the same office, all of whom cannot be elected, the council shall declare such election void as between such candidates only, and immediately order a new election for the office, giving not less than five days notice thereof. In the event of the failure of the council to meet to examine the election returns and declare the result the mayor shall discharge that duty.

Sec. 17. Who are Eligible to City Offices.—No person shall be eligible to any office of said city whether elected by the voters or the council unless he possesses the qualifications of an elector and shall have resided in the limits of the city for twelve months next preceding the election at which he is a candidate. And no person shall be eligible to the office of alderman unless in addition to the above prescribed qualifications he shall be a resident of the ward in which he is a candidate, and a removal from said ward during the term for which he is elected shall vacate his office.

Sec. 18. Special Elections to Fill Vacancies.—In case of a vacancy in the office of mayor or alderman by refusal to accept or failure to qualify, or by death, resignation, or otherwise, the city council shall order a new election to fill such vacancy, and all special elections shall be conducted as herein provided for in the annual elections: Provided, That in all such special elections to fill vacancies ten days notice shall be deemed sufficient. In case of a vacancy in any other office in the city than mayor or alderman by refusal to accept, failure to qualify, death, resignation, or otherwise, the city council shall fill such vacancy, a majority of the council being necessary for the purpose.

Sec. 19. State Election Laws, etc.—The manner of holding and voting at elections to be held under this act and the powers and duties of the managers thereof and the counting of votes shall be according to the general laws of the state in force at the time, as far as the same shall be applicable and not in conflict with this act: Provided, That the city council shall have full power and authority to pass such laws as it shall deem expedient in respect to conducting elections and voting thereat, as well as to making returns thereof and prescribing the mode and manner of determining contested elections.

ARTICLE III.—DUTIES AND POWERS OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 20. Official Oath.—Every person elected by the voters of said city or by the city council to fill any office under this act shall before entering on the duties of his office take and subscribe the official oath prescribed by the constitution of this state, and the city council may by ordinance require such additional oath as they may deem proper.

Sec. 21. Duties of Mayor.—The mayor of the city shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation, and shall be vigilant and active at all times, causing the laws and ordinances of said city to be executed and put in force. He shall inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers in the government thereof, and as far as it may be in his power shall cause all negligence, carelessness, positive violation of duty to be prosecuted and punished, and if in his discretion considered necessary to suspend the official until the next meeting of the city council. He shall have power when in his judgment the good of the city may require it to summon meetings of the city council, and he shall from time to time communicate to that body all such information and recommend all such measures as may tend to the improvement of the finances, the police, health, security, cleanliness, comfort, ornament, and good government of said city.

Sec. 22. Mayor may Summon Citizens to act as Special Police Force, etc.—Whenever the mayor shall deem it necessary, in order to enforce the laws of the city or to avoid danger or protect life or property in case of riot or any outbreak or any public calamity or disturbance, or when he has reason to fear any serious violation of law and order or any outbreak or any other danger to said city or the inhabitants thereof, he shall summon into service as a special police force all or as many of the citizens as in his discretion may be necessary and proper, and such summons may be by proclamation or order addressed to the citizens generally or those of any ward or subdivision thereof, or summons may be by personal notification. Such special police force while in service shall be subject to the orders of the mayor, shall perform such duties as he may require, and shall have the same powers while on duty as the regular police force of the city; and any person so summoned and failing to obey or appearing and failing to perform any duty that may be required by this act shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Sec. 23. Other Powers of Mayor.—The mayor shall have like power with a justice of the peace to administer oaths of office. He shall have authority in case of a riot or any unlawful assembly, or with a view to preserve the peace and good order in said city, to order and enforce the closing of any theatre, ball room, grog shop, tippling house, bar room, or other place of resort or public room or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence the laws of the state or any ordinance of the city; and he shall perform such other duties and possess and exercise such other powers as may be prescribed and conferred by the city council.

Sec. 24. Veto Power of Mayor, etc.—All ordinances and resolutions adopted by the council shall before they take effect be placed in the office of the city secretary, and if the mayor approve thereof he shall sign the same, and such as he shall not sign he shall return to the city council with his objection thereto. Upon the return of any ordinance or resolution by the mayor the vote by which same was passed shall be reconsidered, and if after reconsideration two-thirds of the whole number of aldermen present agree to pass same and enter their votes on the journal of the proceedings it shall be in force from that time or after publication or time expressed for taking effect, as the case may be. And if the mayor shall neglect to approve or object to any proceedings for a longer period than three days after the same shall be placed in the secretary's office as aforesaid the same shall go into effect from that time or after publication or time expressed for taking effect, as the case may be.

Sec. 25. Salary of Mayor.—The mayor of said city shall receive a salary payable in monthly installments not exceeding the sum of two thousand and five hundred dollars per annum to be fixed by the city council as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 26. Recorder, Jurisdiction of, etc.—The recorder of said city shall be the chief judicial magistrate thereof, and as such shall hold a court within said city by the name of the recorder's court of the city of Fort Worth, which said court shall have jurisdiction and cognizance of all misdemeanors, breaches of the peace, infractions of the ordinances, and all other causes arising under the laws of said city, and shall be deemed open for trial between the hours 9 a. m. and 12:30 p. m., unless in the recorder's judgment the court shall open afternoon session when said court may hold afternoon sessions. The said court shall have full power and jurisdiction in all cases arising under the ordinances of said city and over any breaches and violations thereof and of any and all persons thus offending, and to try and determine all suits and actions and complaints charging a violation of any ordinance of said city, and may grant new trials on motion in writing showing sufficient cause. The recorder may require of any person arrested under the provisions of this act a bond for his good behavior and to keep the peace, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, which bond shall be payable to said city of Fort Worth and shall be approved by said recorder. He shall have authority to issue subpoenas for witnesses and to compel their attendance by process of attachment. He may punish all contempts by fine not exceeding fifty dollars and imprisonment not exceeding one day or by either; may issue subpoenas, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions, and all other process known to the law that a justice of the peace of this state may lawfully issue, and all of said writs and process shall be issued, served, and executed under the same forms and in the same manner that like process would be if issued by a justice of the peace unless herein otherwise provided. He shall also have full power and authority to administer official oaths and all oaths and affirmations in trials before him. He shall be ex officio justice of the peace, and he shall possess and exercise in the city in criminal cases all the powers of a justice of the peace and shall have the same power as justices of the peace in the prevention and suppression of crime: Provided, That in no case shall he entertain jurisdiction in civil suits except the forfeiture and collection of bonds in his court. All prosecutions for violation of city ordinances shall be carried on in the name and by the authority of "The city of Fort Worth," and conclude "Against the peace and dignity of the city." The style of all process and writs shall be "The city of Fort Worth."

Sec. 27. Costs in Recorder's Court and his Salary.—The city council may prescribe what costs shall be charged in proceedings in and for all process issued from the recorder's court and the service and execution thereof, which costs shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city. The recorder shall receive a salary not exceeding twelve hundred dollars per annum, to be fixed by the city council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments.

Sec. 28. Other Duties of Recorder, etc.—The recorder shall perform such other duties appertaining to him as the judge of said court as the council may prescribe. All money collected from fines or forfeiture, of whatever character, imposed by the recorder, shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city.

Sec. 29. Absence, Inability, or Disqualification of Recorder.—Should the recorder at any time be absent, unable to act, or disqualified, in any case before his court, the mayor or mayor pro tem. shall in such event perform the duties of recorder with like power and authority.

Sec. 30. Rights of Trial by Jury.—Every person accused before the recorder of an offense cognizable by him shall be entitled, if he demand it, to be tried by a jury of six legal voters of said city, who shall be summoned by the marshal or one of his deputies, and shall be impanelled and qualified as jurors in justices courts under the laws of the state: Provided, That persons so tried shall in the event of conviction be taxed in the sum of three dollars for the payment of jury fees in each case.

Sec. 31. Trials before Recorder.—All prosecutions, trials, and proceedings had in the recorder's court shall be governed by the laws and rules regulating trials, prosecutions, and proceedings before justices courts in force at the time, so far as applicable and not in conflict herewith.

Sec. 32. Powers and Duties of the Marshal.—The marshal of the city shall be ex officio chief of police, and may appoint one deputy who shall be paid by the city, and he may appoint additional deputies to be paid by himself, and all deputies shall be subject to the confirmation of the city council, and he shall either in person or by deputy attend upon the recorder's court while in session and upon meetings of the city council, and shall promptly and faithfully execute all writs and process issued from said courts. He shall have like power with the sheriff of the county to execute the writ of search warrant. He shall be active in quieting riots, disorders, and disturbances of the peace within the limits of the city, and shall take into custody all persons so offending against the peace of the city, and shall have authority to take suitable and sufficient bail for the appearance before the recorder's court of any person charged with an offense against ordinances or laws of the city. It shall be his duty to arrest without warrant all violators of the public peace and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the execution of the duties of his office or who shall be guilty of any disorderly conduct or disturbance whatever in his presence or upon complaint of any citizen. To prevent a breach of the peace or preserve quiet and good order, he shall have authority to close any theater, bar room, drinking house, or any other place or building of public resort, and in the prosecution and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders he shall have, possess, and exercise like power, authority, and jurisdiction of the sheriff of the county under the laws of the state. He shall receive a salary not to exceed two thousand dollars per annum, to be fixed by the council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments. He shall give a bond, payable to the said city, with good security, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city, in such amount as the city council may require, said bond to be approved by the city council, and he shall perform such other duties and possess such other powers, rights, and authority as the council may by ordinance require and confer.

Sec. 33. Powers and Duties of the Secretary.—It shall be the duty of the city secretary to attend every meeting of the city council and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book provided for that purpose, and to engross and enroll all laws, ordinances, and resolutions of the city council; to keep the corporate seal; to take charge of, preserve, and keep in order all books, records, papers, documents, and files of the council; to countersign all commissions issued to city officers and licenses issued by the mayor, and to keep a record or register thereof, and to make out all notices required under any resolution or ordinance of the city. He shall draw all warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same and keep an accurate account thereof in books provided for the purpose. He shall be the general accountant of the city, and shall keep in books regular accounts of the receipts and disbursements of the city, and separately under proper heads, each cause of receipt and disbursement; and also accounts with each person, including officers who have money transactions with the city, crediting amounts allowed by proper authority and specifying the particular transactions to which such entries apply. He shall also keep a register of bonds and bills issued by the city and all evidence of debts due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof and all facts connected therewith as they occur. He shall carefully keep all contracts made by the city, and he shall do and perform all such other duties as may be required of him by any law, ordinance, resolution, or order of the city council. He shall receive for his services a salary not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum, to be fixed by the city council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments; and he shall give a bond with good security payable to the city in such amount as the council may prescribe and conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city, the same to be approved by the city council. He shall have such assistants to be paid by the city as may be needed for the transaction of business relating to his office, the necessity for such assistants to be determined by the council.

Sec. 34. Powers and Duties of Treasurer, etc.—The treasurer of said city shall receive and securely keep all moneys belonging to the city, and make all payments for the same upon the order of the mayor attested by the secretary under the seal of the city: Provided, That no order shall be paid unless it shall show on its face that the city council has directed its issuance and for what purpose. He shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments to the city council at their first regular meeting in every quarter, and whenever at all other times he is required by them so to do. At the end of every half year he shall cause to be published at the expense of the city a report showing the amount of receipts and expenditures for the six months next preceeding and the general condition of the treasury, and he shall do and perform such other acts and duties as the city council may require; and for his services he shall receive such salary as the council shall fix as hereinafter provided, not to exceed ten dollars per annum, payable monthly. He shall execute a bond payable to the city in such amount and in such form as may be required by the council, and with sufficient security to be approved by the council, and conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city. He shall also execute another bond payable to the city in such amount and in such form as may be required by the council, and with sufficient security to be approved by the council, and conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties, by reason of all school funds of the city derived from any source coming into his hands.

Sec. 35. Powers and Duties of Assessor and Collector, etc.—The assessor and collector shall make up the assessment of all property taxed by the city and make duplicate rolls thereof, and on completion of the rolls he shall deliver one of them to the city secretary. He shall collect all taxes due the city, and in the event of non-payment of any taxes he shall proceed to sell property to raise the amount of taxes so due, and shall in the performance of his duties observe the provisions of this act and the ordinances of the city relating thereto. He shall give bond payable to said city in such amount and in such form as the council may require, with good and sufficient sureties, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city, the same to be approved by the council. The council may require of him a new bond whenever they deem the existing bond for any reason insufficient, and whenever such new bond shall be required he shall perform no official act until the same is given and approved. He shall at the expiration of every week pay to the treasurer all money collected by him by virtue of his office, and he shall at the first meeting in every month report to the council the money so collected and paid. He shall perform such other duties and in such manner and according to such rules and regulations as the council may prescribe. He is authorized to require the owners of property subject to taxation to render a correct statement thereof under oath to be administered by him or one of his deputies. He is empowered to appoint one or more deputies, the salary of one of whom shall be paid by the city. He shall receive a salary of not more than two thousand dollars per annum, to be fixed by the council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments.

Sec. 36. Powers and Duties of City Engineer.—The city engineer shall possess such powers and perform such duties as the city council may prescribe, and he shall receive a salary of not more than twelve hundred dollars per annum, to be fixed by the council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments. He shall execute a bond payable to the city in such amount as the council may prescribe, with sufficient security to be approved by the council and conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties in accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city.

Sec. 37. Powers and Duties of City Attorney, etc.—The city attorney shall represent the city of Fort Worth in all cases now pending or hereafter to be brought in any court in favor of or against said city. He shall attend all meetings of the city council and give his advice and counsel when called upon to do so. He shall give his opinion upon all legal questions concerning the city. He shall aid when requested in drawing and digesting all ordinances, resolutions, regulations, charters, and amended charters, and he shall render such other professional services as the council may require. He shall have the power to administer oaths in any matter pertaining to the duties of his office. He may appoint a deputy to be paid by himself to represent him in the recorder's court. He shall receive a salary of not more than twenty-five hundred dollars per annum, to be fixed by the council as hereinafter provided, payable in monthly installments. The council may when it deems it necessary employ counsel to assist the city attorney in any matter or suit affecting the city and may pay him such compensation as may be agreed upon. The city attorney shall give such bond as the city council may require.

Sec. 38. Further Duties may be required of Officers, etc.—The city council may from time to time require other and further duties of all officers whose duties are herein prescribed, and define and prescribe the duties and powers of all officers appointed or elected to any office of the city, and whose duties are not herein specially mentioned, and fix their compensation when not herein fixed. They may also require bonds to be given to said corporation by all officers for the faithful performance of their duties. The council shall also provide for the filling of vacancies and in all offices not herein provided for, and in all cases of vacancies the same shall be filled for the unexpired term only. No officer elected by the council shall hold office longer than the continuance of the council electing him except school trustees.

Sec. 39. Salaries of Officers to be Fixed, etc.—The city council shall on or before the first day of January next preceding each election after the first under this act fix the salaries of all the officers of said city who are to be chosen at said election, and shall at the same time fix the salaries of all the officers who are to be appointed by the next council, and the salaries so fixed shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which said officers shall be elected or appointed. The salary of no officer whose term shall continue until the entering upon duty by officers to be chosen at the election held on the first Tuesday in April, 1890, or until the election of officers by the council next thereafter, shall be affected by this act, but their salaries shall remain as fixed by the city council on the first day of January, 1889, until their terms expire: Provided, however, That from and after April 1, 1889, the present mayor of said city shall receive during the continuance of his term of office a salary payable in monthly installments at the rate of $2000 per annum.

ARTICLE IV.—GENERAL POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

Sec. 40. City Council, who shall Preside Over.—The mayor and aldermen shall constitute the city council of said city. The council shall meet at such times and places as they shall by resolution designate. The mayor shall preside over all meetings of the council, but shall not vote unless there is a tie, when he shall give the casting vote: Provided, That he shall in no event have a right to vote in elections. At the first meeting of each new council or as soon thereafter as practicable they shall elect one of their members president pro tem. who shall hold his office for one year. In case of the inability, absence, failure, or refusal of the mayor to act, the president pro tem. shall perform the duties of mayor and shall when so acting receive the compensation of the mayor. If both the mayor and president pro tem. are absent from any meeting, the council may appoint any one of their members to preside thereat.

Sec. 41. Shall Hold Stated and Special Meetings.—The city council shall hold stated meetings, and the mayor may of his own motion or on the application of three or more aldermen call special meetings by notice to each of the members of the council, the secretary, and city attorney, served personally or left at their usual place of business or abode. Petitions and remonstrances may be presented to the council in writing only, and the council shall determine the rules of its proceedings and be the judge of the election and qualification of its members, and have the power to compel the attendance of absent members and punish any member for disorderly conduct. In case when requested by three or more aldermen the mayor shall fail or refuse to call a meeting of the council, then a majority of the aldermen shall have the right to call a meeting, in which event they shall give like notice as the mayor is required to give and shall also notify the mayor.

Sec. 42. Shall Control Finances and Property.—The city council shall have the management and control of the finances and other property real and personal belonging to the city.

Sec. 43. Power to Appropriate Money, etc.—The city council shall have the power to appropriate money and provide for the payment of the debts and expenses of the city.

Sec. 44. Power to Provide Special Funds for Special Purposes.—To provide by ordinance special funds for special purposes and make the same disbursable only for the purpose for which the fund was created, and any officer of the city misappropriating said special fund shall be deemed guilty of malfeasance in office, and shall on complaint of any one interested in said fund so misappropriated be removed from office by the council and be incapable thereafter to hold any office of said city.

Sec. 45. May make Health and Quarantine Regulations.—To make regulations to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases into the city, to make quarantine laws for that purpose, and to enforce them within the city and within ten miles thereof.

Sec. 46. To Provide City with Water, etc.—To provide or cause to be provided the city with water; to make, regulate, and establish public wells, pumps, cisterns, hydrants, reservoirs, and water works of any and every kind whatever, and to have full control thereof; and in furtherance of these objects the city council may by ordinance establish a water works department, and appoint such officers, agents, and directors for the operation thereof as it may deem necessary, and may clothe them with such authority as it may deem necessary.

Sec. 47. Control of Streets and Alleys, etc.—To have the exclusive control and power over streets, alleys, public grounds, and highways within the city, and to abate and remove encroachments or obstructions thereof; to open, alter, widen, extend, establish, regulate, grade, clean, or otherwise improve such streets, alleys, highways, and public grounds; to put drains or sewers therein, and to prevent the encumbering thereof in any manner, and to protect same from any encroachment or injury, and to regulate and alter the grade of premises, and to require the filling up and raising of same; and said city council shall also have power to alter or vacate the alley in any block of ground within the city upon the written application of the owner of the block, or, if there be more than one owner of such block, then upon the written application of all the owners thereof uniting in such application, and such alley so vacated shall thereupon revert to and become the property of the owner of the block of which it was a part, or, if more than one, then the owners of the adjoining lots therein, each extending to the center of the alley so vacated.

Sec. 48. May Establish, etc., and Keep in Repair Bridges, etc.—To establish, erect, construct, regulate, and keep in repair bridges, culverts, and sewers, sidewalks, curbings, and crossways, and to regulate the construction and use of the same, and to abate and punish any obstructions or encroachments thereon; and the cost of construction and repairing walks and curbing shall be defrayed by the owner of the lot or part of lot or block fronting on the sidewalks or curbing, and the cost of any sidewalks constructed by the city shall be collected if necessary by the sale of the lot or part of lot or block on which it fronts, together with the cost of the collection, in such a manner as the city council may by ordinance provide, and a sale of any lot or part of lot or block to enforce collection of cost of sidewalks shall convey a good title to the purchaser, and the balance of proceeds of sale after paying the amount due the city and costs of sale shall be paid by the city to the owners, and the city council may pass any ordinance deemed necessary in furtherance of the provisions of this section.

Sec. 49. May Provide Light and Gas for the City.—To provide for lighting the streets and erecting lamp posts and lamps therein and regulating the lighting thereof, and from time to time create, alter, or extend lamp districts; to exclusively regulate, direct, and control the laying and repairing of the gas pipes and fixtures and the establishment and maintenance of electric or other lights in the streets, alleys, sidewalks, and elsewhere.

Sec. 50. May Establish Markets, etc.—To establish or erect or cause to be established or erected markets and market houses; designate, control, and regulate market places and privileges; inspect and determine the mode of inspecting meat, fish, vegetables, and all produce and every article and thing therein brought for sale.

Sec. 51. May Improve Public Grounds, Cemeteries, etc.—To provide for the inclosing, regulating, and improving all public grounds and cemeteries belonging to the city, and to direct and regulate the planting and preserving of ornaments and shade trees in the streets, sidewalks, or public grounds.

Sec. 52. May Establish Hospitals, etc.—To erect or establish one or more hospitals and to control and regulate the same, and to prohibit or permit the establishment of private hospitals.

Sec. 53. May Prevent the Incumbering of Streets, etc.—To prevent the incumbering of the streets, alleys, sidewalks, and public grounds with carriages, wagons, carts, hacks, buggies, or any vehicle whatsoever, boxes, lumber, timber, firewood, posts, awnings, signs, or any other substance or material whatever or in any other manner whatever; to compel all persons to keep all weeds, filth, and any kind of rubbish from the sidewalks and streets and gutters in front of the premises occupied by them, and to require and compel the owners of the property to fill up, grade, gravel, and otherwise improve the sidewalks in front of and adjoining their property; also to inspect the construction of buildings and to cause unsafe buildings to be made safe or to be removed, and to prohibit the use of materials deemed unsafe.

Sec. 54. May Establish, etc., a Free Library.—To establish a free library and to adopt rules and regulations for the proper management thereof, and to appropriate such part of the revenues of the city for the management and increase of such free library as the city council may determine.

Sec. 55. May Restrain, etc., the Sale, etc., of Intoxicating Liquors.—To restrain, regulate, and prohibit the selling or giving away indirectly to evade a tax or penalty of intoxicating or malt liquors by any person within the city, except by persons duly licensed; to forbid or punish the selling or giving away of any intoxicating or malt liquors to any minor, apprentice, or habitual drunkard.

Sec. 56. May Close Drinking Houses, etc., on Sunday.—To close drinking houses, saloons, bar rooms, beer saloons, and all places or establishments where intoxicating or fermented liquors are sold on Sundays, and also all places of amusement and business.

Sec. 57. May Prevent Sale of Liquors in Certain Places.—The city council shall have full power by ordinance to prevent the sale or giving away of any intoxicating liquors in any house or other place where theatrical or dramatic representations are given, and also to prevent intoxicating liquors of any description from being brought into any house or place where such representations are given under any pretext whatsoever.

Sec. 58. May Regulate Butchers, etc.—To make such rules and regulations in relation to butchers as they may deem necessary and proper.

Sec. 59. May Regulate Inspection, etc., of Provisions.—To regulate the inspection of beef, pork, flour, meal, salt, milk, oleomargarine, and other provisions, whisky and other liquors to be sold in barrels, hogsheads, and other vessels and packages; to appoint weighers, gaugers, and inspectors, and prescribe their duties and regulate their compensation.

Sec. 60. May Regulate Weight and Quality of Bread.—To regulate the weight and quality of the bread to be sold or used within the city.

Sec. 61. May Create and Regulate Police.—To create, establish, and regulate the police of the city; to appoint watermen and policemen, and to prescribe their duties and powers and compensation.

Sec. 62. May Suppress Riots, etc.—To suppress and prevent any riot, affray, noise, disturbance, or disorderly assembly in any public or private place within the city.

Sec. 63. May Prevent, etc., Horse Racing, Abuse of Animals, etc.—To prevent, prohibit, and suppress horse racing, immoderate riding or driving in the streets; to prohibit and punish the abuse of animals; to compel persons to fasten their horses or other animals attached to vehicles or otherwise while standing or remaining in the streets.

Sec. 64. May Punish Vagrants, etc.—To restrain and punish vagrants, mendicants, street beggars, and prostitutes.

Sec. 65. May Establish Pounds, etc.—To establish and regulate public pounds, and to regulate, restrain, and prohibit the running at large of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, swine, and goats, and all other animals, and to authorize the distraining, impounding, and sale of the same for the cost of the proceeding and the penalty incurred, and to order their destruction when they can not be sold, and to impose penalties on the owners thereof for a violation of any ordinance relating thereto.

Sec. 66. May Tax, etc., Dogs.—To tax, regulate, or restrain and prohibit the running at large of dogs, and to authorize their destruction when at large contrary to ordinances, and to impose penalties on the owners or keepers thereof for violation of such ordinances.

Sec. 67. May Prohibit, etc., Firing of Arms, etc.—To prohibit and restrain the firing of fire crackers, guns, and pistols, use of velocipedes or use of any pyrotechnic or other amusement or practices tending to annoy persons passing in the streets or sidewalks or to frighten horses or teams; to restrain and prohibit the ringing of bells, blowing of horns and bugles, crying of goods, and all other noises, practices, and performances tending to the collection of persons on the streets and sidewalks by auctioneers and others for the purpose of business or amusement or otherwise.

Sec. 68. May Abate Nuisances.—To abate all nuisances which may injure or affect the public health or comfort in any manner they may deem expedient.

Sec. 69. May Do, etc., to Promote Health and Suppress Disease.—To do all the acts and make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient to the promotion of health or suppression of disease.

Sec. 70. May Co-operate with Counties, etc.—The city council may co-operate with the commissioners court in making such improvements connected with the city and county as may be deemed by the city council and the commissioners court necessary to improve the public health and promote efficient sanitary regulations, and by mutual arrangement they may provide for the construction of said improvements and the payments thereof.

Sec. 71. May Compel the Cleansing of Premises.—To compel the owner or occupant of any grocery, soap, tallow, or chandler establishment, or blacksmith shop, tannery, stable, slaughter house, distillery, brewery, sewers, privy, hide house, or any unwholesome or nauseous house or place, to cleanse, remove, or abate the same as may be necessary for the health, comfort, and convenience of the inhabitants.

Sec. 72. May Direct the Location of Certain Establishments.—To direct the location of business, tanneries, blacksmith shops, foundries, livery stables, and any manufacturing establishments; to direct the location and regulate the management and construction of, restrain, abate, and prohibit within the city limits slaughtering establishments and hide houses or establishments for keeping and curing hides, establishments for making soap, for steaming or rendering lard, tallow, offal, and such other substances as may be rendered, and all other establishments or places where any nauseous, offensive, or unwholesome business may be carried on.

Sec. 73. May Regulate the Burial of the Dead, etc.—To regulate the burial of the dead; to purchase, establish, and regulate one or more cemeteries; to regulate the registration of deaths, marriages, and births; to direct the returning and keeping of bills of mortality.

Sec. 74. May Define Nuisances and Punish Persons Guilty Thereof.—To abate and remove nuisances and to punish the author thereof by penalties and fine, and to define and declare what shall be nuisances and authorize and direct the summary abatement thereof.

Sec. 75. May Establish, etc., Work Houses, etc.—To erect and establish one or more work house or houses of correction within or without the city limits, make all necessary rules and regulations thereof, and appoint all necessary keepers or assistants. In such work house or house of correction may be confined all vagrants, stragglers, idlers, suspicious and disorderly persons who may be committed by the recorder; and any person who shall fail or refuse to pay the fine, penalty, or cost imposed for any misdemeanor or breach of any ordinance of the city may, instead of being committed to jail, be kept therein subject to labor and confinement.

Sec. 76. May Compel Convicts to Labor on the Streets, etc.—To compel and force all offenders against any ordinance of the city found guilty by the recorder and sentenced to fine, who shall fail or refuse to pay such fine and all cost and penalties, to labor on the streets or alleys of the city or on any public work, under such rules and regulations as may by ordinance be established.

Sec. 77. May Prevent Trespasses, etc., and Punish Offenders.—To prevent all trespasses, breaches of the peace and good order, assaults and batteries, fighting, quarreling, using abusive, obscene, profane, and insulting language, misdemeanors, and all disorderly conduct, and punish all persons thus offending.

Sec. 78. May Prevent and Punish Keeping Disorderly Houses.—To prevent and punish the keeping of houses wherein indecent, lewd, or immodest dramatic or theatrical representations are given, houses of prostitution within the city, and to adopt summary measures for the removal or suppression of all such establishments.

Sec. 79. May Require Owner of Drains, etc., to Fill up, Cleanse, etc.—To require the owner of private drains, sinks, and privies to fill up, cleanse, drain, alter, relay, repair, fix, and improve the same, as may be ordered by any resolution or ordinance of said city; and in the event of any failure, neglect, or refusal to comply with any such order the party so failing shall be liable to fine. In the event of there being no person in the city on whom such order can be served, the city may have such work done and such improvements made on account of the owner thereof, and all costs, charges, and expenses shall be a lien on the property on the filing of a memorandum by the mayor under the corporate seal of the city and recording the same with the clerk of the county court; and the city may enforce said lien and institute suit in the corporate name and obtain judgment against said party for the amount so due as aforesaid in any court having jurisdiction.

Sec. 80. May Control, etc., the Laying of Railroad Tracks, etc.—To direct and control the laying and construction of railroad tracks, turnouts, and switches, or prohibit the same, in the streets, avenues, and alleys, unless the same shall have been authorized by law, and the location of depots within the city; to require that railroad tracks, turnouts, and switches shall be so constructed as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of streets, avenues, and alleys, and that sufficient space shall be left on either side of said track for the safe and convenient passage of teams, carriages, and other vehicles and persons; to require railroad companies to keep in repair the streets, avenues, or alleys through which their track may run, and if ordered by the city council to construct and keep in repair suitable crossings at the intersection of streets, avenues, and alleys, and ditches, sewers, and culverts, when the city council shall deem it necessary, and to regulate or prohibit the blowing of locomotive whistles within the city; to direct the use and regulate the speed of locomotive engines in said city or to prevent and prohibit the use or running of the same within the city: Provided,

That the provisions of this article shall apply to railroads known as steam railroads, and not to city, street, or horse railroads.

Sec. 81. May Regulate Construction, Repair, and Operation of Street Railroads.—The city council shall have power to compel horse railroads or other city or street railroad companies to keep their roads in repair and to make them conform to the grades of the streets upon which their tracks may be laid whenever said streets shall have been graded by the city, and to restrain the rate of speed so as not to exceed seven miles per hour, and to compel said city railroads to supply ample accommodations for the safe and convenient travel of the people on the streets where their track may run, and to compel said city railroads to furnish safe, comfortable, and convenient cars for the transportation of passengers. The city council may enforce these regulations by proper ordinances, with suitable penalties for any violation of said ordinances.

Sec. 82. The city council may fix and regulate the privileges or the right to use or occupy the streets, alleys, or sidewalks for the laying of rails or pipes or the erection of poles.

Sec. 83. May Prevent, etc., Dead Animals, etc., being Deposited within the City Limits.—To prevent any person from bringing, depositing, or having within the limits of said city any dead carcass or any other offensive or unwholesome substance or matter, and to require the removal or destruction by any person who shall have placed or caused to be placed upon or near his premises or elsewhere of any substance or matter, filth, or any putrid or unsound, beef, pork, or fish, hides, or skins of any kind, and on his default to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city, and require the owner of any dead animal to remove the same to such place as may be designated.

Sec. 84. May Prevent, etc., the Driving of Animals into or through the City. To prevent, regulate, and control the driving of cattle, horses, and all other animals into or through the city.

Sec. 85. Power to Pass, etc., Ordinances, etc., and Other Powers.—The city council shall have power to pass, publish, amend, or repeal all ordinances, rules, and police regulations not contrary to the constitution of this state for the good government, peace, and order of the city and the trade and commerce thereof that may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers vested by this charter in the corporation, the city government, or in any department or office thereof; to enforce the observance of all such rules, ordinances, and police regulations, and to punish violations thereof by fines, penalties, and costs; but no fine or penalty shall exceed two hundred dollars; and for any fine, penalty, and costs imposed by the recorder in the trial of any cause or complaint before him execution may issue to collect such fine, penalty, and costs, to be levied and executed in the same manner that executions are from the district or county court. The same shall be issued by the recorder to the marshal, who in levying on property and selling shall have like power and authority as the sheriff in executions issued from the district or county court, and the laws of the state so far as applicable shall apply to and be in full force and effect as the executions issued from the recorder's court; and any person upon whom any fine or penalty is imposed may be committed until the payment of the same with costs, and in default thereof may be imprisoned in the city prison or work house or house of correction, or may be required to work on the streets or other public work of the city for such time and in such manner as may be provided by ordinance or by law.

Sec. 86. Power to Provide for Trial Fees, etc.—The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the payment by all persons convicted of violations of ordinances before the recorder of a trial fee not exceeding ten dollars, in addition to or exclusive of the costs above allowed, to be fixed by the council in proceedings before the recorder, the same to be paid into the city treasury for the use and benefit of the city.

Sec. 87. Power Over the Finances of the City.—To appropriate so much of the revenues of the city emanating from whatever source for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city and for the purpose of improving the public markets and streets, erecting and conducting city hospitals, city hall, school houses, water works, sewers, and other public improvements as they may from time to time deem expedient, and in furtherance of these objects they shall have power to borrow money upon the credit of the city and issue coupon bonds of the city therefor in such sum or sums as they may deem expedient, to bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at such place as may be fixed by ordinance: Provided, That the aggregate amount of bonds issued by the city council shall at no time exceed six per cent of the value of the property within said city subject to ad valorem tax: Provided further, That in determining whether at any time the amount of bonds issued by the city is in excess of said limits of six per cent of the value of the property within said city subject to ad valorem tax the debt created by the assumption heretofore by said city of the payment of bonds issued by the Fort Worth Water Works Company shall not be considered or construed to be any part of the bonded indebtedness of said city, but said city shall have the right to issue bonds up to said limit of six per cent regardless of said water works debt.

Sec. 88. City Bonds shall Specify What, etc.—All bonds shall specify for what purpose they were issued and shall not be invalid if sold for less than their par value, and when any bonds are issued by the city a fund shall be provided to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to redeem the bonds, which fund shall not be diverted nor drawn upon for any other purpose, and the city treasurer shall honor no drafts on said fund except to pay interest upon or redeem said bonds for which it was provided. The city council shall have power to invest the sinking fund in United States bonds, Tarrant County bonds, or bonds of the city of Fort Worth.

Sec. 89. Bonds Shall be Signed, etc., and Payable Where and When, etc.—Said bonds shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the secretary and payable at such places and such times as may be fixed by ordinance not less than ten nor more than fifty years.

Sec. 90. Bonds Shall be Registered in Comptroller's Office.—It shall be the duty of the mayor whenever any bond or bonds are issued to forward the same to the comptroller of public accounts of the state whose duty it shall be to register said bond or bonds in a book kept for that purpose and to indorse on each bond so registered his certificate of registration, and to give at the request of the mayor his certificate certifying to the amount of bonds so registered in his office up to date.

Sec. 91. Mayor shall Furnish Statement to Comptroller; Duties of Comptroller, etc.—It shall be the duty of the mayor at the time of forwarding any of said bonds for registration to furnish the comptroller with a statement of the value of all taxable property real and personal in the city, also with a statement of the amount of tax levied for the payment of interest and to create a sinking fund. It is hereby made the duty of the comptroller to see that a tax is levied and collected by the city sufficient to pay the interest semi-annually on all bonds issued and to create a sinking fund sufficient to pay the said bonds at maturity, and the said sinking fund is invested in good interest-bearing securities: Provided, however, That whenever said bonds or any one or more of said bonds shall have been paid and returned after cancellation, then the city may issue other bonds in like sum or sums represented by the bonds paid off and returned, but in no instance to exceed the limit of six per cent.

ARTICLE V.—TAXATION.

Sec. 92. The city council may levy, assess, and collect such taxes as may be authorized by law, but no tax for any purpose shall ever be lawful for any one year which shall exceed one and three-fourths per cent of the taxable property of said city; said limit of one and three-fourths per cent to apply to all taxes of every description whatever.

Sec. 93. No Debt shall be Created Unless, etc.—No debt shall ever be created by said city unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and create a sinking fund of at least two per cent thereon.

Sec. 94. Poll Tax.—The city council shall have power to levy and collect an annual poll tax not to exceed one dollar of every male inhabitant of said city over twenty-one and under sixty years old who is a resident thereof at the time of such annual assessment.

Sec. 95. Occupation Taxes and Licenses.—The city council shall have the right to assess and collect occupation taxes, commonly known as licenses, upon all trades, professions, callings, occupations, or other business carried on in said city on which a license or occupation tax is levied by the state and for the same period during which such state tax is levied: Provided, That the license tax so levied and collected shall not exceed one-half of the license tax levied by the state for the same trades, professions, occupations, or other business: And provided further, That no person engaged in mechanical or agricultural pursuits shall ever be required by the city to pay an occupation tax. The license tax shall be collected by the assessor and collector, and shall be paid to that officer by each and every person chargeable therewith before engaging upon any trade, profession, calling, occupation, or business; and the city council shall provide suitable penalties for violations or evasions of this section: Provided, That the city may collect such tax by suit in any court having jurisdiction of the amount. Any person pursuing more than one trade, profession, occupation, calling, or business shall pay on each, and no license shall extend to more than one establishment or include more than one trade, profession, occupation, calling, or business.

Sec. 96. Real Estate.—The term real estate or property as used in this act shall be construed to embrace lots, lands, and all buildings or machinery and structures of every kind erected upon and affixed to same.

Sec. 97. Personal Estate.—The terms personal estate or property as used in this act shall be construed to embrace household furniture, money, goods, capital, chattels, stock and stocks of corporations, moneys or otherwise, and all credits, bonds, and other evidences of debt, owned by residents of said city, and evidences of debt owned by non-residents against residents of the city, whether the same be in or out of said city; all money at interest within or without this city due the person to be taxed, over and above what he pays interest for, and all other debts due residents of the city over and above their indebtedness, and other things denominated as personal property under existing or future state tax laws.

Sec. 98. May Provide for Exemption, etc.—The city council may provide by ordinance for the exemption from taxation of such property as they may deem just and proper: Provided, That nothing contained in the article on taxation shall be construed to prevent the city council from imposing, levying, and collecting special taxes and assessments for the avenues, streets, and alleys of the city as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 99. Power to Provide for Levying and Assessing Taxes, etc.—The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the assessing and levying of the taxes aforesaid and to determine when taxes shall be paid by corporations and when by the individual incorporators: Provided, That no tax shall be levied except by consent of two-thirds of the aldermen elected.

ARTICLE VI.—COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Sec. 100. Power of the Council to Provide for the Collection of Taxes.—The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the prompt collection of all taxes assessed, levied, and imposed under this act and due or to become due to said city, and are hereby authorized and to that end shall have power to sell or cause to be sold real as well as personal property, and shall make all such rules, regulations, and ordain and pass all such ordinances as they may deem necessary for the levying, laying, imposing, assessing, and collecting of any of the taxes herein provided for.

Sec. 101. Power of Council to Regulate Tax Lists, etc.—The city council shall have power by ordinance to regulate the manner and mode of making out tax lists or inventories of property and to prescribe the oath that shall be administered to each person rendering property, and prescribe how and when property shall be rendered, and to prescribe the number and form of assessment rolls and fix the duties and define the powers of the assessor and collector, and adopt such measures as they may deem advisable to secure the assessment of all property within the limits of said city, or subject to taxation under the laws of the city, and collect the tax thereupon.

Sec. 102. State Laws to Govern Assessments and Collections.—The general laws of the state of Texas in force at the time relating to the assessment and collection of state and county taxes shall govern in the assessment and collection of city taxes of said city so far as applicable, except where otherwise herein prescribed: Provided, That said city shall have the power at any time by ordinance to prescribe full rules and regulations on the subject.

Sec. 103. Sales for Taxes.—All sales for taxes shall be made by the assessor and collector in conformity to the general state law on the subject so far as applicable and not herein otherwise provided, and his deed shall have the same force and effect and shall be entitled to the same presumption as a county collector's deed would have in sales made for state and county taxes: Provided, That the city council shall have full power at any time by ordinance to prescribe full rules and regulations on the subject.

Sec. 104. Property Sold, Title, etc.—If at any sale of real estate or personal property for taxes no bid shall be made for any parcel of land or any goods and chattels for a sufficient amount to pay unsatisfied taxes and costs, the same shall be struck off to the city, and thereupon the assessor and collector shall execute to the city a deed for said property which shall vest in the city the same title that any other purchaser would acquire by such purchase, and said city shall have power to sell and convey the same.

Sec. 105. Board of Equalization.—The city council shall have power at any time to establish a board of equalization and define its powers and duties to equalize as near as may be all property subject to or rendered for taxation: Provided, That until it passes such ordinance an act entitled "An Act creating boards of equalization for cities and towns and defining their duties," passed by the legislature of Texas April 4, 1887, shall govern in the equalization of taxes in said city.

Sec. 108. Redemption of Land Sold for Taxes, etc.—The owner of property sold for taxes shall have the right to redeem same at any time within two years after day of sale upon paying to the purchaser double the amount of money paid for the land and all taxes subsequently paid by such purchaser with eight per cent interest on the latter from date of payment.

ARTICLE VII.—PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Sec. 107. Fort Worth a Separate School District.—The city of Fort Worth is constituted a separate and independent school district, and the city council is vested with exclusive power to maintain, regulate, direct, and govern all the public free schools now established or hereafter to be established within its limits, and it is furthermore authorized to pass such ordinances, rules, and regulations not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state as may be necessary to establish new schools, purchase building sites, construct school houses, and generally to promote free public education within its limits.

Sec. 108.—Council may Appoint Trustees.—The city council of said city may appoint six or more persons of good moral character and qualified voters of said city as a board of trustees of the schools within its limits, of which board the mayor shall be ex officio chairman.

Sec. 109. Term of Office of Trustee.—A school trustee shall serve without compensation and shall hold office for the term of two years and until his successor is qualified, and an appointment to fill a vacancy shall be for the unexpired term only. The terms of two of the trustees appointed hereunder shall expire on the first day of May, 1889, after their appointment, and two on the first day of May of each succeeding year.

Sec. 110. Oath of Trustee.—Before any trustee enters upon the duties of his office he shall swear that he will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of his office, and will take any other oath that may be prescribed by the city council and file such affidavit with the mayor.

Sec. 111. Trustees may Adopt Rules, etc.—Said board of trustees may adopt such rules, regulations, and by-laws for their own government as they may deem proper.

Sec. 112. Schools under Control of Trustees.—The public free schools of said city shall be under the control and supervision of such board of trustees, and said board when appointed shall have power to control, manage, and govern said schools and order the payment of school funds for school purposes.

Sec. 113. City to Receive Pro Rata of School Funds.—Said city shall receive from the state such pro rata of the available school fund as its scholastic population may entitle it to.

Sec. 114. School Tax Levied, When.—If at an election held for that purpose two-thirds of the qualified voters of the city shall vote in favor thereof, such an amount shall be raised by taxation not to exceed one-half one per cent in addition to the pro rata of the available school fund received from the state as may be necessary to conduct the schools for ten months in the year. Such election shall be held after thirty days notice published in some newspaper of the city upon the petition of at least fifty voters who are tax payers of said city. One election and no more shall be held in any one calendar year to ascertain whether a school tax shall be levied. If the proposition is carried the school tax shall continue to be annually levied and collected for at least two years and thereafter unless it is discontinued at an election held to determine whether the tax shall be continued or discontinued at the request of five hundred voters who are tax payers of said city. When the tax is continued no election to discontinue it shall be held in two years; when the tax is discontinued no election to levy a tax in the same year. Nothing herein contained shall authorize the imposition of taxes exceeding one and three-fourths per cent of the taxable property of said city for all purposes, and if that limit has at any time been reached there shall be no election to determine whether a school tax shall be levied.

ARTICLE VIII.—FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 115. May Regulate and Control the Erection, etc., of Wooden Buildings. The city council for the purpose of guarding against the calamities of fire may prohibit the erection, building, placing, moving, or repairing wooden buildings within such limits within said city as they may designate and prescribe, and may within such limits prohibit the moving or putting up of wooden buildings from without said limits, and may also prohibit the removal of any wooden building from one place to another within said limits, and may direct, require, and prescribe that all buildings within the limits so designated and prescribed as aforesaid shall be made or constructed of fire-proof materials, and to prohibit the rebuilding or repairing of wooden buildings within the fire limits when the same shall have been damaged to the extent of fifty per cent of the value thereof, and may prescribe the manner of ascertaining such damages; may declare all the dilapidated buildings to be nuisances and direct the same to be repaired, removed, or abated in such manner as they shall prescribe and direct; to declare all wooden buildings in the fire limits which they deem dangerous to contiguous buildings or in causing or promoting fires to be nuisances and require and cause the same to be removed in such manner as they shall prescribe.

Sec. 116. May Prohibit, etc., Dangerous Conditions of Chimneys, etc.—The city council shall have power to prevent and prohibit the dangerous conditions of chimneys, flues, fire places, stove pipes, ovens, or any other apparatus used in or about any building or manufactory, and to cause the same to be removed or placed in a secure and safe condition when considered dangerous.

Sec. 117. May Prevent Deposits of Ashes in Improper Places, etc.—To prevent the deposit of ashes in places where they would be liable to produce fire or in any wooden box or barrel or within any wooden building, and to appoint one or more officers to enter all buildings and inclosures to examine and discover whether the same are in a dangerous state and to cause such as may be dangerous to be put in a safe condition.

Sec. 118. May Require Inhabitants to Keep Fire Buckets.—To require the inhabitants to keep and provide as many fire buckets and ladders or other means to reach the roof as they shall prescribe, and to regulate the use thereof in times of fire.

Sec. 119. May Regulate Carrying on of Business Dangerous in Promoting Fires.—To regulate or prevent the carrying on of manufactories and works dangerous in promoting or causing fires; to prohibit or regulate the building and erection of cotton presses and sheds.

Sec. 120. May Regulate, etc., Use of Fire Works and Fire Arms.—To regulate or prevent and prohibit the use of fire works and fire arms.

Sec. 121. May Control, etc., the Storing of Gunpowder, etc.—To direct, control, or prohibit the keeping and management of houses or any buildings for the storing of gunpowder and other combustible, explosive, or dangerous materials within the city, and to regulate the keeping and conveying of the same.

Sec. 122. May Compel Owners of Buildings to have Scuttles, etc.—To compel the owners or occupants of houses or other buildings to have scuttles in the roofs and stairs and ladders leading to the same.

Sec. 123. May Provide Regulations for Extinguishment of Fires.—To authorize the mayor, officers of fire companies, or an officer of said city to keep away from the vicinity of any fire all idle, disorderly, and suspicious persons and arrest and imprison the same, and compel all officers of the city and all other persons to aid in the extinguishment of fires and in the preservation of property exposed to danger thereat and in preventing goods from being stolen, and generally to establish such regulations for the prevention and extinguishment of fires as the city council may deem expedient.

Sec. 124. May Procure Fire Engines, etc.—The city council may procure fire engines and other apparatus for the extinguishment of fires and have control thereof and provide engine houses for keeping and preserving the same, and shall have power to organize fire, hook and ladder, hose and ax companies, and fire brigades; and the companies so organized, with such assistant engineers as may be provided for and the chief engineer, shall constitute the fire department of the city. Each company shall have the right to elect its own members and officers. The engineers shall be chosen in such manner as said department may determine, subject to the approval of the city council, who shall define the duties of said officers and pass such ordinances as they may deem proper for the interest and welfare of said department and to contribute to the efficiency thereof. All officers so elected and approved shall be commissioned by the mayor, and the said companies, officers, and members shall observe and be governed by the ordinances of said city relating to the fire department, and companies shall have power to adopt their own constitution and by-laws not inconsistent with the provisions of this charter and the ordinances of said city, and said department shall take the care and management of the engines and other implements and apparatus provided and used for the extinguishment of fires, and their powers and duties shall be prescribed and defined by the city council.

Sec. 125. Building may be Torn Down or Blown Up, etc.. When, and the Damages in such cases.—When any building in the city is on fire it shall be lawful for the chief or acting chief engineer, with the concurrence of the mayor or in his absence two aldermen, to direct such building or any other buildings which they may deem hazardous and likely to take fire and communicate to other buildings to be torn down or blown up or destroyed, and no action shall be maintained against any person or against the city therefor; but any person interested in any such building so destroyed or injured may within six months and not thereafter apply in writing to the city council to assess and pay the damage he has sustained; and if the city council and the claimant can not agree on the terms of adjustment then the application of such claimant shall be referred to three commissioners, one to be appointed by the claimant, one by the city council, and the third by both commissioners, and the decision of the majority shall constitute the award in the case. They shall be sworn faithfully to execute their duty according to the best of their ability, shall have power to subpoena and swear witnesses, and shall give all parties a fair and impartial hearing, and give notice of time and place of meeting. Said commissioners shall be qualified voters and owners of real estate in the city, shall take into account the probabilities whether the said building would have been destroyed by fire if it had not been so pulled down or destroyed, and the loss of insurance upon said property if any caused by pulling down, blowing up, or destroying said building, and may report that no damage should equitably be allowed to such claimant.

Sec. 126. Damage, Satisfied How.—Whenever a report shall be made and finally confirmed for the appraising of said damages, a compliance with the terms thereof by the city council shall be deemed a full satisfaction of said damages.

ARTICLE IX.—SANITARY DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 127. May Appoint Health Physician, etc.—The city council may appoint a health physician and as many health inspectors as they may deem necessary, and shall prescribe by ordinance the powers and duties and compensation of the same.

Sec. 128. Power to Make Regulations in Regard to Pestilence and Disease.—The city council shall have power to take such measures as they may deem effectual to prevent the entrance of any pestilence, contagious or infectious diseases into the city; to stop, detain, and examine for that purpose any person coming from any place infected or believed to be infected with that disease; to establish, maintain, and regulate pest houses or hospitals at some place within the city or not exceeding five miles beyond its bounds; to cause any person who shall be suspected of being infected with any such disease to be sent to such pest house or hospital; to remove from the city or destroy any furniture, wearing apparel or property of any kind tainted or infected with pestilence or which shall be likely to pass into such a state as to generate or propagate disease; to abate all nuisances of every description which are or may become injurious to the public health in any manner that they may deem expedient, and from time to time do all acts, make all regulations, and pass all ordinances which they shall deem expedient for the preservation of health and the suppression of disease in the city, and any claim for damage arising from such destruction of said property shall be submitted to arbitration as provided in section 125 in reference to the settlement of claims for property destroyed in case of fire.

Sec. 129. Owner, etc., of Public Conveyance Conveying Into City Persons Sick with Contagious Diseases Liable to Punishment, When.—The owner, driver, or conductor in charge of any stage, railroad car, or public conveyance which shall enter the city having on board any person sick of a malignant fever or pestilential, contagious, or infectious disease, unless such person became sick on the way and could not be left, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable with fine; and such owner, driver, conductor, or person in charge shall within three hours after the arrival of such sick person report in writing the facts with the name of such person and the house where he was put down in the city to the health physician, and every neglect to comply with these provisions shall be a misdemeanor and punishable by fine.

Sec. 130. Any Person Liable to Punishment, When.—Any person who shall knowingly bring or cause to be brought into the city any person or property of any kind tainted or infected with malignant fever or pestilential or infectious or contagious disease shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by fine.

Sec. 131. Inn Keeper, Physician, etc., shall Report Persons Sick with Small Pox, etc.—Every keeper of an inn, hotel, tavern, boarding or lodging house in the city in which any inmate thereof shall be sick with small pox, varioloid, yellow fever, or other infectious, contagious, or pestilential disease, shall upon such facts coming to his knowledge forthwith report the same to the health officer. Every physician in the city shall report under his hand to the officer above named, residence and disease of every patient whom he shall have sick of any infectious or pestilential disease within six hours after he shall have visited such patient. A violation of either of the provisions of this section or any part of either of them shall be a misdemeanor punishable by fine.

Sec. 132. Power to have City Cleansed, etc.—The city council shall have power to require the filling up, draining, and regulating of any lot or lots, grounds or yards, or any other places in the city which shall be unwholesome or have stagnated water therein or from any other cause be in such condition as to be liable to produce disease; also to cause all premises to be inspected and to impose fines on the owners of houses under which such stagnant water may be found, and to pass such ordinances as they may deem necessary for the purpose aforesaid, and for the making, filling up, altering, or repairing and constructing with sewers and compelling cleanliness of all sinks and privies, and directing the mode and material for constructing them in future, and for cleansing and disinfecting the same, and for the cleansing of any house, building, establishment, lot, yard, or ground from filthy carrion or impure or unwholesome matter of any kind, and to punish any owner or occupant violating the provisions of any ordinance so passed as aforesaid; and the city council shall also in addition to the foregoing remedy have the power to cause any of the improvements above mentioned to be done at the expense of the city on account of the owners and cause expenses to be assessed on the real estate or lot or lots benefited thereby, and on filing with the county clerk of Tarrant County a statement by the mayor of such expenses shall have a first and privileged lien on such property to secure such expenditures and twelve per cent interest per annum thereon. For any such expenditures and interest as aforesaid suit may be instituted and recovery had in the name of the corporation in any court having jurisdiction, and the statement so made as aforesaid or a certified copy thereof shall be full proof and satisfactory evidence of the amount expended in any such improvements.

Sec. 133. Health Physician may be Authorized to Do What.—The health physician may be authorized by the city council when the public interest requires to exercise for the time being such of the powers and perform such of the duties of the chief of police as the city council may in their discretion direct and authorize; to enter all houses and other places private or public at all times in the discharge of his duties under this charter, having first asked permission of the owners or occupants. The city council shall have power to punish by fine any neglect or refusal to observe the orders and regulations of the health physician.

ARTICLE X.—STREETS AND ALLEYS.

Sec. 134. Power of City Council to have Streets Graded.—The City Council shall be invested with full power and authority to gravel, repair, pave, or otherwise improve any avenue, street, or alley, or any portion thereof, within the limits of said city whenever by a two-thirds vote of the aldermen elected they may deem such improvement for the public interest: Provided, The city shall pay one-third and the owner of the property two-thirds thereof, except at the intersection of streets from lot to lot across the street either way shall be paid for by the city alone; and said costs shall be assessed against the property fronting on said street so improved, to be collected in accordance with Section 10, Article VI, unless herein otherwise provided. All moneys collected from these assessments shall be appropriated exclusively to the payment of the bonds issued for the payment of the cost of said improvement.

Sec. 135. Estimate of Cost of Improvement.—Whenever the city council shall determine to make any such improvement it shall cause an estimate to be made by the city engineer or some other officer of the city, or by a committee of three aldermen; and such engineer or other officer or committee shall also report a full list of all lots or fractional lots, giving number and size of same and the number of the block in which situated and the names of the owners thereof if known, and such other information as may be required by the council; and if there be any lot or fractional lot the owner of which is not known the same shall be entered in said list as unknown. It shall be the duty of the officer or committee aforesaid to enter in said list opposite each lot or fractional lot lying and being on each side of the street, avenue, or alley so to be improved as aforesaid one-third of the estimated expense for such work or improvement on such avenue, street, or alley fronting, adjoining, or opposite such lot or fractional lot, and on the acceptance and approval of said report and list by the city council said amount shall be imposed, levied, and assessed as taxes, and shall be a lien upon the property for the payment of the same.

Sec. 136. Property Levied On and Sold, etc.—After such action on the part of the city council as above provided for, such officer or committee shall give such notice as may be required by ordinance of said tax being due and within what time payable, and shall commence forthwith to collect the same; and after the expiration of the period for payment of said tax said officer or committee shall levy on so much of any property on said list in which said tax has not been paid as will be sufficient to pay the same, and the same notice of sale as is required in sales for other taxes shall be given; and if said tax be not paid before the day of sale said officer or committee shall sell said property in the name and under the circumstances and to the extent and subject to the same conditions which are or may be provided by ordinance for the sale of real estate in the city charged with the payment of taxes imposed by said corporation; and said officer or committee shall execute a deed to the purchaser at any such sale, and all the provisions of this act in reference to a deed from the assessor and collector shall apply to the deed provided by this section.

Sec. 137. Suit Against Owner of Property.—In addition to the authority granted said city council to collect said assessment of taxes as aforesaid, they shall have the power and additional remedy of instituting suit in the corporate name in any court having jurisdiction for the recovery against any owner of property for the amount due for any such work so made as aforesaid, and the city council shall provide by resolution or ordinance under the provisions of this act for carrying out and executing the powers in this chapter conferred, and may adopt such resolutions and enact such ordinances and make such regulations as they may deem necessary.

Sec. 138. Condemnation of Property for Streets, etc.—Whenever the city council of said city shall deem it necessary to take any private property in order to open, change, alter, or widen any public street, avenue, or alley, or for the construction of water mains or sewers within or without the limits of said city, such property may be taken for such purpose by first making just compensation to the owners thereof. If the amount of such compensation can not be agreed upon, it shall be the duty of the city council to cause to be stated in writing the real estate or property sought to be taken, the name of the owner, and his residence if known, and file such statement with the county judge of Tarrant County.

Sec. 139. Judge to Appoint Commissioners.—Upon the filing of such statement, it shall be the duty of the county judge in term time or in vacation to appoint three disinterested freeholders and qualified voters of the county as special commissioners to assess the damages to accrue to the owner by reason of such proposed condemnation.

Sec. 140. Commissioners to be Governed by State Laws, etc.—The commissioners so appointed shall in their proceedings be governed and controlled by the state laws in force in reference to the condemnation of the right of way for railroad companies and the assessment of damages therefor, the city occupying the position of the railroad company, and the laws in reference to application for the condemnation of the right of way for railroad companies, including the measure of damages, the right of appeal, and the like, shall apply to an application by said city under this act for the condemnation of property for the purpose of opening, changing, or widening streets, avenues, or alleys, or for the construction of water mains or sewers, the city to occupy the position of the railroad company.

ARTICLE XI.—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

Sec. 141. Council May Cause Dangerous Buildings to be Removed.—Whenever in the opinion of the city council any building, fence, shed, awning, or any structure of any kind or any part thereof is liable to fall down and endanger persons or property, they may order any owner or agent of the same, or any owner or occupant of the premises on which such building, shed, awning, or other structure stands or to which it is attached, to take down and remove the same or any part thereof within such time as they may direct, and to punish by fine any neglect, failure, or refusal to comply therewith. The city council shall in addition have the power to remove the same at the expense of the city on account of the owner of the property or premises and assess the expenses on the land on which it stood or to which it was attached, and shall by ordinance provide for such assessment, the mode and manner of giving notice, and the means of recovering such expense.

Sec. 142. Execution of Writs in County, etc.—Writs issued by the recorder for offenses against the law may be executed and the accused person arrested by the marshal or any of his deputies or by any policeman of said city anywhere in Tarrant County.

Sec. 143. Proceedings When Peace Bond is Forfeited.—Whenever any person has been required by the recorder to give a peace bond or a bond for good behavior, or any similar bond for good behavior, or any similar bond under this act, and has complied with such requirements, and has violated the conditions of such bond, and the fact is made to appear to the recorder, after due notice to the accused and opportunity to be heard, the offender shall be fined not exceeding the sum of two hundred dollars; and the city may sue in any court having jurisdiction for the recovery of the penalty of said bond. Affidavit must be made charging a violation of the conditions of the bond before the recorder shall proceed to investigate the matter.

Sec. 144. Occupation Licenses Suspended or Revoked.—In all cases where by any provision of this act, or any ordinance passed in pursuance thereof, a person is required to obtain a license for any calling, occupation, business, or avocation, and has on complaint before the recorder been twice adjudged guilty of violating any rule, regulation, or ordinance of the city council relating thereto, the council may suspend or remove the license.

Sec. 145. Official Paper and Contract for Publishing.—The city council shall as soon as may be after the commencement of each municipal year contract by ordinance or resolution with some newspaper published in the city as the official paper thereof and to continue as such until another is elected; and the council shall cause to be published in such paper all ordinances, notices, and other matters required by this title or any ordinance of the city to be published.

Sec. 146. Annual Statement of Receipts, etc.—The city council shall at least ten days before the expiration of each municipal year cause to be published in the official paper of the city a full and correct statement of all receipts and disbursements of the city since the last annual report, together with the sources from which the funds were derived, and showing for what purpose disbursed, the condition of the treasury, together with such other information as may be necessary to a full understanding of the official condition of the city.

Sec. 147. Ordinance to be Published.—Every ordinance imposing any fine or penalty or forfeiture for violation of its provisions shall after the passage thereof be published in every issue of the official paper for ten days, and affidavit of such publication by the printer or publisher of such paper taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths and filed with the secretary shall be conclusive evidence of such publication: Provided, That any other competent evidence may be received to establish the fact of publication. Ordinances requiring publication shall be in force after ten days publication: Provided, That the same shall be published for a longer time if therein expressly provided. Ordinances not requiring publication—and none shall require publication but those imposing fine, penalty, or forfeiture—shall take effect from and after passage unless therein otherwise expressly provided.

Sec. 148. Published Ordinances Admissible in Evidence.—All ordinances of the city published in book or pamphlet form by authority of the city council shall be admitted in evidence in all courts and places without further proof.

Sec. 149. Style of Ordinances.—The style of all ordinances shall be, "Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Fort Worth;" but it may be omitted when published in the form of a book or pamphlet.

Sec. 150. Existing Ordinances not Affected by this Charter, etc.—All ordinances, resolutions, rules, and regulations in force in said city at the time of the taking effect of this law and not in conflict herewith shall remain in full force until altered, amended, or repealed by the city council after this law shall take effect.

Sec. 151. Fines, etc., to be Paid Into the Treasury.—All fines, forfeitures, penalties, trial fees, and costs for the breach or violation of this act, or of any regulation, order, resolution, or ordinance of said city, shall be collected by the city marshal and by him be paid into the city treasury for the use and benefit of the city.

Sec. 152. Resignation of Officers.—Resignations by any officer authorized to be elected or appointed under this law shall be made to the city council in writing subject to their approval and acceptance: Provided, That no officer shall be released from the duties and responsibilities of his office until his successor has been chosen and qualified.

Sec. 153. Removal of Officers.—The city council shall have power to remove any officer for incompetency, corruption, misconduct, habitual drunkenness, or malfeasance in office, after due notice and opportunity to be heard in his defense: Provided, That two-thirds of the aldermen elected shall vote for said removal. In addition to the foregoing power by removal, the city council shall have power at any time to remove any officer elected by them by resolution declaratory of its want of confidence in such officer: Provided, That two-thirds of the aldermen elected vote in favor of said resolution.

Sec. 154. Outgoing Officers to Deliver Books, etc.—Whenever any person shall be removed from any office or his term shall expire or he shall resign, or for any reason he shall cease to act in his official capacity, he shall deliver over to his successor all books, papers, and effects in any way appertaining to his office. In case of his failure or refusal to do so upon demand from his successor, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be fined in any sum not exceeding two hundred dollars after complaint and trial before the recorder's court.

Sec. 155. Defaulting Officer Ineligible, etc.—Any officer intrusted with the collection or custody of funds belonging to the city who shall be in default to the city, besides being liable to criminal prosecution and a civil action for the debt, shall thereafter be incapable of holding any office under said city until the amount of his defalcation with twelve per cent per annum has been fully paid.

Sec. 156. Members of Council Ineligible to Other Offices, etc.—No member of the city council shall hold any other employment or office under the city while he is a member of the council unless herein otherwise provided, and no member of the city council nor any other officer of the city shall be directly or indirectly interested in any work, business, or contract, the expense, price, or consideration of which is to be paid by the city, nor to be surety of any person having contract, work, or business with the city for the performance of which surety may be required, nor to be surety on the official bond of any officer of the city.

Sec. 156a. From and after April 1, 1889, each alderman of said city, including those elected at the election held on the first Tuesday in April, 1888, shall receive a salary of four dollars for each regular meeting and two dollars for each called or adjourned meeting.

Sec. 157. Aldermen to be Fined for Absence, etc.—Each alderman shall be fined three dollars for each meeting he fails to attend, unless on account of his own sickness or that of members of his family. Any member remaining absent from three regular meetings of the board, unless prevented by sickness or the sickness of the members of his family, without having first obtained leave of absence at a regular meeting, shall be deemed to have vacated his office, and the vacancy shall be filled as other cases of vacancy in the office of alderman.

Sec. 158. Power of Council to Prescribe Duties of Officers.—The city council shall have power to prescribe the duties of all officers and persons appointed by them or elected to any office or place whatever, subject to the provisions of this law; to remit in whole or in part on such conditions as may be deemed proper by a vote of two-thirds of the members present any fine or penalty or costs belonging to the city.

Sec. 159. City Exempt from Giving Bond in Cases.—It shall not be necessary in any action, suit, or proceeding in which the city of Fort Worth shall be a party for any bond, undertaking, or security to be executed in behalf of the city either in a trial court or appeal; but all such actions, suits, and proceedings shall be conducted in the manner as if such bond, undertaking, or security had been given, and for all the purposes of such actions, suits, and proceedings the city shall be liable in the same manner and to the same extent as if the bond, undertaking, or security in ordinary cases had been duly executed.

Sec. 160. Cemetery Lots Exempt from Forced Sale.—The cemetery lots which have been or may hereafter be laid out and sold for said city for private places of burial shall with their appurtenances be forever exempt from taxes and forced sale.

Sec. 161. Rights, Actions, etc., Not Affected.—All rights, penalties, fines, and forfeitures in suits otherwise which have accrued under the laws heretofore in force shall be vested in and prosecuted by the corporation hereby created, and no pending suit or right of action shall be affected by the passage of this law, but the same shall be prosecuted or defended, as the case may be, by the corporation hereby created.

Sec. 162. Property, Officers, etc., Not Affected by This Law.—All property real or personal belonging to the city of Fort Worth is hereby vested in the corporation created by this act, and the officers of said city now in office shall continue in same until superseded in conformity to the provisions hereof, but shall be governed by the provisions of this act from and after it takes effect.

Sec. 163. Digest of Ordinances, etc.—There shall be a digest of the ordinances of the city which are of a general nature published within four months after the first Tuesday in April, 1889, and a like digest within every period of five years thereafter: Provided, It shall be the duty of each council to cause to be printed in pamphlet form at the end of each municipal year all the ordinances passed during the said year.

Sec. 164. No Fees of Office.—No officer shall receive fees or perquisites of office, but all the officers of said city shall be compensated by salaries to be fixed by the council as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 164a. This act shall be deemed a public law, and judicial knowledge shall be taken of same in all courts and places.

Sec. 164b. Whenever persons shall offer themselves as sureties on the bond of any officer of this city they shall appear before the city council and satisfy the council of the sufficiency of the security tendered.

Sec. 165. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 166. Whereas it is of great importance that the city of Fort Worth shall have power to secure better government of said city, an emergency exists requiring the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this bill be placed upon its third reading and final passage; therefore an emergency and a great public necessity exists that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

GALVESTON—AMENDMENT TO THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF.

Sec.

1. Amends section 3, 46, and 55, of the charter of said city.

Subsection 3. City council and officers.

Subsection 46. Disorderly houses, suppression of, etc.

Subsection 55. Suppression of riots, etc.

2. Amends charter of said city by adding sections 75a, 75b, and 75c.

Sec.

Section 75a. Power to appropriate money to encourage the enterprise of obtaining deep water.

Section 75b. Power to appropriate money for the purpose of purchasing site, etc., for medical branch of the university.

Section 75c. Power to confirm the title of the City Park.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAPTER 6.—[H. B. No. 607.] An Act entitled An Act to amend the charter of the city of Galveston by amending sections 3, 46, and 55 thereof, and by adding thereto sections 75a, 75b, and 75c.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That sections 3, 46, and 55 of the charter of the city of Galveston be and the same are hereby amended so that they shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 3. The municipal government of said city shall consist of a city council composed of a mayor and one alderman from each ward. A majority of the aldermen elected shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except at a called meeting or meetings for the imposition of taxes when three-fourths of the aldermen elected shall be required unless herein otherwise specified. The officers of the corporation shall be a treasurer, an assessor, a collector, a clerk, a chief of police, an engineer (who shall also be a superintendent of streets), an attorney, an auditor, a health physician, a harbor master, and other officers and agents as the council may direct, all of whom except the clerk shall be nominated by the mayor on the second Monday after each biennial election or as soon thereafter as possible, and each of whom shall be confirmed by a majority of the city council. The city clerk shall be appointed by the mayor on the day above mentioned without requiring the confirmation of the city council. In the event that any nominee of the mayor is not confirmed by the city council, the mayor shall at an adjourned meeting nominate some other person for the office not filled at the regular day, and continue to make a nomination or renomination until some person shall be confirmed by the city council. No person shall be nominated the third time for the same office except by consent of the city council, and the city council can only adjourn from day to day until all of the city officers shall have been nominated and confirmed. Should the mayor fail or refuse to make the nomination or nominations, or after having named four persons for any office all of whom have been rejected by the city council, then in such event the city council shall have the right to elect by a vote of nine some person or office yet unfilled. All of said officers so nominated by the mayor and confirmed by the city council or elected by the city council, and the city clerk appointed by the mayor, shall hold their offices until the second Monday after the next succeeding biennial election and until the appointment and qualification of their successors, unless removed by the mayor or by the city council under authority vested in it by this charter. The duties of the harbor master shall be such as have been or may be prescribed by the city council, and he shall receive for his services such compensation as the city council may determine, not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars per annum, and shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of five thousand dollars.

Section 48. To suppress disorderly houses as defined by the Penal Code of the state, and for this purpose the city council shall provide such penalty as may be provided by the state laws for a similar offense. To suppress by suitable penalties houses of assignation, gambling or gambling houses, or the renting of houses or rooms to prostitutes or for any of the purposes mentioned in this section.

Section 55. To provide for the suppression and prevention of any riot, rout, affray, noise, disturbance, or disorderly assembly in any public or private place within the city; to create, establish, and regulate the police of the city; to appoint policemen and members of the police force and to prescribe their duties, powers, and salaries, giving to the mayor the right to nominate said policemen and members of the police force. All policemen and members of the police force shall be nominated by the mayor on the second Monday after each biennial election or as soon thereafter as possible, and shall be confirmed by a majority of the city council and hold their offices until the second Monday after the next succeeding biennial election, unless removed by the city council. In the event that any person nominated by the mayor shall not be confirmed by the city council, his office or employment in the police department shall thereupon cease and terminate. In the event that any person nominated by the mayor is rejected or not confirmed by the city council, the mayor shall continue at the same meeting, unless otherwise ordered by the council, to make a nomination of some other person or persons until some person shall be confirmed by the city council. All vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term by nomination by the mayor and confirmed by the city council as hereinbefore provided.

Sec. 2. That the charter of the city of Galveston be and the same is hereby amended by adding thereto sections 75a, 75b, and 75c, as follows, to wit:

Section 75a. The city council shall have the power to appropriate and expend and sum not exceeding five thousand dollars per annum for the purpose of paying the expenses of any agent or agents they may deem necessary to appoint in fostering and encouraging the enterprise of obtaining deep water from the gulf into the harbor of Galveston.

Section 75b. The city council shall have the power to appropriate and expend out of the reserve fund any sum not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars to be used for the purpose of purchasing a site or aiding in the erection of buildings for the Medical Branch of the University of Texas at Galveston.

Section 75c. The city council shall have the power to grant and confirm the title to what is known and designated as the City Park, situated east of Tenth Street and north of Avenue A, on such terms as they may deem of public interest.

Sec. 3. Whereas an imperative public necessity exists requiring a better mode for the collection of the revenues of the city, the enforcement of its ordinances, and the construction of public improvements, which creates a special emergency in this case for the immediate operation of this act, therefore the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days is hereby suspended, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 80 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 3, 1889.

|---|----------------------|
| Sec. | Sec. |
| 1. Amends section 116 of charter of said city. | 2. Emergency clause. |
| Subsection 116. Commissioners of water works—appointments, qualifications, duties, etc. | |

CHAP. 7.—[H. B. No. 677.] An Act to amend section 116 of the charter of the city of Galveston.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That section 116 of the charter of the city of Galveston be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 116. There shall be and is hereby created a board called the commissioners of water works, to consist of five members, to be appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the city council, who shall hold their offices for the term of four years and until their successors are duly elected and qualified, except as hereinafter prescribed. Said commissioners shall be entitled to receive such salary as the city council may determine, not to exceed three hundred dollars each per annum payable quarterly. The mayor with the approval of the city council shall have the power to remove any commissioner for cause and to fill any vacancy occurring in said office either from death, resignation, removal from office, removal from the city, or other cause. All appointments to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired term. No person shall be eligible to the office of commissioner unless he be thirty years of age, a freeholder, and qualified voter in said city. The mayor shall on the first Monday in July, 1887, or as soon thereafter as practicable, appoint the five commissioners provided for in this act, and said commissioners shall hold their offices two of them for two years and three of them for four years from date of appointment. The mayor shall issue commissions to the persons so appointed, designating the terms for which they are severally appointed, and whenever the term of office of any commissioner expires the appointment of his successor shall be for four years. Said commissioners shall take the oath of office required of other officers of said city and give bond for the faithful performance of their duties payable to the city of Galveston in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be approved by the committee on finance and revenue of the city council. Upon the appointment and qualification of the commissioners, they shall organize by the election of a president from among their own number and appoint a secretary with such a salary as they may prescribe, and a majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. They shall advertise and let contracts for the construction of a system of water works according to plans and specifications to be adopted by them; but all contracts shall be subject to the approval of the city council and shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the city clerk before the same take effect. Any contract made under the provisions of this section shall state the source of water supply, the location, capacity, and plan of the main reservoir, the location, capacity, and plan of all standpipes and reservoirs in the city, and the location, size, number, and material of all hydrants. Any contract made under this act for the construction of water works shall be paid for by the city with the proceeds of the five per cent forty-year bonds issued for the purpose of constructing water works and by funds set apart for that purpose by the city council in its annual budget. For the purpose of obtaining information and paying their necessary expenses and the expenses of a competent engineer for consulting and advisory purposes, said board is hereby authorized to expend the sum of ten thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be paid by the city council out of the proceeds of sales of bonds to be issued for the construction of water works. The water works, including the collection of water rates, tolls, and revenues, shall be under the control, management, and administration of the board of commissioners. The board shall appoint all officers, agents, and employees that may be necessary for the efficient operation of said water works and prescribe their duties, salaries, and compensation. The board shall adopt rules and regulations for the management of the water works, and shall have authority to remove or suspend any officer, agent, or employee of said department. The board shall have authority to do all work and repairs, purchase all material and supplies, and employ all labor necessary for the efficient operation of the water works; but all contracts involving the expenditure of a sum exceeding one thousand dollars, except for operating expenses, shall be submitted to the city council for their approval. Whenever the city council shall by ordinance provide for the extension of the system of water works along the streets and alleys not supplied in the original plan of the water works, it shall be the duty of the board to contract for the construction of the same in the manner hereinbefore provided, subject to the approval of the city council. The board shall fix and establish a schedule of water rates and tolls and provide the mode and manner of the construction of service pipes and their connection with the water mains. The board shall collect all water rates, tolls, and revenues and pay the same into the treasury at the end of each week, which shall constitute a special fund to be used for the benefit of the water works and the payment and redemption of the bonds issued for their construction. The city council shall pass all ordinances necessary for the protection and preservation of the water works. The board shall keep a record of their proceedings in a well bound book kept for that purpose; they shall keep a regular set of books showing in detail the business transactions of the board, and shall report to the city council at the beginning of each month the transactions of the preceding month, including a pay roll of its officers, agents, and employees, and a correct account of all collections, purchases, expenditures, and approved claims entitled to payment, which report shall be referred to the committee on finance and revenue of the city council, whose duty it shall be to examine and report on same; and for this purpose said committee shall have the right at all times to inspect and examine the records, papers, and books of the board of water commissioners.

Sec. 2. Whereas the legislature is nearing adjournment, and whereas it is important that the water works system of the city of Galveston should be placed under the control and management of a board of commissioners, therefore an imperative public necessity and emergency exists requiring that the rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is therefore enacted that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same under suspension of the rules April 6, 1889; and passed the senate by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 8, 1889.

GROESBECK—REPEALING CHARTER OF.

- Sec. 1. Repeals act of April 11, 1871, incorporating city of Groesbeck.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 8.—[H. B. No. 681.] An Act to repeal Chapter 57 of the Acts of the Twelfth Legislature, approved April 11, 1871, entitled An Act to incorporate the city of Groesbeck, in Limestone County.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Chapter 57 of the Acts of the Twelfth Legislature, entitled An Act to incorporate the city of Groesbeck, in Limestone County, approved April 11, 1871, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature creates an emergency and imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a four-fifths vote; and passed the senate by a four-fifths vote.]

Approved, April 5, 1889.

GULF, COLORADO AND SANTA FE RAILWAY COMPANY—ACT CONFIRMING TITLE TO CERTAIN RAILROADS PURCHASED.

- Sec. 1. Ratifies and confirms title to the railroads mentioned, etc.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 9.—[S. S. B. No. 247.] An Act to ratify and confirm the title of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company to the Central and Montgomery Railroad, and to the Chicago, Texas and Mexican Central Railroad, and to all property of the companies which constitute said roads, and to authorize the said Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company to own and operate said road under its charter.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the purchase heretofore made by the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company of all the property, rights, privileges, and franchises of the Central and Montgomery Railway Company and the Chicago, Texas and Mexican Central Railway Company, including the railroads constructed by said companies, are hereby sanctioned, ratified, and confirmed; and the said Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company being recognized as the owner of the same is hereby authorized to own, operate and maintain said railroads under its own charter as though said railroads had been originally constructed under said charter. The said Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company shall hold the property real and personal by the same title that it was held by the railroad company from which it was acquired, and shall not be allowed to make any defense to any claim or charter obligation against it on account of said property or its duty to the public that the said railway company from which it so acquired it could not make (if it were the party defendant.) The said Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company shall be liable for all valid claims and for all obligations to the public that existed against either of the said railway companies at the time of the purchase from it. The rights of any and all parties having suits or claims against said companies or either of them shall remain against the said Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe the same as they were against the company from which the said purchase was made: Provided, That if under its charter or existing laws the Central and Montgomery Railway Company is under obligation to maintain a depot at the town of Montgomery, where it was first established, and the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company shall hereafter fail to maintain the same there, then all the rights granted hereby shall be forfeited to the state on proceedings that may be instituted by the attorney-general.

Sec. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the legislature creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 77 yeas, no nays]
Approved, March 27, 1899.

HENRIETTA—ACT VALIDATING INCORPORATION OF.

- Sec. 1. Validating the incorporation.
2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 10.—[S. B. No. 380.] An Act to validate the incorporation of the city of Henrietta, Texas, under the provisions of Title XVII (seventeen), Chapter 1, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Texas.

Section 1. Whereas doubts exist as to the validity of the acts incorporating the city of Henrietta as a city containing one thousand (1000) inhabitants or more, and said city has been acting as such incorporation for more than five (5) years and has taken charge of the public free schools thereof as such incorporated city, and it has been proven to this body that notice for more than thirty (30) days has been given as required by law that an application would be made for the passage of this act: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the incorporation of the city of Henrietta be and the same is hereby declared to be as legal and valid as if the original acts of incorporation as well as the acts of assuming control of the public free schools therein had been in strict compliance with the requirements of law.

Sec. 2. Whereas the present session of the legislature is rapidly drawing to a close and the public good of said city of Henrietta demands the immediate passage of this bill, therefore an imperative necessity exists requiring that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this bill be put upon its final passage, and it is so enacted and this bill shall take effect from and after its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 25 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 86 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 3, 1889.

- Subsection 23f. Improvement certificates to be issued, etc.
- Subsection 23g. Improvement certificates are liens on property improved, etc.
- Subsection 23h. Board of public works—powers, duties, etc.
- Subsection 23i. Work of sanitary character, the costs thereof, etc.
- Subsection 23j. General powers and duties of city council.
- Subsection 33. Collection of taxes.
- 2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 11.—[H. B. No. 7.] An Act to amend sections 7, 14, 15, 23, and 33 of the charter of the city of Houston.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That section seven of said charter shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 7. That each ward in the city may be divided into as many sections and as many polling places as may be prescribed in said sections as the city council may see fit and proper, and each ward in the city shall be represented in the city council by two aldermen who shall hold office for two years and until their successors are elected and qualified. Said aldermen shall be elected by the qualified voters of the ward for which they stand, and all voters shall have resided in such ward at least thirty days next preceding any election, and no person shall be competent to fill the office of alderman unless at the date of his election he be a qualified voter of the city and of said ward and a freeholder owning real property in said city.

That section fourteen of said charter shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 14. That there shall be elected by the qualified voters of said city a city attorney, a treasurer, a city marshal, an assessor and collector of taxes, a market master, a city recorder, a street commissioner and health officer, and city scavenger, who shall hold their respective offices for two years and until their successors are qualified, unless sooner removed by the city council: Provided, That the present officers of said city shall hold their offices until the next election of city officers as prescribed by the ordinances now in force. The assessor and collector may appoint one or more deputies, for whose conduct he shall be responsible, and such deputy or deputies shall have power to perform any act which may be performed by the assessor and collector in person. The mayor shall appoint a secretary and a superintendent of public schools, whose appointment shall be confirmed by the city council, who shall hold their respective offices for two years and until their successors are qualified and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by the city council.

That section fifteen of said charter shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 15. That the recorder of said city, besides such jurisdiction as may be prescribed by the city council not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state, may exercise such other criminal jurisdiction that is now exercised or may hereafter be exercised by justices of the peace and such as may be conferred by general laws on mayors or recorders; but when any person has been convicted before a justice of the peace for any offense committed in said city against a general law such person shall not be tried again for the same offense before said recorder. The rule of procedure in courts of justice of the peace in criminal matters shall govern the recorder in all matters of practice, and appeals shall be from his decisions in like manner. In the absence of the recorder, or in case of his inability to hold his court, any justice of the peace may hold the same, and the acts and judgments of such justice shall have the same force and effect as those of the recorder. The recorder shall have the same power to administer oaths, punish for contempt of his court, to summon witnesses and compel their attendance by process, to summon jurors and compel their attendance, as justices of the peace have. Such recorder's court shall be open daily and the accused shall have a speedy public trial. The salary if any and fees of such recorder's court shall be determined by the city council, and such recorder shall from time to time as required report to the council and do and perform such duties properly appertaining to the office as may be prescribed by the city council: Provided, That all process beyond the city limits shall be directed to and executed by the sheriff or some constable of the county.

That section twenty-three of said charter shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 23. The city council shall have the exclusive control and regulation of all streets, alleys, public grounds, and highways within the corporate limits of the city, and shall have power to abate and remove encroachments thereon in a summary manner, to put drains and sewers therein, and when necessary to appropriate private property for that purpose; to permit, prevent, and regulate the laying of gas and water mains therein and the erection of telegraph, telephone, and electric light poles therein; to impose such terms as to them may seem proper for the use of streets and sidewalks for any purpose whatever by any corporation, and to demand and collect for the use of the same such compensation as to the said city council shall seem meet and proper; to regulate, establish, and change the grade of all sidewalks, streets, and premises, and to require and compel the cutting down or filling up or raising of such streets and premises; to construct, regulate, and keep in repair all bridges, culverts, sewers, and crossings, and to control and regulate the use of the same; to construct, regulate, and keep in repair all necessary sidewalks and footways and streets; to grade, cut down, and fill up the same; to regulate the use and abate and remove encroachments and obstructions thereon and to compel the removal of the same, and to punish any person or corporation, by fine or imprisonment or by the imposition of a penalty to be collected in a civil suit, who shall encroach upon or obstruct the same or who shall fail to have such encroachment withdrawn or such obstruction removed after being notified by the proper officer to remove or withdraw the same, and to provide by ordinance that each day such encroachments or obstructions are permitted to remain after notice is served shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 23a. The city council shall fix and determine the nature and extent of all sidewalks, streets, drainage, and sewerage improvements and decide as to the kind of material to be used. The cost of constructing all sidewalks, footways, and curbing and the cost of grading, shelling, paving, repairing, or otherwise improving any avenue, street, alley, or other highway or any portion thereof within the limits of the city, and the cost of all drains and sewers laid and constructed within the city, together with the cost of collection thereof, may be defrayed in whole or in part and in such proportion as the city council may direct by the owner or the owners of the lot or block, or tract of land when not laid out in blocks and lots, abutting on such street or portion of street improved or on the streets within such sewerage or drainage district, which sum shall be a tax and charge against the person or persons owning such lot, block, or tract of land at the time such tax or any portion thereof shall become due and a lien and incumbrance upon the land itself, and said tax against the property owner may be collected and the lien upon the property foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction whenever by a vote of two-thirds of the aldermen elected such improvement shall be declared necessary for the public interest. The city shall by resolution duly passed designate the street or parts or sides of any street on which sidewalk improvements are to be constructed and the general nature of the improvements to be made and the material to be used: Provided, however, Provision may be made in such resolution for receiving bids on more than one kind of material or for different modes of construction. Said resolution shall state in case of sidewalk improvements how the cost of sidewalks on the corners of any block shall be assessed, and said resolution may be amended or changed by a two-thirds vote of the city council at any time previous to the publication of the advertisement for said bids. Where sewerage or drainage improvements are contemplated said resolution shall define the district within which property will be assessed for the payment of the same. The cost of paving any street intersection under the provisions of this act shall be borne by the city, and the city council is hereby authorized to levy an annual ad valorem tax not exceeding one-fourth of one per cent per annum for the purpose of paying for the paving of intersections or for the purpose of paying the interest on improvement certificates issued for such intersections. A street intersection as here used shall be deemed to mean all that portion of the street improved within an extension of the curbed lines of the intersecting streets. Any railroad or street railway company shall be liable for the cost of grading, paving, or otherwise improving the portion of the street or intersection used or occupied by such railway company, and such costs shall be a lien upon the property and franchises of that company. The portion of the street occupied by any railroad or street railway company shall be deemed to mean all that portion of the same between the rails and to the outer edge of the rail of such road. Any railroad or street railway company having an easement in any land not in but abutting on the street shall be liable for the street, sidewalks, drainage, or sewerage improvements in the same manner as though it were the owner of such land, and a lien shall exist on such land to secure the cost of the improvement. Should any railroad or street railway company propose to lay a track on any street or portion of a street which shall have been improved under the provisions of section twenty-three et seq. of this act it shall become liable, according to the portion of the street occupied by such company as defined above, for such portion of the cost of the improvement as is represented by the portion which the installments or payments for the same yet to become due bears to those that shall have become due at the time such street railway or railroad company proposes to occupy the street. Such amount collected shall be credited on the certificates already issued against abutting property, and the city council shall by ordinance provide the form and manner of collecting and disbursing the same. Before any railroad or street railway company shall be permitted to occupy such improved street or portion of street it shall file with the city secretary in writing an acceptance of the terms on which its occupancy of the same shall be permitted as may be provided in said ordinance. The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the laying out of drainage and sewerage districts and to provide for the cost of constructing main and lateral drains in such districts by assessment against the owner or owners of the lots, blocks, or tracts of land when not laid out in blocks and lots, within such district, according to the number of feet of frontage on the street within such district as is the case of sidewalks and street improvements, and may provide that such additional proportion of the cost of main sewers or drains shall be assessed against the property abutting upon the street or streets through which such main sewers or drains may be constructed as they may deem just and equitable; and main sewers and drains may be constructed and the cost of the same assessed against on the land within such district in contemplation of lateral or cross sewers or drains being constructed within such district at some future time. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the city council from constructing sewers and drains or making street improvements in whole or in part at the expense of the city should it be deemed advisable so to do by the said city council: Provided, That such sewers shall be made of vitrified pipe or other lasting material of like character not less than six inches nor more than twenty-four inches in diameter.

Section 23b. After the passage of the resolution referred to in the next preceding section it shall be the duty of the city council to have the same advertised for not less than four days in some newspaper published in the city of Houston, and no further action in regard to the proposed improvement stated in said resolution shall be taken until after the lapse of ten days from the first publication thereof. Should parties owning property having in the aggregate a minority of the feet frontage on the street or portion of street to be paved or on which sidewalks are to be constructed as stated in said resolution be dissatisfied with the proposed material to be used in constructing such improvements as stated in said resolution and shall affix their signatures, with the number of feet frontage owned by each respectively, to a document stating the material agreed upon and desired by them to be used in constructing such improvement, it shall be the duty of the city council to amend said resolution and make it conform to the wishes of such majority of property owners, and the specifications and plans prepared shall be in harmony with said resolution as thus amended. The city council shall be exclusive judges in determining whether or not any change relating to the material to be used is desired by parties owning property having in the aggregate a majority of the feet frontage on the street or portion of the street to be improved, and their decision of the matter shall be final and conclusive, nor shall such decision in any way affect the validity of assessments made under such resolution. After the passage of such resolution referred to above, it shall be the duty of the mayor to have the necessary plans and specifications for such improvement prepared by the city engineer in accordance with the terms of said resolution, which plans and specifications when prepared and adopted by the city council shall be filed for public inspection in the office of the city secretary: Provided, however, That should the city have a board of public works they shall be consulted and advised with in the preparation of said plans and specifications and they shall report upon the same to the city council before the same are approved by the council. After said plans and specifications shall have been approved bids for the construction of such improvements shall be solicited by advertisements duly made, which advertisements shall refer to said plans and specifications on file as aforesaid, and shall state whether said improvements are to be paid for in whole or in part in cash in improvement certificates, as shall have been previously determined by city council.

Section 23c. After the bid for the construction of sidewalk, street, drainage, or sewerage improvements shall have been accepted by the council, and a contract for the construction of the same shall have been entered into, it shall be the duty of the mayor as the work progresses to cause to be prepared by the city engineer a roll or rolls showing the number of lots and blocks, or names of the tracts of land when not divided into lots, fronting on such street, alley, or avenue to be improved, and in case of sewerage or drainage improvements within the district provided for the names of the owner or owners of each lot, part lot, block, or tract of land, if known, and if unknown it shall be so stated, the number frontage of each lot, part lot, block, or tract of land, and the total cost of such improvement necessary to be borne by each and to be paid for by each owner of such property described in such rolls, the correctness of said roll or rolls shall be certified to by the city engineer and by the board of public works should such board be created, and the same shall be filed in the office of the city secretary and treasurer for public inspection. If owing to the shape of any block or blocks or to the angle of any street, or for any reason whatsoever, it shall be deemed by the city council impracticable or inequitable to assess the cost of streets, sidewalks, drainage, or sewerage improvements in the manner precisely as provided for in this act, then the same shall apportion in such manner as in the opinion of said city council will conform most nearly to the spirit and interest [intent] of the provisions of this act; and their apportionment of the same in any event, as shown by the roll of ownership and their final approval of said roll, shall be conclusive.

Section 23d. On the filing of said roll or rolls in the office of the city secretary and treasurer, it shall be the duty of the mayor to cause to be published for not less than four days in some daily newspaper published in the city of Houston a notice in form substantially as follows: "Persons owning property on (here insert the name of the street or streets or portions of the same described in or referred to in said roll) are hereby notified that the rolls of ownership showing the amount of the special assessment levied against the owners of the property on the above named streets to cover the cost of improvements made in accordance with the resolutions of the council adopted (here insert the date of the resolution) are on file in the office of the city secretary for inspection in order that all persons interested therein or to be affected thereby may have an opportunity of calling the attention of the city council to any errors or mistakes connected with such assessments levied against property owned by them as shown by said rolls." The publication of such resolutions together with the advertisement for said bids and the publication of said notice next above referred to shall be notice to all persons owning property against which any special assessment for sidewalk, street, drainage, or sewerage improvement may be made of the pendency of the proceedings had and to be had and acts taken and to be taken in reference to the same, and such persons shall be permitted after the publication of said resolution and previous to the final approval of said rolls by the city council by petition to the city council filed with the city secretary and treasurer to object to any such acts and proceedings and to show wherein they have been wronged or injured thereby and to ask for the rescission or correction of the same, and they shall be permitted to appear in person or by attorney before said council and to obtain redress for such wrongs or injury as they may point out and establish to the satisfaction of said council, nor shall such roll be finally approved by the city council after the filing of such petition by any property owned so affected or liable to be affected by the same until such petition shall have been acted upon by the city council. On the filing of said rolls in the office of said city secretary for public inspection as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the city secretary to mail a copy of said notice to the postoffice address so far as known to him of all persons whose names appear on said roll. And where the postoffice address of any person named on said roll is unknown to said city secretary he shall address the letter containing said notice to Houston, Texas: Provided, however, That failure on the part of said city secretary to comply with the provisions above stated in respect to mailing said notice to any person named in said rolls shall in no wise impair or affect the validity of said roll or the validity of the assessment provided for by the same.

Section 23e. The sum assessed against each separate tract of land described in said assessment roll shall be divided, except in the case of sidewalk, sewerage, or drainage improvements, into five annual installments. The first of said installments shall become due when the work on each respective block or tract of land referred to in said roll, to pay for which the assessment is levied, shall have been completed and accepted by the city, and one of each of the remaining installments shall become due on a certain day in each year therefor. On each of the respective days last referred to the entire interest on the whole amount of the principal then unpaid shall also become due. The entire amount assessed against each tract of land shall bear interest from the date of the acceptance of the work at the rate of eight per cent per annum until maturity, and each installment shall bear interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum after the maturity of the same. Failure to pay any two installments of principal and interest when due shall cause subsequent installments of principal to mature and become due and authorize a foreclosure of the lien for all installments of principal unpaid, together with the collection of ten per cent attorney's fees, after demand for payment shall have been made. After said roll of ownership shall have been finally approved by the city council, it shall be the duty of the city secretary to divide the sum assessed against each separate tract of land described in such roll by the number of installments provided for and to add to each installment the amount of interest annually to become due on the entire amount of the principal unpaid at the maturity of each installment, which sum shall be the amount of principal and interest due for each year respectively on such tract of land; and he shall preserve as an archive of his office a roll showing the result of such calculation, and the same shall be labeled and filed by him with the date of such filing indorsed thereon.

Section 23f. For the total sum of money assessed against each separate tract of land or other property named in said assessment rolls an improvement certificate shall be issued. It shall show the amount for which it is drawn, which sum shall be the sum named in said roll assessed against the property described in said certificate; the number of the lot or lots and block or description of the property upon which the said sum of money is a lien and the number of feet frontage on which the assessment is based; the name of the property owner from whom the tax is owing; that said sum of money is a tax against such property owner named therein, and a lien upon the property described; the date of its issuance, which date shall be the date of the acceptance of the work by the city; that it is issued for street, sidewalk, sewerage, or drainage improvement, as the case may be, naming the street on which said improvement is located; the date of the resolution authorizing the construction of the improvement, and that it is issued by the authority of section 23 et seq. of the charter. Such certificate shall also show that said amount named therein is payable in equal annual installments, naming the number of such installments, the date when the first installment becomes due, and that one of each remaining installments will become due on the same day of each year thereafter until all are due, and that the entire amount of principal at any time unpaid bears interest from the date of the certificate at the rate of eight per cent per annum until maturity, and that each installment of principal will bear interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum after maturity of the same, and that failure to pay any two installments of principal when due with interest then due will cause all subsequent installments of principal to mature and become due, and authorize a foreclosure of the lien for all installments of principal unpaid, together with the collection of a penalty of ten per cent for attorney's fees, after demand for payment shall have been made. There shall also be attached to said certificate as many coupons as there are installments of principal and interest provided for in the same, each of which coupons shall show the date of such certificate, the date when such coupon is due, the amount of principal represented by the coupons, the amount of interest represented by the same, and the total amount of such principal. Such certificates when so issued shall be prima facie evidence that all prerequisites required by law pertaining to the levying of said assessment and the issuance and delivery of said certificates have been complied with, and the same shall be assignable in such manner as the city council may direct. Such certificates may be delivered to the contractor or person entitled to receive the same. Should the property owner fail to pay the amount of said certificate when the same becomes due, or when any installment provided for in the same becomes due, the owner thereof may institute suit for the enforcement of the tax and the foreclosure of the lien provided for in any court having jurisdiction.

Section 23g. The levying of said tax and the making of said assessment and the issuance and delivery of said certificates shall constitute a proceeding in rem. against the land itself, and the persons named in said certificates shall not be deemed necessary parties in suits brought on the same, and each respective tract of land shall be charged with and be liable for the proportionate cost of any improvement made under this act to the extent provided for in the act, notwithstanding any mistake, omission, irregularity, or default made in the preparation of said roll or connected with the form and mode of levying said tax and making said assessment, and in any event the owner of the property shall be liable for the value of the work done and improvements made, and a recovery quantum meruit for the value of the same shall be had. On any day on which an installment of principal and accrued interest or any improvement certificate is due the owner of the property against which it is a charge shall have the right to take up and cancel such certificate on the payment to the holder thereof the amount of principal unpaid, with accrued interest, or by depositing with the city treasury on such day the entire amount unpaid on such certificate. It shall be the duty of the city attorney or of the attorney acting in such capacity, at the request of the mayor or any member of the city council, to prepare such resolutions as may be desired relative to the construction of the improvements provided for in this act, and he shall endorse on the draft of such resolutions, when so prepared by him and before action is taken on the same by the city council that such resolutions are in due form of law as required by the terms of the city charter, and he shall also indorse a certificate to the same effect signed by him on said roll of ownership before the same shall be submitted to the city council for final approval.

Section 23h. There shall be appointed by the mayor and confirmed by a majority of the votes of the city council three citizens of Houston who shall constitute a board of public works. They shall hold office for two years and shall act gratuitously. They shall be allowed however the sum of five hundred dollars annually or such portion of the same as they may require to cover expenses if any which they may incur in performing the duties of their office. It shall be their duty to prepare and recommend to the city council comprehensive plans for sidewalk, street, sewerage, and drainage improvements, including the material to be used, and all other matters pertaining to the construction of such improvements. All matters involving an outlay of as much as five hundred dollars pertaining to any improvement of the charter [character] above mentioned shall first be referred to them, and an interval of not less than ten days after such reference is formally made by the city council shall be allowed them in which to report upon the same to the said council, and it shall be their duty to examine, pass upon, and report to the council all plans and specifications relating to such improvements before the same are finally approved by the city council. They shall also pass upon all bids received on matters relating to said improvements and recommend such action in reference to the same to the city council as they may deem expedient. They shall also examine and pass upon all public works constructed for the city where the contract exceeds five hundred dollars, and such work shall not be accepted by the city until their report in reference to the same shall have been laid before the city council or until after the expiration of days from the time when the matter shall have been referred to them.

Section 23i. The city council shall have authority by resolution duly passed to order the filling up or drainage of any lot or parcel of land on which water has become or may become stagnant, or the constructing, rebuilding, or repairing of any sidewalk, or the doing of any work of a sanitary character on any street or tract of land within the corporate limits of the city, and may provide for the cost of the same being charged and taxed against property owners and made a lien upon the premises on or abutting which said work may be done. Whenever the city council shall order the filling up or drainage of any lot or parcel of land on which water has or may become stagnant, or the construction, rebuilding, or repairing of any sidewalk, or shall order the doing of any work of a sanitary character upon any tract of land within the corporate limits of the city of Houston or the making of any improvements the cost or expense of which in whole or in part they may deem it just and proper to be made chargeable to or assessable on or against private property, and the same shall be done otherwise than by contract, it shall be the duty of the officer or the person under whose supervision the same is done to keep a correct account of the cost and expense thereof, and upon its completion he shall report the same to the city council, together with a description of each lot or parcel of land subject to assessment therefor, the name of the owner if known, the amount proportionally assessable thereon, together with the character of the work done, the cost of the material used, and the expenses for the labor required therefor and including therein as near as shall be reasonably practicable. Upon the filing of such report it shall be the duty of the city council or some committee whom it may designate to make or cause to be made assessment rolls or lists of assessments showing the work or improvements for which the assessments are to be made, and a description of each lot or parcel of ground specially assessed, the name of the owner thereof if known, and the amount assessed against the same, with such other particulars if any as they may deem desirable or necessary, and shall file the same in the office of the city secretary and treasurer, which report shall be published in some daily newspaper published in said city for three days, and any owner or owners aggrieved or having any objections to such special assessment against his or their property as aforesaid shall within ten days of the publication of said report file in writing with said city secretary any objection he may have thereto, which objection shall be acted upon by the city council at its next regular meeting thereafter if practicable, and shall be heard and determined. After all objections to said roll have been heard and all proper corrections made the same shall be adopted and approved by the city council and placed in the hands of the city assessor and collector for collection, and he shall add the same to the assessment rolls in his office as a separate assessment upon the property described in the same, and the same shall be collected as other taxes.

Section 23j. The city shall have power to enforce the observation of ordinances adopted by the city council either by the imposition of penalties to be collected by civil proceedings in suits brought by the city or by fine and imprisonment as may be deemed most expedient: Provided, however, That no penalty imposed for the violation of any ordinance shall exceed the sum of one hundred dollars, and there shall be only one recovery had for all acts committed previous to the institution of a suit for the recovery of such penalties, and any person or corporation violating an ordinance of the city of Houston to enforce the observance of which a penalty may have been imposed in lieu of a fine shall be liable to the city in a civil suit brought for the amount of such penalty in either of the justice courts of precinct No. 1, in Harris County, Texas. The city council shall have power and authority to secure the safety and convenience of passing in the streets, sidewalks, and other places in the city: to fix the squaring and to prevent encroachments and obstructions on the streets, sidewalks, squares, ways, levees, and public roads and places; to fix the place for anchoring of water craft on Buffalo Bayou; to establish an active system of inspection over the conduct of persons and premises; to prevent cattle, horses, swine, goats, geese, and animals from running at large in the streets or within such prescribed limits as may be established by the city council; to establish and maintain a city police, prescribe the duties of policemen, and regulate their conduct; to provide for lighting the streets, and for this purpose may establish gas works for the manufacture of gas for the use of the city and the inhabitants thereof at cost price; to determine in what part of the city slaughter houses, bone boilers, soap makers, or other establishments of any business which is or may be injurious to the value of adjacent property or unwholesome or disagreeable to the occupants of adjacent property shall not be allowed to be erected; to determine in what part of the city wooden buildings shall not be erected; within the limits prescribed no person shall be permitted to erect such buildings; to prevent gunpowder or other explosive materials, kerosene oil or other inflammable oils, being stored within the city limits in such quantity as to endanger the safety of adjacent property; to provide means for the protection against and extinguishment of conflagrations, and for the regulation, maintenance, and support of a fire department; to permit or forbid theaters, balls, or other public amusements, and to suppress the same whenever the preservation of order, tranquility, or public safety may require; to close dram shops, drinking saloons, and other places where intoxicating liquors are sold whenever necessary or expedient; to define what shall be a nuisance in said city and to abate them by summary proceedings; to prohibit and punish keepers and inmates of bawdy houses and determine such inmates and keepers to be vagrants and to prescribe the punishment of such persons; to provide a work house for vagrants and disorderly persons who are unable to pay fines, and to make regulations concerning the same; to regulate weights and measures, fix standards of weight and measure, and to fix penalties for not using the same; to provide and keep a city prison; to make all needful and proper regulations concerning bakers, butchers, keepers of taverns, grog shops, and other public houses, draymen, horse drivers, water carriers, omnibus drivers, hack drivers, and drivers of baggage wagons, and especially to preserve order and prevent noise and confusion in and about the several depots on the arrival and departure of railway trains; to prevent extortion by carriers of passengers or baggage, hacks, drays, and all public conveyances, by establishing maximum rates of charges; to suppress gambling houses and to punish keepers of gambling houses and all persons who play at cards or games of any kind, and to punish persons who sell lottery tickets or who advertise lottery drawings or schemes and the result of the drawing of lotteries; to direct and control the laying and construction of railroad tracks, turnouts, and switches, and that they be required to be constructed and laid so as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of streets; to require railway companies to keep the streets through which they run in repair and to light the same whenever deemed necessary; to construct and keep in repair bridges and crossings at the intersections of streets and avenues and over all ditches, sewers, and culverts on the line of the railways; to regulate the speed of engines and locomotives within the city, and generally to make and establish all rules, regulations, by-laws, and ordinances which may contribute to and promote the better administration of the officers [affairs] of said city, as well as for the maintenance of the peace, tranquility, and safety of said city, and for the protection of the persons and property of its inhabitants. The city council of the city of Houston are hereby empowered and authorized to take and condemn land and real estate in said city to the public use, viz: For streets, alleys, and public highways; for extending, straightening, and widening those streets now in use; for public wharves and landing places for steamers and other water craft, and for public squares, parks, and pleasure grounds. For the condemnation of any land or real estate the following proceeding shall be had: The city attorney or attorneys elected by the city for that purpose shall file a petition in the district court of Harris County against the owner of the land or real estate sought to be condemned for any of the purposes aforesaid, setting forth:

First—The name or names and residence of the owner or owners if known, and if unknown the same shall be stated.

Second—The description by metes and bounds of any actual survey had for that purpose of the land or real estate sought to be condemned.

Third—The purpose for which the same is proposed to be taken and applied.

Fourth—The supposed value of the property to be condemned. The prayer that the same be condemned to the public use for the purposes stated.

And upon the filing of such petition like proceedings shall be had hereon as in other civil suits, and when personal service cannot be had by reason of the defendant being a non-resident or unknown, service by publication shall be made as provided in other cases in the district court, and upon trial the court shall proceed to render judgment condemning the land to public use upon the payment of the value thereof as assessed by the jury, and upon any suit being brought thereafter against the said corporation for such property so condemned a copy of the judgment and an actual tender of the money in court shall be sufficient answer in bar of a recovery in any such suit. All costs of proceeding for the condemnation of real estate under this act shall be taxed against the plaintiff, including reasonable fees of the attorney which the court shall appoint to represent the defendant when cited by publication. No person shall erect any building or fence in the city without first obtaining a permit from the mayor and having the lines of his property established by the city engineer: Provided, That fences may be constructed on interior lines without such permit and the lines of property not subdivided into lots or blocks may be established and fences built thereon without such permit, but all permits for building houses or fences shall be issued by the mayor and city engineer free of charge. The city council may provide, own, and maintain water works for the use of the city and its inhabitants, and may regulate water rates in said city, and may regulate also the price of bread when sold by bakers.

That section 33 of said charter shall hereafter read as follows:

Section 33. That the city council may and shall have full power to provide by ordinance for the prompt collection of all taxes levied, assessed, and due or becoming due to said city, and to that end may and shall deem necessary to the levying, laying, imposing, assessing, and collecting of any of said taxes; and to regulate the mode and manner of making out tax lists and inventories and the appraisalment of property thereon and to prescribe the oath that shall be administered to each person on such rendition of property; and to prescribe how and when property shall thus be rendered; and to fix the duties and define the power of the assessor and collector of taxes. All taxes due by property owners as appears upon the rolls of said city and upon rolls prepared and completed up to the first day of July, 1889, may be collected by suit from delinquents and foreclosure of the lien thereon in any court having jurisdiction of the same; but no suit shall be brought for taxes assessed after the first day of July, 1889. The city council shall have full power and authority to provide by ordinance for the appointment of a board of appraisalment and to regulate their duties and to provide for notices to be given to tax payers to appear before such appraisers, and all determinations of such appraisers shall be final. The city council shall have full power and authority to provide for seizure by the assessor and collector and sale by him of any personal property for taxes due on personal property without the necessity of any writ, and such tax roll shall be sufficient warrant for such seizure and sale by the assessor and collector of taxes. And to provide by ordinance that any firm, corporation, or person owning or controlling property in said city subject to a tax and failing or refusing to render or list inventory or appraisalment thereof, verified by affidavits, shall be liable to a fine upon complaint before the recorder in such sum as such ordinance may provide. The city council shall have full power and authority to pass all ordinances necessary to regulate advertisements and sales by the assessor and collector of property upon which taxes may be unpaid, and to provide for the perpetuation of all proceedings with reference to such advertisement and sale, and for the execution of titles to purchasers of property at tax sales, and to pass all ordinances necessary to enforce the collection of taxes: Provided, That such ordinances shall allow any person whose real property has been sold for taxes at least one year to redeem the same by paying such tax and fifty per cent thereon and all costs of advertisement and sale: And provided further, That any of such proceedings so perpetuated shall be received in evidence in any court when the title so conferred by the collector shall be called in question, and the city may become the purchaser of any land sold for taxes and the deed executed by the assessor and collector shall be prima facie evidence that all prerequisites of the law have been complied with; and the city or any other purchaser of property at tax sale may sue for and recover such real property after the expiration of the time allowed to redeem the same, and no defense to any suit for such property shall be allowed unless there first be made a tender in open court of the amount of tax for which the same was sold together with the fifty per cent additional and all cost of sale and cost of suit. At any time after the sale of any property to the city or to any person of property for the taxes due thereon and before the expiration of twelve months after such sale the city or such person as the case may be, may institute suit for the amount of such tax and for fifty per cent added and may foreclose the lien existing for such tax that existed in favor of the city at the date of such sale. Nothing but current money of the United States shall be collected or received in payment of taxes and licenses due or hereafter assessed and scrip which may be issued for pavement of streets and construction of sidewalks, which shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued, and coupons and scrip made receivable for taxes on the face thereof shall not be receivable for all taxes except the bond tax. The city council shall have power and authority to assess and collect a tax on all vehicles belonging to persons residing in said city or which may be used for traffic or hire in said city, which shall be known as a wheel tax, and require such owners to obtain a license for such vehicles and to prescribe a penalty for using any vehicle on the streets of the city without payment of such tax and procuring such license, but such tax shall not exceed two dollars per wheel: And provided, That all vehicles licensed under the ordinances in force in said city shall not be required to pay such wheel tax. All sums collected for such wheel tax shall be kept separate by the collector of taxes and shall be applied and expended exclusively for the pavement of intersections of streets as provided for herein.

Sec. 2. That all laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed. And there being no adequate law now in force to enable the city of Houston to improve its streets creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

HIDALGO COUNTY—PROTECTION OF COURT HOUSE AND JAIL.

Sec.

1. Commissioners court authorized to issue bonds for the purposes hereof.
2. To levy ad valorem tax for interest and sinking fund.

Sec.

3. Limitation of such tax.
4. As to payment of interest.
5. Bonds—how executed.
6. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 12.—[S. B. No. 297.] An Act to authorize the county commissioners court of Hidalgo County to issue bonds for the protection of the court house and jail and other property from further erosion of the Rio Grande river, and to levy a tax to pay the interest and principal thereof.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That the county commissioners court of Hidalgo County is hereby authorized and empowered to issue the bonds of said county, with interest coupons attached, in such amount as may be necessary, not to exceed ten thousand dollars, to protect the court house and jail of said county and other public property in the same vicinity from further erosion of the Rio Grande River, and to prevent further encroachment of said river; the said bonds running not exceeding ten years, redeemable at the pleasure of the county, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding eight per cent per annum.

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of said county shall levy an annual ad valorem tax on the property in said county sufficient to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the redemption of said bonds, not to exceed one-eighth of one per cent for any one year.

Sec. 3. The county shall not issue a larger number of bonds than a tax of one-eighth of one per cent annually will liquidate in ten years, and such bonds shall be sold only at their face or par value.

Sec. 4. The interest on said bonds shall be paid annually on the first day of July, and an account kept by the county treasurer of the amount of principal and interest paid on each.

Sec. 5. The said bond shall be signed by the county judge and countersigned by the county clerk and registered by the county treasurer before they are delivered.

Sec. 6. The fact that the public buildings belonging to said county are in immediate danger from encroachments of the Rio Grande River, creates an imperative public necessity and an emergency, wherefore the rule should be suspended requiring bills to be read on three several days, and this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 26 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 79 yeas, 2 nays.]

[Note.—The foregoing act was presented to the governor for his approval on the fourteenth day of March, A. D. 1889, but was not signed by him or returned to the house in which it originated with his objections thereto within the time prescribed by the constitution, and thereupon became a law without his signature.—J. M. Moore, Secretary of State.]

MILAM COUNTY SCHOOL LANDS.

Sec.

1. Provides for warrants to reimburse settlers for amounts paid on pre-emptions of Milam County school lands.

Sec.

2. $1500 appropriated for purposes of this bill.
3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 13.—[H. B. No. 310.] An Act for the relief of settlers upon the Milam County school lands located in Hood County, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Whereas under an act of the legislature of the state of Texas, approved July 21, 1870, certain settlers on the Milam County school lands, located in Hood County, bought their pre-emption claims from the state of Texas at the rate of fifty cents per acre, and received patents therefor from the state; and whereas the supreme court has declared said law unconstitutional and said patents void; and whereas the said settlers, or their assigns, have lost said lands at the suit of Milam County, and said parties have given notice of their intention to apply for relief at the hands of the Twenty-first Legislature, and ask to be reimbursed in their purchase money with lawful interest:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That upon proper proof being made to the comptroller of public accounts that the said settlers, or their assigns, who then owned and paid for said pre-emption surveys and lost the same through the courts of this state, that the said comptroller is authorized and ordered to draw a warrant on the state treasurer in favor of each of said settlers, or his assigns, for the amount or amounts paid by him to the state for said pre-emption claims.

Sec. 2. That the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be appropriated out of the general revenue not otherwise appropriated to pay the same.

Sec. 3. The near approach of the end of the present session of the legislature, and the great probability that this bill will not be reached on the regular call of business before the end of the same, creates an emergency, and an imperative public necessity exists requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is so suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 86 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 23 yeas, no nays.]

CHAP. 14.—[S. B. No. 367.] An Act to incorporate the city of Paris and to prescribe its duties and liabilities.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That all that district of country contained within the following limits, to-wit: In Lamar County, beginning 240 rods west of a point 400 rods south of the center of the public square as now known and designated in the city of Paris, the same being the southwest corner of the corporate limits heretofore existing; thence east 570 rods to a post; thence north 640 rods to a post; thence west 570 rods to a post; thence south 640 rods to the place of beginning, is hereby created into a city by the name of the city of Paris.

INCORPORATING CLAUSE.

Sec. 2. That the inhabitants of the city of Paris as the same extends and is laid out in section 1 of this act be and they and their successors are hereby constituted a corporation and body politic in fact and in law by the name and style of the "City of Paris," and by the same shall have succession; shall sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, defend and be defended in all courts of law and equity and in all actions whatsoever; may purchase, receive, and hold property real and personal within said city, and may sell, lease, or dispose of the same for the benefit of the city, and may purchase, receive, and hold property real and personal beyond the limits of the city to be used for the burial of the dead of the city; also for the erection of water works to supply the city with water and for the establishment of a hospital for the care and protection of persons infected with contagious or other diseases, and any other real property outside of said city necessary for the purposes of said corporation, and may sell, lease, or dispose of such property for the benefit of the city, and may do all other acts as natural persons. Said city shall have and use one common seal and may change, alter, or make a new seal at pleasure.

CITY DIVIDED INTO WARDS.

Sec. 3. That the city of Paris shall be divided into not less than four nor more than ten wards in the discretion of the council, the number and boundaries thereof to be fixed by the city council, and may be by the council changed from time to time as in their judgment the interests of said city may demand, having regard to the number of male inhabitants and in fixing said boundaries so that each ward shall contain as near as may be the same number of male inhabitants. Until changed by the council, the number and boundaries of the wards in said city shall remain as they are upon the passage of this act.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

Sec. 4. The municipal government of the city shall consist of a city council composed of the mayor and two aldermen from each ward, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except at called meetings or meetings for the imposition of taxes, when two-thirds of a full board shall be required, unless herein otherwise specified. The other officers of the corporation shall be a treasurer, an assessor and collector, a secretary, a city attorney, a marshal, and city engineer, and such other officers and agents as the city council may from time to time direct: Provided, That the offices of treasurer, assessor and collector, city attorney, and city engineer may be dispensed with by an ordinance of the city council and the powers and duties herein prescribed for such officers may be conferred by said council upon other officers. The above named officers except secretary and engineer shall be elected by the qualified electors of said city as hereinafter provided, and shall hold their offices for two years and until the election and qualification of their successors: Provided also, That at the first election for aldermen in any new ward defined by the city council there shall be two aldermen elected. The one receiving the highest number of votes shall hold for two years and the one receiving the next highest number of votes cast shall hold for one year, and thereafter one alderman shall be elected at each annual election for two years as in the wards now existing in said city, and at each annual election thereafter there shall be elected one alderman from each ward in said city as at present who shall hold for two years. The secretary and engineer shall be elected by the council and shall hold their offices for two years and until the election and qualification of their successors.

STATED MEETINGS, ETC.

Sec. 5. There shall be stated sessions of the city council and they shall be held at such time and place as shall be prescribed by ordinance or resolution. Upon the passage of all ordinances appropriating money, or ordinances imposing taxes, increasing, lessening, or abolishing licenses, the yeas and nays shall be entered on the journal. All ordinances shall be read in council on three several days unless two-thirds of the members elected of the board shall dispense therewith. A majority of the members of the city council shall be necessary to pass an ordinance appropriating for any purpose the sum of five hundred dollars or upwards or an ordinance in anywise diminishing or increasing the city revenue.

MANNER OF ELECTING OFFICERS.

Sec. 6. An election shall be held in each of the wards of said city on the last Monday in April, 1889, and on the first Tuesday in April in each year thereafter, at such place or places as the city council may direct, and of which thirty days previous notice shall be given by publication in one or more newspapers of said city, except the first election, of which fifteen days notice shall be sufficient. Said election shall be ordered by the city council and in case of their failure to order the same the mayor of the city may make such order. For the purpose of holding said election and others ordered the city council shall appoint annually in May or earlier in each ward some competent and suitable person who shall be the presiding officer at all elections held in his ward. The presiding officer of each ward shall appoint two judges and two clerks who together with the presiding officer shall be managers of election. The presiding officers and judges must be qualified voters in the city. The city council shall provide for their compensation and by ordinance regulate and define their powers and duties. The mayor whenever an election is ordered shall give the required notice and issue to the presiding officers a writ of election, and every published notice of election shall state the officer or officers to be elected, the place where the election will be held, and the name of the presiding officer thereat. In case the officer so appointed is unable, fails, refuses, or neglects to act, the mayor shall make another appointment, and in case no appointed presiding officer appears to open the polls the qualified electors may appoint such officer, who shall perform the same duties and have like power and authority to act as the first appointee; but in such case the managers in their returns or otherwise shall certify that the presiding officer failed to attend or neglected to act and that the person acting as such was duly chosen by the electors present.

THE TIME OF HOLDING ELECTIONS AND RETURNS.

Sec. 7. At all elections the ballots of each ward shall be taken separately, the polls being open in each ward for one day only, from eight o'clock a. m. until six o'clock p. m., with the privilege of a recess of one hour from twelve to one o'clock. Should the polls not be promptly opened for the reception of votes by eight o'clock a. m., the time thus lost shall be extended beyond the hour of 6 o'clock p. m., so as to secure the full period of nine hours for voting purposes. On closing the polls the managers of elections shall immediately proceed to count and cast up the votes for each candidate and certify and sign the returns in duplicate, one of which shall be sealed up and retained by the presiding officer for future use as a reference in case of contested election; the other copy shall be sealed up with the name of the presiding officer written across the seal, and by the presiding officer, or in his absence or inability by one of the judges or clerks, delivered in open session to the city council on the next day or as soon thereafter as practicable. The officer so delivering the same shall make oath before the mayor or one of the aldermen that the returns by him delivered have not been altered or opened since being signed and sealed as aforesaid. As soon as received the city council shall immediately open the returns from each ward, casting up the votes of the ward for mayor, city attorney, tax assessor and collector, treasurer, and city marshal, and enter the same in tabular form on the journals of the council. The person thus receiving the highest number of votes for mayor, city attorney, tax assessor and collector, treasurer, and city marshal, shall be declared elected, and in like manner the votes for alderman in each ward shall be entered on the journals, and the person receiving the highest number of votes for alderman in the ward in which he is a candidate shall be declared elected alderman. The newly elected officers may enter upon their duties on the fifth day thereafter, Sunday excepted: Provided, That any officer elect may qualify at any time within thirty days; otherwise the office shall be declared vacant and a new election held to fill the same. It shall be the duty of the city secretary to notify all persons elected or appointed to office of their election or appointment, and the city council elect shall meet at the usual place of meeting on the fifth day, Sunday excepted, after their election, or as soon thereafter as possible, and be installed.

WHO ARE QUALIFIED VOTERS.

Sec. 8. Every person not disqualified by law who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years and is entitled to vote for members of the legislature of this state and shall have resided within the corporate limits of said city for six months next preceding the election, shall be entitled to vote for the officers of said city: Provided, nevertheless, That no person belonging to the regular army of the United States shall be so entitled. And the city council may provide for the registration of voters in said city before any annual election, and after such registration no one who is not duly registered shall be allowed to vote at said election.

OATH, POWERS, AND DUTIES OF MANAGERS OF ELECTIONS.

Sec. 9. The managers of elections shall be sworn well and truly to conduct the election without partiality or prejudice and agreeable to law and according to the best of their skill and understanding, which oath shall be administered by the mayor or any justice of the peace. The presiding officers and judges thus qualified shall have power to administer oaths necessary to the performance of their official duties. When any person offering to vote shall be objected to by any one qualified to vote at such election, the managers shall examine him on oath touching the points objected to, and if he fail to establish his qualification to their satisfaction his vote shall be rejected.

PROCEEDINGS IN CASE OF A TIE VOTE, ETC.

Sec. 10. Whenever it so happens in any election that there is a tie between two or more candidates for the same office, all of whom cannot be elected, the city council shall declare such election void as between such candidates only and immediately order a new election for the office, first giving not less than five days notice thereof. In the event of a failure to meet on the part of the city council to examine the election returns and declare the results, the mayor shall discharge that duty.

ELIGIBILITY OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN.

Sec. 11. No person shall be eligible to the office of mayor unless he possesses the qualifications of an elector and shall have resided twelve months next preceding the election within the limits of the city; and no person shall be eligible to the office of alderman unless in addition to the above qualification he be a resident of the ward from which he may be elected at the time of the election: Provided, That if any alderman shall remove from the ward in which he was elected his office shall be deemed vacant and a new election ordered to fill the same.

SPECIAL ELECTION TO FILL VACANCY.

Sec. 12. In case of a vacancy in the office of mayor or alderman, by refusal to accept or failure to qualify, or by death, resignation, or otherwise, the city council shall order a new election to fill such vacancy, and all special elections shall be conducted as is herein provided for in the annual elections: Provided, That in all special elections to fill vacancies ten days notice shall be deemed sufficient. In case of a vacancy in any other office in the city than mayor or alderman, by refusal to accept or failure to qualify, or by death, resignation, or otherwise, the mayor or acting mayor shall fill such vacancy by appointment, to be confirmed by the city council.

CITY COUNCIL COMPOSED OF MAYOR, ALDERMEN, ETC.

Sec. 13. The city council shall be composed of the mayor and aldermen provided for by this act. The mayor shall be president of the council, and in case of a tie on any question he shall give the casting vote. At the first meeting of each new council or as soon thereafter as practicable one of the aldermen shall be elected president pro tem., who shall hold his office for one year. In case of the failure, inability, or refusal of the mayor to act, the president pro tem. shall perform the duties and receive the compensation of the mayor.

OFFICIAL OATH.

Sec. 14. Every person elected by the voters of said city to fill any office, or by the city council, shall before entering on the duties of his office take and subscribe the official oath prescribed in the constitution of this state, and the city council may by ordinance require such additional oath as they may deem best calculated to secure faithfulness in the performance of their duties by such officers.

DUTIES OF MAYOR.

Sec. 15. The mayor of the city shall be the chief executive officer of said corporation, and shall be vigilant and active at all times in causing the laws and ordinances for the government of said city to be duly executed and put in force. He shall inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers in the government thereof, and as far as it may be in his power shall cause all negligence, carelessness, and positive violation of duty to be prosecuted and punished. He shall have power whenever in his judgment the good of the city may require it to summon meetings of the city council, and shall call such meetings upon the written request of three or more aldermen, and he shall from time to time communicate to that body all such information and recommend all such measures as may tend to the improvement of the finances, the police, health, security, cleanliness, comfort, ornament, and good government of said city. The mayor shall also be the chief judicial magistrate of the city: Whenever the mayor shall deem it necessary in order to enforce the laws of the city or to avert danger or to protect life or property in case of riot or any outbreak or calamity or public disturbance, or when he has reason to fear any serious violation of law or order or any outbreak or any other danger to said city or the inhabitants thereof, he shall summon into service as a special police force all or as many of the citizens as in his judgment and discretion may be necessary and proper, and such summons may be by proclamation or order addressed to the citizens generally or those of any ward of the city or subdivision thereof, or such summons may be by personal notification. Such special police force while in service shall be subject to the orders of the mayor, shall perform such duties as he may require, and shall have the same power while on duty as the regular police force of said city; and any person so summoned and failing to obey or appearing and failing to perform any duty that may be required under this act or any ordinance of said city in conformity thereto shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars. The mayor shall have like power with a justice of the peace to administer oaths of office. He shall possess and execute in the city in criminal cases all the powers and duties of a justice of the peace. He shall have authority in case of a riot or any unlawful assemblage, or with a view to preserve peace and good order in said city, to order and enforce the closing of any theatre, ball room, grog shop, tippling house, bar room, or other place of resort or public room or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence the laws of the state or any ordinance of the city; and he shall perform such other duties and possess and exercise such other powers and authority as may be prescribed and conferred by the city council. All ordinances and resolutions adopted by the council shall before they take effect be placed in the office of the city secretary, and if the mayor approve thereof he shall sign the same, and such as he shall not sign he shall return to the city council with his objections thereto. Upon the return of any ordinance or resolution by the mayor, the vote by which the same was passed shall be reconsidered, and if after such reconsideration a majority of the whole number of aldermen agree to pass the same and enter their votes on the the journal of their proceedings it shall be in force; and if the mayor shall neglect to approve or object to any such proceedings for a longer period than three days after the same shall be placed in the secretary's office as aforesaid the same shall go into effect. The mayor shall hold a court within said city, by the name of the police court of the city of Paris, which said court shall have jurisdiction and cognizance of all misdemeanors, breaches of the peace, infraction of the ordinances, and all other causes arising under the laws of said city, and shall be deemed always open for trial of said causes. The said court shall have full power, authority, and jurisdiction in all cases arising under the ordinances of said corporation and over any breaches and violations thereof, and of any and all persons thus offending, and to try and determine all suits, actions, and complaints charging a violation of any ordinance of said city, and may grant new trials on motion in writing showing sufficient cause and duly sworn to, and all prosecutions, trials, and proceedings had in said court under this act shall be governed by the laws and rules regulating trials, prosecutions, and proceedings in justices courts in force at the time. The mayor may require of any person arrested under the provisions of this act a bond for his good behavior and to keep the peace, with two good and sufficient sureties, which bond shall be payable to the city of Paris. He shall have full power and authority to issue subpoenas for witnesses and to compel their attendance by process of attachment. He may punish all contempts by fine and imprisonment or either; may issue subpoenas, attachments, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions, and all other process known to the law which a justice of the peace of this state may lawfully issue; and all of said writs and process shall be issued, served, and executed under the same forms and in the same manner as the like process would be when issued by a justice of the peace unless herein otherwise provided. He shall also have full power and authority to administer official oaths and all oaths and affirmations in trials before him. He shall be ex officio justice of the peace, and he shall possess and execute in the

He shall be ex officio justice of the peace, and he shall possess and execute in the city in criminal cases all the powers and duties of such officer, and shall have the same authority and like powers with justices of the peace in the prevention and suppression of crime; but he shall in no case entertain jurisdiction in civil suits. The city council may determine what costs if any shall be charged in proceedings in and for all process issued in said court, and shall allow the judge thereof for his services such salary as they deem necessary; and the mayor shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by any ordinance of said corporation that may properly and lawfully be required of said officer as the judge of said court and are not inconsistent with the laws and constitution of the state: Provided, That all moneys collected from fines of whatever character imposed by him shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city. Every person brought before the mayor to be tried for an offense for which the penalty may be fine or imprisonment or both shall be entitled if he shall demand it to be tried by a jury of six legal voters of the city, who shall be summoned, impanelled, and qualified as jurors in justices courts under the laws of the state. The mayor of the city of Paris is authorized to celebrate the rites of matrimony between all persons legally authorized to marry, but he shall neither charge nor accept any fee for said services: Provided, That the city council shall have the power by ordinance to create the office of recorder whenever said ordinance is passed by a vote of two-thirds of the aldermen elected, and upon the passage of said ordinance said council shall elect a recorder, who shall be clothed with all the authority, perform the like duties, and receive the same compensation as is provided by this act and conferred upon the mayor as judge of the police court created by this act. Said recorder shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified: Provided, That the city council may at any time they see fit repeal said ordinance creating the office of recorder, in which event the duties of said office with its powers and compensation shall devolve upon the mayor as herein provided.

DUTIES AND POWERS OF THE MARSHAL.

Sec. 16. The marshal of the city shall be ex officio chief of police, and may appoint one or more deputies, and shall either in person or by deputy attend upon the police court while said court is in session and shall promptly and faithfully execute all writs and process issued from said court; he shall have like power with the sheriff of the county to execute the writ of search warrant; he shall be active in quelling riots, disorder, and disturbances of the peace within the limits of said city, and shall take into custody all persons so offending against the peace of the city, and shall have authority to take suitable and sufficient bail for the appearance before the mayor's court of any person charged with an offense against the ordinances or the laws of the city. It shall be his duty to arrest without warrant all violators of the public peace and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the execution of the duties of his office or who shall be guilty of any disorderly conduct or disturbance whatever. To prevent a breach of peace or preserve quiet and good order, he shall have authority to close any theatre, bar room, ball room, drinking house, or any other place or building of public resort; and in the prevention and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders, he shall have, possess, and execute like power, authority, and jurisdiction as the sheriff of a county under the laws of the state. He shall receive a salary to be fixed by the city council. The marshal shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the city council may require, and he shall perform such other duties and possess such other powers, rights, and authority as the city council may by ordinance require and confer not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state.

DUTIES OF THE SECRETARY.

Sec. 17. It shall be the duty of the city secretary to attend every meeting of the city council and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose, and to engross and enroll all laws, resolutions, and ordinances of the city council; to keep its corporate seal; to take charge of and preserve and keep in order all the books, records, papers, documents, and files of said council; to countersign all commissions issued to the city officers and licenses issued by the mayor, and to keep a record or register thereof, and to make out all notices required under any regulation or ordinances of the city. He shall draw all warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same, and keep an accurate account thereof in a book provided for the purpose. He shall be the general accountant of the corporation, and shall keep in books regular accounts of the receipts and disbursements for the city, and separately under proper heads each cause of receipt and disbursement; and also accounts with each person including officers who have money transactions with the city, crediting amounts allowed by proper authority and specifying the particular transaction to which such entries apply. He shall also keep a registry of bonds and bills issued by the city and all evidences of debt due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof and all facts connected therewith as they may occur. He shall carefully keep all contracts made by the city council, and he shall do and perform all such other duties as may be required of him by law, ordinance, resolution, or order of the city council. He shall receive for his services an annual salary payable at stated periods as may be allowed by the city council. He shall also be an ex officio clerk of the police court, and as such shall have power to administer oaths, take affidavits, issue warrants, subpoenas, and other process, and perform such other duties in said office as may be required of him by ordinance.

DUTIES OF TREASURER.

Sec. 18. The treasurer of said city shall give bond in favor of the city in such amount and in such form as may be required by the city council, and with sufficient security, to be approved by the city council, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. He shall receive and securely keep all moneys belonging to the city and make all payments for the same upon the order of the mayor attested by the secretary under the seal of the corporation: Provided, That no order shall be paid unless the said order shall show upon its face that the city council has ordered its issuance and for what purpose. He shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments to the city council at their first regular meeting in every quarter and whensoever at other times he may be required by them so to do; at the end of every half year he shall cause to be published at the expense of the city a statement showing the amount of receipts and expenditures for the six months next preceding and the general condition of the treasury; and he shall do and perform such other acts and duties as the city council may require; and for his services he shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the city council.

DUTIES OF ASSESSOR AND COLLECTOR.

Sec. 19. The assessor and collector shall make up the assessment of all property taxed by the city and make duplicate rolls thereof, and on completion of the rolls shall deliver one of them to the city secretary. He shall collect all taxes due the city, and in the event of non-payment of any taxes shall proceed to sell property to raise the amount of taxes so due; and shall in the performance of his duties observe the provisions of this act and the ordinances of the city relating thereto. He shall give bond in such amount and in such form as the city council may prescribe, with good and sufficient sureties, and the city council may require a new bond whenever in their opinion the existing bond is insufficient, and whenever such bond is required he shall perform no official act until said bond shall be given and approved. He shall at the expiration of every week pay to the treasurer all money by him collected, and shall report to the city council at the first meeting in every month all moneys so collected and paid; and he shall perform all such other duties and in such manner and according to such rules and regulations as the city council may prescribe. The assessor and collector is authorized to require the owners of all property subject to taxation to render a correct account of the same under oath to be administered by him. The assessor and collector shall receive such fees and commissions for his services as may be allowed by the ordinances of the city.

POWERS OF THE CITY COUNCIL OVER OFFICERS.

Sec. 20. The city council shall have power from time to time to require other and further duties of all officers whose duties are herein prescribed and to define and prescribe the powers and duties of all officers appointed or elected to any office under this act whose duties are not herein specially mentioned and fix their compensation. They may also require bonds to be given to the said corporation by all officers for the faithful performance of their duties. The city council shall provide for filling vacancies in all offices not herein provided for, and in all cases of vacancy the same shall be filled only for the unexpired term.

GENERAL POWERS.

Sec. 21. That the city council shall have exclusive control and power over the streets, alleys, and public grounds and highways of the city, and to abate and remove encroachments or obstructions thereon; to open, alter, widen, extend, establish, regulate, grade, clean, pave, or otherwise improve the same; to put drains and sewers therein; to prevent the incumbering thereof in any manner, and to protect the same from any encroachment or injury; to regulate, establish, and alter the grade of all premises and require and compel the filling up and raising of the same; to establish, erect, construct, regulate, and keep in repair all bridges, culverts, sewers, sidewalks, and crossings, and to regulate the use and construction of the same and material used in such construction or repair, and to abate and punish any obstructions or encroachments thereon, and the costs of the construction of all such sidewalks and grading done thereon or the filling up and raising the grade of any premises shall be defrayed by the owners of the lot or a part of lot or block on which such sidewalk may front or such grading or filling is done, and the costs of same, together with the cost of collection thereof, shall be a good and valid charge against the owners of such lot or lots or block and a lien or incumbrance upon the lot or part of lot, block, or premises upon which or in front of which said improvements may be constructed, which amount shall be assessed as a tax against the property and the owners thereof and may be collected and the lien foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction: Provided, That all improvements of sidewalks, fillings, and gradings done by the city shall be advertised and let out by the contract to the lowest and best bidder.

Sec. 22. The city council shall be invested with full power and authority to grade, pave, repair, or otherwise improve any avenue, street, alley, or other highway or any portion thereof within the limits of said city whenever by a vote of two-thirds of the aldermen elected they may deem such improvement for the public interest, two-thirds of the cost of which grading, paving, or repairing shall be borne by the owners of the property fronting on such alley, avenue, street, or other highway so improved; and to make provision for the payment of two-thirds of the cost of such improvements and the cost of collecting the same the city council shall have full power to assess, levy, and collect a tax upon the lot or lots fronting or adjoining on such alley, avenue, street, or other highway, which tax when so levied and assessed shall be a valid charge against the owner or owners of such lot or lots as well as a lien and incumbrance upon the property itself, which amount may be collected and the said lien enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction: Provided, That the city alone shall pay for the other one-third of such improvements and for the improving of the intersections of the streets from block to block across the streets either way: And provided further, That no one shall be made to pay for any improvement done on any street that may be paved or otherwise improved as hereinafter provided save for the proportional part of the street that may be in front of or adjoining his property and to center of such street, and in no event shall such owner be compelled to pay for the improvement of such street, not including sidewalks, more than twenty-five per cent of the assessed value of his property fronting thereon, except with his written consent and except property not assessed, which shall be liable for its proportion according to frontage, and that any railroad or street railway company shall be liable for any grading, paving, or other improvements made upon any portion of said streets used or occupied by said company, to be paid for in same manner as by abutting owners: And provided further, That such improvements shall be paid in not less than five annual installments with interest thereon not exceeding eight per cent per annum; but any person interested in such improvement may pay his part in cash before the issuance of bonds to cover the same.

Sec. 23. Parties residing upon any street, avenue, or alley may cause the same to be improved, graded, paved, or repaired at the expense of the abutting owner entirely (except street crossings). When two-thirds of the parties residing on each side of such street shall sign a written petition to the city council requesting such improvement to be made at their expense and stating the part of such street so desired to be improved, it shall thereupon be the duty of the city council to have such improvement done in the same manner as prescribed in the foregoing section: Provided, That paving and other improvements done under this section and all paving and other improvements done in all cases on the part of streets occupied by street or other railways may be done or caused to be done by the parties paying for the same under the direction and control of the city authorities.

Sec. 24. The city council shall have authority to pass ordinances to insure the safety and convenience of passing in the streets, sidewalks, and other places in the city, to prevent encroachments and obstructions on the streets, sidewalks, squares, parks, and public places; to establish an efficient system of inspection over the conduct of persons and premises; to prevent cattle, horses, swine, goats, and other animals from running at large in the streets; to establish and maintain a city police, prescribe the duties of policemen and regulate their conduct; to provide for the lighting of the streets and other public places in the city, and to this end may make a contract for such time as to said city may be deemed to the best interest of the city; to determine in what part of the city slaughter houses, bone boilers, soap makers, or other establishments for any business which is or may be injurious to the value of adjacent property or unwholesome or disagreeable to the occupants of adjacent property shall not be allowed to be erected; to determine in what part of the city wooden buildings shall not be erected, removed, or repaired, and within the limits prescribed no person shall be permitted to erect such buildings; to prevent gunpowder or other explosive material, kerosene oil or other inflammable oils, being stored within the city limits in such quantity as to endanger the safety of adjacent property; to provide means for the protection against and extinguishment of conflagrations and for the regulation, maintenance, and support of a fire department; to permit or forbid theatres, balls, or other public amusements, and to suppress the same whenever the preservation of order, tranquility, or public safety may require; to close dram shops, drinking saloons, and other places where intoxicating liquors are sold whenever necessary or expedient; to define what shall be nuisances in said city and to abate them by summary proceedings; to provide a work house for vagabonds and disorderly persons who are unable to pay fines, and to make regulations concerning the same; to regulate weights and measures in the city, affix penalties for violations, fix standard, etc. Also the city council may provide, own, and maintain water works for the use of the city and inhabitants; to provide and keep a city prison; to make all needful and proper regulations concerning bakers, butchers, keepers of taverns, grog shops, and other public houses, draymen, horse drivers, water carriers, omnibus drivers, and drivers of baggage wagons, and especially to preserve order and prevent noise and confusion in and about the several depots on arrival and departure of railway trains; to prevent extortion by carriers of passengers, of baggage hacks, drays, and all public conveyances, by establishing maximum rates of charges; to direct and control the laying and construction of railroad tracks, turnouts and switches, and to require that they be constructed and laid so as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of streets; to require railroad companies to keep the streets through which they run in repair, and to light the same whenever deemed necessary, and to construct and keep in repair bridges and crossings at the intersection of streets and avenues, and over all ditches, sewers, and culverts on the line of the railway; to regulate the speed of engines and locomotives within said city; to control and regulate street railways; and to generally make and establish all rules, regulations, by-laws and ordinances which may contribute to and promote the better administration of the affairs of said city, as well as for the maintenance of the peace, tranquility, and safety of said city and for the protection of the persons and property of its inhabitants.

Sec. 25. The city council shall have the management and control of the finances and other property, real, personal, and mixed, belonging to the corporation. The city council shall have power to appropriate money and provide for the payment of debts and expenses of the city; to provide by ordinance special funds for special purposes and to make the same disburseable only for the purpose for which the fund was created, and any officer of the city misappropriating such special fund shall be deemed guilty of malfeasance in office and shall on complaint of any one interested in said funds misappropriated be removed from office. To make regulations to prevent the introduction of contagious disease into the city, to make quarantine laws for that purpose and to enforce them within the city and within ten miles thereof. To provide or cause to be provided the city with water, and to this end may make a contract for a supply of water for all purposes for such time as the city council may deem for the best interest of the city; to make, regulate, and establish public wells, pumps and cisterns, hydrants and reservoirs in the streets or elsewhere within said city or beyond the limits thereof for the extinguishment of fires and the convenience of the inhabitants, and to prevent the unnecessary waste of water.

Sec. 26. The city council shall have power to provide for the enclosing, regulating, and improving all public grounds and cemeteries belonging to the city, and to direct and regulate the planting and preserving of ornaments and shade trees in the streets, sidewalks, or public grounds; to erect or establish one or more hospitals and control and regulate the same and to prohibit or to permit and regulate the establishment of private hospitals; to regulate the carrying of weapons and to prevent the carrying of the same concealed; to prevent the incumbering of the streets, alleys, sidewalks, and public grounds with carriages, wagons, carts, hacks, buggies, or any vehicles whatsoever, boxes, lumber, timber, firewood, posts, awnings, signs, or any other substance or material whatever, or in any other manner whatever; to compel all persons to keep all weeds, filth, and any kind of rubbish from the sidewalks and streets and gutters in front of or adjoining the premises occupied by them; to require and compel the owners of property to fill up, grade, gravel, and otherwise improve the sidewalks in front of and adjoining their property; also to inspect the construction of buildings and to cause unsafe buildings to be made safe or to be removed, and to prohibit the use of material deemed unsafe; to authorize the proper officer of the city to grant and issue licenses and to direct the manner of issuing and registering thereof and the fees and charges to be paid therefor. No licenses shall be issued for a longer period than one year, and shall not be assignable except by permission of the city council.

Sec. 27. The city council shall have power to restrain, regulate, and prohibit the selling, indirectly to evade a tax or penalty, of intoxicating or malt liquors by any person within the city, except by persons duly licensed; to forbid or punish the selling of any intoxicating or malt liquors to any minor, apprentice, or habitual drunkard; to close drinking houses, saloons, bar rooms, beer saloons, and all places or establishments where intoxicating or fermented liquors are sold on Sundays, and prescribe hours for closing them, and also all places of amusement and business. The city council shall have full power by ordinance to prevent the sale of any intoxicating liquors in any house or other place where theatrical or dramatic representations are given, and also to prevent intoxicating liquors of any description from being brought into any house or place where such representations are given under any pretext whatsoever; to make such rules and regulations in relation to butchers as they may deem necessary and proper; to regulate the inspection of beef, pork, flour, meal, salt, and other provisions, whisky and other liquors to be sold in barrels, hogsheads, and other vessels and packages; to appoint weighers, gaugers, and inspectors, and prescribe their duties and regulate their fees; to regulate the weight and quality of bread to be sold or used within the city; to create, establish, and regulate the police of the city; to appoint watchmen and policemen, and prescribe their duties and powers and compensation; to suppress and prevent any riot, affray, noisy disturbance, or disorderly assembly in any public or private place within the city; to prevent, prohibit, and suppress horse racing, immoderate riding or driving in the streets; to prohibit and punish the abuse of animals; to compel persons to fasten their horses or other animals attached to vehicles or otherwise while standing or remaining in the streets: to establish and regulate public pounds, and to regulate, restrain, and prohibit the running at large of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, swine, goats, and to authorize the distraining, impounding, and sale of the same for the costs of the proceedings and the penalty incurred, and to order their destruction when they can not be sold, and to impose penalties on the owners thereof for the violation of any ordinance; to tax, regulate, or restrain and prohibit the running at large of dogs, and to authorize their destruction when at large contrary to the ordinances, and to impose penalties on the owners or keepers thereof for violation of such ordinances; to prohibit and restrain the shooting of fire crackers, guns, and pistols, the use of velocipedes, or the use of any pyrotechnic or other amusement or practice tending to annoy persons passing in the streets or sidewalks or to frighten horses or teams; to restrain and prohibit the ringing of bells, blowing of horns or bugles, crying of goods, and all other noises, practices, and performances tending to the collection of persons on the streets and sidewalks by auctioneers and others for the purpose of business, amusement, or otherwise.

Sec. 28. The city council shall have power to abate all nuisances which may injure or affect the public health or comfort in any manner they may deem expedient; to do all acts and make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the promotion of health or the suppression of disease. The city council of said city and the commissioners court of Lamar County may co-operate in making such improvements as may by such council and court be deemed necessary to improve the public health, and to promote efficient sanitary regulations, and arrange for the construction of and payment for such improvements; to compel the owner or occupant of any grocery, soap, tallow, or chandler establishment, or blacksmith shop, tannery, stable, slaughter house, distillery, brewery, sewer, privy, hide house, or other unwholesome or nauseous house or place, to cleanse, remove, or abate the same, as may be necessary for the health, comfort, and convenience of the inhabitants; to direct the location of business, tanneries, blacksmith shops, foundries, livery stables, and any manufacturing establishment; to direct the location and regulate the management and construction of, restrain, abate, or prohibit within the city limits slaughtering establishments and hide houses, or establishments for keeping of and curing hides, establishments for making soap, for steaming or rendering lard, tallow, offal, and such other substances as may be rendered, and all other establishments or places where any nauseous, offensive, or unwholesome business may be carried on; to regulate the burial of the dead; to purchase, establish, and regulate one or more cemeteries; to regulate the registration of deaths, marriages, and births; to direct the returning and keeping of bills of mortality; to abate and remove nuisances, and to punish the authors thereof by penalties, fine, and imprisonment, and to define and declare what shall be nuisances, and authorize and direct the summary abatement thereof; to erect and establish one or more work houses or houses of correction within or without the city limits, make all necessary rules and regulations therefor, and appoint all necessary keepers or assistants. In such work houses or houses of correction may be confined all vagrants, stragglers, idle, suspicious, and disorderly persons who may be committed by the mayor; and any person who shall fail or refuse to pay the fine, penalty, or costs imposed for any misdemeanor or breach of any ordinance of the city may instead of being committed to jail be kept therein subject to labor and confinement.

Sec. 29. The city council shall have power to compel and force all offenders against any ordinance of this city found guilty by the mayor and sentenced to fine and imprisonment to labor on the streets and alleys of said city or on any public work, under such regulations as may by ordinance be established; to prevent all trespasses, breaches of the peace and good order, assault and batteries, fighting, quarreling, using abusive, obscene, profane, and insulting language, misdeamors, and all disorderly conduct, and punish all persons thus offending; to prevent and punish the keeping of houses wherein indecent, lewd, or immodest dramatic or theatrical representations are given, and to adopt summary measures for the removal or suppression of all such establishments; to require the owners of private drains, sinks, and privies to fill up, cleanse, drain, alter, relay, repair, fix, and improve the same as may be ordered by any resolution or ordinance of said city; and in the event of any failure, neglect, or refusal to comply with any such order, the party so failing shall be liable to fine and imprisonment. In the event of there being no person in the city on whom such order can be served, the city may have such work done and such improvements made on account of the owner thereof, and all costs, charges, and expenses shall be a lien on the property on the filing of a memorandum by the mayor under the seal of the corporation thereof, and recording the same with the clerk of the county court; and the city may enforce said lien and institute suit in the corporate name and obtain judgment against said party for the amount so due as aforesaid in any court having jurisdiction. To prevent any person from carrying, depositing, or having within the limits of said city any dead carcass or any other offensive or unwholesome substance or matter, and to require the removal or destruction by any person who shall have placed or caused to be placed upon or near his premises or elsewhere of any substance or matter, filth, or any putrid or unsound beef, pork or fish, hides or skins of any kind; and on his default to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city and require the owner of any dead animal to remove the same to such place as may be designated; to prevent, regulate, and control the driving of cattle, horses, and all other animals into or through the city.

Sec. 30. The city council shall have power to pass, publish, amend, or repeal all ordinances, rules, and police regulations not contrary to the constitution of this state, for the good government, peace, and order of the city and the trade and commerce thereof that may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers vested by this act in the corporation, the city government, or in any department or office thereof; to enforce the observance of all such rules, ordinances, and police regulations, and to punish violations thereof by fines, penalties, and imprisonment in the prison, work house, or house of correction or to work on the streets or other public works or either in the discretion of the court before whom conviction may be had; but no fine or penalty shall exceed one hundred dollars nor the imprisonment more than fifteen days for any offense unless a larger fine and longer period of imprisonment is herein allowed; and for any fine, penalty, and costs imposed by the mayor in the trial of any cause or complaint before him execution may issue to collect such fine and costs, to be levied and executed in the same manner that executions are from the district court. The same shall be issued by the mayor to the marshal, who in levying on property and selling shall have like power and authority as the sheriff of the county in executions issued from the district court; and the laws of the state as far as applicable shall apply and be in full force and effect as to executions issued from the mayor's court; and any person upon whom any fine or penalty is imposed may be committed until the payment of the same with costs, and in default thereof may be imprisoned in the city prison or work house or house of correction or may be required to work on the streets or any other public work of the city for such time and in such manner as may be provided by ordinance: Provided, Such imprisonment shall not exceed fifteen days unless a longer period be herein allowed. To pass all necessary ordinances to provide for funding the whole or any part of the existing debt of the city or any future debt by canceling the evidences thereof and issuing to the holders or creditors notes, bonds, or treasury warrants with or without coupons bearing interest at an annual rate not to exceed eight per cent.

Sec. 31. The city council shall have power to appropriate so much of the revenues of the city emanating from whatever source for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city and for the purpose of improving the public markets and streets, alleys and avenues, and for the purpose of opening streets, alleys, and avenues, or for the purpose of opening, establishing, and improving and maintaining public parks, erecting and conducting city hospitals, city hall, water works, and gas works or other works for properly lighting said city, as they may from time to time deem expedient; and in furtherance of these objects they shall have power to borrow money upon the credit of the city and issue coupon bonds of the city therefor in such sum or sums as they may deem expedient, to bear interest not exceeding six per cent per annum payable semi-annually or annually at such place as may be fixed by city ordinance: Provided, That the aggregate amount of bonds issued by the city council shall at no time exceed six per cent of the value of the property within said city subject to ad valorem tax. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they were issued and shall not be valid if sold for less than their par value, and when any bonds are issued by the city a fund shall be provided to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to redeem the bonds, which fund shall not be diverted nor drawn upon for any other purpose, and the city treasurer shall honor no drafts on said fund except to pay interest upon or redeem the bonds for which it was provided. Said bonds shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the secretary and payable at such places and at such times as may be fixed by ordinance of the city council not less than ten nor more than fifty years. It shall be the duty of the mayor whenever any bonds are issued to forward the same to the comptroller of public accounts of the state, whose duty it shall be to register said bond or bonds in a book kept for that purpose and to indorse on each bond so registered his certificate of registration, and to give at the request of the mayor his certificate certifying to the amount of bonds so registered in his office up to date; that it shall be the duty of the mayor at the time of forwarding any of said bonds for registration to furnish the comptroller with a statement of the value of all taxable property real and personal in the city; also with a statement of the amount of tax levied for the payment of interest and to create a sinking fund. The city council shall have power to invest said sinking fund in good interest-bearing securities. The city council shall have the right to enact all necessary ordinances to restrain and punish vagrants, mendicants, street beggars, and prostitutes; to restrain, regulate, control, license, and locate all houses of prostitution or assignation and the keepers and inmates thereof; to regulate, punish, or control all gambling and keepers of games and gambling houses and those who bet on games and gambling devices; and when there is an ordinance of the city of Paris in force punishing this or any other misdemeanor with as great a penalty as the same is punished by the statutes of the state the police court of the city of Paris shall have jurisdiction of such misdemeanors when committed in the corporate limits of the city of Paris.

OPENING STREETS, ETC.

Sec. 32. Whenever the city council shall hereafter provide by ordinance for the establishing, opening, widening, or altering any street, avenue, alley, market place, or public square, route, or sewer, either on their own motion or a petition of a majority of the adjoining property holders, and it becomes necessary for the purpose to take private property, just compensation is to be paid therefor to the owners of the land condemned and appropriated. Whenever the owner or owners of land cannot agree with a committee of the city council as to the value of the land to be used, the mayor shall cause the value of such property so taken to be ascertained and assessed by a board of appraisers consisting of six disinterested freeholders of the city, to be selected as follows: Whenever any of the aforesaid improvements have been determined upon by the city council, the mayor shall order the marshal to summon twelve disinterested freeholders of the city to appear before him on a day specified in the notice, and he shall have the owner or owners of the land to be taken summoned to appear at the same time and place, and if the owner cannot be found, then notice to be served on the agent of such owner. If any of the twelve freeholders do not appear at the time and place, the marshal shall summon the requisite number to fill the vacancies until there is a panel of twelve. From this list the owner of the land shall have a right to strike off three and the mayor in behalf of the city shall have a right to except to three and the remaining first six shall constitute a board of appraisers. Said board shall have power to regulate their time of sitting, to enforce the execution of all necessary process, and they shall be presided over by the mayor, who shall instruct the board upon all questions of law arising, but shall have no voice in determining the value of the land. A majority of the board may determine and report the value of the land. Said appraisers shall hear evidence as to the value of the property sought to be condemned and as to the damage which will be sustained by the owner thereof by reason of such condemnation, and as to the benefits that will result to the remainder of such property belonging to such owner if any by the construction and opening of such street, avenue, alley, market place or public square, or route or sewer, and shall according to this rule assess the actual damage that will accrue to such owner by said condemnation. When the whole of a person's real estate is condemned the damages to which he shall be entitled shall be the market value thereof. When only a portion of a person's real estate is condemned the appraisers shall estimate the injuries sustained and the benefit received thereby by the owner as to the remaining portion of such real estate, whether such remaining portion is increased or diminished in value by such condemnation and the extent of such increase or diminution, and shall assess the damages accordingly. In estimating either the injuries or benefits as provided herein, those injuries or benefits which the owner of such real estate sustains or receives in common with the community generally, and which are not peculiar to him and connected with his ownership, use, and enjoyment of the particular parcel of land, shall be altogether excluded from such estimate, and the city council shall provide by ordinance for the carrying out and full execution of the decision and award thus made.

AD VALOREM TAXES.

Sec. 33. The city council of the city of Paris shall have power by ordinance to annually levy and collect such ad valorem taxes as are authorized by the Constitution of the State of Texas on the assessed value of all real and personal estate and property in said city, not to exceed, however, for all purposes, except the support and maintenance of public free schools in said city, one per cent of the taxable property of said city, and in addition thereto said council shall have the power by ordinance to annually levy and collect not exceeding one-half of one per cent ad valorem taxes on the assessed value of said taxable property for the support and maintenance of public free schools in said city: Provided, That no such tax shall be levied until an election shall have been held, at which none but property tax payers as shown by the last assessment rolls who are qualified voters of said city shall vote, and two-thirds of those voting shall vote in favor thereof. The proposition submitted may be for a tax not exceeding one-half of one per cent or it may be for a specific per cent. One election and no more shall be held in any one calendar year to ascertain whether a school tax shall be levied. If the proposition is carried the school tax shall continue to be annually levied and collected for at least two years thereafter unless it is discontinued at an election held to determine whether the tax shall be continued or discontinued at the request of fifty tax payers of said city. When the tax is continued no election to discontinue it shall be held for two years. When the tax is discontinued no election to levy a tax shall be held during the same year.

POLL TAX.

Sec. 34. The city council shall have power to levy and collect an annual poll tax not to exceed one dollar of every male inhabitant of said city over the age of twenty-one years (idiots and lunatics excepted) who is a resident thereof at the time of such annual assessment.

OCCUPATION TAX.

Sec. 35. The city council shall have power to levy and collect taxes commonly known as licenses upon trades, professions, callings, and other business carried on, and upon carriages, hacks, coaches, buggies, drays, carts, wagons, and other vehicles used in said city when the same are for public use, and each and every person and firm engaging in the following trades, professions, callings, and business among others shall be liable to pay such license tax, but this enumeration shall not be construed to deprive the city council of the right and power to levy and collect other license taxes and from other persons and firms under the general authority herein granted: Every person and firm engaged in selling goods, wares, and merchandise; every person and firm selling liquors in quantities over a quart; every person or firm keeping a grog shop, tippling house, bar room, or drinking saloon; every person or firm keeping a place where spirituous liquors, wine, cordials, or beer are sold in quantities less than one quart; every person or firm keeping a billiard table, ball alley, nine or ten pin alley, or any similar game; every person or firm keeping a tavern or hotel or boarding house; every person or firm keeping a restaurant or eating house, oyster shop, oyster saloon, or place of any description where eating or refreshments are furnished; every person or firm keeping a livery stable, sale stable, feed or other kind of stable; every person or firm selling goods, wares, and merchandise at public auction; every person or firm pursuing the occupation of real estate broker or agent, merchandise or cotton broker, or commission business; every person or firm pursuing the occupation of hauler or peddler of goods or any articles whatever; every person or firm keeping a brewery, beer shop, or distilling or fruit stand; every person or firm keeping a storage or warehouse or engaging in compressing cotton, keeping an intelligence office; each and every insurance company shall also be liable to pay said city such license tax, and each and every insurance agent in said city shall likewise be subject to said license tax, and such agent shall be held responsible therefor and for each association, corporation, or company of which he is agent; that each and every firm keeping a lumber, wood, or coal yard, or any place for sale of the articles aforesaid or building material, shall be subject to such license tax, and all other persons from whom the city council may require said tax under the authority in this act guaranteed: Provided, Nothing herein contained shall in any wise prevent or restrain the city council from collecting the license and each license tax hereinbefore provided for by this act. Each establishment shall be liable to said license tax, and any person or firm pursuing occupations, business avocations, or callings subject to said tax shall pay on each, and no license shall extend to more than one establishment or include more than one occupation, avocation, or business or calling. The city council shall have power in addition to collect a license tax from all persons, corporations, or firms and occupations upon whom or which a license tax is imposed by the state.

TO PROVIDE FOR ASSESSING, ETC.

Sec. 36. The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the assessing and collecting of the taxes aforesaid and to determine when taxes shall be paid by corporations and when by the individual corporations: Provided, No tax shall be levied unless by consent of two-thirds of the aldermen elected. The license tax shall be collected by the assessor and collector and shall be paid to that officer by each and every person and firm owing such license and before engaging in any trade, profession, business, calling, avocation, or occupation subject to said tax; and if any person shall engage in any business, calling avocation, or occupation which by an ordinance of the said city is subject to a license tax without first having obtained said license, he, she, or they shall on conviction before the mayor's court be liable to imprisonment or a fine of ten dollars or both imprisonment and such fine for each day such violation of said ordinance may continue, and this article shall apply to all persons owing any license and failing to pay the same: Provided, That the city council may collect said license tax by suit in any court having jurisdiction under such rules and regulations as they may provide by ordinance. Said taxes commonly known as license laid as herein provided shall not be construed to be a tax on property.

DEFINITIONS OF REAL AND PERSONAL ESTATE.

Sec. 37. The term real estate or property shall be construed to include lots, lands, and all buildings or machinery and structures of every kind erected upon and affixed to the same. The term personal estate or property shall be construed to include all household furniture, moneys, goods, capital, chattels, public stocks, and stocks of corporations, monied or otherwise, and generally all property which is not real.

TAXES FOR PAYMENT OF INDEBTEDNESS.

Sec. 38. The city council may also levy, assess, and collect taxes necessary to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund to satisfy any indebtedness heretofore legally made and undertaken; but all such taxes shall be assessed and collected at the same time as taxes for current expenses of municipi-pal government, and shall when levied specify in the act of levying the purpose therefor, and such taxes may be paid in the coupon bonds or other indebtedness for the payment of which such tax may have been levied, and no debt shall ever be created by said city unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and create a sinking fund of at least two per cent thereon.

MANNER AND TIME OF ASSESSING AND COLLECTING TAXES, AND BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Sec. 39. The city council shall have full power to provide by ordinance the mode and time of assessment of ad valorem taxes and when the same shall be paid and for the prompt collection thereof, and provide for a board of equalization and the powers and duties thereof, and all the duties of the assessor and collector in assessing and collecting taxes of every description imposed by ordinance under this act.

TAX SALE.

Sec. 40. That if any person shall fail, neglect, or refuse to pay the taxes imposed upon him and his property within the time prescribed by the ordinances of said city, the collector shall by virtue of his tax list and assessment roll levy upon so much property liable to taxation belonging to such person whether resident or non-resident as may be sufficient to pay his, her, or their taxes, and if the property levied on be personal property the collector shall give notice of the time and place of sale, together with a brief description of the property levied on and to be sold with the amount of taxes, interest, costs, and fees, due thereupon, for at least ten days previous to the day of sale, by advertisements in writing to be posted at the door of the city hall of said city and at two other public places within said city limits; and at the expiration of such notice and on the day therein specified the collector shall proceed to sell such at public auction in front of the door of the city hall of said city. In making sales of real property for taxes, the collector shall advertise the same for sale by publishing a list of the names of delinquents for thirty days in some newspaper published in said city, giving in such advertisement such description as is given to the same on the tax roll in his hands, stating the name of the owner if known, and if unknown saying "unknown," together with the time, place, and terms of sale; said sale to be for cash to the highest and best bidder at public outcry at said city hall door between legal hours on the first Tuesday of the month. The collector of taxes in making sales for taxes due upon real estate shall sell at auction at the time and place appointed so much of said real estate as may be necessary to pay the taxes, interest, and penalties due, and all costs accruing thereon, and shall offer said real estate to the bidder who will pay the taxes, interest, and penalties due, and costs of sale and execution of deed for the least amount of said real estate, who shall be deemed the highest bidder. Should a less amount of said real estate than the whole parcel levied upon be sold for the taxes, interest, and penalties due, and all costs of sale and execution of deed, the collector shall in making his deed to the purchaser begin at some corner of some parcel of real estate (lot or lots) and designate the same as nearly as practicable. No real estate set apart and used or designated as a homestead shall be sold for taxes other than the tax due on such homestead, and if any person shall point out to the collector of taxes within thirty days from the time the same shall become due sufficient personal property belonging to him to pay all taxes assessed against him, together with interest, penalties, and costs, the collector shall immediately levy upon and sell such property so pointed out in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore mentioned regulating tax sales of personal property. The collector of taxes shall execute and deliver to the purchaser upon the payment of the amount for which the estate was sold and costs and penalties a deed for the real estate sold, which deed shall vest a good and perfect title in the purchaser if not redeemed in two years as hereinafter provided, which deed shall state the cause of sale, the amount sold, the price for which the real estate was sold, the name of the person, firm, company, or corporation on whom the demand for taxes was made, provided the name is known and if unknown saying "unknown," the same description of the land as given in the tax rolls, and such other description as may be practicable for better identification; and when real estate has been sold he shall convey, subject to the right of redemption hereinafter provided for, all the right and interest which the former owner had therein at the time the assessment was made. The deed of the collector as hereinbefore provided of any real estate sold shall be prima facie evidence in all controversies and suits in relation to the right of the purchaser, his, her, or their assigns, to the premises thereby conveyed of the following facts: First—That the land or lot or portion thereof conveyed was subject to taxation or assessment at the time the same was advertised for sale and had been listed in the time and manner required by law. Second—That the taxes or assessment were not paid at any time before the same. Third—That the land, lot, or portion thereof conveyed had not been redeemed from the sale at the date of the deed. And shall be conclusive evidence of the following facts: First—That the land, lot, or portion thereof sold was advertised for sale in the manner and for the time required by law. Second—That the property was sold for taxes or assessments as stated in the deed. Third—That the grantee in the deed was the purchaser. Fourth—That the sale was conducted in the manner prescribed by law. And in all controversies and suits involving the title to land claimed and held under and by virtue of such deed the person or persons claiming adverse to the title conveyed by such deed shall be required to prove in order to defeat the said title either that the land was not subject to taxation at the date of the sale, that the taxes or assessments had not been paid, that the lands or lot had never been listed and assessed for taxation and assessment as required by this act or some ordinance of the city, or that the same had been redeemed according to the provisions of this act, and that such redemption was made for the use and benefit of the person having the right of redemption under the law; but no person shall be permitted to question the title acquired by the said deed without first showing that he, she, or they, or the persons under whom he, she, or they claim title, had title to the land at the time of the sale or that the title was obtained after the sale, and that all taxes due upon the land have been paid by such person or the person under whom he claims title as aforesaid: Provided, however, That the owner of such property shall have the right to redeem the same at any time within two years of the day and date of the sale thereof upon paying to the purchaser double the amount of the taxes for which the same was sold, together with the costs of such sale and the amount of all taxes paid by the purchaser since such sale. The collector shall have full power to levy upon any personal property to satisfy any tax imposed by this act. All taxes shall be a lien upon all property upon which they are assessed, and if said taxes are not paid on or before the time prescribed by the ordinance of said city the same shall from such time bear interest at the rate of eight (8) per centum per annum, till paid, which interest shall be collected by the collector at the time and in the manner provided herein for the collection of taxes; and in case any property levied upon is about to be removed out of the city the collector shall proceed to take into his possession so much thereof as will pay the taxes assessed and costs of collection. If from any cause the sale of the property levied upon or seized for taxes shall not take place at the time appointed, the collector shall appoint some other time, giving the like notice, and proceed to sell such property in the manner prescribed in the first instance; and in case said property or any part thereof levied upon or seized for taxes can not be sold on the day advertised, such sale may be postponed from day to day until completed, of which postponement the collector shall give verbal notice at the expiration of sale each day. No sale shall be considered complete until payment of the purchase money, and if the same is not paid before the completion of such tax sales the collector shall resell the property and continue such sale until the same is complete. Should the collector of taxes fail to make sale of any real estate or personal property for want of a purchaser, he shall bid the same off to the city for the taxes, interest, penalties, and all costs accruing thereupon, and thereupon the city shall receive in the corporate name a deed for said property and shall be vested with the same rights as other purchasers at such sales and shall have power to sell and convey the same, and one deed shall include all parcels of land or lots bid off to the city in any one day at such tax sale; and after sale and purchase by the city of any real estate it shall not be lawful for said collector to levy upon or advertise or sell the same for any remaining or accruing taxes due thereon until the same shall have been redeemed by the owner or is sold by the city.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 41. The city council may organize a fire department, and said department as now organized shall remain until changed by the council, and the city council may by ordinance establish such regulations for the prevention and extinguishment of fires as the said council may deem expedient, and generally exercise and enforce all needful measures necessary for this purpose the same as if specific authority was granted, the intention of this section being to clothe the said council with full power to prescribe rules and regulations for the organization, government, and maintenance of said fire department and for the extinguishment of fires and to provide the means therefor.

SANITARY DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 42. The city council may by ordinance establish rules and regulations for the health of the inhabitants of said city, and shall have full power generally to adopt and prescribe all measures to prevent disease and pestilence of every nature, and to punish any violation of the same by fine and imprisonment or both, and may appoint a health physician and inspector and prescribe their powers, duties, and compensation.

REMOVAL OF DANGEROUS BUILDINGS.

Sec. 43. Whenever in the opinion of the city council any building, fence, shed, awning, or any erection of the kind or any part thereof is liable to fall down and endanger persons or property, they may order any owner or agent of the same, or any owner or occupant of the premises on which said building, shed, awning, or other erection stands or to which it is attached, to take down and remove the same or any part thereof within such time as they may direct, and to punish by fine and imprisonment or either any neglect, failure, or refusal to comply therewith. The city council shall in addition have the power to remove the same at the expense of the city on account of the owner of the property or premises and assess the expense on the land on which it stood or to which it was attached, and shall by ordinance provide for such assessment, the mode and manner of giving notice, and the means of recovering any such expenses.

WRITS OF MAYOR, ETC.

Sec. 44. Writs issued by the mayor of said city for offenses against the laws may be executed and the accused person or persons arrested by the marshal or his deputies anywhere within the county of Lamar. Whenever any person has been required by the mayor to give a peace bond or a bond for good behavior, or any similar bond under this act, and has complied with such order and been guilty of a violation or infraction of such bond, and the same is proved or established to the satisfaction of that officer on any trial or complaint, such party so offending may be fined in the sum of two hundred dollars and imprisoned for two months, and the city in its corporate name may sue in any court having jurisdiction for the recovery of the penalty of such bond.

OFFICIAL PAPER AND PUBLICATION.

Sec. 45. The city council shall as soon as it may be after the commencement of each municipal year contract, as they may by ordinance or resolution determine, with a public newspaper of the city as an official paper thereof and to continue as such until another is elected, and shall cause to be published therein all ordinances, notices, and other matters required by this act or by the ordinances of the city to be published. The city council shall at least ten days before the expiration of each municipal year cause to be published in a city newspaper a correct and full statement of the receipts and expenditures from the date of the last annual report, together with the sources from which the funds were derived and showing for what purpose disbursed, the condition of the treasury, together with such information as may be necessary to a full understanding of the financial condition of the city. Every ordinance imposing any penalty, fine, imprisonment, or forfeiture for violation of its provisions shall after the passage thereof be published in every issue of the official paper for ten days, and proof of such publication by the printer or publisher of such newspaper taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths and filed with the secretary, or any other competent proof of such publication, shall be conclusive evidence of the legal publication and promulgation of such ordinances in all courts. Ordinances passed by the city council and requiring publication shall be in force from and after the publication thereof, unless it be therein otherwise expressly provided. Ordinances not requiring publication shall take effect and be in force from and after their passage, unless it shall be therein otherwise expressly provided. All ordinances of the city when printed and published by authority of the city council shall be admitted and received in all courts and places without further proof.

STYLE OF ORDINANCES, AND WHEN PUBLISHED ADMISSIBLE IN EVIDENCE.

Sec. 46. The style of ordinances shall be, "Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Paris;" but it may be omitted when published in the form of a book or pamphlet as a digest; and when printed and published by authority of the city council the same shall be admitted and received in evidence in all courts of this state without further proof, whether said publication be by separate ordinance or in the form of a book or pamphlet as a digest.

FINES, FORFEITURES, ETC.

Sec. 47. All fines, forfeitures, and penalties for the breach or violation of any regulation, order, or ordinance of said city council shall when collected be paid into the city treasury for the use and benefit of the city or to the credit of any special fund or for any special purpose directed by ordinance of the city council.

ELIGIBILITY, RESIGNATION, AND REMOVAL OF OFFICERS, ETC.

Sec. 48. No person other than an elector resident of the city shall be appointed to any office by the city council. Resignation by any officer authorized to be elected or appointed by this act shall be made to the city council in writing subject to their approval and acceptance: Provided, That nothing in this section shall apply to appointments by the mayor. Any such appointee wishing to resign shall present his resignation to that officer in writing for his action. The city council shall have power to remove any officer for incompetency, corruption, misconduct, malfeasance in office, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard in his defense. In addition to the foregoing power of removal, the city council shall have power at any time to remove any officer of the corporation elected by them by resolution declaratory of its want of confidence in said officer: Provided, That two-thirds of the aldermen elected vote in favor of said resolution. Whenever any person shall be removed from any office or the term for which he was elected or appointed has expired, or he has resigned or has ceased to act in official capacity, he shall deliver over to his successor all books, papers, moneys, and effects in any way appertaining to his office. Every person violating this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be deemed an offender within the meaning of any law of the state punishing such offenses, and in addition thereto he shall on conviction before the mayor be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars and imprisoned for any time not exceeding six months or either. Any officer who shall have been entrusted with the collection or custody of funds belonging to said city, who shall be in default to said city, besides being liable to criminal prosecution and civil action for debt, shall thereafter be incapable of holding any office under said city until the amount of his defalcation shall have been fully paid to the city with twelve per cent interest.

MEMBERS OF THE CITY COUNCIL INELIGIBLE TO OTHER OFFICE.

Sec. 49. No member of the city council shall hold any other employment or office under the city government while he is a member of said council unless herein otherwise provided, and no member of the city council or any officer of the corporation be directly or indirectly interested in any work, business, or contract, the expense, price, or consideration of which is paid from the city treasury or by an assessment levied by an ordinance or resolution of the city council, nor be the surety of any person having a contract, work, or business with said city for the performance of which security may be required, nor be the surety on the official bond of any officer of the city.

TO ENFORCE ATTENDANCE OF MEMBERS OF COUNCIL, ETC.

Sec. 50. The city council may adopt such rules and prescribe such penalty as said council may see fit to enforce the attendance of its members at all called and regular meetings of the council or its committees, and may adopt rules of order for its own government when in session.

TO PRESCRIBE DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 51. The city council shall have power to prescribe the duties of all officers and persons appointed by them or elected to any office or place whatever subject to the provisions of this act; to remit in whole or in part and on such conditions as may be deemed proper by a vote of two-thirds of the members present any fine or penalty belonging to the city which may be imposed or incurred under any ordinance or resolution passed in pursuance thereof.

SALARY OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 52. The city council shall on or before the first day of January next preceding each and every election fix the salary of the mayor to be elected at the next regular election, and shall at the same time establish the compensation or salary to be paid to the officers elected or appointed by the city council, and the compensation or salary so established shall not be changed during the term for which said officers shall be elected or appointed: Provided, That the salaries of the officers first elected under the charter may be fixed at the first meeting of the board of aldermen or as soon thereafter as practicable.

EXEMPTION FROM COST BOND IN SUITS.

Sec. 53. It shall not be necessary in any action, suit, or proceeding in which the city shall be a party for any bond, undertaking, or security to be executed in behalf of the city; but all such actions, suits, and proceedings shall be conducted in the same manner as if such bond, undertaking, or security had been given, and for all the purposes of such actions, suits, and proceedings the city shall be liable in the same manner and the same extent as if the bond, undertaking, or security in ordinary cases had been duly given and executed.

CEMETERY LOTS EXEMPT FROM TAXES AND FORCED SALES.

Sec. 54. The cemetery lots which have and may hereafter be laid out and sold for said city for private places of burial shall with their appurtenances be forever exempt from taxes, executions, attachments, or forced sales.

RATES OF INTEREST.

Sec. 55. No indebtedness of any character whatever hereafter incurred by said corporation shall draw a higher rate of interest than ten per cent per annum.

ORDINANCES, ETC., NOW IN FORCE.

Sec. 56. All ordinances, resolutions, rules, or regulations now in force in said city and not in conflict with this act shall remain in force until altered, amended, or repealed by the city council; and all rights, actions, fines, penalties, and forfeitures in suits or otherwise which have occurred under the laws heretofore in force in said city shall be vested in and prosecuted by the corporation hereby created, and no suits pending shall be affected by the passage of this act, but the same shall be prosecuted or defended as the case may be by the corporation hereby created, and all property, real, personal, or mixed, belonging to said city is hereby vested in the corporation created by this act, and the officers of said city in office at the date of the passage of this act shall continue in the same until superseded or removed in conformity with the provisions of this act from and after the time it takes effect.

LIABILITY FOR PRESENT AND PAST INDEBTEDNESS.

Sec. 57. The corporation of the city of Paris hereby created shall be liable for all legal indebtedness heretofore created and now in existence against said city as fully and completely as if the same had been contracted under this act, and the city council shall have full power to enact by ordinance all rules and regulations for the assessment and collection of taxes to meet said indebtedness and to carry out the provisions of this section.

NEW TERRITORY TO BE ADMITTED.

Sec. 58. The city council may by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any meeting admit into this corporation any additional territory adjoining that set out in section 1 of this act when a written request signed by at least two-thirds of the resident voters and owners of land in such territory shall be presented to said city council, and when new territory shall be thus admitted the same shall constitute part of this corporation the same as that heretofore set out.

APPOINTMENT OF THE TERMS OF ALDERMEN.

Sec. 59. The first alderman elected under this act from each ward shall at the first meeting draw for the long and short terms in such manner as they may decide, and the one drawing the short term from each ward shall serve till the next general election, and the one drawing the long term shall serve till the second general election; and the same mode shall be adopted whenever the same question may arise when not otherwise prescribed herein.

CITY CONSTITUTED SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Sec. 60. The corporation created by this act shall be a separate school district upon its compliance with the statutes of the state in such cases, and shall have full power to take charge of, govern, control, and maintain free schools within said city subject to the constitution and laws of this state and in compliance therewith, and until altered, changed, amended, or repealed, all rules, resolutions, regulations and ordinances in references to said schools now in effect in said city shall remain and have full force and effect over all the territory included in the incorporation hereby created and the school tax heretofore adopted by a vote of the people of said city shall continue in force till repealed by a vote of the people as provided by law.

APPOINTMENT OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 61. The mayor shall have power to nominate and by and with the consent of the board of aldermen to appoint all city officers not ordered by this act to be otherwise elected: Provided, Any alderman may also make nominations for any of the city officers herein referred to.

TO TAKE EFFECT.

Sec. 62. That this act shall take effect from and after its passage and all laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. It being important that the city of Paris should immediately have the benefit conferred by this act in order to at once exercise some of the increased powers herein conferred to make some much needed public improvements and for other purposes, an emergency is created that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted. The near approach of the close of the session creates an imperative public necessity and emergency demanding the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring a bill to be read on three several days and such rule is hereby suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the senate, and passed the same by a vote of 27 yeas, no nays; and passed the house by a vote of 88 yeas, no nays.]

Subsection 256. City charter and amendments, evidence.

3. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 15.—[S. H. B. No. 616.] An Act to amend an act incorporating the city of San Antonio, approved August 13, A. D. 1870, and all acts amendatory thereof; to provide for the repeal of certain sections thereof, to add certain sections thereto, and to validate all amendments thereto and all acts thereunder.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the following sections of the act of the legislature incorporating the city of San Antonio, approved August 13, 1870, with the subsequent amendments thereof, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 1. That all inhabitants of the city of San Antonio are hereby constituted a body corporate and politic, and shall have power:

First—To sue and be sued.

Second—To purchase and hold real and personal property for the use of the city.

Third—To sell and convey any real or personal estate owned by the city and make such order respecting the same as may be conducive to the interest of the city: Provided, That the said city shall not sell any lands now owned by said city lying in the territory north of the county poor farm and west of the San Antonio river, and shall not rent or lease the same for any purpose for a term exceeding ten years at any one time.

Fourth—To make all contracts and do all other acts in relation to the property and concerns of the city necessary to the exercise of its corporate administrative powers.

Fifth—To have a corporate seal.

Section 4. The city council shall divide the city into as many wards as they may deem necessary; to number the same and fix the boundaries thereof so that each ward shall contain as nearly as possible the same number of inhabitants or electors, which said wards as well as the boundaries thereof the city council may change from time to time as they may deem expedient: Provided, That no change in the wards or the boundaries thereof shall be made within six months next preceding an election to be held in said city.

Section 5. That on the second Monday in February, beginning with the year 1891, a mayor, recorder, collector, assessor, treasurer, city engineer, city attorney, city marshal, auditor, and one alderman from each ward in the city and four aldermen for the city at large, shall be voted for, and the returns of such election shall be made as hereinafter provided.

Section 6. That the first election under this act shall be held as provided in section 5, and every two years thereafter shall be the regular charter election for all elective officers.

Section 24. At the first meeting of the city council after the promulgation of the result of the election for mayor and other officers, the city council shall proceed to elect a city clerk, one physician, one street commissioner, one or more market masters, one or more water commissioners, and one or more assistant marshals, and such police and other officers as they may deem necessary for the proper administration of the city government and for the interest of the city. They may provide by ordinance for the suspension or removal, by a two-thirds vote of the entire council, of all officers elected by the people or appointed by the council, for malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance in office, and shall fill vacancies as they may occur: Provided, Such vacancies occur not less than nine months before the expiration of the term of office of parties vacating.

Section 34. No person shall be elected or appointed to any office in the city who is disqualified from holding office under the fourteenth amendment of the constitution of the United States, and at the time of his election or appointment is not a citizen of the state of Texas and a resident within the city limits at least one year preceding such election or appointment.

Section 35. If the office of mayor should become vacant by death, removal of the mayor beyond the city limits, or otherwise, a majority of the aldermen may elect one of their number mayor for the time being to fill the vacancy until his successor is elected and qualified. Should such vacancy occur more than nine months prior to the first regular election to be held thereafter, then in that case such acting mayor or in case of his refusal any three aldermen are hereby required to issue a proclamation for a new election forthwith, to be held in the same manner as regular city elections for that purpose are required to be held. The person elected to act as mayor for the time being shall receive the same compensation to which the mayor would have been entitled.

Section 37. In case of vacancy in the office of alderman such vacancy shall be filled by a majority vote of the city council: Provided, Such vacancy occurs within nine months of an election therefor; otherwise the mayor shall order an election to fill such vacancy: Provided further, That the successor of a ward alderman shall in every case be a resident of the same ward as his predecessor.

Section 38. At the first meeting of the city council after the promulgation of the results of the election of mayor and other officers, the city council shall elect one of their number to act as mayor during any inability, absence, or refusal of the mayor to act, and the said aldermen when acting as mayor as aforesaid shall have all the powers herein conferred on the mayor and shall sign all official documents as acting mayor.

Section 39. The twelve aldermen shall constitute the city council of said city. The city council shall meet at such times and places as they shall by resolution or ordinance direct. The mayor when present shall preside at all meetings of the city council and shall have in all cases of a tie vote the casting vote. In the absence of the mayor, the acting mayor herein before provided for and in case of his absence any alderman may be appointed to preside, in which case the acting mayor or alderman who presides shall vote as an alderman only.

Section 40. The city council shall hold regular meetings at stated times at least once in each month; and the mayor of his own motion or any three aldermen may call special meetings, the object of which said special meetings shall be submitted to the council in writing and the call and object thereof shall be entered on the journal by the clerk. The city council shall have power to prescribe rules and regulations for their government while in session and for the enforcement thereof.

Section 43. To borrow money on the credit of the city and issue bonds therefor to an amount not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for street improvements, and ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for sidewalk purposes during one year: Provided, That the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per year for sidewalk purposes may be borrowed for and during five years from the passage of this act and not thereafter. To make a loan exceeding the aforesaid sums the question must be submitted to the property tax payers voters of the city, and if sustained by a majority of the votes polled such loan shall be lawful. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they were issued and shall not be sold for less than their par value: Provided, That no debt shall be contracted for the payment whereof such bonds are issued (except the sidewalk bonds) until such bonds shall have been disposed of and the proceeds thereof paid into the city treasury, and when any bonds are issued by the city a fund shall be provided to pay the interest and ten per cent per annum on the principal as a sinking fund to redeem the bonds, which fund shall not be diverted or drawn for any other purpose, and the city treasurer shall honor no draft drawn on said fund except to pay the interest or to redeem the bonds for which it was provided, and for the payment of such loan to levy a special tax over and above the general tax allowed by this act: Provided, the rate of tax shall not exceed one-half of one per cent, and the rate of interest paid shall not exceed six per cent: Provided also, No loan shall be made for any other purpose or purposes than those connected with the corporation of said city, and no loan shall be made to aid any private enterprise, railroad, or undertaking not under the management and control of the city council, the sinking fund for the redemption of any loan or debt to be invested as fast as the same accumulates in United States interest-bearing bonds, bonds of the state of Texas, or in city bonds, and such bonds and the interest of such bonds to be reinvested and to be sold when necessary to pay debts or loans. The amounts expended by the city out of said sidewalk fund for the construction of sidewalks for individuals shall as fast as the same is repaid by such individuals to the city be used for street improvements.

Section 45. To appropriate money and provide for the payment of the debts and expenses of the city: Provided, That the bonded debt of the city shall not be increased nor other evidences of debt be issued exceeding the amounts provided for in section 43 hereof in any one fiscal year unless authorized by a vote of the property tax payers as herein before provided. The fiscal year shall commence on the first day of March and terminate on the last day of February following.

Section 46. To provide the city with water; to make, regulate, and establish public wells, water works, pumps, cisterns, fountains, hydrants, and reservoirs in the streets and public places and elsewhere within the said city or beyond the limits thereof for the extinguishment of fires and all other public purposes as well as for private use for the inhabitants of said city, and to regulate and prescribe the rate, prices, and terms at which water shall be furnished for public as well as for private purposes to such inhabitants and to said city; and to make, regulate, and establish all irrigation ditches, and to have entire control of the same, and to regulate, fix, and prescribe the rates, prices, and terms upon which water may be furnished to such inhabitants.

Section 51. To provide for the lighting of the streets and the erection of lamp posts; to exclusively regulate, direct, and control the erection and construction of telegraph, telephone, and electric light posts, poles, and wires; to require the removal or changing of all such posts, poles, and wires, and to require the laying of all telegraph, telephone, electric light, and all other wires under ground in such manner, and such depth, and with such insulation as the city council shall deem necessary or proper; to exclusively regulate, direct, and control the laying and repairing of all gas pipes and gas fixtures in the streets, alleys, sidewalks, and elsewhere.

Section 55. To regulate and prescribe the duties and powers and compensation of all officers, agents, and employees of the city, except the compensation of the mayor, and to require bonds; to create any office or employ any agent they may deem necessary for the good government and interest of the city, and to change or prescribe additional duties of all such officers and agents: Provided, That the compensation of all officers shall not be increased or diminished during their term of office.

Section 60. To establish, erect, construct, regulate, and keep in repair bridges, culverts, and sewers, sidewalks, and crossways, and to regulate the construction and use of the same, and to abate and punish any obstructions or encroachments thereon; and the cost of the construction of the sidewalks as well as the curbing therefor shall be defrayed by the owner of the lot or block fronting on the sidewalk; and the cost of any sidewalk and curbing constructed by the city shall be collected if necessary by sale of the lot or part of lot or block on which it fronts, together with the cost of collection, in such manner as the city council may by ordinance provide; and a sale of any lot or part of lot or block to enforce the collection of the cost of such sidewalk and curbing shall convey a good title to the purchaser, and the balance of the proceeds of sale, after paying the amount due the city and costs of sale, shall be paid by the city to the owner: Provided, That one-fifth of the cost of such sidewalk and curbing shall become delinquent six months after the completion of the sidewalk, and one-fifth every six months thereafter until it is all paid, and if one installment becomes due and is unpaid the entire amount remaining unpaid shall immediately become delinquent, and collection thereof shall be enforced as herein before provided. Such sum shall bear interest from the time of the completion of the work at the rate of eight per cent per annum.

Section 61. To provide the mode of inspection of meat, fish, vegetables, fruit, and every article or thing offered for sale in the market places or elsewhere in the city, and to require the hides and skins of animals slaughtered for sale thereat to be brought to said market or markets, or to such other places as may be directed by the city council, that the mark and brands may be examined by some officer authorized by the city council, who shall keep record thereof for public inspection.

Section 69. To inspect the construction of buildings and to cause unsafe buildings to be made safe or be removed, and to prohibit the use of certain materials deemed unsafe, and to require every person desiring to erect a building in the city to take out a permit for the same, and to keep a register of all buildings both private and public erected, of the kind of material used, and of the intended use of such buildings; to prescribe the material to be used in the construction of buildings, the mode and manner of their construction, the thickness of the walls thereof, and the height of such buildings.

Section 73. To license, tax, and regulate hackmen, draymen, drivers of omnibuses and baggage wagons, porters, and all others pursuing like occupations with or without vehicles, and prescribe their compensation; and to regulate, license, and restrain runners for railroads, stages, and public houses.

Section 79. To establish standard weights and measures to be used within the city in all cases not otherwise provided for by law; to require all traders and dealers in merchandise or property of any kind which is sold by weight or measure to cause their weights and measures to be tested and sealed by the inspector of weights and measures. The standard of such weights and measures shall be conformable to those established by law.

Section 107. The mayor shall preside at all the meetings of the city council, except as herein otherwise provided, and shall have no vote except a casting vote when the council is equally divided, and shall have the superintending control of all the officers and affairs of the city and shall see that the ordinances of the city and the provisions of this act are complied with.

Section 121. Persons arraigned for violation of city ordinances demanding trial by jury shall deposit with the clerk of the court the sum of three dollars, security for the payment of the cost of such jury.

Section 130. The collector shall collect all taxes due the city, and in the event of the non-payment of any taxes shall proceed to sell property to raise the amount of taxes due thereon, and shall in the performance of such duties observe the provisions of this act, and the ordinances of the city relating thereto. He shall give bond in such amount as the city council may require with good and sufficient sureties; and the city council may require a new bond whenever in their opinion the existing bond is insufficient; and whenever such new bond is required he shall perform no official act until said bond shall be given and approved. He shall at the expiration of every week pay to the treasurer all the money by him collected, in the same funds received by him, taking duplicate receipts therefor, one of which shall be filed with the city clerk on the next Monday thereafter, and shall report to the city council at the first meeting of that body in each month all money so collected and paid; and he shall perform all such other duties in such manner as the city council may prescribe. He shall collect all sums due for licenses, give itemized receipts for the same, as well as for all other moneys paid him for taxes, and for that purpose said collector shall keep a book containing blank receipts as well as corresponding marginal summaries, and before delivery of any receipts shall fill up a blank therefor as well as the corresponding marginal summary in said book, leaving therein the corresponding marginal summary as a permanent register of his office subject to public inspection. He shall produce said register at every regular meeting of the council, and at every special meeting when required. He shall require all persons doing any business for which a license may be necessary to take out such license. He shall report to the mayor all persons engaged in any business illegally or without license. He shall give notice to all tax payers within one week after receiving the tax rolls by advertising in the official journal of the city that said taxes are due and payable and when the same may be paid, and shall generally comply with such rules and regulations as the city council may prescribe.

Section 134. The city attorney shall by himself or deputy appear and prosecute all cases in the recorder's court arising under the ordinances of the city, and shall attend the meetings of the city council to give his advice and counsel; he shall give his opinion upon all legal questions arising under the city government, and shall aid when called upon to revise or draw up any ordinance of the city, and shall attend to all the legal business of the city of whatever nature.

Section 135. That it shall be the duty of the city clerk to attend every meeting of the city council and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book provided for that purpose; engross all laws, resolutions, and ordinances of the city council; to keep the corporate seal; to take care of, preserve, and keep in order all the books, records, papers, documents, and files of said city; to countersign all commissions issued to the city officers and license issued by the mayor, and keep a record of register thereof; and to make out all notices required under any regulation or ordinance of the city. He shall draw all warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same and keep an accurate account thereof in a book to be kept for that purpose. He shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations and give certificates thereof.

Section 136. The auditor shall be the general accountant of the city and shall keep in books regular accounts of all receipts and disbursements of the city, and separately under proper heads each cause of receipt and disbursement, and also accounts with each person, including officers who have money transactions with the city, crediting amounts allowed by proper authority and charging each with all warrants drawn in his favor and specifying the particular transaction to which such entries apply; and he shall perform all such other duties as may be required of him by ordinance.

Section 172. The city council shall have power within the city by ordinance to annually levy and collect taxes for general purposes, not exceeding one per cent on the assessed value of all real and personal estate and property in the city, including all money loaned therein at interest, although the owners thereof may be non-residents.

Section 173. To annually levy and collect a poll tax, not to exceed one dollar, of every male inhabitant between twenty-one and sixty years of age who has resided therein twelve months previous to the assessment of said tax.

Section 176. Any person or firm pursuing occupations, business, avocations, callings subject to a license tax shall pay on each, and on license shall extend to more than one establishment, or include more than one occupation, avocation, business, or calling.

Section 183. The city council may and shall have power to provide by ordinance for the prompt collection of all taxes assessed, levied, and imposed by this act hereby authorized and due to said city, and to that end may and shall have power and authority to sell real as well as personal property, and bring suits therefor in courts of competent jurisdiction, and may and shall make all such rules and regulations, and ordain and pass all such ordinances as they may deem necessary to the levying, laying, imposing, assessing, and collecting of any of the taxes herein provided for, and all such taxes shall bear interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum from the date when collection thereof can be enforced.

Section 190. The collector after the completion of the assessment rolls, as required by ordinance, shall proceed to collect the taxes therein mentioned within the time and give such notice as may be prescribed by the city council.

Section 192. Whenever the assessor shall ascertain that any real or personal property has not been assessed for the past year he shall assess the same in his next assessment roll (in a supplement thereto) at the same rate as such property should have been assessed, stating the year for which it is assessed, and the taxes thereon shall be collected in the same manner as other assessments. In all cases where any party has omitted to render property for taxation for any former year or years, and such taxes have not been paid, such party shall give such property for assessment for the years thus omitted and pay said taxes, and the assessor shall enter such property in a supplement to his next assessment roll under the head of "Payments for former years."

Section 194. The city council, or at least the mayor and three aldermen, shall sit as a board of appeal and revision, to whom shall be submitted by the assessor the tax list, and before whom persons feeling aggrieved may appeal in writing, stating his or her grievance. Said board shall hear and determine all such appeals in a summary manner, correct errors, appraise all property assessed as unknown, and increase or diminish any assessment as they may deem just: Provided, That no assessment shall be increased unless the owner of such property has been notified to appear before such board and given an opportunity to make his objections to such increase, a copy of which notice shall with the officer's return thereon be filed with the city clerk. After the board have revised such tax list the assessor shall make out a correct list and enter the amounts due by each person, as well as the property assessed, and it shall be immediately delivered to the collector, who shall give a receipt for the aggregate amount thereof, which shall be charged to him. If after or before payment of taxes by any person any error is discovered in amount such error shall be corrected by the board on application in writing, and the overcharge if paid shall be refunded to the person having paid the same.

Section 195. Every person, partnership, and corporation owning property within the limits of the city shall within two months after published notice hand in to the assessor of the city a full and complete inventory of the property possessed by him, her, or them, or controlled by him or her as the agent of any person, partnership, or corporation within the said limits not exempted from taxation, on the first day of March of the current year, verified as may be required by ordinance; and any person failing or refusing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to fine and imprisonment; and the city council shall by ordinance clearly define the duties of tax payers herein, and make all necessary rules and regulations to secure the rendition of property and the collection of taxes due thereon, and prescribe the oath to be taken by the person assessing property as aforesaid for himself or herself, or as agent for another.

Section 201. In the widening or straightening of any street, avenue, or alley, the city council shall determine by ordinance the manner and extent of such widening and straightening. Upon the filing of such ordinance and the plan of the proposed widening with the county clerk it shall be the duty of the county judge to appoint three disinterested freeholders of the city as commissioners who after being duly sworn to act with fidelity and impartiality shall carefully estimate the value of the property necessary to be taken for such widening or straightening, making a separate estimate in the case of each owner. It shall be thereafter the duty of the commissioners to estimate the benefits accruing to any property on the street and in the vicinity that they may consider benefited by such improvement, filing with their report a list of the owners of such property and the amount of the supposed benefit stated separately in each case. On the filing of such report with the city clerk the city council shall at their first meeting or as soon as practicable thereafter give five days public notice through the official journal at what time said reports will be acted upon (which shall not be less than ten days after the expiration of said notice), and all parties feeling aggrieved by the action of the said commissioners may be heard by the council on appeal. The action of the city council shall be limited to the increase of value of the award for property taken, or decrease of the assessment for supposed benefit to property by the improvement contemplated. The city council by tendering to the owner of the land taken the amount of the award may at once enter upon and appropriate said land to the purposes of opening, widening, or altering said street, alley, etc. The benefits reported and as may be revised by the city council shall be assessed as a special tax against the property reported as benefited, and shall be payable at such time as the council may direct; and said tax shall be a lien upon the property until the payment thereof, and the city collector shall proceed to collect the said tax in the same manner as other taxes are collected: Provided, That if deemed necessary the city council may proceed by suit in any court of competent jurisdiction as an additional remedy for the collection of any and all taxes of every nature assessed or levied by the city.

Section 218. Every ordinance imposing any penalty, fine, imprisonment or forfeiture for violation of its provisions shall after the passage thereof be published in every issue of the official journal of the city of San Antonio for ten days, and proof of such publication by the printer or publisher of such newspaper, taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths and filed with the city clerk, shall be prima facie evidence of the legal publication and promulgation of such ordinance in all courts and places. All such ordinances shall take effect and be in force from and after expiration of such publication provided; but no ordinance shall be passed unless the same shall have been read at three separate meetings of the city council, except when otherwise determined by a two-thirds vote of all the aldermen.

Section 222. Whenever in the opinion of the city council any building, fence, shed, awning, or any erection of any kind or any part thereof is liable to fall down and endanger persons or property, they may order the owner, owners, or any one of them or the agent of the same, to take down and remove the same or any part thereof within such time as they may direct, and punish by fine and imprisonment or either the owner, owners, or agents thereof for any neglect, failure, or refusal to comply therewith. The city council shall in addition have the power to remove the same on account of the owner of the property or premises and assess the expense on the land on which it stood or to which it was attached, and shall by ordinance provide for such assessment, the mode and manner of giving notice, and the means of recovering any such expense.

Section 223. Whenever any person has been required by the recorder or mayor acting as recorder to give bond or bonds for good behavior or any other bond, and complied with such order and been guilty of a violation or infraction of any such bonds, the city in its corporate name may sue in any court having jurisdiction for the recovery of the penalty of such bond.

Section 226. Two-thirds of the aldermen shall be a quorum to transact all business.

Section 229. The policemen of the city shall have power to arrest all offenders against the law of the state or ordinances of the city by day or night, and keep them in the city prison to prevent their escape until they can be brought before the proper officer, unless such offender shall give a good and sufficient bond for his or her appearance for trial.

Section 238. No person shall be an incompetent judge, justice, or juror by reason of his being an inhabitant or freeholder in the city of San Antonio in any action or proceeding in which said city may be a party in interest.

Section 249. The officer of the city of San Antonio hereinafter named shall receive from the city the following compensation and no more: First—The mayor shall receive the sum of thirty-six hundred dollars ($3600) per annum.

Sec. 2. That the following sections be added to the charter of the city of San Antonio:

Section 255. That sections 36, 53, 58, 111, 116, 128, 129, 133, 137, 232, 241, 243, 244, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 256. That the act incorporating the city of San Antonio, approved August 13, 1870, and all amendments thereof now in force, as also this act, shall be deemed public acts and may be read in evidence without proof, and judicial notice shall be taken thereof in all courts and places.

Sec. 3. The fact that it is important to the interests of the general public of said city that the changes in the charter of said city made by this act go into effect immediately creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity which requires the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 82 ayes, no nays; and passed the senate by a four-fifths vote.]

SOCORRO, YSLETA, AND SAN ELIZARIO—ACT QUIETING LAND TITLES IN.

Sec. 1. Validates deeds made by said towns.

2. Emergency clause.

CHAP. 16.—[H. B. No. 305.] An Act to quiet land titles in the towns of Socorro, Ysleta and San Elizario.

Whereas the state of Texas has granted to each of the towns of Socorro, Ysleta, and San Elizario, of the county of El Paso, several leagues of land, and these lands have been conveyed by said towns to the inhabitants for the most part, and the deeds are generally informal, which much retards the settlement of said lands and depreciates the value thereof: Now, therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That all genuine deeds made by the towns of Socorro, Ysleta and San Elizario to lands lying in their respective corporate limits, whether the same be in form or attended with the formalities prescribed by the charters are hereby declared valid and operative as fully as if all the forms and formalities required had been complied with, saving the rights of any third parties.

Sec. 2. The fact set forth in the preamble of this bill creates an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and creates an emergency that this act take effect from its passage.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 72 yeas, no nay; and passed the senate by a vote of 22 yeas, no nays.]

Approved, April 2, 1889.

Blount relocation survey in south line of Bagby's addition which is also the north line of J. M. Thompson; thence along the south line of R. S. Blount survey south forty-five degrees west to a point in the west line of the old city limits; thence north forty-five degrees west to a point one hundred and sixty-five feet south forty-five degrees east from the south line of Speight Street; thence south forty-five degrees west one hundred and sixty-five feet south forty-five degrees east from south line of Speight Street to a point one hundred and sixty five feet south forty-five degrees west from west line of Twenty-second Street extended as shown in the Linkenhoger addition; thence north forty-five degrees west one hundred and sixty-five feet south forty-five degrees west from said west line of Twenty-second Street to a point in south line of W. M. Erath tract; thence north sixteen degrees thirty minutes west to south line of the driving park tract, continuing same course five hundred feet beyond the said driving park south line to stake for northwest corner of this; thence north sixty degrees east to a point in center of Wilson or Lindsey Hollow Branch; thence down said branch to Brazos River; thence north sixty degrees east across said Brazos River to its east bank; thence down said river on its east bank one thousand feet to stake for corner; thence north eighty-seven degrees thirty minutes east to a point in the east line of the Hood six hundred and forty acre tract; thence south twenty-eight degrees east with the said east line of the Hood six hundred and forty acre tract to the south line of the right of way of the Missouri Pacific Railroad; thence south forty-five degrees west with said south line of the Missouri Pacific Railroad to east bank of the Brazos River; thence down said Brazos River on its east bank to a point opposite the beginning; thence across said river to the place of beginning.

INCORPORATING CLAUSE.

Sec. 2. That the inhabitants of the city of Waco as the same extends and is laid out above, be and they and their successors are hereby constituted a corporation and body politic in fact and in law by the name and style of the "City of Waco;" and by the same name shall have succession, shall sue and be sued, implead and be impleaded, defend and be defended in all courts of law and equity and in all actions whatsoever; may purchase, receive, and hold property real and personal within said city, and may sell, lease, or dispose of the same for the benefit of the city, and may purchase, receive, and hold property real and personal beyond the limits of the city to be used for the burial of the dead of the city, also for the erection of water works to supply the city with water, and also the establishment of a hospital for the reception of persons infected with contagious and other diseases, and any other real property outside of said city necessary for the purposes of said corporation, and may sell, lease, or dispose of such property for the benefit of the city and may do all other acts as natural persons. They shall have and use one common seal and may break, change, alter, and make a new seal at pleasure.

CITY DIVIDED INTO WARDS.

Sec. 3. That the city of Waco shall be divided into not less than five nor more than ten wards in the discretion of the council, and may be by the council changed from time to time as in their judgment the interest of said city may demand, having regard to the number of male inhabitants in fixing said boundaries so that each ward shall contain as near as may be the same number of male inhabitants. Until changed by the council, the number and boundaries of the wards in said city shall remain as they are upon the passage of this act.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

Sec. 4. The municipal government of the city shall consist of a city council composed of the mayor and two aldermen from each ward, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except at called meetings for the imposition of taxes, when two-thirds of a full board shall be required, unless herein otherwise specified. The other officers of the corporation shall be a treasurer, an assessor and collector, a secretary, a city attorney, a marshal and city engineer, and such other officers and agents as the city council may from time to time direct: Provided, That the office of treasurer, assessor and collector, city attorney, and city engineer may be dispensed with by an ordinance of the city council, and the powers and duties herein prescribed for such officers may be conferred by said council upon other officers. The above named officers shall be elected by the qualified electors of said city as hereinafter provided for, and shall hold their offices for two years and until the election and qualification of their successors: Provided also, That at the first election for aldermen in any new ward defined by the city council there shall be two aldermen elected. The one receiving the highest number of votes shall hold for two years and the one receiving the next highest number of votes cast shall hold for one year, and thereafter one alderman shall be elected at each annual election for two years, as in the wards now existing in said city. And at each annual election hereafter there shall be elected one alderman from each ward in said city, as at present, who shall hold for two years.

STATED MEETINGS, ETC.

Sec. 5. There shall be stated sessions of the city council and they shall be held at such time and places as shall be prescribed by ordinance or resolution. Upon the passage of all ordinances appropriating money, or ordinances imposing taxes increasing, lessening, or abolishing licenses, the yeas and nays shall be entered upon the journal. All ordinances shall be read in council on three several days, unless two-thirds of the members elected of the board shall dispense therewith. A majority of the members of the city council shall be necessary to pass an ordinance appropriating for any purpose the sum of five hundred dollars or upwards or any ordinance in anywise diminishing or increasing the city revenue.

MANNER OF ELECTING OFFICERS.

Sec. 6. An election shall be held in each of the wards of said city on the first Tuesday in April annually at such place or places as the city council may direct, and of which thirty days previous notice shall be given by publication in one or more newspapers of said city. Said election shall be ordered by the city council, and in case of their failure to order the same the mayor of the city may make such order. For the purpose of holding said election and others ordered, the city council shall appoint annually in May or earlier in each ward some competent and suitable person who shall be the presiding officer of all elections held in his ward. The presiding officer of each ward shall appoint two judges and two clerks who together with the presiding officer shall be managers of the election. The presiding officers and judges must be qualified voters in the city. The city council shall provide for their compensation and by ordinance regulate and define their powers and duties. The mayor whenever an election is ordered shall give the required notice and issue to the presiding officers a writ of election, and every published notice of election shall state the officer or officers to be elected, the place where the election will be held, and the name of the presiding officers thereat. In case the officer so appointed is unable, fails, refuses, or neglects to act, the mayor shall make another appointment, and in case no appointed presiding officer appears to open the polls the qualified electors may appoint such officer, who shall perform the same duties and have like power and authority to act as the first appointee; but in such case the managers in their returns or otherwise shall certify that the presiding officer failed to attend or neglected to act and that the person acting as such was duly chosen by the electors present.

TIME OF HOLDING ELECTIONS, AND RETURNS.

Sec. 7. At all elections the ballots of each ward shall be taken separately, the polls being open in each ward for one day only from eight o'clock a. m. until six o'clock p. m. with a privilege of a recess of one hour from twelve till one o'clock; should the polls not be open for the reception of votes promptly by eight o'clock a. m. the time thus lost shall be extended beyond the hour of six p. m. so as to secure the full period of nine hours for voting purposes. On closing the polls the managers of elections shall immediately proceed to count and cast up the votes for each candidate and certify and sign the returns in duplicate, one of which shall be sealed up and retained by the presiding officer for future use as a reference in case of contested election; the other copy shall be sealed up with the name of the presiding officer written across the seal, and by the presiding officer, or in his absence or inability by one of the judges or clerks, delivered in open session to the city council on the next day or as soon thereafter as practicable. The officer so delivering the same shall make oath before the mayor or one of the aldermen that the returns by him delivered have not been altered or opened since being signed and sealed as aforesaid. As received the city council shall immediately open the returns from each ward, casting up the votes of the wards for mayor, city attorney, tax assessor and collector, treasurer, and city marshal, entering the same in tabular form on the journals of the council. The person thus receiving the highest number of votes for mayor, city attorney, tax assessor and collector, treasurer, city marshal, city secretary, city engineer, and all other elective officers, shall be declared elected; and in like manner the votes for aldermen in each ward shall be entered on the journals, and the person receiving the highest number of votes for alderman in the ward in which he is a candidate shall be declared elected alderman. The newly elected officers may enter upon their duties on the fifth day thereafter, Sundays excepted: Provided, That any officer may qualify at any time within thirty days; otherwise the office shall be deemed vacant and a new election held to fill the same. It shall be the duty of the city secretary to notify all persons elected or appointed to office of their election or appointment; and the city council elect shall meet at the usual place of meeting on the fifth day, Sundays excepted, after their election or as soon thereafter as possible and be installed.

WHO ARE QUALIFIED ELECTORS.

Sec. 8. Every person not disqualified by law who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years and is entitled to vote for members of the legislature of this state, and shall have resided within the corporate limits of said city for six months next preceding the election, shall be entitled to vote for officers of said city.

OATH, POWER, AND DUTIES OF MANAGERS OF ELECTIONS.

Sec. 9. The managers of elections shall be sworn well and truly to conduct the election without partiality or prejudice and agreeably to law and according to the best of their skill and understanding, which oath shall be administered by the mayor or any justice of the peace. The presiding officer and judges thus qualified shall have power to administer oaths necessary to the performance of their official duties. When any person offering a vote shall be objected to by any one qualified to vote at such election the managers shall examine him on oath touching the points objected to, and if he fail in establishing his qualifications to their satisfaction his vote shall be rejected.

PROCEEDINGS IN CASE OF A TIE VOTE.

Sec. 10. Whenever in any election any two or more candidates for the same office shall receive the same number of votes being the highest number of votes cast for said office, the city council shall order a new election for such office, first giving at least five days notice thereof. In the event of a failure on the part of the city council to examine the election returns and declare the result, the mayor shall discharge that duty.

ELIGIBILITY OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN.

Sec. 11. No person shall be eligible to the office of mayor unless he possesses the qualifications of an elector and shall have resided twelve months next preceding the election within the limits of the city, and no person shall be eligible to the office of alderman unless in addition to the above qualifications he be a resident of the ward from which he may be elected at the time of the election: Provided, That if any alderman shall remove from the ward in which he was elected his office shall be deemed vacant and a new election ordered to fill the same.

SPECIAL ELECTION TO FILL VACANCY.

Sec. 12. In case of a vacancy in the office of mayor or alderman by refusal to accept or failure to qualify, or by death, resignation, or otherwise, the city council shall order an election to fill such vacancy, and all special elections shall be conducted as is herein provided for in the annual election: Provided, That in all special elections to fill vacancies ten days notice shall be deemed sufficient. In case of a vacancy in any other office in the city than mayor or alderman by refusal to accept or failure to qualify or by death, resignation, or otherwise, the mayor or acting mayor shall fill such vacancy by appointment, to be confirmed by the city council.

CITY COUNCIL COMPOSED OF MAYOR, ALDERMEN, ETC.

Sec. 13. The city council shall be composed of the mayor and aldermen provided for by this act. The mayor shall be president of the council, and in case of a tie on any question he shall give the casting vote. At the first meeting of each new council or as soon thereafter as practicable one of the aldermen shall be elected president pro tem., who shall hold his office for one year. In case of the failure, inability, or refusal of the mayor to act, the president pro tem. shall perform the duties and receive the compensation of the mayor.

OFFICIAL OATH.

Sec. 14. Every person elected by the voters of said city to fill any office or by the city council shall before entering on the duties of his office take and subscribe the official oath prescribed in the constitution of this state, and the city council may by ordinance require such additional oath as they may deem best calculated to secure faithfulness in the performance of their duties by such officers.

DUTIES OF MAYOR.

Sec. 15. The mayor of the city shall be the chief executive officer of said corporation and shall be vigilant and active at all times in causing the laws and ordinances for the government of said city to be duly executed and put in force. He shall inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers in the government thereof, and as far as it may be in his power shall cause all negligence, carelessness, and positive violation of duty to be prosecuted and punished. He shall have power whenever in his judgment the good of the city may require it to summon meetings of the city council, and he shall from time to time communicate to that body all such information and recommend all such measures as may tend to the improvement of the finances, the police, health, security, cleanliness, comfort, ornament, and good government of said city. The mayor shall also be chief judicial magistrate of the city. Whenever the mayor shall deem it necessary in order to enforce the laws of the city or to avert danger or to protect life or property in case of riot or any outbreak or calamity or public disturbance, or when he has reason to fear any serious violation of law or order or any outbreak or any other danger to said city or the inhabitants thereof, he shall summon into service as a special police force all or as many of the citizens as in his judgment and discretion may be necessary and proper, and such summons may be by proclamation or order addressed to the citizens generally or those of any ward of the city or subdivision thereof, or such summons may be by personal notification. Such special police force while in service shall be subject to the orders of the mayor, shall perform such duties as he may require, and shall have the same power while on duty as the regular police force of said city, and any person so summoned and failing to obey or appearing and failing to perform any duty that may be required under this act or any ordinance of said city in conformity thereto, shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars. The mayor shall have like power with a justice of the peace to administer oaths of office. He shall possess and execute in the city in the criminal cases all the powers and duties of a justice of the peace. He shall have authority in case of a riot or any unlawful assemblage to order and enforce the closing of any theater, ball room, grog shop, tippling house, bar room, or other place of resort or public room or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence the laws of the state or any ordinance of the city, and he shall perform such other duties and possess and exercise such other power and authority as may be prescribed and conferred by the city council. All ordinances and resolutions adopted by the council shall before they take effect be placed in the office of the city secretary, and if the mayor approve thereof he shall sign the same, and such as he shall not sign he shall return to the city council with his objections thereto. Upon the return of any ordinance or resolution by the mayor the vote by which the same was passed shall be reconsidered, and if after such reconsideration two-thirds of the whole number of aldermen agree to pass the same and enter their votes on the journal of their proceedings it shall be in force, and if the mayor shall neglect to approve or object to any proceedings for a longer period than three days after the same shall be placed in the secretary's office as aforesaid the same shall go into effect. The mayor shall hold a court within said city by the name of the police court of the city of Waco, which said court shall have jurisdiction and cognizance of all misdemeanors, breach of the peace, infractions of the ordinances, and all other causes arising under the laws of said city, and shall be deemed always open for the trial of said causes. The said court shall have full power, authority, and jurisdiction in all cases arising under the ordinances of said corporation and over any breaches and violations thereof and of any and all persons thus offending, and to try and determine all suits, actions, and complaints charging a violation of any ordinance of said city, and may grant new trials on motion in writing showing sufficient cause and duly sworn to; and all prosecutions, trials, and proceedings had in said court under this act shall be governed by the laws and rules regulating trials, prosecutions, and proceedings in justices courts in force at the time. The mayor may require of any person arrested under the provisions of this act a bond for his good behavior and to keep the peace, with two good and sufficient sureties, which bond shall be payable to the city of Waco. He shall have full power and authority to issue subpoenas for witnesses and to compel their attendance by process of attachment. He may punish all contempts by fine and imprisonment or either; may issue subpoenas, attachments, writs of capias, warrants of arrest, search warrants, executions, and all other process known to the law which a justice of the peace of this state may lawfully issue; and all of said writs and process shall be issued, served, and executed under the same form and in the same manner as the like process would be when issued by a justice of the peace, unless herein otherwise provided. He shall also have full power and authority to administer official oaths and all oaths and affirmations in trials before him. He shall be ex officio justice of the peace, and he shall possess and execute in the city in criminal cases all the powers and duties of such officer, and shall have the same authority and like powers with justices of the peace in the prevention and suppression of crime; but he shall in no case entertain jurisdiction of civil suits. The city council may determine what costs if any shall be charged in proceedings in and for all process issued in said court, and shall allow the judge thereof for his services such salary as they deem necessary; and the mayor shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by any ordinance of said corporation that may properly and lawfully be required of said officer as the judge of said court and are not inconsistent with the laws and constitution of this state: Provided, That all moneys collected from fines of whatever character imposed by him shall be paid into the city treasury for the use of the city. Every person brought before the mayor to be tried for any offense for which the penalty may be fine or imprisonment or both shall be entitled if he shall demand it to be tried by a jury of six legal voters of the city, who shall be summoned, impanelled, and qualified as jurors in justices courts under the laws of the state. The mayor of the city of Waco is authorized to celebrate the rites of matrimony between all persons legally authorized to marry: Provided, That the city council shall have the power by ordinance to create the office of recorder whenever said ordinance is passed by a vote of two-thirds of the aldermen elected; and upon the passage of said ordinance said council shall elect a recorder who shall be clothed with all the authority, perform the like duties, and receive the same compensation as is provided by this act and conferred upon the mayor as judge of the police court created by this act. Said recorder shall hold his office until the next annual election, at which election a recorder shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city and shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified: Provided, That the city council may at any time they see fit repeal said ordinance creating the office of recorder; in which event the duties of said office with its powers and compensation shall devolve upon the mayor as herein provided.

DUTIES AND POWERS OF THE MARSHAL.

Sec. 16. The marshal of the city shall be ex officio chief of police and may appoint one or more deputies, and shall either in person or by deputy attend upon the police court while said court is in session, and shall promptly and faithfully execute all writs and process issued from said court. He shall have like power with the sheriff of the county to execute the writ of search warrant. He shall be active in quelling riots, disorders, and disturbances of the peace within the limits of said city, and shall take into custody all persons so offending against the peace of the city, and shall have authority to take suitable and sufficient bail for the appearance before the mayor's court of any person charged with an offense against the ordinances or laws of the city. It shall be his duty to arrest all violators of the public peace and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the execution of the duties of his office or who shall be guilty of any disorderly conduct or disturbance whatever; and in the prevention and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders he shall have, possess, and execute like power, authority, and jurisdiction as the sheriff of a county under the laws of the state. He shall receive a salary to be fixed by the city council. The marshal shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the city council may require, and he shall perform such other duties and possess such other powers, rights, and authority as the city council may by ordinance require and confer not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state.

DUTIES OF THE SECRETARY.

Sec. 17. It shall be the duty of the city secretary to attend every meeting of the city council and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose, and to engross and enroll all laws, resolutions, and ordinances of the city council; to keep its corporate seal; to take charge of and preserve and keep in order all the books, records, papers, documents, and files of said council, countersign all commissions issued to the city officers and licenses issued by the mayor, and to keep a record register thereof, and to make out all notices required under any regulation or ordinance of the city. He shall draw all warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same and keep an accurate account thereof in a book provided for the purpose. He shall be the general accountant of the corporation, and shall keep in books regular accounts of the receipts and disbursements for the city, and separately under proper heads each cause of receipt and disbursement, and also account with each person including officers who have money transactions with the city, crediting amounts allowed by proper authority and specifying the particular transaction to which such entries apply. He shall also keep a register of bonds and bills issued by the city and all evidence of debt due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof and all facts connected therewith as they may occur. He shall carefully keep all contracts made by the city council, and he shall do and perform all such other duties as may be required of him by law, ordinance, resolution, or order of the city council. He shall receive for his services an annual salary payable at stated periods as may be allowed by the city council. He shall also be ex officio clerk of the police court, and as such shall have power to administer oaths, take affidavits, issue warrants, subpoenas, and other process, and perform such other duties in said office as may be required of him by ordinance.

DUTIES OF TREASURER.

Sec. 18. The treasurer of the city shall give bond in favor of the city in such amount and in such form as may be required by the city council and with sufficient security to be approved by the city council, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. He shall receive and securely keep all moneys belonging to the city and make all payments for the same upon the order of the mayor attested by the secretary under the seal of the corporation: Provided, That no order shall be paid unless the said order shall show upon its face that the city council has directed its issuance and for what purpose. He shall render a full and correct statement of his receipts and payments to the city council at their first regular meeting in every quarter and whensoever at other times he may be required by them so to do. At the end of every half year he shall cause to be published at the expense of the city a statement showing the amount of receipts and expenditures for the six months next preceding and the general condition of the treasury; and he shall do and perform such other acts and duties as the city council may require, and for his services he shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the city council.

DUTIES OF ASSESSOR AND COLLECTOR.

Sec. 19. The assessor and collector shall make up the assessment of all property taxed by the city and make duplicate rolls thereof, and on completion of the rolls shall deliver one of them to the city secretary. He shall collect all taxes due the city, and in the event of non-payment of any taxes shall proceed to sell property to raise the amount of taxes so due, and shall in the performance of his duties observe the provisions of this act and the ordinances of the city relating thereto. He shall give bond in such amount and in such form as the city council may prescribe, with good and sufficient sureties, and the city council may require a new bond whenever in their opinion the existing bond is insufficient, and whenever such bond is required he shall perform no official act until said bond shall be given and approved. He shall at the expiration of every week pay to the treasurer all money by him collected and shall report to the city council at the first meeting in every month all money so collected and paid, and he shall perform all such other duties and in such manner and according to such rules and regulations as the city council may prescribe. The assessor and collector is authorized to require the owners of all property subject to taxation to render a correct account of the same under oath to be administered by him. The assessor and collector shall receive such fees and commissions for his services as may be allowed by the ordinances of the city.

POWERS OF CITY COUNCIL OVER OFFICERS.

Sec. 20. The city council shall have power from time to time to require other and further duties of all officers whose duties are herein prescribed, and to define and describe the powers and duties of all officers appointed or elected to any office under this act whose duties are not herein specially mentioned and fix their compensation. They may also require bonds to be given to the said corporation by all officers for the faithful performance of their duties. The city council shall provide for filling vacancies in all offices not herein provided for, and in all cases of vacancy the same shall be filled only for the unexpired term.

GENERAL POWERS.

Sec. 21. That the city council shall have exclusive control and power over the streets, alleys, and public grounds and highways of the city, and to abate and to remove encroachments or obstruction thereto; to open, alter, widen, extend, establish, regulate, grade, clean, pave, or otherwise improve the same; to put drains and sewers therein; to prevent the incumbering thereof in any manner, and to protect the same from encroachment or injury; to regulate, establish, and alter the grade of all premises, and to require and compel the filling up and raising of the same; to establish, erect, construct, regulate, and keep in repair all bridges, culverts, sewers, sidewalks, and crossings, and to regulate the use and construction of the same and material used in such construction or repairs, and to abate and punish any obstructions or encroachments thereon, and the cost of the construction of all such sidewalks and grading done thereon or the filling up and raising the grade of any premises shall be defrayed by the owners of the lot or a part of lot or block on which such sidewalk may front or such grading or filling is done, and the cost of same, together with the cost of the collection thereof, shall be a good and valid charge against the owners of such lot or lots or block and a lien and encumbrance upon the lot or part of the lot, block, or premises upon which or in front of which said improvements may be constructed, which amount shall be assessed as a tax against the property and the owners thereof and may be collected and the lien foreclosed in any court having jurisdiction: Provided, That all improvements of sidewalks, fillings, and grading shall be advertised and let out by contract to the lowest and best bidder. The city council shall be invested with full power and authority upon the consent of a majority of the resident owners on both sides of any street, avenue, or highway, or such portion thereof as may be proposed to be improved to grade, pave, repair, or otherwise improve any avenue, street, alley, or other highway or any portion thereof within the limits of said city whenever by a vote of two-thirds of the aldermen elected they may deem such improvement for the public interest, two-thirds of the cost of which grading, paving, or repairing shall be done at the cost and charge of the owners of the lot or lots or block fronting upon the alley, avenue, street, or other highway so improved; and to make provision for the payment of the two-thirds of the cost and expenses of such improvements and the cost of collecting the same the city council shall have full power to assess, levy, and collect a tax upon the lot or lots or block or blocks fronting on such alley, avenue, street, or other highway, which tax when so levied and assessed shall be a valid charge against the owner or owners of such lot or lots or block or blocks as well as a lien and encumbrance upon the property itself, which amount may be collected and the said lien enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction: Provided, That the city alone shall pay for the improving of the intersections of the streets from block to block across the streets either way: And provided further, That no one shall be made to pay for any improvement done on any street that may be paved or otherwise improved as hereinbefore provided save for the proportional part of the street that may be in front of his property; and in no event shall such owner be compelled to pay for the improvement of such street more than fifteen per cent of the assessed value of his property fronting thereon; and that any railroad or street railway company shall be liable for any grading, paving, or other improvement made upon any portion of said streets used or occupied by such companies. To secure the safety and convenience of passing in the streets, sidewalks, and other places in the city; to fix the squaring and prevent encroachments and obstruction on the streets, sidewalks, squares, ways, and public places; to establish an active system of inspection over premises for sanitary purposes; to prevent cattle, horses, swine, goats, and other animals from running at large in the streets; to establish and maintain a city police, prescribe the duties of policemen, and regulate their conduct; to provide for lighting the streets, and for this purpose may establish gas works for the manufacture of gas for the use of the city and the inhabitants thereof at cost price; to determine in what part of the city slaughter houses, bone boilers, soap makers, or other establishments for any business which is or may be injurious to the value of adjacent property or unwholesome or disagreeable to the occupant of adjacent property shall not be allowed to be erected; to determine in what part of the city wooden buildings shall not be erected; within the limits prescribed no person shall be permitted to erect such buildings; to prevent gunpowder or other explosive material, kerosene oil, or other inflammable oils being stored within the city limits in such quantities as to endanger the safety of adjacent property; to provide means for the protection against and extinguishment of conflagrations and for the regulation, maintenance, and support of a fire department; to define what shall be nuisances in said city, and to abate them by summary proceedings; to provide a work house for vagabonds and disorderly persons who are unable to pay fines, and to make regulations concerning the same; to regulate weights and measures in the city, affix penalties for violation, fix standard, etc.; also that the city council may provide, own, and maintain water works for the use of the city and its inhabitants; to provide and keep a city prison; to make all needful and proper regulations concerning bakers, butchers, keepers of taverns, grog shops, and other public houses, draymen, horse drivers, water carriers, omnibus drivers, hack drivers, and drivers of baggage wagons, and especially to preserve order and prevent noise and confusion in and about the several depots on arrival and departure of railway trains; to prevent extortion by carriers of passengers or baggage, hacks, drays, and all public conveyances by establishing maximum rates of charges; to direct and control the laying and construction of railroad tracks, turnouts, and switches, and to require that they be constructed and laid so as to interfere as little as possible with the ordinary travel and use of streets; to require railroad companies to keep the streets through which they run in repair and to light the same whenever deemed necessary, and to construct and keep in repair bridges and crossings at the intersections of streets and avenues and over all ditches, sewers, and culverts on the line of the railway; to regulate the speed of engines and locomotives within said city; to control and regulate everything concerning street railways, and to generally make and establish all rules, regulations, by laws, and ordinances which may contribute to and promote the better administration of the affairs of said city, as well as for the maintenance of the peace, tranquility, and safety of said city, and for the protection of the persons and property of its inhabitants. The city council shall have the management and control of the finances and other property, real, personal, and mixed, belonging to the corporation. The city council shall have power to appropriate money and provide for the payment of debts and expenses of the city; to provide by ordinance special funds for special purposes and to make the same disbursable only for the purpose for which the fund was created; and any officer of the city misappropriating said special fund shall be deemed guilty of malfeasance in office, and shall on complaint of any one interested in said fund misappropriated be removed from office and be incapable thereafter to hold any office in said city; to make regulations to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases into the city, to make quarantine laws for that purpose, and to enforce them within the city and ten miles thereof; to provide or cause to be provided the city with water; to make, regulate, and establish public wells, pumps, and cisterns, hydrants, and reservoirs, in the streets or elsewhere within said city or beyond the limits thereof, for the extinguishment of fires and the convenience of the inhabitants, and to prevent the unnecessary waste of water; to provide for the inclosing, regulating, and improving all public grounds and cemeteries belonging to the city, and to direct and regulate the planting and preserving of ornaments and shade trees in the streets, sidewalks, or public grounds; to erect or establish one or more hospitals and control and regulate the same, and to prohibit or to permit and regulate the establishment of private hospitals; to regulate the carrying of weapons and to prevent the carrying of the same concealed; to prevent the encumbering of the streets, alleys, sidewalks, and public grounds with carriages, wagons, carts, hacks, buggies, or any vehicle whatsoever, boxes, lumber, timber, firewood, posts, awnings, signs, or any other substance or material whatever or in any other manner whatever; to compel all persons to keep all weeds, filth, and any kind of rubbish from the sidewalks, streets, and gutters in front of the premises occupied by him, to require and compel the owners of property to fill up, grade, gravel, and otherwise improve the sidewalks in front of and adjoining their property; also to inspect the construction of buildings, and to cause unsafe buildings to be made safe or to be removed, and to prohibit the use of material deemed unsafe; to authorize the proper officer of the city to grant and issue licenses, and to direct the manner of issuing and registering thereof and the fees and charges to be paid therefor; no licenses shall be issued for a longer period than one year and shall not be assignable except by the permission of the city council; to restrain, regulate, and prohibit the selling, indirectly to evade a tax or penalty, of intoxicating or malt liquors by any person within the city, except by persons duly licensed; to forbid or punish the selling of any intoxicating or malt liquors to any minor, apprentice, or habitual drunkard; to close drinking houses, saloons, bar rooms, beer saloons, and all places or establishments where intoxicating or fermented liquors are sold on Sundays and prescribe hours for closing them, and also all places of amusement and business. The city council shall have full power by ordinance to prevent the sale of any intoxicating liquors in any house or other place where theatrical or dramatic representations are given, and also to prevent intoxicating liquors of any description from being brought into any house or place where such representations are given under any pretext whatsoever. To make such rules and regulations in relation to butchers as they may deem necessary and proper; to regulate the inspection of beef, pork, flour, meal, salt, and other provisions, whisky and other liquors to be sold in barrels, hogsheads, and other vessels and packages; to appoint weighers, gaugers, and inspectors, and prescribe their duties and regulate their fees; to regulate the weight and quality of the bread to be sold or used within the city; to create, establish, and regulate the police of the city; to appoint watchmen and policemen and prescribe their duties and powers and compensations; to suppress and prevent any riot, affray, noisy disturbance, or disorderly assembly in any public or private place within the city; to prevent, prohibit, and suppress horse racing, immoderate riding or driving in the streets; to prohibit and punish the abuse of animals; compel persons to fasten their horses or other animals attached to vehicles or otherwise while standing or remaining in the streets; to establish and regulate public pounds, and to regulate, restrain, and prohibit the running at large of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, swine, goats, and to authorize the distraining, impounding, and sale of the same for the cost of the proceedings and the penalty incurred, and to order their destruction when they can not be sold, and to impose penalties on the owners thereof for a violation of any ordinance; to tax, regulate, or restrain and prohibit the running at large of dogs, and to authorize their destruction when at large contrary to the ordinances, and to impose penalties on the owners or keepers thereof for violation of such ordinances; to prohibit and restrain the firing of fire crackers, guns, and pistols, the use of velocipedes, or the use of any pyrotechnics, or any other amusement or practice tending to annoy persons passing in the streets or on the sidewalks or to frighten horses or teams; to restrain and prohibit the ringing of bells, blowing of horns and bugles, crying of goods, and all other noises, practices, and performances tending to the collection of persons on the streets and sidewalks by auctioneers and others for the purpose of business, amusement, or otherwise; to abate nuisances which may injure or affect the public health or comfort in any manner they may deem expedient; to do all acts and make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the promotion of health or suppression of disease. The city council of said city and the commissioners court of McLennan County may co-operate in making such improvements as may by such council and court be deemed necessary to improve the public health and to promote efficient sanitary regulations and arrange for the construction and payment for such improvements. To compel the owner or occupant of any grocery, soap, tallow, or chandler establishment, or blacksmith shop, tannery, stable, slaughter house, distillery, brewery, sewers, privy, hide houses, or other unwholesome or nauseous house or place, to cleanse, remove, or abate the same, as may be necessary for the health, comfort, and convenience of the inhabitants; to direct the location and regulate the management and construction of, restrain, abate, or prohibit within the city limits, slaughtering establishments and hide houses or establishments for keeping and curing hides, establishments for making soap, for steaming or rendering lard, tallow, offal, and such other substances as may be rendered, and all other establishments or place where any nauseous, offensive, or unwholesome business may be carried on; to regulate the burial of the dead; to purchase, establish, and regulate the registration of deaths, marriages, and births; to direct the returning and keeping of bills of mortality; to abate and remove nuisances, and to punish the authors thereof by penalties, fine, and imprisonment, and to define and declare what shall be nuisances and authorize and direct the summary abatement thereof; to erect and establish one or more work houses or houses of correction within or without the city limits, make all necessary rules and regulations therefor, and appoint all necessary keepers or assistants. In such workhouses or houses of correction may be confined all vagrants, stragglers, idle, suspicious, and disorderly persons who may be committed by the mayor, and any person who shall fail or refuse to pay the fine, penalty or costs imposed for any misdemeanor or breach of any ordinance of the city may instead of being committed to jail be kept therein subject to labor and confinement. To compel and force all offenders against any ordinance of this city found guilty by the mayor and sentenced to fine and imprisonment to labor on the streets and alleys of said city or on any public work under such regulations as may by ordinance be established; to prevent all trespasses, breaches of the peace and good order, assault and batteries, fighting, quarreling, using abusive, obscene, profane, and insulting language, misdemeanors, and all disorderly conduct, and punish all persons thus offending; to prevent and punish the keeping of houses wherein indecent, loud, or immodest dramatic theatrical representations are given, and to adopt summary measures for the removal or suppression of all such establishments; to require the owners of private drains, sinks, and privies to fill up, cleanse, drain, alter, relay, repair, fix, and improve the same, as may be ordered by any resolution or ordinance of said city; and in the event of any failure, neglect, or refusal to comply with any such order, the party so failing shall be liable to fine and imprisonment. In the event of there being no person in the city on whom such order can be served, the city may have such work done and such improvement made on account of the owner thereof, and all costs, charges, and expenses shall be a lien on the property on the filing of a memorandum by the mayor under the seal of the corporation thereof and recording the same with the clerk of the county court, and the city may enforce said lien and institute suit in the corporate name and obtain judgment against said party for the amount so due, as aforesaid in any court having jurisdiction. To prevent any person from carrying, depositing, or having within the limits of said city any dead carcass or any other offensive or unwholesome substance or matter, and to require the removal or destruction by any person who shall have placed or caused to be placed upon or near his premises or elsewhere of any substance or matter, filth, or any putrid or unsound beef, pork, or fish, hides, or skins of any kind, and on his default to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city and require the owner of any dead animal to remove the same to such place as may be designated; to prevent, regulate, and control the driving of cattle, horses, and other animals into or through the city. The city council shall have power to pass, publish, amend, or repeal all ordinances, rules, and police regulations not contrary to the constitution of this state for the good government, peace, and order of the city and the trade and commerce thereof that may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the powers vested by this act in the corporation, the city government, or in any department or office thereof; to enforce the observance of all such rules, ordinances, and police regulations, and to punish violations thereof by fines, penalties, and imprisonments in the prison, work house, or house of correction, or to work on the streets or other public works or either in the discretion of the court before whom conviction may be had; but no fine or penalty shall exceed one hundred dollars nor the imprisonment more than fifteen days for any offense unless a larger fine and longer period of imprisonment is herein allowed; and for any fine, penalty, and costs imposed by the mayor in the trial of any cause or complaint before him execution may issue to collect such fine and costs, to be levied and executed in the same manner that executions are from the district court. The same shall be issued by the mayor to the marshal, who in levying on property and selling shall have like power and authority as the sheriff of the county in executions issued from the district court, and the laws of the state so far as applicable shall apply and be in full force and effect as to the executions issued from the mayor's court; and any person upon whom any fine or penalty is imposed may be committed until the payment of the same with costs, and in default thereof may be imprisoned in the city prison or work house or house of correction, or may be required to work on the streets or other public works of the city for such time and in such manner as may be provided by ordinance: Provided, Such imprisonment shall not exceed fifteen days unless a longer period be herein allowed. To pass all necessary ordinances to provide for funding the whole or any part of the existing debt of the city or any future debt by cancelling the evidences thereof and issuing to the holders or creditors notes, bonds, or treasury warrants with or without coupons bearing interest at any annual interest not to exceed eight per cent. To appropriate so much of the revenues of the city emanating from whatever source for the purpose of retiring and discharging the accrued indebtedness of the city and for the purpose of improving the public market and streets, alleys, and avenues, or for the purpose of opening, establishing, and improving and maintaining streets, alleys, and avenues, or for the purpose of opening public parks, erecting and conducting city hospitals, city halls, water works, and gas works or other works for properly lighting said city, as they may from time to time deem expedient; and in furtherance of these objects they shall have power to borrow money upon the credit of the city and issue coupon bonds of the city therefor in such sum or sums as they may deem expedient, to bear interest not exceeding eight per cent per annum, payable semi-annually or annually at such place as may be fixed by the city ordinance: Provided, That the aggregate amount of bonds issued by the city council shall at no time exceed six per cent of the value of the property within said city subject to ad valorem tax: And provided further, That no money arising from the sale of bonds shall ever be applied to the purchase of streets and alleys, either directly or indirectly, nor shall any money ever be borrowed for that purpose. All bonds shall specify for what purpose they are issued and shall not be invalid if sold for less than their par value; and when any bonds are issued by the city a fund shall be provided to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to redeem the bonds, which fund shall not be diverted nor drawn upon for any other purpose, and the city treasurer shall honor no draft on said fund except to pay interest upon or redeem the bonds for which it was provided. Said bonds shall be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the secretary and payable at such place and at such times as may be fixed by ordinance of the city council, not more than thirty years. It shall be the duty of the mayor whenever any bond or bonds are issued to forward the same to the comptroller of public accounts of the state, whose duty it shall be to register said bond or bonds in a book kept for that purpose, and to indorse on each bond so registered his certificate of registration, and to give at the request of the mayor his certificate certifying to the amount of bonds so registered in his office up to date; that it shall be the duty of the mayor at the time of forwarding any of said bonds for registration to furnish the comptroller with a statement of the value of all taxable property real and personal in the city; also with a statement of the amount of tax levied for the payment of interest and to create a sinking fund. The city council shall have power to invest said sinking fund in good interest-bearing securities. The city council shall have the right to enact all necessary ordinances to restrain and punish vagrants, mendicants, street beggars, and prostitutes; to restrain, punish, regulate, and control, license, and locate all houses of prostitution or assignation and the keepers and inmates thereof, and to provide a system of inspection of the inmates thereof for the preservation of the public health; to regulate, punish, or control all gambling and keepers of games and gambling houses and those who bet on games and gambling devices, and when there is an ordinance of the city of Waco in force punishing this or any other misdemeanor with as great a penalty as the same is punished by the statute of the state the police court of the city of Waco shall have jurisdiction of such misdemeanors when committed in the corporate limits of the city of Waco.

Sec. 22. Whenever the city council shall deem it necessary to take any private property for the purpose of opening, widening, or changing any street, alley, or avenue, or for the construction of sewers, water mains, gas mains, or for any other public purpose properly within the cognizance or jurisdiction of said council and consistent with the constitution and laws of this state and within the powers herein granted, such private property may be taken for such purpose by making just compensation to the owner thereof. If the city council and the owner can not agree as to the amount of compensation for such taking, then and in that event the city council shall cause the property to be condemned according to general laws of the state relating to the condemnation of private property for such purpose, and all the provisions of such public laws in so far as the same are applicable shall apply to and govern such proceedings. The city council are also hereby invested with authority to adopt all needful ordinances, rules, and regulations not inconsistent with the constitution of the state for carrying into full effect the power of eminent domain herein granted, and may provide that such ordinances, rules, and regulations shall be cumulative of general laws or complete within themselves: Provided, That when only a part of any person's real estate is to be condemned for public purposes the benefit if any to his remaining property shall be estimated in assessing the damages which may accrue to the owner by reason of the condemnation. And the term "streets" herein shall include also the power of the city to condemn toll bridges, and to open the same for public travel as a part of any street.

AD VALOREM TAXES.

Sec. 23. The city council of the city of Waco shall have power by ordinance to annually levy and collect such ad valorem taxes as are authorized by the Constitution of the State of Texas on the assessed value of all real and personal property in said city, not to exceed however for all purposes except the support and maintenance of public free schools in said city two per cent of the taxable property of said city. And in addition thereto, said city council shall have the power by ordinance to annually levy and collect not exceeding one-half of one per cent ad valorem taxes on the assessed value of such taxable property for the support and maintenance of public free schools in said city: Provided, That no such tax shall be levied until an election shall have been held at which none but property tax payers as shown by the last assessment rolls who are qualified voters of said city shall vote and two-thirds of those voting shall vote in favor thereof. The proposition submitted may be for a tax not exceeding one-half of one per cent, or it may be for a specific per cent. One election and no more shall be held in any one calendar year to ascertain whether a school tax shall be levied. If the proposition is carried the school tax shall continue to be annually levied and collected for at least two years thereafter, unless it is discontinued at an election held to determine whether the tax shall be continued or discontinued at the request of fifty property tax payers of said city. When the tax is continued, no election to discontinue it shall be held for two years. When the tax is discontinued, no election to levy a tax shall be held during the same year.

POLL TAX.

Sec. 24. The city council shall have power to levy and collect an annual poll tax not to exceed one-half of the amount levied by the state of every male inhabitant of said city over the age of twenty-one years (idiots and lunatics excepted) who is a resident thereof at the time of such annual assessment.

OCCUPATION TAX.

Sec. 25. The city council shall have power to levy and collect taxes commonly known as licenses upon trades, professions, callings, and other business carried on, and upon carriages, coaches, buggies, drays, carts, wagons, and other vehicles used in said city when the same are for public use; and each and every person and firm engaged in the following trades, professions, callings, and business among others shall be liable to pay such license tax, but this enumeration shall not be construed to deprive the city council of the right and power to levy and collect other license tax and from other persons and firms under the general authority herein granted: Every person and firm engaged in selling goods, wares, and merchandise; every person and firm selling liquor in quantities over a quart; every person or firm keeping a grog shop, tippling house, bar room, or drinking saloon; every person or firm keeping a place where spirituous liquors, wines, cordials, or beer are sold in quantities less than one quart; every person or firm keeping a billiard table, ball alley, nine or ten pin alley, or any similar game; every person or firm keeping a tavern or hotel or boarding house, oyster shop, oyster saloon, or place of any description where eating or refreshments are furnished; every person or firm keeping a livery stable, sale stable, feed or other kind of stable; every person or firm selling goods, wares, and merchandise at public auction; every person or firm pursuing the occupation of hauler or peddler of goods or any articles whatever; every person or firm keeping a brewery, beer shop, or distillery, or fruit stand; every person or firm keeping a storage or warehouse or engaged in compressing cotton, keeping an intelligence office; each and every insurance company shall also be liable to pay said city such license tax, and each and every insurance agent in said city shall likewise be subject to said license tax, and such agent shall be held responsible therefor and for each association, corporation, or company of which he is agent: that each and every firm keeping a lumber yard, wood or coal yard, or any place for sale of the articles aforesaid or building material, shall be subject to said license tax, and all other persons from whom the city council may require said tax under the authority of this act granted: Provided, Nothing herein contained shall in anywise prevent or restrain the city council from collecting the license and each license hereinbefore provided for by this act. Each establishment shall be liable to said license tax, and any person or firm pursuing occupations, business, avocations, or callings subject to said tax shall pay on each, and no license shall extend to more than one establishment or include more than one occupation, avocation, business, or calling. The city council shall have power in addition to collect a license from all persons, corporations, or firms or occupations upon whom or which a license tax is imposed by the state.

TO PROVIDE FOR ASSESSING, ETC.

Sec. 26. The city council shall have power to provide by ordinance for the assessing and collecting of the taxes aforesaid and to determine when taxes shall be paid by corporations and when by the individual corporators: Provided, No tax shall be levied unless by consent of two-thirds of the aldermen elected. The license tax shall be collected by the assessor and collector and shall be paid to that officer by each and every person and firm owing such license and before engaging in any trade, profession, business, calling, avocation, or occupation subject to said tax; and if any person shall engage in any business, calling, avocation, or occupation which by an ordinance of the said city is subject to a license tax, without first having obtained said license, he, she, or they shall on conviction before the mayor's court be liable to imprisonment and such fine for each day such violation of said ordinance may continue, and this article shall apply to all persons owing any license and failing to pay the same: Provided, That the city council may collect said license tax by suit in any court having jurisdiction under such rules and regulations as they may provide by ordinance. Said taxes commonly known as license, laid as herein provided, shall not be construed to be a tax on property.

DEFINITION OF REAL AND PERSONAL ESTATE.

Sec. 27. The term real estate or property shall be construed to include lots, lands, and all buildings or machinery and structures of every kind erected upon and affixed to the same. The term personal estate or property shall be construed to include all household furniture, moneys, goods, capital, chattels, public stocks, and stocks of corporations, monied or otherwise, and generally all property which is not real.

TAXES FOR PAYMENT OF INDEBTEDNESS.

Sec. 28. The city council may also levy, assess, and collect taxes necessary to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund to satisfy any indebtedness heretofore legally made and undertaken, but all such tax shall be assessed and collected at the same time for taxes for current expenses of municipal government, and when levied specify in the act of levying the purpose therefor, and such taxes may be paid in the coupons, bonds, or other indebtedness for the payment of which such tax may have been levied; and no debt shall ever be created by said city unless at the same time provision be made to assess and collect annually a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon and create a sinking fund of at least two per cent thereon.

MANNER AND TIME OF ASSESSING AND COLLECTING TAXES, AND BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Sec. 29. The city council shall have full power to provide by ordinance the mode and time of assessment of ad valorem taxes and when the same shall be paid and for the prompt collection thereof, and provide for board of equalization and the powers and duties thereof and all duties of the assessor and collector in assessing and collecting taxes of every description imposed by ordinance under this act.

TAX SALE.

Sec. 30. That if any person shall fail, neglect, or refuse to pay the taxes imposed upon him and his property within the time prescribed by the ordinances of said city, the collector shall by virtue of his tax list and assessment roll levy upon so much property liable to taxation belonging to such person whether resident or non-resident as may be sufficient to pay his, her, or their taxes; and if the property levied on be personal property the collector shall give notice of the time and place of the sale, together with a brief description of the property levied on and to be sold, with the amount of taxes, interest, costs, and fees due thereupon, for at least ten days previous to the day of sale by advertisement in writing to be posted at the door of the city hall of said city and at two other public places within said city limits, and at the expiration of such notice and on the day therein specified the collector shall proceed to sell such property at public auction in front of the door of the city hall of said city. In making sales of real property for taxes the collector shall advertise the same for sale by posting a list of the names of delinquents for thirty days as follows, one copy at the city hall door and one copy at two other public places within said city limits, giving in said advertisement such description as is given to the same on the tax roll in his hands, stating the owner if known, and if unknown saying "unknown," together with the time, place, and terms of sale; said sale to be for cash to the highest and best bidder at public outcry at said city hall door between legal hours on the first Tuesday of the month. The collector of taxes in making sales for taxes due upon real estate shall sell at auction at the time and place appointed so much of said real estate as may be necessary to pay the taxes, interest, and penalties due and all costs accruing thereon, and shall offer said real estate to the bidder who will pay the taxes, interest, and penalties due and costs of sale and execution of deed for the least amount of said real estate, who shall be deemed the highest bidder. Should a less amount of real estate than the whole parcel levied upon be sold for the taxes, interest, and penalties due and all costs of sale and execution and deed, the collector shall in making his deed to the purchaser begin at some corner of said parcel of real estate (or lot or lots) and designate the same as nearly as practicable. No real estate set apart, used, or designated as a homestead shall be sold for taxes other than the taxes due on such homestead, and if any person shall point out to the collector of taxes within thirty days from the time the same shall become due sufficient personal property belonging to him to pay all taxes assessed against him, together with interests, penalties, and costs, the collector shall immediately levy upon and sell such property so pointed out in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore mentioned regulating tax sales of personal property. The collector of taxes shall execute and deliver to the purchaser upon the payment of the amount for which the estate was sold and costs and penalties a deed for the real estate sold, which deed shall vest a good and perfect title in the purchaser if not redeemed in two years as hereinafter provided, and which deed shall state the cause of sale, the amount sold, the price for which the real estate was sold, the name of the person, firm, company, or corporation on whom the demand for taxes was made—provided the name is known, and if unknown saying "unknown"—the same description of the land as given in the tax rolls, and such other description as may be practicable for better identification; and when real estate has been sold he shall convey, subject to the right of redemption hereinafter provided for, all the right and interest which the former owner had therein at the time when the assessment was made. The deed of the collector as hereinbefore provided of any real estate sold shall be prima facie evidence in all controversies and suits in relation to the right of the purchaser, his, her, or their assigns, to the premises thereby conveyed of the following facts:

First—That the land or lot or portions thereof conveyed was subject to taxation or assessment at the time the same was advertised for sale and had been listed in the time and manner required by law.

Second—That the taxes or assessment were not paid at any time before the same.

Third—That the land, lot, or portion thereof conveyed had not been redeemed from the sale at the date of the deed.

And shall be conclusive evidence of the following facts:

1. That the land, lot, or portion thereof sold was advertised for sale in the manner and for the time required by law.

2. That the property was sold for taxes or assessments as stated in the deed.

3. That the grantee in the deed was the purchaser.

4. That the sale was conducted in the manner prescribed by law.

And in all controversies and suits involving the title of land claimed and held under and by virtue of such deed the person or persons claiming adverse to the title conveyed by such deed shall be required to prove in order to defeat the said title either that the land was not subject to taxation at the date of the sale, that the taxes or assessments had been paid, that the land or lots had never been listed and assessed for taxation and assessment as required by this act or some ordinance of the city, or that the same had been redeemed according to the provisions of this act, and that such redemption was made for the use and benefit of the persons having the right of redemption under the law; but no person shall be permitted to question the title acquired by the said deed without first showing that he, she, or they, or the persons under whom he, she, or they claim title to the land at the time of sale, or that the title was obtained after the sale and that all taxes due upon the land have been paid by such person or the persons under whom he claims title as aforesaid: Provided, however, That the owner of such property shall have the right to redeem the same at any time within two years of the day and date of the sale thereof upon paying the purchaser double the amount of taxes for which the same was sold, together with the costs of such sale and the amount of all taxes paid by the purchaser since such sale. The collector shall have full power to levy upon any personal property to satisfy any tax imposed by this act. All taxes shall be a lien upon the property upon which they are assessed, and if taxes are not paid on or before the time prescribed by the ordinances of said city the same shall from such time bear interest at the rate of (8) eight per centum per annum till paid, which interest shall be collected by the collector at the time and in the manner provided herein for the collection of taxes; and in case any property levied upon is about to be removed out of the city the collector shall proceed to take into his possession so much thereof as will pay the taxes assessed and costs of collection. If from any cause the sale of the property levied upon or seized for taxes shall not take place at the time appointed, the collector shall appoint some other time, giving the like notice, and proceed to sell such property in the manner prescribed in the first instance; and in case said property or any part thereof levied upon or seized for taxes cannot be sold on the day advertised such sale may be postponed from day to day until completed, of which postponement the collector shall give verbal notice at the expiration of sale each day. No sale shall be considered complete until the payment of the purchase money, and if the same is not paid before the completion of such tax sales the collector shall resell the property and continue such sale until same is complete. Should the collector of taxes fail to make sale of any real estate or personal property for want of a purchaser he shall bid the same off to the city for taxes, interest, penalties, and all costs accruing thereupon, and thereupon the city shall receive in the corporate name a deed for said property, and shall be vested with the same rights as other purchasers at such sales, and shall have power to sell and convey the same, and one deed shall include all parcels of land or lots bid off to the city in any one day at such tax sale. And after sale and purchase by the city of any real estate it shall not be lawful for said collector to levy upon or advertise or sell the same for any remaining or accrued taxes due thereon until the same shall have been redeemed by the owner or is sold by the city.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 31. The city council may organize a fire department, and said department as now organized shall remain until changed by the council, and the city council may by ordinance establish such regulations for the prevention and extinguishment of fires as the said council may deem expedient and generally exercise and enforce all needful measures necessary for this purpose the same as if specific authority was granted, the intention of this section being to clothe the said council with full power to prescribe rules and regulations for the organization, government, and maintenance of said fire department, and for the prevention and extinguishment of fires and to provide the means therefor.

SANITARY DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 32. The city council may by ordinance establish rules and regulations for the health of the inhabitants of said city and shall have power generally to adopt and prescribe all measures to prevent disease and pestilence of every nature and to punish any violation of the same by fine and imprisonment or both, and may appoint a health physician and inspector and prescribe their powers, duties, and compensation.

REMOVAL OF DANGEROUS BUILDINGS.

Sec. 33. Whenever in the opinion of the city council any building, fence, shed, awning, or any erection of the kind or any part thereof is liable to fall down and endanger persons or property they may order any owner or agent of the same or any owner or occupant of the premises on which such building, shed, awning, or other erection stands or to which it is attached to take down and remove the same or any part thereof within such time as they may direct, and to punish by fine and imprisonment or either any neglect, failure, or refusal to comply therewith. The city council shall in addition have power to remove the same at the expense of the city on account of the owner of the property or premises and assess the expense on the land on which it stood or to which it was attached, and shall by ordinance provide for such assessment, the mode and manner of giving notice, and the means of recovering any such expense.

WRITS OF MAYOR, ETC.

Sec. 34. Writs issued by the mayor of said city for offenses against the laws may be executed and the accused person or persons arrested by the marshal or his deputies anywhere within the county of McLennan. Whenever any person has been required by the mayor to give a peace bond or a bond for good behavior or any similar bond under this act, and has complied with such orders and been guilty of a violation or infraction of such bond, and the same is proved or established to the satisfaction of that officer in any trial or complaint, such party so offending may be fined in the sum of two hundred dollars and imprisoned for two months, and the city in its corporate name may sue in any court having jurisdiction for the recovery of the penalty of such bond.

OFFICIAL PAPER AND PUBLICATION.

Sec. 35. The city council as soon as may be after the commencement of municipal year [may] contract as they may by ordinance or resolution determine with a public newspaper of the city as an official paper thereof and to continue as such until another is elected, and shall cause to be published therein all ordinances, notices, and other matters required by this act or by the ordinances of the city to be published. The city council shall at least ten days before the expiration of the municipal year cause to be published in a city newspaper a correct and full statement of the receipts and expenditures from the date of the last annual report, together with the source from which the funds were derived and showing for what purpose disbursed, the condition of the treasury, together with such information as may be necessary to a full understanding of the financial condition of the city. Every ordinance imposing any penalty, fine, imprisonment, or forfeiture for any violation of any of its provisions shall after the passage thereof be published in every issue of the official paper for ten days, and proof of such publication by the printer or publisher of such newspaper taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths and filed with the secretary or any other competent proof of such publication shall be conclusive evidence of the legal publication and promulgation of such ordinances in all courts. Ordinances passed by the city council and requiring publication shall be in force from and after the publication thereof, unless it be therein otherwise expressly provided. Ordinances not requiring publication shall take effect and be in force from and after their passage, unless it be therein otherwise expressly provided. All ordinances of the city when printed and published by authority of the city council shall be admitted and received in all courts and places without further proof.

STYLE OF ORDINANCES AND WHEN PUBLISHED ADMISSIBLE IN EVIDENCE.

Sec. 36. The style of all ordinances shall be, "Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Waco;" but it may be omitted when published in the form of a book or pamphlet as a digest, and when printed and published by authority of the city council the same shall be admitted and received in evidence in all courts of this state without further proof whether said publication be by separate ordinance or in the form of a book or pamphlet as a digest.

FINES, FORFEITURES, ETC.

Sec. 37. All fines, forfeitures, and penalties for the breach or violation of any regulation, order, or ordinance of said city council shall when collected be paid into the treasury for the use and benefit of the city or to the credit of any special fund or for any special purpose directed by ordinance of the city council.

ELIGIBILITY, RESIGNATION, AND REMOVAL OF OFFICERS, ETC.

Sec. 38. No person other than an elector resident of the city shall be appointed to any office by the city council. Resignation by any officer authorized to be elected or appointed by this act shall be made to the city council in writing subject to their approval and acceptance: Provided, That nothing in this section shall apply to appointments by the mayor. Any such appointee wishing to resign shall present his resignation to that officer in writing for his action. The city council shall have power to remove any officer for incompetency, corruption, misconduct, or malfeasance in office after due notice and an opportunity to be heard in his defense. In addition to the foregoing power of removal the city council shall have power at any time to remove any officer of the corporation elected by them by resolution declaratory of its want of confidence in said officer: Provided, That two-thirds of the aldermen elected vote in favor of said resolution. Whenever any person shall be removed from any office or the term for which he was elected or appointed has expired or he has resigned or has ceased to act in official capacity, he shall deliver over to his successor all books, papers, moneys, and effects in any way appertaining to his office. Every person violating this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be deemed an offender within the meaning of any law of this state punishing such offenses, and in addition thereto he shall on conviction before the mayor be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars and imprisoned for any time not exceeding six months or either. Any officer who shall have been intrusted with the collection or custody of funds belonging to said city who shall be in default to said city, besides being liable to criminal prosecution and a civil action for debt, shall thereafter be incapable of holding any office under said city until the amount of his defalcations shall have been fully paid to the city with twelve per cent interest.

MEMBERS OF COUNCIL INELIGIBLE TO OTHER OFFICE.

Sec. 39. No member of the city council shall hold any other employment or office under the city government while he is a member of said council unless herein otherwise provided, and no member of the city council or other officer of the corporation shall be directly or indirectly interested in any work, business, or contract the expense, price, or consideration of which is paid from the city treasury or by an assessment levied by an ordinance or resolution of the city council, nor be the surety of any person having a contract, work, or business with said city for the performance of which security may be required, nor be the surety on the official bond of any officer of the city.

TO ENFORCE ATTENDANCE OF MEMBERS OF COUNCIL, ETC.

Sec. 40. The city council may adopt such rules and prescribe such penalty as said council may see fit to enforce the attendance of its members at all called and regular meetings of the council or its committees and may adopt rules of order for its own government when in session.

TO PRESCRIBE DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 41. The city council shall have the power to prescribe the duties of all officers and persons appointed by them or elected to any office or place whatever subject to the provisions of this act; to remit in whole or in part and on such conditions as may be deemed proper by a vote of two-thirds of the members present any fine or penalty belonging to the city which may be imposed or incurred under any ordinance or resolution passed in pursuance thereof.

SALARY OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 42. The city council shall on or before the first day of January next preceding each and every election fix the salary of the mayor to be elected at the next regular election, and shall at the same time establish the compensation or salary to be paid to the officers elected or appointed by the city council, and the compensation or salary so established shall not be changed during the term for which said officers shall be elected or appointed.

EXEMPTION FROM COST BOND IN SUIT.

Sec. 43. It shall not be necessary in any action, suit, or proceeding in which the city shall be a party for any bond, undertaking, or security to be executed in behalf of the city; but all such actions, suits, and proceedings shall be conducted in the same manner as if such bond, undertaking, or security had been given, and for all the purposes of such actions, suits, and proceedings the city shall be liable in the same manner and the same extent as if the bond, undertaking, or security in ordinary cases had been duly given and executed. This act shall have the force and effect of a public act, and the courts shall take notice thereof in all proceedings without further proof.

CEMETERY LOTS EXEMPT FROM TAXES AND FORCED SALE.

Sec. 44. The cemetery lots which have and may hereafter be laid out and sold to said city for private places for burial purposes shall with their appurtenances be forever exempt from taxes, executions, attachments, or forced sales.

RATES OF INTEREST.

Sec. 45. No indebtedness of any character whatever hereafter incurred by said corporation shall draw a higher rate of interest than ten per cent per annum.

ORDINANCES, ETC., NOW IN FORCE.

Sec. 46. All ordinances, resolutions, rules, or regulations now in force in said city and not in conflict with this act shall remain in force until altered, amended, or repealed by the city council; and all rights, actions, fines, penalties, and forfeitures in suits and otherwise which have accrued under the laws heretofore in force in said city, shall be vested in and prosecuted by the corporation hereby created, and no suit pending shall be affected by the passage of this act, but the same shall be prosecuted or defended as the case may be by the corporation hereby created. And all property, real, personal, or mixed, belonging to said city is hereby vested in the corporation created by this act, and the officers of said city in office at the date of the passage of this act shall continue in the same until superseded or removed, in conformity with the provisions of this act from and after the time it takes effect.

LIABILITY FOR PRESENT AND PAST INDEBTEDNESS.

Sec. 47. The present corporation of said city as it existed up to the date that this act takes effect shall be liable for all just and legal indebtedness of said city contracted before said date: Provided, That territory heretofore withdrawn from said corporation shall be liable for its proportion of said indebtedness contracted before said withdrawal and territory added by this act shall only be liable for its proportion of future indebtedness after the passage of this act and the date of its taking effect. The city council shall have full power to enact by ordinance all rules and regulations for the assessment and collection of taxes to meet said indebtedness and to carry out the provisions of this section.

CITY CONSTITUTED SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Sec. 48. The corporation created by this act shall be a separate school district upon its compliance with the statutes of this state in such cases, and shall have full power to take charge of, govern, control, and maintain free schools within said city subject to the constitution and laws of this state and in compliance therewith, and until altered, changed, amended, or repealed all rules, resolutions, regulations, and ordinances in reference to said schools now in effect in said city shall remain and have full force and effect over all territory included in the corporation hereby created.

APPOINTMENT OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 49. The mayor shall have power to nominate and by and with the consent of the board of aldermen to appoint all city officers whose election or appointment is not otherwise provided for in this act, but in case the board of aldermen shall refuse to confirm any appointment the same person shall not again be appointed to the same office; and in case such person shall be exercising the duties of the office at the time of his appointment his functions as an officer shall cease upon his rejection by the council and such office shall ipso facto become vacant.

TO TAKE EFFECT.

Sec. 50. That this act shall take effect from and after its passage, and all laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. It being important that the city of Waco should immediately have the benefit conferred by this act in order to at once exercise the increased powers herein conferred and to extend its authority over the territory added to its corporate limits, an emergency is created that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted; that the constitutional rule requiring all bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and it is so suspended.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 87 yeas, no nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 23 yeas, no nays.]
Approved, February 19, 1889.

WILLIAM A. A. WALLACE—ACT FOR RELIEF OF.

Sec. 1. Authorizes the issuance of a land certificate of 1280 acres for his relief.

CHAP. 18.—[H. B. No. 601.] An Act for the relief of William A. A. Wallace and to grant him a certificate for 1280 acres of land.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That the commissioner of the general land office is hereby authorized and required to issue a donation certificate to William A. A. Wallace for 1280 acres of land: And provided, That said certificate may be located upon any of the vacant public lands of the state, either within or without the several reservations heretofore created by law: And provided further, That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed in so far as they conflict with the provisions of this bill.

And whereas William A. A. Wallace has rendered the state great service and is now in necessitous circumstances, therefore an emergency exists and an imperative public necessity demands the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, which rule is suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

[Note.—The foregoing act originated in the house, and passed the same by a vote of 59 yeas, 22 nays; and passed the senate by a vote of 25 yeas, 2 nays.]

Approved, March 30, 1889.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

I, J. M. Moore, secretary of state of the state of Texas, certify that the foregoing special laws, passed at the regular session of the Twenty-first Legislature, have been carefully examined and compared with the original enrolled bills now on file in this department, and are true copies of said originals.

I further certify that the Twenty-first Legislature convened in the city of Austin January 8, A. D. 1889, and adjourned April 6, A. D. 1889.

In testimony whereof I have subscribed my name, and hereto
[SEAL.] affixed the seal of the state of Texas, in the city of Austin, May 27, 1889.

J. M. MOORE,
Secretary of State.
